

I Play Yu-Gi 31

Chapter 31: Rich Reward

"Fusion Summon, Elemental HERO Shining Flare Wingman!"

The divine radiance shone on the ground, and the hero covered in silver-white armor appeared from the fusion vortex. He carried metal wings with a sense of the technology behind him, and his body was shrouded in a dreamlike divine brilliance.

[Elemental HERO Shining Flare Wingman, ATK 2500]

This hero was the ace monster of Yuki Judai, the protagonist of Yu-Gi-Oh! GX in the early stage.

Undoubtedly, this card was also randomly opened by Yuei Vu in the system card pool a while ago. At that time, he was very excited when he saw the unique colorful light of the UR card burst out from the card pool, but when he saw this flashing flame wingman, he suddenly had the urge to curse

It is really a UR card, but this one he can't be summoned!

The fusion materials of Shining Flare Wingman were "Elemental HERO Flame Wingman" + "Elemental HERO Sparkman", and he must be Fusion Summoned. Since Yuei Vu didn't even have a Flame Wingman so far, how could he summon it?

Unexpectedly, the attentive Mr. T on the opposite side actually helped him solve this problem, and so thoughtfully helped him prepare a universal fusion material "King of the Swamp".

Then Yuei Vu didn't refuse his goodness and directly pulled out the Elemental HERO Shining Flare Wingman, which he originally thought that he could only leave to be dusted for months

On the other side, Mr. T was immediately stunned: "This what kind of monster is this? There is a card that I haven't seen before!"

Hmm Although he said that, in fact, he has never seen any of the Elemental HEROes that Yuei Vu has summoned so far

After all, it's not yet the GX era. It stood to reason that the Elemental HERO deck has not been released in this world, so it should be the future deck.

Yuei Vu's set of Elemental HEROes all came from the system, so of course, the other party couldn't have heard of it.

However, Mr. T quickly adjusted: "Although I don't know where you got this kind of monster, but monsters with 2000 ATK and 2500 ATK can't rival my Meteor Black Dragon!"

As if for a demonstration, the meteor black dragon floating behind him opened his mouth and roared at this moment, his voice resounding through the sky.

Yuei Vu smiled slightly: "Shining Flare Wingman's effect It gains 300 ATK for each "Elemental HERO" card in my GY."

"What!?" Mr. T lost his calm again.

"There are four Elemental HEROes in my GY: Heat, Clayman, Avian, and Sparkman." Yuei Vu raised the Duel Disk and said, "Therefore, the attack power of Shining Flare Wingman has increased by 1200!"

[Elemental HERO Shining Flare Wingman, ATK 2500 ATK 3700]

"Attack power 3700!?"

Frightened, Mr. T hurriedly pushed his frame, as if he wanted to renew his health while the other side was not paying attention.

However, it was of no use.

"Next, I will also use the Spell card Quick Attack, so that the fusion monster can attack this turn." Yuei Vu waved his arm and ordered, "Shining Flare Wingman, attack Meteor Black Dragon!"

The armored hero unfolded his holy wings, which were light as feathers, and flew into the air. His figure turned into a phantom, and a silver-white trail was dragged behind him, and the glittering starlight sprinkled like raindrops wherever he sprinted.

Meteor Black Dragon roared and spat out a fireball to attack, but it was meaningless. Even a difference of mere 200 points of attack power was an absolute difference in strength in the rules of the game.

The glorious hero hit the fireball directly with his body. The scorching flames were dispersed into a vortex of scorching spirals under the impact. The body of Shining Flare Wingman penetrated the body of the black dragon like an arrow, leaving a huge hole.

Lava and flames erupted like volcanic eruptions from the dragon's pierced body, causing a deafening explosion.

Mr. T, LP 2200 LP 2000

Mr. T gritted his teeth: "I didn't expect that the Meteor Black Dragon' would be knocked down. I underestimated you."

"Don't worry, it's not over yet." Yuei Vu smiled slightly.

At this moment, the Dark Magician Girl on his side who has not yet attacked has already clenched her staff and is ready to go.

The opponent still had 2000 LP left, and her attack power was also 2000. If she could attack directly next turn, the victory would be established

However, Yuei Vu waved his hand: "The other effect of Shining Flare Wingman is activated!"

"Huh?" The magician girl blinked her emerald green eyes.

Don't you need me to attack?

"If this card destroys a monster by battle and sends it to the GY: Inflict damage to my opponent equal to that monster's original ATK in the GY." Yuei Vu smiled, "Meteor Black Dragon's attack power is 3500, in other words"

Mr. T was shocked: "I have to suffer 3500 points of damage?"

While speaking, the silver hero had landed in front of him lightly, and the divine brilliance all over his body suddenly erupted.

"Ahhhh!!!!"

With a miserable groan, the holy light instantly smashed Mr. T's body to smithereens. He was blasted into a cloud of black mist under the power of light, and his body disintegrated into countless cards that flew out around him.

Mr. T, LP 2000 LP 0

"Damn, don't think this is the end!"

The black fog around him began to dissipate, and Mr. T finally let out an unwilling cry, his voice echoing in the air.

"This is just the beginning, human duelist! Darkness has infiltrated the human world, and no one can stop him from awakening! You and that spirit will be annihilated in darkness by then!"

After saying that, he disappeared completely.

Although the harsh words he said seemed to be very powerful, the feeling it gave people was nothing more than a feeling like "I'll revenge next time".

The oppressed feeling finally completely disappeared. The darkness all around disappeared silently, and the sound of running water under the bridge returned.

Until Yuei Vu retracted the Duel Disk and released the card projection, the black magician girl kept her head down and stared at the round staff in her hand in a daze, as if she was thinking about life.

In the end, she was summoned by her master for the first time she did nothing but watched, and the duel was over.

Although we still won in the end, it turned out to be pretty good but what's up with her feeling like a mascot?

It must be an illusion, an illusion

[Hidden quest "The Challenge From Mysterious Man!" completed!]

[Receive a reward: UR card "Dark Magician Girl"]

[Remarks: There is a spirit in this card, cherish her!]

So this card was the quest reward?

Yuei Vu took the "Dark Magician Girl" card from the Duel Disk and glanced at it. He couldn't help showing a satisfied smile.

Yes, yes, this was not a loss. As a life-threatening task, this reward was really rich.

The point was not the value of the Dark Magician Girl card itself of course, it couldn't be because the card face was beautiful and easy to lick. (Yuei: Do you think I am that kind of person?)

The point was that there was a spirit living in this card.

This was a truly unforgettable opportunity.

In the past life, Yuei Vu has also heard that occasionally players have obtained cards with spirits inside, but the number was extremely rare. The probability may not be much different from winning the lottery.

Having a Duel Monster Spirit in this world meant you gain some supernatural powers. You could make the Duel Monster Spirit materialize to help you do many things (in certain cases, you may even direct the Duel Monster Spirit to beat people directly), and you can also have certain countermeasures when facing opponents who mastered the power of darkness.

In addition, Duel Monster Spirits had more sensitive senses than humans and were more likely to perceive things that humans couldn't touch. Players with Duel Monster Spirits would have a higher chance of triggering important quests and getting more benefits.

Yuei Vu thought about it, and couldn't help but smile.

"Master Master?"

Dark Magician Girl floated beside him, watching her new master laugh at her card face, she couldn't help swallowing.

Master, what is he thinking about?

"Oh, nothing." Yuei Vu put away his smile and put the card back into the deck, "Let's go, it's getting late, it's time to go back."

"Uh-huh."

Dark Magician Girl nodded her head and followed behind.

Chapter 32: Live With Spirit Partner

The quest location was still a little far from the Dream Card Shop. When Yuei Vu crossed most of the city and returned to the card shop, it was almost 2 AM.

What surprised him was that the lights were still on in the store.

The whole street fell into a deep sleep, the lights along the street went out, and there was no one on the road. Only the shop on the corner was still lit with incandescent lights, like a bright beacon on the endless ocean under the night, guiding the direction of passing ships.

Yuei Vu pushed open the glass door and walked in. Chika was still sitting behind the counter in that maid costume.

There was an open magazine in front of her, her right hand was holding her cheek, and she looked half asleep. Her little silver head was crooked, like a long-lost "nodding magic".

Yuei Vu still remembered that when he was a student, he practiced this divine skill to the level of transcendence and sanctification, especially in the advanced mathematics class. He was able to meditate and take a nap while keeping his sitting posture undisturbed, and sometimes he nodded slightly as if he had realized what the lecturer said on the stage

That's all, everything has passed, and the real hero didn't mention the past.

Chika suddenly woke up when he pushed the door in, and sat up in a daze: "Wwelcome."

Then she realized that it was midnight.

"It's so late and you haven't slept yet?" Yuei Vu closed the door.

Chika rolled his eyes at him angrily.

Why do you think I haven't slept yet?

Isn't it because someone ran out with a strange man in the middle of the night, making people feel uneasy?

Isn't there a saying like that recently?

Lonely and widowed, there must be a loss!

That is to say, if two men live together alone, there will always be a loss for one of them!

"Where's that person?" she asked.

Knowing that she was referring to Snow Wave, Yuei Vu shrugged: "I'm in a hurry, I'll go first. I think I'll be back in a few days."

In half a month, when the game is officially launched, it will definitely be time to come back.

"Okay, it's very late today, go to bed first, if you have anything to say tomorrow." Yuei Vu said.

"Um."

After a brief wash, Yuei Vu returned to the bed in his room and lay down flat.

The duel with Mr. T was fiercer than a normal duel, and his Stamina gauge has been mostly empty after playing such a card.

Although his Stamina was much higher than when he first came to this world, it still didn't seem to be enough. Otherwise, according to the current development trend, it may be easy to be squeezed dry in the future

Cough cough, what are you thinking about? What I'm talking about here is that there will be no shortage of fate cards to play in the future, and it will definitely be beneficial to exercise more.

It has absolutely nothing to do with the beautiful female spirit he just brought back!

Speaking of which, this new spirit lady was floating in the room in a state that was close to "spiritualization", looking around in curious.

"Is this where you live, Master?" She blinked, "It feels a little smaller than I thought."

Yuei Vu: ""

I'm really sorry that I am poor and unable to buy a house.

He didn't have the time to think about it before, but now Yuei Vu suddenly realized some problems.

It must be a good thing to have a spirit by his side, which means that in this world, in addition to playing cards, he also possessed superhuman combat power.

In addition, it is well known that the spirit partner was also one of the criteria for measuring the strong under the Yu-Gi-Oh! world. Throughout the past eras of Yu-Gi-Oh, all the characters with their own spirit behind their backs were all duel masters, the kind that "starting hand is Heavenly Hand (1), lucksacking (2) when having an empty field."

Having the "Yu" prefix and a spirit partner, Yuei Vu felt that he was only the last step away from being invincible, and that was to gain a seafood hairstyle

However, a problem that he never realized when watching the animation was that it could sometimes be troublesome to have a spirit partner.

For example, when you wanted to go to the toilet, when you want to take a shower, and when you want to browse some "study materials" on the computer and "release excess protein"

Yuei Vu suddenly wondered how Yugi Muto solved this problem, or whether he and Yami Yugi had been together for too long, to the point where they could meet frankly and informally. If that was the case, he could only say admiration.

But now

He turned his head and glanced at the Dark Magician Girl who was lying on the windowsill watching the night scene.

Sure enough, this was still a little too exciting.

Players in the past must not have had this problem. After all, players were ruthless quest-seeking and card-playing machines in the game. They didn't need to eat or sleep, even with the spirit behind them.

Yuei Vu felt that he might have a lot of things to get used to in the future.

"That's right, master!"

Dark Magician Girl fluttered back from the window sill with a serious face, as if she suddenly remembered something.

"Although the enemy was defeated this time, the matter is not over yet."

Sure enough.

Yuei Vu cheered up. Just now, Mr. T said, "Darkness has penetrated into the human world" before he was wiped out. With years of experience in the game, he immediately realized that this hidden branch must have a follow-up.

"I just wanted to ask." He said, "What's the origin of that guy?"

Dark Magician Girl shook her head: "I don't know the specifics, but I think it should be malicious from some other dimension, an entity transformed from pure dark energy.

It will use the darkness in the human heart to strengthen its own power and become stronger by devouring it.

Right now, its body should still be very weak, so it can only send subordinates like the one just now to the human world to find food to supplement its spirit.

But if left alone, it will consume more and more duelists and become stronger and stronger! No one can stop it by then! "

Yuei Vu nodded to show his understanding.

Actually, about the origin of Nightshroud, Yuei Vu, who has watched GX anime and played the follow-up version of Link World, may know better than her. Linked World has developed a main storyline about Nightshroud, but that was all the GX version of the story, which was still a long way from now.

"That is to say, next, we have to find out all the clones of that guy that invaded reality, and then destroy them as soon as possible, right?"

"Yes!" Dark Magician Girl nodded vigorously.

Sure enough, the quest interface in front of Yuei Vu was updated again.

[Hidden mission is triggered: The Invasion Of Mysterious Man!]

[Description: Find the whereabouts of other Mr. T scattered in Doshino City with the help of the Dark Magician Girl, and destroy them one by one!]

[Winning Reward: Unknown.]

[Defeat Penalty: Unknown.]

Sure enough, it was also a quest series like the previous "The Challenge From Ghouls" series!

For players, such quests involving Shadow Games and supernatural powers were high-level quests that not everyone has the opportunity to trigger.

By the so-called "high risk, high reward" rule, the rewards of such tasks were generally the most generous.

For example, this time, after defeating Mr. T, Yuei Vu directly obtained the spirit of the Dark Magician Girl.

But then again, if Snow Wave, the player who initially triggered this quest, hadn't come to him, he probably wouldn't have had this chance.

And Snow Wave was forced to go offline at the last minute, therefore he didn't even get any mission experience

Um

Yuei Vu decided to wait for him to come back next time, just give him a little favor to show his gratitude.

For example, special offers such as 50% OFF in the private store for him.

Snow Wave will definitely be very moved by then It should be.

TL's note:

1. Heavenly Hand A term comes from Mahjong, referred a starting hand made entirely from useful cards.
2. Lucksacking A slang for a situation in which the player is at a large disadvantage and draws a card that ends up turning the game in their favor. Also referred to in this novel as "the bond with the deck" and "believing in Heart of the Cards".

Chapter 33: Why Do You Have To Provoke This Guy?

Somewhere, an unknown space that was apart from reality.

"Unexpectedly, there will be a spirit coming to get in the way." The voice emerged from the silent and boundless darkness, and a cloud of black mist stood up, forming the shape of Mr. T, who was wearing sunglasses and a black suit. appearance.

"The duelist named Yuei Vu along with his spirit may be a huge obstacle to our expansion of power." As he spoke, another black mist condensed into a human form, which was also Mr. T's form.

At this time, the third Mr. T came out of the darkness, with the exact same face as the previous two, and his voice was like the same person: "No, after observation, the human world does not seem to be as simple as we imagined. Besides spirits, some other people with extraordinary powers exist."

"That's right." The fourth Mr. T said, "Before the plan is officially launched, we still need to observe, contact those different humans, and determine the threat."

"Agree."

"Agree."

When the voice sounded, Mr. T in the space had already walked into Mr. T's body in the middle one by one. Their bodies merged into one as if they were absorbed, and finally, there was only the last Mr. T left in the space.

As previously said, Mr. T was not an entity in the first place. He is similar to Agent Smith in The Matrix, a virus that Darkness uses to invade the real world.

He pushed down the frames of his sunglasses, showing a weird and confident smile.

"Speaking of which, are you sure this is the right way?"

At this moment, Yuei Vu looked at the blond girl floating beside him with a bit of pain, panting and sweating like rain, feeling that his body was hollowed out

The cause of the incident was that Dark Magician Girl suddenly appeared when he passed a certain road section, and nervously said that she felt the breath of Nightshroud nearby, so he followed the guidance of the spirit lady all the way to now

However, it felt as if he has only been circling in this area all the time.

"Yes I'm sorry. Because the position of the other party's breath has been changing" The Dark Magician Girl apologized, "The other party is also moving very fast Master, are you okay?"

"It's alright." Yuei Vu waved his hand, "Let's continue to lead the way. Where is that bastard now?"

Although Yuei Vu, who has been running non-stop for a long time, actually felt tired at this moment But no matter what the situation, a man couldn't say no to a girl.

This was a matter of principle.

He knew that I'm looking for him, so he take me around in circles like a dog?

If that's the case, this villain is too evil?

Immediately it made people feel very LOW.

However, Yuei Vu soon discovered that this was not the case.

"Master, it's there!" Dark Magician Girl suddenly said as he ran past an overpass, "He stopped, right below us!"

Yuei Vu stopped and looked down from the edge of the overpass railing.

Sure enough, that familiar feeling reappeared. The icy darkness quietly rewarded, and the oppressive atmosphere enveloped the surrounding environment. The temperature in the space seemed to plummet by a few degrees, and the darkness quietly condensed somewhere under the bridge.

Mr. T, dressed in black and wearing sunglasses, stepped out of the darkness with calm steps.

Only this time, it seemed that his target was not Yuei Vu.

Yuei Vu soon noticed that Mr. T's target was a short high school student wearing a blue student uniform, carrying a backpack, a short, colorful starfish head, and a harmless look on his face.

Well, yes, that's right, the real protagonist of World Link Online v1.0, Yugi Muto

Yuei Vu: ""

What should I say?

This Mr. T is clearly just cannon fodder, why is he so brave?

As soon as he came up, he picked the most terrifying hidden boss in the world, and Yuei Vu didn't know whether to say he was ignorant or brave

At this time, Mr. T still had an expression full of confidence, as if he was in control, and obviously did not realize the seriousness of the problem in front of him.

"Duel King, Yugi Muto? So you are the strongest duelist among humans, right? Interesting."

Mr. T smiled slightly, raised his arm, and the dark miasma turned into a Duel Disk on his arm.

"Then, Duel King, do you dare to accept my challenge?"

Yugi blinked his big, unimposing eyes: "Are you?"

"I don't have a name, but you can think of me as Trueman, someone who tells the truth. If you want to address me, you can call me Mr. T." He said with a smile.

Yugi closed his eyes gently.

"Interesting," he said.

Mr. T frowned under his sunglasses.

He suspected that this might be his own delusion, but he felt that the Duel King's voice had changed a bit.

The next moment, he saw an unbelievable glow from the golden pendant hanging on Yugi Muto's chest.

What followed was a powerful dark power that even Mr. T, who claimed to be a servant of darkness, could not help but feel fear.

Mr. T couldn't describe what he felt, but the moment he faced the young man in front of him, he suddenly had the illusion that his body was locked.

He vaguely saw the boundless and huge darkness released from the back of the young man. The aura formed was like a rising peak. This boy stood in front of him, releasing absolute king-like coercion, which temporarily fixed his hands and feet in the original position, making him unable to move.

For a moment, he even had an absurd thought in front of this dark power like the sea, the dark power he currently held was like a firefly facing the boundless sea of fire. They were in two completely different leagues.

"Retreat!"

This was Mr. T's first thought.

He instinctively felt that he couldn't duel this young man here otherwise, something bad would really happen!

Without further ado, Mr. T immediately prepared to re-atomize and disintegrate his body, turned around, and prepared to run away.

But he soon discovered to his horror he couldn't!

The dark power shrouded in the surrounding was more intense than before, but it was no longer the darkness that his power called some kind of power far stronger than him called deeper darkness, overwriting the darkness that belonged to Nightshroud.

Now, this field was no longer under his control.

Mr. T turned his head back to look at the boy in front of him in amazement.

Duel King Who is he?

This is definitely not the power possessed by human beings, right?

Yugi opened its eyes again. At this time, his eyes have completely changed, becoming like steel knives coming toward Mr. T, as if to cut people into two sections.

At this time, Mr. T's heart set off a stormy sea, but Yuei Vu, who was watching the battle above, felt that he was completely expected.

What Mr. T was facing now was another soul residing in Yugi's body, the nameless Pharaoh from three thousand years ago, the real undefeated god of war in this world.

Looking at Mr. T below, Yuei Vu couldn't help but gloat over his misfortune.

You said that you mass-produced cannon fodder by yourself, so why do you have to provoke this guy? Don't you want to live anymore?

"You just said you want to duel with me, right?" Yami Yugi had already opened his Duel Disk at this time, "This challenge I accept it!"

Chapter 34: Trueman Pushes Himself To Death

"Duel!" x2

[Yami Yugi, LP 4000]

Mr. T, LP 4000

Mr. T drew five cards from the deck, and at the same time, he didn't stop to look at the boy in front of him, trying to use his special ability to see everything through the essence of the opponent.

But he couldn't.

To be honest, he now regretted a bit. He felt that he may have underestimated the strength of human duelists a little too much. He didn't expect that among humans, there were still duelists with such powerful strength.

But that's fine. After all, he was nothing but a consumable item for Nightshroud, a phantom that could regenerate no matter how many times he was destroyed.

I can take this opportunity to test the strength of this so-called "Duel King".

Thinking of this, the corners of Mr. T's mouth rose slightly again, revealing a smile.

"It's up to me to go first. Draw!" He hummed and smiled, "I summon Dark Archetype' in attack position."

[Dark Archetype, ATK 1400]

"Set a card. I end my turn."

The corner of Yuei Vu's mouth, who was watching the battle on the overpass, could not help but twitch.

Isn't this guy not shuffling the cards every time he starts? Why is this thing coming up again?

However, in fact, in Yu-Gi-Oh! it seemed that everyone played cards like this, regardless of whether they were good or bad. There were forty cards in the deck, but the starting hand always seemed to be a fixed number of cards.

The so-called "brick hand" basically only existed in the real-life duel. Only when you played Yu-Gi-Oh! in reality, would you have to consider a series of questions like "drawing chance" and "starting hand" when constructing the deck.

Characters in manga and anime didn't have this problem at all. Whatever card they thought useful, they threw it into the deck, and they could draw whatever they wanted. There was no such thing as a "brick hand".

After playing for a long time in the previous life, players clearly understood that the player's deck could not be compared with important plot NPCs casually because everyone was not playing the same game at all.

For example, if you gave the deck of the Duel King Yugi Muto to a normal player, there was a high probability that he would be stomped on by other players.

But if a player challenged Yugi Muto himself, there was a high probability that the player would be stomped by the NPC and didn't want to play cards for a while

Don't ask, it's because you don't have enough bonds with the deck.

Because NPCs believe in Heart of the Cards, they could draw whatever they want.

"Okay, it's your turn, Duel King." Mr. T hummed, "Let me see how you duel."

"My turn!"

While drawing, Yami Yugi looked at the monsters on Mr. T's field with sharp and cautious eyes.

Dark Archetype a monster I've never heard of before.

But my intuition as a duelist tells me that there must be a trick in it.

Is it the special ability of that monster? Or is the problem with the set card in the backrow?

In the original game of Yu-Gi-Oh!, players couldn't check the effect of each other's cards when they were playing. When encountering strange monsters, everyone could only test the effect of each other's monsters like stepping on a pit.

Yami Yugi looked at the cards in his hand, and after a little thought, he made a decision.

Even if he was afraid of the trap, he couldn't back down. Here he still decided to take the initiative to attack.

"Activate Pot of Greed!" Yami Yugi also played this banned divine card, "Draw two cards from the deck!"

Yami Yugi drew two more cards, and the hand quickly replenished to seven cards. The grinning green pot that briefly appeared on the field also burst open.

"Then activate the monster effect of Watapon' in the hand!" Yami Yugi revealed a monster card and put it on the Duel Disk, "If Watapon is added from my deck to the hand due to a card effect, it can be Special Summoned from the hand!"

There was a faint white brilliance on Yami Yugi's field, and a small, snow-white spherical monster appeared on his field.

[Watapon, DEF 300]

"Then I tribute Watapon to summon Dark Magician Girl!"

At this moment, the Dark Magician Girl beside Yuei Vu let out an "ah" and said in surprise, "This person also has the same card as me!"

"Well, he is the Duel King in this world, and Dark Magician' and Dark Magician Girl' are his trump cards." Yuei Vu explained.

"Hey~" The Dark Magician girl opened her eyes, "It feels amazing!"

At this time, a whirlpool has been rolled up on the field of Yami Yugi, and the slender figure jumped out of the storm of magic power. The blond girl held a staff with a flat head in her hand and twirled lightly like a feather in mid-air.

[Dark Magician Girl, ATK 2000]

The Dark Magician Girl beside Yuei Vu looked at the figure below him that was exactly the same as herself, and hesitated for a moment: "The Dark Magician Girl' in the hands of the Duel King should also be a spirit. But I always feel It's a little different from ordinary ones."

Yuei Vu was a little surprised: "Can you feel it?"

"Yeah." The Dark Magician Girl tilted her head, "but it seems that I can't tell what is the difference."

Yuei Vu didn't speak, but of course, he knew why.

Although there were more than one "Dark Magician" and "Dark Magician Girl" in the world, the two in the Yami Yugi's hands were definitely unique.

Because the spirit of the "Dark Magician" in the game is the reincarnation of the Egyptian high priest Mahad from 3,000 years ago, and the corresponding spirit of the "Dark Magician Girl" was Mahad's apprentice Mana.

They were not only servants and subordinates to the Pharaoh, but also partners who grow up and played together. They were like a family, and they were irreplaceable to each other.

Of course, it's just that the current Yami Yugi didn't have the memory of his past life.

The action of Yami Yugi was not over yet: "Next, I activate a Spell card Sage's Stone! When there is a Dark Magician Girl' on my field, I can Special Summon from the deck, my strongest servant Dark Magician!"

A black afterimage flew out from the deck on Yami Yugi's Duel Disk, and a storm engulfed the field again. The imposing manner of the powerful king swept the audience, and the magician in black lowered his green staff lightly, his eyes burning like a pitch-black torch.

The Dark Magician Girl on the field seemed very happy and excitedly waved to the master behind her. But the latter only nodded slightly in response.

"Huh, is this your trump card?" Mr. T didn't panic at all, just smiled at the magician and apprentice in front of him, "It is indeed a fairly powerful monster It should also be a spirit, right? An exceptional one, too.

"Battle!" Yami Yugi didn't want to chat at all, "Dark Magician, attack Dark Archetype! Dark Magic Attack!"

"At this moment, activate the Trap Card," Mr. T chuckled, "Zero Gazer! This trap card can only be activated when a face-up Attack Position monster on my side of the field is selected as an attack target. That monster's ATK becomes 0 and I draw 1 card from my Deck."

[Dark Archetype, ATK 1400 ATK 0]

Yami Yugi frowned: "Turn your monster's attack power to 0?"

"Hmph, my duel skill can't be understood with common sense." Mr. T sneered incomprehensively, "When Dark Archetype is destroyed by battle and sent to the Graveyard, I can choose 1 monster in my Deck with an ATK equal to the Battle Damage I took from that battle. Send monsters whose total Levels equal the Level of the chosen monster from my hand to the Graveyard, and Special Summon the chosen monster."

"So that's the case, is that your purpose?"

Yami Yugi smiled confidently.

"But it looks like you have no chance to summon a monster!"

"What?" Mr. T's face changed suddenly.

"I activate a Spell card from the hand Dark Magic Twin Burst!" Yami Yugi quickly played a card, "Only in this turn, a Dark Magician on my field gains ATK equal to the combined ATK of all "Dark Magician Girl" currently on the field!"

The Dark Magician Girl's small staff was placed on her master's aquamarine staff. The magic power of the master and apprentice converged, and it was like a black stream of water that climbed to the tip of the staff along the staff.

[Dark Magician, ATK 2500 ATK 4500]

Mr. T suddenly became uneasy: "AttackAttack power is 4500!?"

"Attack!"

The magician and his apprentice uttered a clear battle cry at the same time, and the spheres formed by the interlaced magic power smashed into the air. The body of Dark Archetype was smashed into pieces in the magic storm, and Mr. T's body was also torn to pieces in a long series of miserable groans.

Mr. T, LP4000 LP 0

OTK!

Chapter 35: Nightcrawler World

OTK!

It should be said that Yugi really deserved to be the Duel King. Dealing with mobs like Mr. T was completely one-sided.

Of course, it may have something to do with the other party's initiative to die.

After watching the play, Yuei Vu opened the quest panel to check the situation of this quest series again but suddenly froze.

The description in the panel has been updated, and it was marked with "quest canceled".

The follow-up supplementary explanation was that the evil consciousness that Nightshroud invaded into reality has been severely damaged, and now it has returned to a dormant state, waiting for the next opportunity to invade.

Yuei Vu: ""

Because the power of Yami Yugi was too strong, so the OTK just now directly beat Nightshroud back to sleep?

What about his reward?

Yuei Vu suddenly felt a toothache.

Nightshroud, as a final BOSS, was a little too unsatisfactory. Even if it was still in a sleeping state, this was still a little too weak.

Yuei Vu seemed to have finally guessed why he had never heard of the Nightshroud quest in the World Link Online v1.0 in his previous life.

It's probably because when Nightshroud just woke up and tried to explore the way, he was unlucky enough to run into the max-level bigshot Yugi Muto who was pretending to be an average guy. There was no chance at all

The player's quest was stolen by the NPC, don't you believe it! (Someone completely forgets the fact that this quest was originally stolen from the player's hands)

Yuei Vu had hoped that he would be able to swipe this little boss a few more times and get more EXP and some crystals. It seemed that he could only do so once.

but it doesn't matter.

It's just a little interlude, and this quest series was originally out of his plan. Harvesting a Duel Monster spirit was already a big profit, and there was nothing to be dissatisfied with.

There was still about half a month before the Open Beta.

He still had a lot to do in half a month.

An hour later, Yuei Vu came to the other end of the city, in an empty alley that did not have signs of life and almost seemed a little weird.

It seemed that there was always something like this in every city. Dark, lonely, poorly lit or with no light source at all, every breeze blowing from the alley felt like someone was breathing softly behind your neck.

These were often forgotten corners by people in the city. Serious people would not come to this kind of place all year round, and most non-serious people knew that the more such a place is, the more they needed to stay away.

Yuei Vu walked through the dark alley, which looked like a dead end. But near the end, there was a rusted iron door on the wall.

The only lighting was very bad, and the iron gate was hidden in the shadows that the light couldn't reach. If you didn't pay attention, you wouldn't even notice it.

He stepped forward, knocked lightly on the iron door three times with his knuckles, then stepped back and stood still.

After a while, the door panel slid open in front of him with a creak.

A burly man appeared behind the door. He was wearing a black leather jacket, with a silver non-mainstream pendant hanging around his neck, black tattoos painted on his sturdy muscles, and the words "I'm not easy to mess with" seemed to be written on his fleshy face.

This guy was more than half a head taller than Yuei Vu. He looked down at Yuei Vu and narrowed his eyes a little displeased.

"This is not the place for a little white face like you to come." He said grimly, "Go away before I want to beat you."

Yuei Vu raised the Duel Disk on his left arm.

The muscled man raised his eyebrows: "A duelist? I don't know where you heard about this place, but we are not an ordinary dueling gym, so if you know what is good for yourself, get out of here!"

At the same time as he spoke, the eyes staring at Yuei Vu also changed suddenly.

It was something close to killing intent. Pure darkness burst out from the depths of his pupils, forming an aura that was invisible to the naked eye, and pressed towards Yuei Vu like a mountain.

Yes, that's right, this man was also a Shadow Duelist.

He was trying to use the dark energy he has mastered to scare away the ignorant boy in front of him.

But he never expected that Yuei Vu would stand in front of him so calmly and not be frightened at all. He raised his head and looked straight at the muscled man's eyes, and his pupils seemed to light up with a strange red glow in that brief moment.

A moment ago, the muscled man only felt a turbulent aura released from the body of the young man in front of him. The image of the other party suddenly rose up like a mountain in his eyes, and the dark energy he released was pushed back. There was a feeling of tension as if the heart was being grabbed.

The muscled man broke out in a cold sweat and realized one thing at the same time.

The young man in front of me is a hidden master!

He tried to suppress the other party with his little three-legged cat's dark energy, and it was ridiculous to think about it now.

Yuei Vu stood on the spot with his arms crossed, the red glow in his eyes gradually dissipating.

The muscled man gasped as if he had just finished a long-distance run. He couldn't help wiping his sweat and smiled shyly.

"I'm really sorry, I didn't see it"

Yuei Vu smiled nonchalantly: "Can I go in now?"

"Of course." The muscled man said, stepping aside, "I'll take you to see Mr. Xiao."

Yuei Vu nodded and walked in. The muscled man let him advance and then closed the dilapidated iron door with a creak.

Behind the door was a long series of stairs, which looked a few years old, and each step made a sound that sounded like metal rubbing.

There was no light in the narrow passage, but not too far ahead, there were two neatly hanging torches lined up on the walls on both sides. The orange-yellow fire light danced briskly, and the shadows cast by the two on the wall changed like jagged ghosts.

The muscled man walked to the front to lead the way, and Yuei Vu followed closely behind.

The phantom of Dark Magician Girl floated out from the deck in Yuei Vu's hand again, reminding: "Master, this place seems a bit weird. There are a lot of dark energies gathered in this place. Although it is not powerful, the people here may be not normal.

"Well, I know." Yuei Vu smiled slightly, "Thank you just now."

Of course, he himself had no supernatural powers.

Just now, Yuei Vu relied upon Dark Magician Girl's power to counterattack the dark energy of this muscled man and made the other party mistakenly think that he was a high-level Shadow Duelist.

If a duelist possessed a spirit, they could also exert the power similar to the Shadow Duelist.

This was also the reason why Yuei Vu dared to come to this place.

After passing through the long corridor, they finally came to the end. The muscled man stepped forward, stretched out his hand, and pushed open the last door in front of him, and the almost dazzling light suddenly spilled over.

A luxurious hall with a completely different style of painting and people coming and going was suddenly revealed in front of the two of them.

The muscled man turned his head and smiled at Yuei Vu: "Welcome to the Nightcrawler World."

Chapter 36: Storm Of The Underground World

As mentioned before, the world of Yu-Gi-Oh! was actually full of magic, black technology, gods, aliens, etc. There were all kinds of strange things.

What the anime showed was just the tip of the iceberg of this world. The holders of Millennium Items in the DM animation were the most powerful group of Shadow Duelists, but this was by no means to say that Millennium Items were the only source of supernatural power in this world.

For example, Mr. T, whom Yuei Vu met before, and the Nightshroud hid behind him was a dark force with a completely different system from the Millennium Item.

Another example was the mysterious group "Seven Stars Assassins" that appeared in the Three Phantasms arc of Yu-Gi-Oh! GX. Everyone in the group was a Shadow Duelist of different origins, including spirit, vampire descendant, alchemist, etc

The "Nightcrawler World" that Yuei Vu found at the moment was the place where such people gather.

To put it simply, this was a club of the Shadow Duelists, which was somewhat similar to the League of Assassins.

The members here sometimes accept some commissions through the club to complete some gray tasks.

The loser in the Shadow Game must obey the winner according to the established rules, and those with high enough abilities could completely turn the loser into his own puppet. With this kind of power, it is easy to force obedience to people in positions of importance or of great value, and to help people easily achieve some special purpose.

And if you wanted to erase someone with a Shadow Game, you could completely drag the person into the darkness from the body to soul, leaving no clues at all, and there was no way to find out with conventional means.

If a Shadow Duelist had the power similar to Nightshroud, then he could even completely erase the existence of a certain person, including the memory of relatives and friends, through the Shadow Game, and no one would even notice that such a person has disappeared from the world.

Today, many high-ranking people in the world actually knew the existence of Shadow Games. The organization of the Shadow Duelists has no nationality or power restrictions. If They maintained a nearly neutral attitude and never deliberately favor any side.

They would serve any country or individual who bids the right price, and maintain good cooperative relations with many countries and forces.

It felt a little bit like a mercenary, but different.

People outside the circle take a respectful attitude towards the Shadow Duelists, because the Shadow Duelists with extraordinary power were mysterious and unpredictable from the perspective of ordinary people.

However, in the GX period, it seemed that there were some ordinary people who used tricks such as blindfolding and hypnotism to pretend to be Shadow Duelists to cheat money.

Just like Titan who was hired by Cronos to duel with Yuki Judai in the early stage, he pretended to be a Shadow Duelist by means of light refraction and hypnosis, but he was finally dismantled by Judai.

Yuei Vu was now in an era before the opening of Yu-Gi-Oh! DM's Battle City arc.

Before that, the unique king of the underground world of the Shadow Duelists was the founder of the card game, "Father of Duel Monsters", Pegasus J. Crawford.

Pegasus had the "Millennium Eye", one of the seven Millennium Items in ancient Egypt, had a very strong dark power, and has the ability to see through the other party's mind, there was absolutely no doubt that he was the top grade in the current world.

When visiting Egypt, Pegasus obtained the Millennium Eye and gained a powerful and terrifying power. At the same time, under the guidance of the Millennium Eye, he carved the stone slabs of monsters handed down thousands of years ago into cards, and invented a card game called "Duel Monsters". , which swept the world and became one of the most well-known high-class people in the world.

As a game designer, he specially printed a set of invincible "Toon monsters" for himself. Coupled with the mind-reading ability of the Millennium Eye and the powerful dark power, Pegasus easily ascended the throne of the king of the underground world, and for a long time became the only recognized king of the world's Shadow Duelists.

During that time, Pegasus' Industrial Illusions and its affiliated hidden forces basically dominated the direction and trend of the underground world, and they were powerful forces enough to secretly influence the world pattern.

This reign didn't end until Pegasus lost to an ordinary high school student Yugi Muto in the Duelist Kingdom Tournament he held.

Not only that but after the battle, Pegasus was even poached by someone who stole his Millennium Eye. Since then, Pegasus has withdrawn from the battle in the underground world with his own forces and began to live a life of seclusion and retirement.

Because of this, Yugi Muto, an ordinary high school student, now had quite a high reputation among the duelists in the underground world. (Although Yugi himself did not know about it)

Shadow Duelists all over the world generally believed that if this boy named Yugi Muto was really just an ordinary person, it was absolutely impossible for him to win Pegasus.

In addition, Yugi held the Millennium Puzzle, which was said to have the highest status among the Millennium Items, so many people believed that Yugi should be the most powerful Shadow Duelist in the world today.

But there were also quite a few people who believe that the real strongest person in the underground world was someone else.

That was the new group Ghouls, who has just joined in recently, and has broken a lot of unwritten rules in the underground world, but has helplessly strengthened the leader of the group, Marik Ishtar.

Marik's family, the Tomb Keepers, has always been a family that all parties have been quite afraid of for many years. It can even be said that if they want, the Tomb Keepers may become the leaders of the underground world at any time.

The reason was very simple, the legendary Millennium Item with the top power in the Shadow Game, and the most powerful card in the duel monster world, "Egyptian God Cards", have been kept in the hands of the Tomb Keepers for many years.

However, it was said that the Tomb Keepers have always strictly followed the legacy handed down from their ancestors and never abused the power of the Millennium Items and the Egyptian God Cards.

But in this generation, Marik, the descendant of the Tomb Keepers, was obviously the first one who was determined to break this rule. He took away the Millennium Items and Egyptian God Cards that were supposed to be kept for the Pharaoh without authorization, offered various conditions that could not be refused to recruit a large number of Shadow Duelists, and formed the rare card hunter organization "Ghouls", which quickly took its place in the underground world.

Due to Ghouls' tyrannical and savage style, which has broken many of the rules that the Shadow Duelists have defaulted to over the years, many organizations have had friction with Ghouls in just a few months.

Fortunately, Marik didn't seem to be interested in any fame or status. His only purpose was to enter the Battle City and take revenge on the nameless Pharaoh in Yugi Muto's body. Therefore, most forces have adopted a respectful attitude towards Ghouls, allowing Marik to fight with Yugi Muto. It would be great if Yugi could pull this lunatic out of the stage, as Ghouls' power would naturally collapse as well.

However, the "Nightcrawler World" that Yuei Vu was planning to join is an exception.

Because, unlike others, the headquarters of "Nightcrawler World" was located in Domino City.

The Shadow Duelist Organization has a deep regional awareness, and it stood to reason that this area should belong to their territory.

The president of the organization was still a violent person. He stubbornly thought that it was quite shameful to "let Ghouls do crimes on his own territory". He made it clear that if Ghouls dared to come here with a great number, then they would declare war on the spot!

If it wasn't for the fear of Marik himself, he might have already taken his people to raid the headquarters of Ghouls by now.

But thanks to the tough attitude of the president of "Nightcrawler World", Marik didn't move the entire Ghouls to Tongshiye City.

After all, his goal was just the Yugi Muto (or more precisely, the Pharaoh in his body). Although he didn't care about people other than Yugi, he also wanted to avoid extraneous issues if possible.

This was why Marik only selected a few relatively optimistic subordinates to participate in the battle in the Battle City arc.

And at this moment, what Yuei Vu was going to do is the hidden quest related to the faction category

Join the Nightcrawler World!

Chapter 37: Surreal Handsomeness

Probably no one would have thought that there was a strange world under such a dark and lonely alley.

Passing through the last door behind the dark stairwell, an open hall was revealed behind. A dazzling crystal chandelier hangs on the roof more than ten meters above the ground in the center of the hall, the ring-shaped wall was painted red, and the curved staircase extended all the way to the second floor.

Shadow Duelists were scattered in this hall in twos and threes. Some of them were drinking, some were bragging, and of course, some were playing cards, perhaps exchanging skills with their peers.

When Yuei Vu passed a table, he tilted his head to look

Why is this table of Shadow Duelists playing poker?

Could it be that they got tired of dueling?

In theory, any game that was bound by "rules" could meet the conditions of a Shadow Game. As long as there were strict rules and clear conditions for victory and defeat, any form of the game could be used as a carrier of Shadow Game.

Yes, so poker and mahjong all met the conditions.

If you had the dark power, you could even secretly start a Shadow Game when you were playing League of Legends on the computer, maybe the entire team would die suddenly after being defeated

However, Duel Monster was the only game that could maximize the effect of the Shadow Game, and it was much more difficult to take the life of the loser through other games.

Yuei Vu followed behind the muscled gatekeeper and walked through the circular staircase to the second floor.

The gatekeeper went straight to the door at the end of the corridor Yuei Vu noticed that there was a sign "President's Office" hanging on the door, and it was also carefully plated with a layer of gold.

The gatekeeper stretched out his hand to push the door and walked straight in.

Yuei Vu was convinced that the moment he entered the door, he saw the president behind the desk in a panic, closing a certain page on the computer, and quickly switching back to the desktop.

That action was very similar to himself when he was secretly watching a small movie on the computer when he was a student and was attacked by his mother who suddenly entered the door.

At that time, his mother slapped his face- who would believe that you have been staring at the computer desktop in a daze?

Mr. President was angry, very angry.

He patted the desk beside him with a slap, and wanted to get up from the seat, but just a few centimeters away from the seat, he seemed to suddenly realize that something was wrong, and then he sat down awkwardly, going back like a rewind.

"Knock on the door before entering, which word do you not understand!?" Mr. President sat in a chair and roared at the gatekeeper, "Next time you do this again, I will directly use you as a sacrifice to the Shadow Game! Do you understand?"

"Yes, I understand, President."

The president breathed angrily, and angrily took a sip of tea from his teacup, as if he was very upset that he was interrupted just now on his head.

Yuei Vu knew that the name of the president of "Nightcrawler World" was Kawasaki Gai, and he is a type of person who "will never forget once he has seen him for a lifetime".

The reason for such a description was not because he is domineering, powerful, etc., but because he was indeed quite distinctive.

Although it may be a little rude to say this, when Yuei Vu met the character Kawasaki Gai in his previous life, the first reaction that popped into his mind was, "I'm afraid this person was not an accident during character modeling, right?"

Because no matter how you say this face, these facial features are too incoherent, right?

The originally small eyes were almost squinted into two slits, and they were squeezed together with the overly large nose. And then there were those thick lips that looked like grilled sausages

It's hard to help but admire, how carelessly did the modeler create such a character?

This president was even bald.

It was said that Mr. President was not like this in his early years when he still had fluffy and thick black hair.

Until one day, he played a Shadow Game with another strong man who was also on the road, but he lost due to a small mistake at a critical moment.

And that game, what President lost as a losing bet it was his bushy hair.

And according to the bet, his hair would never grow back forever, and it would be useless to use hair tonic

After drinking a sip of tea, President Kawasaki Gai noticed Yuei Vu who was beside him. He couldn't help but raise his eyebrows. The first thing that popped into his head was

What a handsome boy!

"Who is this?" he asked.

"A powerful Shadow Duelist." The gatekeeper said, "I personally confirmed that I am not his opponent at all."

"Oh?" The president put the teacup aside, and sat up straight with his fingers crossed, "Then what's the matter with this little brother coming to my place?"

Shadow Duelists would show respect when they walk to each other's boundaries.

Strength determined status and this sentence also applied in the underground world of duelists.

Yuei Vu smiled lightly: "Just because I have long admired the name, I hope to have the opportunity to join the Nightcrawler World'."

"Oh? Do you want to join us?" President Kawasawa raised his eyebrows.

He thought for a moment, frowned, and said, "Well, it's not that I don't want to accept you. But you have to know that our Nightcrawler World' has rules. Joining our organization generally requires a referral, or has helped the organization in business"

In fact, the rules were not absolute. As long as he, the president, gave permission, the members would naturally have no opinion.

Normally, President Kawasawa would very much welcome powerful Shadow Duelists to join his organization.

But the problem was Yuei Vu was too handsome.

Few people knew that the president has a strange disease.

That was, he would feel uncomfortable when he sees handsome men, and he has symptoms similar to allergies.

If it was based on this principle, he should immediately reject it right now and keep this kid out of the house.

But what's even weirder now was that he thought this kid seems so good-looking so that he couldn't even feel disgusted.

In short, it was a surreal handsomeness!

So President Kawasawa got into a tangle.

Should he be allowed to stay?

However, at this moment, Yuei Vu has some misconceptions. Because he actually knew that it was not in line with the process to come in so straight to the point.

The reason why he knew about this place was that he saw the strategies posted by other players in his previous life. Some players completed a series of pre-tasks, and after running the ring for more than half a month, they finally joined the "Nightcrawler World" under the recommendation of a Shadow Duelist.

This kind of guild was actually similar to the faction system common in other online games. Joining a faction means more benefits, more companions, and more chances to get quests and rare cards.

However, after reading the guide, Yuei Vu already remembered where the entrance to this "Nightcrawler World" was, so he naturally didn't bother to do the complicated series of quests.

As for how to join the club without a referral, there is always a way.

"But the world of duelists is all about speaking with strength, isn't it?" Yuei Vu raised the dueling plate in his left hand, "Why don't you consider giving me a chance to try, Mr. President?"

President Kawasaki pondered for a while.

"Okay." He finally agreed, "Then that's it, as long as you can defeat three opponents sent by us in a row, your assessment will be passed. How about that?"

Yuei Vu nodded: "Okay, it's a deal."

Chapter 38: Let You See The Power Of Heavenly Hand

After a while, Yuei Vu had come to the duel arena specially set up by the headquarters of "Nightcrawler World".

The two sides of the arena were already densely surrounded by the audience, and a group of burly men shouldered shoulders, enclosing the three layers in the arena and the three layers outside.

It's like a scene of illegal black boxing in the underground.

Standing opposite Yuei Vu was another sturdy man Yuei Vu was beginning to wonder why the members of this "Nightcrawler World" seemed to be all men.

Looking at the bottom of the ring, it was really a "Full Banquet of Man and Han" (mistakenly). Not a single girl could be found, and even the air seemed to be filled with a strong atmosphere unique to brotherhood.

This gave Yuei Vu the illusion that he had walked into some strange club.

"Oh, I didn't expect such a kid to want to join us Nightcrawler World'." The man opposite sneered, "Let me show you a little bit, the world of the Shadow Duelist is very cruel, not everyone can join."

Yuei Vu smiled: "Then I'll ask Kuroda-senpai for advice."

He didn't recognize the duelist on the opposite side, and the name Kuroda was also heard by the audience.

At this moment, the onlookers were still talking about it.

"Kuroda won't be able to beat this kid, right?"

"Who can say for sure? A duel is about the mind, not the muscles. A guy like Kuroda with full-length muscles in his brain may not be able to do it"

"How about a bet? Bet on the outcome of Kuroda and this kid?"

"Yeah!"

When hearing that there was a bet, they immediately became interested. As a Shadow Duelist, it was of course impossible for everyone to fight for their lives on weekdays, so they often place bets on the duel between card friends.

The bet didn't have to be money, it could be of various kinds.

For example, according to the agreement, the loser must drink two taels of white wine first, then a glass of red wine, and finally beer to rinse his mouth, and so on.

"I'll bet on Kuroda."

"Then I am also Kuroda."

"Then I'll bet him too"

Although he said he didn't trust him, even the buddy who complained about Kuroda's "muscles in his brain" before chose to bet on him.

After all, everyone is a comrade in the meeting, and the level of each other is still clear. They didn't think this little white face who came out of nowhere could beat Kuroda.

At this moment, Mr. Kawasaki Gai, the president, appeared: "What? Are you making a bet?"

Everyone immediately became smart. Someone hurriedly said: "No No, everyone is just kidding, President"

"It doesn't matter, as long as we don't gamble with cards, it doesn't matter if we play occasionally." The president said that his management policy was very open and did prohibit gambling, and said, "I'm also here to play. Let me see Then I will bet on Kuroda too."

""

There was an embarrassing silence.

After a while, someone took the lead: "Then I bet this new kid."

"I thought about it, I'd better bet on this newcomer."

In Nightcrawler World, there was an iron law that no one dared to say, but everyone knew it.

That was, as long as it's involving "gambling", absolutely couldn't stand on the same side as the president.

Because according to incomplete statistics, at least as far as all the members knew, the president has never won a single bet, no matter how big or small

A man next to him also hurriedly wanted to say, "Then I'll bet"

"Huh?" President cast a questioning look,

It seemed to be saying: What does it mean that you will not follow me as soon as I come? Do you look down on me?

The man's hips froze, his body trembled, and he hurriedly changed his words: "I I'll still bet on Kuroda."

At this time, those brothers who had just said that they were going to bet on Kuroda and had no time to change their words suddenly felt a pain in the ass. They wanted to change the custody to

Yuei Vu, but they were afraid of offending the boss. But since the boss was betting on Kuroda, the money would definitely go to waste

At this time, Kuroda on the stage didn't even know that a mysterious force had debuffed him, and still laughed arrogantly: "Since you know where this place is, don't you need to say more nonsense? This duel will be a Shadow Game.

But don't worry, although it's a duel, we won't kill you. It's just boring if the stakes are too small, then I figured let's just add a condition."

Kuroda sneered: "The loser will do a striptease in public in this arena, how about that?"

Yuei Vu inserted the washed deck into the slot and unfolded the Duel Disk: "It's exactly what I want."

The spirit of Dark Magician Girl appeared behind him, covering her mouth in surprise: "Master, so you have such an interest"

The surprised expression on the cute little face was like saying: Master is so handsome, but I didn't expect the taste to be so strange

Yuei Vu's face stiffened: "No, that's not what I meant don't worry, I can't lose to this kind of opponent."

"Ah! Master, do you want to see the opposite dance"

"That's not what it means!"

Yuei Vu's face hurts. I just said it casually, so why so serious?

Kuroda looked puzzled: "What are you talking to yourself about?"

In the Yu-Gi-Oh! world, only very few people could see the existence of monster spirits. The more famous ones were Yuki Judai and Manjme Jun, the protagonists in Yu-Gi-Oh! GX.

When spirits appear in a spirited state, most humans couldn't see them.

"It's nothing, I'm going!" Yuei Vu said.

"Duel!" x2

Yuei Vu, LP4000

Kuroda, LP4000

"Since you are the challenger, according to the rules I will take the first turn. Draw!"

Kuroda glanced at the cards in his hand and seemed to think it was a good start, so he couldn't help but smile.

"I summon the Giant Red Seasnake' in attack position!"

There were splashes of water on the ground in the field, and a snake with a red body emerged from the water, twisting its body along with the splashes, and spit out a deep purple snake letter from its mouth.

[Giant Red Seasnake, ATK 1800]

"Set a card, I end my turn!"

The crowd below began to riot.

"This guy Kuroda is lucky, he is such a powerful monster when he starts."

The rules of the duel monster game have recently undergone tremendous changes under the Kaiba Corp promotion. The most representative of which was the rule that "monsters above Level 4 need Tribute(s) to be summoned".

This kind of rule made many duelists feel very unaccustomed. In this environment, many people even thought that high-level monsters were difficult to come in handy, and monsters with high attack power below Level 4 would be the mainstream in the future.

Level 4 monsters like "Giant Red Seasnake" with 1800 ATK were now quite expensive and rare cards in the market.

"My turn." Yuei Vu kept a calm smile, "Draw a card."

Although he didn't know what the other side's hand was, Yuei Vu's hand he thought it was a Heavenly Hand.

Sure enough, Yu-Gi-Oh! honestly doesn't deceive me whether it's the protagonist or the villain, the probability of starting with Heavenly Hand when playing cards with mobs seems to be much higher.

"I summon Elemental HERO Blazeman!" Yuei Vu started the operation.

A storm of fiery flames rolled up on the ground, and the brand-new Elemental HERO, which was just released from the system card pool last week, immediately appeared on his field.

[Elemental HERO Blazeman, ATK 1200]

"When Blazeman is successfully summoned, I can add a Polymerization' from the deck to my hand!" Yuei Vu took out a fusion card from the deck, "then I activate Polymerization!"

I fuse Elemental HERO Blazeman' on the field and Elemental HERO Wildheart' in my hand. Fusion summons! Elemental HERO

Gaia! "

The ground split open in an instant, and the impact of the three-dimensional image mixed with dark energy, making the entire ring seem to be shaking.

The dark and huge metal outline was drilled out from the crack in the ground as if an insurmountable mountain was rumbling up from the crack in the ground. A metal giant with a height of seven or eight meters drilled out of the ground and stood on Yuei Vu's field, with gravel splashing everywhere.

[Elemental HERO Gaia, ATK 2200]

Gaia was a new card he just opened yesterday. The fusion condition was 1 "Elemental HERO" monster + 1 EARTH monster. "Elemental HERO Wildheart" was EARTH attribute, so it could be used as fusion material for Gaia.

The crowd began to be surprised: "It's a monster with an ATK of 2,200. This kid is a little good!"

Kuroda was also stunned for a moment by Gaia's aura, but quickly calmed down.

Calm down, don't panic. Fusion monsters cannot attack in the round they are summoned, and even if there is an emergency, my set card is a "Widespread Ruin", which could destroy the monster with the highest attack power on the opponent's field when the opponent attacks.

The situation was actually in his favor.

"The effect of Gaia is activated," Yuei Vu said, "Elemental HERO Gaia' can halve the attack power of a monster on the opponent's field during the turn it is Fusion Summoned. The power is added to Gaia's attack power."

"What!?"

[Giant Red Seasnake, ATK 1800 ATK 900]

[Elemental HERO Gaia, ATK 2200 ATK 3100]

"AttackAttack power 3100!?"

"Then I activate a Spell card from my hand Fusion Recovery!" Yuei Vu's operation continued, "Target 1 "Polymerization" in my GY, and 1 monster in my GY used as material for a Fusion Summon; add them to your hand.

I added Polymerization' and Elemental HERO Wildheart' to my hand. "

The GY area of the Duel Disk in Yuei Vu's hand lit up with golden light, and the two cards were automatically bounced back.

"Then I activate Polymerization again!"

The audience was once again shocked: "Two fusions in one round!?"

"I fuse Elemental HERO Avian' in the hand with the Elemental HEROWilderness' just recovered. Fusion summons! Elemental HERO Wild Wingman'!"

A gust of wind blew up on the arena, and even the surrounding audience raised their hands subconsciously to block them in front of them. A whirlwind visible to the naked eye swept through the field, and the hero with white wings and a wild and rough posture fluttered his wings and fell from the sky.

[Elemental HERO Wild Wingman, ATK 1900]

This was also a brand new Elemental HERO drawn by Yuei Vu. Wild Wingman was only an R card in the system card pool. As a three-for-one fusion monster, the attack power was only 1900, its rare value was not high.

"Wild Wingman's effect I discard a card from my hand," Yuei Vu sent a card from his hand to the graveyard, "Destroy a spell or trap card on the field. What I want to destroy is the set card on your field! "

"Oops!" Kuroda was shocked.

Wild Wingman let out a clear whistle, flapped his wings, and the feathers on his wings shot towards the opponent's backcourt like arrows.

The "Widespread Ruin" set on Kuroda's field was instantly stabbed into a sieve by a feather, and after it was automatically opened to the other side to confirm it, the crack was broken into countless pieces.

"Wow, it's a Widespread Ruin'." Yuei Vu chuckled, "It's really dangerous. If I attack directly and rashly, my Gaia would be destroyed."

Kuroda gritted his teeth and snorted: "However, fusion monsters cannot attack during the turn they are summoned. At the end of the round, your Gaia's ATK will return to 2200, which is a pity."

"Is that really true?" Yuei Vu asked back with a smile.

Kuroda's face changed suddenly: "Could it be that you"

"That's right, this round will decide the winner." Yuei Vu said, playing the last card in his hand.

Now let you see the power of Heavenly Hand!

"Activate the Spell card Quick Attack!" Yuei Vu said, "This card allows the fusion monsters on the field to attack during the round they are summoned!

Gaia, Wild Wingman, direct attack! You'll take a total of 4100 damage!

The two heroes attacked at the same time. The earth shattered and the storm swept through, and for a while, the ring seemed to be really engulfed by the elemental storm.

The "Giant Red Seasnake" whose attack power was reduced to 900 on the Kuroda field instantly vanished, and the remaining impact engulfed Kuroda's body unabated.

"Ahhhh!!!"

Kuroda, LP4000LP0

Chapter 39: VS President Kawasaki

Kuroda, LP0

OTK!

The entire audience was stunned, and no one even reacted and cheered for a while.

Although Kuroda has a debuff from President Kawasaki, everyone has already decided that he would lose this game, was this too exaggerated!?

To be fair, in the first turn, he summoned a monster with 1800 ATK to stand on the field, and set a powerful trap such as "Widespread Ruin". Everyone thought that even if they were in his shoes, they could not do better.

But even this opening was easily broken by Yuei Vu. For the duelists whose cognition of these duels was still in the era of "I attack you, you attack me", it was simply outrageous.

Kuroda, whose LP had returned to zero, also stayed where he was, sitting on the ground in a daze, looking at the boy in front of him in disbelief and the two domineering heroes that had slowly disappeared from his field.

"Tootoo strong" Kuroda murmured to himself, "It's not an opponent at all"

Even Yuei Vu's spirit Dark Magician Girl appeared and clapped with her transparent little hands: "Wow! Master, you are amazing!"

The spirit girl's eyes lit up, and she admired this beautiful master so much.

Yuei Vu coughed lightly.

Be humble, be humble.

Isn't it just a slap in the face, it's no big deal.

He himself didn't think it was that great. After all, in this turn, he consumed all six cards in his hand, and if this round of offensive was countered by the opponent, or he could withstand it, it may be difficult to fight next.

But of course, these were all card-playing habits brought on by previous lives. Yuei Vu also knew that playing cards in this era were different.

In the early stage of Yu-Gi-Oh, the card pool and environment were very different from the later ones. The current decks neither have the powerful summoning ability as later nor do most of them have excellent replenishing.

Whether it was an advance summon or a fusion summon, it was destined to lose cards. This was also the law of the environment in the era of Yu-Gi-Oh you could only exchange for a high-level monster with high attack power if you consume two or three cards.

A deck that could refill cards in the hand and kept summoning powerful monsters like the later generations did not exist in this era.

And then there's a bigger problem

Yuei Vu reluctantly pulled out the magic card "Quick Attack" from the Duel Disk, his face twitched.

If it weren't for this idiotic rule that President Kaiba fixed, saying "the fusion monster cannot attack in the turn it is summoned", who would bring such a stupid card

Yuei Vu pondered that it would definitely not work if he rushed directly into the Kaiba Corp's building and asked to amend the rules. Have you ever heard of a game player who was dissatisfied with the planning and went to the company headquarters to complain to the chairman, so he readily accepted the player's opinion?

But if the target was Seto Kaiba, it's not hopeless.

Because it is well known that President Kaiba was a real card-playing addict. Want him to listen to you? It's actually quite simple, as long as you could beat him at dueling.

Or even if you couldn't beat him, at least you had to impress him enough in the duel.

So the question now was, how to find an opportunity to play cards with the president

But that problem could wait.

At this moment, Mr. Kuroda, as the loser of the Shadow Game even if it was just an entertainment Shadow Game, still had to accept the game punishment he has set strip dance in the ring.

The punishment of the Shadow Game was mandatory. Unless there was a dark power far superior to the opponent, no one could resist it.

The men in the audience who had come to their senses at this moment had already begun to shout loudly. Some people shouted emotionally with red faces, and they didn't know what to be excited about watching a muscular brother and noble colleague dance.

Dark Magician Girl blushed and said "Yeah", turning into a light and retreating back into Yuei Vu's deck.

Hmm Such a scene might be a little too exciting for girls.

Even Yuei Vu couldn't help covering his eyes, otherwise, he felt that his mind might be polluted

A minute later, the "punishment game" was finally over.

Sweaty Mr. Kuroda hugged his clothes and slipped off the stage with an ugly face amid the roars of his colleagues who were extremely unsympathetic to brotherhood.

"Okay, according to the agreement, I still need to defeat two more of them, right?" Yuei Vu stood on the ring and smiled, "Then which senior will teach me next?"

The crowd that was noisy just now suddenly quieted down.

He glanced at it, and the strong men avoided his gaze one by one, and no one said a word.

The scene was very like a crowd who kept shouting "I will definitely do it", but when it was about to go up, no one volunteered.

A few seconds later, a steady and low voice sounded: "I'm coming."

The crowd followed the prestige and were amazed to see their president himself, who had already passed through the crowd and stepped onto the ring.

Mr. President himself wants to go himself?

This was strange. Since the establishment of the association, members have never heard of a new person joining the association who was approved by the chairman himself.

Although President Kawasaki looked rather apologetic and his gambling luck was beyond the horizon, no one dared to question his dueling skills. In terms of the dark power he possessed and the level of dueling skill, President Kawasaki was a well-deserved number one member of the club.

Because the president seldom acts in teams with other people on weekdays, and when he accepts commissions, he always accepts high-level commissions alone, so even members of the same club rarely have the opportunity to see him act with others.

The people have already started to get excited.

It seems that there will be a good show to watch today.

Yuei Vu looked at the short president who had put on the duel plate and stepped onto the stage, and smiled lightly: "Mr. President, do you want to go up in person? I'm really flattered."

"It's been a long time since I moved my muscles and bones, so I just came to practice my hands." Kawasaki snorted and smiled, "Besides, if I can't do it, I'm afraid no one in this room can face you."

"You are overestimating me."

During the conversation, the two had exchanged the decks face to face, and inserted each other back into their respective Duel Disk.

Then they turned around, walked back to their designated positions on the ring, and opened the Duel Disk.

"Duel!" x2

Yuei Vu, LP4000

Kawasawa Gai, LP4000

"I'll let you go first, boy." Kawasawa Gai folded his arms.

Yuei Vu smiled: "Is it okay?"

"Of course, you can." Kawasawa Gai waved his hand, showing an expert demeanor of "letting you do three tricks".

Someone in the audience whispered, "Are you afraid that Mr. President will be OTK-ed again like just now"

Kawasawa Gai's eyes swept over coldly. The person who spoke quickly shut up and stopped talking.

"Then I'll go first, draw!"

Yuei Vu glanced at his hand.

Hmm As expected, it's not realistic to expect that every starting hand was Heavenly Hand.

But anyway, if you go first, you don't have to rush to attack.

"Summon Elemental HERO Wildheart' in attack position!"

[Elemental HERO Wildheart, ATK 1500]

"Set a card, I end my turn."

"My turn! What I want to summon is ' Archfiend Cavalry!'"

A demon in red armor appeared on the field, and underneath it was a dark horse that looked like it came from the underworld. He has a skull-like white head, scarlet eyes, and holds a spiral spear.

[Archfiend Cavalry, ATK 1900]

"See the suppressing power of the Archfiend deck, I will take the initiative in this duel!" Kawasawa Gai shouted, "Archfiend Cavalry, attack!"

The demon pulled the reins, and the horse roared in the sky. He sprinted towards the barbarians on the Yuyu field at high speed, his spear pointed straight forward, and his hooves beat on the floor with a clear and rhythmic rhythm.

Yuei Vu stood still and snapped his fingers gracefully.

"Trap Card Wall of Disruption! All Attack Position monsters you control lose 800 ATK for each monster you control!"

The transparent wave was released from the trap card, hindering the momentum of the knight's charge. The spiral gun in the latter's hand seemed to be unstable, and the horse's hooves began to become a little messy.

[Archfiend Cavalry, ATK 1900 ATK 1100]

"Wildheart!" Yuei Vu ordered, "Fight back the demon's attack!"

The rough-looking Elemental Hero received the order and jumped up to meet him with a "ha". With precise dynamic vision and superb skills, he sideways dodged the demon's stab and slashed back with a backhand.

The blade slid down the spiral spear, and sparks flew from the metal friction. The sword light flashed, and the demon's head flew out in a whirl, and the body shattered into pieces with a bang.

Kawasaki Gai, LP4000LP3600

"Damn," President Kawasaki gritted his teeth, "Then I'll set a card. Turn ends."

Chapter 40: The Strongest Archfiend

"My turn!" Yuei Vu drew a card from the deck, "Summon Elemental HERO Blazeman!"

The flame hero who just appeared in the previous game appeared again. When he landed, he placed a superhero landing POSE, and a circle of translucent flames burst under his feet.

[Elemental HERO Blazeman, ATK 1200]

Everyone just saw the hero's abilities in the duel with Kuroda, and still remembered it clearly.

President Kawasaki narrowed his eyes: "Do you want to add Polymerization' from the deck to your hand again?"

Yuei Vu smiled slightly: "No, Blazeman also has another hidden special ability. I can only use one of his effects per turn, and only once that turn.

"When Blazeman is successfully summoned, add 1 Polymerization' from my Deck to my hand" is only his first ability. This time I'm going to use his second ability. "

Yuei Vu stretched out his hand and waved: "Blazeman's effect is activated! I can send 1 Elemental HERO' monster from my Deck to the GY, except "Elemental HERO Blazeman", and Blazeman's Attribute and ATK/DEF become the same as the monster sent to the GY, until the end of this turn."

He pulled out the deck from the Duel Disk.

"I sent the Elemental HERO Bladedge' to the GY." He said, drawing out a card and placing it in the graveyard area, "Until the end of this turn, the Attribute and ATK/DEF of Blazeman becomes the same as that of Bladedge."

The image of the golden hero emerging behind the flame man on the field, as if his power was also absorbed into the flame man. The flame hero stretched out his arms and let out a long growl similar to gathering Qi, and the flames around him were burning.

[Elemental HERO Blazeman, ATK 1200 ATK 2600]

The crowd under the stage was noisy again.

"He can summon a monster with an ATK of 2600 so easily?"

"This is too strong, isn't it!?"

"Hey, no, won't the president be dealt with once again?"

At this time, on Yuei Vu's field, there was Blazeman with 2600 ATK and Wildheart with 1500 ATK, the total damage output was 4100.

On the other hand, Kawasaki Gai's field was empty, and his LP was only 3,600. If the attack passed, the duel should be over by now.

"I won't be merciful, Mr. President." Yuei Vu chuckled lightly.

President Kawasaki narrowed his eyes, making his already small eyes squeeze even more pitifully.

"Battle!" Yuei Vu gave an order, "Blazeman, attack directly!"

The flames rolled up behind Blazeman propelled like an engine, and the burning afterimage shot out. He flew into the air, his body flexibly revolved, and he used his hand to chop, drawing a scorching and gorgeous arc in the air and slashing down.

Direct hit!

President Kawasaki groaned and took the blow with his body. The scorching flames really burned his body under the blessing of the Shadow Game, and the president couldn't help but kneel on the ground.

Kawasaki Gai, LP3600 LP1000

"The last blow," Yuei Vu shouted, "Wildheart, attack directly!"

Wildheart took the order, roared loudly, drew his knife, and charged forward along the line.

President Kawasaki knelt on the ground, gritted his teeth, and shouted: "Open the set card Continuous Trap Card Call of the Haunted!"

Targeting 1 monster in my GY; Special Summon that target in Attack Position. When this card leaves the field, destroy that monster. When that monster is destroyed, destroy this card.

Resurrection, Archfiend Cavalry! "

A pitch-black storm rolled up on the ground, and the demon rode a steed back to the arena for the duel.

[Archfiend Cavalry, ATK 1900]

"Archfiend Cavalry!" Kawasaki Gai shouted, "Fight Wildheart!"

Archfiend Cavalry burst out, and the spiral spear stabbed out. The sprinting Wildheart didn't have time to dodge at all, and only had enough time to raise the blade in front of him to block it, but it was meaningless. The demon's long spear smashed the blade in his hand violently, hitting his body hard. The latter snorted and then dissipated on the field.

Yuei Vu was speechless as he watched this unfold.

The battle replay Forget it, he's too lazy to complain.

At least before the Battle City competition opened, he had to find a way to go to President Kaiba to change the awkward duel rules.

Yuei Vu, LP 4000 LP3600

"Set a card, I end my turn." He said, and added, "At the End Phase, the special ability of Blazeman ends, and his attack power returns to its original state."

[Elemental HERO Blazeman, ATK 2600 ATK 1200]

Kawasaki Gai: "Then it's my turn. Draw!"

After adding the drawn card to his hand, he suddenly hummed twice, and then couldn't stop laughing.

"You are indeed quite powerful, and you are one of the best among all duelists I have played against." He took out a card from his hand and turned the back of the card toward Yuei Vu, "I admit you, boy. You are absolutely qualified to see this card."

The audience began to get excited: "Is that card' coming?"

"The president's trump card! That ultra-rare high-level demon!"

"It's not a loss to see the president use this card!"

Kawasaki Gai took this card to the Duel Disk: "I will sacrifice the Demon Cavalry' on the field. Come on, my ace, the strongest demon

Skull Archfiend of Lightning! "

A thick, rolling cloud was brewing over the arena, and a flash of golden lightning fell from the black cloud. Countless currents rushed down one after another, surrounded by a burly and huge black shadow as if welcoming the arrival of the absolute king.

The devil descended from the sky with coercion that despised everything. The bones seemed to be connected to form armor covering it, and golden electric snakes lingered and danced around it, revealing an indescribable evil spirit.

[Skull Archfiend of Lightning, ATK 2500]

There were cheers and shouts from the audience, and all the Shadow Duelists seemed to be applauding the president for calling out such a powerful demon.

"Skull Archfiend of Lightning, attack Blazeman!" Kawasaki Gai ordered directly.

The demon in the arena burst into a loud roar, and golden high-voltage lightning was released from the rib-shaped armor on the chest.

Under the guidance of the demon, the thunder dashed towards the opposite half of the court, and the dense thunder flew towards the flame man like a silver dragon roaring.

"Open the set card," Yuei Vu pressed the button on the Duel Disk, "Counter Trap Negate Attack! When an opponent's monster declares an attack: Target the attacking monster; negate the attack, then end the Battle Phase!"

"Hmph, I expected you to counterattack with traps." Kawasaki Gai laughed, "But Skull Archfiend of Lightning is the highest-level demon commander, and traps don't work for him!"

Yuei Vu said calmly: "The special ability of the Skull Archfiend of Lightning' is that when it is selected as the target of the effect, it can have a chance to roll the dice.

If the number of dice rolled is 1, 3, or 6, my Negate Attack' will be negated and destroyed.

But if the number of dice rolled is 2, 4, or 5, then the activation is valid. "

"That's right, there's a 1/2 chance." Kawasaki Gai said, "I have absolute confidence when it comes to luck!"

The audience under the stage couldn't help covering their faces.

Boss, it's fine for someone else to say this. You, a loser in every gamble, have no right to say that Everyone always thought that such a powerful monster as the Skull Archfiend of Lightning was really a waste to President Kawasaki, because if he wanted to roll the dice, he may not be able to meet 1, 3, or 6 several times in his life

The reason President Kawasaki could maintain his winning rate even with such bad luck was that even ignoring the effects, a Level 6 monster with 2500 attack power was already strong enough.

If the owner of this skeletal demon was not Kawasaki Gai, but in the legendary "God of Gamblers", the combat power would at least double

At this time, the power released by the skeleton demon has transformed into a dice of flame in the field. The huge dice flew high with a whirl and then fell vertically with a trail of flames.

Kawasaki Gai swallowed a mouthful of saliva, staring at the flipping flame dice without blinking 6!

"Hahahaha, I got hit!" Kawasaki Gai was excited like a child, "The activation of Incapacitation of Attacks' launch is ineffective!"

The whirlwind released in the trap card dissipated instantly under the impact of the demon, and the card also split into pieces. The ten thousand bolts of lightning pierced through the body of Blazeman on the field, and then hit Yuei Vu himself unabated.

Yuei Vu, LP 3600 LP2300

The dark energy damage of more than 1,000 points made Yuei Vu grit his teeth, and also slipped half a step back.

The crowd was shocked at this time.

Just now did President Kawasaki get a 6?

Damn it!

This is a record-breaking!?

Everyone immediately cast a surprised look at Yuei Vu.

What is the origin of this young man?

It's unscientific that someone has worse luck than our boss!

Yuei Vu smiled helplessly and glanced at the 20 points of luck on his data panel.

It's not my fault that I have Lucky E-

"See? This is the strength of me and the Skull Archfiend of Lightning'." Kawasaki Gai started to act arrogantly, "I end my turn. Come on, if you can do it, try your best to defeat me!"

Yuei Vu smiled slightly.

As you wish.

"Draw! I activate a Spell card from my hand The Warrior Returning Alive!" Yuei Vu played a Spell card, "Target 1 Warrior monster in my GY; add that target to my hand. I choose Elemental HERO Bladedge!"

Kawasaki Gai suddenly realized something.

Use the effect of Blazeman to throw Bladedge into the GY from the deck, and then use "The Warrior Returning Alive" to recycle it from the graveyard. This was equivalent to choosing a HERO monster from the deck and adding it to the hand. ..

What a great combo!

President Kawasaki suddenly felt like the door to a new world had opened to him.

"Then I activate Polymerization'!" Yuei Vu played a Spell from the hand, "I fuse Elemental HERO Bladedge' and Elemental HERO Avian' to summon Elemental HERO Great Tornado! "
