

I Play Yu-Gi 1031

Chapter 1031: The Deck Becomes The Target

While Judai was taking swimming lessons, Yubel was hanging in the air above the swimming pool like a ghost, staring into the distance in a trance.

As a spirit, her abilities were more outstanding than those of humans. Looking up from a high place, she could clearly see the coast of the island from here, and see the waves hitting the hot sand like broken gold in the sun.

The carefree Judai didn't notice anything, but Yubel had been a little uneasy since the battle with the Light of Destruction.

Because of the last words the Light of Destruction said before it disappeared.

Yubel was very sure that the guy stared at Judai for a long time before being destroyed, and then said "The future has not changed."

What does this mean?

Who did he say this to? This planet? Or Judai himself?

Or... both?

Others might have heard it, but only Yubel might have a vague idea of what he was referring to.

If it was about Judai's fate, Yubel knew clearly what fate was waiting for him in the future.

Or maybe it's not about fate, but about Judai's own identity.

He was the "Supreme King", a man who was destined to reign at the top of 12 dimensions and become the ruler. But that soul was still sleeping in Judai's body, and it was not time to wake up yet.

Judai was still young, and there was still a long way to go. Sooner or later, the power of the Supreme King would awaken, because that was who he is.

This was also Yubel's mission all along, and her duty in her past and present lives. She gave up her human body and merged with the dragon, which was how she became what she was today.

Her mission was to carefully protect Judai and watch him grow until the moment when the Supreme King woke up.

Now that the Supreme King has disappeared, his former territory has been torn apart. Twelve dimensions had become a mess, and in each dimension, there were strong duel spirits who have reclaimed their thrones. The former Supreme King's subordinates fought and killed each other all day long, snatching resources and territory, and there were countless refugees suffering from war in each dimension.

Sometimes Yubel even felt lucky that Judai was born in such a relatively safe dimension in this life.

Although she gradually discovered that this place was not as safe as she thought at the beginning, and she would meet super bosses that were rare in countless dimensions every now and then, at least there was no war here normally.

And Judai also had a reliable and good teacher to protect him.

Although Yubel was very reluctant to admit it, the fact was that Yuei Vu was indeed a good umbrella. Many crises that Judai might have encountered so far were resolved thanks to him.

Over the years, Yubel found that she seemed to be a little shaken.

Did she really want to see the Supreme King wake up like she did at the beginning?

If the Supreme King's soul really resurrected and returned to the world to purge the traitors in all the worlds... what would Judai be like now?

Would his personality be erased?

This made Yubel feel a little uneasy.

If the Supreme King really woke up, she thought the answer should be without a doubt – this immature personality named "Yuki Judai" was absolutely not qualified to compete with the Supreme King who ruled many worlds.

The current Judai will undoubtedly disappear, right?

Yubel was thinking wildly and was suddenly pulled back to reality by a strange intuition.

She noticed that someone seemed to have entered the locker of the swimming pool.

It seemed to be a student, wearing an Obelisk Blue school uniform, and his figure was a little thin.

Because it was class time, the students were in the swimming pool, so the figure that appeared in the locker seemed a little abrupt.

Yubel noticed that the student came straight to Judai's locker.

The man slowly stretched out a hand, opened his five fingers, and a dark magic circle condensed in his palm. Some kind of invisible force field enveloped the entire locker, like a big hand wrapped around it.

Then the student raised his hand and pulled back, and the magic was pulled, and the force actually...actually...

...pulled up the entire locker fixed on the wall!

The duel disk and the deck obviously could not be carried with you when swimming, so the entire deck of Judai was lying quietly in the locker.

This person actually wanted to take Judai's deck away!

Normally, this was difficult to do. After all, Yuki Judai was not an ordinary person, and there were a lot of spirits in his deck.

If someone wanted to snatch this deck while he is away, his spirits – such as Ultraman – would come out to fight back.

But this person seemed to have expected this, and the spell he cast not only lifted the entire locker, but also set some kind of restriction. The spirits in the deck were still in a dormant state and were bound, and they couldn't even materialize from the cards.

But the invader missed a detail.

Not all the spirits of Judai were sealed in the deck.

The student held the locker behind him, turned his head, and snapped his fingers, and a magic circle immediately opened beside him, which turned out to be a portal.

Just as he was about to step into the portal with his loot, he suddenly felt his hand lighten. When he looked back, the locker captured by his magic was actually tied up by several tentacles and was pulled over by someone.

Yubel took the heavy metal locker in his hand, and looked at the other person with cold eyes: "What do you want to do?"

Only then did she see the appearance of the person coming.

He was a pale and thin young man with clean skin, even a little lacking in blood color. Those eyes were empty and deep, and when they looked at each other, it was like looking directly at the stars, making it impossible to see his thoughts.

He was obviously surprised when he saw Yubel, and then smiled.

"It appears, the dragon that protects the king." He said.

Yubel's mind moved.

"Who are you?" she asked, "What do you know?"

This made Yubel temporarily give up the idea of killing him directly – so far no one has ever known the story of her and Judai's previous life, and the story of the Supreme King was a secret she has always carefully guarded.

But this person obviously knew. She must ask where the other party heard it from, how much he knew, and who else knew besides him.

She must eliminate all those people, no matter what means and at what cost.

The man smiled slightly.

"I know everything."

Yubel wanted to ask more, but the other party obviously had no intention of saying more to her. With a flip of his palm, another wave of magic power blasted over.

Yubel opened her five fingers and raised her hand to catch it. When her palm touched the wave, she felt unbearable burning, and the rugged skin on her palm made a "hissing" burning sound.

Although she finally resolved the attack, Yubel couldn't help but be secretly shocked.

This guy... is so strong!

"What a difficult guy." The student tilted his head and thought for a moment, then said, "I guess you don't want to make a big deal and let others know the secret of Yuki Judai?"

Yubel: "..."

"Then the problem is simple."

The man smiled and raised his hand, and the magic power on his arm turned into a black Duel Disk.

"Let's solve it through the most sacred way that all dimensions worship... duel."

Chapter 1032: An Old Acquaintance

Within a few minutes, Yubel and the student in blue uniform had arrived at the rooftop of the academy.

A metaphysical Duel Disk on the side grew out of Yubel's arm and automatically split into five monster slots. The deck lay quietly in the slot, shuffling automatically.

While shuffling, Yubel stared at the mysterious man expressionlessly.

"You, you are definitely not a student of the academy, right?" Yubel asked coldly, "You are a duel monster spirit... not even a spirit from this world, right?"

The student smiled: "As expected of the king's guard, you are really sharp. If you want to know the answer, why don't you look for it in the duel?"

He opened the Duel Disk, and five cards automatically popped out from the top of the deck after shuffling, and he took them out into his hand.

"No problem." Yubel also drew five cards, "Then let me beat you to a pulp before asking questions."

"Duel!" x2

[Yubel, LP 4000]

[Mysterious Man, LP 4000]

"I'll go first, draw." Yubel said, "I'll set a monster on the field first!"

Countless golden particles transformed into a card, which appeared on the field in a covered state.

"Set two cards, I end my turn."

"Then it's my turn."

The man drew a card, took a look, and smiled.

"It seems that you don't remember me... Yubel."

Yubel: "?"

"Then let me help you remember." He said coldly, "I'm going to summon this monster from my hand..."

... Spellbook Magician of Prophecy!"

[Spellbook Magician of Prophecy, ATK 500]

Yubel: "!?"

This guy's deck is... Spellbook!?

The Spellbook deck was said to be the top deck in the magician clan. Yubel has only seen this deck in the hands of a top magician during her two lives. The magician who controlled this deck was one of the strongest in countless dimensions, and also an old acquaintance of hers.

"Are you...La Mort?"

The student's figure flickered as if the signal was poorly received. Soon his school uniform disappeared, replaced by a large and exaggerated black robe, with a black sickle like the god of death on his back, exuding a cold and dark atmosphere.

Duel Monster spirit, La Mort the Magical Nethermaster, aka "Reaper of Prophecy".

He was once one of the top generals under the Supreme King.

"Look at you, Yubel." La Mort said, "Weak, tired, worn out by peace, and even forgetting your own duty and mission."

"La Mort, why are you here?"

La Mort smiled strangely.

"It took quite some time to find the dimension where you and the king were... and it took even longer to find my way here." He said, "Thanks to the problem with the dimensional barrier of this dimension itself, I had the opportunity to find this place."

Yubel quickly thought of the incident at the end of the last school year – The Light of Destruction took away the space artifact "Quantum Cube" and opened a wormhole above the Duel Academy Island to invade this dimension. It was said that the cube has not returned to a stable state since the incident.

Is it because of that influence...

"I saw that duel." La Mort said, "Our great king faced the representative of the evil light, and he won a beautiful victory.

He is ready, and the day of the king's return will soon be."

"That is not up to you to decide," Yubel said.

"Should it be up to you to decide?" La Mort shook his head. "You have changed, Yubel. I don't know if you have noticed it yourself, but you have forgotten your original mission.

I have no hope that you can complete the duty, so I came here in person. I hope you will at least not hinder me."

Yubel said word by word: "Unless you step over my body."

".....I think so." La Mort shrugged, "Then there is nothing to say. I have never liked you, Yubel.

Then let me destroy you here and welcome the great king to come again."

The duel continued.

"Spellbook Magician of Prophecy's effect – If this card is Normal Summoned or flipped face-up: Add 1 'Spellbook' Spell from my Deck to my hand."

La Mort drew another card from the deck.

"I add the Spell Card 'Spellbook of Secrets' to my hand." La Mort waved his hand, "Then activate the Spell Card 'Spellbook of Secrets'.

Add 1 'Spellbook' card other than 'Spellbook of Secrets' from my deck to my hand."

A thick, transparent spellbook appeared in the air, and amazing magic power burst out from it!

"That won't work!" Yubel waved her hand, "Counter Trap 'Magic Jammer'! Discard a card; negate the activation of a Spell Card and destroy it!"

The surging magic power was instantly restrained, and soon expanded and exploded from the inside out. The huge spellbook exploded in mid-air.

"Then the card I discarded is 'Card of Compensation'." Yubel said, "When this card is sent from my hand to the Graveyard, I can draw 2 cards."

"Well... let's just say you did think of a counterattack against my means."

La Mort didn't look surprised at all, and only drew another card.

"Then next is this card, the Spell Card 'Spellbook of the Master'." La Mort said, "If I control a Spellcaster-Type monster: I can reveal 1 other 'Spellbook' card in my hand."

He showed another card in his hand.

"I show the 'Spellbook of Power' in my hand," La Mort said, "and then target 1 'Spellbook' Normal Spell Card in my Graveyard, except 'Spellbook of the Master'; this card's effect becomes that target's effect.

So based on this effect, I use the 'Spellbook of the Master' to copy the effect of the 'Spellbook of Secrets' and get the same effect –

– add 1 'Spellbook' card other than 'Spellbook of Secrets' from the deck to the hand."

La Mort drew another card from the deck.

"I add the Quick-Play Spell 'Spellbook of Fate' to my hand."

Yubel frowned slightly.

In the past, when they were in the same camp, Yubel rarely watched La Mort fight with others directly. Therefore, although she had heard of the Spellbook system, she was not familiar with its tactical thinking.

She only knew that the opponent was extremely powerful and there were few opponents who could match him in the twelve dimensions.

Perhaps, only a transcendent existence like the Supreme King could make such a spirit willing to submit.

Now it seems that the operating ability of this deck system was indeed extraordinary. This was only the first turn, and La Mort has used the effect of precise retrieval from the deck four times in a row. This retrieval ability could be called a BUG.

I mustn't be careless.

"Activate the Spell Card I just revealed, 'Spellbook of Power', and for this turn only, increase the attack power of a Spellcaster-Type monster on my field by 1000 points.

I increase the attack power of 'Spellbook Magician of Prophecy' by 1000 points."

[Spellbook Magician of Prophecy, ATK 500 → ATK 1500]

"Battle Phase." La Mort said, "Use 'Spellbook Magician of Prophecy' to attack the set monster!"

Spellbook Magician of Prophecy's magic power rapidly expanded under the amplification of the spellbook, and a magic shock overturned the covered card without any explanation.

"The monster I Set is 'Skelengel'." Yubel said, "When it's flipped, I draw a card from the deck."

La Mort watched her draw the card without caring: "Then at this moment, the subsequent effect of 'Spellbook of Power' is activated. When the monster boosted by this effect destroys an opponent's monster in battle this turn, add 1 'Spellbook' Spell Card from the deck to my hand.

The card I want to add to my hand is... the Field Spell 'The Grand Spellbook Tower'!"

Yubel gritted her teeth.

Here it comes again, another deck search.

This was the fifth time this round.

La Mort raised the card in his hand.

"Activate the Field Spell 'The Grand Spellbook Tower'!"

Chapter 1033: What Do You Think?

The scene changed, and the scenery on the rooftop changed rapidly. The two spirits who were dueling quickly came to a magic academy as the scene changed.

A white tower rose from the ground, surrounded by light blue spell rings, which actually had a sense of technology.

"When The Grand Spellbook Tower is on the field, if I have a Spellcaster-Type monster on my side of the field or in my Graveyard: During my Standby Phase, I can place 1 'Spellbook' Spell Card from my Graveyard on the bottom of my Deck, then draw 1 card." La Mort explained.

"Is it the academy that used to be the holy land of magic?" Yubel looked up at the majestic building that rose from the ground, "But even such a holy land disappeared a long time ago. Nobody knows what happened there..."

If there were players here, they would know the background story of "The Grand Spellbook Tower". This belonged to the same worldview as the famous "Witchcrafter", "Aleister the Invoker" and "Magical Citadel of Endymion", and came from a magic-themed background world.

Of course, everyone was only familiar with the lore of the Yu-Gi-Oh card. The Spellbook system here came from one of the twelve dimensions led by the Supreme King, perhaps a parallel world, and it was unknown whether the background story is the same.

La Mort drew two more cards.

"Set two cards, I end my turn." Two more face-up cards appeared at La Mort's feet, "At the same time, because the effect of 'Spellbook of Power' has ended, the attack power of Spellbook Magician of Prophecy returns to the original state."

[Spellbook Magician of Prophecy, ATK 1500 → ATK 500]

Yubel looked at the weak-looking little clerk holding a spell book on the other side of the field, and after a moment her eyes fell on the two face-up cards on the side.

A monster with 500 attack power remains on the field... Does this mean that the key to defense lies in the backfield?

"Do you think two set cards are enough to stop my attack? It seems that I was underestimated." Yubel's eyes were stern. "My turn, draw!"

She looked at the card she drew and immediately showed it: "Spell Card 'Akashic Record'! Draw two cards from the deck. If any of those cards have been played during the Duel, remove that card from play." (Animation card)

After replenishing two new cards in her hand, she activated the set cards on the field again: "Open the set card: Trap Card – Needlebug Nest! Send the top 5 cards of my Deck to the GY."

Five cards were put into the graveyard one by one, and then she drew a card from her hand: "Equip Spell 'Premature Burial'! Pay 800 LP to Special Summon a monster in the graveyard, and equip it with this card.

I revive 'Skelengel'!"

[Yubel, LP 4000 → LP 3200]

[Skelengel, ATK 900]

La Mort said calmly: "What's the point of reviving such a small monster?"

"You will know the meaning soon." Yubel smiled seductively, and then drew another card, "Spell Card 'Giant Trunade'!

Return all Spell and Trap Cards on the field to the hand!"

The green hurricane swept across the field, and the low pressure swept across the field. The two set cards in the back field of La Mort and the white magic academy returned to the hands of the holders before they could play a role.

Of course, Yubel's own Equip Spell "Premature Burial" also returned to the hand.

"When 'Premature Burial' is destroyed, the equipped monster must also be destroyed." Yubel said, "But returning to the hand is not destruction, so the monster revived by 'Premature Burial' still stays on the field.

Then I once again activate the Equip Spell 'Premature Burial' from my hand! pay 800 LP, and revive the monster in the graveyard!"

[Yubel, LP 3200 → LP 2400]

"I special summon the 'Samsara Lotus' in the graveyard!"

With a gorgeous light effect, the Samsara Lotus bloomed underground.

[Samsara Lotus, ATK 0]

"You have gathered two monsters." La Mort watched her operation throughout the whole process and smiled easily, "Is it coming?"

"I use the two monsters 'Samsara Lotus' and 'Skelengel' as sacrifices!

I am here to summon myself, 'Yubel'!!!"

A card was slapped on the duel disk, and the energy that rushed out turned into a black storm! Yubel's own body transformed into a clone, and moved to the center of the field with a cold face. The devil's wings slowly spread out, and the eyes in the heterochromatic pupils were like cold swords.

[Yubel, ATK 0]

"Finally, you are here in person, Yubel." La Mort said.

"Just stop talking nonsense now." Yubel said coldly, "Activate the Equip Spell 'Axe of Fools' from my hand! The effect of the equipped monster is negated, and the attack power increases by 1000."

She pointed to the opposite side.

"I equip 'Axe of Fools' to 'Spellbook Magician of Prophecy', making his effect invalid and the ATK increase by 1000!"

A heavy battle axe appeared in the hand of the clerk. He waved the axe twice in a daze, and his strength seemed to increase, but in a blink of an eye, he forgot all the spells in his mind.

[Spellbook Magician of Prophecy, ATK 500 → ATK 1500]

"Then enter the Battle Phase." Yubel shouted, "I will use my own clone, Yubel, to attack 'Spellbook Magician of Prophecy'!"

Yubel on the field opened the third eye on her forehead, and the heterochromatic pupil became scarlet as blood. The magician on the opposite side was affected and seemed to become impatient. He screamed "Ahhh" and chopped over with an axe.

But the axe fell on Yubel as if it had hit a slippery piece of leather, and it fell into the air. Instead, Yubel's eyes flashed red, and two bunches of vine whips shot into the air, piercing through La Mort's heart across the field.

[La Mort, LP 4000 → LP 2500]

"'Yubel' will not be destroyed by battle." Yubel smiled, "And all the battle damage caused to me will be borne by the opponent."

La Mort slid back for a while, then stood up and adjusted his collar.

"It's really your style." La Mort said, "I see, so you deliberately increase the attack power and damage of my monster?"

"Not only that, when the 'Axe of Fools' is equipped, it will inflict 500 damage to the controller of the equipped monster every time I enter my Standby Phase."

Yubel licked her lips.

"Don't worry, I will suck you dry bit by bit."

She waved her arm.

"Set three cards, I end my turn." Yubel said, "The effect of 'Samsara Lotus' in the Graveyard! If this card exists in my Graveyard during the End Phase, I can revive it to the field." (Animation effect)

[Samsara Lotus, DEF 0]

"Then sacrifice 'Samsara Lotus' to myself so that 'Yubel' will not be destroyed by its own effect."

"Then it's my turn, draw."

Entering the Standby Phase, he should have been able to draw a card through the effect of "The Grand Spellbook Tower" at this stage, but he couldn't do it because the Field Spell was blown back to his hand by Yubel's "Giant Trunade".

La Mort closed his eyes lightly.

"Sure enough, you are only this level now... That's all, after all, you are the guard beside the king."

He opened his eyes again, his eyes were as black as ink, and his eyes were like cold blades.

"Just let me be a little more serious."

"If you want to be stubborn, it's not too late to talk about it after you win." Yubel frowned, "Do you mean to say that you have been letting me win until now?"

La Mort raised the corner of his mouth and smiled contemptuously.

"What do you think?"

Chapter 1034: God's Magic

Yubel was really angry at the other party's contemptuous attitude.

She stared at La Mort coldly for a moment, and said calmly: "You will pay the price for your words."

"That's hard to say."

La Mort's tone suddenly rose, and he raised a card in his hand like a devout believer and raised his voice.

"Let me show you, the ultimate secret of the Spellbook, the strongest forbidden magic –
——Quick-Play Spell 'Spellbook of Judgment'!!!"

Unimaginable surging magic power was called to this space, and colorful lights swirled into the sky. The forbidden field seemed to cover the entire venue, and the magic power was rampant.

Yubel was a little stunned.

"A Spell Card can have such a huge amount of energy?"

"It's not just 'a Spell Card'." La Mort said coldly, "From the time we parted until now, you have always been complacent and have not made any progress... In my opinion, you have even regressed.

But during this period, I have gained a new power... the power of God! I have stepped into the divine realm with magic!"

He pointed to the green Spell Card hanging high in the air, releasing a magic tornado.

"Look! This card is the proof!"

This statement couldn't really be regarded as an empty boast.

Indeed, "Spellbook of Judgment" was the soul of the entire Spellbook deck. It could raise the strength of the entire deck by a whole level.

This card was called a miracle in the history of Yu-Gi-Oh. This card alone made the "Spellbook" series soar from a Tier 2 deck to a top meta deck of the year. It was known as the miracle of "one card rewriting a deck".

The storm gradually dissipated, and a barrier seemed to be stabilized, covering the entire duel field.

La Mort explained slowly: "During the End Phase of the turn this card was activated, add 'Spellbook' Spells from my Deck to my hand, except 'Spellbook of Judgment', up to the number of Spell Cards activated after this card's resolution."

Yubel was stunned.

Doesn't that mean that if he activates four or five Spell Cards in one turn... then with just this card, he can pick four or five cards from the deck as he likes?

With such a terrible searching ability, why don't you just grab the entire deck to play?

"Then let's start with the first one." La Mort showed a card, "Spell Card 'Spellbook of Knowledge!' Send to the GY either 1 Spellcaster monster I control, or 1 other 'Spellbook' card from my hand or face-up field, and draw two cards."

He pointed to the clerk on his field.

"I send 'Spellbook Magician of Prophecy' to the graveyard, and draw two cards."

Spellbook Magician of Prophecy disappeared from the field, and the "Axe of Fools" that lost its equipped monster was naturally destroyed.

"The second one." La Mort showed the next card, "Spell Card 'Spellbook of Secrets', add 1 'Spellbook' card from the deck to the hand.

I add 'Spellbook of the Master' from the deck to the hand."

Watching the opponent draw a card from the deck, Yubel frowned.

"The effect of that card is..."

"Then I show the three spellbooks in my hand, 'Spellbook of the Master', 'Spellbook of Power', and 'Spellbook of Fate'."

La Mort briefly showed the three cards in his hand.

"I Special Summon 'High Priestess of Prophecy' in attack position!!!"

A golden magic circle opened on the ground. The one who appeared was a cool and elegant female wizard with fair and delicate skin, a well-proportioned figure, and ruby-like fiery red hair.

[High Priestess of Prophecy, ATK 2500]

"The third one." La Mort said, "When there is a Spellcaster-Type monster on my field, activate the 'Spellbook of the Master' from the hand, and obtain the effect of the 'Spellbook of Secrets' in the graveyard – add 1 'Spellbook' card from the deck to the hand.

I add the Spell Card 'Spellbook of Fate' to the hand again."

La Mort raised his hand and pointed at the busty girl on the field.

"High Priestess of Prophecy's effect activated! Once per turn, I can banish 1 'Spellbook' Spell from my hand or GY, then target 1 card on the field; destroy that target."

After a pause, he chuckled and said, "'Yubel' is the ultimate shield. No matter how powerful the enemy is, it cannot be shaken. The damage will backfire on the opponent."

The method is to just blow it up. I will remove the 'Spellbook of Secrets' in the graveyard from the game. Disappear, Yubel!"

Yubel gritted her teeth.

The Yubel here has not been strengthened by the power of "The Light of Destruction", and had no second and third forms. She could not transform into a new form after being blown up.

But she also had a countermeasure!

"Open the set card!" she shouted, "Quick-Play Spell 'Forbidden Dress'! This turn, reduce my own attack power by 600 points, making me unable to be targeted by effects and unable to be destroyed by effects!"

Of course, Yubel's attack power was originally 0, so even if it dropped by 600 points, it would not become negative.

"So you have prepared a countermeasure." La Mort seemed unsurprised and said calmly, "But this is also within my expectations. Then before your 'Forbidden Dress' takes effect, activate the Quick-Play Spell 'Spellbook of Fate' from my hand!"

If I control a Spellcaster monster: I can banish up to 3 'Spellbook' Spells from my GY; apply the effect, depending on the number of Spells banished for this card's activation."

Three cards popped out from his graveyard, turned into projections and floated in the air, and then decomposed into golden light spots one by one and disappeared.

"I remove three cards from the game: 'Spellbook of the Master', 'Spellbook of Ice and Fire', and 'Spellbook of Power' in the graveyard.

The effect of removing three spellbooks is that I can banish 1 card the opponent controls!"

Yubel: "What did you say!?"

"Goodbye, 'Yubel'." La Mort smiled, "I remove 'Yubel' from the game."

The irresistible and powerful magic, the torrent of magic power hit Yubel's body. The tunnel to the dimension opened, and her clone groaned and disappeared at the other end of the dimension.

"By the way, the 'Spellbook of Fate' that was just activated is the fourth one. Together with the 'Forbidden Dress' you activated, five Spell Cards have been activated this round."

Yubel: "Tsk... That's why I hate magicians..."

"The sixth one." La Mort showed a card, "Spell Card 'Spellbook of Eternity'! Target 1 of my banished 'Spellbook' Spell Cards; add that target to my hand.

I return the 'Spellbook of Secrets' that was just banished as the cost of activating High Priestess of Prophecy's effect to the hand."

La Mort followed with a sweep of his hand.

"The seventh one! Activate the second 'Spellbook of Power' from my hand to increase the attack of a Spellcaster monster on the field by 1000 points.

I increase High Priestess of Prophecy's attack by 1000."

[High Priestess of Prophecy, 2500 ATK → 3500 ATK]

[Yubel, LP 2400]

"That's it."

La Mort's mouth curled up slightly.

"It looks like you don't even have a chance to see the ultimate secret of the spellbook... It's a pity, but I've said it before, you're not qualified."

He ordered calmly.

"Go, High Priestess of Prophecy, attack directly!!!"

Chapter 1035: As A Warrior

There was no way to avoid it. The magic power of the High Priestess of Prophecy rushed straight to Yubel's face!

At the critical moment, Yubel gritted her teeth and opened another set card: "Trap Card 'Offensive Guard'! When the opponent declares a direct attack, the opponent's monster's attack power is halved only at the moment of damage calculation!" (Animation card)

[High Priestess of Prophecy, ATK 3500 → ATK 1750]

Under the extremely violent magic bombardment, Yubel's wings were intertwined, like a solid shield to protect her body, but she was still suddenly overturned by the burst of airwaves, and the flames of the explosion engulfed her whole body, and black smoke rushed to the sky.

When the smoke dissipated, Yubel half-knelt on the ground with difficulty, looking embarrassed.

That was the mental shock that only the top dark duelists could cause, and it felt like the body was pierced sharply. But after the severe pain, she felt numb instead, and half of her body lost consciousness.

[Yubel, LP 2400 → LP 650]

"Wow? You managed to hold on?"

La Mort shook his head.

"But all you did was prolong your pain. Give up now. I am no longer the same as I was before, and you don't even look like a warrior anymore.

You have no chance of winning."

Yubel tried to stand up but seemed a little exhausted. She tried twice and failed.

".....The subsequent effect of 'Offensive Guard'." She tried to hold her breath, "I draw a card."

The field area on the side of La Mort's duel disk popped up, and the Field Spell that was blown back to the hand last round was included again.

"The Field Spell 'The Grand Spellbook Tower' is activated again."

He paused for a moment as the scene changed and the building was completed, and then continued to add.

"This is the eighth one."

He then waved his hand gently.

"Set two cards, I end my turn... Then at this moment, the effect of the forbidden spell 'Spellbook of Judgment' is also activated!"

The holy flash appeared again, and the dazzling light shone across the sky, like a judgment from God!

Yubel had to block the light source with half of his wings: "That light is..."

"This turn, I activated seven Spell Cards... plus your 'Forbidden Dress', a total of eight cards.

Therefore, I can add up to eight 'Spellbooks' to my hand."

The deck was shuffled, and cards popped out one after another accurately from the deck. La Mort raised his hand and pulled out all the cards in his hand, showing them to Yubel.

"According to this effect, I put 'Spellbook of Knowledge', 'Spellbook of Secrets', 'Spellbook of the Master', 'Spellbook of Eternity', 'Spellbook of Power', 'Spellbook of Wisdom', 'Spellbook of Fate', 'Spellbook of Life'.....

..... all into my hand!"

In the raging magic storm, eight spellbooks popped out like flowing water, and the scene was particularly spectacular.

"Of course, at the end of the turn, the part of the hand that exceeds six cards must be discarded." He shrugged indifferently.

Although he could only hold six cards in his hand at the end of turn, he still searched for eight cards according to the maximum value.

Maybe it was to accumulate more spellbook resources in the GY as ammunition for "High Priestess of Prophecy" and "Spellbook of Fate"... or simply because it looked more magnificent and spectacular, and could bring more psychological impact to the opponent.

After a brief pause, La Mort continued in a stern voice, "But 'Spellbook of Judgment' has a subsequent effect!

Special Summon from my Deck 1 Spellcaster monster whose Level is less than or equal to the number of cards added to my hand by this effect!"

Yubel's face changed again.

There is actually the ability to summon any monster from the deck...

Is this Spell Card really printed by a god?

"This turn, I added eight cards to my hand." La Mort said, "Therefore, I can special summon 1 Spellcaster monster Level 8 or lower.

The one I want to summon based on this effect is myself——

——Reaper of Prophecy!!!"

The magician was summoned, and a beam of black energy shot out from the deck, transforming into a black-robed wizard holding a sickle and landing lightly. His appearance was exactly the same as La Mort except for the part wearing a duel disk.

[Reaper of Prophecy, ATK 2000]

"Reaper of Prophecy's effect – When this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can activate this effect; apply as many effects as possible, based on the number of 'Spellbook' Spell Cards with different names in my Graveyard.

When there are three or more types of 'Spellbooks' in the graveyard, the attack power increases by 600."

[Reaper of Prophecy, ATK 2000 → ATK 2600]

"When there are four or more types of 'Spellbooks' in the graveyard, add 1 'Spellbook' Spell Card from my deck to the hand... Of course, this effect doesn't matter."

Anyway, La Mort now had all the Spellbooks in his hand, so this retrieval effect could be ignored.

"When there are five or more types of 'Spellbooks' in the graveyard, Special Summon 1 Level 5 or higher DARK Spellcaster-Type monster from my Deck."

La Mort pointed a hand to the sky.

"Come on! Wheel of Prophecy!!!"

The wild magic warrior landed on the field, with a bright red cape fluttering behind him, looking like a golden lion.

[Wheel of Prophecy, ATK 2700]

"Effect of Wheel of Prophecy!" La Mort continued, "When this card is Special Summoned by the effect of a Spellcaster-Type monster: I can target any number of your banished 'Spellbook' Spell Cards; shuffle them into the Deck.

The remaining 'Spellbook' Spell Cards in the banished zone are returned to the Graveyard."

La Mort showed three Spellbooks in one go.

"Now the Spellbooks I have removed from the game are 'Spellbook of the Master', 'Spellbook of Power', and 'Spellbook of Knowledge'. I return them all to the deck."

The three cards were inserted back into the deck, and the deck was automatically shuffled in the slots of the Duel Disk.

"Now my turn is completely over." La Mort finally put down the duel disk, "Okay, it's your turn. Of course, I personally suggest that you give up now.

There is actually no point in continuing to fight, it's nothing more than suffering."

"Shut up!" Yubel said impatiently.

At this moment, she was still half-kneeling on the ground, and after failing twice in a row, she staggered and climbed up with difficulty.

La Mort looked at her silently.

"Why?" He was silent for a moment, and said, "We are not enemies. I came here to help the great king, and our mission should be the same."

"I said shut up!"

Yubel scolded angrily.

She finally stood up – her knees weakened during the process, but she finally stood up straight.

"What do you understand?" She said stubbornly, "You don't understand the current king at all!"

La Mort raised his eyebrows: "Do you mean that only you understand?"

"....."

Yubel didn't say anything.

But what's there to say?

Since the time when Judai was still an idiot in duels, she has been watching him.

In this life, she watched Judai grow up little by little. They were inseparable and lived together, and had long become a part of each other.

When she closed her eyes, she could see Judai's appearance. When she was quiet, her ears would always echo with his hearty and happy laughter.

".....No one understands him better than me."

She swore to fight for him.

No matter who the opponent was or how powerful he was.

La Mort said that she had long forgotten what a warrior should be like, and he was wrong.

As a warrior, sometimes even when facing an impossible opponent, you have to go.

Yubel opened her eyes again.

La Mort noticed that the pair of heterochromatic pupils were burning with cold and empty flames.

"It's my turn!"

Chapter 1036: Yubel's Determination

"It's my turn!"

Yubel stood up again, with a determined light in her eyes.

She must win, no matter how strong the enemy is.

Because she promised that she would protect that person's safety in her past and present lives.

No matter what the cost.

"At this moment, open the set card: Trap Card – Gamble!" The trap in front of Yubel flipped, "This card can only be activated when the opponent's hand is 6 or more cards and my hand is 2 or less.

Toss a coin and call Head or Tail.

If I call it right, I will draw cards from the deck until my hand is filled with five cards.

If I call it wrong, skip my next turn directly!"

"Skip the next turn directly... What a gamble." La Mort said, "Is this really okay? Leave the victory to luck."

"Nonsense." Yubel snorted, "I'm betting on the heads!"

The coin flew up, and the reflected silver light dragged a long arc in the air. Every time it spun, it seemed to be an infinitely stretched slow motion in Yubel's eyes, causing her fate to overlap between life and death countless times.

The coin fell back to the ground.

"Well... It seems that at least the Lady Luck has not abandoned you." La Mort said.

The result was Head.

"I can draw cards until I have 5 cards in my hand!"

Yubel's face was expressionless, and her hand was filled with five cards again.

She had to win.

Yubel narrowed her eyes and looked over the back row of La Mort.

There were three powerful magicians in the front row, but she knew that was just a cover. The real power of the Spellbook lay in the power of magic, so the cards in the backcourt are more noteworthy.

If her guess was correct, there should be a "Spellbook of Fate" in the back row.

This Spellbook could banish any card on the field by banishing three Spellbooks in the graveyard. And it was a Quick-Play Spell, which could be used even during the opponent's turn.

If she didn't solve this trick first, no matter what she did next or what monster she summoned, she would have no chance of winning.

"Activate the Spell Card 'Graceful Charity'." Yubel said, "Draw 3 cards, then discard 2 cards."

Two cards were discarded to the graveyard, and then one of them was immediately ejected again.

"The card I just discarded to the graveyard is 'Gren, Tactician of Dark World'!" Yubel said, "If this card is discarded to the GY by card effect: Target 1 Spell/Trap on the field; destroy it!"

"Dark World?" La Mort raised his eyebrows, "Do you still holds the power of the Dark World in your hands? Guess that you are the guard beside the king after all."

The Dark World was also part of the territory ruled by the Supreme King. It was a dark world where despair and evil were rampant, and the demons living there were bloody and brutal.

Yubel stared at the two face-down cards in the opponent's back row.

The opponent used a "Spellbook of Fate" in the last turn, and retrieved a copy through the effect of "Spellbook of Judgment" at the end of the turn, which was still in his hand.

That meant that at most one of the two set cards is the "Spellbook of Fate".

A 50-50 probability.

"The card I want to destroy... is that one!"

The set card seemed to be pierced by a pitch-black javelin, split apart, and turned over before it dissipated. It was "Spellbook of Fate"!

La Mort calmly watched this super powerful Spellbook being destroyed, and said, "It seems that you are really lucky today."

"Quick-Play Spell 'Burial from a Different Dimension'! Target up to 3 banished monsters; return them to the GY." Yubel said coldly, "I return 'Yubel' to the graveyard.

Then I activate 'Pot of Avarice' to return the five monster cards in the graveyard to the deck and draw two cards."

Five cards popped out one after another.

"I return 'Skeleton Angel', 'Yubel', 'Gren, Tactician of Dark World', 'Phantom Skyblaster', and 'Giant Germ' to the deck!"

The cards were inserted into the deck and the deck was automatically shuffled.

"Then draw two cards!"

After the two cards were in hand, she couldn't help but slightly raise her strongest smile when she saw "Yubel" that had just been shuffled back into the deck and now had been shuffled back into her hand.

Sure enough, perhaps only the bond between oneself and oneself was truly maximized.

"Then I will special summon this card on your field!" Yubel raised a card and raised her voice, "Grinder Golem!!!"

A heavy, huge mechanical monster landed heavily on the field of La Mort, with torture instruments hanging on the steel armor and a shocking serrated wheel in the middle of its forehead.

The whole image looked like a mechanical version of "Lava Golem".

[Grinder Golem, ATK 3000]

La Mort frowned slightly: "Special summon on my field?"

"Yes." Yubel said, "'Grinder Golem' can be special summoned on the opponent's field by Special Summoning 2 'Grinder Tokens' in face-up Attack Position on my side of the field." (animation effect)

[Grinder Token, ATK 0] x2

"Then I will sacrifice the two 'Grinder Tokens'!" Yubel's three eyes seemed to be burning, "My clone! With my determination and my anger, give pain to my enemies——

——Yubel, summon!!!"

The two Tokens turned into golden dust and dissipated, and a dark vortex appeared. The dragon's wings slapped the dark whirlwind, and Yubel's clone stood in the middle of the field.

[Yubel, ATK 0]

"Here she is again." La Mort said, "What a tough guy who won't stop until she dies."

"Whether it's hell or another dimension, I will crawl out no matter how many times." Yubel said coldly, "As long as it's for the king."

La Mort looked at the huge iron fool on his field.

"Special Summon 'Grinder Golem' on the opponent's field, and then use the Token as a sacrifice to summon yourself. In this way, if you use your own clone to attack the 'Grinder Golem', you can force 3000 points of damage onto the enemy... What a great combo."

"Open the set card: Continuous Trap – Zero Sprite! Equip it to my clone!" Yubel said, "The equipped monster's original attack becomes 0, but it can attack twice per turn!" (Animation card)

"The original attack becomes 0..." La Mort said, "But your original attack is 0, it's really a cheating effect."

[Yubel, ATK 0]

This was equivalent to getting the right to attack twice for free.

"Feel my awareness and my anger!" Yubel shouted, "Use my own clone to attack the 'Grinder Golem'!"

[Grinder Golem, ATK 3000]

[La Mort, LP 2500]

If this attack passed, it would be a one-hit kill!

"Then open the set card: Quick-Play Spell – Mystik Wok!" La Mort said, "Tribute 'Grinder Golem' to restore LP equal to its ATK value, which is 3000 points!"

[La Mort, LP 2500 → LP 5500]

"Tsk, then a Battle Replay occurred." Yubel ordered again, "Attack 'Wheel of Prophecy'!"

[Wheel of Prophecy, ATK 2700]

Yubel's clone's eyes flashed red, and the Magical Beast Master was bewitched and lost control. With a wild roar, a spell impact came fiercely in the air, but it was blocked in front of it like hitting a wall. It was all absorbed and digested by the transparent barrier, and then it was counterattacked towards its controller with even more fierce momentum!

Boom! ! !

La Mort's thin body was blown back and slid a long way. It took a lot of effort to half-kneel and stabilize his body.

[La Mort, LP 5500 → LP 2800]

"It's not over yet." Yubel said, "The effect of 'Zero Sprite', second shot!"

Yubel attacked again!

The Magical Beast Master was reluctant, but under the temptation of Yubel's mental power, he could not hold back his impulse, and roared and blasted out another magic wave.

La Mort was half-kneeling on the ground, and before he could get up, he was hit by the backlash wave again. This time he flew out and fell to the ground with his head raised.

[La Mort, LP 2800 → LP 100]

"Just a little bit... just the last bit."

Yubel took a deep breath.

"Set three cards, I end my turn."

Chapter 1037: Magical Angel

"At the End Phase, I Special Summon the 'Samsara Lotus' in my Graveyard again."

[Samsara Lotus, DEF 0]

"Then sacrifice the 'Samsara Lotus' to me," Yubel said, "so that I will not be destroyed by my own effects."

To maintain her presence on the field, Yubel must sacrifice a monster at the end of each turn, otherwise she would explode.

With such a natural physique, it was not easy to be satisfied, and she couldn't do anything about it.

Yubel let out a long breath.

100 LP remaining, just the last little bit.

La Mort lay on the ground with his arms and legs spread out, motionless, and only the slow rise and fall of his chest could prove that he was still alive.

After a long while, he sat up slowly and looked at Yubel expressionlessly.

"I underestimated you." He said slowly, "Perhaps you still have the soul of a warrior in your body. At least, you are still determined to do whatever it takes for the king."

"As long as I am here, I will never allow you to appear in front of him." Yubel said coldly, "Unless you step over my body."

".....Okay."

La Mort pondered for a moment, stood up calmly, and patted his wide black robe.

"I admit that I did underestimate you. But not now."

La Mort suddenly became serious, and his aura changed, as if the whole person suddenly turned into a scimitar blade, ready to be unsheathed at any time.

"This duel ends here... In this turn."

Yubel held his breath.

"My turn, draw!" said La Mort. "At the Standby Phase, the effect of 'The Grand Spellbook Tower' is activated."

If I have a Spellcaster-Type monster on my side of the field or in my Graveyard: During my Standby Phase, I can place 1 'Spellbook' Spell Card from my Graveyard on the bottom of my Deck, then draw 1 card."

A card popped out of the graveyard.

"I return the Quick-Play Spell 'Spellbook of Judgment' to my deck, and then draw a card."

Yubel held her breath.

It's that troublesome card again...

"Then activate the Spell Card 'Spellbook of Secrets' from my hand," said La Mort. "Add 1 'Spellbook' card from my deck to my hand.

I add 'Spellbook of Judgment' to my hand again."

It seemed that in La Mort's deck, all Spellbooks might have three copies, but this "Spellbook of Judgment" was unique.

After all, it was a forbidden spell with god-like power, and a single card was enough to become the core of the entire deck.

"After the Quick-Play Spell 'Spellbook of Judgment' is activated, according to the number of Spell Cards activated in this turn, the corresponding number of 'Spellbooks' can be retrieved to the hand at the end of the turn."

After a pause, he smiled coldly.

"Of course, you may not see that time."

Although he still had a lot of resources to search the deck, he seemed to think it was unnecessary. La Mort waved his hand: "High Priestess of Prophecy's effect activated!

Once per turn, remove 1 'Spellbook' Spell Card in the hand or graveyard from the game, and destroy a card on the field."

A card in his graveyard popped out.

"I remove the 'Spellbook Organization' that was discarded to the graveyard at the end of the last turn from the game. Disappear, Yubel!"

The magician sister lazily flicked her ruby-like hair, holding the Spellbook in one hand and gently raising the other hand. The magic light stream from the white-gloved palm hit Yubel's clone head-on!

Seeing that her clone was about to be destroyed, Yubel curled her lips and smiled.

"Heh, I've been waiting for this moment." She sneered, "Do you think I forgot the effect of that troublesome magician sister?"

"Oh?" La Mort raised his eyebrows.

"You will use High Priestess of Prophecy's effect to destroy me, it is within my calculations! The moment you use this effect, you have stepped into a deadly trap!

Open the set card: Trap Card – Guard Mines!

When a card is activated with an effect that would target and destroy 1 monster I control: Negate the effect and destroy that card.

After that, inflict 500 points of damage to the opponent!"

[La Mort, LP 100]

".....I see." La Mort understood, "Not only did you defend against High Priestess of Prophecy's effect, but you also used this effect to counterattack..."

With 100 LP remaining, this strike would undoubtedly be his defeat!

"It's you who's going to disappear!" Yubel said, "Disappear into the depths of hell and never come back!"

High Priestess of Prophecy's spell bombardment hit the golden energy layer, causing a series of explosions and backlashes!

It felt like the detonation of a mine in a minefield, causing a series of chain reactions, and red flames burst out one after another, like a fire dragon, backlashing all the way toward the magician!

The high priestess covered her face in fear, and her red hair fluttered in the hot wind. The flames quickly devoured her until La Mort's outline disappeared in the sea of fire.

The fire illuminated Yubel's cheeks, and she panted heavily facing the sea of fire.

Success.

After the Guard Mines is successfully triggered, it will cause 500 points of reflected damage. This offense should have passed without a doubt...

.....!?

The flames dissipated, and La Mort was still standing there with a smile on his face, and even the High Priestess of Prophecy in front of him was still there.

The red-haired magician patted his chest and let out a long sigh, looking a little scared.

Yubel gritted his teeth: "How could it be..."

"Don't worry, our chain is not over yet." He smiled, "I chain to your 'Guard Mines' with this card—

—— Quick-Play Spell 'Spellbook of Wisdom'!

Target 1 Spellcaster monster on the field, then choose one of the two effects to activate.

During this turn, that face-up monster won't be affected by other Spell effects; or won't be affected by Trap effects."

He pointed to the high priestess on the field.

"Obviously, I will make 'High Priestess of Prophecy' become unaffected by Trap effects this turn. So your 'Guard Mines' cannot negate her effect, nor can it destroy her."

"But the 500 points of damage will still be calculated!" Yubel said, "Monsters can be unaffected by Trap effects, but you can't. Disappear!"

"Unfortunately, that won't work either." La Mort shook his head, "I chain to 'Spellbook of Wisdom', with the Quick-Play Spell 'Emergency Provisions'! Send any number of other Spell/Trap Cards I control to the Graveyard; gain 1000 LP for each card sent to the Graveyard this way.

I send the currently activated 'Spellbook of Wisdom' to the graveyard to restore 1000 LP.

In this way, my LP will be restored to 1100 before your 500 points of damage take effect."

After a pause, he pointed to Yubel on the opposite field.

"And because the High Priestess of Prophecy is not affected by trap effects, your clone must continue to be destroyed!"

Yubel gritted his teeth: "Then I chain to 'Emergency Provisions' with the trap card 'Spellbinding Illusion'! Select 1 monster the opponent controls. It loses 500 ATK, and its effect is negated."
(manga card)

After a pause, she said: "Although 'Spellbinding Illusion' is also a trap card, it is activated on the same chain as 'Spellbook of Wisdom'.

Before the effect of 'Spellbook of Wisdom' takes effect, High Priestess of Prophecy's effect will be sealed!"

A long chain of settlements, the result was that the High Priestess of Prophecy's ability was bound – the magic power shock that was finally brewed hit a layer of magic barrier when it hit Yubel fiercely, which blocked the shock and also bound the High Priestess of Prophecy's power.

[High Priestess of Prophecy, ATK 2500 → ATK 2000]

Then the power of the Guard Mines backfired, and a series of explosions swept through La Mort. But he managed to suck blood through "Emergency Provisions" before the flames came, and successfully withstood the bombing.

[La Mort, LP 100 → LP 1100 → LP 600]

The final result was that both monsters were still standing on the field, and neither could do anything to the other.

But Yubel did not take it lightly.

Although her clone had the effect of not being destroyed by battle and all damage would be rebounded, she knew that the opponent still had a big killermove in his hand.

At the end of the last turn, through "Spellbook of Judgment", the third "Spellbook of Fate" was retrieved.

Sure enough, immediately afterward, La Mort showed the card: "Quick-Play Spell 'Spellbook of Fate'! By banishing 3 'Spellbook' Spells from my GY, banish 1 card the opponent controls!"

But Yubel has predicted even this move!

"Don't even think about it!" She shouted, "Open the set card: Continuous Trap——
——Imperial Iron Wall!"

The card flipped over, and the red trap card surface bloomed with golden light!

"Oh?" La Mort raised an eyebrow.

"As long as it exists on the field, both players... cannot banish cards!"

A complete blockade, like an invisible wall of iron walls that encompasses the entire duel arena, within the blockade of this iron wall, nothing was allowed to be exiled to different dimensions!

La Mort was silent for a long time.

"Do you even consider the countermeasures against the 'Spellbook of Fate'?"

"I said." Yubel said word by word, "I will not allow you to appear in front of him, go to hell here!"

Yes, this is her duty and mission, a loyal guardian.

She has always done this. If there was anyone who threatened Judai and may become an obstacle, she would do whatever it takes to eliminate him.

Even if she turned into a devil.

".....I miscalculated."

La Mort said and drew another card from his hand.

"I summon 'Temperance of Prophecy'."

[Temperance of Prophecy, ATK 1000]

Yubel stared at the opponent without blinking.

A new Prophecy monster...what is it this time?

"To be honest, I didn't expect to be forced to this point beforehand." La Mort said, "I actually had to use that form to deal with you..."

Yubel held her breath.

"The effect of 'Temperance of Prophecy'." La Mort said, "During my Main Phase, if I have activated a 'Spellbook' Spell Card previously this turn: I can Tribute this card; Special Summon 1 Level 5 or higher LIGHT or DARK Spellcaster-Type monster from my Deck."

"!"

Yubel was shocked again.

Any Level 5 or higher LIGHT or DARK Spellcaster-Type monster!?

Is this a monster-level search ability again?

"This is the end!" La Mort's magic power burst out, and his face changed instantly, "This is my ultimate form, the magical angel born from the god's magic-– Level 9! World of Prophecy, summon!!!"

Chapter 1038: Leave It To Me

The shining colorful light burst out like a spring!

The seven colors of light converged into a pure white spectrum, and the light curtain was like a waterfall. The wizard was dressed in a snow-white robe, with angel-like white wings behind him, and the ultimate light magic swirled around him.

[World of Prophecy, ATK 2900]

Not only that, even La Mort, as a duelist, has changed!

At the moment this card was taken out, the majestic light magic that appeared in the sky also enveloped La Mort himself! His image seemed to be annihilated by the strong light, and his appearance changed rapidly!

In the blink of an eye, La Mort's own black robe was also removed, and the ominous sickle behind him like the god of death was also annihilated and dissipated in the light.

The white wings spread out behind him, and the gorgeous light effect swirled around his body. The wizard like a judgment angel stood on the field, his face as calm as water.

As a duelist, La Mort himself, in the middle of playing cards, unexpectedly transformed into "World of Prophecy", aka "Tout le Monde the Magical Angel"!

Yubel's face changed slightly.

This mage had a completely different aura from all the mages who have appeared so far. Even if someone knew nothing about magic could sense a terrifying surge of magic power from this mage.

The magic of light was enough to destroy everything!

"You..."

"I said, I have surpassed myself and reached a new realm." La Mort – or we should call him Tout le Monde by now – slowly said, "I have touched the ultimate mystery of the Spellbook in the long years, 'The Judgement of the Spellbook'.

This forbidden spell has brought out the light magic in my body to the greatest extent, overwhelming the dark magic that originally had the upper hand.

Therefore, my current form was born."

He slowly raised his hand and gestured to his clone floating in the air on the field.

"World of Prophecy's effect is activated."

He said calmly, but the steady voice seemed to be reading out the judgment of the criminal.

"When this card is Special Summoned by the effect of a Spellcaster-Type monster or a 'Spellbook' Spell Card: I can target 2 'Spellbook' Spell Cards in my Graveyard; add those targets to my hand."

He drew two cards that popped out of the Graveyard.

"I add 'Spellbook of Wisdom' and 'Spellbook of Fate' to my hand."

He then showed the four Spellbooks in his hand in one breath.

"Moreover, when I add cards to my hand by this effect, the subsequent effects of my clone are also activated! By revealing 4 'Spellbook' Spell Cards with different names in my hand..."

He paused here deliberately and emphasized.

"...destroy all other cards on the field."

"What!?" Yubel's pupils shrank.

The Magical Angel spread his wings, and the pure white light enveloped the storm of magic, sweeping across the field in a mighty manner!

Yubel's clone was overwhelmed, and the demon's body was cut into pieces by the magic of light. Her equipment "Zero Spirite" and the Continuous Trap "Imperial Iron Wall" were also annihilated in the light curtain.

Then came the High Priestess of Prophecy, the Wheel of Prophecy, and the pre-evolved form of Tout le Monde "Reaper of Prophecy". These fellow wizards also failed to escape the fate of destruction and turned into powder in the light one by one.

Next was the towering tower-"The Grand Spellbook Tower", a legendary academy that has cultivated generations of outstanding magicians. It also failed to escape the light. The scorching light was like a flood, crashing into the academy's door, destroying the foundation like a rotten tree, and the towering tower fell down with a wail, also turning into dust.

There was no difference, no escape, everything turned into nothingness under the magical angel's divine judgment.

The field became completely empty, with only the magician who annihilated everything, looking down like an archangel.

Yubel stared blankly at the swept field, and the powerful and despairing shadow was clearly reflected in her heterochromatic pupils.

"I said, I am no longer the same as I was in the past, and you have no chance of winning from the beginning." Tout le Monde said, "I really felt your determination.

But a duel cannot be won by determination and momentum. Only strength, absolute strength, can dominate everything."

Tout le Monde slowly raised his hand and issued the final order.

"World of Prophecy, attack directly."

There was no more backup. Yubel clearly saw the magic power released by the magician surge, and saw the magic vortex occupying the entire field of vision, but she felt that she had never been so powerless in her past and present lives.

She lost.

She gambled everything and made up her mind. It was a duel that she couldn't lose, and there was someone she had to protect at all costs... but she still lost.

She knew the rules of this duel.

In the dimension she came from, duels were not games for fun like in this world. This was a ritual that only true warriors could perform with their lives at stake, and the loser would be deprived of everything.

She lost, and what she would face next was naturally the endless darkness.

It should have been so.

But at this moment, a beam of light cut in from the side and flashed in front of Yubel at an almost instantaneous speed!

The flying light particles quickly formed a human form and opened their arms to block in front of Yubel.

Boom!!!

[Yubel, LP 650 → LP 0]

Her LP was reduced to zero, but she was not directly hit. The figure blocked the main damage for her, and the two were blown away at the same time under the impact of World of Prophecy's destructive light.

Yubel stood up with difficulty, and then she saw who had blocked the strike for her.

...It was that annoying alien!?

That's right, the one who suddenly appeared to block the knife for her was "Elemental HERO Neos".

Yubel had been playing cards with the enemy for a long time, and Neos finally managed to break the seal and rushed up in time to block the strike at the critical moment.

After all, he was an Ultraman who was professional in saving people and blocking strikes.

Yubel's mood suddenly became complicated.

I'm actually... saved by this annoying alien?

"Yubel!"

At this moment, Judai also hurriedly found the roof and saw her in such a miserable state and quickly came up.

"What happened? Why are you in this state..."

Without waiting for Yubel to speak, Tout le Monde walked up slowly.

"Finally I see you... my king."

Judai looked around in confusion.

Who is this person talking to?

"Go, Judai." Yubel grabbed his sleeve, "I can still hold him for a while, let's get out of here..."

Judai looked at the weak Yubel, and then looked at Tout le Monde in front of him, who looked extraordinary with the halo special effects all over his body.

Although he still didn't understand the reason, he roughly understood the situation.

Judai didn't listen to her and left but stepped forward to stand between her and Tout le Monde.

Yubel was stunned for a moment.

"Judai?"

"Duel... should be the job of a duelist, right?" Judai said.

Yubel: "..."

"Don't worry, leave it to me." Judai turned his head and smiled at her, "You know, my dueling skill is very strong!"

Yubel didn't say anything.

But looking at Judai's back, she suddenly realized that he had never seemed so tall before.

She realized something, or rather, a mistake she made.

Perhaps this boy... no longer needed her protection.

Chapter 1039: Is Your Hand Still There?

Judai never mentioned it to anyone.

But right after the battle with the Light of Destruction, he had a very strange dream.

In the dream, he was no longer Yuki Judai, but someone else, someone who was completely different.

He saw himself wearing heavy armor, like an ancient general going to war. Countless enemies died in his hands, countless souls were annihilated before his eyes, and the desperate expressions of each person before death were vivid, and their screams echoed in his ears.

But he was unmoved.

His heart was as cold as steel, stronger than rock. His will was extremely firm, and he only wanted to win, nothing more.

This might be the most real and impressive nightmare he had ever had in his life. The most terrifying thing was that when he was awakened by the nightmare and calmed down and fell asleep again, this terrible dream could even continue.

In the end, he stood alone on the empty plain, and the setting sun shone obliquely on his black armor. The bleak wind lifted the cloak behind him, which had long been tattered in the chaos, like a battle flag that had experienced vicissitudes of life.

In the boundless wasteland, the only person left besides himself was his most respected mentor Yuei Vu.

He saw the teacher standing opposite him, the deck was automatically shuffled in the slot, the duel disk was automatically unfolded, and the golden duel disk reflected orange light in the sun.

No one knew what the outcome of this duel would be, but there was a great possibility that one of them must fall.

There can only be one winner on the battlefield.

"Judai? Judai?"

A voice pulled Judai back to reality from his distracted state. He shuddered all over, turned his head and found that it was Brother Dolphin in the spirit state.

Neo-Spacian Aqua Dolphin looked at him with concern: "Judai, what's wrong with you? Are you in a bad state?"

"No... nothing." Judai came back to his senses and his eyes returned to the opponent in front of him.

At this moment, the "Tout le Monde the Magical Angel" with a holy halo all over his body has changed back to the form of "La Mort the Magical Nethermaster", and the special effects on his body have dimmed a lot.

Maybe that state was also very distressing for him.

However, he was very patient with Judai's distraction. He just kept an elegant smile and waited quietly on the other side without disturbing him.

Yubel, who turned back into a spirit, floated behind Judai and frowned slightly.

In fact, she has already noticed that Judai's state has been a little bit wrong since the battle with the Light of Destruction. She just didn't say it.

"Sorry, sorry, I've let you wait for a long time." Judai smiled embarrassedly.

"It doesn't matter." La Mort was very generous, "It's my honor to duel with you."

"Is that so?" Judai tilted his head.

Speaking of which, he actually didn't even understand who the opponent was and why he played this game, but Judai who had a card game to play usually didn't think too much.

Anyway, it's definitely right to play the game first!

And he beat Yubel so badly, he must be a bad guy!

Then it's even more correct to beat him up.

"Duel!" x2

[Judai, LP 4000]

[La Mort, LP 4000]

"Be careful, Judai." Yubel warned, "This guy... is very strong."

"I know."

Judai nodded.

"I'll go first, draw!" Judai said, "I summon 'Cross Porter' in attack position!"

[Cross Porter, ATK 400]

"The effect of 'Cross Porter'! Select a monster on my field, send that monster to the graveyard, and Special Summon a 'Neo-Spacian' from my hand.

I send 'Cross Porter' itself to the graveyard, and then Special Summon 'Neo-Spacian Aqua Dolphin' from my hand!"

The transport robot turned into a golden light and dissipated. A wave of water splashed out, and the blue-bodied Brother Dolphin jumped out on the wave.

[Neo-Spacial Aqua Dolphin, ATK 600]

"The second effect of 'Cross Porter'! When he is sent to the graveyard, add a 'Neo-Spacial' from the deck to my hand." Judai said, "I add 'Neo-Spacial Air Hummingbird' to my hand."

Judai added Air Hummingbird to his hand and then pointed at Brother Dolphin on the field.

"Activate the effect of 'Neo-Spacial Aqua Dolphin'! Discard a card, check the opponent's hand, and select a monster card.

If I control a monster with ATK greater than or equal to the ATK of the chosen card, destroy the chosen card, and inflict 500 damage to the opponent!

Echolocation!"

Judai discarded a card, Brother Dolphin opened his mouth, and sound waves swept through La Mort's hand with a sharp sound, quickly confirming his hand.

Among them, there was only one monster card, which was "Stoic of Prophecy".

The poor magician had only 300 ATK and was beaten by Brother Dolphin with 600 ATK. Dolphin's sound wave attacked and blew the card into powder on the spot.

[La Mort, LP 4000 → LP 3500]

"But the effect of 'Stoic of Prophecy' is activated," La Mort said calmly, "When this card is sent to the Graveyard: Add 1 Level 3 'Prophecy' monster from my Deck to my hand."

A card popped out of the deck and was drawn out by him.

"I added 'Justice of Prophecy' to my hand." La Mort smiled, "Thanks for giving me the opportunity to search the deck."

"You're welcome." Judai smiled, "Then activate the Spell Card 'O – Oversoul'! Special Summon 1 'Elemental HERO' Normal Monster in my GY.

The card I just discarded to the graveyard through the effect of 'Aqua Dolphin' is 'Elemental HERO Neos'!

Come on, Neos!"

A beam of light rushed out of the vortex in the graveyard and condensed into a human shape in mid-air. Neos landed with a handsome spin and started a new day of overtime.

Anyway, every time Judai played cards, he had to work overtime...

[Elemental HERO Neos, ATK 2500]

"The effect of 'Neo-Spacial Aqua Dolphin' is activated again!" Judai said, "Discard a card in my hand, check the opponent's hand, and choose a monster card in it!

Echolocation!"

La Mort raised his eyebrows slightly: "This effect didn't have the once-per-turn limit?"

The echo sound wave blasted out, locking the "Justice of Prophecy" that La Mort had just retrieved from his hand without saying anything.

[Justice of Prophecy, ATK 1600]

[Elemental HERO New Universe Man, ATK 2500]

"I have Neos with 2500 attack power on the field, which is higher than Justice of Prophecy!" Judai said, "So 'Justice of Prophecy' is destroyed!"

The poor beautiful magician was just retrieved and had no time to warm up before she was directly blown up by the sound wave of Brother Dolphin.

[La Mort, LP 3500 → LP 3000]

"Then the card I just threw to the graveyard is the Spell Card 'Card of Compensation'. When this card is sent from my hand to the graveyard, draw two cards."

Judai raised his fist.

"Then return 'Elemental HERO Neos' and 'Neo-Spacian Aqua Dolphin' from the field to the deck! Contact Fusion!!!

The power of water, ride the wind and waves——

——Elemental HERO Aqua Neos!"

The Aqua Dolphin's figure decomposed into a water-colored halo, superimposed on Neos, and transformed into a brand new posture. It was a blue and white Neos, with smooth and thin body lines, who came to the field on the waves.

[Elemental HERO Aqua Neos, ATK 2500]

"Aqua Neos's effect!" Judai said, "Once per turn, discard a card and randomly destroy two cards in the opponent's hand!" (Animation effect)

"Two cards?"

Seeing two sharp rays from Aqua Neos's eyes randomly hitting two cards in his hand, La Mort couldn't help but raise his eyebrows.

"What an excessive effect..."

In this way, even before La Mort's turn, Judai had already blown up four of his cards. For ordinary duelists, this blow was basically fatal.

"Activate the Equip Spell 'Instant Neo Space' and equip it to 'Elemental HERO Aqua Neos'." Judai said, "This card can extend Neos's activity time!

The equipped Neos fusion monster does not need to be returned to the deck at the end of the turn."

A circular vortex opened under the feet of Aqua Neos, just covering his body. The vortex was filled with colorful aurora, which was obviously simulating the energy of the "Neo Space" in a small area, and could continuously charge the Neos.

It was like a mobile power bank for Ultraman.

"My turn is over."

Chapter 1040: Why Doesn't Your Search Be Reasonable?

La Mort looked at the few cards left in his hand before the game even started, and shrugged helplessly.

"It's really too much. So many cards were cut off right at the start..."

He paused and narrowed his eyes.

"Should I say, you are worthy of being the 'king'?"

Judai: "?"

He felt strange from the beginning. What is this person talking about?

"Don't pay attention to him, Judai." Yubel snorted, "It's just meaningless trash talk."

"Oh...oh."

"In this state, if I can't draw any useful cards this time, I'm done."

Although he said so, La Mort still didn't seem to be panicked at all.

"Draw!"

Glancing at the card he drew, he couldn't help but raise his eyebrows.

"Wow, this is a really good card." He showed the card directly, "I summon 'Spellbook Magician of Prophecy'."

[Spellbook Magician of Prophecy, ATK 500]

"Spellbook Magician of Prophecy's effect." La Mort smiled, "If this card is Normal Summoned or flipped face-up: Add 1 'Spellbook' Spell from my Deck to my hand.

The card I want to add to my hand... is this card."

He raised the corners of his mouth and seemed to pause and brew for a while before drawing the card.

"Quick-Play Spell 'Spellbook of Judgment'!"

Yubel's face changed slightly, and her tone became serious: "Be careful, Judai! That card is extraordinary!"

"Huh?" Judai blinked.

"Quick-Play Spell 'Spellbook of Judgment' is activated!!!"

La Mort raised the Spell Card above his head, and a thousand feet of sacred light poured down! It was as if a rainbow was hanging from the sky, and the sacred magic of light built an inviolable magic field.

"During the End Phase of the turn this card was activated, add 'Spellbook' Spells from my Deck to my hand, except 'Spellbook of Judgment', up to the number of Spell Cards activated after this card's resolution."

La Mort slowly drew a card.

"First, the Equip Spell 'Wonder Wand'. Equip it to 'Spellbook Magician of Prophecy' on the field, and increase the attack power by 500 points."

[Spellbook Magician of Prophecy, ATK 500 → ATK 1000]

"Next is the second effect of 'Wonder Wand'." La Mort said, "Send this card and the equipped monster to the graveyard together, and draw two cards."

After the two cards were in hand, he glanced at them and flipped one of them to show it.

"Next is the second one! Spell Card 'Spellbook of Secrets'. Add 1 'Spellbook' card from the deck to the hand.

I add 'Spellbook of Fate' from the deck to my hand."

Another new Spell Card popped out and was taken out by him.

Yubel's eyelids twitched.

It's that card again!

"Judai, that card is the most powerful spear in the opponent's deck!" Yubel reminded, "It has the super ability to banish any card!"

"Huh?"

Of course, even if he reminded me at this time, it would be useless.

"Next is the third card!" said La Mort, "Activate the Equip Spell 'Spellbook of Life' by banishing 1 Spellcaster-Type monster from my Graveyard and revealing 1 other 'Spellbook' Spell Card in my hand."

He showed the card he had just retrieved.

"I show the Quick-Play Spell 'Spellbook of Fate'." He said, "Then I can target 1 Spellcaster-Type monster in my Graveyard; Special Summon that target in face-up Attack Position and equip it with 'Spellbook of Life'."

Two monster cards popped out in one breath from the Graveyard Zone of his Duel Disk.

"I banish the 'Stoic of Prophecy' that you destroyed and special summon the 'Spellbook Magician of Prophecy' in the graveyard!"

[Spellbook Magician of Prophecy, ATK 500]

"The equipped monster's Level is increased by the Level of the monster that was banished for this card's activation'."

[Spellbook Magician of Prophecy, LV 2 → LV 3]

"Then activate Spellbook Magician of Prophecy's effect again!" said La Mort, "I add the 'Spellbook of the Master' to the hand."

"Another accurate search!?" Judai was a little stunned.

He remembered that for most decks, the effect of accurate search is often the key to the operation. If you have a powerful effect that is invalid in your hand, you can consider interrupting the opponent's search effect first to prevent the deck from interrupting the operation.

But this deck in front of me...why doesn't it seem to be reasonable?!

Is his search free?

But this was not even over yet, La Mort was still continuing: "The fourth one! Activate the Spell Card 'Spellbook of the Master'! When there is a Spellcaster-Type monster on my field, reveal a 'Spellbook' in my hand, and I can copy the effect of a 'Spellbook' in my graveyard!

I show the 'Spellbook of Fate' again, and gain the effect of the 'Spellbook of Secrets' in the graveyard!

Add another 'Spellbook' from the deck to my hand!"

"More?" Judai was stunned.

How many cards did he want to search?

"I'll add the 'Spellbook of Knowledge' to my hand."

La Mort's tone was neither hurried nor slow, and he seemed calm and confident.

"The fifth card," he said, "Spell Card 'Spellbook of Knowledge'! Send a 'Spellbook' from my hand to the graveyard, and draw two cards."

"The sixth card, Quick-Play Spell 'Spellbook of Fate'. Banish up to three 'Spellbooks' in the graveyard, and gain different effects based on the number of banished cards.

I banished 'Spellbook Organization', 'Spellbook of Power', and 'Spellbook of the Master' that you destroyed from the graveyard.

The effect gained is that I can remove any card on your field from the game."

He pointed to the Neos on Judai's field.

"Disappear, annoying Aqua Neos."

The magic circle spun, and the powerful golden magic hit Neos like a laser beam. The latter groaned "Uh ah" and disappeared out of thin air in the magic impact.

"Ah, Neos was really..."

Judai frowned and said, "But, at this moment, the 'Instant Neo Space' that lost its equipped target is destroyed.

Another effect of 'Instant Neo Space'! When the equipped monster leaves the field, I can Special Summon 1 'Elemental HERO Neos' from my hand, deck, or graveyard!"

Neos, who returned to the deck in the previous turn, popped out of the deck again.

"Come on! Neos!!!"

The beam landed, and Neos made a brilliant appearance again.

Neos: I knew I had to work overtime...

[Elemental HERO Neos, ATK 2500]

"Oh? There is such an effect." La Mort nodded, "Okay. Then I will set two cards on the field first, and my turn is over."

After a pause, he said in a deep voice: "But the power of the Spellbook will only begin to be truly demonstrated now!"

At the End Phase, the effect of 'Spellbook of Judgment' is activated! According to the number of Spell Cards activated in this turn, the corresponding number of 'Spellbooks' are added to the hand from the deck!

The number of Spell Cards I activated this turn... is six! So I can add up to six Spellbooks to my hand!"

"Huh!?" Judai was surprised, "Can you pick six cards from the deck and add them to your hand?"

Is there such a search card!?

The amazing explosion of magic power was like a miracle from the sky! The Spellbooks flew out one after another along the surging magic light curtain, like spirits flying in the sky, and fell into La Mort's hands in a line.

"I put one each of 'Spellbook of Mystery', 'Spellbook of Fate', 'Spellbook of the Master', 'Spellbook of Eternity', and 'Spellbook of Wisdom', five cards into my hand!"

Judai: "Ah, this..."

"And 'Spellbook of Judgment' has a follow-up effect." La Mort said slowly, "After this effect is activated, Special Summon from my Deck 1 Spellcaster monster whose Level is less than or equal to the number of cards added to my hand by this effect."

"Huh!?" Judai was surprised.

Retrieving five cards in one go, and you can also fly a Spellcaster monster out of the deck at will?

"I special summon 'Justice of Prophecy'."

[Justice of Prophecy, ATK 1600]

"Next is the effect of 'Justice of Prophecy'." La Mort was still operating, "At the end of the turn in which I activated the 'Spellbook' Spell Card, remove 'Justice of Prophecy' from the game.

Then I can add both 1 Level 5 or higher LIGHT or DARK Spellcaster-Type monster and 1 'Spellbook' Spell Card from my Deck to my hand."

"Another precise search?" Judai was numb, "And there are monsters this time?"

"I add 'High Priestess of Prophecy' and the Quick-Play Spell 'Spellbook Organization' to my hand."

La Mort shrugged: "But unfortunately, each player can only maintain six cards in his hand during the end phase, and the extra card must be discarded. It's a pity.

But this way my turn is really over.

Okay, it's your turn, come on, you're welcome."

Judai: "..."
