

I Play Yu-Gi 261

Chapter 261: Thank You, Yuei Vu

Tenma Yako, LP 0

Yako looked at the LP that had returned to zero on his Duel Disk, and stayed there for a long time, unable to accept the fact for a while.

I lose.

Why is this happening?

Obviously, he has tried his best. He felt that his considerations were correct and that the tactics and arrangements of each step were perfect, but he still lost in the end.

In the end, Yuei Vu still surpassed his calculations and perfectly cracked his last blow.

Tenma Yako carefully reflected on the process of the duel. In the last turn, Yuei Vu used the Burial from a Different Dimension to recover the banished Masked HERO Anki and provided materials for the special ability of Masked HERO Koga

After thinking about it, he only felt that Yuei Vu's consideration in this duel was one step ahead of his no, it should be many steps ahead.

Thinking about it now, maybe from the very beginning, Yuei Vu had actually seen the end of this duel. From the starting line, he has already lost.

Seamless, absolutely seamless Tenma Yako murmured.

Is this the duel of the Duel King?

Sure enough, Mr. Pegasus is right, I am still far behind

Yuei Vu, who put away the Duel Disk, didn't know whether this person was beaten into autism or what, but he felt that Yako might have some unreliable misunderstandings.

Actually duels don't need to pursue perfection like that. Yuei Vu was afraid that the other party's thoughts would turn into something incredible, so he explained, A duel is not a game of chess after all. No one can predict the direction of a duel.

Every duel is ever-changing. Every time the two sides draw cards and make tactical choices on the spot, it is the superposition of countless uncertain factors that makes this game unique.

Yako became thoughtful.

In fact, the same is true for a duelist. There is no such thing as a perfect duelist. If there is a perfect duelist, then I think it just means that his duelist of that person is The growth is all over, there is no room for improvement.

Tenma Yako's eyelids twitched: Wait, you mean

Well, it's just my personal opinion. Yuei Vu nodded, Tenma Yako, after fighting both of you, I think that as a duelist, your potential is better than that of your brother the so-called Perfect Duelist, Tenma Gekko.

It's not that Yuei Vu was just talking nonsense.

At the end of the manga Yu-gi-oh R, Tenma Gekko explained his title exactly this way. The so-called perfection also meant reaching the limit, and there was no way to continue to improve.

Compared with his elder brother who has lost room for advancement, his younger brother Tenma Yako was actually Pegasus most promising successor.

In the end, after knowing this, the darkness in Yako's heart was dispelled, and he broke free from the mental burden imposed by the Wicked Gods, then was whitewashed and returned to normal.

Yuei Vu guessed that if he had made these words clear in advance, there should be no reason for Tenma Yako to turn to the dark side.

Hmm By the way, I can get a wave of this little brother's favorability.

Pegasus was not here at the moment, so Tenma Yako was basically the head at the headquarters of the Industrial Illusions. Has the work here been done, the follow-up work should be easier.

See, isn't the favorability level just going up now?

So is that so? Yako murmured in a trance.

Unable to compare to his elder brother, and has been living in the shadow of his elder brother, this was the darkness that Tenma Yako has always hidden in the deepest heart.

But now? For the first time, he was told that the truth was the exact opposite. In fact, he was the better of the two, the successor his adoptive father Pegasus was most optimistic about.

Of course, such a fact would make him feel a little unbelievable—after all, it was completely contrary to what he had known for many years.

If anyone else had said that to him, Yako probably wouldn't believe it. But considering that the other party was Yuei Vu, the Duel King who stood at the top of the dueling monster world, Yako felt that he couldn't question it.

Even if the explanation about the perfect duelist was not the case, he has already been recognized by the Duel King. For a duelist, he couldn't ask for more.

Immediately afterward, he thought of his childish behavior just now, willfully demanding a duel with Yuei Vu, whom he had just met for the first time, and talking to himself as an opponent, clamoring to surpass him.

In contrast, the other party didn't care about his willfulness at all. Moreover, he also told him these truths, which untied the knot in his heart that he had never mentioned to anyone.

As expected, he should be called the Duel King. Not only does he have absolute strength in duels, but he also has extraordinary insight, and he can see through my little thoughts at a glance. And this kind of attitude and mind are also admirable.

In contrast, Yako felt ashamed of his previous performance.

I can't show the spirit of a duelist. I can't show the upbringing that Mr. Pegasus's adopted son should have. I'm really ashamed

[Favourability + 1, +1, +1]

Yuei Vu looked at him, and couldn't help but wonder.

Wait? Just add your favorability Why are you blushing?

You are not a cute girl. Blushing like that will make both of us embarrassed

Tenma Yako let out a long breath as if he had never been so convincing in a loss in his life.

I lost. He said, Mr. Yuei Vu. I have to admit that you are stronger now.

Its a fluke. Yuei Vu smiled, Its just luck. (Referring to Lucky 20)

Hearing this, Jonouchi was the first to be dissatisfied and stepped forward to pat Yuei Vu on the shoulder: Dont say that. Luck is also part of strength!

That is to say, like a player who reached the quarter-finals by dice, this one is really lucky. His good brother Honda snickered beside him.

What did you say!?

Jonouchi immediately attacked, expressing that he summoned his fists and was ready to rub against his good brother.

Tenma Yako was thinking hard.

Through this duel, Yuei Vu not only solved his knot but also demonstrated tactics that were utterly beyond his calculations. This reminded Yako that a duel was not a game of chess, and blindly pursuing perfect calculations would instead become a shackle that limited oneself.

It was an aspect he had never thought of, and one that showed him entirely new possibilities for dueling.

Tenma Yako suddenly felt as if he had broken through a bottleneck and saw a brand new path.

Thinking of this, he couldnt help turning around, and said to Yuei Vu seriously: Mr. Yuei Vu.

Huh? Yuei Vu turned his head, and could not help but feel puzzled seeing his expression as if he was about to talk about something important.

Thank you very much for your guidance. Yako bowed solemnly, Your intentions have indeed been conveyed.

Yuei Vu: ?

My intentions? What do you mean?

Could it be that he had an epiphany after playing a card game?

But since the other party was so sincerely grateful

Youre welcome. Yuei Vu waved his hand, Next time I have a chance, I look forward to confronting you again.

At this moment, Yuei Vu was thinking in his heart that verbal thanks were enough, after all, Duel Kings were responsible to give pointers to juniors.

However, it would be great if this junior could be more sensible and thank him with something substantial.

This Duel King didnt have any other hobbies, but he had a soft spot for rare cards and Duel Disks

Chapter 262: Learn And Train

Although Yuei Vu felt in his heart that it would be a waste to make a trip to the headquarters of the Industrial Illusions, and not get some cards to strengthen the deck, he still didnt mention it.

After all, he was now the Duel King, and the little brother Yako seemed to be ready to make him an idol.

Looking at the words Favourability + 1 popping up continuously on the top of his head, and the admiring gaze as if looking up to an expert, Yuei Vu felt a bit embarrassed to ask for benefits

Strictly speaking, Pegasus has already sponsored a card for them.

Although it looked like an incomplete card on which nothing was drawn, a veteran in Yu-Gi-Oh could recognize its strength even if they havent seen the original animation. Everyone knew that the more vague the card text, the more awesome the card.

For example, if you have a magic card in hand, the picture on the card was a moon and nothing was written in the effect text. At this time, you could play freely, such as activating this moon, and then summoning monsters to destroy this moon, so that the moon would disappear and the tide would ebb, and the monsters on the opposite field would be wiped out due to being

How could those with clearly written card text do this kind of thing?

And according to the duel bet, Tenma Yako has voluntarily agreed to hand over all the command rights of the Industrial Illusions to Yuei Vu. This is quite a lot of power. If Yuei Vu continues to add conditions for benefits, even he himself thought it was immoral

Yuei Vu said that he was a decent person who could control his greed. Just a few cards are enough.

However, he never expected that Yako was unexpectedly sensible: However, since the next is a dangerous battle of survival, and the opponent we have to face is also unprecedentedly powerful, then we must be fully prepared.

How about this? Now that Mr. Pegasus is not here, I can take full responsibility for the Industrial Illusions. I have already arranged for people to prepare. All the non-top-secret cards currently in stock of the Industrial Illusions will be open to everyone these days.

Everyone present was shocked instantly.

What the hell is such a good thing!?

All the cards of the Industrial Illusions? No matter what rarity it is! ?

This is too generous!

Yuei Vu originally thought that no matter what the other party sent, planned to reject it with righteous words. But at this time, he couldnt help but fell into silence.

Heaven and earth, please be witness to my conscience. I really wanted to refuse from the bottom of my heart, but it was too much

Among the people present, the mook duo, Insector Haga and Dinosaur Ryuzaki, were the happiest. Originally, this matter should have nothing to do with the two of them, and of course, they were not considered Yugi's friends.

But these two guys found out that Pegasus had sent an invitation letter to invite Muto Yuki to come to the headquarters of the Industrial Illusions. The two of them thought that this trip must be the chance to earn a lot of rare cards, so they hid in the luggage compartment of the plane and came along.

After listening to nonsense for a long time, now they finally heard that there were rare cards that could be obtained. The duo almost jumped directly to the sky with excitement.

By the way, Yuei Vu rolled his eyes at the two, What are the two of them doing here?

Yuei Vu's impression of these two in the animation was two useless shit-stirring sticks that are good at neither dueling nor morality. At the beginning of the Duelist Kingdom arc, the five pieces of Exodia were thrown into the sea by Haga. In the later stage of Waking the Dragons arc, these two guys even joined the dark side without blinking.

Seeing that he was about to fight with Doma, Yuei Vu didn't want to bring these two loads into the car at all.

Everyone looked confused. After some discussion, they found that these two seemed to be pure passers-by, and there was no reason to be there. So after a joint vote, it was unanimously decided to kick these two bastards who looked like potential traitors out of the car.

Of course, Haga and Ryuzaki immediately got angry.

We want to protest! Severe protest!

Especially this Yuei Vu, it seems that he is deliberately targeting the two of us!

There are so many people present, but you are the only one who talks!

The duo looked angrily, staring at Yuei Vu with a fierce look. The resentment and viciousness in their eyes as if they wanted to grab him and take turns playing cards if they didn't agree with each other.

However, President Kaiba stepped forward and stood in front of the two of them with his arms folded, with a disgusting look on his face.

He's right. Kaiba said coldly, Just get rid of the trash. There's no room for you to talk here.

The president, a successful person in the upper class of society, who climbed all the way to this position starting from the orphanage by all means, naturally had an aura that ordinary people couldn't compare.

The duo was originally bullying masters, but when facing the glare of Kaiba, they were so frightened that they didn't dare to talk back, and silently retreated.

But at this moment, Yuei Vu thought about it and changed his mind again: Wait a minute.

The duo shook their bodies, their eyes lit up and they turned to Yuei Vu.

Fuck, is this guy suddenly so kind and wants to be a good person?

The two people who were planning to leave hurriedly turned around. They wished they could immediately swear an oath of loyalty on the spot, the kind that they would fight Doma to the last breath and were willing to offer their hearts and so on.

As long as Yuei Vu said he was willing to take them to get rare cards together, its not impossible for the duo to get down on the spot and lick his boots.

Anyway, the integrity of these two guys has been banished to different dimensions since the Duelist Kingdom, the face-down kind. They could do anything without a lower limit.

However, Yuei Vu was thoughtful: I thought about it. Although they are useless, they were once the champion and runner-up of the national competition. Although they are small characters, they still have strength. They are stronger than ordinary duelists. We need every bit of hope to win

Seeing the sudden change in Yuei Vus attitude, Haga and Ryuzaki were immediately overjoyed, thinking that rare cards have waved to them! The two hurriedly took advantage of the situation and bootlicked fiercely, saying that Yuei Vu was worthy of being the king of duels, his strength and demeanor were among the best in ten thousand, and he was handsome

However, they did not expect after a wave of analysis, Yuei Vu concluded: So if guys like the two of them are free to go, it would be quite a headache if they join the enemy.

So at least give them a place to er learn and train them while fighting Doma, and let them out when its over.

The duo was dumbfounded.

God damn it, are you a devil?

Learn and train my ass, this is simply imprisonment!

So thats the case, as expected of Mr. Yuei Vu, you are really thoughtful. Yako held his chin and thought, Indeed, the two of them can barely be regarded as insiders. Now that the war is imminent, it is true that you should consider the risk that someone may join the enemy.

The duo was shocked.

Dont you guys discuss such a scary topic in such a serious manner!?

What about the police? Where are the police?

oh wait, are the two of us illegal entry here?

Sorry, we dont need the police

Chapter 263: This Was The Benefit Of Having High Favorability

After disposing of the two potential traitors, Tenma Yako prepared to take everyone to the card storage warehouse of the Industrial Illusions to replenish ammunition.

Although the place where they were now was the headquarters of the Industrial Illusions, there was actually no inventory in the headquarters building.

This was also a misunderstanding by many people. Everyone always takes it for granted that there must be a lot of good things in the headquarters of the worlds largest card printing company, but in fact, there was nothing here.

After all, the company was just the headquarters for planning, design, and commercial operations, not a card printing factory. There was actually no card in this place.

When Yako put forward this proposal, Jonouchi looked excited: Yeah! With the rare card of Pegasus, Doma is not a problem at all!

On the other hand, Yugi Muto hesitated: This isn't that good? In this situation, it should be very difficult for you too

Yes yes. Jonouchi also suddenly thought, Isn't this a little bit of taking advantage of others

Yako smiled slightly: In this regard, please don't worry, Mr. Muto, I can take full responsibility for the headquarters. The current situation is not good for the Industrial Illusions, no, maybe for the whole world. It's on the verge of life and death.

If we can't beat Doma and get through this, then there is no tomorrow for any of us. It doesn't make sense to save cards for later.

So that's the case, it really makes sense. Jonouchi understood.

Kujaku Mai crossed her arms: It's meaningless to not use it when it's time to use it. Is that what it means?

Exactly. Yako said, But don't expect too much. Although Industrial Illusions is the center of dueling monster cards in the world, in fact, the cards we usually stock are only regular cards, not all rare cards.

After all, everyone should know that printing dueling monsters are unfathomable. Many cards in the environment on the market today are no longer produced and issued by us, and there are still some rare cards that even if we want to redo, we cannot reproduce them due to various conditions

For example, the Blue-Eyes White Dragon? Yui Vu asked.

Yes, for example, the Blue-Eyes White Dragon. Yako smiled, and glanced at Kaiba, The three copies of Blue-Eyes White Dragon in the hands of President Kaiba are undoubtedly the only copies left in the world. There is no way to reproduce it.

Kaiba snorted, but his nostrils almost turned up to the sky again, as if to say: Of course, I am the only mate of Blue-Eyes White Dragon here, and no one can get involved with my wife!

Of course, President Kaiba was not interested in the rare cards, so he bluntly said boring on the spot, turned his head, and prepared to leave.

Maybe the president felt that the cards in his personal inventory were not inferior to those of Industrial Illusions in either quality or quantity, or maybe he didn't want to take advantage of Pegasus.

So President Kaiba turned his head on the spot: Mokuba, let's go.

Yes, brother.

Mokuba was about to leave with his brother, but he was taken aback suddenly, wondering: Eh? Brother Yui Vu won't come with us?

Kaiba gave Yui Vu a blank look, and rarely missed him, and said coldly, Let him do as he wishes.

oh.

So Mokuba followed his brother. Before leaving, he turned his head and explained to Yuei Vu: Then, lets go back to the room first.

After the card game with Alister, the place where they rested also changed after all, the old one was almost destroyed in the card game before.

Yuei Vu:

He was just afraid that the president would just drag him away without saying a word, so he had a brainstorm, thinking about how to persuade the president. He didnt expect the president to be so sympathetic that he didnt even need to speak.

So it seems that Yuei Vus interest has already been figured out. President Kaiba has already found out that its almost impossible to prevent his Duel King from joining in the fun.

However, the president didnt think there was anything wrong with it He even appreciated it from the bottom of his heart.

The road of the strong is endless!

Even if Yuei Vu was now in the supreme position of Duel King, he still has not relaxed his pursuit of more powerful power. This just shows that he has not been dazzled by the glory of the past.

Was Kaiba himself the same kind of duelist?

Looking at the back of Kaiba, Yuei Vu instinctively felt that the president might have misunderstood something

Otherwise, why did the Favourability + 1 message continue to pop up above his head?

The rest of the people then followed Tenma Yako to the warehouse where the cards were stored.

As Yako entered the password, the door slowly moved away, and piles of cards like hills came into everyones eyes. Seeing row after row of neatly arranged cards, divided according to the series and types of cards, people couldnt help being dazzled for a while.

Jonouchi was shocked at the time: So many cards How much is this supposed to be!

Otogi Ryuji: Well a lot of cards! As expected of Pegasus

The four players also felt that the scene was shock and awe, but nothing more than that.

A warehouse full of cards looked awesome, but they were all mission props to them. Holding these cards was useless except for looking good.

Tenma Yako was quite satisfied with everyones reaction.

People were more or less vanity. The feeling when you brought your friends back home, showing off a collection that you have cherished for many years, and the friends gasped and said they were blinded by the flash, its a special pleasure. At this time, you would feel very satisfied.

However, he also found that among the people present, the two Duel Kings were the calmest.

This was also a matter of course. This warehouse seems to be full to the brim, but Yuei Vu has seen many similar scenes when he mopped up Ghouls.

Now he has several warehouses of stock in his hand, this kind of small scene was not worth being surprised about.

As for Yugi

Strictly speaking, he was still a major shareholder of Industrial Illusions. Its just a few cards, and of course, its not worth making a fuss about.

But Yako didnt think so. Now he secretly felt that the two Duel Kings were worthy of being true masters. They were so calm in the face of this temptation that no duelist could resist.

It seems that I still need to continue to work hard to reach the level of these two.

In fact, what Yako said was true, there were not many rare cards in stock. Yuei Vu already had most of the cards here in his hands.

After looting so many warehouses, he was in no shortage of card, as long as it was on the market in the DM environment. Occasionally, there were some special cards that were difficult to obtain, such as Card of Demise or Ring of Destruction, but he could obtain them from Kaiba Corp

Now it was too easy for Yuei Vu to get a few cards from the inventory of Kaiba. There was basically no one in the whole company who did not acknowledge him. Yuei Vu just needed to go to the person in charge of the card warehouse and said he wanted to go in and have a look. The other party smiled and let him go without even asking the president.

This was the benefit of having high Favorability.

So rather than strengthening his own deck, Yuei Vus goal was to further fill his own card library. Yako also generously stated that all the inventory was open to everyone. After all, if they lost this battle, the Industrial Illusions would not exist from now on, so there was no reason to keep the card.

After hearing this, and thinking of the cards in the warehouses he already had in his hand, Yuei Vu couldnt help having a bold idea

Chapter 264: I Want To 1 vs 3!

After staying in the warehouse for a few hours, everyone more or less got the cards they wanted to strengthen and supplement their own decks.

As the host, Tenma Yakos kindness was hard to refuse. In the end, even Yugi picked a few cards that he thought would be useful and made minor adjustments to his deck.

After finishing the work, Yugi and his friends went back to their respective hotel rooms to rest temporarily under the arrangement of Yako.

As for Yuei Vu, he followed Tenma Yako to the base of the Industrial Illusions fighting forces.

Back then, Pegasus was also the king who dominated an era. Bringing back the game of dueling monsters to the modern world and making this long-lost ritual become mainstream of Shadow Game again, Pegasus was also a legend at that time.

Before he was pulled down from the throne by Muto Yuki in the Duelist Kingdom, and then the Millennium Eye was taken away by an unknown person, he had supreme status among the Shadow Duelists all over the world.

It was conceivable that it is impossible for a king with such a huge power not to have his own organization of Shadow Duelists. Before the collapse of Pegasus, even Ghouls, which was also led by a holder of Millennium Items, had never dared to challenge the Industrial Illusions directly.

Even now, this organization was also one of the most powerful among the dark organizations in the world.

So it's not hard to imagine why their members felt dissatisfied when Tenma Yako introduced this commander who popped up suddenly.

It was true that Yuei Vu, who was a Duel King, could basically make a living by brushing his face in a world where card players were respected. It was impossible for all the Shadow Duelists to not recognize his handsome face.

But whether recognizing his face was one thing, and admitting his strength was another matter.

When Tenma Yako brought Yuei Vu to the headquarters and had just told the duelists to follow Yuei Vu's command, some people immediately expressed their displeasure.

Anyway, Yuei Vu was also an outsider, who belonged to Nightcrawler World and Kaiba Corp, and had nothing to do with the Industrial Illusions. Not everyone would accept an outsider to rashly participate in this kind of battle that was related to the survival of their Industrial Illusions and to play such an important role.

However, Tenma Yako said blankly at the time: Yuei Vu was personally approved by Mr. Pegasus, and this is also my decision. If anyone finds it unacceptable

As he spoke, he raised the dueling disc on his arm.

Then you have to pass through me first.

Yuei Vu:

What should I say?

It is indeed the underground organization of the Industrial Illusions, and Yako is indeed the number one seed player under Pegasus.

By the way, you usually don't make all your decisions by playing cards, right?

Which department is the quarterly fund allocated to? Everyone plays cards to decide.

Do you want to buy stocks? Everyone plays cards to decide.

Salaries, benefits, and personnel decisions all depend on playing cards.

It's all about playing cards.

But Yuei Vu didn't intend to let Yako solve this small problem for him. He stepped forward and patted Yako on the shoulder: It's okay, I'll just come here by myself.

Yako frowned: But Mr. Yuei Vu

It's okay, I'll take care of it soon.

As Yuei Vu said, he turned his head and looked at the few who were clamoring in disbelief.

In fact, Tenma Yakos prestige in the headquarters was still high enough, and Yuei Vus fame as the Duel King could not be understated, so there were not many people who stand up and express their dissatisfaction without concealment.

There were a total of three people standing here, a middle-aged man named Cedar Mill, a bespectacled guy named Kirk Dixon, and an unshaven uncle named Deschutes Lew.

The three were all masters in the Industrial Illusions known as Card Professors under Pegasus.

Speaking of it, it seemed natural for the Shadow Duelists to decide everything by playing cards, but now they really want to make a move, but the three look at each other, as if they are saying: Brother, hurry up! You were the bravest so you must go first!

After all, the opponent was the Duel King, and it was only human to be a little cowardly when it was time to be cowardly

But Yuei Vu quickly and considerately helped them solve this small problem. He waved his hand: Dont worry about it, save time, you three go together.

Not only these three people but everyone present at the base was shocked.

One versus three? Are you so confident?

Duel Monsters was like no other game. One versus three meant that the opponent has three times your resources, and three times the field area. With such a huge disadvantage, very few people could win.

Tenma Yako was also startled in his heart, but he soon came back to his senses.

Since Mr. Yuei Vu said he wanted to play 1 vs 3, then he must have considered it in his heart.

So he also said: Okay. If there is no objection, the duel will be between Mr. Yuei Vu and the three Card Professors, and it will follow the latest rules of the Tag Team battle.

Mr. Yuei Vu is a team of one person, while Card Professors are a team of three. Both sides will have one turn, and the team with a large number of players must replace one player every time it is their turn to play cards.

Then the same team shared 4000LP, the graveyard area is shared

In fact, it was basically a version of Yu-Gi-Oh! 3D Bonds Beyond Time, in which Paradox fought against three generations of protagonists. Just that fact was enough for him to be the most courageous villain in the history of Yu-Gi-Oh!

Such rules smooth out the difference in LP and the number of turns caused by the difference in the number of duelists, and to a certain extent reduced the difficulty of one-vs-many.

However, the glasses guy named Kirk seemed to think that this was not enough, he pushed his glasses and said in a deep voice, I have a presumptuous request. Why dont we conduct our duel according to the Battle Royal rules?

Tenma Yako frowned.

Battle Royal rules were different from Tag Team rules.

According to the Battle Royal rules, all duelists in the area fought independently, each had 4000LP and their own turn in a round.

This meant that Yuei Vu must use 4000LP to fight the three Card Professors with a total of 12000LP.

And that's not the biggest problem. This kind of battle rule also meant that after Yuei Vu's turn was over, he must go through three consecutive rounds of the opponents' operation before he could play his cards again.

With such an absolute disadvantage, even if he is a Duel King, it is impossible, right?

By the way, in the decisive battle in the Walking the Dragons arc, Dartz fought Yugi and Kaiba alone using such Battle Royal rules.

Dare to accept a duel under such conditions, Dartz was really confident in the cards printed by himself.

Normally, I wouldn't make such a request. But if the opponent is the Duel King Kirk pushed his glasses, and the reflection of the mirror covered his eyes, I think it's not a big deal, is it?

Tenma Yako frowned.

Using the rules of Battle Royal to fight against three, was already an undisguised unilateral rule suppression. It could be said that the advantage of three against one has been expanded to the maximum, and it was no longer a fair duel at all.

He felt ashamed when his subordinates made such unreasonable demands.

Even the other two Card Professors expressed dissatisfaction and were not very satisfied with the plan proposed by their companions.

Even if they beat Yuei Vu in this way, they would not feel any sense of accomplishment.

However, to everyone's surprise, before anyone else had time to raise objections, Yuei Vu shrugged indifferently: What you said is indeed reasonable. Well, let's use the Battle Royal rules.

As soon as this statement came out, everyone in the room was stunned.

Even Kirk, who proposed this proposal, was a little surprised.

He said this just to frustrate the opponent's spirit, and he didn't think Yuei Vu would accept.

Under such unfavorable conditions, was it really possible to win the duel?

Tenma Yako was a little surprised: Mr. Yuei Vu, are you sure? According to the rules of Battle Royal

No problem. Yuei Vu waved his hand generously, and said casually, After all, I was the one who said that three of them could go together. It would be petty to go back against my own words.

The other two Card Professors originally felt that such a victory was useless, but after hearing Yuei Vu's words, they felt that they had been greatly underestimated, and they couldn't help feeling angry for a while.

Even if you are the Duel King, how can you beat the three of us by yourself?

Okay, since you've said that, then we don't need to pretend. Deschutes opened the Duel Disk and said in a deep voice, Then come on, let the three of us experience the strength of the Duel King !

Chapter 265: Card Professors

Duel! x3

Yuei Vu, LP 4000

Kirk, LP 4000

Cedar, LP 4000

Deschutes, LP 4000

At this moment, the four of them had arrived at the duel arena inside the Industrial Illusions, surrounded by crowds of onlookers.

Even some other members who were not far from the base and heard about the duel also put aside their business and rushed over to watch the battle.

After all, he was the legendary Duel King, and he was fighting a 1v3 duel under the Battle Royal rules!

Everyone was curious about how Yuei Vu would respond.

Im the one who goes first, draw! Yuei Vu was the first striker here.

Because they already had a great advantage, the three Card Professors unanimously agreed to give Yuei Vu the right to choose who came first. Yuei Vu was not polite here and directly chose to go first.

According to the rules of Battle Royal, all players could not attack in the first round, so going first was definitely an advantage.

I summon Elemental HERO Shadow Mist in defense position!

The black mist rose, and the female hero in black appeared on the field in a half-squat, taking a defensive posture.

[Elemental HERO Shadow Mist, DEF 1500]

Then set a card, I end my turn. There was an extra card at Yuei Vus feet.

If there was no way to attack in the entire first round, there was no need to rush to start. Therefore, Yuei Vu saved the cards in his hand first and put out a more conventional starting lineup.

A HERO lady with a defense of 1500, such a weak monster. Kirk snorted, The so-called Duel King looks mediocre.

Yuei Vu was expressionless and didn't care.

This guy actually dared to call the leading lady of the Hero series, Ms. Shadow Mist, who once made countless players in the environment change their faces, as weak. This ignorant person's fearless courage was admirable.

Kirk, don't be careless, Uncle Deschutes, who looked calmest among the three, reminded him aloud, This time the opponent is unusual, so proceed carefully.

Even if it was three-on-one, Deschutes did not relax because of it. Or rather, it was precise because of this that more caution was required.

It would be fine if they won this match, but if they lost under such an absolute advantage, they might become the laughingstock of countless people.

Deschutes could already figure it out. If they lose this duel, the news would definitely spread wildly throughout the entire world. In a day at most, people all over the world would know that the three Card Professors of Industrial Illusions lost the duel by using the Battle Royal rules of three-on-one.

In that case, they must be nailed to the guilds Wall of Shame.

This duel cant be lost no matter what!

Yes, I understand.

However, the glasses boy Kirk obviously didnt care at all.

Its three on one, how can we lose?

Doesnt this mean we can win even if playing with our feet?

Then Ill go next. My turn, draw! Kirk smiled, Look like I got a useful guy as soon as I came up I summon Giant Orc in attack position!

After a noisy movement, a white-skinned orc appeared on Kirks field, roared furiously, and waved a shocking white bone in his hand.

[Giant Orc, ATK 2200]

A level 4 monster whose attack power was 2200. You could imagine how rare this card was in the DM environment.

Sure enough, as soon as this card came out, Kirks acquaintance next to him started booing.

Giant Orc? Although it is a powerful monster with 2200 attack power at level 4, it also has side effects. Tenma Yako next to him made a sound maybe he intended to remind Yuei Vu.

This card will be forced to switch to defense position after attacking and it cannot change its battle position until the end of the next turn.

[Giant Orc, ATK 2200, DEF 0]

Hmph, of course, this level is within my calculations! Kirk laughed. After all, I am a Card Professor under Mr. Pegasus!

Activate Spell Card Double Summon! In this turn, I can conduct the second Normal Summon. I will summon Second Goblin from my hand.

Then I activate Second Goblins effect! This monster can be used as an Equip Spell Card to equip to a Giant Orc on my field!

A ferocious purple goblin appeared on the shoulder of the Giant Orc. It squatted like a small pendant.

Once per turn, the Giant Orc equipped by Second Goblin can change its battle position. Kirk snorted, In this way, the side effects of Giant Orc will disappear.

The crowd of onlookers started to make a wave of bragging like you are worthy of being a Card Professor, he actually used such a clever method to avoid side effects, it was invulnerable and so on.

I end my turn! Kirk said.

Then its my turn, draw! It was the turn of the second Card Professor, Cedar, to play his cards. I summon Alien Shocktrooper in attack position!

A green-skinned alien came to his field, dressed in pitch-black steel armor, slashing the steel knife in his hand in the air.

[Alien Shocktrooper, ATK 1900]

He glanced at the solitary and lonely young lady hero on Yu Yus field, and couldnt help but sneer.

You must think that no player can attack in the first round, so you are absolutely safe, right?

Yuei Vu didnt say anything.

With Card Professors as your opponent, its better not to have such a naive idea. Cedar showed a card, Spell Card Tribute to The Doomed! Discard 1 card, then target 1 monster on the field; destroy it.

He sent a card in his hand to the GY: I destroy Elemental HERO Shadow Mist!

The mummy-like white bandage flew out, piercing through the air, at an extremely fast speed, and surrounded Shadow Mist unexpectedly.

The hero lady didnt have time to dodge at all, and she was tightly bound by a white bandage after a huff. If you looked closely, the bandage seemed to be a little tight. You could still see the curve of the heroine under the wrap Boom!

Its a pity that Shadow Mist was blasted under the magic effect in the next second, and she died fragrantly.

The effect of Elemental HERO Shadow Mist. Yuei Vu said, If this card is sent to the GY: I can add 1 HERO monster from my Deck to my hand, except Elemental HERO Shadow Mist.

He showed them the card he had picked out.

I add Elemental HERO Liquid Soldier to my hand.

Tch, try to be clever

Its not over yet. At this moment, you have activated my set card. Yuei Vu waved his hand, and the card at his feet flipped, Trap Card Soul Rope. When a monster on my field is destroyed and sent to the Graveyard, pay 1000 LP and Special Summon a Level 4 monster from my Deck! (anime effect)

Soul Rope was one of the trap cards commonly used by Yugi in the anime. He often used this card to special summon the Kings Knight from the deck, so as to quickly gather the Three Musketeers of Face Cards to sacrifice.

However, when it was made into a real card, the effect of this trap was weakened so that it could only be activated when the monster was destroyed by card effect, and its practical value was greatly reduced.

Thanks to the friendly sponsorship of Yako, Yuei Vu just happened to find this card from the card library of the Industrial Illusions.

Yuei Vu, LP 4000 LP 3000

I pay 1000 LP and special summon from the deck he revealed the hero he was about to call, Elemental HERO Blazeman!

Flames burst out on the field, and a flame hero wrapped in a tight uniform appeared on the field and squatted down on the Yuyu field as the flames lingered.

[Elemental HERO Blazeman, DEF 1800]

The effect of Blazeman, Yuei Vu continued, If this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can add 1 Polymerization from my Deck to my hand.

While speaking, he had already revealed the fusion spell card and added it to his hand.

After such an operation, Cedar couldnt help but feel that his attack had not only become useless but even seemed to have a counterproductive effect.

He pouted with some displeasure: Hmph, then my turn is over.

Others havent seen the problem yet, but a few onlookers have seen it.

Ha, this Card Professor is so rookie. After using three cards, all that is left on his field is a Normie. Fae said.

Yeah, Yuei Vu is getting more and more cards, and the card advantages are flying up. Snow Wave nodded.

Dont care about him, anyway, Yuei Vu-san is awesome!

However, the opponent starts with a lot of cards, so he is still at a disadvantage. Said the Native Noragami.

Miss Yuehua didnt speak. In her heart: Although what they said was so high-end that I couldnt understand it, Yuei Vu-san is awesome!

At this time, the gap in the game understanding between NPC and player was reflected. Immediately, an NPC with a lower level began to point out: Sure enough, its too much to fight against three Card Professors at the same time. Im afraid this Duel King is going to play off. He wasted 1000 Lp in the first turn, only then did he barely leave a monster on the field, and the start is a huge disadvantage

Now it was the turn of the last of Card Professors.

After Cedar declared that his turn was over, he glanced at the last companion and snorted, Don't worry, our attack is just about to start now.

Chapter 266: I Will Finish You Three

It's my turn, draw! Now it was the turn of the last Card Professor, uncle Deschutes who seemed to be relatively stable.

Deschutes, be serious. Cedar, who had just finished the turn, folded his arms. Let him see the demeanor of us Card Professors.

I know! Deschutes raised his voice, First of all, I activate Spell Card Foolish Burial, and send the EARTH attribute monster Stone Dragon from the deck to the GY!

Deschutes found the monster card from the deck, quickly threw it into the GY, and then showed another card in his hand: Then the monster Gigantes in my hand can be Special Summoned by banishing 1 EARTH monster from my GY.

I banish the EARTH attribute Stone Dragon from the GY, special summon Gigantes in attack position!

A red demon in armor appeared on the stage, holding a thick and long stick in his hand, and his body was as red as fire.

[Gigantes, ATK 1900]

Hey, it's really you, Kirk boasted commercially, It's a monster with an attack power of 1900, and the normal summon of this turn hasn't been consumed yet!

Hmph, is it coming? Your ace monster? Cedar also laughed, You're really full of fire as soon as it comes up.

Deschutes ignored it, and continued to operate on his own, slowly pulling out another card from his hand: I use Gigantes as a sacrifice to summon this monster my ace monster, which is both the strongest spear and the strongest shield!

Appear, Castle Gate!

Gigantes dissipated from the field and turned into bright spots, becoming the nourishment for the arrival of a superior monster. A huge red city gate fell from the sky and landed heavily on the ground, stirring up sand, gravel, and dust all over the sky.

[Castle Gate, ATK 0]

Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows: Attack position?

Castle Gate's attack power was 0, while its defense power was 2400. No matter how you looked at it, it should be summoned in defense position. However, the card professor here actually chose to summon it in the attack position, which was a bit weird.

That's right, it's in the attack position. Deschutes sneered, I said, Castle Gate is my strongest shield and my strongest spear at the same time.

Although no one can attack in the first round, if it is the special ability of this monster, it can break through this limitation

As he said, he quickly inserted the next card into the Duel Disk.

The next thing I want to activate is this Spell Card Monster Reborn! Resurrect the Gigantes in the GY!

The ankh symbol emerged, and a black vortex opened up on the ground. The crimson demon came out of the vortex violently waving a big stick, and let out a low growl.

[Gigantes, ATK 1900]

Next, Im going to use the special ability of Castle Gate! Deschutes pointed to the huge city gate in front of him, shouting, This ability can only be activated when it is in face-up Attack Position!

Once per turn, I can Tribute 1 Level 5 or lower monster to inflict damage to the opponent equal to that monsters original ATK! Monster Cannon!

So thats it. Yuei Vu nodded. Because you cant attack, you directly fire the monsters as shells to cause damage?

Exactly! Deschutes said, Even if its three-on-one, my opponent is someone with the title of Duel King after all, so let me be as cautious as possible!

During the conversation, Gigantes, who had just returned to the venue, had turned into a light spot and disappeared again, being sucked into the huge city gate.

The gate of the castle seemed to brew briefly, and then the gate suddenly bounced open to both sides. A blurry afterimage wrapped in golden light, like a piercing cannonball across the field, ignored the defensive monsters on Yuyu Field and blasted directly in his face. It exploded with a skyrocketing bang.

Yuei Vu, LP 3000 LP 1100

Very good, Deschutes! Kirk shouted at his companion, Its massive damage!

Cedar also said: His remaining LP is 1100, and we still have a total of 12,000 LP on our side. Keep this momentum, this duel will not be difficult to win!

The people who ate popcorn were in even more commotion.

As expected of the cooperation of the three Card Professors. Even before the attack round came, most of the duel kings life was cut off!

Sure enough, its still too difficult for 1-vs-3, isnt it?

It should be overconfident. It seems that the Duel King is too arrogant, and we should be able to easily win this round

Tenma Yako stood on the side without saying a word, just watching Yuei Vu silently.

If this continued, in the next round when the Card Professors could play their cards again, it would be the end. Having to go through the turns of the three of them in a row, Yuei Vu, who had few LPs left, would hardly be able to wait for his next turn.

Would Yuei Vu lose like this?

Although there seems to be no basis, Yako never had such an idea for a second.

Can Mr. Yuei Vu lose?

Impossible!

He was just curious that how Yuei Vu was going to fight back in such a situation.

I end my turn, Deschutes said.

The three Card Professors finally transferred the turn back to Yuei Vu.

My turn, draw.

Yuei Vu silently added the drawn card to his hand, then took out another card and inserted it into the Duel Disk.

Activate Continuous Spell Card of Safe Return. A spell card with a permanent mark appeared beside him, As long as this card exists on the field, whenever a monster is Special Summoned from any Graveyard, I can draw 3 cards.

Then he revealed the HERO that was added to his hand because of the effect of Shadow Mist in the previous round.

Summon Elemental HERO Liquid Soldier in attack position.

A figure appeared on the field, and the flowing water enveloped his whole body. The water-colored hero in a tight uniform turned around and gave a loud cry, the water all over his body exploded.

[Elemental HERO Liquid Soldier, ATK 1400]

The effect of Liquid Soldier! A card popped out from Yuei Vus GY area, When this card is Normal Summoned: I can target 1 Level 4 or lower HERO monster in my GY, except Elemental HERO Liquid Soldier; Special Summon it.

Come back to the field again, Elemental HERO Shadow Mist!

A vortex of liquid opened up on the ground, and the pitch-black mist was released, and the black-clothed heroine with a good figure quickly returned to the field.

[Elemental HERO Shadow Mist, ATK 1000]

Kirks face changed slightly: All of a sudden, there are three monsters

The effect of Shadow Mist! If this card is Special Summoned: I can add 1 Change Quick-Play Spell Card from my Deck to my hand! I will add Mask Change to the hand.

Yuei Vu opened the deck and picked out the spell card Mask Change which was now his signature.

Then there is the effect of Card of Safe Return! The Continuous Spell card beside Yuei Vu released a golden light, Because of the resurrection of Shadow Mist, I draw three cards from the deck!

Watching Yuei Vus actions of swarming, retrieving, and replenishing cards at high speed, the three Card Professors more or less realized something.

Be careful, Cedar gritted his teeth, its coming!

Yuei Vu glanced over the three of them and smiled lightly.

Take it easy, it'll be over soon, he said, I'll finish you three in this turn!

The three Card Professors: !!??

Chapter 267: One Turn Three Kills!

Not only the three Card Professors, but everyone presented at the base was shocked at the moment.

Did the Duel King just say that he would finish the battle in this turn?

He wanted to OTK not just one Card Professor, but three of them!?

That's a full 12000 LP!

From the perspective of duelists of this era, even if they did nothing and let the opponent attack freely, it was impossible to deplete a full 12000 LP in one turn.

Then it's time to go.

Yuei Vu first showed the spell card in his hand retrieved during the last round by the effect of Blazeman.

Activate Spell Card Polymerization! A spell card appeared in front of Yuei Vu, I fuse Elemental HERO Avian and Elemental HERO Sparkman in the hand!

The fusion condition is 1 Elemental HERO monster + 1 WIND monster!

Fusion Summon! Elemental HERO Great Tornado!

Green and golden light shot into the magic vortex, blending together to breed a new power. The strong wind swept the audience, like a demon roaring in the wind. The burly hero hovered majestically in the air, his cloak rattling in the wind behind him.

[Elemental HERO Great Tornado, ATK 2800]

The effect of the Great Tornado is activated! Yuei Vu said, If this card is Fusion Summoned, the ATK and DEF of all monsters on the opponents field will be halved!

[Giant Orc, ATK 2200 ATK 1100]

[Alien Shocktrooper, ATK 1900 ATK 950]

Kirk instinctively raised his arms to protect his face in the gust of wind created by the virtual image, and gritted his teeth: Our monsters were

Then I change Elemental HERO Blazeman from defense position to attack position, and activate its effect!

Yuei Vu opened the deck, pulled out one of the cards, and flipped it over between his fingers.

Once a round, Blazeman can send 1 Elemental HERO monster from my Deck to the GY, except Elemental HERO Blazeman, then this card's Attribute and ATK/DEF become the same as the monster sent to the GY, until the end of this turn.

I send the Elemental HERO Bladedge to the graveyard. Until the end of this turn, the attribute of the Elemental HERO Blazeman will be changed to EARTH, and his attack power will become 2600.

Blazeman gave a clear cry, the flames burning all over his body blurred into the color of the earth, and his strength seemed to increase.

[Elemental HERO Blazeman, ATK 1200 ATK 2600]

Deschutes face changed slightly: He summon four monsters so easily, and there are powerful heroes with attack power of 2600 and 2800

Battle! Yuei Vu waved his hand, I will deal with you first! Great Tornado, attack Castle Gate!

The biggest threat to Yuei Vu, who has only 1100 LP left, was naturally this unsightly door. That thing could use monsters below level 5 as sacrifices to directly inflict effect damage. If he didnt deal with that door first, it would be more troublesome for Yuei Vu if it was delayed until the next round.

However, as a price for activating this effect, Castle Gate with only 0 attack power had to stay in the attack position. So in turn, this was also equivalent to exposing ones own weakness.

The storm blasted by the Great Tornado hit the red door straight, and the huge iron-cast monster swayed precariously. The gust of wind penetrated the door panel and hit Deschutes, who was the controller, unabated.

Ughhhhh!!!

[Deschutes, LP 4000 LP 1200]

UhDamn it, Deschutes gritted his teeth, Castle Gate cannot be destroyed by battle

But you still have to take the battle damage. Yuei Vu smiled, Sorry, but you can leave here for now. Elemental HERO Liquid Soldier, attack Castle Gate!

The liquid hero flew up and struck out with his right palm through the air. The torrent turned into a vortex and blasted through the air to the giant door. The impact went straight through the gate and hit Deschutes.

Damn it!!!

Deschutes, LP 1200 LP 0

With unwilling screams, uncle Card Professor left the stage first.

Kirk swallowed, and couldnt help but feel a trace of fear.

The three of us wont really be OTKed within this turn, right??

No, probably not.

Two of the four heroes on the field have already attacked. No matter what the remaining attacks are, it is impossible to kill them all.

Three kills in one turn are just ridiculous!

As if seeing through his mind, Yuei Vus eyes immediately fell on him.

The guy with the glasses felt his heart skip a beat, he yelled Ah and almost jumped up in fright.

Dont worry, its your turn next. Yuei Vu showed the card in his hand at the beginning of this round, Quick-Play Spell Mask Change! Send 1 HERO monster I control to the Graveyard, then Special Summon 1 Masked HERO monster from my Extra Deck with the same Attribute!

I send Shadow Mist to the GY!

Transform! Masked HERO Anki!

The black mist was released, and she was dressed in armor. Shadow Mist quickly transformed into a DARK Masked HERO in a series with gloomy special effects.

[Masked HERO Anki, ATK 2800]

The remaining two were shocked: Continue to summon a monster with an attack power of 2800!?

I activate Mystical Space Typhoon to destroy your Second Goblin! Then the battle continues!

Masked HERO Anki, attack Giant Orc! Yuei Vu shouted, Rider Kick!

Anki took off with amazing jumping power and flew around like a whirlwind. With a flying kick, he swooped down and kicked the white orcs forehead hard.

The latter let out a dull scream, exploded under the heros kick, and turned into ashes.

Kirk, LP 4000 LP 2300

Kirk gritted his teeth: Damn it, my Giant Orc was so easily

At this moment, the special effect of Masked HERO Anki is activated! Yuei Vu continued to open the deck, Once per turn, when this card destroys an opponents monster by battle and sends it to the GY: I can add 1 Change Quick-Play Spell Card from my Deck to my hand.

He revealed another dazzling spell card.

I add Form Change into my hand.

The battle continues! Yuei Vu put the retrieved spell card into his hand and shouted, Elemental HERO Blazeman, attack directly!

[Elemental HERO Blazeman, ATK 2600]

Blazeman shouted and flew out into the air, seeming to imitate the posture of Bladedge, dragging two long tail flames behind him and rushing forward, like a flying missile.

The flame turned into a sharp blade on his arm, and the high-temperature blade slashed across Kirks body. The glasses boy let out a miserable snort and was immediately knocked to the ground by the burning impact.

Kirk, LP 2300 LP 0

In an instant, two people were defeated. In this way, Cedar was the last person left.

Seeing his companions fall down one after another, the remaining Cedar couldnt help swallowing, with a look of horror like seeing a ghost.

No way?

This guy really wants to finish all three of us in one turn!?

When Yuei Vu moved his gaze to him with a smile, Cedar also jumped in shock and almost cried out.

Its strange to say that the Duel King looked very friendly with a warm smile on his face, but when he met that gaze, it made people feel shuddering.

Its like facing a doctor with a syringe, walking over with a smile on his face, coaxing while smiling: Hey, stick your ass up, it will end soon and wont hurt at all

Quick-Play Spell Form Change. Yuei Vu played the spell card he had just retrieved from the deck, Return 1 HERO Fusion Monster I control to the Extra Deck, then Special Summon from my Extra Deck, 1 Masked HERO monster with the same Level as that monsters original Level, but with a different name.

I return Masked HERO Anki to the deck!

Transform! Masked HERO Dian!

The armor disintegrated, black mist surrounded Anki, and the transformation effect gradually changed from a dark color to a gorgeous and bright blue. The new armor which looked like crystal clear diamonds was re-dressed on the hero, transforming him into a new Masked HERO posture.

[Masked HERO Dian, ATK 2800]

Cedar was almost numb, and he muttered like a robot: Another hero with 2800 attack power

The battle continues! Yuei Vu pointed at the poor alien who was alone on the opponents field and whose attack power had been halved, Masked HERO Dian, attack Alien Shocktrooper!

Dian flew out, and the azure cloak fluttered like a banner. The sword left a blue arc-shaped trajectory in space, which was as bright as a diamond, and easily sliced through the aliens body, blowing it into pieces.

[Cedar, LP 4000 LP 2150]

The effect of Masked HERO Dian! Yuei Vus deck lit up, and a flame shot out from it, When this card destroys an opponents monster by battle and sends it to the GY: I can Special Summon 1 Level 4 or lower HERO monster from my Deck.

Bring it on! Elemental HERO Heat!

The pillar of fire fell on the field, transforming into the figure of a fiery hero, and at the same time announced that the duel was about to come to an end.

[Elemental HERO Heat, ATK 1600]

The effect of Elemental HERO Heat! This card gains 200 ATK for each Elemental HERO monster I control! Yuei Vu said, Now there are four Elemental HEROes on my field Great Tornado, Liquid Soldier, Blazeman, and Heat himself. So Heats attack power is increased by 800!

[Elemental HERO Heat, ATK 1600 ATK 2400]

Cedar, whose field was empty, stared blankly at the new hero: Noit wont be

The final blow! Yuei Vu waved his hand, Elemental HERO Heat, attack directly!

The flame hero flew up and struck out with both palms. The raging flames, like a fire dragon baring its teeth and claws, charged past Cedar domineeringly.

[Cedar, LP 2150 LP 0]

One Turn Three Kills!

Chapter 268: The Correct Method of Harvesting

One Turn Three Kills!

The audience was terribly quiet for a while, and no one dared to break the silence.

It was as weird as a dream.

OTK (One Turn Kill) was very rare in this era. Even for well-informed duelists in the inner world, it was only occasionally heard when the level of duelists on both sides was far apart.

And thats just OTK.

but One Turn Three Kills!?

Instantly killed three opponents in one turn, and depleted 12,000 LP?

To this day, if they hadnt seen it with their own eyes, the duelists of the Industrial Illusions would have scoffed about that idea.

But now they were all impressed.

Three kills at once? What game did he think he is playing? Why cant he go to heaven if he is so awesome?

In a turn-based card game like Duel Monsters, can you defeat three opponents in one turn?

Im afraid its not because the steps are too big, youre talking about it?

Now the fact was unquestionably placed in front of them, telling them clearly and undisputedly that there were people beyond human beings.

Never deny anything subjectively, there is always someone who can subvert common sense and surpass your imagination.

At this moment, everyone in the Industrial Illusions really thought so in their hearts. Witnessing this gorgeous scene with their own eyes, everyone who just took it for granted that it was impossible now felt as funny as a frog trapped in the bottom of a well, looking at the pitifully small space above their heads and still thinking it was the sky.

Although Tenma Yako was not surprised by this result, he was still shocked to witness it with his own eyes.

Looking at the heroic and upright figure on the dueling stage, and the heroic figure of the five heroes who had not yet dissipated and filled the audience, Yako couldnt help but sigh again.

Is this the duel of the Duel King?

Even the three card professors were now completely convinced.

This was the crushing of absolute strength. They now clearly realized that the other party just toyed with the three of them.

It would be better to say that the other partys willingness to endure their unreasonable demands and accompany the three of them to play this duel was enough to show the kings bearing, and it has left them completely speechless.

This was also the effect Yuei Vu wanted.

Even with the title of Duel King, after all, its hard to be completely convinced by just a reputation.

Here, pretending to be aggressive at the right time, showing your skills, and leaving a deep enough impression on them, and it would be much more convenient to talk and do things later.

Especially in the circle of Shadow Duelist, as long as you show enough strength, what you say would naturally be heavier.

Next, Yuei Vu also took this opportunity to further explain that he didnt mean to steal the right to command the battle.

Let professionals do professional things, Yuei Vu still knew clearly whether he has the experience of commanding a large-scale battle. At best, he participated in the formulation of the battle plan and made some suggestions. The real command was still in the hands of Yako.

Then Yuei Vu promised to do his best to use his influence to help them find more powerful duelists and organizations as allies to increase their bargaining chips.

Having said that, the Shadow Duelists who were already basically convinced were speechless immediately, and basically believed that Yuei Vu really came to help the Industrial Illusions to win this war.

Even some people who were still doubting whether Yuei Vu wanted to take advantage of the chaos to come to the Industrial Illusions to fight for power and profit, now feel that they are a little bit ashamed of a gentleman with a villains heart.

As worthy of being the King of Duels, both his strength and his mind are undeniably admirable.

All of a sudden, the words favorability +1 appeared one after another on the foreheads of all the duelists, like an ocean.

Among them, the favorability of Tenma Yako was refreshed the most frequently, and the increase seemed to be a little bit larger than that of others.

It seemed that he has been a diehard fanboy.

Yuei Vu was very satisfied with this state.

He really didnt want any real power right now. But this was the International Industrial Illusions, the company most closely associated with dueling monsters in the world.

After defeating Doma, in the future, he would definitely need more and more cooperation and helps from the Industrial Illusions. Now it was always right to develop a wave of popularity within the organization and lay a solid foundation.

The reputation among players should be increased, and the reputation among NPC couldnt be left behind either. Yuei Vu said that both hands must be grasped, that was the correct method of harvesting.

Of course, Yuei Vu said he would help them by recruiting more people, so he wouldnt just talk about it verbally.

The headquarters of Nightcrawler World was located in Domino City, and there are many branches in various places in District 11. However, the influence of the USA was relatively weak.

Yuei Vu has already explained this to President Gai, and he has also contacted many organization leaders with good personal relationships, and secretly established an anti-Doma alliance.

Now Doma was acting more and more frequently around the world, and many organizations have been defeated one by one. The whole world was in a panic, and everyone was nervously speculating about Domas intentions and the target of their next move.

Many organizations joined Doma because of the temptation of fear or power.

The complete victory of Nightcrawler World in Domino City undoubtedly provided a way out for many organizations. Now many organizations have negotiated with President Gai to join the alliance established by him.

When there was an all-out war with Doma all over the world, Nightcrawler World and the Anti-Doma Alliance especially the active elite players in Domino City.

But of course, that was only within the eleventh district.

Doma has developed in the world for thousands of years. Its power was deeply rooted beyond imagination. Every corner of the world has its forces. If there was an all-out war, there was no viable force in other regions that could resist Doma for the time being.

Industrial Illusions was already one of the strongest organizations in the world, one of a few that could resist Doma. But also because of this, the opponent used the when capturing the enemy, capture their king first strategy, and dealt with Pegasus before the fight started. Now that the dragon was leaderless, the Industrial Illusions may not be able to play a big role.

But it didnt matter, Yuei Vu had already thought about countermeasures before coming here.

They still had a trump card on their side.

After putting on a show in front of the Shadow Duelists of the Industrial Illusions, todays matter was temporarily settled.

Then Yuei Vu seemed to finally think of the little leeks who followed him all the way, and he waved his hand to signal them to come up.

The four players were overjoyed and hurried forward.

Yuei Vu didnt tell them anything along the way, so they feared that Yuei Vu had forgotten all of them!

Especially Snow Wave. After such a long time without licking Yuei Vus boot, he just felt empty in his heart!

Sure enough, people only know how to cherish when they are lost.

Miss Yuehua was very witty, and immediately took the C position in front of Yuei Vu, raised her small head, and proudly stood up a small steel plate.

As the only girl in the team, she felt that she had an absolute advantage that the others did not have.

Look at that Fae, who looks wretched when he smiles, even more wretched if he doesnt smile!

In fact, in all fairness, Miss Yuehuas background was really good, so its not unreasonable for her to be popular as a streamer.

If you wanted to find her insufficient, maybe it was too flat

But could that be called insufficient?

This was called human design! Did you understand?

In fact, some people still loved this setting. They called this Flat is justice.

There were also some people who cheered when they saw an A cup, but when they saw a big one, they shouted G cup without hesitation. It wasnt until one day that they accidentally saw a certain beautiful photo and felt their hearts flutter, but they were told that the one in the photo had a dick bigger than them, and they finally came to their senses

Oh, it turns out that I am neither lolicon nor mazophilia, Im just a pervert.

Yuei Vu stopped talking nonsense with these tool people and went straight to the point: All of you present here are people I trust, and I must thank you for your willingness to come here with me.

But as you probably already know, things are very tense right now. An organization named Doma is surfacing, and A fierce battle is inevitable. But unfortunately, we are far from having enough people to fight this war

The four little leeks held their breath and concentrated, not daring to breathe. When I was studying, Even when listening to the teacher announce the grades, they would not be as concentrated as this.

Yuei Vu explained the opening remarks as concisely as possible, and then smoothly threw out the already edited quest.

[Hidden mission is triggered: Find An Ally!]

[Description: Find as many partners as possible to join Yuei Vus camp against Doma!]

[Reward: For each partner brought, the camp contribution +1]

The eyes of the four players lit up, anticipating something.

Come, come, this is the climax of the main storyline, the rhythm of preparing for a full-scale war!

And it seems that when the war starts, we will be the vanguard among the players!

Go, go, go!

Chapter 269: Limited Event

Recruit people to join Yuei Vus camp against Doma, all players understood this quest immediately after seeing it.

Obviously, this quest was a sign, which meant that the main storyline of Waking the Dragons arc has started, and a large-scale war was about to break out!

The main mission was released by Yuei Vu, the protagonist of the world recognized by the players, which seems to make sense.

And after the camp battle with Doma in a small area in Domino City, the players also learned that every player could earn contribution points during the camp battle.

Camp contribution points were quite useful. It could be exchanged for crystals from the system, and the efficiency was several times faster than that of leveling up or doing quests. If they were used to exchange for EXP, the leveling-up efficiency would be much higher than usual.

Whats more, the contribution points could even be exchanged for some limited fashions!

For example, the pony headgear, the hippopotamus headgear, and the penguin suit that made you look like a fool, etc

It may be difficult to understand, but in fact, for many players, these suits which had no practical value and made the wearer look like a fool were more popular than EXP or crystals

After receiving the quest, the four players immediately split up.

They each took the initiative to use the resources at hand, mobilized their contacts, and spared no effort to start recruiting people.

Those with resources in hand, such as the popular Miss Yuehua and the famous premium player Noragami, quickly contacted their acquaintances, guilds, and even professional clubs. Everyone notified each other and contacted each other, and soon a large number of players have been informed of the situation of this main mission.

At the same time, of course, they didnt forget to post on the forum.

The few players who hang around Yuei Vu all year round were already celebrities, and their accounts were all officially certified as VIPs in the forum. After just a few posts, there was an immediate backlash, with enthusiastic feedback from potential tool people.

Of course, these players were born in different places after creating their accounts. They are widely distributed all over the world. It was definitely impossible for Yuei Vu to go to harvest these cute little leeks in person in a short while.

But it didnt matter, he already had enough resources in his hands at this moment.

Because the game of dueling monsters was popular all over the world these days, Industrial Illusions, as the development company of this card game, naturally has its own branches in various regions of the world.

In the past two days, Yuei Vu immediately entrusted Tenma Yako to arrange strongholds in major cities where the players are located. All players who were willing to join could sign up at the designated place.

At the same time, Yuei Vu also considered that the cards that these official server players had on hand were of course incomparable with the Closed Beta and Open Beta players in Domino City. For players on the official server, not only they lost more than a month, but also missed the important plotline of the Battle City.

With this in mind, these players would inevitably appear to be underpowered when facing Domas army.

But it still didn't matter. Yuei Vu, the most caring NPC in history, has already considered this issue for the players.

He searched for the most cost-effective deck for the novice stage summed up by those bigwigs in the forum, and combined with the status of his own card inventory and his own understanding, he specially assembled three or five sets of novice decks to choose from.

Then he set prices for several sets of card sets according to their versatility, strength, and difficulty of acquisition, and set them to be limited only during the faction battle event, and only players who joined the faction could purchase them.

You could never imagine how attractive the words limited event could be to players.

Especially when players saw the structure that Yuei Vu came up with, with high practicability and combat power, it surpassed their current Normie card piles. And the price of the event was only half of the usual price.

Hardcore players turned on the lights and fought at night, each of them seemed to make up their minds not to close their eyes until the camp battle was over. The wallets of the premium players were also starting to open.

With the help of the Industrial Illusions, there was no need for Yuei Vu to come to harvest in person. Players could trade crystals directly in the strongholds of their respective cities, and then these crystals could be delivered directly to Yuei Vu as the commander.

At this time, it was time for the cards hoarded by Yuei Vu in various regions to play a role. Otherwise, the total number of players joining their camp from all over the world was quite a lot, it would be a headache to equip everyone with a combat deck.

Players from all over the world came forward one after another enthusiastically and expressed their willingness to help. All of them were willing to throw their heads and blood, which scared the Industrial Illusions a little bit.

At this time, everyone in the headquarters understood that these were the helpers that Yuei Vu had found. Nobody expected that this newly promoted young Duel King would have such a high reputation in the world, There were so many duelists hidden under his command. In this critical moment, it gave a sense of sight of one order, and a million soldiers return

Its just that the words of this a million soldiers were a little weird, their behavior was a little out of the ordinary, and every brain circuit seemed to be a little bit wrong.

But this does not prevent Yuei Vu from becoming more and more popular in the eyes of duelists in the Industrial Illusions, especially led by Tenma Yako

Of course, leeks still needed a little time to develop, and they were not beautiful if they are harvested too early. So Yuei Vu first gave a weeks time. Within a week, players could actively sign up to join the camp, and hurry up to move bricks, save crystals, and buy structures.

Yuei Vu thinks that he has fully considered the average level of the players. One week should be enough for most players to at least save enough to buy a deck.

Some talented players may even be able to get a few more sets.

For example, hardcore players: Yes, this game is super simple, not tiring at all! (Just a little cold on the head.JPG)

Another example was the lucky players: Yes, that's right? It's really easy, and you will get a rare card when you open the pack.

Then came the premium players: Right? It's super easy!

By the way, he has been paying attention to the progress of the players who said in the previous post that they want to mix into Doma.

There were really so many players successfully mixed in.

Although not everyone could find out any useful information, at least there were clues to the distribution of some bases where these players were located.

Then when the two camps officially started the war, players could also check the red IDs to find out the Doma believers hidden among ordinary people at a glance. Everyone was equivalent to a human body radar.

In this way, they could at least take the initiative in the battle.

Doma, a super organization that has been entrenched in the world for tens of thousands of years, has penetrated into all aspects of human society and intended to reset the human race and rebuild civilization, was fighting against an army of players whose origins, purposes, and behavior patterns were all puzzling.

A battle of the century was about to outbreak.

Chapter 270: The Sacrifice

Friday, nine o'clock in the evening.

Anna noticed early on that today, her father was not quite right compared to usual.

Although she was only an eleven-year-old elementary school student, Anna was more precocious than most of her peers. She didn't want to admit it, but it had something to do with the incidents in her early life.

Her mother passed away before she started elementary school. An extremely important part of her little world had been plucked away, and since then, her father was all she had left.

But if there was anything to be considered lucky, it was that she also had a good enough father.

Although his education level was not high, all he could do was manual labor, but he insisted on working three jobs simultaneously all year round and did his best to give his daughter the best.

And on the second Friday of every month, he would try his best to suspend everything at hand that night and take his daughter to her favorite amusement park.

It was not only to make his daughter happy but also for himself.

Because only Annas smile was the biggest motivation for him to get up and welcome every tomorrow.

at least it used to be.

Anna didnt know when it started, but things seem to have changed a little bit.

Although there was no definitive proof, Anna felt that her father might have quit one jobor more than one.

That didnt free him up for more time, however. On the contrary, she has recently discovered that her father seems to be busier than in the past few years.

He got up earlier in the morning and came back later in the evening. His whereabouts remained a mystery all day long, even if she asked, he never revealed a word.

Even the fixed monthly amusement park activities were canceled by him. This had never happened in the past, even during the busiest times.

But she also found that her father was more energetic than at any time in the past few years. He went out every day with full energy, and when he came back, he was very happy, sometimes humming a little song, his whole person seemed to be several years younger.

It looked like he had found some new spiritual sustenance.

At first, Anna had thought it might be a good thingwhatever the reason, at least her father was finally out of the shadow of the past.

Until today.

When she was led by her father with a rough and cocooned hand to the altar with a giant python sculpture and was told by her father kindly that her young and pure soul was fortunate to be chosen as the sacrifice of the Great God of Orichalcos, she finally woke up.

It turned out that her beloved father had already left her long ago.

That night, she saw her father in a stupid black robe with a hood, like a cannon fodder in a movie.

There were several other people dressed exactly like him who appeared to be his new companions. Anna didnt know anyone else, but she recognized Uncle Bacchushe was one of the few friends of her father, and he seemed to be a taxi driver before.

Uncle Bacchus was a nice guy too. This man would sometimes look after Anna when her father was busy. She remembered that they once went to the playground together, and Uncle Bacchus also gave her a box of beautifully wrapped chocolates.

But now he was also dressed in a black robe.

When she came back to her senses, she was already standing in the middle of a huge altar. The altar happened to be built under the gaping mouth of the giant python sculpture. This made her standing on the altar look like a well-cooked dish. She noticed the imprint of a six-pointed star engraved on her feet, which looked like a masterpiece of a medieval mage in the movie.

Although she didnt quite figure out what was going on, she guessed that she might be dying.

However, whether it was her father or Uncle Bacchus, they all showed joyful smiles under the altar.

At this time, Anna couldn't help thinking of the fairy tales her mother had read to herself when she was very young.

In every story, when the princess encounters a crisis, there would always be a handsome and brave prince, waving a sword and riding a white horse to come to the rescue.

It looks like fairy tales are fairy tales after all.

The engraving of the six-pointed star lit up green, and the huge magic circle was activated. A dazzling green light lit up from the python's mouth and enveloped Anna's whole body. Her soul was sucked out through some evil ancient ritual then the glow was gone.

The ceremony was forcibly stopped.

The faces of the believers changed quickly, and someone shouted: The barrier has been destroyed!

Who dares to disturb our sacred ceremony?

The door was blasted open with a bang, Anna's eyes widened in surprise, and she felt a faint anticipation in her heart.

Her royal highness actually appeared, and menacingly walked forward, with unstoppable vindictiveness and killing intent.

But they had neither white horse nor sword, only fancy animal headgear?

I found it, I found it! There really is a litter here!

How come there are so few creeps? It's not enough to divide

Look! There's a loli over there!

Fuck it, loli is a treasure of mankind! Needless to say, these bastards will die tonight!

The Doma believers also seem to be quite annoyed by the sacred ceremony being broken. Several people immediately opened the Duel Disk, and Uncle Bacchus stood up first he seemed to be the highest-ranking one in the group.

Are you Pegasus subordinates? You are seeking death. The believer said with a sullen face. Then Ill let you take the place and become a sacrifice to the great god of Orichalcos!

While many players around hadn't had time to speak yet, a certain streamer jumped out of the crowd.

Ill be your opponent!

As soon as this remark came out, several players nearby couldn't help but look sideways.

Is Missy going to go?

Is it really possible? This guy looks like an elite creep. The difficulty may be a bit high

I remember that our Missy can only play Easy AI Bot at most, and fail badly when facing Intermediate level?

Miss Yuehua suddenly became unhappy.

How can you slander someones innocence like this?

Anyway, Im also the woman next to Yuei Vu-san, how could I be so bad at dueling?!

I once won against the Intermediate AI bot!

Miss Yuehua opened the Duel Disk angrily and took out the deck that she had kept secret until now and had never played against anyone. (because its a gimmick deck)

To prove myself through this duel!

I, Miss Yuehua, am not a badass on paper!

Hmph, is it actually a cute little girl who was sent here? Bacchus sneered, Im really underestimated. Its okay, let you see the greatness of Orichalcos power, its up to you to be the first sacrifice!

Duel! x2
