

I Have a Shop of Infinite Resources

Chapter 5

Unusual Activity Above the Ceiling

The next day, before dawn, Tang Susu opened her watery almond-shaped eyes, got up quietly, and went to the bathroom.

Looking at the soft face in the mirror that looked exactly like her, she felt numb.

That was why she had criticized the game company so intensely back then. It was because she felt that the female supporting role resembled her.

It was just that she was already 23, but this face was as beautiful and youthful as one's first love at the ripe age of 18.

There were no dark eye bags under her beautiful eyes, and there was a beauty mole at the corner of her left eye, which added a touch of charm to her delicate face.

However, because of her health condition, her complexion was very poor. Her face was unnaturally pale, and her lips were a light pink like cherry blossoms. At first glance, she looked very frail, not to mention she would pant after taking two steps.

That was indeed the case. Holding the sink, Tang Susu felt that her heart was beating so fast that it was about to jump out of her chest!

“System, buy me a Super Heart Pill.”

Under her sweet coercive, and seductive tone, 008 was finally willing to return the two million yuan to her.

A Super Heart Pill was worth 500000 yuan, enough to move around normally for seven days.

After Tang Susu swallowed it, she immediately felt nothing had happened. She felt that it was a hundred times more effective than the quick-acting heart pills sold on the market.

“Buy me another one and put it in my bag.”

Then, Tang Susu saw the “Medicine” icon in her backpack light up, and a Super Heart Pill appeared.

The space in the backpack was very large, able to hold tens of millions of supplies. No matter how long it was stored, it would be in the same state as when it was put in.

However, to store planes, tanks, and animals, she would have to spend money to buy an exclusive space.

“Susu, Susu, are you okay?!?!” Someone suddenly knocked on the bathroom door. It was her second brother, and his voice was filled with worry.

Tang Susu couldn’t help but smile. It felt so good to be cared for.

She quickly opened the door and was met with his eager gaze. She said in surprise, “What’s wrong?”

“You didn’t cry, did you? I heard someone crying, so I thought it was you.” As he said that, his expression changed drastically. He slowly raised his head and looked at the ceiling of the bathroom.

There were intermittent cries and the low roar of something.

“What’s going on? Susu, you’re...”

“Shh!”

The family had just rushed over when Tang Mingqi frowned and hushed them.

In the quiet environment, the deliberately suppressed cry became particularly clear, as if it was trying hard to hold back itself, but it still revealed the tone of extreme fear.

“Ahhh!!! Don’t come over.”

Roar!

What was that?

The family was bewildered.

Just as they were so nervous that they unconsciously held their breath and their throats were a little dry, a scream suddenly rang out!

“Arghhh!!!”

In an instant, the entire building was lit up. Everyone who heard the scream opened their windows and looked out curiously.

Roar!

In the building behind them, someone with a telescope saw the silhouette of something stiff through the gap of the curtain in the bathroom in Room 906 of Block 7.

“What’s that?” he muttered in a daze.

At this time, the Tang family members in Room 806 of Block 7 looked at each other with some lingering fear.

Even though Tang Susu had already mentally prepared herself, she subconsciously stiffened her back.

Mr. Tang pulled a long face and quickly put on a coat. “It’s the kid upstairs. I’ll go take a look. I don’t want him to die!”

“Don’t go!” Mrs. Tang rushed over and grabbed his hand. “Are you stupid? Didn’t you hear the roar of a beast?”

“I have to look precisely because there might be wild beasts. Don’t worry. I’ll be fine.”