

I Play Yu-Gi 431

Chapter 431: Bring A Student

Yuei Vu found out that these days in the manor, the card-playing vampire who turned into a full-time maid always liked to show her presence in front of him when she has nothing to do.

Before and after meals, she always came to ask Mr. Yuei Vu, do you have any needs?.

Every day after Yuei Vu entered the door, she would appear in a hurry within ten seconds, holding a skirt that seems to be a bit short for her, intentionally or unintentionally showing her white thighs and bending over to greet him.

There was a saying You can change rivers and mountains, but you can never change a human.

It may look like she has reformed herself and turned from a vampire to a full-time maid, but her nature has not changed.

She wandered around Yuei Vu all day long, taking care of him after all the busy work, and calling him Master, but in fact, she still wanted to such his essence.

The only difference was which mouth she used.

However, Yuei Vu has long been able to deal with this kind of vampire who wanted to eat him all day long.

Every time he saw that she seemed to have nowhere to release her excess energy, Yuei Vu would wave his hand and reward her with a 100-lap long-distance run, or 1000 push-ups with one hand.

Want to make trouble? That is probably having too much energy.

Exercise more to release it. If you are tired, you naturally dont want to make trouble.

For example, now, look at this vampire lying on the ground like a salted fish, with her chest ups and downs.

Actually, she still owed three hundred push-ups, but if she continued to do it like this, she may die suddenly. Yuei Vu said that as a kind master who was considerate of his subordinates, he didnt care.

Its just that she was asked to do push-ups this time, not because she was dangling beside Yuei Vu again, frantically testing on the verge of death.

It was purely because Yuei Vu had a whim.

After all, if a person was idle, they might do anything. This rule applied to myriad worlds in the multiverse, even the strong was no exception.

For example, Uchiha Madara, who was known as the second strongest ninja, was rumored to have a contest with his childhood friend to see who would pee further Tilla left the stage like a salted fish that lost her dream. It seemed that she should not have the strength to come up again today and offer her body for nothing.

Yuei Vu crossed his legs, sat in the seat, and began to count the spoils of the battle with Yubel leisurely.

Yuei Vu, who originally had no hope for Yubel's card, looked through it briefly and unexpectedly found that there were still a few cards that he didn't have.

It seems that as a dueling monster spirit, Yubel still had her own way to get cards, and he has acquired so many rare cards.

Judai was now more or less Yuei Vu's apprentice, and most of the cards he held had already been shown to Yuei Vu. Of the cards he seized here, Yuei Vu was sure that Judai didn't have them, and the overall style of her deck was completely different from Judai's preferences.

At this stage, Judai's ability has not yet awakened, and he couldn't see the card spirit for the time being, so he didn't know that about Yubel.

So visually Judai also probably didn't know that Yubel secretly collected so many cards.

In a way, the deck he confiscated now was Yubel's private card.

The biggest hero in this game should be the Absolute Zero that Yako sent to him not long ago.

As long as the condition of leaving the field was met, it could wipe all monsters on the opponent's field, and the summon condition only required an Elemental HERO plus any WATER attribute monster.

He couldn't help but feel more satisfied with Yako.

Come to think of it, when Yako met him for the first time, his face was full of an expression of not being close to strangers and being unsmiling to anyone.

He even said that he wanted to challenge Yuei Vu, that he wanted to defeat the Duel King and prove his strength.

In short, it was a posture that the road was narrowed.

Then, for some reason, they just played a game of cards and chatted a few words, and the young man's road suddenly widened again.

Tilla, who just went out just now, suddenly pushed the door back: Master Yuei Vu!

Um?

Yuei Vu was surprised that she still had the strength not to be drained.

What? Remember the three hundred push-ups you still owe?

If I don't mention it, do you really think I forgot?

Tilla's face changed suddenly, and he quickly waved his hands: No, no! I just want to say it's snowing outside.

Oh?

Yuei Vu stood up from his seat and opened the curtains.

Sure enough, as she said, it was snowing heavily outside at some point.

Snow in abundance visited the whole Domino City like an angel from heaven. This seemed to be the first snow this year the first snow since Yuei Vu traveled to this world.

Thousands of white angels descended on the bustling Duel City, flying in the night sky like dancing in the air. Snow covered all the eaves and roofs, and piled up on the treetops. The white snow and the neon lights of the city complemented each other, forming a beautiful picture.

Dark Magician Girl floated out of the window, happily flying around under the fluttering snowflakes.

Kuriboh floated up the small snow slope in the manor yard, slid down the white and smooth snow slope, and landed precisely in the arms of the silent magician in loli form.

Kuri~ Kuriboh rubbed against her arms happily.

So it seems like Christmas is coming. Yuei Vu held his chin.

He just remembered that there seemed to be more festive atmosphere in the city recently. For example, Christmas trees that were occasionally seen on the street, decorations such as garlands and gold leaf in the window along the street

But these have been ignored by him unconsciously.

It may be because he has no relatives to reunite within this world, so he had no special feelings about festivals or anything.

Now that he suddenly remembered, his first reaction was

Wouldn't it be a good time to hang a Christmas Sale Off sign in the store?

Screwball players have a common habit. They all like to buy their hands in various promotional activities during special festivals, throwing all their hard-earned money from working for a whole season in one breath

Then his cell phone rang.

Yuei Vu picked up the phone, and at a glance, he found that it was the bald Samejima from Cyber Dojo.

Mr. Samejima?

Mr. Yuei Vu? I'm sorry to interrupt you. Samejima smiled, That's right. Recently, President Kaiba Seto arranged for someone to contact me. It seems that your Kaiba Corp has finally officially decided to build a duel academy?

Yuei Vu: It was not our Kaiba Corp, I did not have that kind of relationship with Kaiba

He responded with some displeasure: So what?

It's like this. I think I have some experience in the field of dueling education, and I'm quite interested in the work of the academy. Last time you said that you also seem to be interested in student education. I think, if it's convenient for you these days, can we talk again?

Yuei Vu thought of Samejima's card-playing dojo built on the snowy mountain and felt a bit painful, so he subconsciously wanted to refuse.

But he suddenly thought of something and immediately changed his words.

Okay. He smiled, But I plan to take someone with me, I hope you wont mind.

Of course not! Samejima said politely, Who are you going to bring?

A student. Yuei Vu smiled, My student.

Chapter 432: Can I Try It Too?

A few days later, Yuei Vu led Little Shidai to the Cyber Dojo on the snow mountain again.

It was when Samejima called Yuei Vu, and Yuei Vu happened to think that after entering the Duel Academy, Judai in the future seemed to have fought against Ryo Marufuji, the orthodox heir of the Cyber Art at that time.

Ryo Marufuji was worthy of being the man with the title of Kaiser in early animation, and he was the well-deserved strongest of the Duel Academy. In the animation, Judais first blood was taken by him.

Even until the end of the Sacred Beasts arc, Judai could barely achieve a DRAW with Marufuji Ryo. It wasnt until Ryo Marufuji graduated that Judai took over the banner of academic head boy.

However, now that Judai has become his own direct disciple, Yuei Vu felt that it was necessary for him to train him in the direction of being NO.1 from the beginning of enrollment!

Set a small goal first, Judai will have to win Marufuji Ryo in the first battle!

So Yuei Vu wanted to let him see the Cyber Art first if he had the opportunity and asked Samejima to arrange a few students in the dojo to act as sandbags for him to practice.

Its a pity, it seems that Marufuji Ryo hasnt been recruited into the Cyber Dojo yet.

Otherwise, taking advantage of the fact that Marufuji Ryo was just getting started learning Cyber Art, it was not impossible to arrange for Little Shidai to abuse him a few times

When he came to the dojo, Samejima greeted him with a smile like last time: Thanks for your hard work, please come in quickly

Immediately afterward, his gaze quickly fell on Judai.

Oh? This is the student you speaking about?

Before Yuei Vu could speak, Little Judai widened his curious baby-like eyes, and stared straight at Samejimas shining forehead: Eh!? This uncle has no hair!

A curious look of discovering a new continent.

Samejimas smile froze, and the corners of his mouth twitched.

Yuei Vu coughed to ease the embarrassment.

Although Yuei Vu was confident that his skin was thick enough, now he felt a little embarrassed

Ahaha, just a childs words. Samejima touched his bald forehead with a smile, Yes, there is no hair. Isnt it very shiny?

Bright! Judai nodded vigorously, Like a mirror!

Samejima:

Judai used the skill Taunt, the effect is outstanding! Caused 9999 crit damage to Samejima

After the episode, Samejima led the two of them to the gym.

As expected, as soon as Yuei Vu entered the door, he saw that these children were still diligently practicing divine draw

Judai expressed curiosity: What is this doing?

They are practicing the most basic skills of being a duelist. Samejima explained with a smile, The bond with the deck.

Practice the bond with the deck? Judai blinked his eyes wide, expressing temptation.

The expression seemed to be surprised

Nani? Does divine draw still need to practice?

Samejima was quite nice, and he didnt take the issue of the jellyfish-head kid offending his hairstyle just now and explained patiently: Yes. Dueling is not only for duelists to communicate with each other, it should also be for duelists to communicate with their cards.

Only when the duelist and his own card are in harmony with each other and become a whole, can they exert the strongest power in the duel. This is also the most important artistic conception one needs to comprehend as a duelist.

Samejima was still very enthusiastic about the teaching of playing cards. Even if Judai was not his own disciple, he was not stingy with education.

His explanation, to Yuei Vus ears, always felt a bit like the magic card version of the legendary human and sword become one realm in novels, that was, human and card become one

The words may be difficult to understand, it is more intuitive to demonstrate directly.

Samejima waved to the children who were practicing drawing cards next to him: Ryo, come here.

Yuei Vu: !

Yes, Samejima-sensei!

Looking at the kid who ran over obediently and trotted all the way, Yuei Vu was shocked.

Hey, isnt that Marufuji Ryo?!

When I came last time, he was still there?

Or he just becomes Samejimas new apprentice?

Mr. Yuei Vu, this is Marufuji Ryo. Samejima introduced with a proud face, He is one of my most proud disciples. Its just that when you came last time, he happened to go home for some family affairs.

I see.

Yuei Vu nodded clearly.

So Marufuji Ryo was already at the Cyber Dojo now, but he didnt see him last time.

Mr. Yuei Vu! Marufuji Ryos face was slightly flushed, and he seemed a little excited.

Of course, there was nothing incomprehensible. After all, there were only two Legendary Duel Kings in the world, and the one standing in front of him was one of them

Not to mention so handsome.

A little excitement was inevitable.

Ryo, Samejima smiled, show everyone the results of your cultivation.

Yes!

Marufuji Ryo took a deep breath, raised the dueling plate in his hand, held his breath, and put his fingers on the deck. His posture and eyes were like an ancient chivalrous mans posture who was ready to draw his sword out of its sheath

Draw!

Marufuji Ryos small hand drew a perfect arc in the air, and accurately drew six cards from the deck. Turn it over and look, there was a Polymerization and two Cyber Dragons among them.

Activate Spell Card Polymerization! Fuse two Cyber Dragons! Marufuji Ryo performed according to Samejimas request, Fusion Summon! Cyber Twin Dragon!

Two Cyber dragons appeared on the left and right under the video system of the Duel Disk, and merged under the vortex of magic, combining to form a double-headed steel dragon!

The huge dragon raised its two heads, and its huge body almost touched the ceiling. There was a crisp sound from the metal parts rubbing against each other, and a golden electric current danced around the machine.

Cyber Twin Dragon, ATK 2800

The Cyber Twin Dragon not only had an attack power of up to 2800, but also has a powerful effect of attacking twice in one round. In the current duel environment, it was enough to instantly dominate most situations!

Its amazing! Little Judai gave admiration without hesitation.

All the teenagers nearby also applauded, expressing their admiration for Marufuji Ryos performance.

But Ryo Marufuji was very modest, he bowed his body: Sorry sensei, I couldnt perform to my best Hes telling the truth. After all, in the GX animation, when Marufuji Ryo was practicing in the Cyber Dojo, he started with three Cyber Dragons fused together, which could directly summon Cyber End Dragon with an attack power of 4000 and piercing effect. Dragon, his 502 skill was as strong as President Kaibas

It doesnt matter, thats enough. Samejima smiled and patted his lovers head, You still have a lot of room for improvement.

Yuei Vu automatically filtered a lot of room for improvement to 502 skill with better quality

Little Judais blood boiled with excitement: Then can I try it too?

All eyes in the room fell on him.

Chapter 433: Do You Need To Train Divine Draw?

Can I try it too?

Judao opened his big innocent eyes, full of anticipation and eagerness to try.

Sure.

Samejima smiled. He made a gesture, signaling Marufuji Ryo to hand over the Duel Disk and deck to Little Judai.

However, lets talk first, this is not so easy. Samejima said with a smile, If you want to communicate with the card, you must persevere in practicing comprehension, and you can only do it when you comprehend that state.

It is to achieve this that we practice here day in and day out.

The shota Marufuji took off the Duel Disk and handed it to Judai: Here.

Thank you! Judai took it carefully.

Marufuji Ryo was quite friendly: The first time you try it may not be satisfactory, but dont be discouraged. This deck itself is specially used for training. Except for Cyber Dragon and Polymerization, the rest of the cards are for interference.

So its normal not to be able to draw a suitable card, and Ive practiced for a long time to get to what I am now

Yuei Vu probably understood.

It meant that the forty cards in this deck, except Cyber Dragon and Polymerization, the rest of the cards were all things of unknown meaning, specially used to block your hand.

Whether you could be blessed by Heart of the Cards and accurately draw the only combination with combat effectiveness from the forty cards was the essence of Cyber Art training.

Yuei Vu could only say that it was worthy of the school whose ultimate goal was the manual divine draw. This training method was really hardcore

However, although Samejima encouraged Judai to try, and Marufuji Ryo was very polite and polite, in fact, everyone in the dojo, including them, did not have any expectations for Judais attempt.

After all, even Ryo Marufuji, who was currently the only designated genius in the Cyber Dojo and is regarded by Samejima as a genius, was no exception when he first tried to train.

When it came to the difficulty of comprehending this human and card become one realm, perhaps none of the teenagers here had more say than Marufuji Ryo.

Ryo Marufuji, who was called a heavenly genius by Samejima, has already touched the threshold of the divine draw at a young age. Although his current performance was not particularly stable, he was already a duelist who had a foreseeable bright future, and he did have the capital to be proud of.

How much he has paid to reach todays height, perhaps only he himself knew best.

In the dojo, he was always the first one to get up and the last one to rest every day.

Even during some holidays, when all his companions either go home or take some tours, he would persevere in practicing in the gym even if he was alone.

And Samejima also saw it all.

Genius is not terrible, what is terrible is that geniuses work harder than you.

As long as nothing went wrong, Marufuji Ryo should be the next orthodox heir of Cyber Art.

Because of this, he understood the difficulty of Cyber Art cultivation better than anyone else.

But Samejima was also curious about the talent of this little jellyfish head.

After all, he was the personal disciple whom the Duel King approved, so he must have something unique.

Ryo Marufuji even carefully shuffled the cards for Judai before handing over the deck to him.

The ultimate goal of our Cyber Art training is to be able to accurately extract the combination that can call the Cyber End Dragon from the deck of forty cards. Ryo Marufuji explained.

Oh oh oh! The name sounds amazing! Judai began to be interested.

Well, that's the ultimate mystery of Cyber Art, the ultimate existence created by fusing three Cyber Dragons.

Okay! Judai felt that he had found his goal, Then I will summon the Cyber End Dragon!

Ryo Marufuji smiled: I wish you success.

That's what he said, but he didn't think this boy with a jellyfish head could do it.

He felt that Judai thought of the cultivation of Cyber Art too simply.

If everyone could learn it, it wouldn't be called The ultimate mystery of Cyber Art.

Okay! Here I come!

Judai was in high spirits, and under the gaze of everyone, he reached out and put his hand on the deck on the Duel Disk

Draw!

Draw an invisible arc in the air. Judai turned over the drawn card, his eyes lit up.

Activate Spell Card Polymerization! Fuse two Cyber Dragons! Little Shidai mimicked Ryo, Fusion Summon! Cyber Twin Dragon!

A storm of steel, and metal parts are assembled under the power of fusion, golden current overflows in the space, and the double-headed Cyber Dragon raises its head, hissing and roaring behind Judai!

Cyber Twin Dragon, ATK 2800

What!?

The audience was shocked.

Even Samejima's eyes widened.

The first time this child came into contact with Cyber Art, he found a combination that fused Cyber Twin Dragon from a pile of forty cards in the first try!

Cyber Dojo received so many students, and no one has ever done it before!

Ryo Marufuji was also a little surprised.

He has been practicing hard for so long, getting up early in the morning and drawing cards day in and day out, but so far he has only touched the threshold of the realm of the Cyber Art.

It turned out that this new jellyfish head did it for the first time!?

This should be a coincidence, right?

Yuei Vu may be the only one present who was not too surprised, just smiled and nodded, as if this result was also expected by him.

Calm down and sit down, this is a basic operation.

When Samejima saw Yuei Vu's confident reaction, he automatically understood that it was because of his good training.

So the bald teacher couldn't help feeling in his heart

Mr. Yuei Vu is really a god!

Not to mention his duelist's strength is unparalleled in the world, even the skills of educating students are unrivaled!

However, he really misunderstood Yuei Vu.

Different from the skills they acquired by training day and night, the divine draw of Judai was innate.

And this skill was suspected to be a passive skill that comes with the dormant power of the Supreme King, and it even far exceeded the level that Judai's duelist level should have.

Yuei Vu, who noticed the admiring gaze of Samejima, only looked helpless.

Don't look at me, I didn't teach it.

I really want to learn too!

However, Little Judai, who amazed the audience, seemed to feel a little regretful: It seems that I still haven't been able to summon the Cyber End Dragon

Marufuji, who barely recovered from the shock, smiled: It's already very powerful. That is the ultimate mystery of the Cyber Art, and it needs a deep bond with the deck

Then shall I try again?

No one objected.

After all, Judai only tried it once. Although everyone was shocked, they did think it might be a coincidence.

From the forty cards, he happened to find two Cyber Dragons and one Polymerization. Although the probability was not high, it was not impossible.

Everyone was also looking forward to what will happen in Judais next attempt.

So after shuffling the cards again, Judai held his breath and concentrated on his posture.

Draw!

Judao jumped up excitedly.

Activate Spell Card Polymerization! Fuse three Cyber Dragons! Fusion Summon! Cyber End Dragon!!!

The roar of steel, the heavy metal armor, and the three-body fusion form the ultimate form of the Cyber Dragon, descending on the center of the dojo with the coercion that swept the audience!

Cyber End Dragon, Summon!

Chapter 434: You Guys Know Nothing About Divine Draw!

Cyber End Dragon, Summon!

Oh oh oh! Little Judai clenched his fists and looked at the three giant dragons behind him, Is this the Cyber End Dragon? Its so handsome!!!

While all the teenagers in the dojo were shocked, they couldnt help but start to doubt life.

For so long, what exactly have we practiced here?

Even Ryo Marufuji, who was a heavenly genius, stared wide-eyed, his face full of disbelief.

If this was a one-off, it could be said to be a coincidence.

However, two consecutive successes may not be explained by coincidence.

Seeing how everyone was so shocked that they doubted their lives, Yuei Vu couldnt help but find it funny.

You guys know nothing about divine draw!

Judais divine draw was so strong that it has even surpassed the scope of dueling and has risen to the height of a general-purpose skill.

For example, there was a special kind of bread called Golden Eggwich sold in the canteen of the Duel Academy in GX. There was only one bag of all bread every day made from the golden egg laid by the chickens specially raised by the college. Each student has only one chance to randomly take a bag from all the bread every day.

However, unless someone stole it first, the one who drew the Golden Eggwich was always Yuki Judai.

Different from the bosses in the game who could draw cards as they please, but their luck was normal, Judais luck was also uniquely strong.

Different from the God of Gamblers Jonouchi, whose gambling luck was unbelievable, but frequently unable to draw the card he wanted, Judais divine draw skill may not be inferior to Yugi.

Yuei Vu felt more than once that there was no card-based Gacha mobile game in this world. Otherwise, with Judai's luck and skill, it was estimated that the mobile game company would go bankrupt.

Genius, a real genius! Samejima said a few words with emotion, and couldn't help but ask Judai, Can you share how did you do it?

He was genuinely curious.

What method did Mr. Yuei Vu use to train such a dueling genius?

ah?

Little Judai was stunned, thinking seriously for a long time.

How should I put it, it's a very subtle feeling. Hmm, it's like a snap, it should be a swoosh.

The audience: ?

Oh, I don't really understand. Judai scratched his head, In short, just keep a normal mind. I just drew cards in a very ordinary way, and then I got it.

Everyone:

Looking at Little Judai's innocent appearance, acting as if he really only did a trivial matter, at this moment, everyone couldn't help but have such a sentence in their minds.

Isn't having hands enough to do it?

Seeing the jellyfish's head performing divine draw like eating and drinking, Ryo couldn't help but feel a little bit depressed.

Didn't Samejima-sensei say that I'm a one-in-a-million dueling genius?

Could it be that sensei comforted me?

The future Kaiser began to fall into self-doubt.

In layman's terms, it is autistic.

Maybe this is the so-called there is always someone better.

Samejima looked at Little Judai, and couldn't help but secretly love talents.

A good seedling that is rare in ten thousand years!

It's a pity that this seedling already has an owner.

But it doesn't matter. After all, he is a student of the Duel King, so it seems natural that he is different from others.

Samejima now had the number one student Ryo, and he was satisfied enough with the qualifications of this student.

As a teenager, Ryo Marufuji was indeed much more stable than his peers. Although his mentality did collapse for a while, he quickly adjusted back.

It's just that the scene he saw today caused a huge shock in his heart, but he couldn't get rid of it, even after many years.

A few years later, when Ryo entered the Duel Academy, he quickly became a superstar with superb dueling skills and powerful magical powers. He even swept away all opponents with the super suppressive power of the Cyber End Dragon, and quickly won the respect of all teachers and students of the academy.

In the first year of enrollment, he was revered as Kaiser by other students. This title was a symbol of absolute strength, which meant that everyone in the whole school bowed down to him and was willing to call him the strongest.

However, Ryo Marufuji, when hearing that title, always waved his hands, modestly expressing that his ability was nothing at all.

He also often solemnly warned everyone that The road of a duelist is endless, and never think that you have seen through the depths of the world of duels. When I was young, I met a genius who was two years younger than me, and my talent was not worth mentioning in front of him

So, as early as two years before Yuki Judai entered the Duel Academy, he had already become famous among the seniors of the academy in advance.

Although Ryo Marufuji never mentioned Judais name to anyone, everyone knew that there was another super genius outside this academy who could perform divine draw like eating and drinking, and even the Kaiser Ryo Marufuji didnt want to mention his name here.

Thanks to the stimulation of Judai in his childhood, which left a deep impression on the soul, even if Ryo Marufuji was sought after by thousands of people and won the title of Kaiser, he never became complacent or slack for a moment.

Whenever others praised him, envied him, or made him feel complacent about his achievements, he would recall the jellyfish head he met in childhood.

Until you catch up with that persons back, I cant let go of my efforts no matter what!

All of this, as Ryo Marufujis mentor, Samejima has always been watching. But he also felt that there was nothing wrong with it.

After all, human beings always have goals to pursue.

He was worried before whether Ryo Marufuji would lose himself because he was too good, and it would be difficult to make any progress. In that case, one day in the future, if he suddenly suffered a defeat, he might fall directly into the abyss.

There was nothing wrong with letting him suffer some setbacks in advance and having a goal worth pursuing could spur him forward.

Besides, the target was a student of the Duel King, so it was indeed worth pursuing.

Of course, thats all for later.

Goodbye, everyone!

When Little Judai was brought down the mountain by Yuei Vu, he happily waved goodbye to everyone in the dojo.

Sure enough, the duel is the best! A duel always brings a smile to your face!

Actually, according to the plan, Yuei Vu wanted Samejima to arrange for a few students from Cyber Art to play cards with Judai to practice, and by the way, let Judai get familiar with Cyber Art in advance.

It's a pity that the plan couldn't keep up with the changes. Unexpectedly, young Judai hasn't played for real, yet his performance of the divine draw directly put the opponent into autism. In such an atmosphere, Yuei Vu was also embarrassed to let Judai continue to undermine the confidence of other students.

Yuei Vu glanced at the cheerful Little Judai beside him, smiled, and rubbed his jellyfish head.

Forget it, it doesn't matter, as long as my apprentice has fun.

Chapter 435: A Bit Like My Brother

The headquarters of Kaiba Corp.

People from the military? Mokuba couldn't help showing a look of surprise when he saw today's schedule, Brother, why are we starting to deal with people from the military again?

He can't remember the last time Kaiba Corp dealt with the military.

Before Seto Kaiba took over, this company used to be a giant in arms dealing. When Gozaburo was at the helm, the relationship between the Kaiba Corp and the military was not insignificant. After all, the company was relying on them for dinner at that time.

But that was already in the past tense.

After taking over the office, Seto Kaiba insisted on abandoning the group's deep-rooted arms foundation and moved to the gaming business. It was conceivable that at that time, they had a very unpleasant quarrel with the military, which had been cooperating for a long time and some of the contract agreements had not even expired.

After such a long time, the two parties have had no contact with each other until today.

Yes. Kaiba behind the desk didn't deny it, but said lightly, The military said they want to reconsider the cooperation with Kaiba, and today they arranged for high-level officials from the special department to come to talk.

Mokuba said strangely: But have we stopped making weapons a long time ago? They should know

Of course, they know. Kaiba snorted, So they didn't come to discuss cooperation on conventional weapons.

Could it be ah! Mokuba understood, They also want to enter the field of Duel Monsters?

Ordinary people may not know it yet, but it has long been a secret in the upper circles. Since the end of the Doma incident, Duel Monsters have entered the field of vision of high-level officials from all governments.

The guys in the military seem to say that they have made some new progress recently. Kaiba crossed his fingers and rested his chin, and said in a deep voice, They have established a special department. I don't know the details, but the code name is D.

It is said that the dueling special team was established by the military with all its resources. The duelists in the department are the strongest among the strong, well-trained special duelists with extraordinary strength.

Mokuba was surprised: So powerful!?

Hmph, its just a rumor, who knows if its true or not. Kaiba said, with a smile on his lips, But whether its true or not, maybe we will know soon.

Those who are familiar with the president should know at this time that the president now has the expression The card addiction is too hungry and thirsty.

Mokuba: Ah, dont they plan to

Maybe it is. Kaiba said lightly, A duelist should use a duel to talk. Besides, the guys in the military should also be thinking about testing the strength of this so-called Duel Special Forces.

Indeed, if you wanted to test the strength of the troops, a recognized top duelist like Seto Kaiba was indeed the best whetstone.

Kaiba himself also wanted to see in person how strong were the duelist of the so-called special forces.

However, there was a small problem that was not a problem

Mokuba reminded in a low voice: But bro, arent you sealing your cards and retiring

Its a pity that Kaiba didnt seem to hear it, or maybe he just ignored the problem on purpose.

He continued: And I heard that the cards used by those guys may also be a little weird.

Mokuba wondered: Isnt it a card on the market?

Im afraid not, or at least not completely. Kaiba said lightly, I have news that several laboratories under the military have recently invested all their resources in developing projects related to dueling monsters, trying to create new possibilities.

Plainly speaking, it is printing cards

However, there was nothing surprising about this. Printing cards was no longer the exclusive property of Industrial Illusions. Everyone was printing cards now.

For example, Blue-Eyes Twin Burst Dragon, Blue-Eyes Chaos Dragon, Neo Blue-Eyes Ultimate Dragon, etc., were all printed by Kaiba himself, not from Industrial Illusions.

Another example was that there were folk masters like Muto Yugi, who also have their own private printing channels. For example, talking about The Dark Magicians and Quintet Magician, these things had nothing to do with Pegasus.

These days, if you were unable to print cards, you would be ashamed to say you were an expert duelist.

Mokuba was thoughtful: Then if they want to come to a duel this time, can we take this opportunity to use the card gambling mechanism to win the rare cards they developed independently to study

Mokuba, who was talking here, noticed his brothers weird gaze and subconsciously stopped talking.

whats wrong, bro?

Kaiba frowned.

People from the military havent come yet, and Im still not sure whether I want to play cards. Why did you just fast-forward to betting on rare cards?

Kaiba was not opposed to card gambling, after all, he has formulated such game rules back in Battle City. But now the point was

Who did this kid learn from?

Thinking about it this way, it seems that Mokuba was responsible for notifying and handing over some arrangements and plans on the companys side to Yuei Vu.

The president suddenly felt that maybe he couldnt go on like this.

I always feel that Mokuba will be led astray by a passerby with the Yu- prefix

Yuei Vu didnt know the presidents thoughts, otherwise, he would definitely call him wronged.

Its none of my business!

You are framing an innocent! When did I ever gamble on cards?

I always directly pulled out the Duel Disk

A military-green helicopter flew in from under the night and slowly landed on the tarmac of the Kaiba Corp Building with a strong wind.

An officer in a well-fitting military uniform took the lead to get off the plane, and his figure was as tall and straight as a pine tree. He also wore an open overcoat over his military uniform, the hem of which fluttered like a cape under the hurricane of the propeller.

Mokuba couldnt help but suspect that he deliberately wore such a coat in order to pretend to be more picturesque when he got off the plane

Two soldiers followed closely behind him, each of them was strong, wearing an armed belt, and their hands were neatly equipped with uniform equipment military-only gold Duel Disk.

Yes, thats right, the weapons carried by the soldiers were not guns and ammunition, but Duel Disks

Hippocampus was already waiting on the tarmac. He crossed his arms, staring straight at the huge roaring car in front of him without blinking, his white windbreaker fluttering gracefully under the hurricane rolled up by the propellers.

This was Seto Kaiba, and he didnt miss any chance to show off.

The officer leading the team was a decent man, he looked quite young and handsome.

It's just that it's different from the other fighters behind, this guy had his hands behind his back, with a face full of tugging, wishing to look at people with his nose up to the sky, and even his tone of voice seemed to be contemptuous.

President Kaiba. He stepped forward and snorted, Seeing is better than hearing a hundred times. I don't expect you to look so normal.

Kaiba didn't take a step back and glanced at the officer and the troops he led with his arms folded: I heard that the duelists in Department D are the top elites, but in my opinion, they seem to be no different from ordinary horse bones.

The two people's eyes met, and their eyes seemed to spark invisible sparks in the air.

Mokuba, who was watching quietly from the side, couldn't help thinking at this moment: This person seems to be a bit like my brother!

Chapter 436: Military Duelist

He was choked by Kaiba when he came up, but the officer wasn't annoyed, on the contrary, he seemed a little satisfied?

As expected of Seto Kaiba, just like the rumors no, even more domineering than the rumors!

Mokuba looked at him, and for some reason felt a little unpleasant.

He felt that this person was a bit similar to his brother, not in terms of appearance, but something closer to temperament.

My surname is Fujino. The officer introduced himself, The person in charge of Department D.

While speaking, he held down the hat with one hand, letting the loose hem of his clothes fly under the hurricane of the helicopter.

This person was well versed in the way of being coquettish at first sight. Not only did he especially wear an open coat, but he also grasped it just right. Just waiting for the plane to shut down, the propellers to stop, and the hurricane to die down, he put his hands back in his pockets.

The movements were unrestrained, without any artificiality. Like the old saying If you want to show off, you should act in the most natural and original way, and you must never leave any traces of post-processing.

However, in Mokuba's eyes, he just didn't take it seriously.

In his opinion, this was a typical example of imitating his brother's movements but failing to learn the essence.

When his brother did the show-off, not only did he not feel embarrassed or disgusted, but he also jumped behind him all day long and shouted cheers, adoring him so much.

But seeing other people did that, he felt very stilted and underwhelmed.

The president just snorted: A name that I've never heard of. You must be another unknown pawn in the dueling world, a third-rate duelist who has no right to leave a name at all.

A duelist must speak with strength, President Kaiba. Officer Fujino said lightly.

At this time, maybe it should be said that it really was the way of communication between the card player and the card company. When the two sides meet, they didnt talk about projects or cooperation.

Anything else could be discussed after a duel

However, Kaiba did not reply directly. Instead, he lowered his arms, turned his head, and turned his back to the soldiers who came from the army. The white windbreaker fluttered up, and then slowly fell down.

Just one word: Handsome!

Dont look at it as a simple turnaround, but in fact, this movement is also very skillful.

First of all, you cant turn too fast, otherwise, it will not be elegant and demeanor. But at the same time, you cant turn your body too slowly, otherwise, you wont be able to drive enough airflow, and the windbreaker wont be able to fly.

God knows how many times the president has rehearsed in private to make this twist look so chic.

Kaiba turned his back to several people, and turned his head halfway: Then Ill let you see for yourself, what a stupid challenge this is.

It was well known that turning your back to the other party when speaking would make you look more suspenseful. Especially with the unique voice of President Kaiba, the tone of Im not targeting anyone but everyone here is trash was absolutely perfect.

Officer Fujino followed behind, looking at the presidents back, his eyes and appearance seemed to say silently

For now, you are stronger.

The steps in the reception room and conference room were also omitted, and the negotiating parties representing the military and the company went straight to the duel field.

Officer Fujino gestured and stood behind himself. Two soldiers wearing Duel Disks stepped forward at the same time.

Ueno and Egawa are the best fighters in our D department. Fujino stood behind with his hands behind his back, If you are able to defeat the two of them, President Kaiba, todays sparring is considered a victory for your company.

Huh? Arent you going to go up yourself?

Fujino smiled: Im the commander, it is not easy to go into battle in person.

Kaiba narrowed his eyes.

In fact, to be honest, Kaiba really felt an extraordinary grudge from these two people.

Strong body, resolute gaze, soldiers unique iron will, and duelists courage were perfectly combined together, which was different from most duelists Kaiba has encountered in the past.

These two guys were indeed extraordinary.

Since so

Hahahahaha!!! Kaiba burst out laughing.

Fujino: ?

Hmph. Kaiba sneered, Is this your best fighter? Well, let me show you how big the gap is between them and a true duelist!

He pointed forward: You two go up together!

The two fighters remained expressionless, neither responding nor showing anger at Kaibas provocation.

As if they were just two ruthless card-playing machines, just standing there waiting for their boss to speak.

Fujino shook his head: No need. We send two people, and your company also sends two people to fight. We dont want to take advantage.

Kaiba sneered: To deal with you, I alone am enough.

To be honest, it wasnt entirely because the president wanted to pretend to be aggressive and insisted on playing 1v2 to show his strength.

But at present, in the entire Kaiba company, except for the president himself, really no one else can play cards well

What? You said there is Yuei Vu ?

Who needs help from that guy?

I can handle it alone!

Of course, even if the president didnt look for Yuei Vus help, it didnt mean that no one will look for it.

Before entering the duel arena, Mokuba, who vaguely felt that something might be wrong, quickly picked up his mobile phone to send a message to Yuei Vu.

The content would be skipped here, but a general summary of the meaning was

Brother Yuei Vu, the team is in danger, come back soon!

Finally, under the instruction of Officer Fujino, the two duelists he brought still did not come up to fight.

Because they did have an important purpose for this trip, which was to confirm their strength. Even if they beat Kaiba by relying on a huge resource advantage of one against two, it still could not prove that their fighters have reached the expected standard.

But its okay.

Because these two special duelists from Department D were really not weak.

Duel! x2

Kaiba, LP 4000

Egawa, LP 4000

The soldier named Egawa went up first. Seeing that the indicator light of the Duel Disk indicated the first striker, he raised his hand and put it on the deck with a blank expression, like an emotionless card-playing machine.

Its my turn, draw! Egawa drew a card, looked at the cards in his hand, and calmly took out a monster.

Summon the Queen of the Deep Sea in attack position.

Transparent blue water splashed on the ground, and a delicate-looking mermaid appeared on Egawas side of the field, with a seductive upper body and a scaly tail fin on the lower body.

Deep Sea Diva, ATK 200

The effect of Deep Sea Diva When this card is Normal Summoned, I can Special Summon 1 Level 3 or lower Sea Serpent monster from your Deck.. Egawa found a card from the deck and displayed it.

Special Summon Spined Gillman!

Spined Gillman, ATK 1300

The murloc warrior with barbs all over his body and a red trident in his hand also appeared on the field with his stomach puffed out.

Egawa glanced at the cards in his hand.

In this way, the preparation was almost completed.

He slowly drew another card from his hand.

The next thing to do was

Activate Field Spell Card Umi!

Chapter 437: Enhance The Sense of Touch

Field Spell Card Umi!

As the cards were pushed into the tray, the stereoscopic image system was activated immediately. The azure sea water sweeps along the ground as if it were boundless, and the silvery white waves rise and fall one after another. The waves pushed flat like a high wall, galloping and hitting the surrounding metal walls, the imaging system even simulated the impact effect and the breaking waves.

Kaiba, who was standing in the virtual water body with arms folded, just snorted softly: A tactic using the Umi field? Hmph, although its a powerful tactic, its nothing new.

To be honest, when I heard that Department D was so hyped up, I thought you guys really had something new. However, it looks really disappointing.

The WATER attribute deck with Umi as the core was not rare in the duel world. Among them, the most famous representative figure was Ryota Kajiki who had a place in both the Duelist Kingdom and the Battle City.

Influenced by Ryota Kajiki, a high-level player, the construction of the Umi deck at this stage was similar to his thinking.

Using the ability of Umi to hide monsters in the sea to confuse the opponent? Kaiba sneered, Do you think this kind of rotten trick is useful against me?

Dont try to fool me, the Kaiba Corp has made up a patch for it, and I already know the methods of the Umi deck.

But Officer Fujino on the side only chuckled strangely and didnt speak.

Looked like there was something tricky.

Egawa continued to draw a card from his hand: I sacrifice Deep Sea Diva and Spined Gillman, to Special Summon this monster

Kaiba frowned.

Special Summoning condition is Tribute 2 WATER monsters?

Does such a monster exist?

And at this moment, both Deep Sea Diva and Spined Gillman were surrounded by the current, turned into water jets, and shot into the air. The two jets of water crisscrossed in mid-air like long water dragons, entangled with each other, and finally swooped down from the left and the right, slammed on the waters surface, and exploded the ten-foot water curtain.

Come, Citadel Whale!

The moment the cards were put on the Duel Disk, the momentum in the arena was quite frightening. Magnificent waves arose on the surface of the water, and a large amount of water was blasted high into the air, like a rainstorm falling from the sky.

However, the splash of water settled down and the sea returned to calm, only to find that the Egawas field was still empty, with nothing there.

Eh!? Mokuba, who had been made up at first glance, was instantly startled, Where did you where did your monster go!?

Didnt you summon the monster?

Is it possible to go to another dimension?

Kaiba had an expected expression, and only narrowed his eyes: Because of the effect of the field, is it hidden in the sea?

That was to say, Yuei Vu has not been here yet, otherwise, he would definitely complain

Why can you all accept this setting so calmly?!

Thats right, Mr. Kaiba. Egawa said calmly, The sea is mysterious, and there may be dangers and challenges in it.

Well, it may not be considered a BISS, but an animation effect with anime characteristics.

The effect of the real-life Umi was All Fish, Sea Serpent, Thunder, and Aqua monsters on the field gain 200 ATK/DEF, also all Machine and Pyro monsters on the field lose 200 ATK/DEF.

However, the Umi in the animation did not have such an apparent effect.

For the animation version of Umi, the only effect seemed to be to create a projection of the sea on the field, and then the player could hide monsters in it so that the opponent couldn't see it.

If this card is Special Summoned, I can Set 1 Sea Stealth Attack directly from my Deck. Egawa said lightly, My turn is over.

A set card floated at his feet, and then it was also submerged by the waves and disappeared.

Hmph, just all little tricks. Kaiba said with disdain, It's my turn, draw!

Ryota Kajiki was somewhat of a well-known duelist, and Kaiba has seen his duel before. Therefore, Kaiba has already roughly figured out the characteristics of this Umi.

Although the monster was hidden in the sea and could not be seen, what was hidden was only the monster's battle position, ATK/DEF, and other values. However, according to the rules of the duel, the monster still existed and could be targeted by attacks or card effects.

The ancient BISS that monsters that cannot swim cannot attack in the sea encountered by Yugi at the beginning has been repaired by the version update patch released by Kaiba Corp since the end of the Duelist Kingdom.

That being the case, no matter what monster the opponent summons, just attack without fear!

Sweeping the opponent with absolute power was also the duelist way that Kaiba has always adhered to.

I summon the Fencing Fire Ferret in attack position!

A small white monster appeared on the field covered in flames, its tail was burning like a storm of flames in the air, and its tail was a sharp fiery red steel knife.

[Fencing Fire Ferret, ATK 1700]

At this moment, the effect of Clone Dragon in the hand is activated! Kaiba continued, When I Summon a monster, this card can be Special Summoned from the hand! (Animation card)

When Special Summoned by this effect, the Clone Dragon's name, ATK, and DEF become the same as the Summoned monster!

The transparent dragon was called to the field by the projection system, and the shape of the fire-dancing sword seemed to be reflected in the eyes. The transparent body quickly deformed and simulated the same shape, and then a flame was also ignited, and the fire appeared from the tail blade.

[Clone Dragon, ATK ? ATK 1700]

Summoned two monsters at once! As expected of my brother! Mokuba performed his daily praise.

Hmph, even if you hide the monster, that monster still exists. Kaiba snorted, If I can't see it with your eyes, just break through with brute force!

Battle! Fencing Fire Ferret, attacking the monster hidden in the deep sea, the Citadel Whale! ! !

The flame monster danced its body, its long tail rolled up a vortex of flames in the air, and flew towards a certain place in the calm sea.

However, the seemingly calm sea quickly launched a counterattack!

The water body was stirred rapidly, and some high-speed black shadow approached rapidly from under the sea surface. Snow-white spray burst out on the surface of the water, and the high-speed afterimage broke through the water dragging a long spray.

That's a missile from the deep sea!

As if it had eyes, it locked onto the target and went straight to the Fencing Fire Ferret in mid-air.

With continuous explosions, fireballs exploded one after another in mid-air, and the small monster was immediately blown to pieces under the bombardment of missiles.

Kaiba, LP 4000 LP 3350

650 damage. The attack power of Fencing Fire Ferret was 1700, that was to say, the attack power of this invisible monster Citadel Whale should be 2350 according to the calculation.

Kaiba, who was originally calm and ready to face the impact of the virtual image, was hit by a tyrannical blow that was completely unexpected at this time, and he was caught off guard so that he swayed back two steps as if even the acid in his stomach up the throat.

Kaiba gritted his teeth and narrowed his eyes: You guys

Oh, I forgot to explain in advance, President Kaiba. Officer Fujino crossed his arms and said with a smile, The special duel disk made by Department D may be slightly different from the model you released, especially in the Virtual Touch section aspect.

The touch of our duel is different from the toys sold by Kaiba Corp on the market. If you are careless, you may really get hurt.

Chapter 438: Sea Stealth Attack

Strengthen the sense of touch? Kaiba frowned, Is this already beyond the prescribed safety value?

It was not impossible to enhance the sense of touch of a normal duel to a value sufficient to cause harm to the human body. When Kaiba tested the performance of the Duel Disk and played cards with the AI bot, the virtual sense of touch was turned on to a level beyond the safe value.

In addition, in the animation, when Marik brainwashed Jonouchi and controlled him to fight Yugi to death, at that time, he didn't use the Shadow Game but adjusted the Duel Disk so that it could cause damage beyond the normal level.

It's just a safe value for civilian use. Officer Fujino, who was watching the battle, explained, However, there is no such restriction for military use.

After all, the duelists cultivated by Department D are not for the purpose of entertainment like you. Duel Disk is a weapon to us, and the stronger the firepower of a weapon, the better.

There was nothing unreasonable about this.

If the purpose of the existence of special duelists was to deal with supernatural phenomena and fight against Shadow Duelists, then it seemed reasonable to maximize the lethality of the Duel Disk.

Kaiba snorted: You actually said military use? When Kaiba Corp registered the patent for the Duel Disk, there was no such term.

That's true, because we didn't expect that the toys you produced would be used in the military one day. Officer Fujino shrugged, But I think, if it is the legendary Seto Kaiba, it shouldn't mind this level's damage.

Don't worry, after all, it's a sparring, even with this level of strengthening the sense of touch, it won't hurt your life. In fact, our duelists receive this level of training on a daily basis.

Paused for a moment, he showed what seemed to be provocative eyes.

Of course, President, you can also refuse to continue now. He said, But I don't think you would do that, right?

Brother! Mokuba was worried about his brother's safety, You don't have to

But before he could finish speaking, Kaiba interrupted him with a big wave of his hand.

That's nonsense! Even in the face of those boring supernatural Shadow Games, I never flinched! Kaiba shouted, The duel continues!

The paused duel resumed.

Because of the battle just now, the Fencing Fire Ferret I summoned was destroyed. Kaiba shouted, But at this moment, the special ability of the Fencing Fire Ferret was also activated!

When this monster is destroyed and sent to the Graveyard, destroy 1 face-up monster on the opponent's field, and deal 500 damage to the opponent!

He pointed towards the invisible monster lurking under the surface of the sea.

What I want to destroy is the Citadel Whale you hid in the water!

The flame monster that had already retired turned into a phantom and reappeared. It flicked its tail, and a meteor-like tail flame erupted behind it, as if breaking through space, it sprinted towards the direction of the previous missile!

So that's how it is. Officer Fujino commented, The attack just now was not just a brutal attack. Did you use the seemingly reckless attack to test the invisible Citadel Whale, and at the same time use the monster effect to destroy it?

To be able to consider this step, it should be said that you are really Seto Kaiba.

But he immediately pulled the corner of his mouth, revealing a smug smile.

But

The remaining flame of Fencing Fire Ferret exploded out of the sea and shot straight into the water, but it suddenly seemed to hit a transparent water barrier. The flames roiled and exploded, and the water body was sizzling and evaporated under the high temperature, turning into streaks of white air and floating into the air.

Fencing Fire Ferret exhausted his last powers to attack, but it seemed that it was counteracted by some unknown force and failed.

Kaiba was surprised.

Why isn't this guy's monster destroyed?

The effect of the Citadel Whale. Egawa said calmly, Once per turn, during either players turn, when the opponent activates a card or effect that targets 1 WATER monster I control, I can negate the activation, and destroy that card.

Kaiba snorted, What a troublesome effect.

The Kaiba Corps database stored the data of almost all cards on the market. At this time, it was soon convinced that this monster called Citadel Whale did not exist on the market.

Undoubtedly, this monster was one of the new aces independently developed by Department D.

Set a card, I end my turn.

My turn, draw! Egawa added the drawn card to his hand, Battle! Citadel Whale, attack the Clone Dragon!

Kaiba narrowed his eyes, focusing on trying to find the invisible monster at the moment of the attack.

Unfortunately, the other party still doesnt seem to have plans to show up.

A column of water burst out suddenly on the sea level of the virtual image, and missiles rushed into the sky with a piercing scream, locking onto the only remaining monsters on the Kaibas field.

Clone Dragon, ATK 1700

The missile hit, and the flames tore the monster into pieces. The scorching fireball exploded, and the heat wave stirred up the Kaibas wide white hem.

Kaiba, LP 3350 LP 2700

The prepared Kaiba took the impact without too much effort this time, its body swayed, and the heel slipped half a step back.

This level of damage is just nothing compared to the battles I have experienced. Kaiba shouted, Open the set card: Trap Card Soul Rope!

When a monster is destroyed, pay 1000 HP, and Special Summon 1 Level 4 or lower monster from the deck! (animation effect)

Kaiba, LP 2700 LP 1700

He raised his voice and revealed a monster card: Special Summon Kaiser Sea Horse!

Kaiser Sea Horse, ATK 1700

Then set a card, I end my turn, Egawa said.

Brother! Seeing that his brother seemed to be in a disadvantaged situation, Mokuba was a little worried.

However, Kaiba was not distracted but continued to concentrate on analyzing the situation.

Citadel Whale indeed has a tricky ability to negate any card effects that target water attribute monsters.

But it can be calculated from the two consecutive battles that the attack power of this monster should only be 2350, which is not too high.

Monsters of this level just need to be smashed with absolute power!

My turn, draw!

Maybe this is the so-called tacit understanding, Kaiba knows what card he has drawn without even glancing at it.

The effect of the Kaiser Sea Horse! This card can be treated as 2 Tributes for the Tribute Summon of a LIGHT monster.! Kaiba held up the drawn card, Take the Kaiser Sea Horse as two sacrifices, Tribute Summon!

Use the ultimate light to illuminate the darkness, and come as an absolute king! My strongest servant

Blue-Eyes White Dragon!

Roaring winds, white light soaring into the sky, the huge creature flapped its wings, and a silver-white head protruded from the light curtain. The dragon flapped its wings and flew out around the beam of light, its posture extremely domineering and elegant.

Read as a servant and write as a wife, a white phantom three thousand years ago

Blue-Eyes White Dragon, come!

Chapter 439: The Deadly Trap

Blue-Eyes White Dragon, ATK 3000

Hey, its finally here. Officer Fujino said from the side, Blue-Eyes White Dragon, a legendary dragon that only Kaiba Seto owns in the world.

However, he continued to sneer: However, the duel in our Department D has already evolved further. Even the legendary Blue-Eyes White Dragon is powerless to resist us. Egawa, take this opportunity to let President Kaiba have a good experience!

Go, Blue-Eyes White Dragon! Kaiba yelled loudly, Use the absolute power of light to crush that pretender hiding in the sea!

The white dragon opened its mouth and swung its long neck. During its charging period, it seemed that all the floating particles in the air were invisibly drawn and gathered into its mouth in the form of a vortex of light.

Burst Stream of Destruction!

The water surface was broken, and white waves surged everywhere. The huge, pitch-black giant iron and steel shadow finally had no way to hide under the destructive white light. It rose from the sea like a mountain, and tons of water crashed down against its body.

It was a mobile weapon in the shape of a whale, even larger than the Blue-Eyes White Dragon. It carried a steel fortress on its back, and it was full of missile launch ports and thick black gun barrels.

At this moment, this mysterious monster lurking in the depths of the sea finally showed its true appearance.

Citadel Whale, ATK 2350

This looked like a deep-sea submarine, but it really fit the style of the army.

Blue-Eyes, smash it for me! Kaiba shouted.

But at this moment, Egawa waved his hand, and turned over the first covered card: Open the set card! Continuous Trap Sea Stealth Attack!

Kaiba raised his eyebrows: Is it the trap retrieved by the effect of Citadel Whale in the first turn?

Sea Stealth Attacks effect! While Umi is on the field, at the start of the Damage Step, if my WATER monster whose original Level is 5 or higher battles an opponents monster: Destroy that opponents monster!

What!?! Kaibas expression changed slightly.

Why is this!?! Mokuba was also shocked, And its a Continuous Trap Doesnt it mean that the Level 7 Citadel Whale can never be defeated!?

If you attack with a monster, it will be destroyed directly, and if you use the card effect, it will be negated by the ability of the Citadel Whale

Is it invincible! ?

Damn, what a convenient effect. Kaiba snorted coldly, but then played another card, Quick-Play Spell Forbidden Dress!

Until the end of this turn, Blue-Eyes White Dragons attack power will decrease by 600 points, but it cannot be targeted or destroyed by other card effects!

Blue-Eyes White Dragon, ATK 3000 ATK 2400

Awesome! Mokuba started again, Even if it drops by 600, Blue-Eyes White Dragons attack power is still 50 points higher than Citadel Whale! If it cant be destroyed by card effect, it can ignore the effect of Sea Stealth Attack!

Oh? You still have such a trick. Fujino nodded slightly, still smiling confidently, But Egawa waved his arm, and continued to shout: Another effect of Sea Stealth Attack is activated!

Nani? Kaiba was startled again, There is a second effect?

While Umi is on the field, I can banish 1 WATER monster I control until the End Phase. Egawa said, During this turn, face-up Spells/Traps I control cannot be destroyed by the opponents card effects.

The trap was activated, and the water flow turned into a water column and rose up from the ground, wrapping the huge body of the Citadel Whale, and it disappeared from the field with a burst of light blue light.

Does it even have the ability to protect Spells and Traps? Mokuba clenched his fists.

Kaiba frowned.

He removed his own monsters from the game Wouldnt it make his field empty?

What is the purpose?

Could it be that he wanted to keep the trump card monster even at the expense of a large amount of life points?

But no matter what the idea was, Seto Kaiba didn't have the word retreat in his dictionary!

Then the attack continues! Kaiba shouted, Blue-Eyes White Dragon, attack the player directly!

The Battle Replay occurred, and the white dragon resumed its attack. Boundless hot white light erupted from the dragon's mouth, sweeping toward Egawa's face!

Fujino hummed in a low voice: Its useless.

Sure enough, Egawa continued to wave his arms: Open the set card! Continuous Trap Tornado Wall!

Azure blue water columns rise from the ground, standing one after another in front of Egawa, as if they have built an insurmountable wall of water flow. The white dragon's light beam bombarded the wall in a mighty way, splashing water and evaporating the water body, but it failed to penetrate this line of defense and touch Egawa himself.

The effect of the Tornado Wall. Egawa said calmly, While Umi is face-up on the field, all direct attacks of the opponent's monster will be negated. (Manga effect)

Cut, there are a lot of little tricks. Kaiba gritted his teeth.

This Tornado Wall was not a new card. This card was used by Kajigi Yuta when he fought against Jonouchi in Battle City.

The effect of negate direct attack did not target, so even with the protection of the Forbidden Dress, the Blue-Eyes White Dragon was unable to penetrate this barrier.

In fact, the real-life effect of Tornado Wall should be considered to be enhanced compared with the manga effect. The manga effect could only resist direct attacks, while the real-life effect made all Battle Damage become 0.

Of course, as far as the current situation was concerned, it seems that there is not much difference.

Then Set two cards, I end my turn, Kaiba said.

At the end of the turn, the effect of Sea Stealth Attack is activated. Egawa said, The banished Citadel Whale returns to the field.

The water body on the sea surface churned, and a burst of blue light flickered, causing violent movements. The huge black fortress returned to the site, and dived back into the water with a rumbling roar, waiting for an opportunity to move.

Kaiba also said: At the End Phase, Blue-Eyes White Dragon's attack power will return to normal.

Blue-Eyes White Dragon, ATK 2400 ATK 3000

Although he still showed a disdainful expression on the surface, Kaiba has not underestimated this special duelist from Department D.

There was no doubt that the strength of this so-called elite was genuine, even in the world's dueling world, he was also the top batch of strongmen.

But it seemed that there was nothing particularly surprising.

After all, they are duelists cultivated by the military with all their resources, and the cards they use are also developed with the best technology. It seems natural to train duelists with the resource standards of developing secret weapons.

Interesting, indeed interesting. Instead of being annoyed, Kaiba raised a corner of his mouth and became a little interested.

If it weren't for this kind of duel, there would be no point in it!

My turn. Egawa drew a card, and then directly showed the drawn card, Summon the Amphibious Bugroth MK-3!

A combat machine produced by the army rose from the sea surface, carrying two mines marked with MK-3, floating above the sea surface, and the tail engine was humming.

Amphibious Bugroth MK-3, ATK 1500

Egawa didn't hide his monsters on the bottom of the sea this time, probably because he didn't think it was necessary. With a big wave of his hand, he directly entered the Battle Phase: First of all, Citadel Whale! Attack the Blue-Eyes White Dragon!

Citadel Whale, ATK 2350

Blue-Eyes White Dragon, ATK 3000

Actively attacking monsters with higher attack power seemed stupid, but everyone knows what will happen next.

The instant the battle between the Level 7 Citadel Whale and the Blue-Eyes White Dragon occurs, the effect of the Sea Stealth Attack would be triggered.

If the white dragon was destroyed, the president would become undefended.

Brother! Mokuba became anxious.

Hmph, I figured out this kind of trick a long time ago! Kaiba shouted, Open the set card! Trap card Lumenize! When an opponent's monster declares an attack: Target the attacking monster; negate the attack.

Then 1 face-up LIGHT monster I control gains ATK equal to that target's ATK, until my next End Phase!

Beautiful! Mokuba was pleasantly surprised, If this move is passed, not only will the damage be avoided, but Blue-Eyes White Dragon's attack power will also increase to 5350 in one go! Next turn, if it attacks the Amphibious Bugroth MK-3, it will be able to deal super high damage of 3850 points, reduce the opponent's LP to a mere 150

Just one card reversed the situation, as expected of my brother!

Then the effect of Citadel Whale is activated. Egawa raised his palm, Once per turn, during either player's turn, when the opponent activates a card or effect that targets 1 WATER monster I control, I can negate the activation, and destroy that card!

The ability of the Citadel Whale was activated, the two gun barrels on the fortress fell, and the artillery fire pierced through the air, involuntarily piercing through the photon barrier, and blasting the reversed trap on Kaibas field to pieces.

The battle continues! use the Citadel Whale to attack the Blue-Eyes White Dragon. Egawa shouted, Then at the moment of the battle, the effect of Sea Stealth Attack will activate! The opponents monster that battles with my WATER monster whose original Level is 5 or higher will be directly destroyed before damage calculation!

Fujino looked at Kaiba, and said to himself: Seto Kaibas there only this level after all

However, at this moment when White Bride was about to be destroyed and all defenses seemed to collapse, Kaiba actually laughed?

Hahahahahaha!!!

Without any warning, he suddenly raised his head and laughed, which made Fujino stunned for a moment.

What is he laughing at?

Are you so happy to lose?

Hey, you must think that I am helpless, right? Kaiba crossed his arms and sneered, But in fact, you are the one who stepped into the trap!

Take a good look, at what is a truly powerful duelist, leading duels in areas beyond your reach!

Open the set card: Trap Card Witches Strike!

The cover card in front of the Kaiba is turned over, and the overwhelming and irresistible power is released from the trap card!

The Witches Strike can only be activated when the opponent negates the Normal or Special Summon of a monster(s) or the activation of a card or effect!

Harsh activation conditions must be accompanied by powerful effects, and this card was especially so!

Kaiba sneered: When the Witches Strike is successfully activated, all cards your opponent controls and in their hand will be destroyed!

Fujino: Nani!?!??

Chapter 440: Strong Beyond Imagination

Witches Strike!

The destruction of all the cards on the opponents field and hand meant that all the resources available to the opponent until now were destroyed in one go, and the possibility of a comeback was minimized.

Everything before was just a false move and foreshadowing, this was Kaibas real reversal blow!

Seto Kaiba, what a terrifying man. Officer Fujino couldn't help muttering, Even in such a situation, can you find the power to counter in an instant and firmly grasp the key to victory?

Even Egawa, whose expression has not fluctuated since the duel, lost his composure a little at this moment. But he did not give up on this: The effect of Sea Stealth Attack is activated! While Umi is on the field, I can banish 1 WATER monster I control until the End Phase. During this turn, face-up Spells/Traps I control cannot be destroyed by the opponents card effects!

A storm broke out in the sea, and the jet-black and huge Citadel Whale was wrapped in the sky by the soaring water column, which disappeared with the crystal blue light.

The blue light spots transformed into a fortress are connected together, gradually forming a transparent protective layer. The fluid-like shield protected all the cards in Egawa's backcourt, including the Field Spell Umi, two Continuous Traps Sea Stealth Attack and Tornado Wall.

Although Amphibious Bugroth MK-3 was blown to pieces under the backlash of the trap, at least he managed to keep his strongest formation.

Even if such a powerful trap as Witches Strike was successfully launched, it would not be able to shake this iron wall after all.

Even at this point, Egawa's LP was still at 4000 points. Kaiba hasn't hurt his LP so far.

Damn it, isn't this arrangement too foul? Mokuba couldn't help worrying about his brother, Is that guy really that strong?

He was grimacing at the side but suddenly felt a hand rubbing his head.

Mokuba turned his head to the side but saw that Yuei Vu had also come to the auditorium at some time, smiling lightly and touching his head.

Dont worry. Yuei Vu said, Your brother Kaiba is not someone who will be stumped by this level of arrangement.

No one knew if Kaiba, who was playing cards on the field, heard it. It seemed that he glanced sideways at Yuei Vu intentionally or unintentionally, and snorted.

At the end of the turn, the Citadel Whale returned to my field, Egawa said.

The sea was turbulent, and a large amount of seawater was pushed away to both sides. The huge steel object returned to Egawa's field and lay indestructibly in front of Kaiba.

It is indeed a very beautiful counterattack, you have proved your strength is genuine, President Kaiba.

Officer Fujino, who loves to pretend, admitted Kaiba's strength openly, but he immediately smiled and said confidently: But that's it. The fortress we built is absolute defense, even you can't break through.

Absolute defense? This? Kaiba sneered, Dont make me laugh so hard.

Officer Fujino frowned: You mean, do you have a plan to break through this line of defense?

Kaiba folded his arms, the windbreaker seemed to be automatic without wind and looked at Fujino with a condescending look like a superior.

At this moment, Fujino felt as if he was a lot shorter.

No. Kaiba said calmly, I mean, within this turn, I can win this duel.

Even the eyelids of the soldier Egawa who was suspected of being a ruthless card-playing machine on the opposite side jumped as if he felt a little unbelievable.

Do you want to win within this turn?

How to win? Just relying on the white dragon on his field that can be destroyed by Sea Stealth Attack with a single blow?

If you don't understand, just keep your eyes open and watch the duel of the strong beyond your imagination! Kaiba shouted, It's my turn, draw!

Activate the Spell Card Card of Demise! I can draw cards until I have 5 cards in my hand. During my 5th Standby Phase after activation, send all cards in my hand to the Graveyard!

Yuei Vu:

It really is a duel of the strong beyond your imagination.

No risk, no price, something out of nothing, one exchange for five. The Equivalent Exchange law was directly thrown into the trash can, the alchemists of all worlds in the multiverse gave a thumbs up.

Spell Card The Melody of Awakening Dragon! Kaiba shouted, Discard 1 card; add up to 2 Dragon monsters with 3000 or more ATK and 2500 or less DEF from the deck to my hand.

I chose the other two Blue-Eyes White Dragons!

Kaiba showed two White Brides and added them to his hand.

Officer Fujino frowned: Do you have all three Blue-Eyes White Dragons in your hands? But even it can't help you.

Spell Card Ancient Rules! Special Summon 1 Level 5 or higher Normal Monster from my hand! A yellowed ancient scroll appeared in front of Kaiba.

A Level 5 or higher Normal Monster? Fujino shook his head, It's useless, even if you summon a second Blue-Eyes White Dragon

The monster I want to summon is Kaiba interrupted coldly, showing a card in his hand, Dragon Spirit of White!

Yuei Vu almost spat out.

President, why are you secretly printing new cards again?

That was an extremely noble dragon. With a solid body like an alloy, the dragon's scales emitted a dazzling white light that was difficult to look directly at. The broad bone wings stretched out, shining with brilliance, as if to use that light to dye the world into its own color.

Dragon Spirit of White, ATK 2500

Although Dragon Spirit of White is an Effect Monster, it is treated as a Normal Monster while in the hand or GY. Kaiba said, And when Dragon Spirit of White is successfully Normal or Special Summoned, I can target 1 Spell/Trap your opponent controls; banish it!

He pointed to the boundless vast sea below his feet.

Whether its Sea Stealth Attack or Tornado Wall, the foundation is still this field! Then I just need to solve smooth this field and your so-called absolute defense will collapse by itself!

Dragon Spirit of White! Eliminate this field for me!

Officer Fujino suddenly came to his senses: Oops! The absolute defense built by Sea Stealth Attack can only prevent the Spell and Traps on the field from being destroyed, but if it is directly banished

The white dragon raised its noble head and let out a high-pitched roar! The light all over its body became unprecedentedly shining, so dazzling that even the body of the dragon seemed to disappear, leaving only an incandescent sun!

The sea was churning violently, and the terrifying waves and tsunami on the sea were not demonstrations but seemed to be fear from the sea itself. Just like the seas futile last struggle knowing that it is about to be wiped out.

But that didnt work. The seawater disappeared quickly, and with the sound of sizzling, it was evaporated under the incandescent light and dissipated at a speed visible to the naked eye. The ocean that covered the entire field dissipated under the brilliance of the white dragon, and the empty field was restored.

It was indeed as Kaiba said. The two Continuous Traps Sea Stealth Attack and Tornado Wall must have the Field Spell Umi on the field to be effective. Now that the field was lost, these two cards were just two blank sheets of paper.

The Umi decks absolute defense arrangement was defeated.

Ill let you know how stupid you are to dare to challenge me! Kaiba shouted, Activate Spell Card Polymerization!

Egawas pupils shrank slightly, realizing something.

I fuse the Blue-Eyes White Dragon on the field and two Blue-Eyes White Dragons in the hand! The ultimate dragon that dispels the deepest darkness and brings the ultimate light! The ultimate evolution of my strongest servant-

Neo Blue-Eyes Ultimate Dragon! ! !

The ultimate fusion, the three-body white dragon appeared on the field, flapping its wings and flying into the air, like three silver meteors converging into one, bursting out with godlike power.

The ultimate white dragon, with three heads, huge bone wings, and a solid body like a steel structure, seems to be an absolute king wearing armor and ruling over all things.

Neo Blue-Eyes Ultimate Dragon, ATK 4500

Battle! Kaiba yelled angrily, Neo Blue-Eyes Ultimate Dragon, attack Citadel Whale!

The three-headed dragon opened all its mouths, and the dazzling light beam blasted out as if piercing through time and space! Without the support of the sea, the huge fortress completely lost its ability to resist. Even though the whole body is equipped with various high-tech armed firepower, the fortress is so powerless under the power of the white dragon.

The incandescent burst beam pierced through the Citadel Whale, making a huge gap from front to back, and the entire fortress was quickly blown to pieces under the dazzling flames. Half of the gun barrel whirled into the air, and metal parts and charred wreckage flew out in all directions.

Egawa, LP 4000 LP 1950

Hahahaha! The Neo Blue-Eyes Ultimate Dragon can attack up to three times in one turn!
(animation effect)

The president shouted loudly, and swung his arm down, like the ultimate judgment.

Smash! Jade Smash! Shout out! Hyper Ultimate Burst!!!

What? You said the translation of the famous lines of the president sounds embarrassing?

No, no, no, then you are wrong. In fact, it would be just as embarrassing if you dont translate it. Its just that the president himself doesnt mind.

Three beams of light hit Egawas face at the same time, exploding black smoke soaring into the sky, and the momentum was like a tsunami built by light.
