

I Play Yu-Gi 231

Chapter 231: The Perfect Duelist

After a while, Yuei Vu had already traveled with the VIP duelist of the Industrial Illusions, who was said to be the adopted son of Pegasus and came to the duel arena dedicated to Kaiba Corp.

President Kaiba watched from the auditorium with his arms folded, with a gloomy expression on his face. Nobody knew whether he was upset because Gekko dared to ignore himself to challenge Yuei Vu, or because Yuei Vu took away his chance to play this game

The two sides in the audience were exchanging deck for shuffling, making the final preparations before the battle. And here Mokuba was holding a notebook, inquiring about the identity of Tenma Gekko, and at the same time verifying the authenticity of what the other party said.

Soon he raised his head in surprise: Brother, this person seems to be the adopted son of Pegasus. And he was once evaluated by Pegasus as the perfect duelist!

The perfect duelist? Kaiba sneered, Then this guy really doesn't know who he is.

Mokuba: ?

My brother's thinking jumps too fast, and I can't keep up with the rhythm.

Is it clear? To guard the so-called perfect title, he just played with some weakling in a closed circle, like the mice who can only hide and hide in the underground world. But now he still dares to challenge the real strong. Kaiba sneered, Look like his title as the perfect duelist can only be maintained until today.

Mokuba: Brother, you seem to have great confidence in Yuei Vu

Hmph. Kaiba snorted, neither admitting nor denying it.

Duel! x2

Yuei Vu, LP 4000

Tenma Gekko, LP 4000

Ill go first, draw! Gekko's first round was not muddled at all, I summon Hourglass of Life in defense position!

A monster card was released, and a transparent hourglass appeared in the field. The red quicksand in the hourglass was constantly falling, with angel wings growing on both sides.

It was said that he was an angel in charge of life, and by cutting his own lifespan, he bestowed power on others.

[Hourglass of Life, DEF 600]

Set another card, I end my turn.

A Normie plus a set card. Looking at such a standard move, Yuei Vu couldn't help thinking.

A Normie with a defense power of 600 Although it seemed normal in this era, it always gave him a premonition that there is a pit waiting for him to step on.

Its my turn, draw! Yuei Vu glanced at the hand, and directly increased the card advantage without hesitation, Summon Elemental HERO Bubbleman in attack position!

The special effect of water flow appeared, and the bubble hero in blue armor appeared on the stage, and the cloak fluttered gently behind him.

[Elemental HERO Bubbleman, ATK 800]

Bubblemans effect When this card is Summoned, if there is no other card on my field, I can draw 2 cards. Yuei Vu drew two cards, Battle! Bubbleman, attack Hourglass of Life!

Bubbleman had an attack power of 800, which was a full 200 points higher than Gekkos defensive monster!

This hero may never wait for a chance to destroy an enemy in his entire life. This was simply the pinnacle of his life. Bubbleman shouted and jumped up, raising the water gun on the back of his hand, and the water flowed through the air like an arrow and shot out towards the Hourglass of Life.

Tenma Gekko waved his hand lightly: Open the set card! Trap Card Mirror Force!

What? Yuei Vu was taken aback.

It wasnt that he was surprised that the opponent had Hanois holy power in his hands, but that he was surprised that the opponent used such an extravagant trap against a mere Bubbleman.

Well, actually, its not too strange in terms of the DM environment. The current mainstream thinking of duelists in this environment was indeed like this Use trap cards to destroy the opponents monsters to reduce the number of monsters in advance, and at the same time keep the monsters on the field, so that in the next round, you can use the saved lower-level monsters as sacrifices to call out more powerful monsters and obtain suppression on the field.

This was the most typical way of thinking at present.

The trap released the blue light. A layer of the hemispherical transparent shield was formed to protect the entire field of Tenma Gekko. The water stream of Bubblemans attack hit the shield directly, and under the action of a mighty force, it turned into an overwhelming stream of light and reflected back toward Bubbleman.

Bubbleman turned pale with shock in the face of the stream of light blasting down his head and face.

Fuck me, today I will be able to enjoy this kind of royal treatment!?

This is too much

Yuei Vu quickly drew out a card in his hand: Quick-Play Spell Mask Change! Send 1 HERO monster I control to the Graveyard, then Special Summon 1 Masked HERO monster from my Extra Deck with the same Attribute!

I send Elemental HERO Bubbleman to the GY!

Transform! Masked HERO Vapor!

The Spell card turned into a special effect of water flow that wrapped the whole body of Bubbleman. The streams of water transformed him into a blue and white exoskeleton armor, surrounded by a blue vortex of water.

[Masked HERO Vapor, ATK 2400]

The light of the holy protective shield passed the Masked HERO flatly, but the power was completely resisted by the blue vortex, and it failed to cause any impact.

What? Tenma Gekko was a little surprised, The effect of Mirror Force is useless?

Masked HERO Vapors monster effect he cannot be destroyed by any card effect. Yuei Vu raised his hand and said, Masked HERO Vapor, attack Hourglass of Life!

The Masked HERO of the water flow shot out, and the sharp blade in his hand cut a white trail. The blade cut through the middle of the hourglass body sharply, and the red sand sprayed out from the gap like fresh blood.

Its amazing! Mokuba, who was watching the battle, said, As expected of Yuei Vu, he easily avoided such a powerful trap, and even counterattacked

Kaiba folded her arms and frowned slightly.

Hmph, this Gekko is not exactly a third-rate duelist who can only brag about himself.

Ah? Mokuba was taken aback, But wasnt he suppressed by Yuei Vu?

If Gekko didnt activate the trap when he was under the attack of Bubbleman, his defensive monster would be destroyed. If Yuei Vu activated the Mask Change after that, transform Bubbleman into Vapor to attack directly

The effect of Mirror Force is useless against Vapor! Mokuba realized, In that case, he would have to take 2400 points of damage!

Thats right. But he uses the Mirror Force on a trash fish monster whose attack power looks inconspicuous, thus Yuei Vu has to activate the Mask Change in advance in order to keep his monster, sacrificing the number of attacks. Kaiba said, Although Gekko was in a mess, he managed to defend against this round of attacks.

This is so powerful? Mokuba asked in surprise, Could it be that he knew in advance that Yuei Vu had a Mask Change in his hand

Kaiba shook his head: Of course its impossible. But first-rate duelists have a kind of card intuition, and can quickly find the optimal solution in various situations by intuition. This guy is talented

After a pause, Kaiba turned his nostrils to the sky and snorted again.

Of course, with the Duel King as the opponent, its normal to be suppressed. For being able to defend to this point, this guy is worthy of praise.

Having said that, his eyes became hot again, and he turned to Yuei Vu.

After all, he was the man who defeated me!

Chapter 232: Masked HERO

Its my turn.

It was once again the turn of Tenma Gekko. He drew a card, let out a light breath, and looked at the Masked HERO Vapor on Yuei Vus field with a little lingering fear.

Its really scary, even the countermeasures for the Mirror Force have been prepared. If he hadnt activated the trap at the moment of Bubblemans attack just now, he would have lost more than half of his LP this round.

Thinking of this, his expression became more dignified and cautious.

I summon Learning Elf in defense position. (manga card)

Appearing on Gekkos field was a female elf with long hair, a cloak, round glasses, and a big book in her hand. At first glance, she looked like a standard schoolmaster.

[Learning Elf, DEF 1500]

Then set two cards, and I end my turn. Two cards appeared at Gekkos feet.

Is he still completely adopting the strategy of consolidating the defense line?

Yuei Vu thought about it without stopping: Its my turn, draw.

Tenma Gekko was the number one seed under Pegasus, and his strength as a duelist should also be at the top. Yuei Vu didnt think that the opponent blindly defended just because he couldnt find a way to defeat Masked HERO Vapor.

Maybe this was also part of Tenma Gekkos tactics, maybe he was waiting for something.

That being the case, the strategy Yuei Vu must adopt here must be to decide the outcome before the opponents tactics take shape.

Summon Elemental HERO Blazeman!

Flames burst out from the ground, and the hero in the fiery red tights appeared in front of everyone, surrounded by flames and wearing golden goggles.

[Elemental HERO Blazeman, ATK 1200]

Blazemans effect! If this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can add 1 Polymerization from my Deck to my hand.

Yuei Vu pulled out the deck to pick out the Polymerization card, then shuffled the deck and inserted them back into the Duel Disk.

Then comes the Spell Card Polymerization! A card with a powerful magic effect appeared in front of Yuei Vu, I fuse the Elemental HERO Blazeman with the Elemental HERO Sparkman in my hand!

The fusion condition is 1 Elemental HERO monster + 1 FIRE monster!

Fusion Summon! Elemental HERO Nova Master!

Sparkman emerged with a burst of electric current, and together with Blazeman was involved in the vortex of fusion. The green magic power gradually burned with the rotation, and the power burst out like a volcanic eruption. The Elemental HERO in red and gold armor and cloak appeared domineeringly.

[Elemental HERO Nova Master, ATK 2600]

Tenma Gekko whispered to himself: Sure enough, it is a fusion summon

Battle! Yuei Vu waved his hand, Nova Master, attack Learning Elf!

Nova Master had the effect of drawing a card by destroying the opponents monster in battle, so Yuei Vu chose to use the Nova Master to attack first.

The Elemental HERO in the golden armor was bathed in fire and rushed towards the elf girl in the opposite field with a high temperature and heat wave. The girl was so frightened that she quickly buried her head in the book, too frightened to open her eyes.

Open the set card! Tenma Gekko waved his hand, Quick-Play Spell Shrink! The original attack power of a monster on the field is halved! Halve the attack power of Nova Master!

The tall and mighty hero rushed forward aggressively but was restrained by mysterious magic power, and his body quickly shrank to half its original size at a speed visible to the naked eye.

Learning Elf cautiously poked her head out from behind the book, blinked her eyes in doubt, and felt that she seemed to be able to fight back

[Elemental HERO Nova Master, ATK 2600 ATK 1300]

But Yuei Vu also had a countermeasure: Quick-Play Spell Form Change! Return 1 HERO Fusion Monster I control to the Extra Deck, then Special Summon from my Extra Deck, 1 Masked HERO monster with the same Level as that monsters original Level, but with a different name!

I return the Level 8 Nova Master to the Extra Deck and switch its form!

Transform! Masked HERO Anki!

Nova Master whose attack power was shrunk suddenly erupted with black mist, and the black mist quickly surrounded his entire body, forming a black armor that wrapped him from head to toe.

[Masked HERO Anki, ATK 2800]

Tenma Gekko murmured: In the Battle Phase, cleverly using the transformation to avoid the effect of Shrink, and gained a new attack opportunity

Masked HERO Anki! Yuei Vu raised his hand, Attack Learning Elf!

Although the master did not specify the name of the attack move this time, the dark hero seems to have liked this move. He jumped up, rolled, and accelerated in mid-air, then kick out his right leg flatly in a standard Rider Kick pose and dived toward the elf below.

Learning Elf yelled Ah, was kicked hard by the pitch-black hero, and disappeared with a bang and a violent impact.

Of course, because it was in the defense position, Tenma Gekko did not take any damage. But he immediately drew a card: The special effect of Learning Elf When she is sent to the GY, I can draw a card.

Then the special ability of my Masked HERO Anki has also been activated. Yuei Vu said, . Once per turn, when this card destroys an opponents monster by battle and sends it to the GY: I can add 1 Change Quick-Play Spell Card from my Deck to my hand.

Tenma Gekko instantly realized what this meant, and couldn't help being surprised: So That's right, it means that this round of attack is far from over! Yuei Vu said, Masked HERO Vapor, attack directly!

The Masked HERO rushed forward as if stepping on a stream of water. The sharp blade in his hand dragged the trajectory of the blue water to cut out, and locked onto Tenma Gekko's neck straightly.

The sharp blade dragged the water across his neck of course, there would be no actual damage because of the stereoscopic image, but the virtual impact was still there. At the same time, this blow also took away a large amount of LP from Gekko.

Gekko, LP 4000 LP 1600

Yuei Vu squinted at the last set card at Tenma Gekko's feet.

It hasn't been triggered, was it a trap that could not be used to defend against attacks?

In this way, Yuei Vu would be able to directly win this duel.

Then I activate the card that is added to my hand just now: Quick-Play Spell Mask Change! Send 1 HERO monster I control to the Graveyard, then Special Summon 1 Masked HERO monster from my Extra Deck with the same Attribute!

Yuei Vu pointed at the monsters on his field.

I will send Masked HERO Anki to the GY, and make Anki transform into a second Masked HERO Anki!

At this time, Mokuba in the auditorium was puzzled: Transform the Anki into another Anki? The meaning of this is Because the Quick-Play Spell is used to transform during the Battle Phase, so the new Anki can make another attack. Kaiba explained lightly, squinting his eyes at the same time, Has the victory been decided?

In fact, at this moment, President Kaiba has already been a little surprised by Yuei Vu's new series of Masked HERO.

It could transform in time during the battle, and could also perform form switching. Not only could you avoid the opponent's counterattack by transforming, but you could also obtain different special effects and additional attack times by transforming into various powerful Masked HEROes

What a scary deck!

President Kaiba looked at Yuei Vu with complicated eyes.

Yuei Vu, since we played against each other last time how much progress have you made?

This was the first time in history that President Kaiba was not confident in his progress (printing card) speed, and even had the illusion that he could not catch up with Yuei Vu's progress.

At the same time, this also sounded the alarm bell for the president. There was no end to the duelist's path, and he must not be satisfied with the status quo.

(President Kaiba: Favorability +1, +1, +1)

At this time, the black mist has wrapped the Masked HERO Anki on Yuei Vu's field. With the transformation effect of a burst of black mist rising, the new armor was completed, and another brand new Masked HERO, Anki, came to the field.

[Masked HERO Anki, ATK 2800]

Gekko, LP 1600

The last blow! Yuei Vu shouted, Masked HERO Anki, attack directly!

The dark hero jumped up, tumbling in the air, and with a standard flying kick, like an arrow flying off the bow's string!

Chapter 233: Cross Interference

The last blow! Yuei Vu said, Masked HERO Anki, attack directly!

Gekko had 1600 LP remaining, and Anki's attack power was 2800. This blow was enough to directly establish the victory!

But Gekko was the perfect duelist in Pegasus's mouth, and it would be too cheap to kill him so easily.

Open the set card! The last card in front of Gekko was turned over, Trap Card Confusion Chaff! This card can only be activated when the opponent directly attacks for the second time in the same Battle Phase.

Let the opponent's second attacking monster fight with the first monster that attacked directly!

The first monster that attacked directly was Masked HERO Vapor.

That's right. Gekko said, So Anki's target of the battle is Masked HERO Vapor!

The trap card released some kind of invisible wave, which interfered with the pitch-black hero in midair. Anki stopped swooping, held his head, and seemed to struggle in pain for a while, then turned around suddenly, and rushed towards the Masked HERO behind him.

Vapor was taken aback as if he wanted to ask, Senior Anki, did you betray us too?. But it's a pity that he didn't have time to ask this question in the end, he could only parry two moves, before eating Anki's Rider Kick and exploding on the spot.

Yuei Vu, LP 4000 LP 3600

Mokuba, who was watching the battle, turned his head: That Gekko successfully countered Yuei Vu's attack, brother!

Hmph. Kaiba said lightly, It would be too boring if it ended so easily.

He didn't continue talking, but he looked at Gekko with a little expectation.

Gekko, even if it is impossible to win, you can be a good guinea pig, Kaiba narrowed his eyes and glanced at Yuei Vu, Let me see how strong that guy is now.

Then my Battle Phase is over. Yuei Vu drew another card from his hand, I activate Continuous Spell Card Mirage of Nightmare.

As long as this card exists, during the opponents Standby Phase, I can draw cards until I have 4 cards in my hand, but during my Standby Phase, I have to randomly discard to the Graveyard the same number of cards I drew with this cards effect.

Then set two more cards, and I end my turn.

My turn, draw.

After drawing the card this time, Gekkos eyes seemed to have changed slightly. Yuei Vu instinctively saw from the subtle changes that the opponent might be about to enter an offensive rhythm next.

Yuei Vu pointed to the Continuous Spell Card beside him: At this instant, Mirage of Nightmares effect has been activated. I draw four cards.

Gekko was unmoved and continued to operate on his own: Activate Pot of Greed. I draw two cards.

Then I activate a Spell Card from the hand Card Destruction. Both players discard as many cards as possible from their hands, then each player draws the same number of cards they discarded.

Then the special effect of Watapon in the hand is activated. After drawing the card, he revealed a card in his hand, When Watapon is added to the hand from the deck by the effect of the card, it can be directly special summoned.

With a burst of light effects, a fluffy and cute white ball appeared on the Yuexing field, with big eyes twinkling.

[Watapon, DEF 300]

He looked up at Yuei Vu.

The two monsters you defeated before Hourglass of Life and Learning Elf are both Fairy monsters. And among the cards that were sent to my GY just now through the effect of Card Destruction, there were another two, so the preparations are finally completed.

Yuei Vus eyelids twitched.

This prerequisite!?

No way!?

Gekko moved slowly and solemnly and drew a card from his hand.

In this way, the summoning conditions for this card are finally completed. Please watch, Yuei Vusan. This is my trump card

Archlord Kristya!

The moment the card was slapped on the Duel Disk, a light that was so sacred that it was impossible to look directly descended from the sky. A white silhouette emerged from the light. The fiery red wings spread out, and it slowly descended with a sacred halo all over its body.

[Archlord Kristya, ATK 2800]

Yuei Vu looked at the holy envoy who seemed to come with an oracle and covered the audience with endless divine power. Suddenly, he felt the urge to swear.

Fuck, why has no one ever told me that Gekko still has such a thing in his hand?

Its rare for an old Yu-Gi-Oh player not to recognize this guy. Even in the competitive environment many years ago, it still had a place. Many competitive and meta decks had eaten loss in this guys hand.

As for the reason

Archlord Kristyas effect If there are exactly 4 Fairy monsters in my GY, I can Special Summon this card directly from my hand.

Gekko explained the effect lightly: And as long this card exists on the field, neither player can Special Summon monsters!

Yuei Vu frowned.

Just this restriction of no special summoning was a nightmare for almost all meta decks back then. Not to mention its own attack power was as high as 2800 points. For most meta players, it was simply a luxury to make monsters with an attack power equal to or more than 2800 points without relying on special summons.

With the blocking effect of Archlord Kristya, Yuei Vu could use neither fusion nor Mask Change. If he didnt find a way to get rid of this monster as soon as possible, this duel might become an overwhelming disadvantage for Yuei Vu in an instant.

Another effect of Archlord Kristya. Gekko said, When this card is successfully Special Summoned by its own method, 1 Fairy monster in my GY will be added to my hand.

His GY area lit up with a golden glow. A card was ejected back into his hand.

I added Angel O7 back into my hand.

Gekko added the monster to his hand and then revealed another Spell Card.

Activate Equip Spell Sacrifice of Grave Goods! Equip it to the Watapon on the field. The monster that is equipped with this card can be treated as 2 Tributes. (manga card)

Then I use the Watapon equipped with Sacrifice of Grave Goods as 2 Tributes. Gekko raised the card that was just recovered from the GY, Tribute Summon! Come out, another trump card of mine

Angel O7!

The holy light shone again, like an incandescent waterfall hanging from the side. Emerging from that light was an angel in pure white armor.

[Angel O7, ATK 2500]

Gekko was expressionless, and explained when the holy envoy came down: The special effect of Angel O7: As long as this card exists on the field, neither player can activate monster effects.

After a pause, he smiled: Of course, the effect of Archlord Kristya neither player can Special Summon monsters is a Continuous effect and does not need to be activated, so it will not be affected by the use of Angel O7.

Both of us cant special summon monsters, and cant activate monster effects, right? Yuei Vu said.

Thats it, Gekko said.

This lineup was indeed a bit scary. Even in today's real card environment, it was a very powerful blocking interference ability.

Kaiba on the side also had to look at Gekko with admiration at this time.

The cross-interference of two monsters, the blockade of monster abilities and special summons, this combination is really scary. He frowned, In this way, whether it is Yvei Vu fusion summon or transform through Mask Change, these moves won't work anymore. Gekko is indeed very different from those third-rate duelists.

Ah? Mokuba started to get a little more relaxed, Then Yvei Vu is going to lose?

Lose? Kaiba grinned, How is it possible? Just watch carefully.

That was to say, Yvei Vu couldn't hear the president's words now, otherwise, he must have black lines all over his face

Facing Archlord Kristya and Angel O7 at the same time, even I feel a little fear. Why do you have so much confidence in me?

Chapter 234: Attacking Angels

Gaining the advantage on the scene, Gekko directly announced the start of the Battle Phase, First, Archlord Kristya, attack Masked HERO Anki!

After receiving the order, Archlord Kristya flapped his wings and flew up. The holy wings released a pure white light, and the light in his palm was churning, brewing a storm of light.

[Archlord Kristya, ATK 2800]

[Masked HERO Anki, ATK 2800]

Mokuba on the side said: Both monsters attack power is 2800, are they going to die together?

Kaiba said lightly: No, look carefully.

Seeing that Archlord Kristya's attack was about to hit, the black Masked HERO was about to step forward to meet him, but unexpectedly, a phantom appeared behind him, and a translucent demon suddenly appeared behind Anki, hugging and imprisoning the hero in his arms.

This is

Archfiend of Gilfer, which was also discarded through the effect of the Card Destruction. Gekko said, When this card is sent to the GY: I can target 1 face-up monster on the field; equip this card to that target. That monster loses 500 ATK while equipped with this card.

Facing the rushing stream of light in front of him, the black Masked HERO tried his best to escape, but the transparent demon restrained his actions like a lingering ghost, making him unable to move even half a step.

[Masked HERO Anki, ATK 2800 ATK 2300]

Kaiba commented: Through Card Destruction, he gets four Fairy monsters together in the GY, meet the summoning conditions of Archlord Kristya, and then use Archlord Kristya's ability to recover Angel O7, and quickly summons them to the field to suppress the opponent.

Its not over yet, when he activated Card Destruction, he had already thought of using the effect of Archfiend of Gilfer to reduce the opponents attack power. Gekko did have the qualifications to be the opponent of the Duel King.

President Kaibas criteria for evaluating people were indeed simple enough. Now through Gekkos brilliant performance on the field, he has been upgraded from irrelevant miscellaneous fish to know how to play cards in the eyes of President Kaiba, which could be described as a qualitative leap.

If a player here faced this absolutely blocked formation, he might kneel directly, but Yuei Vu said that we are true duelists.

Open the set card! Yuei Vu pointed at his feet, Quick-Play Spell Double Cyclone! Target 1 Spell/Trap I control and 1 Spell/Trap you control; destroy them.

Gekko quickly understood: The card you want to choose is

The Archfiend of Gilfer that exists as an Equip Card on your field, Yuei Vu pointed to the demon that bound the Masked HERO Anki, and the Continuous Spell Card Mirage of Nightmare on my field.

Beautiful! Even Mokuba understood the purpose of this operation at this time, If Archfiend of Gilfer is destroyed, the attack power of Masked HERO Anki will rise again! Then, by destroying Mirage of Nightmare, he can also avoid the side effect of that card. Yuei Vu is so powerful!

Kaiba snorted, smiled, and said nothing, but his eyes seemed to be approving.

Mokuba: As expected of the man who defeated my brother!

Kaibas smile quickly disappeared, and his face immediately darkened.

Red and golden whirlwinds flew out of the magic card in a staggered manner. The red wind swept away the Mirage of Nightmare on the Yuei Vus field and turned it into powder, while the golden wind tore the transparent demon that bound the Anki into pieces.

[Masked HERO Anki, ATK 2300 ATK 2800]

The Anki who broke free from the shackles suddenly started to move again. There was a desire of reviving the mans glory that rose in his chest. He dodged the incandescent stream of light with a flexible dodge to the limit, jumped towards Archlord Kristya in midair, and performed a flying kick.

Archlord Kristya was not to be outdone. He waved his palm and blasted Anki down. The holy light and the Masked HEROs flying kick clashed in mid-air, and a violent impact erupted. The waves backfired towards each other, blowing both Archlord Kristya and the hero into pieces.

Having the same attack power, the ending was of course the same.

But in this way, there was nothing left on Yuei Vus side.

But Archlord Kristya is immortal.

Gekkos graveyard area was already lit up with golden lights. The Archlord Kristya who had just been destroyed to go to the cemetery popped up again, and he inserted it back into the top of the deck.

When Archlord Kristya would be sent from the field to the GY, it will be placed on top of my Deck, instead.

This effect of Kristya was closer to a rule written on the card than it was a monster effect. It was automatically applied without activation, so naturally, it would not be affected by Angel O7's ability. Monster effects cannot be activated.

This kind of effect text that could take effect directly without activation was generally called Unclassified effect in the Yu-Gi-Oh system.

In this way, as long as Gekko drew Archlord Kristya back to his hand in the next turn, he could summon this powerful angel again.

I still have Angel O7 that hasn't attacked yet. Gekko waved his hand, Angel O7, attack directly!

The remaining ace of Gekko made an immediate move. A spiral beam of light blasted straight at Yuei Vu, hit him without reservation.

Yuei Vu couldn't help but staggered back two steps, his body was covered with black smoke projected from the virtual images.

Yuei Vu, LP 3600 LP 1100

Set a card, and I end my turn. Gekko put a card into his Duel Disk.

Both LP and the situation on the field have reversed again, but Gekko was not too optimistic.

Although it seemed to be very favorable, the development of the situation was still somewhat different from his previous calculations. Archlord Kristya failed to stay on the field. If there was only one Angel O7 on the field, the suppressing power would be greatly reduced.

However, Archlord Kristya only left the field temporarily, and he could come back to the field in the next round.

I just need to make it through this turn!

My turn, draw.

Yuei Vu added the drawn card to his hand and glanced at the Angel O7 on the opposite field.

It was indeed a very troublesome ability that all monster effects could not be activated, which was quite unfriendly to the HERO deck.

So Yuei Vu must get rid of this troublesome ability first: Quick-Play Spell Forbidden Chalice! Target 1 face-up monster on the field; until the end of this turn, that target gains 400 ATK, but its effects are negated.

I target your Angel O7!

[Angel O7, ATK 2500 ATK 2900]

Although the monster's attack power increased, Gekko couldn't help but frown.

Invalidating the effect of Angel O7 meant that Yuei Vu has completely broken through the blockade of the combination.

Now Yuei Vu could play happily again without any scruples: I summon Elemental HERO Liquid Soldier in attack position!

A water flow rose from the ground, and the water-blue hero entangled in the water flow condensed into shape and appeared on the field in a half-squat.

[Elemental HERO Liquid Soldier, ATK 1400]

The effect of Liquid Soldier! When this card is Normal Summoned: I can target 1 Level 4 or lower HERO monster in my GY, except Elemental HERO Liquid Soldier; Special Summon it! A card popped up in Yuei Vu's GY area, Resurrect, Elemental HERO Blazeman!

The flames rose, and the hero of the flames returned to the field, with a clear roar and a volley punch.

[Elemental HERO Blazeman, ATK 1200]

The effect of Blazeman! If this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can add 1 Polymerization from my Deck to my hand.

Watching Yuei Vu add the Polymerization card to his hand, Gekko seemed to understand: You are still using Fusion.

That's not necessarily true. Yuei Vu smiled mysteriously and waved his arm, The effect of Destiny HERO Malicious in the graveyard is activated! I can banish this card from my GY; Special Summon 1 Destiny HERO Malicious from my Deck!

The GY area of the Duel Disk emitted golden light and a Destiny HERO card popped up from the GY, then it was put into the card box by Yuei Vu. A beam of golden light flew out of the deck and came to the field in the form of a hero with devilish wings.

[Destiny HERO Malicious, ATK 800]

Gekko raised his eyebrows: Isn't it fusion?

Archlord Kristya and Angel O7 are indeed very powerful monsters. Yuei Vu paused the operation, and said, I have seen how powerful you are as a duelist, so let me take out a monster worthy of this duel.

He held up the card in his hand.

Take the Elemental HERO Liquid Soldier, Elemental HERO Blazeman, and Destiny HERO Malicious on the field as sacrifices!

Gekko's expression changed, and he was shocked: Three monsters as sacrifices!?

On the side, Kaiba's expression also changed slightly: Could it be God? No, the normal summoning of this turn has already been used. Then what is this?

The bloody mist gradually filled the air, and the ground rolled up like a chaotic vortex from hell. An ominous atmosphere enveloped the audience as if an invisible cloud was lingering in their heart.

At this moment, everyone had a strong premonition.

Something very powerful and eerie and evil was about to come.

Using three monsters as sacrifices, I special summon from my hand.

Yuei Vu slapped the monster card on Duel Disk.

Destiny HERO Plasma!

Chapter 235: This Duel King Belongs To My House

Destiny HERO Plasma!

The chaotic storm mixed with blood was like a blood mist surrounding the venue. The hero with a demonic aura all over his body appeared in a half-squat on the ground, and slowly got up. His body seemed to be dripping with crimson blood, like a jagged rock.

Huge wings spread from behind him, the hero raised his head, and the dragons mouth on his arm slowly opened, letting out a dark red breath.

[Destiny HERO Plasma, ATK 1900]

Tenma Gekkos expression changed instantly: This monster so it is a work designed by Mr. Phoenix

Mr. Phoenix was originally the designer of the Industrial Illusions, and Tenma Gekko was the adopted son of Pegasus. Unsurprisingly, hes heard a little about the Destiny HERO project.

Ive heard that its a card that contains great power but I didnt expect it to have such boldness. He muttered to himself, Mr. Phoenix is right, this is a card that ordinary duelists should not hold. Maybe you are the only one who can control this card

Even President Kaibas expression changed slightly.

Destiny HERO Plasma Another card I havent heard of.

And looking at the special effects of this appearance, the card face and aura, one could tell at a glance that it was an ace-level monster.

Although the animated Plasmas had more losses than victories, the aura was really in place, worthy of the ultimate D hero.

At this time, Gekko seemed to be a little panicked under the pressure of this ultimate hero. As if to seek some sense of security, he activated his set card in advance.

I activate my Trap Card. The set card next to him was turned over, Intrigue Shield! Target 1 face-up monster I control; equip this card to that target. Once per turn, while the equipped monster is in Attack Position, it cannot be destroyed by battle. I take no battle damage from attacks involving it!

He pointed to the Angel O7 in front of him whose effect had been nullified.

Equip Intrigue Shield to Angel O7!

The trap effect was activated, and a shield appeared in front of the white angel as if the existence of this shield could make him feel a little safer.

However

Sorry, but its useless against Plasma, Yuei Vu smiled, Plasmas special ability is activated! Once per turn, I can absorb 1 monster on the opponents field as Equip card!

Then Plasma will gain ATK equal to half the equipped monsters ATK and gains the equipped monsters effects! (anime effect)

What!? Gekko was taken aback.

When he first heard about the Destiny HERO project, the design of Plasma hadn't been completed yet, so he didn't know that this Ultimate D hero actually had such a domineering special ability.

At this time, Plasma had already spread its huge wings, and countless pitch-black tentacles shot out through the air, wrapping circles around Angel O7's white armor.

Intrigue Shield was useless in front of Plasma, completely unable to hinder his movements.

Plasma let out a low growl, and couldn't help but drag the angel over from the air, violently absorbing it into the huge wings. After the angel was absorbed, he still struggled for a while and punched the wing as hard as he could, but it was completely useless.

Plasma let out a loud shout, his body surrounded by a faint white light. His power seemed to skyrocket at a speed visible to the naked eye.

[Destiny HERO Plasma, ATK 1900 ATK 3350]

Tenma Gekko: Attack power 3350

Because of absorbing the effect of Angel O7, now as long as Plasma is on the field, monster effects cannot be activated. Of course, it seems that you don't have that chance either.

(Kuriboh: Don't look at me! I can't save you this time)

This is really the final attack, Yuei Vu said, Plasma, attack directly! Bloody Fears!

Plasma flapped his wings and flew up, slowly spreading his wings.

Bloody arrows rained down all over the sky, carpet-bombing the field of Tenma Gekko. The blood mist of the explosion soared into the sky, the waves spread flat and spread around

Gekko, LP 1600 LP 0

It's decided the outcome.

Mokuba watched the cards on the field and the burly dark hero disappeared and even felt that he needed to say something.

Destiny HERO Plasma such a strong monster, and so handsome!

After all, Mokuba was still a primary school student. Although he has experienced more than ordinary people, he was still a child in essence.

Children had no resistance to powerful and handsome heroes.

Also, Yuei Vu is really strong

Kaiba didn't make a sound and went out with arms folded in a dull manner. He was thinking visually in his head at the same time that it was time to upgrade Yuei Vu's intelligence when he had time later.

That's right, he referred to Yuei Vu's AI Bot.

Kaiba walked to the middle of the field and came to Tenma Gekko.

Hmph? Considering your level, you've tried your best. But to beat Yuei Vu? You're still 10,000 years too early.

Yuei Vu:

Boss, do you want to draw aggro to me like this? I don't even dare to be so arrogant myself. Gekko had a good temper. He didn't have any unwillingness to admit defeat. Perhaps he had expected to lose to Yuei Vu from the very beginning, so he just smiled politely and didn't refute anything.

Originally, losing to the Duel King was not a shameful thing.

Besides, he felt that he had nothing to be unconvinced about.

Kaiba sneered proudly: If I had to tell you, I don't have any affection for you Industrial Illusions. If your strength is the so-called perfect duelist, then I'm afraid you won't be much help in the next battle.

Gekko: President Kaiba

Yuei Vu coughed and stepped forward at the right time: President, the Industrial Illusions have a good background, and they are obviously better prepared than us in dealing with Doma.

Now that the war is approaching, the future of the company is uncertain. Naturally, the more allies, the better.

In fact, after hanging out with President Kaiba for a long time, Yuei Vu has now found a routine and summed up his experience.

At a time like this, did the president really not want to cooperate with the Industrial Illusions? Actually not.

It's probably because the Kaiba brothers and Pegasus had a feud, and the president was upset because he was habitually arrogant.

At this time, as a subordinate, you must learn to read between words and expressions, step up and say a few good words in time, and give the president a step down. If the other party took the president's arrogance seriously, turned around, and walked away, it would be a pain in the ass.

Sure enough, President Kaiba glanced at Yuei Vu, seemed to think for a moment, then snorted again.

Then for the sake of my subordinates, I'll give you this chance. Kaiba said coldly, Just don't hold me back.

You could see that President Kaiba was very bored. On the surface, with a poker face, he just agreed casually, but in fact, he deliberately bit the word subordinate very hard. As if deliberately emphasizing this Duel King belongs to my house.

Tenma Gekko's self-cultivation was really good, he didn't care about Kaiba's sarcasm at all, he just smiled politely: Then thank you, President.

After a pause, he also turned to Yuei Vu: Thank you too.

At the same time, Gekko also kept a secret in his heart, President Kaiba seemed to listen to Yuei Vu's words more.

It seems that we still have to establish a good relationship with Yuei Vu in advance. In the future, if there is any troublesome matter that I can't figure out with the president, maybe I can ask Yuei Vu for help

If you want to cooperate with us, then you need to show your sincerity. First, share the information you have about Doma. Kaiba said lightly, Tell us: how much do you know about this organization?

Not too much. This organization is very mysterious, and the history that can be traced back is very long. We checked the documents and found the shadow of Doma from a long time ago. But there are only a few traces of them

Kaiba snorted: Does that mean you got nothing?

Not completely. According to some of the clues we found, we have reason to believe that Doma also has an important layout in Domino City. Our people are following the clues. If everything goes well, we should be able to find out

Uh, about this

Yuei Vu, who had been on the sidelines for a long time, suddenly spoke.

I think I seem to have a way of tracking Doma's location.

Chapter 236: The Most Dangerous Organization In History

A few minutes ago, when Tenma Gekko and President Kaiba were sharing information and chatting about cooperation matters, Yuei Vu listened to them while clicking on the player forum to join in the fun.

In fact, checking the forum was basically his habitual action now. It's similar to how some people would subconsciously take out their mobile phones from their pockets when they were free, scrolling through the group posts, and swiping short videos.

Then he noticed such a post.

Hahahaha, I finally changed the map! Domino City, Yuei Vu-san, here I come!

As mentioned before, after the official server was opened, due to the consideration of capacity, the login locations of the official server players were distributed in urban areas around the world.

Only players in Closed Beta and Open Beta could enjoy the honor of being born in Domino City.

And the host who posted this post obviously was born in some other place, but he found a way to get into Domino City by himself.

One stone stirred up thousands of waves, this post immediately attracted the attention of a large number of players.

According to the normal game flow, players needed to actively participate in the duel competition in their own region and strived to enter the professional league which was still in its infancy.

Players would have the opportunity to leave the birth point to change maps after winning more games and accumulating enough fame.

And now the host actually managed to sneak to Domino City at this stage, this information naturally attracted the attention of countless players who fantasized about Yuei Vu's videos and photos all day long.

Sir, please release the strategy! How can I go to Domino City? I also want to play with Yuei Vu-san!

My crystal is already hungry and thirsty!

My cannon is hungry too!

I want to join the Nightcrawler World, I wonder if I can fast-forward directly to fencing

There must be something wrong with you in front

Yuei Vu ignored a group of bragging players and directly followed the host's speech. The guy did not hide it at all, and directly shared all his methods and strategies.

It turned out that this player actually took refuge in Doma in the city where he was born!

According to his words:

At that time, I saw a guy in black with a six-pointed star printed on his forehead gathering people to preach. I felt that the six-pointed star on the bastard's forehead looked familiar, and when he went up to ask, it actually triggered the option to join the Doma, so I joined in in a daze

Of course, a stranger couldn't enter Doma casually. The host said that he had accepted a series of rituals, and it seemed that the mark of Orichalcos was imprinted on his head or something. The purpose seemed to be to forcibly instill faith and brainwash him to prevent rebellion

Of course, judging from the fact that the host was chatting and talking about Doma's secrets in the forum, it seemed that the effect of this brainwashing measure on players was also open to question.

However, the host was only a member of the peripheral grassroots at the moment. He was just an errand in Doma's interior, not even qualified to hold The Seal of Orichalcos.

However, he was lucky. His request to be assigned to the Domino Branch was actually approved by his superiors, so this player was lucky enough to skip the previous mission process and directly changed the map to Domino City.

In the end, in order to show off, and to prove that he was not just bragging, the host even posted all the distribution of Doma's strongholds in this city!

It seemed that Doma should be quite confident in the brainwashing effect of Orichalcos, and they were not afraid to disclose confidential information to grassroots personnel. Anyway, they felt that their believers could not rebel.

If a follower of Orichalcos wanted to reveal any information that endangered the organization to others, the imprint in his head would instantly erase him. And if someone tried to read the information in their minds through supernatural powers, like the Millennium Items, the imprint would also be activated, directly obliterating the believers.

This was similar to the self-destruction tactic used to protect disk information, it was almost foolproof, and there was no possibility of believers leaking information.

However

Even if it couldn't be read, no one has ever said that believers couldn't post on player forums to brag about it!

At the end of the post, the host said that Doma meant nothing more than a tool to him. Now that he has fulfilled his wish and come to Domino, which he has been dreaming of day and night, Doma was useless to him.

At this moment, the host was thinking about how to defect from Doma, and find a way to find Yuei Vu-san.

Now he was formulating a plan, and he was going to find a suitable opportunity to die. Not only the respawn would help him slip away from Doma's nose, but it could also clear the mark of Orichalcos on his head.

Yuei Vu was very satisfied with this potential leek's self-awareness and self-cultivation as a leek.

My leeks will not only harvest themselves but will even take the initiative to infiltrate the enemy's interior as undercover agents, dare you to believe it!

And inspired by this host, a large number of players in the following posts expressed that they had learned it, and all of them were gearing up to go to their respective cities to find Doma.

Doma's forces spread all over the world, and there were Doma's shadows in any corner of any city in the world. In theory, all players had the opportunity to join.

Of course, not everyone could join. It would be lucky if 100 out of 10,000 players find the right path, but 99 of those 100 players may not be accepted by Doma.

After all, with such a big organization, there should still be selection criteria.

But players had the advantage of the huge quantity and the wide range of distribution. As long as enough players actively applied, there would always be a spy or two who could get in.

Now that Yuei Vu had the information in his hands, the problem was naturally much simpler.

In the animation, Doma hid deeply in this world and was extremely powerful. The protagonist group was in a disadvantageous position of passively accepting moves in front of Doma.

But now, what Doma was facing is an organization that surpasses the common sense of the world, subverting every cognition. Even in his 10,000-year lifespan, Dartz has never seen such a force.

This organization was very scattered, and its origin could not be traced back. Even members who were on different continents and have never been in contact with each other had an inexplicable tacit understanding.

Brainwashing, mind reading, even Shadow Games and soul destruction, no conventional trick had any effect on them at all.

Their appearance was exactly the same as that of ordinary people, to the point nobody couldn't tell them apart at all. Anyone in any corner may be a member of them.

They were pervasive and could lurk around any corner. They had the ability to recognize each other at a glance, but you could never tell the difference between them and ordinary people.

Then there was the most critical point, that is, they had a different understanding of the game of Duel Monsters, and they could always play some unexpected tricks, which could make even the best veterans feel hard to guard against.

They were players.

When the forum was closed, a bold idea had already formed in Yuei Vu's mind.

In the animation, the whole world was helpless against Doma, but now Yuei Vu may have a chance to take the initiative.

A war between an organization called The Players and Doma was about to start.

Chapter 237: What Are You Wearing On Your Head?

Tonight was destined to be a sleepless night.

Domino City, a stronghold of Doma.

The person in charge of the stronghold gave a weekly missionary lecture on the stage. After all, Doma was a society that focuses on ideological work. They required their congregants not only to play cards well but also not to slack off in ideological construction.

Every week, the person in charge of each stronghold must hold large-scale speeches and missionary work to strengthen the ideological education of believers under their banners and consolidate the intensity of brainwashing. This was the iron law of the entire organization.

The wall behind the person in charge here was engraved with the six-pointed star mark of Orichalcos. When he was talking passionately on the stage, he suddenly heard the sound from the crowd below

Was it snoring!?

The person in charge closed his mouth, and the whole hall suddenly fell silent, only the even and long snoring echoed in the empty room

All eyes were on the place where the voice came from.

They saw a believer wearing a black hood and wrapped in black, standing with his head tilted at the moment, snoring happily

The person in charge was furious at the time.

How did he doze off while I was lecturing on the great teachings?

Moreover.. this bastard can snore while standing? What kind of art is this?

The manager rushed in front of the congregation aggressively, and said angrily, Boy, did you sleep soundly?

It turned out that the guy was still snoring and didn't respond at all.

The manager furious lifted his hood: Still sleeping!?

But he never expected that this guy suddenly raised his volume and yelled: Straight Flush!

The manager was so frightened that he suddenly jumped back and almost sat down on the ground.

Then the sleepy guy finally opened his eyes, with a blank face: Huh? Ah, you called me?

The manager said with a sullen face, Whats your name?

I my name is The Poor Monk Goes To The Brothel Alone

The manager:???

The conditions for membership on Domas side were actually quite simple.

After the review, if the higher-ups thought that you were loyal, or you played cards well enough, you may join.

Peripheral personnel did not need to register or review forms to join the organization. Anyway, even if there were spies, they would be directly turned into members after brainwashing and imprinting. So even the person in charge didnt know that there were still people with such strange names among the peripheral members under his hands

The player called The Poor Monk Goes To The Brothel Alone also felt a little bit of pain in the ass at this time.

He just felt that it was too dull to hold this meeting and listen to this preaching, so he pretended to listen to the lecture while being AFK and playing minigames with the small plug-in in the game cabin. Back then he fooled the teachers in online classes many times.

However, he didnt expect that the game World Link Online has such a hidden setting: the player character would snore by himself after AFK for too long without operating. The designer came up with such a crazy idea to counter screwballs

The player realized that he got into trouble, but there was no way to solve it.

However, he felt that it was no big deal.

He had planned to die once so that he could sneak out of Domas organization, and took the opportunity to hug Yuei Vus thigh

Dare to defile the sacred ceremony, I think you have already made the corresponding awareness.

The manager said coldly, and with a flick of his robe, he revealed the Duel Disk.

Then return your soul to the great God of Orichalcos!

Look, in this world, even punishments were executed by playing cards.

The Poor Monk Goes To The Brothel Alone had no reason to refuse. If he won, nothing would happen, and if he lost, he just needed to die once. Either way, he suffered no loss

It was at this moment that a dull explosion echoed in the hall. The wall was shattered, flames poured in from the shattered holes, scorching air waves raged in the confined space, and the believers who bore the brunt were overturned.

At that exact moment, the windows on one side of the main hall also shattered. Figures appeared one after another from behind the collapsed walls and shattered windows, and instantly surrounded the entire hall from all sides.

The manager was taken aback, turned his head to look, and couldn't help being shocked

Nightcrawler World!?

How did they find it here?

At this time, The Poor Monk Goes To The Brothel Alone was even more surprised than him.

Because among all the Doma members present, The Poor Monk Goes To The Brothel Alone was the only one who could see that although this group of duelists wearing the uniforms of the Nightcrawler World, almost everyone had colorful IDs of different lengths floating on their foreheads.

All of them are players!

Fuck, these are all my own people!

At this time, the screwballs were very excited.

It's amazing, it seems to be Doma's lair!

Isn't that nonsense? Yuei Vu-san is the protagonist of the world, how can he be wrong?

Come on, brothers!

A group of attacking screwballs quickly took control of the situation. They rushed into the hall in a swarm, quickly caught the nearest person, and without any explanation, they opened the Duel Disk and forcibly engaged in a duel with a turbulent aura.

Some screwballs were even pushing and shoving each other.

Hey, what are you doing? I came first and this one belongs to me. You die!

Fuck! It's obviously me who opened the Duel Disk first, so this guy should be mine!

Why don't we ask him for his opinion?

The Doma believer who was blocked by two screwballs: ???

After getting the distribution map of Doma's strongholds in Domino from the player forum, Yuei Vu returned to the Nightcrawler World's headquarters that night and launched a lightning raid on all the strongholds at the same time.

This wave was a surprise attack, and before the opponent reacted, all the main forces of Doma in the Domino area would be eliminated!

In the plan, the players in Domino became the main force of Yuei Vu.

The players on Domino City were all Closed Beta and Open Beta players, who more or less bought some good things from Yuei Vu's store, got rid of the Normie card pile, and became much stronger than the average passer-by duelists in the DM era. Relying on the tactical awareness and deck construction ability beyond the times, players still had no pressure to fight against Domas middle and lower duelists.

Of course, more importantly, the player could not die.

If the opponent lost the card game, they would be punished and Orichalcoss barrier would seal their souls, but the players would not.

Free cannon fodder that could be reused infinitely was simply the first choice for war.

This wave of raids on the Doma stronghold was unexpected, and Doma members were a little confused in the face of the sudden wave of screwballs.

Many congregants opened the duel board in a daze before they knew the situation, and somehow played cards with the emotional screwball in front of them

As the person in charge of the stronghold, the manager seemed to have met the leader of the group of screwballs at this time but he was not very sure.

He suspected this was the leader because all the screwballs around this guy honestly retreated to the side when he came on the stage, and some people respectfully called him Brother Noragami.

And the reason why he was not very sure was because there was an ugly and stupid rabbit headgear on this guys head, which made people completely confused and couldnt figure out what kind of being this thing was.

Hello, Im Native Noragami. The guy wearing a rabbit headgear opened the Duel Disk, It seems that you are the leader here. Come on, lets fight!

The manager:?

Dont you just plan to play cards with me wearing this thing?

Chapter 238: Don't Underestimate Autistic Players, You Idiot!

When Native Noragami, who was wearing a funny rabbit headgear on his head with two rabbit ears flickering, stepped forward, the person in charge of Domas stronghold obviously didnt realize the seriousness of the problem.

At this time, he looked at the player with a contemptuous gaze as if he was watching a mental patient, and he did not hide the contempt in his gaze.

Obviously, he didnt take this duel seriously. For him, it was not a challenge at all.

Can I, the manager of the sixth stronghold of the third base of the southeast zone of the Domino branch of the dignified Doma organization, be defeated by a mental patient?

Impossible!

He even felt that his IQ had been greatly insulted.

Hmph, if you want a duel, I will accompany you at any time. The manager sneered and opened the Duel Disk, My name is Murdoch. Remember it firmly, this is the name of the person who will bring you the end!

This Murdoch was very witty, probably because he knew that the general kind of passer-by who had no face and no name would die the fastest, so he hurriedly reported his name before the fight to gain a sense of presence.

But it didn't matter, our brother Noragami was a veteran autistic player.

Murdoch noticed that when the two sides opened the Duel Disk, the screwballs on the side looked at him with sympathy, giving him the illusion that they were looking at the dead.

However, Murdoch was completely unconcerned.

Hmph, just a frog in the well, you can't even imagine how much power Orichalcos can give people!

Today, I will let you see the strength of the manager of the sixth stronghold of the third base of the southeast zone of the Domino branch of the dignified Doma organization!

The duel began, it was Murdoch who went first. It seemed that this big brother was still very lucky, as he actually got the first turn in the duel with an autistic player.

However, the true autistic player should be able to carry out one's duel at any time, and not be easily shaken by such a trivial matter.

Murdoch drew a card, and then directly enters laughing mode, saying: Haha, told you Orichalcos could give people unimaginable power, such as unshuffling the deck.

I just started with The Seal of Orichalcos directly!

The sacred green barrier opened and immediately included both parties. The patterns of the hexagrams were engraved under the feet on both sides, and the magic circle around them rotated slightly, with complex hieroglyphs engraved on them.

Look, this is the ultimate power bestowed by the God of Orichalcos! Those who are defeated in this barrier will have their souls sucked out!

Murdoch shouted excitedly, and paused deliberately as if trying to find fear and shaken emotions from the other party's face. But he soon found out that it was futile.

After all, the opposite side had a silly bunny headgear on his head, and Murdoch even felt embarrassed for a moment that he had been enjoying himself here for a long time.

Right. After all, the premise of being afraid and shaken is that the other party must have a brain. A fool feels no fear.

So Murdoch continued to operate. He summoned a rare card with an attack power of up to 1800, and it was instantly increased to 2300 after receiving the blessing of Orichalcos' dark power.

[Battle Steer, ATK 1800 ATK 2300]

A monster with an attack power of 2300 had a very strong suppression power for most duelists today!

Let us now see how Noragami would deal with this pressure. He didn't even summon a single monster, and he just passed the turn after setting three cards!

At this time, Murdoch still didnt realize the seriousness of the problem, and even laughed loudly: Hahahaha, there must be something wrong with your deck construction, right? Cant even summon a single monster? With me, Lord Murdoch, as your opponent, its so pitiful.

Then let me show the least kindness and end your poor life as soon as possible!

Activate Spell Card Polymerization! I fuse Battle Ox and Mystic Horseman in my hand!

Fusion Summon! Rabid Horseman!

Battle Ox was really a very miraculous monster. It could be fused with a centaur to form a species with the head of a bull and the body of a horse, which looked like a product of race-crossing romance.

[Rabid Horseman, ATK 2000 ATK 2500]

But at the moment he activated Polymerization, Brother Noragami also moved: Open the set card! Continuous Trap Skull Invitation! Whenever a card is sent to the graveyard, the owner will receive 300 damage for each card!

Brother Noragami, as a Premium player, certainly wasnt idle after the Battle City. These days, he worked hard from dawn to dusk, tried his best to improve Yuei Vus favorability, and burned out his credit card to buy a lot of crystals. As a result, the strength of his autistic deck was no longer the same as before!

This Skull Invitation was the core of the autistic deck, and it was proof that you had to cross this threshold and officially become a member of the underworld!

[Murdoch, LP 4000 LP 3100]

Here, not only did Murdoch have a -2 card advantage in one fusion, but the LP was also instantly reduced by 900. But he gritted his teeth and ignored it: A mere 900 points of damage is not painful at all. Rabid Horseman, attack directly!

Native Noragami waved his hand again: Trap Card Trap Hole of Spikes! When an opponents monster that was Normal or Special Summoned this turn declares an attack: Destroy that attacking monster, and inflict damage to the opponent equal to half the original ATK of that monster!

The poor Rabid Horseman was just halfway through the aggressive charge, and the ground under his feet immediately split open, and it fell directly into a hole full of spikes, which became a sieve.

Brother Noragami also lost 300 LP because of launching the trap, but compared with the other party, it was nothing at all. Murdoch directly took damage equal to half of the original attack power of Rabid Horseman, which was 1000 points, plus 300 damage due to Skull Invitations effect.

[Murdoch, LP 3100 LP 1800]

Murdoch gritted his teeth: Then I still have the Battle Steer who hasnt attacked yet! Battle Steer, attack directly!

[Battle Steer, ATK 2300]

Native Noragami continued again: Activate Trap Card Defense Draw! Make the battle damage I take from this battle 0, and I can draw 1 card!

Damn it, I end my turn.

Murdoch felt a little aggrieved. Obviously, he was constantly launching fierce attacks, and the opponent didn't even call out a single monster, but on the contrary, he lost more than half of his LP, while the opponent's LP hardly changed.

In the end, when it came to Noragami's turn, this guy actually only set two cards, and then passed the second time.

At this time, Murdoch vaguely began to realize that something was wrong.

This guy does he plan not to summon even a single monster?

So how is he going to win?

Could it be that he wants to trap me to death?

And then to Murdoch's turn. This time he took out another tauren Noragami couldn't help but want to complain: I don't know what kind of special complex this Doma brother has for bulls, why he has such a special liking for the tauren. It feels like his deck is a group of various bull warriors.

[Battle Ox, ATK 1700 ATK 2200]

Then Noragami's trap was activated again at this moment, this time it was a Floodgate Trap Hole, which, when the opponent summoned a monster, could turn that monster to face-down Defense Position, and the controller could never turn it back on its own initiative. It's almost like being sent to the underworld.

Murdoch was distraught, and once again ordered Battle Steer to attack. However, an attack of this level of course couldn't harm a true autistic player. The Trap Card Counter Gate immediately negated the opponent's direct attack and let the owner draw a card.

Earning card advantage, blocking the attack, and getting the opponent angry by the way, it was killing three birds with one stone.

Brother Noragami deserved to be a veteran autistic player who has gotten hold of the essence of the underworld.

He didn't summon even a single monster, and dangled around the opponent's face like a naked girl, tempting the opponent to take the initiative to attack.

Then when the fierce and hungry tiger on the other side rushed to eat, oh, he hit a wall and found that there was a bottomless abyss ahead.

Want to fuck me?

Hey, I show it but won't give it to you, are you angry?

Murdoch was furious, but he had no choice but to end his turn.

Then Brother Noragami set three cards this time, and passed again.

Murdoch was very angry. After drawing the card, he first used the Pot of Greed to earn a +1 card advantage, then looked down, and started laughing again.

Do you think your tactics are very powerful? This Doma manager suddenly turned his face upward and laughed maniacally, I want to see how long your meek tactics can last under the infinite power (printing card) of us Doma!

I activate Quick-Play Spell Bronze Knights! Discard any number of cards in my hand, and special summon the same number of Bronze Knight tokens! (Anime card)

I discard two cards in my hand and Special Summon two Bronze Knight tokens!

[Bronze Knight Token, ATK 500 ATK 1000] x2

Then I normal summon Enraged Battle Ox!

Another tauren warrior in red armor appeared on the stage, swinging an ax and screaming in a high voice, looking quite emotional.

[Enraged Battle Ox, ATK 1700 ATK 2200]

Native Noragami:

How much do you like tauren, why are there all kinds of tauren in your deck

In this way, the number of monsters on Murdoch's field reached five. Except for one tauren who was sent to the underworld (face-down Defense Position), there were a total of four monsters that could attack.

Hahahaha! How is it? This is Orichalcos divine power! He laughed triumphantly, With so many attacks, can you still survive?

At this time, Murdoch only had two words in his heart

I win!

There was a unique pleasure when you were finally about to break through the autistic defense line, and about to crush the other party under your heel!

However, Native Noragami had no fluctuations in his heart. He even had time to think

Dont underestimate autistic players, you idiot!

Open the set card, Noragami flipped over the set card, Trap Card Just Desserts!

Its useless! No card can save you now!

Full of confidence, Murdoch yelled first to increase his momentum, but just in case, he narrowed his eyes and carefully read the effect description text of the trap card projected on the opponents field.

Hmm Let me see, for every monster on the opponents field, deal 500 points of damage to the opponent! ?

WTF, does it mean a direct 2500 damage to me! ?

No way! ! !

Murdoch, LP 0

Chapter 239: Resurrect! The Great God Of Orichalcos!

With the defeat of the leader Murdoch, the raid on the stronghold soon came to an end.

Doma was caught off guard, and the believers were completely unprepared. In addition, they faced a group of screwballs whose behaviors and tactical routines were completely unpredictable, therefore they suffered a lot of casualties.

Like Gurimo who was sent to attack Yugi Muto in the animation, Bourbon who attacked Yuei Vu before, and Gaspar who appeared in the headquarters of the Nightcrawler World, these were all high-level duelists in Doma.

They not only had relatively more powerful cards and stronger dueling skills, but also had better compatibility with the power of Orichalcos, and a stronger force than other believers.

Ordinary believers were far from that strong, and it was inevitable that they will not be able to withstand the onslaught of the players who were not afraid of death.

The Seal of Orichalcos continued to shrink, and the green light flashed one after another in the hall. Continuously beams of light penetrated the ceiling and were fired into the air, shooting into the dark clouds, and each beam of light took away a soul.

The number of Orichalcos believers decreased at a speed visible to the naked eye, and more than half of the believers in the stronghold had been defeated in the blink of an eye.

Of course, there was no player had unlocked Duelist Rank, so whether it was a brick hand or a heavenly hand, it all depended on luck.

No matter how perfect the deck was, there was always a chance to draw the five worst cards out of forty. On the contrary, no matter how gimmick the deck was, there was always a chance to draw all key cards.

If someone had a bad day, there would naturally be a brick hand. There were many players who confidently jumped off the field to open the Duel Disk, then drew five cards and went straight to Sparta.

The most handsome buddy, when seeing the opponent activated The Seal of Orichalcos first, looked at the cards in his hand, and found that he had a perfect brick hand with no usable card. He couldn't help vomiting blood for three liters on the spot, and began to automatically play a song Erquan Yingyue in the intracranial loop, and surrendered without even playing a card.

The Seal of Orichalcos contracted, making the Orichalcos believer on the opposite side confused.

Whats up?

Deliberately commit suicide? Is this guy a secret spy on our side?

Of course, there was no such thing as a soul for players.

After being defeated in The Seal of Orichalcos, the player was directly judged as dead by the system, and the countdown to rebirth would begin immediately.

If you want to do something, you have to do it thoroughly. Of course, it was impossible to raid only one stronghold on the side of Nightcrawler World. At the same time, all the branches of Doma in other areas of Domino City were also attacked at the same time.

After communicating with Industrial Illusions, Tenma Gekko also temporarily mobilized the Shadow Duelists under his command to assist them in launching an attack together.

All strongholds were attacked at the same time, leaving no room for the opponent to react.

According to the operation mode of Orichalcos, the The Seal of Orichalcos in the hands of each believer should have borrowed a small part of the power of the legendary God of Orichalcos. Then in return, the souls of the defeated would be offered to the god of Orichalcos as nourishment.

From this point of view, the God of Orichalcos may be particularly busy tonight, and the extra meal tonight was more plentiful than any other day.

As the green lights ascended to the sky, this evil god received many prompts: Soul +1, +1, +1

In Domas headquarters, Dartz also began to realize that something was wrong.

All the bases in the Domino area were exposed and were violently attacked. Although Dartz was a little surprised by the news, he didnt take it too seriously.

For Doma, a behemoth with power all over the world, this loss could at best be regarded as losing a manicure.

In fact, Dartz didnt care about the group of believers under him at all. For him, they were a bunch of completely replaceable cannon fodder, which he could replenish anytime.

After all, his ultimate goal was to resurrect the God of Orichalcos, for which a large number of souls were required as sacrifices. This soul can be either the enemys or ones own.

So it didnt really matter whether Doma members won or lost in the war. As long as each The Seal of Orichalcos brought back a soul, it wouldnt have much impact on the plan.

However, seeing more and more images engraved on the slate for collecting souls in the main hall, and a large number of souls pouring into the temple, Dartz began to realize something was wrong.

Why are there suddenly a lot of duels? Moreover, it seems that most of the people who come here are from our side?

To be reasonable, all of Domas Shadow Duelists were given The Seal of Orichalcos and Orichalcos amulet, thus their force as a duelist should not be weak.

Even if they couldnt win against Duel Kings like Yugi and Yuei, they shouldnt be unable to win even a game against ordinary members of the Nightcrawler World, right?

Dartz felt something was wrong more and more, and his thoughts moved slightly, so he decided to take this opportunity to add fuel to the fire and test it out a little.

He stood up from the throne and came to an empty temple in Domas headquarters.

The heavy stone door creaked and opened automatically in front of him. Dartz strode into the dark temple, the empty temple itself seemed to sense his arrival, and the braziers on both sides along the way were lit up one after another.

The flames swayed and danced, stretching Dartzs shadow on the ground for a long time.

The moment he reached the end of the temple, the braziers in the entire hall were lit up one after another. Right above each beam of flames was a snake head carved in bronze. They all had ferocious faces, with their mouths wide open, and their fangs reflected the bright firelight.

This was the temple that guarded the Sealed Gate, the forbidden land to awaken the God of Orichalcos.

According to Dartz's original plan in the animation, Doma would snatch the three god cards from the Duel King, and then place the three god cards in this temple as a sacrifice, using their divine power to open the sealed door and wake up their sleeping Orichalcos god.

But now this plan has gone a little bit awry.

At present, the three god cards were all in Yui Vu's hands, and it seemed that it was not so easy to get them.

But Doma has been lurking for ten thousand years, and finally decided to make a move at this time. Of course, it was impossible to only prepare just one plan.

In fact, this part of the animation was more or less nonsense. Doma's Three Swordmen directly skipped the card-playing process and snatched the God's Card from the grandfather of Yugi. It's like the NPC in the game had to die for the advance of the plot.

If they really wanted to snatch the three god cards from Muto Yuki and the nameless Pharaoh head-on, they might not be able to do so.

As a conspirator, since Dartz decided to make trouble, he would definitely not pin his only hope on a single plan.

If his plan depended entirely on a thief that may not succeed, Dartz was too low for a BOSS. Even if the first set of plans was unsuccessful, he must still have a backup.

When the God of Orichalcos was fully revived, Dartz felt that he would not be afraid even if he faced the three Egyptian gods!

Our great God. Dartz raised his hands, Use that great power to open the door between the other world and this world, and come down in this era!

Resurrect! The great god of Orichalcos! ! !

Chapter 240: Treeborn Frog

While Dartz was preparing to make trouble, the sudden war in Domino City reached its climax.

The distribution of Doma all over the city was conquered one after another, and the forces of Orichalcos in the whole city were rapidly shrinking. The good news came back to the headquarters one after another, and within a short time, there were no more than ten of Doma's vital forces in the city.

Yui Vu, who was the main force of the Nightcrawler World, and Tenma Gekko, the leader of the Industrial Illusions, also participated in the battle in person.

Domino was hailed as the Duel Capital by the world, so Doma's investment in this territory was slightly stronger than in other places. There were several high-level Shadow Duelists stationed here.

These experts performed quite brilliantly at first, defeating many duelists from Nightcrawler World and Industrial Illusions by themselves. But after three of them confronted Tenma Gekko, the resistance came to an end.

Tenma Gekko, as the perfect duelist, was also at the top level of duelists in this era, and even Yuei Vu felt pressure when facing his attacking angels. The average duelist could not be his rival.

There were also two tough guys that Yuei Vu personally took care of. But he didn't expect that Snow Wave also defeated a senior cadre of the other party, and gained a wave of reputation among the players. It seemed that Yuei Vu's cultivation of him since the Closed Beta was not in vain.

Although Yuei Vu was not present to watch the battle, he knew that Snow Wave was a gimmick player, so he guessed this guy may get a heavenly hand again.

Then unexpectedly, President Kaiba also came forward and killed two experts of Doma.

The president was very interesting. When Yuei Vu and Gekko proposed to raid Doma's stronghold tonight, the president said boring as if he was not interested at all, but then he coincidentally appeared at the battle site.

Then the president suspected that seeing such a large group of people gathering to play cards was very itchy, so he on a whim took the Duel Disk to join the battle, and also helped Yuei Vu and the others solve the two senior cadres.

As the Doma strongholds fell one after another, soon, there was only the last major battlefield left in the city.

That was Doma's headquarters in Domino City, which was hidden a few streets away from Kaiba Company. Their disguise was a tobacco and alcohol sales company, and the location selection could be said to be quite arrogant.

At this time, the battle in the company building was also reaching its climax.

Ahhh!!!

With screams and explosions, a player with a long ID floating above his head was blasted out. His back hit the green transparent barrier wall behind him, and he was bounced back like a rubber ball and fell back to the ground.

[Player xxx, LP 0]

Many players before him have already been beaten like this. The magic circle shrank and twisted to the soles of his feet. The player sat cross-legged on the ground, saying in annoyance that he almost missed something, and he dropped dead on the spot.

Of course, the player's soul could not be sealed. At the moment of defeat, he would be directly judged dead and enter the countdown to resurrection. The Seal of Orichalcos was unable to seal anything.

The Orichalcos believer standing opposite, named Aaron, was one of the top Shadow Duelists in the entire organization, only under the Doma Three Swordsmen.

He was also the most senior leader of the Domino branch.

There was a loophole in the intelligence, the address of the stronghold was leaked, and all the strongholds in Domino were uprooted. Such huge negligence made him, the person in charge, feel that his crime was worth a hundred death sentences, and he had already made up his mind to stay in Domino until he died in battle.

So far, he didn't know how many players have fallen in front of him. This was also one of the reasons why this last stronghold has not been conquered until now.

And at this moment, the transparent dome shattered with a bang. A figure gracefully floated down from the roof, landed in a half-squat, and landed between the players and Aaron.

Yuei Vu slowly got up and looked up at the opponent: It'll end here. Your next opponent is me.

A group of players climaxed instantly.

The girls cried out as if seeing idols at a concert.

OMG! Yuei Vu-san!

The living person! The kind that still moves...

The players who were busy playing cards with other believers couldn't help but took time out of their busy schedules to take a look here, and the players who had nothing to do next to them excitedly turned on the recording function. It was estimated that the new video material would be released soon

Aaron chuckled: Duel King, huh? That's fine. If I can hunt your soul, it should be enough to make up for some of my mistakes, right?

Duel King Yuei Vu, it is perfect for you to be my opponent! Come to me!

Yuei Vu didn't waste time talking nonsense and directly opened the Duel Disk.

Duel! x2

I'll go first, draw! Although Aaron has put life and death aside, his eyes were still full of fighting spirit, I set a monster, and then set an S/T card. I end my turn.

It's my turn. Yuei Vu drew a card and added it to his hand, and then played a spell, Spell Card Graceful Charity! Draw three cards from the deck, then discard two cards.

He replaced the cards in his hand, and at the same time, the GY area immediately shone with golden light. A card that was just sent in quickly popped out.

At this moment, the effect of the Elemental HERO Shadow Mist that I sent to the graveyard was activated. He said, If this card is sent to the GY: I can add 1 HERO monster from my Deck to my hand.

The card I want to add to my hand is Elemental HERO Bladedge.

He opened the deck, found out the metal hero, and showed it to the opponent.

Hmph, Aaron snorted coldly, Do you want to add the high-level monster to your hand immediately? But to summon that kind of monster requires two Tributes

No need! There was another burst of golden light in Yuei Vu's cemetery, and another monster card just sent to the cemetery popped out from the cemetery area, Activate the effect of Elemental HERO Necroshade in the Graveyard. Once, while this card is in the GY, I can Normal Summon 1 Level 5 or higher Elemental HERO monster without Tributing!

What? Aaron narrowed his eyes, Do you plan to summon the Bladedge directly

Not bad, but before that Yuei Vu played another card, Ill use the Quick-Play Spell Mystical Space Typhoon to destroy the set card on your back row!

Facts have proved that Yuei Vus caution was correct. The set card that was blown away was a very powerful trap, Bottomless Trap Hole, which could directly destroy and banish a monster with an attack power of 1500 or more when it was summoned.

If he hadnt blown it away with a typhoon first, then the Bladedge might have to say goodbye before he could stand still.

Then the effect of Elemental HERONecromancer in the GY is activated! The card popped up in the area of Yuei Vus tomb, I normal summon Elemental HERO Bladedge without Tributing!

The golden light burst out, and the golden steel hero flew out with the flames of the engine behind him, and with a loud shout, the sharp metal blade on his wrist was revealed.

"

[Elemental HERO Bladedge, ATK 2600]

Bladedge, attack that defensive monster!

Bladedge let out a low cry, and the engine behind him sprinted straight up. The golden blade sliced open the covered monster card, and it turned over to reveal a small frog with angelic wings and a golden halo on its head.

[Treeborn Frog, DEF 100]

As the monster was eliminated, Yuei Vu continued: Bladedges special ability when he attacks a defensive monster, he can inflict piercing damage!

After the impact of the golden blade cut through the frogs body, it hit Aaron unabated. The latter snorted and swayed as if he was about to fall.

Aaron, LP 4000 LP 1500

Set a card, I end my turn.

After this round of onslaught ended, Yuei Vu seemed to have gained a phased advantage, but at the same time, Yuei Vu was not overly optimistic.

What made him more concerned now was that the monster he chopped down just now was actually Treeborn Frog?
