

I Play Yu-Gi 341

Chapter 341: Keep Blowing If You Can

Activate it, the last Field Spell Card Malefic World! Paradox held up the card he had just retrieved from the deck.

Yuei Vu frowned: But because your Field Barrier is on the field, a new Field Spell cannot be activated. Of course, that limitation also applies to you.

So you can only add the third Malefic World to your hand according to the effect of the Metaverse, not activate it directly

I know. Paradox waved his hand again, Then open the set card, Quick-Play Spell Mystical Space Typhoon! Destroy a magic and trap card on the field!

The card Im going to destroy is

He gritted his teeth and waved his finger to the card beside him.

Field Barrier!

A pitch-black whirlwind rolled up, mixed with howling lightning. The frenzied wind tore the protective cover of the milky white hemisphere into pieces, and it disappeared from the field in an instant.

Yuei Vu narrowed his eyes: So, did you decide to destroy your own card? Indeed, if the Field Barrier disappears, the new field magic can be activated.

Its really a great loss for Paradox.

But other than that, he has no other choice for the time being. If the Malefic World were blown away by the Cosmic Cyclone, the Malefic Cyber End Dragon on his field would immediately self-destruct on the spot, and then there would be nothing in front of him. Yuei Vu only needed to order the invincible sky hero to attack directly. With only 300 LP left, Paradox could directly type GG.

It never occurred to Paradox that the protective shield that was supposed to protect his field, not only failed to protect it as it should but also became an obstacle for himself

So far in this duel, it could be said that Paradox was completely passive and completely suppressed.

However, as a BOSS, he just feels aggrieved now, very aggrieved.

Obviously, the opponent didnt summon any powerful monsters to confront him head-on, but he was completely overwhelmed by the whole process, and he couldnt cope with it just by concentrating on defense.

It felt like a fist had been punched into the cotton, strong but ineffective.

But no matter what, the Field Barrier was destroyed by his own Mystical Space Typhoon. According to the effect of the trap card Metaverse, the third Malefic World could be activated directly from the deck!

Paradox felt that he could still go on!

Field Spell Malefic World, activate!

The third Malefic World was also the last Field Spell card left in Paradox's deck. The pitch-black fluctuations erupted along the pitch-black space, and the deep world seemed to shake.

The picture effect gave people the feeling of an image with poor signal reception. The whole world trembled slightly, like the ripples caused by a falling stone thrown into the water, and then quickly returned to its original state.

The target of Cosmic Cyclone is the previous Malefic World on my field. Paradox said coldly, But when the new Malefic World is activated, the previous card is destroyed.

Therefore, the target designated by the Cosmic Cyclone is lost, and it resolves without effect!

Paradox seemed calm on the surface, but in fact, he was heaving a sigh of relief at this moment, feeling that the confrontation just now was extremely dangerous.

The good thing was that he successfully resolved all the successive attacks. Even if there was a slight carelessness during this period, he would probably be cold now.

But there was one thing he couldn't figure out until now why did Yuei Vu know to blow up his Malefic World as soon as he came up?

Or did this Duel King just like to pack so many typhoons in his usual deck?

but it didn't matter now.

Paradox crossed his arms, looked at Yuei Vu's only hand card, and sneered in his heart.

Keep blowing if you can.

Aren't you good at blowing? Why don't you blow it?

Now you only have one card in your hand, can you still take out another typhoon?

The last card left in Yuei Vu's hand

It's really not a typhoon.

However

Yuei Vu quickly turned over the card in his hand: Quick-Play Spell Mask Change!

Paradox: !

Mask Change? At such a juncture!?

Send 1 HERO monster I control to the Graveyard, then Special Summon 1 Masked HERO monster from my Extra Deck with the same Attribute! Yuei Vu sent the sky hero to the GY, I sent the Elemental HERO Stratos to the GY!

The lonely hero puts on the mask of vengeance, and turns into a cutting wind to tear the evil!

Transform! Masked HERO Blast!

If it is necessary to choose the one with the highest degree of fit with its prototype Kamen Rider among the entire Masked HERO series, then there was no doubt that Yuei Vu must vote for the WIND attribute Masked HERO Blast.

A green armor, a golden belt, and a bold red scarf fluttered in the wind. The hero was spinning in the green whirlwind, the red light flickered in his eyes, and green lightning shrouded his whole body. The moment the combat boots landed, the airflow spread rapidly against the ground at a speed visible to the naked eye.

[Masked HERO Blast, ATK 2200]

The effect of Masked HERO Blast! Yuei Vu said, If this card is Special Summoned: I can target 1 face-up monster the opponent controls; its ATK becomes half its current ATK!

I halve the attack power of Malefic Cyber End Dragon!

Blast stretched out his arms, and the whirlwind rolled up, instantly engulfing the huge electronic dragon. The green air current was like countless long whips whipping the steel body of the machine dragon in turn, and the green current splashed around with electric sparks.

[Malefic Cyber End Dragon, ATK 4000 ATK 2000]

Damn, the ability to halve the attack power

Yuei Vu may be the Duel King with the most decks in history. And even if it was the same series, he often adjusted it. The deck list used in each battle was different, and some records were lost, which made it almost impossible to fully research his deck.

Especially those heroes who were exclusive to Yuei Vu and have never been reproduced in any era. Because he has never fully disclosed the effect texts of some heroes to the public, and the long-standing records would also be lost, so even a future person like Paradox found it hard to find the corresponding information.

For example, this Masked HERO Blast, Paradox only had a vague impression.

But he'd remember the hero soon and in a very memorable way.

Masked HERO Blast the second effect is activated! Yuei Vu gave instructions to the hero, Once per turn, I can pay 500 LP, then target 1 Spell/Trap the opponent controls; return it to the hand!

What I want to bounce back to the hand, of course, is Malefic World!

Paradox: !!?

There is no end to this!?

Chapter 342: Hurricane Slash

The second effect of Masked HERO Blast! Once per turn, I can pay 500 LP, then target 1 Spell/Trap the opponent controls; return it to the hand!

What I want to bounce back to the hand, of course, is Malefic World!

Yuei Vu, LP 1950 LP 1450

At this time, the Masked HERO flew up with arms folded, and his figure began to spin at high speed. The majestic energy lingered around the gust, and as it turned, it turned into a sharp wind like a steel knife. The electric current circles around the green track like a speeding sports car, as if it wants to tear the dark world into pieces.

If this move was successful and the Malefic World was bounced back to the hand, then the Malefic Cyber End Dragon on Paradox's field would blow up on the spot like the Malefic Rainbow Dragon in the last turn!

That would almost certainly be his defeat.

But Paradox

he still had the last line of defense!

Activate the effect of Skill Prisoner from the graveyard!!!

Paradox gritted his teeth and almost roared.

A pitch-black vortex opened up, and a crimson trap card flew out of the GY, spun a few times in the air, and turned into golden light, and dissipated in the air.

Banish this card from the Graveyard, then target 1 card I control. During this turn, all monster effects that targeted that card will be negated!

He raised his finger to the storm in front of him.

The card I want to target is Malefic World! The effect of the monster that targets Malefic World is invalid for this turn, so the effect of Masked HERO Blast is negated!

The storm stopped. The invisible force forcibly contained the storm like a shackle, and also stopped the gust of wind, forcing him to fall back to the ground.

Yuei Vu's relentless pursuit of the Malefic World has been resolved one after another. It seems that this villain who dared to challenge the three duel kings at the same time is indeed not just a simple expansion, but has two brushes.

But at the same time, this was really Paradox's last resort.

If that is the case, then go straight to the Battle Phase! Yuei Vu said lightly, Masked HERO Blast, attack Malefic Cyber End Dragon!

Uh Hurricane Slash!

Although it still failed to blow away the Malefic World, with Blast's first effect, the attack power of the Malefic Cyber End Dragon had been overtaken.

Masked HERO Blast flew out on a green whirlwind, his body circling lightly as if he had merged with the hurricane, and descending from a high position, he threw a gorgeous green arc with his hand as a knife.

The hand knife dragged a long arc from mid-air, and cut the three-headed mechanical dragon from it with just one blow! The electric dragon screamed sharply, and lightning and sparks burst from the cracks in the steel.

With a bang, the huge mechanical dragon was instantly blown into ashes by the hero's blow, and countless metal fragments flew around.

Ugh!!

Paradox, who had not much LP left, was violently shaken back a few steps, almost relying on tenacious willpower to barely control himself from falling.

Paradox, LP 300 LP 100

There was only the last 100 LP left, but he staggered and finally stood up straight with difficulty.

It's not over yet. He gritted his teeth. There's still life left! I haven't given up yet!

Yuei Vu:

This I am a villain sensation is getting heavier and heavier

I end my turn.

Accompanied by the declaration, the hero in green armor gracefully fell back to Yuei Vu with arms folded. The red scarf fluttered in the wind like a flag.

My turn

Paradox lowered his head and stared intently at his deck, as if he was preparing to use all his life's strength to complete this card draw.

I can't yet fall down here

He closed his eyes, his fingers resting on the deck,

My companions who are looking forward to me in the distant future, lend me your strength!

Draw!!!

Paradox drew that card. The airflow seemed to draw a clear arc in the air.

Yuei Vu:

Hey, this is the premonition that the righteous protagonist is about to print a card to kill the evil villain. Are you sure you don't hold the wrong script?

Activate Spell Card Malefic Selector! Paradox played the card he just spiritually drew, Banish 2 Malefic cards from my GY; add 2 Malefic cards from my Deck to my hand, except Malefic Selector, with different names from each other and from the banished cards.

Two Malefic cards in the GY were removed, and at the same time, his Duel Disk quickly performed automatic retrieval. Two other cards popped out automatically.

Paradox took out those two cards: Let's use the trump cards of the friends you are familiar with in this era to bring you the end! What I want to add to my hand is Malefic Blue-Eyes White Dragon! Malefic Red-Eyes Black Dragon!

Then the effects of these two monsters activate!

I send the Blue-Eyes White Dragon and Red-Eyes Black Dragon from the deck to the graveyard, and special summon them from my hand!

Show up! Malefic Blue-Eyes White Dragon! Malefic Red-Eyes Black Dragon!

Two dragons, one white and one black, flapped their wings and flew out of the deep darkness. The duelists of this era called it the white dragon that brought victory and the black dragon that symbolized possibility. They respectively landed on Paradox's left and right sides!

Malefic Blue-Eyes White Dragon, ATK 3000

[Malefic Red-Eyes Black Dragon, ATK 2400]

Yuei Vu:

Red-Eyes Black Dragon was fine. Although this card was rare, it was not the only one who had it. What made him feel curious was where did Paradox get Blue-Eyes White Dragon?

Could it be that he traveled to the timeline before President Kaiba bought the Blue-Eyes White Dragon?

Anyway, Yuei Vu felt that for his own sake, he had better not use this card in front of President Kaiba. Otherwise, the consequences may be unimaginable

That would be the end! cried Paradox.

Malefic Blue-Eyes White Dragon and Malefic Red-Eyes Black Dragon had a total attack power of 5400. Yuei Vu only had a Masked HERO Blast with 2200 attack power, no set card on the field, and no card in hand.

This duel I won it!

Battle! Paradox yelled, Malefic Blue-Eyes White Dragon, tear up that Masked HERO for me! Sin Burst Stream of Destruction!!!

The white dragon opened its huge mouth, and the boundless power of light was brewing in it! A mighty jet beam seemed to be on the verge of blowing out, just a breath, and wanted to blast the only wall in front of Yuei Vu into dregs at any time!

But at this moment, Paradox was acutely horrified to find that Yuei Vu seemed to be laughing?

He felt as if his brain had briefly shut down.

Could it be that in this situation does he have another move?

Yuei Vu slowly raised his hand. At this time, the hero in front of him was also crossing his arms and looking at the destructive white dragon in front of him, as if he was not afraid at all.

The effect of Masked HERO Blast. Yuei Vu said calmly, Once per turn, I can pay 500 LP, then target 1 Spell/Trap the opponent controls; return it to the hand. And this effect can also be activated during the opponents turn!

Paradox: !?

This is a Quick Effect!?

Yuei Vu, LP 1450 LP 950

Masked HERO Blast! Yuei Vudao, Bounce the field magic Malefic World to the holders hand!

Facing the light bullets of destruction, Masked HERO Blast flew up fearlessly.

He made a choice in mid-air, driving the airflow and creating a galloping storm. The strong wind swept up almost everything in the arena, and the space was shattered in the turmoil. The sky seemed to be shattered, and the slag poured down like torrential rain until the entire dark world turned into nothingness and returned to the roof of the real building.

The Malefic World disappeared, and the domineering jet beam dissipated immediately. Malefic Blue-Eyes White Dragon and Malefic Red-Eyes Black Dragon raised their heads and let out a deep roar, both of them blew up on the spot and shattered into pieces.

Paradox looked at the Field Spell Card that was bounced back to his hand and couldn't help staying where he was.

This was the end of his last hope, his last struggle.

The two Malefic monsters on the field both exploded, his field was empty, and the last card in his hand was also the Malefic World that had just been bounced back to his hand.

In other words, he had no cards to play.

He lost.

My turn. Yuei Vu didn't even look at the cards he drew, It's time to fight. Masked HERO Blast, attack the player directly! Hurricane Slash!

Masked HERO Blast soared into the air, riding the hurricane below him, with a green knife light on the back of his hand, slashing toward Paradox

And at this moment, the space suddenly split open!

The pitch-black force field was broken from the outside, and something in the space roared like a dragon! An afterimage seemed to fly out from a crack in space, dragging a swaying red halo, broke into the middle of the field between the two sides, and landed heavily on the ground.

It was a red motorcycle?

Chapter 343: Future Duelists

A red motorcycle?

Or more accurately, it should be a D-Wheel.

Two people jumped out of the car one after the other, one with a crab head and the other with a jellyfish head the identity of the person was basically confirmed based on the hairstyle alone.

A real Yu-Gi-Oh fan would be able to recognize the protagonist's identity at a glance just by the outline of his hairstyle.

These two were the protagonists of the second and third generations in the history of Yu-Gi-Oh, Yuki Judai from GX and Yusei Fudo from 5DS!

Sure enough, just like in the movie, before returning to this era, Paradox first went to the era of 5DS to take away the Stardust Dragon from Yusei. Because of his wanton tampering with history, the time and space where Yusei lived began to collapse, and the whole world began to disappear.

The god-level monster spirit Crimson Dragon who resided on Yusei and his little friends lent power to Yusei and briefly gave his D-Wheel the ability to travel through time and space.

So Yusei rode his own D-Wheel and ran after Paradox to the present era. When passing through the GX era, by the way, he happened to meet the senior Yuki Judai.

The only problem was

According to the normal plot, shouldn't the first one the two of them encounter when they return to this era be Yugi Muto?

This gave Yuei Vu the illusion of stealing the protagonist's script

The two real protagonists both jumped out of the car. Yusei threw off the safety helmet, revealing his iconic crab hairstyle. Yuei Vu was still wondering how this hairstyle kept its shape when stuffed into the helmet and then quickly ran in front of Yuei Vu.

Are you okay!? he asked with concern.

Judai also jumped out of the car, but couldn't help being stunned when he saw Yuei Vu clearly.

Yuei Yuei Vu- sensei!?

Yuei Vu: ?

Sensei?

So my future self really went to the Duel Academy to become a teacher?

Breaking into the duel halfway, Judai thought he had seen the situation clearly. He turned around, clenched his fists, and looked angrily at the opposite Paradox: You bastard! You actually went back in time to attack Yuei Vu- sensei

Yusei also took a step forward and blocked Yuei Vu with his body: I won't let you do anything reckless again!

Yuei Vu: Wait a minute, you seem to have misunderstood something, if you don't come, he is already cold

But even if the blow just passed, it would not be directly fatal.

According to the explanation of Paradox in the animation, he said that when they dueled in his Malefic World, those who fail will be directly eliminated. But now that the Field Spell Card was blown back to his hand, that power naturally disappeared.

Although that force field simulated a Shadow Game, it was not enough to kill a person without the assistance of the Malefic World.

And Yuei Vu didn't want him to die like that.

After all, he had to ask Paradox why he was bothering him, and what the other party said about his spirit.

By the way, talk to him about the reason, and see if he could persuade him to give up the D-Wheel and Duel Disk

However, he didn't expect that the duel was interrupted before the end of the game by his teammates, no less!

Yuei Vu looked at the back of a certain crab head in front of him with concern, and couldn't help but fell into deep thought

Could this be the legendary will of the universe?

After all, pulling the screw in a duel is an invention of Yusei.

However, I didn't expect that this guy is not only satisfied with pulling out his own screws, but now he even pulls out other people's screws.

However, if Yusei wanted to blame them it seemed a little unreasonable.

After all, the two of them traveled thousands of miles and came back from the future without fear of danger, with the intention of saving him. It's just that they probably didn't expect that this year's boss was not very good, and Yusei almost settled it all by himself.

The two protagonists from the future stepped forward, one on the left and the other on the right, with momentum like a rainbow, and seemed to have embraced the consciousness of a decisive battle.

As the BOSS, Paradox, he

He took advantage of the moment when the two of them jumped out to talk, he had already stepped on the heavy and large D-Wheel, turned his head, and ran away.

Originally, in the force field he activated, he couldn't get out until the duel was decided. However, that force field was obviously torn apart by the powerful force attached to it when Yusei's D-Wheel broke in.

So now it was convenient for him to escape.

Before others could open their mouths, Paradox activated his D-Wheel, and a certain black technology device was started. With a series of high-pitched engine sounds, it disappeared with a snap.

Judai X Yusei who was posing:

This villain doesn't even play cards, does he just want to run away?

It seems that they are not quite the same as the opponents they have encountered so far.

The two protagonists turned around.

Yusei let out a long sigh of relief: Great, it looks like you're fine.

Yusei couldn't help swallowing the latter half of the words. Because he instinctively felt that the senior Duel King in front of him seemed to be looking at him unkindly.

Maybe it was an illusion, but Yusei felt that the Duel King seemed to be staring at his D-Wheel and Duel Disk.

Yusei sighed lightly.

Calm down, calm down.

He consoled himself.

Anyway, Paradox can run now but can't run forever. Let's consider it as D-Wheel and Duel Disk were temporarily deposited with him.

Intentionally or unintentionally, Yusei has already regarded those two pieces of equipment as his own.

Although you may find it unbelievable to say this, we came from the future. So did that person just now. Yusei introduced himself, My name is Fudo Yusei.

He looked at Judai as if signaling for him to introduce himself.

However, Judai

He was staring at Yuei Vu's face in a daze

At this time, a female spirit with wings and a demon-like image floated out from behind Judai, folded her arms, and hummed: Idiot, why are you so dumb?

Of course, Yuei Vu recognized her. Yubel, known as Sister Yub, Yuki Judai's spirit partner. Suspected to be a lover from a previous life.

She appeared for the first time in the Different Dimension World arc of Yu-Gi-Oh! GX. A Yandere character, due to her mind being corrupted by The Light of Destruction. However, after being whitewashed, she merged with Judai and became a partner of one mind.

He had to say that the ending of Judai and Yubel was also very Yu-Gi-Oh, just like the saying lovers will eventually become spirit partners (1)

Only then did Judai come back to his senses: Huh? Hello, sensei! No, it should be Yuei Vu-san now

Stupid! Is there any point in changing your way of addressing now? Yubel continued to mock.

It looked like an old married couple.

Although Yuei Vu probably already knew what was going on, it stood to reason that he was a person from the past who was suddenly involved in the incident. Now he should be in a daze.

So the two protagonists from the future also enthusiastically introduced the ins and outs of the matter to him and told him about Paradox traveling through time and space, going to various timelines to snatch the powerful monster spirits, intending to tamper with history.

And because of his wanton tampering with history, the future that Yusei lived in was on the verge of disappearing.

So whatever the reason, he must be stopped in this day and age!

Yuei Vu thought for a while and asked a question: But if according to what you said, the other party's machine can travel through time and space at will, then there is no way to track it. As we are talking, we don't even know that he may have run away. Which time and space

No, he should still be in this era.

Yusei shook his head and rolled up his right sleeve.

Because of this.

He pointed to a red pattern on his forearm, which was drawn in the shape of a dragon's head.

Yuei Vu knows that this mark was called the Mark of the Dragon, which was the proof of being a Signer. Only those chosen by the Crimson Dragon who was regarded as a god by the People of the Stars in ancient times would have this mark.

I also have some special powers. If the other party tries to activate the space-time device again and escape from this timeline, this mark will immediately respond. Yusei explained as concisely as possible.

I see.

Although he explained it very simply, Yuei Vu probably guessed it.

This showed that the machine used by Paradox to travel through time was probably related to the Planetary Particles.

Planetary Particle, also known as Yusei Particle, was a particle discovered by Fudo Yusei's father in the era of 5DS, and Yusei himself got his name from it.

The Planetary Particle was the key to the development of the perpetual motion machine called Momentum, which led the entire human civilization into a new stage. It was widely used in various scientific fields, and it seemed that the space-time travel device used by Paradox was also related to this particle.

And because of the close connection between Planetary Particle and dueling monsters, in that era, dueling became the fundamental element of technological progress to promote the development of civilization.

Chapter 344: False Protagonist VS Real Protagonist

So you two come here from the future? Yuei Vu confirmed.

It was Yusei who first traveled from the future to my time. Judai said, I followed him halfway, and it was only now that I came to see sense, Yuei Vu-san.

Yuei Vu ignored his habit of saying sensei and continued: Then if the other party travels through time and space again, can we still catch up with him?

Yes. Yusei nodded firmly.

The first time he traveled from the future to the GX era under the guidance of the power of the Crimson Dragon, he also felt huge resistance, and it took a lot of effort to catch up to Paradox. But from the second crossing, he obviously felt a lot more relaxed.

He could even bring Yuki Judai with him. Two men squeezed together on the D-Wheel with only one seat to travel together.

From this point of view, although time and space travel was only in imagination from a modern perspective, the truth of many things in the world may be common.

It may be very tight when passing for the first time, but there are many times, and after you are familiar with the road, it will naturally be smooth.

In fact, speaking of it, such things as Planetary Particles belonged to the Crimson Dragon. If Paradox could travel through time and space with astral particles, of course, the Crimson Dragon could do it himself.

That's why Yusei could catch up with Paradox from the future to this era on the D-Wheel.

And before we came, we found that history had already begun to be rewritten. Judai said, About this time period, Kaiba Corp was about to hold a large-scale event called the KC Grand Prix.

According to the reports we found from the future, it seems that that guy is planning to do something during this grand prix.

Paradox is aiming at the KC Grand Prix?

Here it is a bit different from the original plot.

Yuei Vu frowned.

He remembered that in the original work, the purpose of Paradox should be to kill Pegasus and prevent the further development of the duel monster game.

So why did he attack the KC Grand Prix? Wasnt this a competition hosted by Kaiba Corp?

Could it be that the future man thought about it and felt that killing Pegasus was not enough? With President Kaiba, a card-addicted boy, Duel Monster would continue to develop no matter what.

So he is going to get rid of the president too?

Thats too so brave.

Hope this guy is okay.

Yuei Vu -san, what should we do next? Judai asked Yuei Vu for his opinion.

Yuei Vu was taken aback for a moment, and couldnt help being a little surprised.

What do you ask me for? Arent you two supposed to be future soldiers?

Shouldnt you have a complete plan at this time?

And to be reasonable, you are the big shot now!

Fudo Yusei came from the early stage of the 5DS story, and now he may still not reach his full potential.

However, Judai came from the time and space after the end of GX. He was a real Rank 12 bigshot, the kind who could take a whole group off by himself!

Why are you pretending to be a newbie? Shouldnt we listen to your command and wait to lie down and win?

Thinking about it this way, Yuei Vu faintly realized that when Judai faced himself, he felt a littlereticent?

Is it because my future self is the teacher of Duel Academy?

Yuei Vu thinks it shouldnt be.

Who was Yuki Judai?

Sleeping in class, being late, absent from class, not listening to lectures, not doing homework

However, he was still the heroic senior who was admired and admired by all the students of the Duel Academy.

This big shot used to beat the dean when he was in school, drinking tea and talking and laughing with the principal. Would this kind of person feel awkward just because he saw his past teacher?

Obviously impossible.

Could it be because he was the Duel King?

Yuei Vu thought about it and felt that it was not right.

Yugi Muto is also the Duel King. Judai was very enthusiastic and happy when he saw Yugi in the anime. I didnt see anything unnatural.

Could it be that he was trained by my future self?

It seems like this is more likely

Seeing that the two juniors were looking straight at this side and waiting for him, the senior, to give orders, Yuei Vu was also a little dazed for a while.

If Paradox didnt show his face, there was nothing he could do for the time being. If the opponent didnt use the space-time device, even relying on the power of the Crimson Dragon on Yusei, he couldnt perceive the opponents position.

Although Yuei Vu was going to warn the president that he should pay more attention to the KC competition, but he didnt think it was useful.

After all, Paradox was a person from the future with advanced technology, so it was very easy to avoid tracking in this era.

But in any case, these two big shots must not be left outside. After thinking about it, Yuei Vu decided to take them back first.

If you cant decide, why not go back to my house first? My house is quite big, with many rooms and a duel arena

"

"

Hmmseems like something weird got in here

Okay, okay. Judai nodded, Then please.

Yusei bowed politely: Excuse me.

It just so happened that Yuei Vu was not too far away to go out, and it was only a few steps away to go back, so he took the two of them back together.

On the way back, the Kuriboh spirit couldnt help but floated out again, laying on Yuei Vus head and yelling Kuri Kuri a few times, acting as if he was very excited.

Immediately afterward, beside Judai, a cute little guy who was also fluffy and chubby flew out, with white wings like an angel.

That was Winged Kuriboh, the elf who has been with Judai since the beginning of GX.

The Winged Kuriboh flapped its wings and flew beside Judai, also crying Kuri Kuri a few times.

Kuriboh seemed surprised, and floated up with a cry of Kuri.

The Winged Kuriboh also greeted him: Kuri Kuri!

Kuriboh: Kuri? (Question.JPG)

Winged Kuriboh: Kuri Kuri! (Happy.JPG)

The two little guys seemed to understand something through a brief exchange, and saw the Kuriboh happily flying back to Yuei Vu, rubbing his face vigorously, jumping up and down, and crying: Kuri Kuri! Kuri Kuri!

Yuei Vu:

Even if you say that, I cant understand what youre talking about

Then he saw Judai communicating with his winged Kuriboh, and then turned his head with a smile: My partner said that he is also very happy to meet Yuei Vu-san!

Yuei Vu:

At this time, a comparison picture between himself and Yuki Judai had already appeared in Yuei Vus mind involuntarily.

False Protagonist VS Real Protagonist. JPG.

Sure enough, he was still a false protagonist even if there was the Yu- prefix in his name. Not only he couldnt use BISS, and couldnt print cards, but he couldnt also even understand Kuriboh

Chapter 345: You Also Have This Day!

Senior Yuei Vu, you alone defeated him? Yusei, who had heard Yuei Vus description of the process, expressed surprise.

As expected of Mr. Yuei Vu Judai immediately showed his adoration.

Yuei Vu said with a dark face: No, I said nearly. If you were just a second late, it might be over.

Yusei:

Judai:

The two of them now felt like Kyle Reese, a future warrior who traveled back in time to save the world in the Terminator movie. When they came back despite the danger, they found that Sarah Connor, who was supposed to be the object of protection, was holding a gun in one hand, holding an ax in the other hand, stepping on the T-800 that has turned into scrap iron, saying to them with a dark face, Why did you come so late?

After thinking about it, Yuei Vusi always felt that it was a loss, and felt that he had to find a way to make up for it. However, Yuseis D-Wheel must not be touched, otherwise, the two protagonists will have to live here for the rest of their lives

Unexpectedly, he hadnt said a word yet, and saw Yusei pondering for a moment, and took a card out of nowhere: By the way, Yuei Vu-san, this

Yuei Vu took a look and saw that it was a Drill Synchron.

A Tuner of the Synchron series, Fudo Yuseis main theme deck!

Yuei Vu: !

Are young people going to be like this in the future? I didnt say anything, but he take the initiative to give a gift?

While Yuei Vu took the card into his hand, he declined: Thisisnt that precious?

It doesnt matter, this is the proof of our bond that transcends time and space. Yusei smiled meaningfully, Please accept it.

Yuei Vu grasped the proper polite refusal, and then changed into respect is equal to obedience and accepted this proof of bond.

Yuei Vu was in a good mood instantly and immediately forgot all about Paradox and the Malefic deck.

Heh, Malefic is just an entertainment deck. Its no big deal that he let it run away.

Yuseis Synchron deck is different. This is the meta deck that won the championship in the real card environment back then!

However, the Synchron deck needed to rely on the Synchro Summon that was developed many years later to exert its power. Due to the limitation of the era, it may not be used for a long time.

But it didnt matter, there was always nothing wrong with Yuei Vu collecting the cards first.

Judai was thoughtful: I always feel, Yusei, you seem to understand Mr. Yuei Vu very well

Looking at it now, it was fortunate that the president happened to force Yuei Vu to move into a manor, otherwise, he would really not be able to find a place for two big men to stay in a while.

Considering the haste of time travel, Judai and Yusei basically didnt bring anything with them except for the Duel Disk, deck, and other necessary tools for playing cards.

If Paradox was not going to show up for a while, both of them might have to stay for a while. Therefore, daily necessities, including the clothes to be changed, must be borrowed from Yuei Vu first.

Anyway, men were inherently informal creatures, so this little problem didnt matter.

Rather, it helps the three gamers from different time and space to understand and exchange feelings faster.

If two men wear a pair of underpants, they were naturally brothers.

That night, when Judai came out of the bathroom after taking a hot bath and wiping his wet hair, he immediately stared at Yuei Vu with burning eyes like flames

Yuei Vu-san! Lets try a duel!

Yuei Vu:

I knew it.

Although Yuki Judais style of dueling was closer to Yugi, in terms of duel brain, he was closer to Kaiba Playing cards can solve anything. Even if playing cards cant solve the problem, it can solve the problem maker. (1)

I dont know what this child is more like.

But in the end, the two did not have a formal duel.

The two of them only dragged a table over, spread out a table mat for duels, sat at the table facing each other from left to right, and briefly play with cards alone.

"

"

It felt like the friends from the board game club in the previous life playing cards around a table.

When Judai was studying at the Duel Academy, he often play like this with his roommates and friends in the dormitory (even often lost to his junior brother Marufuji Sho). Strictly speaking, this was not a duel, but an exchange of tactics and experience to promote feelings.

Yuei Vu reckoned that if he really wanted to start a serious fight, he maybe not be the opponent of the boy in front of him.

After all, this Judai came from the time after the end of GX, and his Rank has already reached 12 stars.

God knows how many years have passed since the ending of GX, and how many cards have been developed and printed by him in private

Judais initial talent was beyond that of ordinary people, and he performed divine draws as easily as eating and drinking water. With the development of the plot, they have successively obtained the power of new space from the distant M78 Nebula (by mistake), unlocking and accepting the invincible power of the Supreme King deep in his heart. Overlord power is a fusion of the soul of Yubel, who has the power of The Light of Destruction

Now this guy was a walking cheat, Yuei Vu weighed his own weight and felt that the chances of winning against him might really be slim.

This was Yuei Vus idea before the friendly exchange between the two parties.

After the two of them sat down on both sides of the table and rubbed them casually, Yuei Vus mentality gradually changed to

Oh Shit Fuck!

Hit a hammer, this card can no longer be played!

In the first game, Judai had a Flame Wingman on the field and two set cards in the back row.

To be on the safe side here, Yuei Vu decided to Normal Summon the Solid Soldier, and then use the effect of the Solid Soldier to special summon the Stratos in his hand, use the effect of the Stratos to destroy one of the set cards, and then activate the Mask Change in his hand, so that Stratos transformed into Masked HERO Blast, halved Flame Wingmans attack power, and blew the second set card back to his hand by the way, ensuring an OTK

The idea was good. However, Yuei Vu hadnt had time to play a card yet, as he saw Judai wave his hand and opened the set card in the back row

I would directly crush your mind!

Activate Trap Card Mind Crush. The card I want to declare is Mask Change! Judai smiled strangely, Yuei Vu-san, if you have that card in your hand, please discard it.

Yuei Vu:

Yuei Vu, who silently discarded the Mask Change, couldnt help but twitch.

Fuck!

Yuki Judai, you are so big-eyed, why is your deck so frustrated? Who did you learn from?

How can you be autistic?

Yuei Vu, who has always been the only one who crushed others minds, experienced the pain of being mind crushed for the first time.

It was the kind of pain that couldnt be described

(Dartz from Heaven thinks its great)

The second game.

I activate Spell Card D.D. Designator! Judai played a Spell Card, Declare 1 card name. Look at the opponents hand, and if they have the declared card in their hand, remove from play that 1 card. If they do not have the declared card in their hand, I have to remove from play 1 random card in my hand.

What I want to declare is Elemental HERO Stratos!

Yuei Vu:

Yuei Vu silently glanced at the Sky hero, whom he has spent tons of gold to acquire, and then took it out silently, and removed it from the game.

The third game.

Yuei Vu: Activate the Spell Card Miracle Fusion, which allows Elemental HERO monsters to be fused from the GY. I removed the Elemental HERO Sparkman and Elemental HERO Flame Wingman in my GY, and fusion summon Shining Flare Wingman

Yuei Vu- sensei, wait a minute!

Yuki Judai, who was suspected of being emotional, accidentally called him sensei again.

Then Yuei Vu saw him flipping over a cover card with excitement.

Quick-Play Spell Crossout Designator! Judais smile became brighter and brighter, Declare 1 card name; banish 1 of that declared card from my Main Deck, and negate the activated effects and effects on the field of cards with the same original name, until the end of this turn!

I removed the Miracle Fusion from my own deck from the game, and the Miracle Fusion activated by you, sensei, will be negated!

Yuei Vu:

Looking at Judais brilliant smile brought by the duel, Yuei Vu couldnt help but fell into deep thought.

How about lets just give him a beatdown?

Since he already calls me sensei, it shouldnt be a big problem to slap my own students, right?

The fourth game.

This time Judai first activated Neos Fusion, which allowed our Ultraman to be fused in the deck. Then he discarded the Elemental HERO Honest Neos in the Damage Step. This card could increase the attack power of the Elemental HERO on his field by 2500 points during the battle

Yuei Vu:

Obviously, until the finale of Yu-Gi-Oh! GX, Yuki Judai didnt have such a supermodel in his hands.

Then there was only one answer.

These were all new cards that he printed out as his strength grew after the ending.

"

"

Although Yuei Vu expected that it might be a bit difficult to play cards with Judai, he never expected that it would be this kind of development.

Fuck, which imbecile taught the sunny Judai to play nether cards like this?

That bastard leads our good hero guy to go astray

Perhaps it was like the old sentence Those who deceive others will be deceived.

Yuei Vu didnt expect at all that one day he would be targeted and overwhelmed and unable to take care of himself

Judai still had a sunny smile on his face, as if he was saying

Ha, you also have this day!

Chapter 346: Vigilance.JPG

Yuei Vu promised Chika that he would come back to the store often when he was free, so of course it was more than just talking.

On the second day after moving out, Yuei Vu woke up early. The two protagonists from the future were still sleeping soundly in their respective rooms, while Yuei Vu returned to the store before dawn.

Chika also woke up very early as usual, with her little head sticking out every few minutes, looking out through the window as if she was expecting something.

When that familiar figure appeared from the corner of the street, the girls eyes seemed to become brighter in an instant.

While Yuei Vu was crossing the street and entering the door, she hurriedly straightened her skirt and hairstyle, and straightened the maids white bow tie, as if she was determined to show her best.

She opened the store door for Yuei Vu: You are here.

Yuei Vu froze for a moment, then nodded: Im here.

You actually dont need to come here.

But Im still here.

Suddenly there is a strong sense of Gu Long-style wuxia novels

Yuei Vu coughed: You woke up very early.

Waiting for you.

Do you know Im coming over today?

I dont. Chika shook her head seriously.

She didnt know, but it didnt prevent her from waiting.

Have you eaten? she asked.

Nope.

Lets eat together then, she said, Ill get something to eat.

After finishing speaking, without waiting for Yuei Vu to reply, she went to the kitchen to fiddle.

The breakfast consisted of miso soup, rice, and a few dishes of Chinas favorite side dishes.

The shopkeeper was still sound asleep on the bed as usual, so there were only the two of them at the dining table.

While eating, the two chatted one after another.

Chika casually told Yuei Vu about all kinds of trivial things that happened in and around the store during his absence and mentioned the ever-changing coquettish operations of the group of screwballs who often visited the store.

When it comes to some of the bewildering behavior awards such as side by side bunny jump, even Chika, who was extremely stingy with her poor expression, couldnt help but want to laugh out loud.

Because that picture was really too screwball.

Yuei Vu laughed with her while listening to it, and at the same time secretly reflected in his heart, wondering if he had such confusing behaviors back then

However, after experiencing the Doma incident, Chikas attitude towards these screwball duelists has changed a lot.

At first, she just thought these people were neurotic, just weird people whose language and behavior were incomprehensible. However, in the case of Doma, when various monsters appeared in the city that seemed to come from fantasy works, it was these screwballs who stood up and maintained the peace of the streets.

Since then, Chikas impression of these strange people has changed.

Even now, when she saw these psychopaths around her making noise, behaving in a confused way, and sometimes wearing weird costumes, she just felt familiar.

Then she brought up Snow Wave again.

Since Snow Wave came to this store, he has been like a ruthless working machine. Chika always thought that his social circle seemed to be only those strange people around him besides Yuei Vu. As a result, she never expected that in the past two days, it seemed that someone had written him a letter, and it was still sent from abroad.

Even Yuei Vu felt a little surprised.

What? Someone actually wrote to this guy?

And I dont know yet?

After asking, it seems that when Orichalcos monsters were rampant all over the street, Snow Wave followed the army of players to collect points to grab the head, and accidentally saved a girl.

The favorability of the passer-by girl exploded in an instant, and somehow she found out Snow Waves address here, and she actually wrote a special letter to express her gratitude

It was said that saving a life was better than a seven-level pagoda, Snow Wave who was thanked was naturally happy.

But thats all.

At the end of the letter, the girl also mentioned that she hoped to thank her in person.

However, we Snow Wave read this and opened the quest panel to see

Damn, there was no quest that was triggered.

So boring.

Snow Wave immediately didnt want to go.

What do women mean? They dont give experience, dont give crystals, dont give cards.

If I have that much free time, it was better to do more daily tasks with Yuei Vu-san, so that I can increase his favorability for me and gain EXP.

Even going out to learn how to bark is good.

Playing cards is better than falling in love!

You should lick Yuei Vusans boot when playing cards!

Ever since, Snow Wave turned around and threw the letter aside, forgetting about it

Hearing from Chika that Snow Wave didnt take this matter to heart at all, while Yuei Vu was speechless, he could probably guess Snow Waves state of mind.

After all, players have never been interested in things that were not profitable.

But now Yuei Vu was roughly convinced that this was not just a game world but more similar to a different world that borders reality through games, and all the NPCs living here were real.

How about Lets do a good deed once and help the girl who wrote the letter?

Give Snow Wave a quest, and ask him to meet the other party, this guy probably runs faster than a rabbit

After breakfast, the new day began. Not long after the store opened, before the sky was fully lit, the screwballs appeared one after another, and the store was packed to the brim after a while.

Chika was completely used to it now, and the noisy screwballs have become the norm in this store. If one day all the screwballs were gone, she might not get used to it.

In fact, not everyone was here to buy cards. After all, players have limited time and energy to make crystals. Some people just chopped off their hands yesterday.

Some people simply come here to chat and boast they felt uncomfortable if they don't come to this store for a day.

As a businessman, Yuei Vu felt that he saw a business opportunity again.

So he was very intimate to provide players with some extra products. For example, a small table and stool where you can sit and rest, such as playing cards, or even mahjong.

You may not believe it, but there were really many screwballs buying it.

Anyway, the prices given by Yuei Vu for these things were very cheap, and if several players bought them together, they wouldn't cost much at all.

As a result, many players who were standing simply sat down where they were, and started playing poker.

On the things about me playing poker and mahjong with Yu-Gi-Oh players in a Yu-Gi-Oh game.

Yuei Vu even felt that Dream Card Store could consider expanding its storefront and expanding its business. For example, set up a board game bar or something, especially for screwballs to play cards, drink and boast.

After a busy day, Yuei Vu's inventory of crystals has increased a lot.

As the closing time approached, the screwballs dispersed one after another. Yuei Vu helped Chika tidy up the store and was about to close the door when there was a knock on the door.

Yuei Vu turned his head, and found that was Tenma Gekko whom he hadn't seen for a while.

Well, actually, he couldn't tell whether it was Gekko or Yako because the two brothers had the same hair and face.

It was only because he remembered that Yako should be at the headquarters of the United States, and it was his brother Gekko who stayed in the Domino branch, so he judged so.

"

"

Chika also followed the prestige and looked at the visitor.

Light blue hair, chic hairstyle, elegant black suit, good facial features, and looks very polite, well-educated even a little handsome.

Generally, when girls saw such a young and handsome guy, they may be attracted involuntarily.

However, Chika was different.

Her first reaction was

Vigilance. JPG.

Who is this guy? It seems that I have never seen him before.

Did you come to see my Yuei Vu?

Gekko? Yuei Vu asked.

But the other party shook his head and smiled: No, I am Yako, Mr. Yuei Vu.

Oh? I remember you are at the headquarters, aren't you?

Yes, but I asked Mr. Pegasus to be transferred here, and he approved it. Now my brother and I have exchanged positions, and I will stay here for the time being.

After a pause, he seemed a little embarrassed.

Because I want to be closer to Mr. Yuei Vu and stay by your side as much as possible. I know that I still have a lot of shortcomings and a lot to learn

Chika-chan stopped sweeping the floor suddenly, and her eyelids twitched.

Chapter 347: A Girl Must Have Followers

Tenma Yako briefly explained the purpose of his coming, and Yuei Vu remembered that he had an agreement with the Industrial Illusions.

Pegasus had contacted him before, expressing his intention to design and release the Elemental HERO series, and hoped to get help and advice from him, an authoritative person.

Things were already decided at the time, but something happened to Industrial Illusions after that.

When Doma started to make trouble, the Industrial Illusions were the first to be targeted by them. Even the soul of President Pegasus was confiscated and turned into the rations of the evil god. Naturally, other affairs were temporarily put on hold.

Now that Doma has been defeated, the matter has settled, and the company's operations are back on track, so the project has naturally been restarted.

Yuei Vu also readily expressed his willingness to cooperate with Tenma Yako's invitation.

It's just about Elemental HERO, Yuei Vu thought that there might be a certain jellyfish head player in his room who was more authoritative than himself

According to Yako, the project has actually started now, and they would like to invite Yuei Vu to the branch building to have a look.

Yuei Vu looked at the time and felt that it was still early, so he agreed.

Mr. Yuei Vu doesn't seem to be very energetic today? Yako observed very carefully.

That's right. Yuei Vu yawned, and said helplessly, Two dueling masters came to my house. Last night, we um exchanged duel experience with others, and went to bed very late .

Chika: Continue to be vigilant. JPG.

Speaking of this, Yuei Vu thought of the experience of being crushed by Yuki Judai last night, and couldn't help but feel a little bit painful

If it were said that Judai didn't understand his deck construction, he absolutely wouldn't believe it.

Yuei Vu probably already had a guess in his heart. In the future, Yuki Judai should not only be one of his students, but he should be very familiar with him so that Judai knew his thoughts and decks very well.

This kind of wretched tactics, the nether targeting style of play, there was no doubt that it was definitely taught by his future self!

A divine draw cheater who learned the tactical thinking of real card players!

No wonder the in-depth communication between their teachers and students across time and space last night was so unpleasant.

But after thinking about it, Yuei Vu was relieved.

After all, no matter how awesome that is also my student!

Wasn't he trained by me?

Sure enough, I'm awesome!

Tenma Yako didn't think so much.

Hearing this, he just felt

Hiss~ As expected of Mr. Yuei Vu!

He is already the Duel King. As a man standing at the top, he actually stays up every night to practice hard and pursue an even more extreme peak!

Is this the mindset of the strong?

No wonder we have such a big gap

Going to the branch with Yako for a brief look, Yuei Vu also got a general understanding of the current status of the opening of the Elemental HERO series.

Avian, Burstinatrix, Clayman, and Sparkman, the famous Four (Waste) Soul Heroes already had samples.

And the designers were still considering designing some exclusive equipment or weapons for each of their heroes and releasing some supporting cards.

After all, heroes in animated movies often had the habit of upgrading and changing equipment.

After reading it, Yuei Vu gave a simple suggestion.

For example, Elemental HERO was a series that focused on fusion. The idea was that two weak heroes could summon a stronger posture through fusion.

After this deck set the tone, it could also be used as the base for changing the meta to Fusion. Taking this opportunity, more decks that focused on fusion could be released in the future.

Although from the perspective of later generations, the Fusion meta had the fatal flaw of losing cards two Fusion Materials plus a Spell Card for fusion, three cards for one monster, it was equivalent to a -2 card advantage for the current environment, the advantages of Fusion were still significant.

In one turn, you could summon high-level monsters through the Fusion of hand cards. That was fast and not consuming the Normal Summon, which still had a very strong suppression ability in the current environment.

While Yuei Vu was talking, Yako took notes while holding a pen and a small notebook, looking like a good student who studied hard.

When it came to the end, Yuei Vu couldn't find anything to say for a while, thought for a while, and asked, Do you have a toilet here? Yako actually lowered his head and prepared to take a pen to write

Yuei Vu:

In the evening, before leaving, Yako took Yuei Vu to visit the design department and showed him the new cards under development and design.

For example, the Cyber Angel series used by Asuka Tenjoin in GX seemed to have already taken shape.

There were also the Chemical and Bonding series used by Daichi Misawa in GX, and Magnet Warriors and the like could also be seen here.

However, most of the cards under development here have been tested by players for many years and have been tested to be not very strong.

All the way down, only a set of cards under development caught Yuei Vus attention.

Huh?

What caught Yuei Vus attention was a small and cute magical girl who was projected as the representative of the deck.

She wore a lovely magic hat, and under the hat she has long, smooth light green hair. She was holding a small magic wand in her hand, and she was dressed in a cool mage outfit, revealing her slender arms and white waist

Of course, Yuei Vu would definitely not notice her for such a boring reason as cute.

To his surprise

It looked like a Magician Girl!?

Ah, yes, among Mr. Yuei Vus favorite monsters, there seems to be the highest-level rare card Dark Magician Girl, right? Tenma Yako approached, Legend says that she is the only disciple of the Dark Magician. A female mage with very strong abilities.

While speaking, the Dark Magician Girl herself floated beside Yuei Vu in the spirit form, and she couldn't help shaking with pride after hearing this praise.

Yuei Vu asked: This deck is?

Magician Girl series. Yako explained, Because the Dark Magician Girl is extremely popular among Duel Monster lovers everywhere, all kinds of peripherals are also sold well among collectors outside the dueling world.

But it's a pity that even if we want to remake it, the card of the Dark Magician Girl well let's just say it, there are technical problems that we can't solve.

The Dark Magician Girl continued to be proud, with an expression of I want the master to praise and pat my head.

That's why in response to the needs of the market, Mr. Pegasus specially arranged and designed this card set that is closely related to the Dark Magician Girl. Tenma Yako said, The Dark Magician Girl in your hands, Mr. Yuei Vu, belongs to this Magician Girl series

No, or it should be said that this series itself was derived from the card Dark Magician Girl.

Yuei Vu naturally knew this.

The Magician Girl deck appeared in the 20th-anniversary movie Yu-Gi-Oh! The Dark Side of Dimensions.

As for why Pegasus designed this deck, Yuei Vu probably understood.

After all, even the Industrial Illusions needed customers.

Perhaps after designing so many monsters, President Pegasus finally realized a truth, that was, most Yu-Gi-Oh players were boys, and the best way to earn money from boys was cute girls

The design of this deck has basically been completed. Unfortunately, even if it is officially released, it is still incomplete. If there is no Dark Magician Girl

He changed his mind: By the way, if it is Mr. Yuei Vu who holds the Dark Magician Girl, you should be able to exert its full power.

Maybe this deck will be handed over to you first.

I have been waiting for these words

Of course, such words could not be said indiscriminately.

Yuei Vu coughed: This isn't that good? After all, it's a deck that hasn't been released yet. This is a precious sample

It doesn't matter. Yako smiled, Don't look at me like this, in the Industrial Illusions, I can still decide such a small matter. Besides, the benefits to us, Mr. Yuei Vu, outweigh the disadvantages.

After all, even if a new deck is released, we still have to promote it. But I would like to ask, what advertisement can be more effective than the card set used by the Duel King?

When Yuei Vu thought about it, it seemed that was indeed the case.

If you put it that way, it sounds like their Industrial Illusions is taking advantage of it.

Of course, Yuei Vu said that he was magnanimous, and didn't care about a little advertising fee.

Okay. Yuei Vu nodded, Then I will thank you first.

Yako smiled: No, after you have helped us so much, this is the least we can do. If we must thank you, it should be that I must thank on behalf of the Industrial Illusions

While the two were exchanging pleasantries, the Dark Magician Girl floated beside her, blinking her beautiful big eyes and looking at the magical girl projected next to her.

This means to say

Im going to have followers soon!?

The girls eyes lit up, and she immediately looked forward to it.

Chapter 348: KC Grand Prix

Although Yuei Vu's trip was to help the Industrial Illusions, he gained a lot of benefits from there.

Not only did he get the Magician Girl deck that hadn't been released yet on the market, but he also got some pretty good quality cards.

For example, when he duelled with Pegasus before, Yuei Vu was envious for a while, but he was too embarrassed to speak because of his status.

This time, he finally caught the right opportunity and took away the two rare cards that he had been interested in for a long time.

[Spell Books from the Pot (Normal Spell Card): Both players draw three cards.]

[Monster Recovery (Normal Spell Card): Return all monsters on your side of the field and cards in your hand to your Deck. Shuffle your Deck, then draw 5 cards.]

In addition, he had an unexpected harvest here.

[Red Reboot (Counter Trap Card): When your opponent activates a Trap Card: Negate the activation, and if you do, Set that card face-down, then they can Set 1 other Trap directly from their Deck. For the rest of this turn after this card resolves, your opponent cannot activate Trap Cards. You can activate this card from your hand by paying half your LP.]

This was a very powerful trap, which could ensure that you didn't have to worry about stepping on any traps throughout the turn. What's more, it could even be activated directly from the hand. It could be called a killing artifact.

Originally, this card was supposed to appear in the parallel world of Yu-Gi-Oh! VRAINS. He never expected to see it here in the Industrial Illusions.

But it seemed that this is not surprising.

After all, Mirror Force and Magic Cylinder, which were relatively common in the DM era, have become ultra-rare cards in VRAINS.

After returning home that night, when he opened the door, Yuei Vu immediately heard the excited voice of Yuki Judai.

When he entered the door, he found that Judai and Yusei were discussing deeply around the small table where they played cards last night.

It was conceivable that two Duel Kings from different eras were like the meeting of two top fencing masters in the world.

Hey, Yuei Vu-sensei, are you back? A certain jellyfish head had completely given up on changing his way of addressing Yuei Vu.

At this time, Judai looked excited as if he had discovered a new world.

Sensei, you must have never heard of it? There is such a thing as Synchro Summon!

Yuei Vu:

Is this a new way of summoning in the future? Its amazing!

Yusei was not moved by the seniors praise, he just silently put away the cards on the table, and said seriously: Judai-senpai is too strong, I am no match at all

Although he didnt see the process of the duel, Yuei Vu could roughly imagine it.

It was indeed difficult for Yusei.

If there was no discrepancy with the animations settings, the current Yusei should come from the timeline in the middle stage of the 5DS plot, with limited experience and pitifully few cheats. Not to mention the last BOSS of the main storyline, he hasnt even seen all the elite monsters in the main storyline.

Meanwhile, the current Yuki Judai was equivalent to a full-level character who has cleared all levels and unlocked all achievements. Printing cards and divine draw was like a normal attack for him now

By the way, Yuei Vu-sensei, do you want to try again? Judai was eager to try.

Not today, I have to rest early today.

Oh, thats it, lets have a fun duel again when we have a chance later.

Um.

Yuei Vu responded with a smile, thinking in his heart

Fun my ass!

You will never bring a smile to my face when you play cards like this.

In the past two days, Kaiba Corp has also made moves.

After suffering a series of previous blows, Kaibas stock has now fallen to the bottom, and its reputation has never been worse. So under the leadership of President Seto Kaiba himself, a series of meetings and discussions were held, and the board of directors of the company finally agreed on the best plan that should be taken now and the only one that could quickly restore the companys reputation and stock price

Hold a large-scale duel competition with high international recognition.

After all, dueling could save the world, so of course, it could save businesses too.

Isnt this common sense?

So Kaiba waved his hand and directly launched the KC Grand Prix, inviting powerful duelists from all over the world to participate.

Early this morning, Yuei Vu was still lying in bed in a daze, and the mobile phone not far away started to ring.

Yuei Vu yawned and sat up sleepily. The Kuriboh yelled Kuri Kuri, and flew to Yuei Vus bed with his mobile phone in its arms.

Yuei Vu rubbed Kuribohs fluffy head to express his gratitude, picked it up, and saw that it was the call from President Kaiba.

The presidents speech was as concise as ever, roughly meaning that the organization has decided after discussion, we were going to hold a duel meeting, and the organization was going to send you to participate in the competition to attract viewers.

The gimmick of The Duel King will also participate was indeed attractive enough, and there would undoubtedly be a large number of audiences attracted by it.

The president of the schedule mode has probably arranged it.

It was slightly different from the original animation. The qualifiers were held around the world, and duelists who intended to participate and pass the review could be qualified for the semi-finals.

The venue for the semi-finals and finals was the Kaiba Land, which has been officially completed and was about to open soon.

The opening of the Kaiba Land would also be the official opening of the KC Grand Prix.

Contestants who passed the qualifiers would have a rematch in the Kaiba Land to compete for the title of champion.

Then the president said that Yuei Vu, who was the Duel King, would be directly sent to the quarterfinals without participating in the preliminaries.

By the way, Yuei Vu remembered that in the animation, Yugi Muto participated in the KC Grand Prix as a special guest, and Kaiba seemed to let him go directly to the finals.

But when it came to Yuei Vu, he was only given the top eight. Why were they treated differently?

Or was it because he was Kaibas employee, and there was no pressure to use him, so let him play a few more games to satisfy the audience?

President Kaiba also made it clear that for the sake of Kaiba Land and the companys construction, he himself has retired from the duel world, and would not participate in this competition.

To be honest, Yuei Vu admired this perseverance.

Do you understand the pain of seeing someone playing poker in your own house, but you cant join to satisfy your card addiction?

It could also be seen from this that the current situation of Kaiba Corp may not be optimistic, even to the point where the president couldnt play cards happily

To Yuei Vus surprise, Kaiba didnt invite Yugi this time.

Is it because he thinks that he already has a Duel King at home, so he doesnt need outsiders to come to suppress the field?

Of course, if Yuei Vu really didnt want to go, he could still refuse, and President Kaiba probably wouldnt force him either.

But Yuei Vu probably also understood that this was already the president asking himself for help.

After all, the president was very awkward, and he would definitely not say anything if he asked for help directly. He would take the initiative to call Yuei Vu to ask Yuei Vu to go to the town hall, and he was not regarded as an outsider.

Considering that the president was really kind to him, and the salary was also generous, even let him go to the card warehouse of Kaiba Corp to take a few cards every three days (so much so that the warehouse management uncle and he became old acquaintances), and the room he lived in belonged to the president

Yuei Vu still agreed.

Of course, Yuei Vu did not forget to remind the president that someone might cause trouble in the KC Grand Prix competition, but as he expected, Kaiba really didnt take it to heart.

Hmph! Standing on a high place will naturally be watched. If you are afraid, you will not be able to move forward! Kaiba said disdainfully, If there are rats who dare to make trouble, then come! I will beat them to pieces. They realized the biggest mistake of their lives!

This tone, this line, coupled with the presidents unique voice, Yuei Vu even felt a little off-putting through the phone

Chapter 349: Is Kaiba An Astrologer?

Since the president invited him so sincerely, Yuei Vu decided to give him a face for the time being and attend the competition.

This was not entirely for the face of President Kaiba, attending the competition was also good for Yuei Vu himself. For example, to increase his exposure, maintain his reputation among the players, and by the way, advertise the new cards, promote the new card box that would be launched in the private store, etc definitely not to help that awkward guy Kaiba.

Well, thats right, thats it. Anyway, Yuei Vu believed it himself.

According to Yuei Vus previous life experience, this KC Grand Prix is different from the previous Battle City competition.

At that time, the Closed Beta had just started, and all the players were still holding stacks of Normie cards that had no combat effectiveness.

As the saying went Even a clever woman can hardly cook without rice, even the best players couldnt play well if they didnt have good cards in their hands.

In addition, the NPCs in the top eight of Battle City were all well-known big shots, and the players couldnt get any benefits from them. It was really difficult to enter the top eight.

In the end, only a certain lucky guy squeezed into the quarterfinals with a gimmick Elemental HERO deck

But now the game has been in service for so long, especially after all players have gone through the main storyline of Waking the Dragons arc and received a lot of generous rewards, some of the top elite players have more or less acquired cards with slightly more combat effectiveness. Those would certainly pose more threats.

In addition, as an anime-only arc, although the contestants in the KC Grand Prix were said to be powerful duelists from all over the world, in fact, the quality of the contestants has declined visibly compared with the Battle City.

All the contestants in the Battle City quarter-finals were big shots known as legendary duelists in later generations. In comparison, the KC Grand Prix in the original work seemed to be a bit of a pickle. ..

"
"

Under such a background, Yuei Vu had no doubt that there will definitely be many elite players who would stand out, and it was not impossible to even be shortlisted for the finals.

In addition, when it came to the KC Grand Prix, there was one more thing.

There must be a conspiracy in a large-scale event, which was common sense in any animation work. Fortunately for President Kaiba, Yuei Vu already knew in advance who was going to make trouble this time.

Because it was just a little effort, Yuei Vu thought about it and felt that it would be better to eliminate this potential threat for the president before the competition started.

Deep in the jungle, in a luxurious palace, there was a luxurious bathtub in the hall.

Surrounded by well-trained maids in uniform, like soldiers on guard. A man with long pink hair and a naked body was lying gracefully in the bathtub, holding a branch of roses in his hand.

He stood up from the bathtub with a crash and opened his arms.

The beautiful maids and sisters quickly surrounded him, some of them held towels to help him dry his body, some helped him to blow his hair, and some stood by with clean clothes.

In this situation, this pink-haired man neither had any distracting thoughts in his heart nor did he have any physical reaction he was even thinking about another man.

Seto Kaiba!

The pink-haired man smiled evilly, and at the same time sniffed the roses in his hand.

Those who didn't know it may think that he has some secret relationship with President Kaiba

He was called Sieg Lloyd, but his real name was Siegfried von Schroeder, the chairman of the Schroeder Corp.

The first time he met Kaiba was when they were both very young. At that time, Siegfried and his parents participated in the banquet hosted by Kaiba Corp. At that time, the young Siegfried hacked into the computer control program of Kaiba Corp during the performance in front of Little Kaiba, which made the little president admire him.

In fact, the original Schroeder Corp, like the Kaiba Corp, was also a world-renowned arms dealer.

However, as the saying went colleagues are enemies, Schroeder Corp has been maliciously suppressed by the Kaiba Corp in its development, and they really could not compete with the Kaiba

Corp, which was constantly emerging with black technology. When the previous chairman, Siegs father, died from overwork, the company was on the verge of bankruptcy.

The young Siegfried stepped in and took over the banner of the company. He judged that in the arms industry, with the suppression of the Kaiba Corp, it would be difficult for them to stand up for a lifetime, so he waved his hand and made a very bold decision

From now on, our company will not sell arms, and will divert to vigorously develop the gaming business!

In short, his policy was If you cannot fight, you should flee.

The cake in the arms market was simply given up and handed over to the Kaiba Corp. They were going to find another way out in the gaming field.

Then, just as Siegfried made a desperate move and put everything left in the company into the recently emerging field of Duel Monsters, a piece of shocking news came from the board of directors one day.

Report!!!

An employee rushed in in a panic, just like those little demons who spread the word Monkey King is coming to the door in Journey to the West.

President! The new president of the Kaiba Corp, Seto Kaiba, just announced at the press conference that they will no longer sell arms, and will devote all their efforts to developing the Duel Monster business in the future!

Siegfried had almost spat a mouthful of blood at that time.

We change to gaming because we cant survive in the arms industry, why did you Kaiba Seto follow us?

Wouldnt it be nice to sell your tanks and cannons?

But even so, Sieg had no turning back. He got up early and went to bed late every day, devoted himself to his work, and works day and night on scientific research and development

Then he was hanged and beaten by the president again.

Kaiba not only developed the stereoscopic projection system for duel monsters earlier than him, but also was ahead in terms of performance, cost, and convenience.

Kaiba took the lead in signing a contract with the Industrial Illusions, and their Schroeder Corp once again suppressed

If I dont revenge, I am not a gentleman!

Thinking of this, Sieg showed a cruel smile.

He has been waiting for this opportunity for a long time.

Kaiba Corp has been hit continuously and now was the most critical moment. The KC Grand Prix was a way for Kaiba Corp to bring it back to life. If this competition was messed up and there were some major accidents, Kaiba Corp would definitely be devastated.

At that time, their Schroeder Corp might also have a chance to take over again, replacing Kaiba Corp as the giant in the world of Duel Monsters!

Sieg has even prepared the script. First of all, he would pretend to be an ordinary contestant to sneak into the competition, take the opportunity to hack into the system of Kaiba Corp, lure Kaiba Seto to come forward and defeat the opponent head-on in the field of duel that the opponent was most proud of, and then let Kaiba Corps entire Duel Monster system server crash

Just as he was thinking about it, a man ran in from outside the palace in a panic.

MMaster Lloyd! The butler panicked, Your application for the KC Grand Prix competition has been rejected by the organizer!

!

Sieg was taken aback.

Rejected?

How can it be?

Seto Kaiba should have no reason to remember me, right?

No, even if Seto Kaiba remembered me, he shouldnt have any reason to know that he was going to make trouble in the KC Grand Prix, right?

Sieg snorted, took the goblet handed over by the maid at the side, and took a sip of the red wine gracefully.

Although he didnt know how the plan leaked out, it seemed that he underestimated Seto Kaibas vigilance.

But thats okay, a really good schemer will always have a backup plan.

He also has a surefire hole card, the real trump card.

That was his brother, Leon Wilson.

Leon Wilson is actually a pseudonym made up by his younger brother himself. The original purpose was to secretly go out to participate in various duel competitions without telling the family, but it was later seen through by his brother Sieg.

Leon was not only a talented duelist whose dueling ability far exceeded that of Sieg, but also used this pseudonym to win championships in many major competitions. He has also been considered a well-known figure in the dueling world in recent years.

More importantly, no one knew that Leons true identity was Leon von Schroeder.

If his younger brother Leon was allowed to participate in the KC Grand Prix, absolutely no one would doubt his identity. At that time, as long as the virus program was handed over to Leon, let Leon act as his right-hand man, replace him in the KC Grand Prix, and paralyze the system of Kaiba Corp, the result would be the same

Then at this moment, another person ran in from outside the hall in a panic.

MMaster Lloyd! the man shouted, Young master Leons application to participate in the KC Grand Prix was also rejected by the organizer!

Sieg spewed out a sip of red wine on the spot, and the picture really looked a bit like a mouthful of old blood.

What!? Sieg was startled.

Leon was also rejected?

It doesnt make sense!

Could it be that Seto Kaiba is an astrologer, so he watched the sky at night and predicted that I was going to make trouble?

Chapter 350: There Is A Story

Although Siegfried has a well-planned and detailed plan (he thought it was), the premise of all this must be based on the fact that Seto Kaiba did not notice his small movements, and he was able to successfully sneak into the competition held in Kaiba Land.

If even this premise was not fulfilled, he would not even have a chance to do anything.

But after thinking about it, he always felt that it was impossible for Kaiba to predict that he was going to make trouble.

So he specially entrusted his eyeliner in Domino City to inquire about the news. He heard that it seemed that the Duel King named Yuei Vu made a special trip to Kaiba Corp this morning to inquire about this matter, and pointed out two names Sieg Lloyd and Leon Wilson, refusing to allow both of them to compete.

Siegfried: ?

If it was Seto Kaiba who foresaw the foresight, predicted the enemy ahead of time, and predicted that he was going to make trouble, then it would be a little easier to think about it. After all, the two of them met once when they were very young, and the two companies could be regarded as rivals, and there were some entanglements

But where did this Yuei Vu come from?

This matter had nothing to do with him, didnt it?

Siegfried frowned for a moment and finally made a decision.

Yuei Vuhuh, interesting. He said coldly, Let me meet you for a while.

As expected by Yuei Vu, immediately after the announcement of the KC Grand Prix, there was an upsurge in the player forum.

In the Battle City before, the players were still rookies who had just created an account the vast majority of players didnt even have the qualifications for the Closed Beta.

But this KC Grand Prix was different. Quite a lot of players who have already got their decks were already eager to try, as if they have already imagined the picture of themselves entering the finals.

After all, everyone who has read the original work also knows that the level of the KC Grand Prix players was much lower than that of the previous competitions.

The contestants of the KC Grand Prix in the original work included, but were not limited to, false fortune-tellers playing with crystal balls, detectives with pipes in their mouths, and even a professional old hostage who came to participate with funny hoods covering his face Solomon Muto, Yugis grandpa

In short. it was everyone playing cards.

Compared with previous competitions, the contestants in this competition did look a bit amateurish.

This made all the players feel that this was a great opportunity!

For players, this was their first opportunity to step onto the world stage and act aggressively in front of all players and even NPCs!

Therefore, the preselection has not yet started, but the forum was already full of enthusiasm.

In the past two days, Yuei Vu browsed the forum and even came across an online novel that he thought was quite interesting. It was written by a fellow called The Name Has Already Been Taken, a fanfic telling the story of the lonely world champion who left the club and returned to the league to win the Duel King title

Yuei Vu took out this book and flipped through it in his spare time, and he read it with great interest. The authors writing style was good, and the sense of coolness is still in place. The most important thing was that the protagonist is very handsome, which made readers like Yuei Vu feel very immersive and even had the illusion of looking at themselves in a parallel world.

The only fly in the ointment was that the author loved to cut chapters short, and his release schedule was unstable.

Yuei Vu silently wrote down the authors ID, wondering if he could directly use Shadow Game if he met this guy in the game in the future, and killed him three times a week in one breath, so that he couldnt play the game and could only go back and update the novel, for the benefit of all readers who were waiting for new chapters

Sure enough, I am a good person who cares about others!

Yuei Vu gave himself a thumbs up.

Sitting in the card shop flipping through the forum, a black car suddenly stopped outside the door.

The attendant in a tuxedo opened the car door, and a pair of slender legs in a pink suit poked out from the car.

Siegfried got out of the car, walked with the coquettish and elegant steps of a model on the runway, and shook off his long pink hair.

There was a smell of perfume or shampoo when he entered the door.

In short, this guy looked nothing like a straight man.

As soon as he entered the door, he immediately attracted the attention of the players who were playing mahjong and poker next to him.

The players raised their heads and pricked up their ears.

Um? There seems to be a story?

I smell the taste of the plot.

Duel King Yuei Vu right? The man went straight to the counter, still holding a rose of unknown meaning in his hand.

If a person didnt know, he might think that this flower was for Yuei Vu

This is the first time we meet. Although his tone was very polite, his eyes were clearly hostile, and he showed a threatening smile, I think there is reason to believe you took away something that belongs to me.

The screwball players watching the cutscene CG immediately began to think divergently.

Yuei Vu-san took something that belonged to him? What do you mean?

Isnt that nonsense? This is Siegfried, Kaibas enemy. What Yuei Vu-san took away must be the heart of Kaiba!

Fuck, is it true or not?

Dont tell me, I think its really possible

Yuei Vus face suddenly darkened.

Fuck, this group of screwballs cant do anything but imagine wild fantasy all day long.

However, whether Siegfried automatically filtered out the words of the screwballs or didnt hear them at all, he seemed to take the change on Yuei Vus face as being afraid of himself, so he couldnt help snorting: Although I dont know what relationship you have with Seto Kaiba, and how did you learn some news that you shouldnt know

But that doesnt matter anymore. Im here to warn you, its between me and him! You are just an outsider, a third person

The screwballs next to them couldnt help becoming more lively after hearing the darker and darker lines and immediately started chatting and discussing.

At this moment, visually, there were already screwballs posting on the forum, and those who were more capable may even have the outline of a millions-of-word BL fanfic already

Yuei Vus face became even uglier.

Hes thinking now

Should I just make this big-mouthed pink-haired guy shut up forever?

No. It seems that it will only be counterproductive, and the screwballs will become more and more outrageous

Of course, you can also take this as a warning,

Siegfried spoke for a long time and finally finished his threatening speech completely unaware that Yuei Vu was distracted the whole time and didnt hear what he said clearly.

Then, as if for a demonstration, he made a gesture, and several burly black suits accompanied him and immediately took a step forward, full of the sight of a street bully.

However, this demonstration immediately poked a hornets nest.

The screwballs watching the play immediately saw the opportunity to take credit for their performance in front of Yuei Vu and quickly jumped up one by one.

Do you want to fight?

"

"

No, I think he wants to play cards!

Brothers, someone wants to make trouble!

A group of noisy screwballs immediately surrounded Siegfried and the few black suits he brought.

Although he really didnt want to admit it, in the face of the oppression of this group of screwballs, Siegfried was actually a little timid in his heart.

Especially the man in glasses in front of him, who was respectfully called Brother Fae by other players, with a smirk on his face, and his eyes under the lens are very obscenely looking up and down on Siegfried, and the expression on his face seems to say

Come on, let me test whether your development is normal or not.

Looking directly at him, Siegfried felt a chill down his spine, and even had a strange illusion

This person is my natural enemy!

Of course, as a qualified villain and gentleman, no matter what his heart was, he had to pretend that he was extremely calm on the surface.

Commonly known as seemingly stable as an old dog but in fact a lot of panics.

Siegfried maintained a calm smile in order to do this, he had to try his best not to look directly at Brother Fae in front of him and said to Yuei Vu: As a Duel King, do you want to use such a rude way to solve the problem?

Oh? Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows.

I believe you havent answered my question yet. Siegfried said, I heard that you rejected my application to participate in the KC Grand Prix I think I am quite authoritative in the field of duels, and I have no doubts about my strength.

I applied for the competition as a duelist, and I really cant think of any reason to be rejected

Because you are too weak. Yuei Vu replied without thinking.

Siegfrieds facial muscles twitched.

In fact, Yuei Vu said calmly, I believe that President Kaiba will also agree with me.

After a pause, he smiled: Lets skip these nice words and talk openly, Mr. Lloyd. I know your purpose you want to defeat Seto Kaiba in a duel in the KC Grand Prix, right? ?

Siegfried was silent.

He did have such thoughts.

Kaiba Corp has transformed from an arms company, and its status in the dueling world has been rising all the way, and its reputation was at the top of the sky. It must have something to do with Seto Kaibas tyrannical strength and personality as a duelist.

Or rather, the development of this company was actually extremely dependent on Kaiba himself as the chairman.

If he could defeat Kaiba head-on through a duel in the competition held by Kaiba Corp, it would undoubtedly deal a heavy blow to the popularity and reputation of Kaiba Corp.

And he, Siegfried, had the confidence not to lose to Kaiba in a duel!

As you said just now, we are all duelists, and we shouldn't solve problems in a rude way so I will give you a special chance.

Yuei Vu smiled slightly and raised the dueling disk in his hand.

Duel with me. He said, If you beat me, I can not only allow you to participate but also guarantee that you can skip the preliminaries and directly fight against President Kaiba in the finals.

President Kaiba didn't intend to participate in this competition, and it's no secret. Everyone knew that President Kaiba was currently in a state of suspending card addiction and retiring.

But this was not a big problem. Everyone understood what happened to President Kaibas retirement. He belonged to the kind of card-addicted teenager who will immediately unseal as long as he got a we have a slot, can you come? invitation

Siegfried was taken aback for a moment, his eyes flickered, he frowned slightly, and then he snorted.

Okay, I'll take it then. But

He crossed his arms and looked at Yuei Vu coldly.

Don't regret it.