

I Play Yu-Gi 1101

Chapter 1101: Can You Do It?

Vampire Fraulein!

The two gentlemen's eyes were straightened instantly, just like the big bad wolf seeing the Little Red Riding Hood, and they wanted to rush up and pounce on her immediately.

Although they were distracted when the background story was told before, they quickly understood the basic background settings after listening to their companions' explanations.

At least they knew that the ruler of this dimension was the famous Vampire Fraulein, one of the four strongest generals in the twelve dimensions led by the Supreme King, and her nickname in other dimensions was "Little Miss".

She had not officially appeared yet, but the news had just been thrown out. Card pictures, standing pictures, serious fan art, and not-so-serious fan art were now flying all over the forum.

At this time, a large number of gentlemen have emerged in the forum, calling her "waifu" in an extremely intimate way. Some posts have already started the Peach Conference, and some posts have already started the process of "My piss is yellow, I'll go first".

At this moment, the protagonist who has received much attention stood in front of them so coquettishly. The two rich people gasped and their first reaction was—— ——Screenshot! Show off!

This post will definitely go viral!

The girl walked up expressionlessly, and her soft little hand gently put away the black umbrella. She raised her arm lightly, and a ball of black mist turned into a hideous black Duel Disk on her arm, with the decorations on both sides like the fangs of a vampire.

Both knew that this meant they were going to play cards.

They were even more excited to play cards, and they started to compete for the first prize again.

"Brother Sandbag, don't fight with me this time, okay?" Native Noragami squinted, "You've already died once, why don't you save the number of resurrections this time?"

Just A Sandbag was unhappy: "Heh, how do you know I will definitely lose?"

Native Noragami laughed: "Does everyone on earth know? You talk like it's a secret."

Just A Sandbag had a dark face: "Brick hand... it's an accident, does it count? Besides, who hasn't had a brick hand while playing cards?"

"But no one gets a brick hand every day while playing cards..."

"How about this, let's be fair, let's decide by rock-paper-scissors..."

As if she didn't have the patience to wait for the two idiots to argue endlessly, the girl spoke softly: "No need. You two... come together."

Her voice was very soft and thin, like an illusion, ringing in the ears of the two people, vivid but revealing a sense of sadness, once heard, it was impressive.

Together?

The two of them were stunned and looked at each other.

"Little sister, can you do it?" Brother Noragami asked, "Although this guy is not very good, I am very brave."

"F*ck, you are just a stick at best, brave my ass..." President Sandbag was unhappy.

Miss Fraulein nodded her small head gently. She looked like a delicate and fragile porcelain doll that would break if touched.

This image could best arouse the desire of otakus to protect.

But since she said so herself...

"Okay, let's go together." President Sandbag said, "But I have to say that I am very fierce and you may have to bear it. The one next to me is just a bonus and you can ignore him..."

The two of them quarreled, but finally opened the duel disk and stood apart.

After entering the duel mode and looking down, they found that the words on the display of the duel disk were "Battle Royal mode", not the regular team battle.

Battle Royal mode was a multiplayer mode unique to animation, and the rules were relatively free. You could fight alone like the four individuals in the DM duel tower, or you could fight one person in a group like Yugi's team did when they fought Dazrt.

Under such rules, the group fight not only had twice the number of cards and resources as the opponent, but also had more operational turns than the opponent, and the field and graveyard could be shared.

For example, if the teammate's field was empty and there were no monsters, you could also let your monster go up to help him cover.

But in exchange, the opponent's LP value was the total value of all the LP values of your own people.

For details, you could also refer to the 3V1 BOSS battle of the protagonist group in the Earthbound God arc in 5DS, and the 3V1 BOSS battle of the protagonist group in the first season of ZEXAL.

However, with such an advantage, Native Noragami had an ominous premonition at this time.

"Maybe... we should go one by one?" Native Noragami whispered.

"What?"

"The two of us went up to fight together, which made me feel like the two of us are like the small fries in the animation when a new BOSS appears, the kind that teams up to be killed instantly to highlight the BOSS's awesomeness..."

Just A Sandbag: "..."

However, the duel had already begun, and it was too late to regret it now.

"It's okay, don't worry." President Sandbag looked at the five cards he had drawn at the beginning, and smiled, "I'm sure of this victory."

Native Noragami raised his eyebrows and showed a suspicious expression.

Is the sun really rising from the west? This guy didn't get a brick hand this time?

".....Then I'll trust you for once."

"Duel!" x3

[Vampire Fraulein, LP 8000]

[Native Noragami, LP 4000]

[Just A Sandbag, LP 4000]

"The first to go.....me." Vampire Fraulein gently pulled out a card, "Draw."

Looking at the cards in her hand, she quickly picked out two of them without thinking much.

"Set a monster face-down on the field." She said, "Then set a face-down card to the backfield."

The turn is over."

It was a mediocre start, with a face-down card in the frontfield and backfield, which made President Sandbag and Noragami feel a lot more confident.

"It doesn't look very strong." Just A Sandbag rubbed his hands, "We are halfway to safety!"

Native Noragami also began to fantasize: "I heard that a female vampire has become Yuei Vu-san's maid after losing to him. Maybe we can..."

The two looked at each other, shared a look that only gentlemen could understand to each other, and couldn't help laughing obscenely together.

"Then I'll go first." Native Noragami said, "Activate the Field Spell 'Megaroid City' from the hand!"

The surrounding scene suddenly changed, the thick fog was dispelled, and the surrounding medieval buildings were dispelled by the steel city. The viaducts crisscrossed, and vehicles could be seen passing through the bridges and tunnels from time to time.

It was obvious that Native Noragami was still playing the Nether Roid deck that he got from his student Marufuji Sho today. The tactical idea was to rely on a large number of red traps and invincible Kiteroids to survive, and at the same time cooperate with Submarineroid and Pair Cycroid to win. It was indecent but effective.

However, here Noragami actually took the initiative to play his invincible life-saving hand trap: "I Normal Summon 'Kiteroid!'"

[Kiteroid, ATK 0]

"The effect of the Field Spell 'Megaroid City'! Once per turn, destroy a card other than this card on my field, and add a 'roid' monster from the deck to my hand.

I destroy the 'Kiteroid' on the field and add another 'Kiteroid' from the deck to my hand!"

The "Kiteroid" that was just summoned on the field was immediately blown to ashes, and a new Kiteroid was drawn from his deck.

The "Kiteroid" that entered the graveyard could block one attack, and the "Kiteroid" in the hand could also block once, and it could block again after being thrown to the graveyard.

With just these two robots, he could already negate the opponent's three attacks.

"Set three cards, I end my turn!" said Native Noragami.

Two Kiteroids, three set cards in the backfield, for the first round where attacks could not be launched, this was already an iron wall arrangement, and the defense line was consolidated to the extreme.

Then it depended on President Sandbag.

Chapter 1102: Full Blockade!

Noragami's turn was over, and it was the turn of President Sandbag.

Maybe because he's been OTKed so many times that he's accumulated some luck. This time, President Sandbag not only didn't get a brick hand, but from his reaction, he might have a good start.

"Then it's my turn, draw!" said a sandbag, "First, activate the Quick-Play Spell 'Hand Destruction'! Both players discard two cards, and then draw two cards from their decks!"

Vampire Fraulein looked down at her hand, quickly picked out two cards to discard, and gently drew two new cards.

"Then activate the effect of 'Angel O1' in my hand." Just A Sandbag continued, "This card can be special summoned directly from my hand by revealing 1 Level 7 or higher monster in my hand.

I show the Level 8 'Splendid Venus', and special summon 'Angel O1'!"

Splendid Venus, one of the nine cards of the Legendary Planet series, a rare card with only one copy in the world!

This card was of course also bought from Yuei Vu's shop. After all, since the battle with Tragoedia, all the Legendary Planet series cards in the world have been collected by Yuei Vu.

Of course, although it was rare, it was actually not very practical. Even if Yuei Vu kept it in his pocket, it was useless except for showing off to others.

But because it was unique after all, the price that President Shabao had to pay for it was not cheap. Except for rich people like him who didn't feel anything for spending money in the game, others couldn't afford it.

After briefly showing off the super rare card in his hand, a Level 1 angel with small wings came to the field.

[Angel O1, ATK 200]

"Then I Normal Summon 'Shining Angel'!"

The next one to appear was the "Shining Angel", a male angel wearing white clothes, wings, and a halo on his head. Needless to say, this was one of the core cards in Coke Sprite's "Blood Angel" deck in the previous dimension.

[Shining Angel, ATK 1400]

"The second effect of 'Angel O1!'" President Sandbag continued, "While I control this Special Summoned card, I can Tribute Summon 1 Level 7 or higher monster in Attack Position during my Main Phase, in addition to my Normal Summon/Set.

Because of this effect, I sacrificed the two monsters on the field, 'Angel O1' and 'Shining Angel', to Tribute Summon—

—Splendid Venus!!!"

Shining golden light, energy turned into flying air currents. Plow marks were swept out on the ground, and the holy angel wore a noble golden crown and held a scepter, descending in the most gorgeous light effect.

[Splendid Venus, ATK 2800]

However, facing a legendary monster that appeared with such a grand momentum, the petite girl Fraulein seemed to be still indifferent. Her eyes were cold as if numb, and even looked a little silly.

"As long as 'Splendid Venus' is on the field, all non-Fairy monsters lose 500 ATK/DEF, and the activation and effects of Spell/Trap Cards activated on my field cannot be negated!"

Native Noragami said in unison: "Then open the set card: Continuous Trap—

—Royal Decree!"

The card flipped, and the continuous trap burst into golden light as if an invisible ban enveloped the entire duel world!

Many players who were watching through the live broadcast were shocked.

How could you, a heavy-trap player, bring such a thing!?

Or have you all been autistic to this extent, and you don't even spare yourself when your autism gets up?

Of course not.

This was a new nether routine created by the Native Noragami and Just A Sandbagtwo premium players.

"As long as the Continuous Trap 'Royal Decree' is face-up on the field, all other Trap effects on the field will be negated!

In other words, no matter what trap you have in the backfield, it can no longer be activated!"

"..."

The Vampire Fraulein still didn't speak, just tilted her head slightly, and her silver-white bangs covered one blood-red eye.

"My turn is not over yet." Just A Sandbag drew another card, "Now in my graveyard, there are two Fairy monsters discarded by 'Hand Destruction', as well as 'Angel O1' and 'Shining Angel', a total of four Fairy monsters.

Therefore, this card can be Special Summoned directly from the hand —

—Archlord Kristya!!! "

Gray hair, a white body covered by a golden halo, and a pair of wings with flaming feathers behind, landed lightly on the field, so sacred that people dare not look directly at it.

[Archlord Kristya, ATK 2800]

As soon as this card came out, it immediately caused an uproar in the comment section.

"Good fellow, you two really don't treat people like human beings?"

"Using this method to bully a poor and helpless girl, don't you have a guilty conscience?"

"..."

"Archlord Kristya's effect – If this card is Special Summoned by its own effect, target 1 Fairy monster in my GY; add that target to my hand. I return 'Angel O1' to the hand."

Just A Sandbag added a card that popped out of the graveyard to his hand and then smiled sinisterly.

"As long as it exists on the field, neither player can Special Summon monsters!"

Archlord Kristya, a famous autistic artifact of the Fairy Type, its effect could block the means of deployment of most decks in the history of Yu-Gi-Oh from ancient times to the present, and it had a high ATK of 2800, which was very disgusting.

In this way, President Sandbag basically finished what he had to do. He waved his hand one last time: "Set a card, I end my turn!"

Perfect formation, almost impeccable formation. The rich duo looked at each other and couldn't help but want to high-five.

But the girl on the opposite side looked like she didn't understand the seriousness of the problem. She still looked calm, and her red eyes were calm and almost without any ripples.

She moved her thin and transparent lips: "My turn, draw."

At this time, the field was extremely unfavorable for Fraulein. Trap cards were completely blocked, and with Kristya on the field, the special summons was sealed, which stopped most of the strong monsters.

Now she could only rely on Spell Cards.

If she had a big move like "Lightning Vortex" that nuked the whole field instantly, then there was still hope.

After looking at the card she drew, Fraulein inserted it into the duel disk without thinking: "Spell Card – Card Destruction. Both players discard as many cards as possible from their hands, then each player draws the same number of cards they discarded."

"That won't work." Native Noragami smiled mysteriously, and with a wave of his hand, he turned over another backfield card, "Open the set card: Continuous Trap – Imperial Order!"

As long as this card exists on the field, the effects of all Spell Cards on the field are negated!"

The comment section exploded again.

"Fuck, it's too much! Starting with Royal Decree and Imperial Order, doesn't that mean all Spell and Trap Cards are gone?"

"Wait, when there is Royal Decree on the field, shouldn't Imperial Order also be negated by your own Royal Decree?"

"Are you stupid? There is Splendid Venus! When Splendid Venus is on the field, your Spell and Trap Cards cannot be negated!"

"Wow, that hellish? Wouldn't it become a one-way blockade?"

"..."

That's right, because the field was shared, both Native Noragami and Just A Sandbag were protected by the effect of "Splendid Venus". Therefore, the trap cards that would have been negated by his "Royal Decree" were now effective even within the forbidden range of the card.

Also, because of the presence of the Splendid Venus, there were still no restrictions on the activation of Spell and Trap Cards on their side, only the Spell and Trap Cards on the side of the vampire lady were all blocked.

Not only that, the monster cards she could only rely on could not be special summoned because of the effect of "Archlord Kristya".

"By the way, even if you have the almighty Sea Turtle or Lava Golem in your hand, you can't special summon them because 'Archlord Kristya' has the effect of blocking special summons!" President Sandbag was very proud.

Even Native Noragami felt that this wave was stable!

Full blockade!

Can you print a card on the spot to OTK me?

Chapter 1103: Vampire's Power

"Imperial Order is activated!" said Native Noragami, "Because of this effect, all Spell Cards on the field will be negated! Your Card Destruction is no exception!"

Vampire Fraulein lowered her head, and a card slowly withdrew from her graveyard.

"Then I will banish the trap card 'Breakthrough Skill' from my graveyard." She said, "Target 1 face-up Effect Monster the opponent controls; that face-up monster has its effects negated until the end of this turn."

Just A Sandbag x Native Noragami: "!"

The two quickly reacted. Only when the "Hand Destruction" was used in the last turn did she have the opportunity to discard this card!

Native Noragami quickly looked at Just A Sandbag with complaints: Damn, why do you want to use that Hand Destruction? Now you give the opponent a grave trap for free!

Just A Sandbag rolled his eyes: It was my fault? If I don't use that Hand Destruction, where do you think the Archlord Kristya on our field came from?

"Royal Decree" was known as the natural enemy of traps and was the ultimate ban on all traps, but it was limited to traps on the field. If it was a trap card activated from the graveyard, even this decree was powerless.

"The monster I want to negate is," the Vampire Fraulein slowly raised her slender white fingers, "Splendid Venus."

The invisible confinement was like a shackle, binding the angel without any explanation. The sacred golden light surrounding the huge angel dimmed, and the electric snakes jumping on her body seemed to be connected to ropes to bind her tightly.

"It's over!" Native Noragami muttered, "If the effect of Venus is negated..."

"When 'Splendid Venus' exists on the field, your Spell and Trap effects cannot be negated. But now that Venus is negated, this protection has also disappeared."

Fraulein said and then pointed to their backcourt.

"The effect of 'Royal Decree' negates the effects of all trap cards on the field, including your own traps. So according to this effect, the Continuous Trap 'Imperial Order' is negated.

Therefore, Spell Cards can be used now.

So the effect of 'Card Destruction' continues to be resolved, all players discard all cards in their hands, and then draw the same number of cards."

The two rich people looked a little unhappy.

With just one card, their invincible blockade was broken. Not only that, when this Card Destruction took effect, it also meant that the "Kiteroid" that Native Noragami retrieved in the last turn had to be discarded.

Although the Kiteroid could still negate one attack even in the graveyard, this still meant that they had one less chance to block the offense.

Imperial Order was negated, and now Spell Cards could be used unscrupulously. Vampire Fraulein continued: "Activate the Spell Card 'Akashic Record'. Draw 2 cards and reveal them. If any of those cards have been played during the Duel, remove that card from play." (Animation card)

The rich duo took a deep breath at the same time.

The spell blockade was broken, but the trap and monster blockade still existed. Archlord Kristya was not such an easy one to deal with. Almost no deck could bear the pressure of not being able to special summon.

"Quick-Play Spell 'Forbidden Chalice'." Fraulein said softly, "Increase the attack power of 'Archlord Kristya' by 400 points, and its effect is negated."

Just A Sandbag x Native Noragami: "..."

The monster blockade was lifted.

"Activate the Field Spell 'Vampire Kingdom!'"

The field card was pushed in from the side of the Duel Disk, and a surge of dark power suddenly erupted with Fraulein's petite body as the center.

The robot city was instantly cracked, and the steel-built buildings and bridges collapsed quickly. Darkness replaced it, and a dark castle stood under the deep dark night, with a blood-red moon hanging in the sky.

This was the Vampire Kingdom, the empire ruled by vampires.

"Flip Summon the Set monster on my field." Fraulein said, "It's Vampire Retainer."

It was a half-wolf half-dog creature, with snow-white fur on the left half of its body, but the other half had a hideous shape like mist, just like a fierce evil ghost.

[Vampire Retainer, ATK 1200]

"The effect of 'Vampire Familiar' in the graveyard is activated." Fraulein said, "By sending 1 'Vampire' card from my hand or face-up on my field to the GY, it can be special summoned from the graveyard."

I send 'Vampire Retainer' from my field to the GY. Show up, Vampire Familiar!"

The wolf-like creature turned into a golden light spot and dissipated, replaced by a small black bat, with a grinning mouth as if silently laughing.

[Vampire Familiar, ATK 500]

"Another effect of 'Vampire Familiar' is activated. If this card is Special Summoned: I can pay 500 LP and add 1 'Vampire' monster from the deck to my hand."

[Vampire Fraulein, LP 8000 → LP 7500]

Her slender jade fingers gently pinched out the card that popped out of the deck.

"I add 'Vampire Scarlet Scourge' to my hand."

Immediately afterward, the card she had just sent to the graveyard was taken out.

"Next is the effect of 'Vampire Retainer' that was sent to the Graveyard." Fraulein said, "When it exists in the Graveyard, I can also send 1 'Vampire' card from my hand or face-up on my field to the GY to Special Summon it."

I send 'Vampire Grace' from my hand to the Graveyard and Special Summon 'Vampire Retainer' from the Graveyard."

A burst of blood-red mist swept, and the half-white and half-black monster fell back onto the field.

[Vampire Retainer, ATK 1200]

"Retainer's effect – If this card is Special Summoned: I can pay 500 LP; add 1 'Vampire' Spell/Trap from the deck to my hand."

[Vampire Fraulein, LP 7500 → LP 7000]

Blood-red energy was released from the girl's thin body, just like blood was sucked out by an invisible suction force, turned into mist, and dissipated in the air.

But the girl seemed to not feel the pain of losing vitality, or she had long been accustomed to this pain.

She drew another card from the deck that popped out automatically.

"Add the Continuous Spell 'Vampire's Domain' to my hand." She said, inserting it directly into the Duel Disk without even looking at it, "Then 'Vampire's Domain' will be activated directly."

The dark domain expanded and merged with the rugged castle. The blood moon seemed to be brighter than before, and the moonlight was cold and gloomy.

"Vampire's Domain's effect – Once per turn: I can pay 500 LP; during my Main Phase this turn, I can Normal Summon 1 'Vampire' monster in addition to my Normal Summon/Set."

In this way, the basic arrangement was completed.

But the horror of vampires had just begun.

Chapter 1104: Still Small Fries?

At this point, Fraulein had actually roughly shown the characteristics of the Vampire deck.

This deck was actually very similar to the characteristics of vampires themselves – extremely bloodthirsty. The activation of the card effects and the deployment of the lineup were very dependent on life points. Sufficient blood was needed to ensure deployment, which fully restored the characteristics of vampires' extreme desire for blood.

At the same time, this deck series also restored the characteristics of vampires in terms of offense.

Bloodsucking: They could convert battle damage into one's own life points, so as to ensure that there was enough blood in subsequent battles to ensure deployment and attack.

Assimilation: Just as the traditional vampires had the ability to assimilate the objects they have sucked blood into vampires, the vampires in the Yu-Gi-Oh series also had the same kind of ability–

–All monsters destroyed by vampires would be NTRed to the opponent's field at the end of the turn, which was equivalent to assimilation into vampires.

And the attack of Miss Fraulein was just about to begin.

"Take the 'Vampire Retainer' on the field as a sacrifice! Tribute Summon!"

The girl's voice was still very soft, but it was full of irresistible majesty as if she was commanding the entire army.

"Show up, Vampire Scarlet Scourge!"

The Retainer turned into a blood mist and dissipated. The diffuse blood mist was concentrated at one point, and soon a new posture appeared in it. A male vampire as elegant as a medieval noble emerged from the blood mist, wearing a black and white dress, a cloak like a bat wing, and a red gem embedded at the end of the sword in his hand.

[Vampire Scarlet Scourge, ATK 2200]

"Scarlet Scourge's effect." Vampire Fraulein continued, "If this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can pay 1000 LP to Special Summon 1 'Vampire' monster from my Graveyard.

However, the monster Special Summoned by this effect cannot attack this turn."

[Vampire Fraulein, LP 7000 → LP 6000]

She pulled another card from the Graveyard.

"I Special Summon 'Vampire Red Baron'."

The sound of horse hooves rang out, and an undead horse rushed out in the blood-colored mist. An undead knight sat astride the metal saddle, holding a black spiral lance, and the lance was swung, leaving blood-colored marks in the air.

[Vampire Red Baron, ATK 2400]

"At this moment, the effect of 'Vampire Grace' in the Graveyard is activated." Vampire Princess continued, "When a Level 5 or higher Zombie monster is Special Summoned to my field by the effect of a Zombie monster: I can pay 2000 LP; Special Summon this card from my GY."

[Vampire Fraulein, LP 6000 → LP 4000]

After paying 2000 life points in one breath, a noblewoman-like vampire wearing a wide long skirt appeared from the black vortex, holding a scepter inlaid with rubies and standing between the vampire camps.

[Vampire Grace, ATK 2000]

"Then the effect of 'Vampire Red Baron' is activated." Fraulein continued, "Once per turn: I can pay 1000 LP, then target 1 monster on the opponent's field and 1 other 'Vampire' on my field; switch control of those monsters.

I exchange control of 'Vampire Familiar' and 'Archlord Kristya' on your field."

[Vampire Fraulein, LP 4000 → LP 3000]

The Red Baron swept the spear in his hand, and the blood mist filled the air, obscuring the vision. When the two players came back to their senses, they saw that the archangel surrounded by light had fallen and defected to the vampire camp.

And the little black bat had already defected to the field of the rich duo, and continued to grin as if mocking.

[Vampire Familiar, ATK 500]

[Archlord Kristya, ATK 3200]

Sandbag and Noragami looked at this silly and useless bat, and couldn't help looking at each other in silence for a while.

"Then activate the Spell Card 'Book of Life'." Vampire Fraulein continued, "Special Summon 1 Zombie monster in my graveyard.

I resurrected the 'Vampire Baby' from the graveyard."

A big-headed baby wrapped in a green cloak appeared, and his eyes released strange blue light, just like the ghost baby in a horror movie.

[Vampire Baby, ATK 700]

"Afterwards, the subsequent effect of 'Book of Life' will remove a monster in the opponent's graveyard from the game. I remove 'Kiteroid' from the game."

The forbidden spell was activated, and a Kiteroid was withdrawn from Noragami's graveyard and banished to another dimension.

Native Noragami: "..."

In this way, his invincible Kiteroid could block one less attack.

"The effect of the Continuous Spell 'Vampire's Domain'! Pay 500 life points, and I can conduct the second Normal Summon of 'Vampire' monsters."

[Vampire Fraulein, LP 3000 → LP 2500]

"I use 'Vampire Red Baron' and 'Vampire Baby' as sacrifices! Tribute Summon——Level 7, Vampire Vamp!"

The Red Baron and the baby disappeared, and a charming female vampire replaced them in the blood mist. She had short silver hair and black leather armor, but her flat and smooth belly was exposed.

Her facial features were also exquisite and unforgettable, but unlike Fraulein, it was a more mature and charming beauty, so beautiful that it made people feel as dangerous as rose thorns.

[Vampire Vamp, ATK 2000]

"The effect of the Vampire Vamp," Fraulein continued, "Once per turn, when this card or a 'Vampire' monster is Normal Summoned to my field: I can target 1 monster the opponent controls whose ATK is higher than this card's; equip it to this card.

She gains ATK equal to the combined original ATK of the monsters equipped to her by this effect.

Let the Vampire Vamp absorb the 'Splendid Venus'!"

The female vampire lifted her silver-white short hair and blinked her beautiful eyes. Her scarlet eyes released a strange light, and the eyes of the Venus of the Legendary Planet series glowed with a similar luster. They were drowsy for a while, and then they were sucked over and turned into nutrients for the vamp.

[Vampire Vamp, ATK 2000 → ATK 4800]

"Effect of 'Vampire Grace'." Fraulein continued, "Once per turn: I can declare 1 card type (Monster, Spell, or Trap); the opponent must send 1 card of that type from their Deck to the GY.

I declare 'Spell Card', and you must send a Spell Card from your deck to the graveyard."

The two looked at each other, and then each drew a Spell Card to send to the graveyard.

"At this moment, the effect of 'Vampire Kingdom' is activated. When a card is sent from the opponent's Deck to the GY: Target 1 card on the field; send 1 DARK 'Vampire' monster from my hand or Deck to the GY, and destroy that target."

She showed a card.

"I send another 'Vampire Familiar' from the deck to the graveyard." She said, "Destroy the set card on your field."

The Set card turned over and was blown to pieces under the brilliance of Grace's staff.

It was the trap card "Mirror Force", the holy power that President Sandbag placed his hope on.

"Ah, my holy power..." President Sandbag showed an expression of despair.

Of course, in fact, when the "Royal Decree" was still in effect on the field, his holy power could not be activated.

It was as if a long operation lasting a century had finally reached the final stage.

"Battle!" Vampire Fraulein raised her hand, "'Vampire Vamp', attack 'Vampire Familiar'."

[Vampire Vamp, ATK 4800]

[Vampire Familiar, ATK 500]

She said calmly, "And when the 'Vampire Kingdom' is present, Zombie monsters gain 500 ATK during damage calculation only."

[Vampire Vamp, ATK 4800 → ATK 5300]

[Vampire Familiar, ATK 500 → ATK 1000]

The little bat was instantly torn to pieces in front of the huge dark power. The dark impact blasted President Sandbag away, and he was shattered into endless light spots before he landed.

[Just A Sandbag, LP 4000 → LP 0]

"At this moment, the effect of the Continuous Spell 'Vampire's Domain'." Fraulein continued, "If my 'Vampire' monster inflicts battle damage to the opponent, I gain the same amount of LP."

[Vampire Fraulein, LP 2500 → LP 6800]

"Continue to fight," she continued to order, "Archlord Kristya, attack directly."

The Archangel who was NTRed over showed no mercy at all, and drew a gorgeous arc straight toward the remaining Native Noragami!

"Then I activate the effect of the 'Kiteroid' in the graveyard!" Native Noragami said, "While this card is in the Graveyard, I can reduce the battle damage I take from one direct attack to 0!"

Now the Archangel had the highest attack power on Fraulein's side, the last remaining kite at least blocked this damage.

"Keep fighting." Fraulein continued, "'Vampire Scarlet Scourge', attack directly! And at this moment, by the effect of 'Vampire Kingdom', his attack power increases by 500."

[Vampire Scarlet Scourge, ATK 2200 → ATK 2700]

[Native Noragami, LP 4000 → LP 1300]

"By the effect of Vampire's Domain, my LP is restored."

[Vampire Fraulein, LP 6800 → LP 9500]

"Finally, 'Vampire Grace', attack directly." Her voice was neither sad nor happy, "At the moment of damage calculation, her attack power increased by 500."

[Vampire Grace, ATK 2000 → ATK 2500]

Seeing Grace raise her staff and the dark red light rushing towards him, Native Noragami had a "pain in the ass" expression.

"Fuck, so we really are still the small fries who are going to be the first to die to show off the new BOSS's awesomeness."

[Native Noragami, LP 1300 → LP 0]

Chapter 1105: I Want To Borrow From You

A few minutes ago.

The white and red D-Wheels drove side by side under the boundless night sky, and the tires drew two long arcs in the desert.

Yuei Vu and Yusei maintained a steady speed along the boundless desert. There was no one in sight, and there was no sign of life.

"This world feels so desolate." Yusei looked around and said.

"Maybe it's the impact of the war they just talked about." Yuei Vu said casually, "The vampire just said that everyone in the town fled because of the news of the war.

Maybe it's because of similar reasons that there are not many people in this area."

Even in a different world, D-Wheel didn't need to worry about the problem of insufficient fuel, which was also one of the most powerful features of this vehicle.

The engine of the D-Wheel was called a "perpetual motion machine" for a reason. No matter which world or dimension it was in, the perpetual motion machine could run without stopping.

However, although it's called a perpetual motion machine, but to some extent it should be fake. Because Momentum was not a machine that could operate forever without conditions, but a kind of metaphysical black technology. It needed the duelists' passionate hearts, so that it could truly operate forever without stopping.

In simple terms, everyone had to maintain their addiction to cards and maintain a high level of enthusiasm for playing cards... (no wonder President Kaiba funded this project)

After a brief silence, Yuei Vu turned his head to look at Yusei, and finally asked: "I haven't found a chance before, but now it's almost time to talk about it, right?"

Yusei was stunned: "What?"

"The reason why you came back to this era."

Yusei: "..."

Seeing that Yusei was silent for a while and seemed to have no intention of speaking, Yuei Vu continued to himself: "If you don't want to say it, then can I talk about my observations first?"

First... I guess you have already met Z-ONE?"

Yusei showed a surprised expression.

"So Mr. Yuei Vu... did you already know about Z-ONE at this time period?"

"Yes, I have encountered him before." Yuei Vu said, "Also, I noticed that the 'Dragon Birthmark' on your arm has disappeared.

Then let's make a bolder guess... I guess you have defeated Z-ONE, right?"

Yusei looked even more surprised.

"To be honest, although I come back from the future, Mr. Yuei Vu still makes me feel unpredictable," Yusei said.

Yuei Vu smiled.

This was actually a simple guess based on the plot of the animation. During the entire 5DS animation, Yusei had a "Dragon Birthmark" on his arm, which was a symbol of the power given to him by the Crimson Dragon.

It was not until the finale when Yusei defeated the final BOSS "Z-ONE" that the Dragon Birthmark disappeared from his hand.

Of course, there was another more obvious proof, that was, Yusei summoned the "Shooting Quasar Dragon" in the previous duel with himself, and that was the card he printed in the final battle of the animation.

"I'm getting more and more curious about how much you know." Yusei smiled slightly, "But some things you said are not accurate."

"Oh?"

"About Z-ONE." Yusei said, "I have indeed met him and fought him like you, Mr. Yuei Vu. But... ..well, the situation is a bit complicated, but he has not been defeated."

Yuei Vu showed a somewhat strange expression.

Brother Crabhead's Shooting Quasar Dragon has been printed, but Z-ONE is still not dead?!

Is the Crimson Dragon card printer not powerful enough?

Or... Z-ONE, who is already a BOSS that is awesome enough, has been upgraded to be more difficult to deal with than in the original work for some reason?

"As I said just now, the situation is complicated. This is also the reason why I returned to this era," Yusei said, "In this era, a big event will soon happen, which may directly affect the direction of the future. So..."

He stopped abruptly when he said this, as if swallowing the second half of the sentence back into his stomach.

Yuei Vu soon realized why.

The two of them almost simultaneously braked. The two D-Wheels drew arcs in the desert, and stopped on the spot, one on the left and one on the right.

Someone else... or something else was coming.

The black mist gradually rose up and gathered from all directions. The rocks in the distance gradually became blurred, and only the rugged outline remained for more than ten seconds, and it was completely invisible soon after.

What was even more weird was that a full moon appeared in the sky at some point, and the light was strangely bright, as red as blood, which made people shudder.

Yuei Vu quickly thought of the strange red moon drawn in the Vampire series card pictures.

The rhythmic sound of horse hooves sounded not far away, from far to near, getting louder and louder in the ears of the two, and the distance was rapidly approaching.

The dark outline emerged from the other side of the mist, and the afterimage pierced the mist. The black horse approached quickly, and the knight sat on the horse's back, holding a lance, and his face hidden in the shadow of the helmet was as cold as a dead person.

Vampire Red Baron.

One of the generals in the Yu-Gi-Oh Vampire series, it could be imagined that he should also be one of the most powerful in this dimension.

The Red Baron rode his horse and approached quickly, pulling the reins and braking the car sideways, and the horse's hooves kicked up agitated dust on the ground.

His eyes swept over the two people indifferently, especially lingering on the Duel Disk on their D-Wheel for a moment.

Then he slowly lowered the hand holding the gun and hung the spiral lance on the side of the horse. Immediately, he raised his other hand, and a mass of squirming black things extended from his arm, solidified and formed little by little, and transformed into a Duel Disk.

Then a rough voice came from under his helmet.

"It's really unexpected that warriors from another world actually have 'cavalry'." He said dully, "So do you dare to accept the 'riding' battle ceremony?"

Yuei Vu and Yusei looked at each other.

"Tell me you understand the same as I do." Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows, "This guy doesn't mean..."

"It should be." Yusei nodded, but his face was a little strange, "This guy means... should be 'Riding Duel'?"

He also glanced at the undead black horse under the Red Baron's crotch.

"...Use his horse?"

Yuei Vu thought about it and found that there was indeed a precedent.

It was not explained in the animation, but it was specifically explained in the manga of "Yu-Gi-Oh 5ds". "Riding Duel" was not invented by modern people. Duelists in ancient times also had a special ritual of dueling while riding.

However, there was obviously no modern technological equipment like D-Wheels in that era, so the riding vehicles used by the duelists in the gallop duel were all horses.

At the beginning of the 5DS manga, Yusei Fudo met the "Skeleton Knight", a Riding Duelist from ancient times. At that time, the Skeleton Knight rode a horse and had the first Riding Duel with Yusei who was riding a D-Wheel.

"Interesting." Yuei Vu became interested.

"I'm better at Riding Duels." Yusei said, "Let me do it."

"No, just leave it to me." Yuei Vu said, smiling mysteriously, and glanced at Yusei, "But I also have a request. I want to borrow your D-Wheel."

Chapter 1106: I Searched For Myself!

When Yuei Vu asked, Yusei was slightly surprised, but he stood up and gave up his D-Wheel without asking any more questions.

The two exchanged D-Wheels. Yuei Vu sat in the driver's seat of the D-Wheel, and with the help of Yusei, he adjusted the driver's seat according to his body shape, and then started the D-Wheel and accelerated to the side of the Red Baron.

"Duel!" x2

The perpetual motion machine roared loudly, and the black horse neighed low. The steel and undead vehicles rushed out like arrows from a string, galloping out in the endless desert.

Yusei also started Yuei Vu's D-Wheel and accelerated to catch up.

[Yuei Vu, LP 4000]

[Vampire Red Baron, LP 4000]

"Then I'll go first, draw."

The performance of the future D-Wheel was indeed good. Yuei Vu could hear the light and pleasant hum when the perpetual motion machine was running, making the red D-Wheel under him full of inexhaustible powerful horsepower.

He had never felt this way before, with countless high-concentration Planetary Particles flying around him. Now he felt that he could easily reach a new realm, a realm that was completely closed to him and the entire era in the past, but now it was within reach.

It was like a door to a new world was slowly opening.

Because there was no "Speed World" restriction, Spell could still be used in this Riding Duel.

"Activate the Spell Card 'Shien's Smoke Signal'." Yuei Vu played a Spell Card at his side, "Add 1 Level 3 or lower 'Six Samurai' monster from the deck to my hand.

I add 'Legendary Six Samurai – Kageki' to my hand."

After showing it briefly, he immediately took the card.

"Normal Summon 'Legendary Six Samurai – Kageki'."

The Six Samurai warrior jumped out of the high-speed wind, holding a long sword in each hand, and two mechanical arms behind him holding two sharp blades.

[Legendary Six Samurai – Kageki, DEF 2000]

"Kageki's effect – When this card is Normal Summoned, Special Summon 1 Level 4 or lower 'Six Samurai' monster in my hand."

Yuei Vu waved his hand.

"Special Summon the Level 2 Tuner Monster 'Kagemusha of the Six Samurai'."

[Kagemusha of the Six Samurai, DEF 1800]

"Tuner Monsters... is that so?" Yusei understood, "Mr. Yuei Vu also wants to try Synchro Summon..."

Yuei Vu took a deep breath and stepped on the accelerator.

He heard the engine speed increase, and at the same time he could feel more wandering star particles being released, wandering excitedly in the air, echoing with the shadow warrior who was a "Tuner Monster".

They couldn't wait.

Yuei Vu raised his arm: "Level 2 Tuner Monster 'Kagemusha of the Six Samurai', Level 3 'Legendary Six Samurai – Kageki', tuning!"

The shadow warrior swept the weapon in his hand, and his body became transparent under the wandering star particles, and quickly decomposed into two green rings. The rings covered the ghost's body, which quickly decomposed into three stars, connected in a row, and the light curtain reached the sky.

"The gathered starlight calls on the warrior soul that never stops, awaken in the high-speed storm! Synchro Summon-

—— Level 5, Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En!!!"

The concentration of wandering star particles rose to the extreme as if an invisible membrane was pierced! The thin blade cut off the starlight like a waterfall, and the general in heavy red armor flew out, following the side of the speeding D-Wheel at high speed, and the sword in his hand dragged countless sparks on the ground.

[Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En, ATK 2500]

Shien: I have been offline for so many years. After changing my vest, I finally went online again...

As expected, it succeeded.

The speeding D-Wheel, the high concentration of Planetary Particles, everything was ready now, the Synchro Summoning had no reason to fail.

"As expected of Mr. Yuei Vu." Yusei was full of admiration, "You actually mastered 'Synchro Summon' so quickly..."

After all, he couldn't know that Yuei Vu actually already had a Synchro Monster in his hand, but it was just that he couldn't complete the Synchro Summoning due to the times, so it had been lying in the warehouse gathering dust.

From Yusei's perspective, he felt that Yuei Vu's Synchro Monster must be the same as his "Shooting Star Dragon" – all of them were printed on the spot after they had enough strength.

That was the proof of the strength of the strong!

In fact, this idea was indeed reasonable. After all, in this era, there was no perpetual motion machine, no Planetary Particles, thus naturally no Synchro Monsters.

However, Yuei Vu opened his mouth and summoned a white monster. How could he say that he didn't print that card on the spot?

"Set a card, the turn is over."

A set card appeared next to the speeding D-Wheel, and after a brief flash, it became transparent and disappeared in the high speed.

The vampire riding a horse in front saw the whole process of "Synchro Summoning" and his dead face briefly showed astonishment.

Maybe Yuei Vu's move touched on his blind spot, or he simply began to doubt whether the opponent's operation was legal and whether it was cheating.

But perhaps because he didn't want to be surprised and appear ignorant, he didn't ask more questions in the end.

"Then it's my turn."

The Red Baron whipped his horse and followed behind Yuei Vu's D-Wheel, with white sand flying behind his horse's hooves.

"Spell Card 'Pot of Greed'," the vampire seemed to choose to use a pot to calm down, "draw two cards from the deck."

"Then the effect of 'Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En' is activated." Yuei Vu waved his hand, "Once per turn, when the opponent activates a Spell/Trap Card: I can negate the activation and destroy it.

Negate the activation of 'Pot of Greed'."

The grinning green pot had just appeared when Purple Flame drew his sword and slashed it in the air, and the sword energy immediately split the pot into pieces.

"That Synchro Monster... does it have an interference effect of the negation type?" Yusei muttered, "Mr. Yuei Vu's first Synchro Monster is so strong..."

"Then I activate 'Foolish Burial'." Red Baron said, "Send a monster card from my deck to the graveyard. I throw 'Vampire Familiar' from the deck to the graveyard."

The card was ejected from the deck and was drawn and sent to the graveyard by him. He immediately continued: "Then 'Vampire Familiar' activates its effect from the graveyard.

Send 1 'Vampire' card from my hand or face-up field to the GY; Special Summon this card.

I send the 'Vampire Retainer' in my hand to the graveyard and special summon the familiar in the graveyard!"

The little black bat flapped its wings and came to the field, its mouth as red as blood.

[Vampire Familiar, ATK 500]

"Familiar's effect – If this card is Special Summoned: I can pay 500 LP and add 1 'Vampire' monster from the deck to my hand."

[Vampire Red Baron, LP 4000 → LP 3500]

A new card popped out and was drawn into the Baron's hand.

He paused, his voice lowered several degrees, and slowly showed the card that was added to his hand.

"I add myself... 'Vampire Red Baron' to my hand."

I searched for myself!

Chapter 1107: The Shogun Comes To The Opposite Side Again

After adding his own card to his hand, the Red Baron continued to move, and then played another card: "Quick-Play Spell 'Inferno Reckless Summon'.

When exactly 1 monster with 1500 or less ATK is Special Summoned to my field, Special Summon as many monsters as possible with the same name as the Summoned monster, from my hand, Deck, and Graveyard, in Attack Position."

Two cards were ejected from his deck.

"According to this effect, Special Summon two 'Vampire Familiars' from the deck."

[Vampire Familiar, ATK 500] x 2

Two new little bats flapped their wings and flew onto the field, landing side by side on both sides of the first one.

"However, 'Inferno Reckless Summon' has another effect," the Red Baron glanced at Yuei Vu, "the opponent can also select a face-up monster on their field and Special Summons as many monsters as possible with the same name from their hand, Deck, and Graveyard."

Yuei Vu obviously only had one "Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En" on the field.

"Shi En is a Synchro Monster," Yuei Vu said, "I can't Special Summon a card with the same name."

"Then activate the effect of 'Vampire Retainer' in the Graveyard," said the Red Baron, "Send a 'Vampire's Familiar' on the field to the Graveyard, and Special Summon it from the Graveyard."

As soon as he finished speaking, a small bat disappeared from the field, replaced by a half-black, half-white Familiar.

[Vampire Retainer, ATK 1200]

"Vampire Retainer's effect is activated." The Red Baron continued, "If this card is Special Summoned: I can pay 500 LP; add 1 'Vampire' Spell/Trap from the deck to my hand."

[Vampire Red Baron, LP 3500 → LP 3000]

"Add the Continuous Spell 'Vampire's Domain' to my hand."

Then he raised his arms, and the heavy armor on his body rubbed against each other, making a rustling sound.

"Then use a 'Vampire Familiar' on the field as a sacrifice! Tribute Summon!

Vampire's undead warrior, the Knight of Death——

—— Vampire Red Baron!!!"

As soon as the voice fell, a strong dark aura suddenly burst out from his body. A majestic dark miasma burst out from his body, separated, and condensed into a ball on one side, transforming into a galloping horse and a knight sitting on the horse's back, running side by side with the original body.

[Vampire Red Baron, ATK 2400]

"Finally, you're on the field yourself." Yuei Vu turned his head and glanced at the black shadow chasing behind.

He knew the effect of the Red Baron. He could exchange one of his monsters with a monster on the opponent's field by paying 1,000 life points. He was still a very tricky vampire.

It would be troublesome if he was asked to exchange Shi En.

"Then open the set card," the trap beside Yuei Vu flipped open, "Trap Card 'Six Style – Dual Wield!'"

The trap was flipped open, and the card picture showed The Six Samurai – Nisashi who was wielding the two light blades.

"This card can only be activated when there is only one 'Six Samurai' in attack position on my field," Yuei Vu waved his hand, "Target 2 cards the opponent controls; return those targets to the hand!"

I return 'Vampire Retainer' and 'Vampire Red Baron' to your hand!"

The golden light rippled on the trap card, and the purple flame double swords swung, and two flashing sword lights hit the black-and-white creature and the red baron who had not yet had time to stand firm. The two were hit by the sword light and both disappeared from the field.

"And, when 'Vampire Retainer' is Special Summoned by its own effect, it must be removed from the game when it leaves the field." Yuei Vu said, "So 'Vampire Retainer' does not return to the hand, but is directly removed from the game."

Vampire Red Baron's eyes moved slightly, but he just silently took back the clone that was bounced back to his hand and said nothing.

"Then activate the Spell Card 'Fusion Deployment'." Red Baron continued, "Reveal 1 Fusion Monster in my Extra Deck and Special Summon, from my hand or Deck, 1 of the Fusion Materials whose name is mentioned on that monster."

The Fusion Monster I want to show is this one..."

He raised his heavy arm covered with armor, holding a card between his fingertips.

"Reaper on the Nightmare." Red Baron said, "Special Summon the monster 'Spirit Reaper' from the deck."

Ghostly shadows flashed, and the purple-robed undead like a wronged ghost floated onto the field with a sickle in hand.

[Spirit Reaper, ATK 300]

"The effect of the Continuous Spell 'Vampire's Domain'." Red Baron then played the card that he had obtained through search, "Once per turn: I can pay 500 LP; during my Main Phase this turn, I can Normal Summon 1 'Vampire' monster in addition to my Normal Summon/Set."

[Vampire Red Baron, LP 3000 → LP 2500]

"Take 'Spirit Reaper' as a sacrifice, and Tribute Summon again!" Red Baron raised his voice, "Knight of the Dead, come again! Arrive, my clone——

——Vampire Red Baron!"

The reaper turned into a cloud of mist and disappeared. The sound of horse hooves sounded, and the knight holding the spiral lance rode on his horse, and the horse's eyes seemed to be burning with will-o'-the-wisp.

[Vampire Red Baron, ATK 2400]

"It's really a fight to the death..." Yuei Vu muttered.

"Pay 1000 LP, and my own effect will be activated."

[Vampire Red Baron, LP 2500 → LP 1500]

"Once per turn: I can pay 1000 LP, then target 1 monster on the opponent's field and 1 other 'Vampire' on my field; switch control of those monsters." Red Baron said solemnly, "Exchange the last remaining 'Vampire Familiar' with your 'Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En'."

The spear in the Baron's hand was swung again, as if splitting the blood mist in front of him in half. The irresistible powerful force was released, and the blood mist enveloped the entire field. When it dissipated, Shi En had already defected to the opposite field, with bloodshot eyes and a face full of evil.

On the other hand, Yuei Vu only had a weak and useless bat left on the field...

"It did surprise me, but that's all." The Red Baron raised his arm, "The invaders will be destroyed by the great Red Baron's spear.

First, my clone, Vampire Red Baron, will attack the 'Vampire Familiar.'"

The Baron rode his horse and rushed over at high speed, with the spear in his hand stabbing like a whirlwind, and pierced the little bat through with one shot.

[Yuei Vu, LP 4000 → LP 2100]

"At this moment, the effect of 'Vampire Domain'," said the Red Baron, "the battle damage caused by 'Vampire' monsters will be converted into my health."

[Vampire Red Baron, LP 1500 → LP 3400]

"It's over." The Red Baron waved his hand, "Die at the hands of your own monster, and then fall into endless regret.

Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En, attack directly."

Maybe it was completely because he was controlled, or maybe he had this intention in his heart from the beginning. As soon as he finished speaking, he couldn't wait to fly out, the sword light flashed like a meteor, and his figure was stretched out with a blurred afterimage, with an unstoppable momentum, rushing straight to Yuei Vu's face.

The sword seemed to penetrate the space, and the sword light was cold and life-threatening!

Chapter 1108: The Shogun Suddenly Works Overtime

Shi En rushed towards him aggressively, but Yuei Vu was not at all surprised. As mentioned before, Yu-Gi-Oh was a very magical game, and the bond between duelists and cards could really cause miracles.

Look, the moment Shi En chopped down, the Kuriboh in Yuei Vu's hand jumped out again, very quickly. He didn't have time to stop it, and the Kuriboh had already died heroically under the sword light.

"You only blocked it with the ability of the small monster. I will take your life next turn."

Red Baron drew two more cards.

"Set two cards, I end my turn."

Yusei watched the attack and defense of this turn from the side. Although he didn't say anything on his face, he secretly affirmed the enemy's strength in his heart.

"This vampire is really strong." Yusei thought, "It can do this when facing Mr. Yuei Vu's several lines of defense."

He immediately looked at Yuei Vu with a squinting eye.

"But it should stop here." He was very sure, "Next, it should be the last turn."

"My turn, draw."

The moment Yuei Vu drew the card, he stepped on the accelerator again and shook off the Red Baron who tried to take the opportunity to overtake him.

Facts have proved that even the undead horse of the Red Baron was not the opponent of the D-Wheel. In terms of speed and horsepower, the future vehicle equipped with a perpetual motion engine completely crushed it.

Yuei Vu looked at Shi En, who was standing on the opposite field with a domineering and majestic sword, and couldn't help but be speechless.

This guy actually betrayed again...

Just based on Shi En's Spell/Trap interference ability, it would be a bit difficult for him to go to the opposite side. If Yuei Vu wanted to make a move, he must first solve this troublesome effect.

He thought for a moment and played a card: "Quick-Play Spell 'Book of Moon'. Target 1 face-up monster on the field; change that target to face-down Defense Position.

I flip your 'Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En' to face-down Defense Position!"

"Then the effect of 'Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En' is activated," Red Baron chose to use it as expected, "Once per turn, when the opponent activates a Spell/Trap Card: I can negate the activation and destroy it!"

The powerful magic power was dispersed, and the Book of the Moon was shattered into countless light spots under the slash of the sharp blade.

Yes, Red Baron had no choice. If the effect was not used here, Shi En would also lose the ability to negate Spell/Trap Card because he was flipped face-down.

In this way, the biggest obstacle to the deployment was removed.

"Then I activate the Spell Card 'Spell Books from the Pot'. Each player draws 3 cards."

Yuei Vu took a deep breath and raised his eyelids, "Let me be a little more serious."

He waved his hand and a new Spell Card beside him flipped. A mighty explosion of magic power and beams of fluorescent blue light shot out from the card!

"Continuous Spell 'Gateway of the Six'!" Yuei Vu shouted, "As long as 'Gateway of the Six' is on the field, every time a 'Six Samurai' monster is Normal or Special Summoned, I can place two 'Bushido Counters' on this card!"

He then showed another card.

"Continuous Spell 'Six Samurai United'. While this card exists, every time a 'Six Samurai' monster is Normal or Special Summoned, place one 'Bushido Counter' on this card."

After a pause, Yuei Vu continued: "Then when there are no monsters on my side of the field, this card can be directly special summoned. Come on, Elder of the Six Samurai!"

[Elder of the Six Samurai, ATK 400]

"At this moment, 'Gateway of the Six' places two 'Bushido Counters', and 'Six Samurai United' places one." Yuei Vu continued to operate, "Then when there is a 'Six Samurai' monster on my side of the field, this card can be directly special summoned from my hand."

I special summon 'Legendary Six Samurai – Kizan'!"

[Legendary Six Samurai – Kizan, ATK 1800]

"The Bushido Counter of 'Gateway of the Six' becomes four, and the Six Samurai Unity becomes two."

Yuei Vu waved his hand.

"Another effect of 'Six Samurai United'! Send this card to the Graveyard; draw 1 card for each Bushido Counter on this card."

It now has two Bushido counters, so I draw two cards."

He then pointed to another Spell on the field.

"The effect of the Continuous Spell 'Gate of the Six Samurai'! Remove four Bushido Counters, and add 1 'Six Samurai' monster from my deck or graveyard to my hand."

A card popped out from Yuei Vu's Graveyard area.

"I add the 'Legendary Six Samurai – Kageki' from the graveyard to my hand." He put the card on the Duel Board without even looking at it, "Then I Normal Summon 'Legendary Six Samurai – Kageki'!"

[Legendary Six Samurai – Kageki, ATK 200]

"Use the effect of Kageki to Special Summon a Level 4 or lower 'Six Samurai' monster in my hand." Yuei Vu showed another card in his hand, "Special Summon Level 2, Tuner Monster 'Kagemusha of the Six Samurai!'"

[Kagemusha of the Six Samurai, ATK 400]

"At this moment, the Bushido Counters of 'Gateway of the Six' have reached four again!" Yuei Vu said, "Remove four Bushido Counters of 'Gateway of the Six', and the effect will be activated again!"

Add 1 'Six Samurai' monster from my deck or graveyard to my hand."

Yuei Vu drew another card from his deck.

"I'll add the second 'Legendary Six Samurai – Kizan' to my hand!" Yuei Vu said, "Then, if there are other 'Six Samurai' monsters on the field, 'Legendary Six Samurai – Kizan' can be special summoned directly from the hand!"

Come on, the second Kizan!"

[Legendary Six Samurai – Kizan, ATK 1800]

"Five monsters in one go?"

The Red Baron's face became a little serious, and he couldn't help but look at Yuei Vu carefully.

What is the origin of this warrior?"

"Level 2 Tuner Monster 'Kagemusha of the Six Samurai', Level 3 'Legendary Six Samurai – Kageki', tuning!"

The starlight gathered, and a ring surrounded the Six Samurai warriors. A straight line of light curtain fell, and the domineering general split the light curtain and broke out!

"The gathered starlight calls upon the warrior soul that never stops, awaken in the high-speed storm! Synchro Summon——

——Level 5, Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En!!!!"

White Shien, Unit No. 2, debuts!

[Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En, ATK 2500]

"It's that troublesome monster again," the Red Baron said with an unpleasant look on his face, "Is there a second one?"

"Then," Yuei Vu continued, "When there are more than two 'Six Samurai' monsters on my side of the field, this card can be Special Summoned directly from the hand without Tributes——

——Great Shogun Shien, summon!!!!"

Shien, who had not appeared for many years, received an urgent task and suddenly worked overtime. Not only did he have to jump back and forth between the two sides of the field, but he even put on his classic old vest and went into battle again.

[Great Shogun Shien, ATK 2500]

“And,” Yuei Vu shouted, “the two ‘Legendary Six Samurai – Kizan’ and the ‘Elder of the Six Samurai’ on the field, all three monsters are sacrificed!

The shattered fate brings the end of all things, and descends as the ultimate hero!

Destiny HERO Plasma, summon!!!”

Dripping blood burst out, the hideous hero broke through the bloody quagmire, and the arm was equipped with a monster-like dragon head!

[Destiny HERO Plasma, ATK 1900]

The bloody field erupted, and the invisible force completely suppressed the entire field of the Red Baron!

"While Plasma exists on the field, all the monster effects on the opponent's field are negated!"

Red Baron's face changed slightly: "What?"

"And Plasma has another effect. Once per turn, I can select 1 monster on the opponent's side of the field and equip it to this card, then Plasma's attack power will increase by half of the equipped monster's attack power!" Yuei Vu said, "I absorb ‘Vampire Red Baron!’"

Countless tentacles flew out from Plasma's wings, capturing Red Baron with his horse. The latter struggled hard, but finally became the nutrients of Plasma irresistibly.

[Destiny HERO Plasma, ATK 1900 → ATK 3100]

Yuei Vu: Playing cards should be a matter of courtesy. You NTRed my general, so now in exchange I NTR you, is that okay?

Red Baron's face was gloomy: "You bastard."

“Battle!” Yuei Vu waved his hand, "Destiny HERO Plasma, attack Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En!"

“Hmph, it's not that easy.” Red Baron raised the spiral spear hanging on the side of the saddle again, "Open the set card: Trap Card – Sakuretsu Armor!

When the opponent declares an attack, destroy the attacking monster!"

Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows slightly.

Good guy, are you people in the other dimension so brave? Dare to use this cursed thing?

It feels like I haven't seen Sakuretsu Armor for a century...

"Then I activate the effect of ‘Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En'," Yuei Vu certainly did not hesitate to satisfy the opponent, "Once per turn, when the opponent activates a Spell/Trap Card: I can negate the activation and destroy it!

Negate and destroy ‘Sakuretsu Armor!’"

So the Sakuretsu Armor, which was cursed by countless cosmic wills, once again "successfully" failed to activate and was directly blown into slag.

But this seemed to be in the Red Baron's calculation.

"Open the set card: Trap Card – Dimensional Prison! When the opponent declares an attack, the attacking monster is directly removed from the game!"

This time Yuei Vu was even more surprised.

He actually used the Sakuretsu Armor that was bound to fail as a feint to deceive my negation, so the real trap was covered behind it?!

Yes, this vampire is quite creative.

However...

The set card on the side of the Red Baron just loosened and showed signs of turning over, and then Yuei Vu's "Great Shogun Shien" blade swept, and the invisible and tyrannical force immediately pushed the face-up card back without any explanation.

"What?" The Red Baron was shocked. "Why!?"

"When Great Shogun Shien is on the field," Yuei Vu smiled, "the opponent can only activate 1 Spell/Trap Card each turn.

You have already activated 'Sakuretsu Armor', so 'Dimensional Prison' cannot be activated."

Red Baron: "!!!!"

Wait, when the Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En was on the field, Spell/Trap Card can be negated once per turn. When Great Shogun Shien is on the field, Spell/Trap Card can only be activated once per turn.

Doesn't this mean that the magic trap is directly unusable!?

No, even on this basis, there is "Destiny HERO Plasma" – a super interference that can seal all monster effects just by existing!

Red Baron's pupils contracted, and he couldn't speak for a while.

Impeccable!

Absolutely impeccable!

The impact of Plasma hit, and the traitor Shi En on the Red Baron's field was shattered in one blow.

"Then it's the Legendary Six Samurai – Shi En, Great Shogun Shien," Yuei Vu moved the handlebar and twisted the entire D-wheel, "Direct attack!"

The two Shiens in different vests both jumped up, slashed with their swords, and the interlaced sword lights swept through the Red Baron's body, and with a bang, he was blown off his horse in the middle!

"Roar ah ah ah!!!"

Chapter 1109: War

After dealing with the Red Baron and collecting his equipment and deck, Yuei Vu and Yusei exchanged the D-Wheel back and started their journey home.

"Mr. Yuei Vu, you have exceeded my imagination time and time again." Yusei rode the D-Wheel and made a serious face while moving forward, "It is really unimaginable that you can use Synchro Summon in this era..."

"It's not that exaggerated..."

To be honest, Yuei Vu thought: If other people just flatter me, it's fine, but you are a big shot who can cross time and space by riding the D-Wheel. Shouldn't you pretend to be ordinary?

Even Limit Over Accel Synchro has been used by you. For such a big guy, isn't his level of synchro summon just playing doll house?

In comparison, with Yusei's D-Wheel and Planetary Particles released by Momentum on the D-Wheel, Synchro Summoning was just a matter of course.

Oh, by the way, the most difficult part in the eyes of others may be printing cards. After all, Synchro Monsters did not exist in this era. To complete the Synchro Summoning, the white monster could only be printed by the duelist himself.

But the system helped Yuei Vu solve this problem eight hundred years ago.

Don't mention white Shien, in fact, since Yusei gave Yuei Vu a Drill Synchron, Yuei Vu has already collected a lot of "Synchron" Tuner monsters, and he had quite a few Synchro Monsters in his hand.

All along, Yuei Vu had been ready to enter the Synchro era as long as the times progressed and the conditions were ripe.

However, if the roles were reversed and Yusei was in Yuei Vu's position, without the assistance of the system, Yuei Vu had no doubt about Brother Crab's card-printing skills. Even in an era without Synchro, Brother Crab could definitely print one out of thin air with the power of destiny as the protagonist.

That was to say, Brother Crab was born late, otherwise, he would be the first Synchro Monster user in the history of duels.

Whether intentionally or unintentionally, Yusei then muttered: "When President Kaiba Seto sees this scene after returning, he will surely be surprised, right?"

Yuei Vu thought about it and felt that this might be true.

He also knew how much President Kaiba had invested in "Synchro Summoning". Over the years, he could be said to have invested all possible human and material resources in development and research regardless of cost. Of course, in all areas related to playing cards, the president has never been stingy with the cost.

But even after spending so much time and investing so much, President Kaiba has not yet successfully achieved Synchro Summoning.

Maybe the president would make up that Yuei Vu's mentality may be like this——Isn't having hands enough to do that?

Well, these questions could be discussed when they get back.

On the way back, Yuei Vu casually browsed the forum while driving, and then of course he noticed one of the most popular posts in the forum at a glance.

Did those two idiots, Sandbag and Noragami, run into a boss?

He clicked on the post, ignored the bunch of member-style speeches that called others "waifu", and quickly understood what happened.

"One Turn Double Kill... This Little Miss is really good." Yuei Vu thought.

Yubel appeared like a ghost after hearing his muttering: "What? The Little Miss showed up?"

"Yeah, she just missed us." Yuei Vu shrugged, "One of our team members encountered her."

Yubel didn't know about the player forum, but she also knew that Yuei Vu and the group of special instructors might have some unique way of contact, so she didn't find it strange that he was well-informed.

In contrast, she was more concerned about the result of this encounter.

"It may be similar to what you expected. She is really good." Yuei Vu said, "When Spells and Traps were completely blocked and monsters could not be special summoned, she still killed two opponents in one turn."

Yubel and Yusei showed surprised expressions at the same time.

"Is this opponent so strong?" Yusei asked.

"Well... sort of." Yuei Vu said, smiling, "But don't worry, I'm quite experienced in dealing with vampires."

Yubel immediately thought of the two vampires who cooked, washed dishes, and mopped the floor at Yuei Vu's house, and in their spare time, they also fought for the right to reproduce high-quality offspring and revive the race. Thinking of their moral integrity that had long been thrown to the dogs, she imagined the scene of Little Miss joining in...

... Well, she found that she couldn't imagine it.

But what she could be sure of was that Little Miss who was about to encounter the man in front of her must be very unfortunate.

...

The center of the vampire dimension, Vampire Kingdom castle.

Bats flew in groups, like a turbulent undercurrent intersecting in the air. The light of the torches hanging on the wall swayed, illuminating every path dimly and strangely.

The crimson carpet was spread along the hall, leading all the way to the throne high up. Vampire Fraulein walked on the red carpet, climbed the steps step by step, and slowly sat on the chair that belonged to her.

The girl showed a tired expression as if she was tired of everything.

She took out a card.

Vampire Red Baron.

Her loyal servant and one of her most trusted generals, who had accompanied her in battle after battle.

But he was dead now.

Although she did not see it with her own eyes, as a queen, she noticed the death of this confidant at that moment.

Another respectable friend left her.

When this long war comes to an end, how many people will be left?

The girl sat on the throne, motionless for a long time, just staring at the card in her hand, as if injecting enough reluctance could keep her old friend from passing away.

But she heard the sound of someone approaching slowly. So she quickly put away the card and cheered up quickly – or at least had to make herself look cheered up.

Walking into the hall was a vampire with proud curves, wearing an irresistible belly-baring outfit, and a pair of devil-like wings behind her, which poked the fetish of some gentlemen.

Vampire Vamp.

"Where have you been, Your Majesty?" She said in a somewhat unhappy voice, "You should have stayed in the hall this morning."

Fraulein did not answer her question, but only whispered: "The Red Baron is dead."

The pupils of Vampire Vamp shrank slightly, unable to hide the astonishment in her eyes.

"Who did it?" She was doubtful, "Is it those hateful magicians again? No, that's not right. The Baron's strength is among the best in the twelve dimensions. Even if he is attacked, ordinary magicians are not his opponents..."

Speaking of this, she seemed to have thought of a more terrifying possibility.

"Then...then could it be...that bastard La Mort himself..."

Fraulein continued to shake her head gently.

"Sir La Mort...if he had bad luck, he might have died now."

This frightened the Vamp even more.

"Impossible! Although that magician bastard is hateful, he is also one of the strongest in the twelve dimensions. How could it be so simple..."

But her queen did not seem to have the intention to answer this question.

"Notify everyone to prepare." Fraulein said softly, "Tomorrow, the castle will enter the war. Our enemies...may be unprecedentedly powerful."

Chapter 1110: Is This The Unprecedentedly Powerful Enemy?

"That won't work." Vampire Fraulein said firmly, "That's not a plan at all."

"Excuse me, Your Majesty, but you said yesterday that this will be an extraordinary war."

Vampire Vamp half-knelt under the throne, fearlessly facing the sharp eyes of the petite queen.

"War is always accompanied by sacrifice. Every victory we have won so far has been paid with blood. If we are afraid of sacrifice, then we have lost before the war begins."

Vampire Fraulein shook her head.

"That makes a difference." She said, "Those who have sacrificed so far are soldiers, and they are ready. But now you are asking me to send ordinary people to the battlefield.

If even the people who need to be protected no longer exist, then there is no point in winning this battle."

"But if we don't win this battle, then there is no point in keeping them."

"We will win." Vampire Fraulein signaled her not to continue, "I will win. I will defeat their leader and protect this country... again."

The Vamp had nothing to say, so she had to lower her head: "Yes, Your Majesty."

Her short silver-white hair hung down, covering most of her face, making it difficult to see her expression, and it was unknown what she was thinking.

She left the hall and came to the high walls of the castle.

Her Majesty's order was issued yesterday, and at this time the entire castle had set up a line of defense with live ammunition.

The vampires didn't know who the enemy was yet, but they got the news that the opponent this time was unprecedentedly powerful, and might be more difficult to deal with than the magicians who had fought them for many years.

According to legend, the strongest man in the magician dimension, La Mort the Magical Nethermaster, who they had been unable to deal with for many years, seemed to have died at the hands of this opponent.

However, this part was just a rumor, and there was no trace of who spread it, let alone evidence. Therefore, not many people believed this statement.

But this did not affect everyone's terrifying impression of the enemy who was about to attack this time.

The entire vampire city almost stayed up all night, and the most elite warriors stayed on the city wall all night, ready for battle.

A ray of morning light broke through the sky, and a breeze blew from the other side of the horizon, accompanied by a hint of ominous breath.

The vampire generals guarding the castle couldn't help but tighten the duel disk in their hands.

"Here they come!"

Someone shouted, and all the vampires were extremely nervous.

People began to appear on the hillside not far away. They were a little blurry at first, but gradually became clearer as they got closer, like a mudslide rushing down the hillside.

After seeing those figures clearly, the vampires in the castle couldn't help but gasp-

—What a terrifying group of people!

Originally, when they heard that they would face "unprecedented powerful opponents" today, the Vampires in the castle thought they were about to face a well-trained army.

Maybe they would wear uniformed heavy armor, and their steps and movements would be as uniform as robots. The whole team would move like a huge war machine advancing, which was terrifying.

But they didn't see that.

In contrast, what did they see?

A large group of scattered, chaotic, unorganized, and undisciplined guys who couldn't even walk properly!

Almost none of them rushed down the hillside in a proper manner. Some kept jumping and hopping, and some rolled on the spot – even many people could not stop the momentum when going downhill, and rolled down from the top of the mountain like a ball, shouting "This is too real" while rolling.

After a closer look, they found that there were some strange species mixed in the mudslide team.

For example, rabbits, unicorns, and squids.

This made the vampires even more confused.

What is this? Is it a joint army of cross-species spirits?

Is this the "unprecedentedly powerful" enemy?

Why does the style seem to be wrong?

But the battle-hardened vampire generals were not so easily confused. Although they were also confused about the composition of this group of people, they quickly adjusted themselves and waved their hands directly.

"Prepare for battle!"

The Vampire warriors cheered up, roared, and bravely went forward.

Some Vampire warriors rushed closer and found that some of the idiots on the opposite side were even more eye-catching than they thought.

For example, someone who rushed to the front was wearing a cool and attractive magical girl-style outfit, which was similar to the famous "Dark Magician Girl", except that the color scheme and some subtle clothing styles were changed.

From a distance, this look should be a young and cute girl, right?

However, when they rushed closer, they found that it was not. It was obviously a big man with a square face, broad shoulders, and well-developed muscles. If you didn't see it with your own eyes, it's hard to imagine that such a man can fit into such a small magical girl outfit, but at the same time, the impact of this picture on living people was unimaginable.

Well, it may be the same for undead people.

In short, the few vampires who rushed in the front were severely shocked and almost blinded before the fight started. They even suspected that this might be a trick played by the enemy – blinding their eyes through the overly uncomfortable dress, in order to achieve the sinister purpose of defeating the enemy without fighting.

But if this is the idea, then these wretched and sinister warriors are destined to be disappointed.

We are determined and will not lose our fighting spirit because of such an eye-catching trick!

The players who were not afraid of sacrifice and death naturally took the lead, and the students of the Duel Academy, who were the elite fighting force, followed behind.

While they were still charging, they summoned their most powerful monsters one after another. The flying, crawling, and running high-level monsters around the charging camp were all over the ground, and they were heading towards the Vampire in a mighty manner.

The vampires were also unwilling to be outdone, and the two sides quickly fought in a chaotic battle!

Some people directly played a "Pokemon" style battle, directly controlling the monsters to throw skills to hit people. Gorgeous special effects were flying all over the sky, and various mechas, warships, flying dragons, and so on fought hard with vampires.

Of course, some people chose a way that was more in line with the rules of this world – playing cards. Many people picked their opponents as soon as they came into contact, and the two sides started a duel on the spot and gambled their lives.

Once the Shadow Game started, the two sides could not stop until the winner was decided, and they could not be disturbed by others. Once the opponent picked the card game, everyone else on the battlefield would immediately abandon the two fighting parties and turn to look for other enemies.

"For Fraulein!" The Vampire warriors cried.

Then they heard a similar cry from the opposite camp: "For Fraulein!!!"

Vampires: "???"

The Fraulein you are calling... It doesn't happen to be the same person we are calling, right?

Seriously?
