

I Play Yu-Gi 561

Chapter 561: This Man Is Unfathomable!

"Activate the Spell Card Sacred Sword of Seven Stars'." Yuei Vu said, "Banish 1 Level 7 monster from my hand or face-up on my field; draw 2 cards.

I banish the Level 7 Swift Gaia the Fierce Knight' in my hand, and draw cards from the deck. "

After adding two cards to the hand, he took out another card.

"Activate the Spell Card Tribute Doll' from the hand." Yuei Vu said, "Tribute 1 monster; Special Summon 1 Level 7 monster from your hand that can be Normal Summoned/Set. It cannot attack this turn.

I tribute Sangan' to summon Charging Gaia the Fierce Knight!' "

The figure of Sangan disappeared, turning into a beam of light and flying into the black void. There was the sound of galloping horseshoes, the spiraling red spear pierced the darkness, and the dark knight rushed out with a pitch-black steed on his hips.

Charging Gaia the Fierce Knight, ATK 2300

"Gaia the Fierce Knight is this his ace spirit?" Mahad thought.

"The effect of Sangan!" The phantom of the "Sangan" that had just been sacrificed quickly appeared in front of Yuei Vu, "If this card is sent from the field to the GY: Add 1 monster with 1500 or less ATK from my Deck to my hand.

I add the Beginning Knight' to my hand. "

A card popped out of the deck automatically, was pulled out by Yuei Vu, and returned to his hand, then the deck was quickly shuffled.

"Activate Spell Card Pre-Preparation of Rites'." Yuei Vu continued, "Add 1 Ritual Spell from my Deck to my hand, and add 1 Ritual Monster from my Deck or GY to my hand whose name is mentioned on that Ritual Spell.

I add the Ritual Spell Black Luster Ritual' and the Ritual Monster Black Luster Soldier' from the deck to my hand. "

Another two cards popped out of the deck, and were drawn out by Yuei Vu respectively, and the deck was shuffled again.

Priest Mahad's eyelids twitched, and for a brief moment, he suspected that he had heard it wrong.

Did he just say Black Luster Soldier!?

Countless people have heard his legend, but no one has ever seen his true appearance. The only thing they knew was that he was the strongest warrior standing at the apex of the spirit world.

If it followed the normal development three thousand years ago, then the legendary Black Luster Soldier was finally convinced by Yami Yugi and willingly became the loyal servant of the Pharaoh.

But in this memory world, the strongest warrior was now Yuei Vu's spirit.

"Ritual Spell Black Luster Ritual!" Yuei Vu directly activated the magic with a wave of his big hand, "By Tributing monsters from my hand or field whose total Levels equal 8 or more, perform a Ritual Summon!

Using the level 7 Charging Gaia the Fierce Knight' on the field and the level 4 Beginning Knight' in the hand as sacrifices! "

The deep black altar and the staggered long swords reflected the dancing flames. The two knights both settled down, a golden light and a dark light intersected with each other in mid-air, one left and one right respectively fell into the altar.

"One soul guides the light, one soul guides the darkness, and the gate of chaos opens here.

Ritual Summon! Come, Black Luster Soldier! "

The interweaving of light and darkness penetrated into the depths of chaos in this sacred ceremony. The warrior's soul was revived, like a golden meteor breaking out from the depths of the chaos, carrying an unparalleled warrior, the golden light was like a torrent washing over his dark blue armor and golden patterns.

Black Luster Soldier, ATK 3000

Mahad's face changed slightly.

Is it really a Black Luster Soldier?

That Black Luster Soldier!?

And the Black Luster Soldier appearing here was not a Normie. The Black Luster Soldier summoned by using the "Beginning Knight" as a ritual material had the powerful effect of being able to banish any monster on the field once a turn and attack again when he defeated the opponent's monster.

A legendary warrior truly worthy of his "strongest" title!

"Even such a powerful fighter is willing to be used by you No wonder Priest Seto is no match for you." Mahad quickly calmed down, and he couldn't help but feel more admiration for this "friend of the Pharaoh".

But his title as the "Strongest Magician" was not a joke. With a serious expression on his face, he waved his hand and opened the slab: "The moment your Black Luster Soldier stepped on this field, he already triggered my trap!

The trap he triggered was, Void Trap Hole!" "

Void Trap Hole: When your opponent Special Summons a monster(s) with 2000 or more ATK: Negate the effects of 1 of those monsters with 2000 or more ATK, and if you do, destroy it.

A hole opened under the Black Luster Soldier's feet. The warrior stepped into the air and immediately fell from the pit into purgatory, and instantly dissipated into golden powder.

"At the same moment, the power of the new magician has also been triggered."

Mahad pointed in front of him, and another stone slab was flipped quickly.

"Show yourself, Magician of Dark Illusion!!!"

The slab dissipated out of thin air, replaced by a huge black magic circle. The mage in a black robe flew out of the magic circle with a green staff in his hand. Both his shape and figure resembled the "Dark Magician" of later generations, except that the face of the mage robe was pitch black.

Magician of Dark Illusion, ATK 2100

Magician of Dark Illusion: During your opponent's turn, if you activate a Spell/Trap Card or effect (except during the Damage Step): You can Special Summon this card from your hand.

This magician spirit looked like the one summoned by Mahad to fight Bakura in the original animation. It's just that according to the card effect, the Magician of Dark Illusion needed to cooperate with the "Dark Magician" to exert his full strength. Now without the Dark Magician, his power would naturally have to be discounted.

Mana, who was secretly watching the battle in the dark, admired her master very much: "As expected of Master, he is amazing! Master eliminated such a powerful fighter in one fell swoop, and even summoned the ace magician "

However, Yuei Vu was not at all annoyed by the ace monster being pitted, and just continued: "Then the effect of Charging Gaia the Fierce Knight' is activated.

If this card is Tributed: I can add 1 Black Luster Soldier' monster from my Deck to my hand. "

Draw out a card that popped up from the deck again, and Yuei Vu showed it briefly: "I added the Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning' to my hand."

"The Envoy of the Beginning"

This name made Mahad secretly feel a little bad. But the Black Luster Soldier was already a legendary warrior, and it was impossible for others to see his various vests.

"Then I banish the LIGHT-attribute Beginning Knight' and the DARK-attribute Sangan' from the GY!

The souls of light and darkness are sacrificed in the gateway to chaos, where the legendary strongest warrior descends

Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning! ! ! "

A whirlpool of chaos suddenly appeared in the clear sky, and dark clouds enveloped the palace.

The golden thunder pierced through the clouds and landed straight on the floor tiles No, it was not thunder, but an incomparable sword light that opened up the world!

The sword energy broke through space, bringing the vision of the beginning of heaven and earth! The golden light shot out from behind the clouds like arrows piercing the clouds, and the swordsman in the blue armor slowly fell to the ground with the majesty like a god descending from the sky.

Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning, ATK 3000

"Next is the effect of the Beginning Knight'. If this card is banished from the Graveyard: I can add 1 Ritual Spell Card from the deck to my hand."

Yuei Vu said slowly and drew a card from the deck again.

"I add the Ritual Spell Super Soldier Ritual' to my hand." Yuei Vu showed the card and added it to his hand, "Let's continue the battle. Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning', attack Maha Vailo!"

The Black Luster Soldier flew forward, and the long sword was held out like a silver dragon. In an instant, the momentum of the sword burst out layers upon layers of endless sword shadows, like forming a boundless wave!

Maha Vailo was just a low-level mage, how could he resist this kind of power? In just a moment, the endless sword light pierced his body full of holes and made him explode on the spot.

Mahad, LP 4000 LP 2550

The domineering chaotic sword energy and the impact of the explosion caused Mahad to sway back half a step, the Millennium Ring on his chest fluttered violently, and the metal parts rubbed against each other crisply.

"The effect of Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning' is activated." Yuei Vu said, "If this attacking card destroys an opponent's monster by battle, it can make a second attack in a row."

Mahad's eyelids moved.

This warrior is so powerful!?

The Black Luster Soldier succeeded with a single strike of the sword, and kept moving. With a whirl of footsteps, he dodged in front of the dark magician.

The Magician of Dark Illusion raised his staff, and released a magic circle from the tip of the staff to try to resist, but saw the Black Luster Soldier handed out his long sword, and the sword came out like a dragon, twisting the green magic circle into pieces with one blow. Immediately following a flash of sword light, the long sword was lifted up, and the magic staff was also lifted into the air immediately.

As the saying goes "A mage in close combat is the meat on the cutting board". This saying may not be very applicable today, but it is still very appropriate in the current situation.

The Black Luster Soldier's long sword turned again, and boundless sword light swept out again, tearing the mage apart in the blink of an eye, and was blown to pieces under the vertical and horizontal sword energy.

Mahad, LP 2550 LP 1650

"Set two cards, I end my turn." Yuei Vu said.

Mahad took two steps back, stood still, and looked up at Yuei Vu with solemn eyes.

He has realized.

This man

was simply unfathomable!

Chapter 562: Five Equipments

"Master!"

Seeing her master was at a disadvantage, Mana screamed out, almost revealing her position.

She opened her eyes and looked at the domineering "Envoy of the Beginning" in surprise, and then at Yuei Vu.

What's the matter with this man?

Not only is he good-looking, but he is also stronger than the master!

But Mahad did not give up. He took a deep breath, stood up straight, and raised his hand again to summon a stone slab.

He felt that what Yuei Vu said was indeed true. If he couldn't even break through the level before him, how could he fight against Bakura?

But he has already made up his mind, even if he had to sacrifice his life on this trip, he would definitely take down Bakura.

For the pharaoh, he couldn't lose this battle!

"Come to me!" Mahad waved his hand, and the cloak fluttered, "Use the spell here Spell Books from the Pot! Due to the gift of its magic potency, both parties can get three new stone slabs!"

Yuei Vu drew three cards, while on Mahad's side, three stone slabs were smashed down with an exaggerated momentum

"Then there is the spell Trade-In', which discards a stone slab that seals the level 8 monsters and obtains two new slabs."

Once again, two stone slabs fell, and the turbulent dust formed a thin layer of tulle. Mahad behind the curtain has a resolute face, surrounded by faint purple cyclones, and the wide priest robe gently undulates at his feet.

"It seems that your master is a little different?" Snow Wave, who was observing in the dark, expressed his opinion.

"Master are you going to get serious?" Mana whispered.

In her impression, she seemed to have never seen the master look so serious.

Yuei Vu, who was in the field at this time, also felt that the pressure seemed to be a little bit higher, and even the figure of the priest in front of him seemed to become more upright, like a piece of tough and unyielding bamboo.

It felt as if even the Duelist Rank had increased.

"The friend of the Pharaoh, I will use all my strength to deal with it from now on." Mahad said in a deep voice with awe-inspiring eyes, "Your strength is very strong. If I were to compete on a daily basis, I might lose to you like this, but not today.

Today, no matter what, I have to make a break with the Bandit King! "

He chanted the spell, and the magic power in his body burned like a flame. With a wave of his arm, he turned over a stone slab again.

"Use the spell Premature Burial!" Mahad shouted, "At the cost of my blood and soul, wake up the sleeping soul!"

Premature Burial (Equip Spell): Pay 800 LP, then target 1 monster in your Graveyard; Special Summon that target in Attack Position and equip it with this card.

Mahad, LP 1650 LP 850

"Wake up from the slumber in the cemetery!" Mahad raised his arms high and shouted, "Appear! Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens!"

"What?" Yuei Vu was a little surprised.

Is it the card discarded to the graveyard when the "Trade-In" is activated?

A black vortex opened up on the ground, like a storm of magic blowing from the depths of the underworld! A mage in a black robe rose slowly from the dark void, with gorgeous golden decorations and accessories. Although there was no domineering murderous aura or repressive aura, it exuded a mysterious and majestic aura.

[Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, ATK 1550]

It was obviously a different vest of the same monster as the magician "Maha Vailo" who retired last round, but this was an upgraded version with greatly improved magic power.

"The effect of Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens! Every time he gets a layer of magic protection, his combat power will increase accordingly," Mahad said, "and the seal of his own ability will gradually be lifted!"

Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens: When this card is equipped with 1 or more Equip Cards, this card gains 1000 ATK for each Equip Card equipped to it.

Now he was equipped with "Premature Burial", so his ATK has increased by 1000.

[Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, ATK 1550 ATK 2550]

"Then I used the magic incantation recorded in the Book of Secret Arts' to increase the magic power of Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens again!" Mahad shouted.

Book of Secret Arts (Equip Spell): A Spellcaster-Type monster equipped with this card increases its ATK and DEF by 300 points.

And because of the increase in the number of equipped spells, the attack power of Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens would be further increased according to its own effect.

[Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, ATK 2550 ATK 2850 ATK 3850]

"And after Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens gets the two magical weapons, the ability seal will be further lifted. During the battle, all the special abilities of the opponent's servants will be sealed under the restriction of his spells!"

Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens: When this card is equipped with 2 or more Equip Cards, the opponent cannot activate monster effects during the Battle Phase.

"Next, I use the spell Hidden Armory!" After chanting a series of spells again, another spell recorded in the stone slab was released, "At the cost of giving up this round of summoning opportunities, I can call a slab with a sealed magic weapon into in my hands!"

Hidden Armory (Spell Card): Send the top card of your Deck to the GY; add 1 Equip Spell from your Deck or GY to your hand. You cannot Normal Summon/Set the turn you activate this card.

"The slab I want to call is the slab of the Bound Wand!" The slab fell, and Mahad waved his hand, "Use the spell to summon the Bound Wand' to the field to further enhance the power of the Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens' magic!"

Bound Wand (Equip Spell): Equip only to a Spellcaster monster that has a Level. It gains ATK equal to its Level x 100. If the equipped monster is destroyed by your opponent's card and sent to the GY, and this card is sent to your GY as a result: You can Special Summon that monster.

The level of Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens was 8, so the attack power increased by 800. According to its own effect, it increased by 1000 again.

[Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, ATK 3850 ATK 4650 ATK 5650]

"The third magic weapon will further unlock the magic power seal of Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens!" Mahad shouted, "All spells, traps, or special abilities of monsters against Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens can be resisted by using the magic weapon!"

Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens: When this card is equipped with 3 or more Equip Cards, and your opponent's card or effect is activated that targets this card (Quick Effect): You can send 1 Equip Card you control to the GY; negate that effect.

"The trap is activated! Armory Call!" Mahad flipped over the slab of the trap, "I can call one slab of magic weapons into my hands and equip to my servants!"

Armory Call (Trap Card): Add 1 Equip Spell from your Deck to your hand, then you can equip it to 1 appropriate monster you control. You can only activate 1 "Armory Call" per turn.

"I equip the Magic Formula' to Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens!"

Magic Formula (Equip Spell): Equip only to a Spellcaster-Type monster. It gains 500 ATK. (manga effect)

[Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, ATK 5650 ATK 6150 ATK 7150]

"At the same time, Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens's further ability will release the seal!" Mahad clenched his fists, "During the battle, the opponent cannot use any spells, traps, or special abilities of monsters!"

Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens: When this card is equipped with 4 or more Equip Cards, the opponent cannot activate cards or effects during the Battle Phase.

To put it simply, no matter if it was the "Mirror Force", "Magic tube", "Negate Attack", or even the invincible Kuriboh, they couldn't catch the mage's attack this time.

Seeing the black-robed sorcerer shrouded in a halo and soaring to the god level in an instant, even Yuei Vu couldn't help but feel a little pressure.

"Mahad is worthy to be the priest who is known as the strongest magician. This posture is really exaggerated."

More than 7,000 attack power, with this attack power, he could still hold it for the time being

"Spell, Arms Regeneration!" Mahad activated the slab again, "Summon the magical weapons in my own or the opponent's graveyard back to the field, and equip to my servants!" (manga card)

The vortex opened in front of him, and another stone slab flew out rumbly.

"Equip Mage Power' to Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens!"

Yuei Vu's eyes flashed.

When is this card?

Then he quickly thought of the card that was sent from the top of the deck when Mahad activated the "Hidden Armory".

Well, he is indeed the strongest magician, and he can throw cards so accurately at random.

Mage Power (Equip Spell): The equipped monster gains 500 ATK/DEF for each Spell/Trap you control.

Now Mahad's back row was filled with five Equip Spells, plus the effect of Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, a total of 3500 points of attack power has been increased!

[Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, ATK 7150 ATK 10650]

The attack power exceeds 10,000!

And that's not all.

"When the fifth magic weapon is obtained, the final seal of Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens will also be lifted!" Mahad shouted, "The damage caused by Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens to the opponent is doubled!"

Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens: When this card is equipped with 4 or more Equip Cards, any battle damage this card inflicts to the opponent is doubled.

Although Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning was powerful, its attack power was only comparable to that of a Blue-Eyes White Dragon. If this battle was established, it would cause more than 15,000 points of battle damage in one breath!

Even if Yuei Vu's LP was tripled, this was still more than enough to OTK him!

Yuei Vu couldn't bear it any longer.

"That can't be done." With a wave of his hand, Yuei Vu turned over the trap that had not been activated in front of him, "Counter Trap Super Soldier Shield!

When a Spell/Trap Card, or monster effect, is activated that targets a monster on the field, while I control a Black Luster Soldier' monster: Negate the activation and destroy that card.

I negate the activation of the Mage Power ! "

The chaotic cyclone shot out from the trap card hit the "Mage Power " slab head-on, and blasted it to pieces!

[Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, ATK 10650 ATK 7150]

Not only that, but the moment "Mage Power " was destroyed also meant that Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens lost the ability to give double damage, and the damage was greatly reduced in one go.

But if the battle was established, it would still cause 4150 battle damage, enough to kill in one fell swoop!

Mahad frowned, but didn't take it seriously: "But even so, his strength is strong enough! Go, Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, and defeat the Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning!"

Chapter 563: Chaos Dimension Slash!

"Go, Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens! Attack the Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning!"

The black-robed mage's eyes were piercing. He raised his arms, palms facing the sky. Black clouds gathered in the sky, and the looming golden lightning flew through the clouds like streamers of light.

Even if the activation of "Mage Power" failed, the attack power of Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens was still as high as 7150, and only one blow was enough to complete the kill.

In addition, Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens with four pieces of equipment could also increase his own attack power, negate the effects that target him, and have a prohibition spell that can silence all countermeasures during battle.

In such a state, even among all magicians, he was already a top existence, and the power in his hands was so powerful that it was frightening!

The golden streamer gathered to one place behind the black cloud, and the black mist reopened, falling like a tumbling dragon. Lightning pierced through the air, filling the air with a burning smell, and lightning crackled and danced everywhere in the entire open space, blinding people's eyes.

Mana, who was watching the battle in the back row, was frightened by the momentum and sat down on the ground, only to look dumbfounded: "Master so strong!"

With such a powerful force, no matter what kind of opponent, they won't be able to rise again, will they?

However, she soon discovered that when the smoke dissipated, Yuei Vu was still standing indifferently in the middle of the field surrounded by black smoke that was blasted by the thunder.

Yuei Vu, LP 4000 LP 1925

"What?"

Mahad was obviously surprised that he took the blow unharmed, but he also quickly discovered that there was a buffer area formed by some invisible energy in front of Yuei Vu, which resisted the damage to a certain extent.

"Is it a defensive spell?" Mahad thought to himself, "But during the battle, any spells will be sealed by Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens' magic power"

"Trap Card Damage Diet. All damage I take this turn will be halved." Yuei Vu said, "This card is activated just before you enter the Battle Phase.

"You're able to defend to this point but my absolute advantage has not changed." Mahad said in a deep voice, "Then set another stone slab on the field, and my round is over. "

Yuei Vu looked at Mahad's "Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens", and couldn't help but let out a sigh of relief.

Although he guessed Mahad would play a Spellcaster deck, he really did not expect that Mahad would bring out the Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens. Some of the cards that Yugi used and many people around him were related to the characters in ancient Egypt three thousand years ago. Yugi Muto once said that while "Dark Magician" was most like Yami Yugi, "Maha Vailo" was most like him, but no one knew this card had anything to do with Mahad.

But looking at the mass of gorgeous halos surrounding Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens at this time, even Yuei Vu felt that it was a little tricky.

maybe I should spend a little more effort.

"My turn, draw!" Yuei Vu took a card without thinking, "Summon the Arisen Gaia the Fierce Knight!"

The steed neighed, and the warrior in black armor galloped out with the steed on his hips. The spiral spear drew a fiery red arc, and the dark red fluctuations split the floor.

Arisen Gaia the Fierce Knight, ATK 2300

"Huh? Directly summon such a high-level fighter?"

Mana's puzzled expression seemed to be questioning "Is this person cheating?"

So the players next to her rushed to explain to her enthusiastically, saying that Arisen Gaia the Fierce Knight could be directly summoned without sacrifice when the opponent has more monsters on the field than its controller.

"Quick-Play Spell Enemy Controller!"

The Spell Card was activated, and a huge white gamepad appeared in front of Yuei Vu.

If President Kaiba was here, he might also perform a set of traditional "up, down, left, right, ABAB", but Yuei Vu skipped that step: "The effect of Enemy Controller! Tribute 1 monster, then target 1 face-up monster the opponent controls; take control of that target until the End Phase!

I sacrificed the Arisen Gaia the Fierce Knight' to gain control of the Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens!"

The dark knight disappeared along with the steed under him, and the gamepad shot a series of mechanical tentacles toward the mage in the black robe.

But the mage's expression did not change, he raised his palm and shouted, a transparent wave erupted from his palm and immediately blew up several tentacles into several pieces.

"It's useless." Mahad said, "By discarding the weapons obtained on him, Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens can cancel any negative spells cast on him!"

Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens: When this card is equipped with 3 or more Equip Cards, and your opponent's card or effect is activated that targets this card (Quick Effect): You can send 1 Equip Card you control to the GY; negate that effect.

At that moment just now, he sent "Premature Burial" to negate the effect of "Enemy Controller".

"Premature Burial" would destroy the equipped monster when it was "destroyed", but because it was not destroyed here but directly sent to the graveyard as a price, so the Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens would not be destroyed.

Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, ATK 7150 ATK 6150

Yuei Vu, who had expected this result early, didn't care at all: "Then the effect of the Arisen Gaia the Fierce Knight' is activated.

If this card is Tributed: I can Special Summon 1 Black Luster Soldier' monster from my hand or Graveyard.

Come back to the field again, holy warrior who created the world

Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning! "

The cyclone of chaos reappeared, countless golden lights stabbed down from the sky, and the holy warrior in blue armor came again.

Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning, ATK 3000

Facing this legendary warrior who was finally defeated, Mahad could not help but feel the pressure doubled, subconsciously took another half-step back and gritted his teeth.

"Did you call him back so soon?"

"The effect of Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning!" Yuei Vu raised his hand, "Once a round, I can target 1 monster on the field; banish it!

Chaos Dimension Slash! "

Black Luster Soldier's sword slashes in the air. Although the move was ordinary, the sword light seemed to come from the irresistible will from the depths of chaos!

The rays of light distorted under the power of the sword light, and the space of the duel venue was dislocated up and down centered on the sword mark.

It's like the beginning of the world!

But this irresistible domineering sword energy was still tenaciously blocked by the spell cast by the black-robed mage!

"It's useless no matter how many times you come here!" Mahad said, "Discard the Book of Secret Arts', and revoke any negative spells that were applied to Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens!"

Of course, as the price of giving up the equipment magic, the attack power of the Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens would undoubtedly have to be further reduced.

Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, ATK 6150 ATK 4850

"Activate Spell Card Primal Seed'." Yuei Vu continued, "It can only be activated if there is a Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning' or Chaos Emperor Dragon Envoy of the End' on the field.

Target 2 of my banished cards; add both those targets to my hand."

The two cards banished from the previous round were then returned to his hand.

"I returned the Swift Gaia the Fierce Knight' and the Beginning Knight' back to my hand." Yuei Vu briefly showed two cards, and after adding them to his hand, he took out another card, "Spell Card Reinforcement of the Army. Add 1 Level 4 or lower Warrior monster from my Deck to my hand.

The card I want to add to my hand is Evening Twilight Knight'. "

Looking at Yuei Vu's dazzling series of operations, Mahad immediately thought of the Ritual Spell "Super Soldier Ritual" that Yuei Vu retrieved and added to his hand in the last round.

His pupils narrowed slightly, and he quickly thought of something.

Could it be said that all of this is a preparation for the arrival of a stronger existence?

He was right.

"Ritual Spell Super Soldier Ritual!" Yuei Vu said, "By Tributing monsters from my hand or field whose total Levels exactly equal 8, Ritual Summon any Black Luster Soldier' Ritual Monster.

I take the level 4 Beginning Knight' and the level 4 Evening Twilight Knight' as sacrifices!

Light and darkness are intertwined, the strongest warrior from the original chaos

Black Luster Soldier Super Soldier! ! ! "

Light and darkness were intertwined, the golden light penetrating the sky and the earth fell suddenly. A warrior in white armor stepped out slowly, his whole body was dotted with red, the golden light flew on the silver-white sword blade, and the speed was increasing, as if he was long-awaited for his debut!

Black Luster Soldier Super Soldier, ATK 3000

Mahad gritted his teeth: "Is it an evolved form of Black Luster Soldier? But even so, his strength is"

"The effect of the Beginning Knight!" Yuei Vu said, "A Black Luster Soldier' monster Ritual Summoned using this card gains the effect to banish 1 monster the opponent controls.

Remove Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens' from the game! "

The Black Luster Soldier raised the sword in his hand, the sword light was released, and the divine light was released with supreme power, splitting the space and tearing the dimension!

Chaos Dimension Slash!

"Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens has only two pieces of equipment on him, and his ability to negate card effects can only be used when he holds more than three pieces of equipment." Yuei Vu said, "He can't resist this blow."

"Have you seen through it?" Mahad smiled slightly, "But my power is more than that. The moment you summon Black Luster Soldier Super Soldier, the stone slab of the trap has already been triggered Kunai with Chain!

This trap can be used as a weapon to equip my servants to enhance their power! "

Kunai with Chain (Trap Card): Target 1 face-up monster you control; equip this card to that target. It gains 500 ATK.

Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, ATK 4850 ATK 5350 ATK 6350

In this way, Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens obtained three pieces of equipment again!

"The ability of Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens! Discard the Kunai with Chain', and revoke the sword energy of the Black Luster Soldier Super Soldier!"

The slash was negated again!

Mahad's defense was indeed impregnable, leaving almost no flaws.

Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, ATK 6350 ATK 4850

But in this way, there were only two pieces of equipment left on the Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens, which was really the last resort of Mahad.

The priest realized that he was sweating profusely at some point, and the priest's robe on his body was tightly stuck to his body because of the sweat.

He panted lightly, staggered, and took half a step back, only feeling a little dizzy he knew it was a normal phenomenon when his soul power was burned to the extreme.

After all, it has been a long time since he confronted such a powerful opponent.

But the situation on the field was still that the Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens was stronger, and neither the Envoy of the Beginning nor the Super Soldier could rival the mage. This should be his victory

"The effect of Evening Twilight Knight'." Yuei Vu said calmly, "A Black Luster Soldier' monster Ritual Summoned using this card gains the effect to banish 1 monster the opponent controls.

And the effect of Evening Twilight Knight' and Beginning Knight' can be superimposed. "

Mahad: "!!??"

"That's right, that is to say, "Black Luster Soldier Super Soldier" can remove the opponent's monster from the game at most twice in one turn." Yuei Vu waved his hand, "Go, Black Luster Soldier Super Soldier!"

The Black Luster Soldier's sword was raised again.

Boundless brilliance converged from all directions like a turbulent current, as if the space itself was roaring as if all the forces of chaos in the entire dimension were converging towards the sword.

A slash that split the space, distorted the dimension, and tore everything in the way of the sword!

Chaos Dimension Slash!

The space distorted and cracked as if a bloody gap had been torn open. The boundless gravitational force was released, like countless invisible hands grasping the magician's body.

Maha Vailo Light of the Heavens tried his best to resist, trying to block the raging sword energy, but it was completely useless. Even with a strong attack power close to 5,000, it still couldn't stop the power of the sword that opened heaven and earth.

In just a moment, he disappeared from the field, leaving only an empty space.

Mahad found that his panting stopped, and his heartbeat was not as tense as before.

He just felt peace.

"I lost." He gently closed his eyes.

The Super Soldier came to him.

The sword light flickered briefly, it was a sword that was so fast that the naked eye could hardly catch it, and even the afterimage seemed to disappear out of thin air.

Mahad, LP 850 LP 0

Chapter 564: Millenniums-Old Tsundere

The Black Luster Soldier's sword light slashed down, and the priest Mahad wobbled back two steps, kneeling half-kneeling on the ground involuntarily.

The Black Luster Soldier's figure gradually became transparent until it disappeared from the field. Mahad knelt on the ground, bowed his head, closed his eyes, and remained silent for a long time.

His expression was very calm, maybe it should be more accurate to say depressed.

He lost throughout. The spirits he controlled were far less powerful than the legendary "Black Luster Soldier". As a duelist, he also lost a lot in terms of strategy and arrangement.

Mahad has read all kinds of magic books and has reached the pinnacle of black magic. He was known as the best magician in the country, and he was confident that he was the top magician in the world.

In addition, he is a priest who has received rigorous training and his soul has experienced thousands of tempers.

It should be his duty to protect the pharaoh and make the latter's dream come true, and it was the value and meaning of his own life. But now a cruel reality was placed in front of him.

That was, he was not strong enough.

Whether its Bakura, the current Pharaoh, or the warrior named Yuei Vu who suddenly appeared in front of him, their strengths are beyond the cognition of the priests so far.

Based on his strength, even if he burned out his soul, he might not really be a match for Bakura and the three Wicked Gods.

"Mahad."

The voice sounded from the side of the two. Mahad hurriedly got up and raised his head: "Lord Pharaoh?"

The person who came here was naturally Yami Yugi.

Joinouchi and the others were not here for the time being, as if they were being treated as distinguished guests, but Yugi Muto was inseparable from Yami Yugi's side.

Following them were the rest of the priests.

Mahad never expected that this ordinary exchange between them would turn out to be so earth-shattering. In particular, when the vests of the Black Luster appeared on the stage, there were lightning, thunder, and visions of heaven and earth. The light effects and sound effects were all full. Anyone who was not deaf and blind would notice it.

So the Pharaoh and the group of priests gathered here as a matter of course.

In fact, they had arrived one after another just in the middle of the duel, but seeing Yuei Vu and Mahad fighting fiercely and wonderfully, no one made a sound to disturb them for a while.

This duel was also really amazing for the duelists of ancient Egypt.

Two Yugis were calm because they had already experienced Yuei Vu's strength. Although they were a little surprised to see Yuei Vu summoning the Black Luster Soldier, other than that, they just nodded and said some phrases.

For example, according to the usual practice, Yugi Muto sighed with emotion, "Yuei Vu is getting stronger and stronger", and then Yami Yugi also replied "I have also become stronger" as usual.

But for the other priests, this confrontation really caused a storm in their hearts.

Fortunately, there was a precedent for the previous confrontation between the pharaoh and the bandit king, which made them a little psychologically prepared for this kind of super-level duel.

Priest Seto and Yuei Vu fought directly, thus he was not too surprised by his strength. On the contrary, Mahad's brilliant performance refreshed his cognition a bit.

"That guy Mahad, has he been hiding such a strong strength?" Seto thought to himself, "So I can beat him every time before because he deliberately goes easy on me?"

""

Hum!

Thinking of this, Setton felt uncomfortable.

He felt like he was being slighted.

"I'm very sorry, Lord Pharaoh." Mahad knelt down on one knee, "I thought I could take down the Bandit King alone, but I wanted to act without authorization, but Lord Yuei Vu reminded me that I was too arrogant. I should not act without authorization, let alone hide something from Pharaoh.

Please punish me. "

After he finished speaking, he lowered his head, as if letting go.

"Hmph, arrogance has always been a taboo for a priest, and it is absolutely unforgivable to conceal something from the pharaoh." It was the priest Seto who spoke, "Mahad, you have been tempered and tried hard anyway. One of the priests, since you have such a move, I think you must be mentally prepared to bear the consequences, right?"

While speaking, Priest Seto also used the president's traditional art of "seeing people through the nostrils". The voice and language are so overpowering that Yuei Vu can imagine the president's appearance with his eyes closed.

But now Yuei Vu looked at him, and thought: The other points were fine, but President, do you really think that you have the right to say the words "arrogance" to others?

"Yes, I'm already mentally prepared." Mahad still didn't look up.

"Speaking of which, you were partly responsible for the bandit king's intrusion into the palace. I remember you were responsible for the guarding of the palace from the beginning, right? Are you guilty of such a big mistake?" Seto continued to be aggressive.

"Yes."

The rest of the priests also remained silent.

"It is reasonable to say that these crimes are enough to deprive you of your priesthood, and the Pharaoh himself will punish you, but it would be cheaper for you to do so." Seto said coldly, "That would be too easy for you.

The crimes you have committed must be redeemed by yourself. As a priest, you will clear the sins and obstacles of this country, sacrifice your blood and soul for the Pharaoh, and win the prosperity of our country. Only then can you pay for your sins! "

Yuei Vu: "?"

Mahad also looked up at Seto in surprise.

Priest Seto has always been at odds with him, and even his eyes when he usually looked at Mahad were cold as if he was ready to strike at any time if there was a disagreement.

But now Mahad felt that Seto was not as cold and unkind as he seemed to be.

Isn't this a pleading in a disguised form?

Is it an illusion? Or is there a problem with my own comprehension ability?

"Hmph." Seto turned his nostrils to the sky, and wrapped his arms around the Millennium Rod, "There must be something special about being selected as a priest, and it is not easy to find a decent priest, so let's leave you in this position first. It's a way to deal with it.

After he finished speaking, he turned around, respectfully put his Millennium Rod across his body, and bowed to the Pharaoh on one knee.

"Pharaoh, in my own name, I suggest that it is better to keep Mahad's position as a priest for the time being, and allow him to make meritorious deeds."

Yuei Vu: ""

After talking so much, what you really want is to plead for mercy?

Even the few players who accompanied Mana to watch in the dark couldn't help but get uproarious.

As expected of President Kaiba!

Many people often say "such an old tsundere", but most of them just make fun of it. This statement may only be true if it was placed on the president, because he was a "true old tsundere".

Q: How old is it?

A: 3000 years old, as old as the Millennium Rod in his hand and the Millennium Puzzle hanging on Yugi's chest.

However, anyone who watched the anime knew that the president's pleading was really a waste of expression.

Because how could Yami Yugi be willing to really punish Mahad?

In fact, after recognizing Mana as a Dark Magician Girl, Yami Yugi quickly recognized this loyal priest Mahad was the one who has been by his side for three thousand years and accompanied him through countless experiences his ace monster "Dark Magician".

Of course, Yami Yugi would not pursue his waywardness.

"It's okay Mahad. Get up, this is not your fault." Yugi smiled.

"But Pharaoh"

Mahad wanted to say something more, but Yami Yugi had already reached out to help him.

"I understand your feelings, and I'm grateful from the bottom of my heart," he said, "but the Bandit King is my enemy, and it's my responsibility. As a Pharaoh, there are some enemies that I have to personally defeat, and some responsibilities that I have to bear by myself."

He looked at Mahad sincerely, looked straight into his eyes, and asked slowly: "Are you still willing to lend me your strength?"

He said this not only to Mahad, the NPC priest in the memory sandbox but also to the Dark Magician who has been with him forever for three thousand years.

Mahad hastily bowed his head: "Even if I have to go through hell!"

Yami Yugi smiled slightly and patted him on the shoulder. His attitude was not like a master was treating his servants but like a close brother.

The scene was very harmonious for a time, except that Lord Pharaoh seemed to have forgotten something temporarily

Mahad helped him up himself, but the priest Seto, who knelt down and begged for mercy, still maintained that stiff posture at the moment, and he didn't dare to get up if the Pharaoh didn't speak.

The screwball players leaned forward and backward with laughter, and they were even dubbing and adding scenes to Seto's inner thoughts.

"Seto: Fuck, can you master and servant talk later? My knee has gotten sore, and my back hurts!"

"Shocked! The reason for President Kaiba's rebellion in his previous life has been found, and the reason is that he fell out of favor."

Chapter 565: Scavenging At The Lair of The Great Evil God

"Ah, Seto, get up too."

Yami Yugi finally realized what he had overlooked, and couldn't help being a little embarrassed.

"Yes." Seto saluted and stood up.

Mahad seemed to suddenly recall something, and suddenly turned his head: "Mana, what are you doing in this kind of place?"

Mana, who was about to sneak away without making a sound, was so frightened that she jumped up on the spot, and brought out a large number of screwballs behind her.

At this moment, she was planning to reduce the sense of existence while running away while her master was not paying attention, and cast a simple little spell to make her group look like only black silhouettes, perfectly blending into the shadow of the environment

However, it was discovered by her Master.

At this time, they were suddenly called out by Mahad, and they all looked like Hanzawa-san in Conan, which looked very funny.

Yuei Vu has seen Conan's classic animation to some extent, and he was also deeply impressed by the shadowy figure who shadowed countless people in childhood. He remembered seeing someone on the forum saying that the real behind-the-scenes man throughout the whole drama was Hanzawa-san. "Detective Conan" actually tells the story of the main character, Conan, who has turned countless people into scapegoats through Talk no Jutsu and brainwashing, and has repeatedly concealed the truth for Hanzawa-san Mana tugged at the hem of her skirt, nervousness written all over her little face.

It's over, I was caught by the master again. What should I do?

Should I pretend to be a girl who just happened to be passing by

But before she opened her mouth, she heard her new friend Fae take the lead: "It's my fault, it's all my fault! It's all because I said I wanted to drink that magic soup, so we're here "

Native Noragami was shocked when he saw it and thought to himself: Brother Fae, why are you so proficient at taking the blame?

So he hurried forward without saying a word: "No, I should be blamed, please don't blame Miss Mana! I knocked the cook out"

After hearing what the two had said, Mahad seemed to have a little understanding of what happened. He turned around with a sullen face: "Mana!"

Mana covered her face and looked away.

She felt that these new friends were all good people, they were very kind and enthusiastic to her, but it was a pity that their brains may not be very good

Yuei Vu opened the forum and took a look at the temporary live broadcast room created by One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer, and then came to Yami Yugi: "I probably have a grasp of Bakura's movements here."

Yami Yugi's eyes lit up: "Are you sure?"

He felt lucky to have Yuei Vu by his side in this memory world, otherwise, if he was alone in this Shadow Game, he would have to be beaten passively now.

"Well, there is a clue." Yuei Vu said, "But you still have to be careful, there are also helpers on Bakura's side. A small part of the soul of Marik's dark personality remains in the millennium wisdom wheel, and it seems to follow Bakura to this memory world."

"Marik?" Yugi was surprised.

The six-year-old is still not dead?!

"Yeah, pay attention a little bit, the enemy is not just Bakura alone."

"I see."

"Then let's prepare a little bit." Yuei Vu glanced at the live broadcast room in the forum again, and confirmed the position, "We are going to take the initiative."

At this time, the popularity of the live broadcast room, which was temporarily created by One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer, has reached its peak. Obviously, the content and title of his broadcasting were more eye-catching the title of his room at the moment was "Scavenging at the lair of the Great Evil God".

Just earlier today, Bakura took his army of the undead to ransack the tomb of the former Pharaoh in a hurry. They robbed a lot of gold, silver, and jewelry, and dragged back the coffins of the previous Pharaoh by the way.

Living a life of robbing houses and eating garlic for so many days, he was finally considered a rich man now!

If this was not an RPG game but real ancient times, what he brought out of the pharaoh's tomb was more than enough for one person to squander for a lifetime.

"Hmph, what a waste. These pharaohs are all dead, and they still have to bring so many good things to be buried with them."

When he spoke, Bakura was stepping on the pharaoh's coffin and devouring a piece of raw beef at the same time.

That's right, not only did he not have to chew garlic now, he even ate beef!

"That's it."

One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer echoed behind him like a loyal dog, and at the same time, he was throwing a sapphire into the sack in his hand.

"But you are really cautious." Marik said while crossing his arms, with a hint of sarcasm in his tone, "You have been here for so long, have made so many preparations to fight against the Pharaoh but finally returned without success.

As I remember, you said that the victory condition is seven Millennium Items? Hehe, it's not easy to get seven artifacts at your current pace. "

"Shut up." Bakura gave him a blank look, and took a bite of raw beef, "I'm just waiting for the right time."

"A good hunter will wait for the best opportunity, only a reckless one will go up and feed the enemy for nothing." He continued to flatter without haggling, and at the same time threw a pile of gold into his sack one by one.

Bakura just pretended not to see it.

"Don't worry, Marik, you will have a chance for revenge." Bakura smiled, "I remember you were buried by that Duel King Yuei Vu. You must have a score to settle with him, right?"

"Hmph." Marik didn't deny it.

It was Yuei Vu who broke his "Immortal Phoenix" combo in the battle City back then, making him into the current lingering mess. He did have a score to settle with the other party.

And this time, Bakura had already tested it out for him, and now he knew three god cards seemed to be in Yami Yugi's hands. God card was unique, that was to say, Yuei Vu didn't have a god in his hand now.

The six-year-old thought that this memory world was the perfect stage for his revenge!

Bakura glanced at him sideways, only kept sneering in his heart.

In his opinion, Marik was actually a cannon fodder, used to help him test the depth of the enemy.

Ever since the idea that "Yuei Vu might be Holactie's incarnation" came up, the great evil god was so nervous that he didn't think about food and tea all day long.

Yesterday, he took a nap and dreamed in his sleep. He dreamed that he had collected all the seven Millennium Items, and finally opened the gate of the underworld after 3000 years, ushered in the moment of resurrection.

However, when the gate of the underworld has just been opened, he, the great evil god Zorc, stood at the door and saw Yuei Vu looking down at him with a faint smile, and behind him was the shining "Holactie the Creator God of Light".

"Yo." Yuei Vu in the dream waved to him with a smile, "You are awake. Want to duel with me?"

So Zorc thought for a while, then silently retreated to the underworld and closed the door behind him.

Well, although he kept telling himself that "Yuei Vu might be Holactie's incarnation" was purely his baseless delusion, just thinking about this possibility made him terrified.

The identity of this Yuei Vu must be confirmed!

But if the other party was really Holactie, he is a little bit timid, so he didn't dare to test it.

So a certain six-year-old who didn't know the heights of the sky and the earth became an excellent candidate!

Bakura peeped at the smug six-year-old and sneered in his heart.

Hmph, it really is just a six-year-old, the kind who counts the money after being sold.

While talking, the sack in One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer's hand was almost full. However, he skillfully tied a knot at the mouth of the bag, then he took out another sack from nowhere, shook it open, stretched out his hand, and threw a certain alchemy statue into his sack.

It looked like he really wanted to clean the lair of the great evil god.

The word "angry" began to appear on Bakura's forehead.

If I don't talk, you really think I don't exist, do you?

Chapter 566: Push The Tower

Bakura almost had a seizure on the spot, and wanted to kill this unsightly screwball, but he held back after thinking about it.

At that time, if things really got out of control and he had to face Yuei Vu directly and then Yuei Vu happened to be the avatar of Holactie, then he must find a way out for himself.

The screwball in front of him was one of his preparations.

The biggest weakness of heroes was that they always had to consider protecting the weak. As long as some useless civilians were used as shields to block the front, it was easy to make the hero of justice hold back.

And One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer became the number one hostage candidate in Bakura's eyes at this time!

In addition, he also focused on the old man named Simon in the priest group, because that old guy looked exactly like the grandfather of Yugi Muto three thousand years later. If he was taken as a hostage, the restrictions on Yugi should be even greater.

Thinking of this, he simply didn't say a word for the time being and only looked at the screwball who was in danger without knowing it and was even foolishly stuffing gold into the sack with a cruel grin.

Take it, you can take all you want.

Just hold that pile of virtual treasures till the end of your short life!

The Great Evil God thought that he was still a chess player who could strategize and control everything, and One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer was just his pawn, the kind with a simple mind that posed no threat.

Little did he know that this screwball was still posting messages on the forum while picking up trash.

"@One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer, bro, have your positions not changed? We are going to push the tower!" It was Snow Wave who sent the message.

"Yes, yes, still here." One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer shared his location information.

"Okay, wait for us for a few minutes, we will be there soon."

Fae posted a little soybean smiley emoji, and followed up: "Pharaoh and the Seven Priests are here, followed by a huge army, it's like fighting a national war in an RPG .

"What is the Great Evil God doing?" Coke Sprite asked, "Can you take a picture?"

Trying to stuff a gold plate into the sack, he made room in his busy schedule, turned his head, and took a picture of Bakura.

The picture was uploaded on the forum, and it showed Bakura eating beef with his underpants on and his legs crossed.

"Wow, his living conditions are improved, there's even beef to eat."

As Native Noragami said, he posted a picture of the "great evil god chewing garlic" taken a while ago.

The "great evil god chewing garlic" picture was also secretly taken by One Hammer Deal when he was with Bakura. Now it has become popular in the forum, and it has been turned into various emoticons by screwball players.

"Hasn't it arrived yet?" Posted by One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer.

"It's coming, it's almost at the door!" Snow Wave replied.

"Wait, you wait a little longer for two minutes before you enter! I think the Great Evil God seems to be about to take a nap after eating"

....

In the midst of the noise, the Pharaoh's crusade army had already marched mightily from the royal city to the stronghold of Bakura.

You may ask, in such an important place as his lair, how could it be possible for Bakura not to arrange any manpower to guard outside?

Well, he did arrange manpower to guard outside an army of undead.

However, maybe the undead soldiers themselves were stupid, or maybe there was something wrong with the AI of this Shadow Game. In short, the army was marching to the opposite door, and this team of undead guards was still standing there blindly, not moving at all.

True gatekeeper.

Don't care about anything but the gate.

Finding that the gatekeepers on the opposite side seemed to be just for display, the priests discussed with the pharaoh and his friends and decided not to break through forcibly for the time being, but to set up an airtight and perfect siege.

So everyone summoned monsters, cast spells, and set traps, and the army quickly dispersed under the command of their respective leaders, forming a fan-shaped area that blocked the stronghold of Bakura in the middle.

The priests also began to chant those large spells that took a long time to prepare and were powerful. A group of Egyptian soldiers dragged out a thing that looked like an ancient anti-aircraft gun but this thing seemed to be powered by magic. Two priests engraved a magic circle behind the magic cannon and cast spells.

Priest Mahad, who was the strongest mage, was naturally not idle and began to arrange large-scale spells with very complicated pre-work on the periphery. As the number one disciple, Mana ran around under the instructions of her master and was extremely busy.

During the preparation time of more than half an hour, the gang of naive gatekeepers did not move at all, until the cannon was set up, the barrier was activated, and the entire stronghold was surrounded by groups, they still stood stiffly.

During the period, the players also kept confirming the situation with the "inside mole".

"Don't worry, it doesn't matter, the great evil god is taking a nap, and he slept deeply!"

When he talked, One Hammer Deal attached a video recording of about five or six seconds. In the video, Bakura was sleeping soundly in that red robe, snoring loudly.

After the preparations were completed, the pharaoh gave an order, and the crusade against the evil gods kicked off.

The highest-level magic barrier was activated, and at the same moment, the surging torrent of the magic cannon instantly blasted a bunch of naive undead at the gate into pieces.

The great evil god who was snoring suddenly woke up from his dream, sat up suddenly, and looked around, his frightened expression seemed to say

What the hell? What is the situation? An assault on my HQ?

After realizing that the enemy had already started to push the tower, his gang of naive undead all died, and Bakura's lungs almost exploded.

But now he had no time to think about it. Hiding in the dark and taking the initiative to attack was his biggest advantage in this game. Now that the whole army was attacking him, that advantage was gone.

What else can I do? Run away.

Under the leadership of the priests, the Egyptian soldiers poured in like a tide and surrounded them from different directions.

"A bunch of small fries."

Marik quickly summoned several monsters and ordered them to rush to meet the opponent in different directions.

"Go, prepare to retreat!"

Bakura summoned as many undead soldiers as he could and had them temporarily fend off the enemy's slow progress while turning to Marik.

"We have no advantage in fighting here, so let's get out of here first!"

Marik snorted as if he was a little displeased with Bakura's cowardly attitude. But he still didn't say much, got up, and prepared to leave with Bakura.

Bakura was anxiously preparing to flee for his life but suddenly realized that he had forgotten something. He turned his head and saw that he would put something in the sack without haggling over the price

Bakura was almost mad at him.

Still picking it up? At such a time?

Are you a poor ghost?

Bakura's arm grew, and he couldn't help but lift up One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer, and turned around and ran away.

The screwball dragged two big bags, with a dazed expression on his face.

Huh? Catch me for what? Is this some kind of hidden plot?

Chapter 567: The Slash That Tears Heaven and Earth

As a torrent of magic heavy artillery blasted through the mountain wall, countless rock fragments rolled down.

The mountain was blasted away, and the building collapsed with a loud bang. An ancient building was torn apart like a cake cut by a knife, and the thick smoke and dust were like waves hitting the reef.

There was only a brief moment of silence, and then the ruins were suddenly broken open. A series of black shadows broke through the broken bricks and rushed out from there, with dead black horses on their crotches, tattered cloaks fluttering behind them, shining swords in their hands, and the sound of horseshoes.

That's Bakura's undead army!

They were densely packed, rushing out of the ruins in groups one by one. Looking down from above, they looked like a swarm of locusts or a black mass, rolling and spreading like an endless black wave.

But the lineup on Pharaoh's side was not inferior at all!

"Brave warriors, now is the time to sacrifice your blood for the Pharaoh!" Priest Seto stepped onto the heights, and the Millennium Rod waved a magnificent golden arc above his head, "Fight for this country!"

The devout warriors roared at the same time. The superimposed sounds reflected back and forth between the mountain walls and were amplified several times by the valley. Accompanied by the landslides and ground cracks caused by the magic attack, it sounded like a sonic hammer cracking the mountain wall.

In fact, when Priest Seto first appeared in the animation, although he kept saying "I will give everything for the Pharaoh", many people felt that with that expression and the unique voice of the president, no matter how they heard it, Seto would be the traitor.

But then they found out that Priest Seto was really thinking about this country from the bottom of his heart. He was the kind of loyal minister who would not hesitate to stain his hands with blood and filth to pave the way for the future of Pharaoh.

The real traitor among the priests should actually be Seto's hidden father, Akhnadin who held the Millennium Eye.

At this moment, the group of priests has summoned their own monster spirits one after another, and the spirits lead the army to charge forward.

The bunch of brainless zombies could deal with normal Egyptian soldiers, but no amount of them would be enough to face the priests.

But since this was the stronghold for Bakura to rest, it was naturally impossible for him to have only one preparation.

A piece of land in the field suddenly collapsed, as if the earth itself had opened its bloody mouth. An Egyptian soldier in a phalanx was caught off guard, and when he stepped into the air, he screamed and fell into the dark abyss and disappeared.

A pincer protruded from below, and it was firmly inserted into the ground, and a monster shaped like a crab came out of the abyss.

Followed by a giant python spitting out its tongue, a giant bee buzzing and flapping its wings, and a walking ancient tree

When Yuei Vu and others entered the memory world, they played the role of "demon hunter" and solved many monsters on the map, while Bakura played the role of "collector" in turn.

He actually subdued so many monsters to strengthen his fortress!

But there was no shortage of monster spirits here!

"Red-Eyes Black Dragon!"

With a loud shout, Jonouchi opened the Duel Disk and summoned the valiant black dragon king. The burning black flame bomb shattered the oncoming monsters with just one shot!

"Oh oh oh!!!"

Honda didn't bring a Duel Disk, so he simply went straight to the showdown, showing off his super-soldier-level physical fitness and fighting skills, and went straight up to punch and kick the undead soldiers who rushed in front of him.

Visually, his combat effectiveness seemed to be much higher than that of ordinary Egyptian soldiers.

"EXP! It's all walking EXP!" Snow Wave was very excited.

Zai Jie couldn't escape commanding the "Great Shogun Shien" to charge vigorously in the undead army, and at the same time shouted: "Come on! Seven in and seven out!"

"Then you're still like someone from Changban, you bring a baby when you come out, right?" Nativa Noragami answered casually.

"You have a problem, you have a problem!"

Others might only feel their scalps tingling when they see such a large army, but the screwball players were all screaming with excitement, as excited as seeing a full banquet.

However, but before they had time to start, they suddenly felt the cold wind blowing behind their necks, and then a beam of light, so bright that it made people unable to open their eyes, rushed forward like tearing Heaven and Earth.

That was a sword beam!

It's condensed but not scattered and seemed to transcend space. With the advancement of the sword beam, even the dust and flying gravel in the air seemed to dissipate out of thin air, and the sky was as bright as a mirror under the light, as if it had been washed blue and clear.

That sword beam came from Black Luster Soldier Envoy of the Beginning", and it had the same name as a support trap card in the "Black Luster Soldier" series, whose name was

Beginning of Heaven and Earth!

The screwball players felt a trance in front of them for a while, as the golden light pushed past in a mighty way, and immediately nothing was left!

The undead army and monsters in the entire linear area disappeared out of thin air as if they were wiped off by an erasing pen on the canvas, leaving no traces behind.

A tree demon was only swept away by the aftermath of the chaotic sword energy, and now only a small half of its body remains dry on the ground, and the fracture and section were so neat that it was terrifying.

Yuei Vu stood behind him with his arms folded, not far from him was the unparalleled "Black Luster Soldier", who was still in the posture of drawing his sword, and the blade was surrounded by golden sword light.

All the screwballs gasped, and couldn't help but start to worship.

Although they knew that Black Luster Soldier was strong, they really didn't know that his intuitive combat power as a spirit was this strong.

Not only that, but the priests and Egyptian soldiers around were also dumbfounded, looking at the Envoy of the Beginning and Yuei Vu as if they were staring at gods.

"That blow just now maybe have power comparable to that of a god!" Akhnadin thought to himself.

Isn't the power of God the most invincible?

But it was impossible for Bakura to be willing to be suppressed like this.

He was not without a powerful spirit at the level of a god!

"The god of destruction who devours the world, wipes out everything, and returns everything to nothingness

The Wicked Eraser! ! ! "

The shout pierced through the barriers and exploded in everyone's ears like thunder! A black torrent broke through the barriers of rocks and building debris and burst out, as if releasing the darkness that would drag the whole world into the abyss. It suppressed all the spirits in an instant and dominated the audience with absolute power.

That distorted existence was evil beyond words as if all the evils in the world were concentrated in that huge body.

The moment they were stared at by that thing, even the priests who had received rigorous training felt that they were extremely small for a moment. There was a feeling that their souls were being grabbed, their heartbeats were suddenly stopped, and even their fingers became heavy.

Even priests felt helpless, not to mention ordinary soldiers.

"This is the Wicked God."

Yuei Vu raised his head and looked directly at the evil god with Black Luster Soldiers blocking him with swords, he was not under as much pressure as others.

Only God can fight God.

Yuei Vu could indeed call God, but considering that the real master has not yet spoken, he would not take the lead for the time being.

Sure enough, the pharaoh in the phalanx stepped forward and raised the Duel Disk.

"The ancient god who guards the temple, the god who controls the underworld and controls the thunder, in the name of the pharaoh, I call you to descend here

Osiris the Sky Dragon! ! ! "

Chapter 568: Victory of Stuntman

The pitch-black clouds condensed high in the sky, and the bursts of thunder sounded like drums.

The black sky seemed to be on fire, and the dancing flames transformed into the shape of wings. A flaming dragon emerged from the wings, and the huge body was faintly surrounded by black clouds. Because it was so huge that from any angle below, only the tip of the iceberg of the deity could be seen.

The dragon lowered its head from behind the cloud that seemed to be burnt red. It stretched its neck and let out a dragon roar that shook the sky. Sound waves echoed invisible between the sky and the earth, cracking the valley and blasting the earth.

Osiris the Sky Dragon!

The Eraser and the Sky Dragon, two gods who happened to have corresponding positions among three Wicked gods and Egyptian Gods, were looking at each other. As the saying goes "enemies have nothing to say when they meet". At this time, the Egyptian God and the Wicked God were unwilling to show weakness to each other. Before they confronted each other, their respective divine powers and auras had collided thousands of times invisible.

The Wicked God opened its ferocious mouth, and what seemed to be churning inside seemed to be black flames from the depths of hell.

Osiris would not admit to being cowardly and also opened his mouth. There was a flash of lightning and thunder in the sky, and the shining golden thunder gathered in its mouth, and the dazzling golden glow was ready to come out at any time.

Superconducting Wave Thunder Cannon!

Digestive Blaze!

Egyptian God and Wicked God collided, golden thunder cannons and pitch-black flames collided with each other, trembling shocks were released into the sky, interlaced and penetrated into the sky, it looked like a huge hole had been poked out in the sky!

The dragon's roar reverberated endlessly, the aftermath of divine power swept across the ground, and countless zombies and monster spirits instantly turned into dust. The sky dragon's body was bounced back with black smoke, and it turned into a phantom with the roar and dissipated. The state of the Eraser was not better, it quickly dissipated back to nothingness after being shaken away by the power of the thunder cannon.

Yami Yugi swayed, a mouthful of blood rushed straight to his throat, he almost fell in front of his eyes, but he was caught by Yugi Muto who was beside him.

His lips were pale, and he forced a smile: "I'm fine."

Calling the spirit consumes one's own soul power, and the damage to the spirit would be reflected intuitively on the controller just like a kind of Shadow Game.

Egyptian God and Wicked God were both wounded and Yugi, the master of Osiris, suffered the same damage as Sky Dragon.

But the Wicked God was also repulsed, thus the current Bakura should not feel well either.

Mahad, who opened the barrier, closed his eyes for a moment to sense, then opened his eyes again, leaned forward, and said to the Yami Yugi: "Lord Pharaoh, the aftermath of the conflict between the two gods just tore a gap behind the barrier. The bandit king run away over there!"

"I won't let him get away."

Yami Yugi took a deep breath, stood up, and flew directly onto the mount, not to mention leading the team in pursuit.

Sure enough, when the two gods clashed violently and the aftermath of the explosion messed up the place below, a horse galloped out from the gap in the rear at high speed and ran in the opposite direction desperately.

Bakura was wearing a wide hood, and his red robe, which was riddled with holes, was fluttering in the wind. A group of Egyptian soldiers nearby tried to stop him, but a demon rushed out of the smoke screen, with its long tail flicking behind, and swept the oncoming soldiers to the ground with just one blow.

Snake-tailed demon Diabound!

It was Bakura's main monster who could fight against even the three Egyptian Gods!

The soldiers were naturally no match for Diabound, and their line of defense was easily torn apart. The spirit controlled by the priest chased after him but was also knocked out by Diabound in just one round, failing to stop Bakura.

Yami Yugi rode a horse and jumped from a high place this horse probably came from the studio of Assassins Creed he led the team himself, and chased straight in the direction where Bakura was fleeing.

The priests quickly followed, followed by a group of Egyptian soldiers, followed by a large group of spirits in the air, all pursuing Bakura.

A group of people chased and blocked them, twisting and turning in the valley, and their respective spirits would trade a few long-range skills with Diabound from time to time.

And our Great Wicked God ran all the way, hid in his wide robe, ran straight without looking back, followed by a large group of people, looking very embarrassed yet also a little funny.

No one knew where the horse under Comrade Great Wicked God's crotch came from, but it was quite good. So many people chased him all the way for a long time, but they couldn't catch up with him.

But in the end, after twisting and turning for a long time, he finally stopped.

There was no road ahead.

Diabound struggled to resist although this snake-tailed demon was indeed very strong, it has not absorbed the special abilities of many powerful monsters, including the Blue-Eyes White Dragon and even Obelisk, as in the animation, therefore its power was limited.

Coupled with the saying that "two fists are no match for four hands"-not to mention that there were more than four hands on the opposite side: the spirits summoned by the Pharaoh and the priests swarmed up, using the classic "justice gang-up", so Diabound was beaten until his nose was bruised and his face was swollen. He shouted a few words "cheating" in his heart and then exploded on the spot.

Bakura rode on the horse and was blocked in the corner, with his back to them and made no sound for a while.

"It's over, Bakura!" Yugi shouted, "Your game is over, you lost!"

Bakura was silent for a long time, although his shoulders began to shake slightly he actually raised his head and laughed.

The wide hood fell down, revealing a burst of white hair. "Bakura" turned his head, his facial muscles twisted in an inhuman arc, and at the same time stuck out his long tongue.

"Miss me, Nameless Pharaoh?"

Yami Yugi's pupils shrank, surprised: "You are Marik!?"

The guy who was wearing Bakura's coat, riding on Bakura's horse, and was also accompanied by Bakura's spirit turned out to be the six-year-old!

This wave was the victory of the stuntman.

"Hahahaha! You are totally fooled, nameless Pharaoh." The six-year-old looked happy.

Although you may feel that someone was currently under siege, may be killed at any time, and looked like being betrayed by his teammates, shouldn't be able to laugh he was in fact very happy.

No way, the character of the six-year-old was like this. He just wanted to see Yami Yugi look surprised and miscalculated.

The six-year-old also had a distinctive feature, that was, his dueling skill was not good, but his card addiction was as big as his arrogance.

It is precisely because he has his own little plan in his heart (and because his life was in the other party's hands) that he agrees to act as a stuntman for Bakura.

"Come, nameless pharaoh." Marik showed the golden alchemy Duel Disk on his wrist, "Through three thousand years of time and space, let's put an end to our grievances!"

He licked the corner of his mouth and laughed.

"The Winged Dragon of Ra', please return it to me."

Chapter 569: The Six-Year-Old Is Back To The Game

"What a presumptuous one!"

As soon as Marik said this, it immediately aroused strong reactions from the priests.

"Gods can only be controlled by the chosen pharaoh. The moment an evil soul like you touches it, you will be wiped out!"

But although no one spoke, some priests present realized a frightening detail.

How did this person know the name of the god!?

Before the appearance of Yami Yugi, no one even including the ancient pharaohs had ever known the name of the god. Although the three divine beasts have always been engraved on the stone slabs of the Guardian Temple, no one has ever called them out before.

How did this man with unknown background and exaggerated facial expression actually know the name of God?

However, the Pharaoh did not appear surprised, and none of the priests said anything.

"The Shadow Game between you and me has started, Lord Pharaoh." Marik smiled slightly, "Last time a third party intervened, and we failed to fight in Battle City until the end. Let us make up for it this time."

"Okay, I accept, Marik!"

Yugi jumped off the horse, and at the same time waved his hand to signal the priests behind him to retreat.

"Your ambition and darkness, let me smash it here!"

"Duel!" x2

Yami Yugi, LP 4000

Marik, LP 4000

It's irony that Yami Yugi, the ancient pharaoh, was using the future technology Duel Disk specially brought to him by AIBO, while Marik, a modern man from the future, was using the ancient alchemy Duel Disk that Bakura snatched for him to play cards

"I'll go first." Marik habitually stuck out his tongue and licked his lower lip, "Hey, then it's this guy first I'll set a monster on the field!"

A stone slab fell horizontally to the field in front of him with a bang.

"Then set two more cards, and my turn is over."

Three set cards directly from the start, it seemed that although the six-year-old player had been offline for a long time, his style was still the same as before, and the standard classic Marik smile was proof of his health.

"My turn, draw!"

Yugi glanced at the cards he had drawn, his eyes froze, and his gaze was directed at Marik like a knife.

"I don't have time to waste with you, let's speed up the solution here." Yami Yugi said and quickly played a card, "Spell Card Painful Choice!"

This card can select five cards from the deck to show to the opponent. The opponent chooses one card to add to my hand, and discards all the rest to the graveyard. "

Appeared one of the strongest early DM cards.

Randomly choose four cards to accurately feed the grave, and add another card to the hand card, this card could be called a super divine weapon. In contrast, the Thousands-of Years Limited Card

"Foolish Burial" which could only choose a monster card from the deck to send to the grave, and even consumed a hand card, looked like trash.

The name of this card was really appropriate. The "painful" part referred to the opposite side.

After all, the opponent has to find a way to choose the most decent one from the five death postures

Yami Yugi quickly revealed the five cards he picked out from the deck, namely "Dark Eradicator Warlock", "Dark Magician Girl", "Breaker the Magical Warrior", "Defender the Magical Knight" and "The Tricky".

Five Spellcaster monsters.

Marik's face changed slightly, he thought for a while, and pointed to "Dark Magician Girl".

"That one." He said.

Dark Magician Girl was a Level 6 monster, and there were not as many Spell and Trap cards that could be used to cooperate with it as "Dark Magician".

Plainly speaking, it was the mascot of Brick Hand

(Dark Magician Girl: Barely has a position in the deck by being cute)

"Then I will add the Dark Magician Girl' to the hand, and send the remaining four cards to the graveyard." Yami Yugi stuffed the four cards into the graveyard, "Then I summon the Magician's Valkyria!"

A magical girl, who was dressed coolly and looked like a Dark Magician Girl, came to the field, but her fair little face was full of seriousness.

Magician's Valkyria, ATK 1600

"Activate the Spell Card from the hand Magicalized Fusion!" Yami Yugi shouted, "Fusion Summon 1 Spellcaster Fusion Monster from my Extra Deck, by banishing Fusion Materials listed on it from my field or GY!

I put the Dark Eradicator Warlock', Breaker the Magical Warrior', Defender the Magical Knight', Trickster' in the GY, and the Magician's Valkyria' on the field! "

Marik's eyelids twitched: "Fivefold fusions!?"

The six-year-old was a typical case of out-meta players who haven't followed up for a long time and missed a whole season. He has never seen this kind of card which Yugi printed after Battle City.

The five magicians turned into five beams of light and shot into the vortex in midair. The huge magic circle opened rapidly, and the magic circles were nested one after another, shining brilliantly in mid-air.

"The ultimate magician who penetrates the shackles of time and space and dominates everything

Quintet Magician! ! ! "

The holy mage floated down wearing a large robe, and stood lightly in front of Yami Yugi. He has a cold complexion, with blond hair fluttering under the spell hat, holding a short wand in each hand, and the five-fold magic circle surrounds him like a whirling windmill.

Quintet Magician, ATK 4500

"The effect of Quintet Magician." Yami Yugi said, "If this card is Fusion Summoned using 5 Spellcaster monsters with different names, all cards on the opponent's field will be destroyed! Quintet Magical Burst!"

The five magic circles were driven at the same time, and the spinning speed increased. The five magic circles sound like the low hum of an engine, and the magician's two staffs are like the baton of a band, weaving a magnificent magic movement.

"Open the set card: Trap Card Dark Sacrifice!" Marik waved his hand and turned over the slab, "When the opponent activates a card or effect that would destroy a card(s) on the field: Negate the effect, then send 1 Level 3 or lower DARK monster from my Deck to my GY."

Countless phantoms of slabs appeared in front of Marik that seemed to be his deck. He raised his hand to select one of them, and the slate immediately turned into golden light spots and dissipated.

A mass of deep darkness was released quickly, and the magical bombardment of the Quintet Magical Burst was completely swallowed by the darkness like a stone sinking into the sea and disappearing.

"Hey, it's a pity, Yami Yugi. If this blow is successful, I'll be attacked directly with 4500 attack power and be finished." Marik chuckled and licked his lips, "But don't worry, the duel has just begun, let me enjoy it."

"Then fight." Yami Yugi ignored him directly, "Quintet Magician, attack the face-down monster!"

The magician raised the magic wand in his right hand, and the light bullets of the magic burst out! The covered stone slab turned over suddenly and appeared a gooey slime!

Revival Jam, DEF 500

"Hahahaha! You didn't forget this guy, did you?" Marik laughed, "Revival Jam is immortal, they can be revived immediately when they are destroyed!" (animation effect)

The magic light bomb blasted the slime into pieces all over the place, but the pieces on the ground quickly regrouped and reshaped into the shape of the soft slime.

"It doesn't seem to work. What a pity." Marik grinned sneeringly, "If you really want to defeat me, you have to show more strength."

Yami Yugi frowned: "Set a card, I end my turn."

Chapter 570: Lost Memory

"My turn, draw a card!"

Marik said it was drawing cards, but he had already followed the old saying "When in Rome, do what Romans do" and started drawing slabs.

"Spell Card Silent Doom!" Marik waved his hand and flipped over a slab, "Target 1 Normal Monster in my GY; Special Summon it in face-up Defense Position, but it cannot attack.

Resurrect, Armored Zombie! "

A burst of black and sticky things churned on the ground, and the zombie in tattered armor struggled to get up from the quagmire. His green face was dry and wrinkled, just like the dry land.

Armored Zombie, DEF 0

"Is it the monster sent by the effect of Dark Sacrifice' to the graveyard last turn?" Yugi thought to himself.

Marik continued to hit a slab in his hand: "Then I take the Armored Zombie' and Regenerated Slime' as sacrifices to Tribute Summon Red Ogre! "

The dark air of prey swept across the field, and the blood-red devil danced and landed heavily with a spiked club. He had a ferocious expression, and two rows of neat and sharp white fangs appeared from his mouth.

Red Ogre, ATK 2800

"Can this person actually summon such a powerful monster?" Priest Seto murmured.

Not only the bandit king, but there is also someone else who possesses such a power?

"The effect of the Red Ogre When this card is Normal Summoned: I can send any number of cards from my hand to the Graveyard, then target the same number of cards on the field; return those targets to the hand."

Marik clicked on a stone slab and discarded it to the graveyard.

"Return the Quintet Magician' to your hand!"

Red Ogre waved the thick iron club, and a dark and strange whirlwind swept out. The Quintet Magician quickly cast out magic circles to resist, but the dark wind was too weird, and the Quintet Magician who only had "destructive resistance" could not resist this force, and turned into a golden light that dissipated out of thin air.

Because it was a Fusion monster, Quintet Magician would return to the Extra Deck instead.

"In this way, there will be nothing on your field." Marik shouted with a grim face, "Battle! Go, Red Ogre! Directly attack Yugi!"

Red Ogre jumped up, and the dust burst out the moment his footsteps left the ground spread like water waves. He raised his club high above his head and blasted down from mid-air with great momentum.

"At this moment, open the set card: Trap Card Rising Energy! Discard 1 card, then target 1 face-up monster on the field; that target gains 1500 ATK until the end of this turn!

I increase the attack power of Red Ogre! "

Red Ogre, ATK 2800 ATK 4300

Enough attack power to OTK!

The only monster on Yugi's field has been bounced back to the hand. If this attack passed, it would be his defeat!

"Lord Pharaoh!" Some priests have begun to exclaim.

Yami Yugi stared, and said in a deep voice: "Open the set card: Counter Trap Card Dark Bribe! When an opponent's Spell/Trap Card is activated, negate the activation and destroy it. As a price, the opponent can draw a card."

He raised his finger to the trap slab in Marik's backcourt.

"I negate your Rising Energy'!"

Red Ogre, ATK 4300 ATK 2800

Boom!

The black iron club with spikes slammed down on Yami Yugi's body. The ground broke with this bang, and countless gravels scattered around.

Yami Yugi, LP 4000 LP 1200

"Pharaoh!"

Mahad eagerly stepped forward to help, but found that he was blocked by an invisible barrier black and transparent barrier that separated the two people in the duel from the priests outside.

That was the realm of the Shadow Game, and no one could set foot until the winner was decided.

The severe pain that was transformed into substantial damage made Yami Yugi slightly sway back two steps. Seeing his killing blow was blocked, Marik pouted uncomfortably.

"Tch, lucky guy as always." He snorted, "But because of the effect of Dark Bribe', I draw a card."

"At this moment, the effect of the Gorz the Emissary of Darkness' in my hand was also activated." Yami Yugi said, "If there are no cards on my field, when I receive damage from the opponent, this card can be Special Summoned from my hand!

Come, Gorz the Emissary of Darkness! "

There was a black cyclone, and the messenger of the underworld with flowing red hair and black armor appeared gorgeously, with a life-threatening blade on the back of his hand.

Gorz the Emissary of Darkness, ATK 2700

"Gorz's follow-up effect." The game continued, "When this card is successfully Special Summoned through this effect, if the damage I received is Battle Damage, Special Summon 1 Kaien the Emissary of Darkness Token!"

The black vortex beside Gorz opened, and a female messenger in white armor appeared on the field, holding a sharp and shining white long knife.

"The ATK and DEF of Kaien the Emissary of Darkness Token' will be equal to the amount of battle damage I took." The game continued, "The damage I received is 2800, so the attack power of Kaien is also 2800!"

Kaien the Emissary of Darkness Token, ATK 2800

"As expected of Lord Pharaoh." Priest Isis said, "Even if he is in a disadvantageous situation, he can immediately summon such a powerful servant to fight back"

"Cut, it's just a guy who didn't die."

Marik pouted. At this time, according to the effect of the "Dark Bribe", a new slab has been summoned to the field. He glanced sideways and directly chose to launch.

"The one I just drew is the Spell Card Pot of Greed, I will draw two more cards."

After two more stone slabs were used, Marik glanced at them, waved his hand, and chose to set them directly.

"Set two cards, I end my turn."

Glancing at the cards at his feet, the corners of the six-year-old's mouth slightly raised, revealing another cruel smile.

The two cards he concealed were "Malevolent Catastrophe" and "Nightmare Wheel".

Malevolent Catastrophe: Activated when the opponent's monster attacks. Send all cards on the field to your opponent's Graveyard. (manga effect)

No matter what kind of monsters were summoned next turn, this card had the ability to instantly wipe out the entire field!

The other card, Nightmare Wheel, was the type of Continuous Trap that autism players loved most.

Nightmare Wheel: Activate this card by targeting 1 monster your opponent controls; it cannot attack or change its battle position. When it leaves the field, destroy this card. During each of your Standby Phases: Inflict 500 damage to your opponent.

The LP of Yugi was only 1200, and it was quite painful to deduct 500 every round.

"It's too boring to simply kill you." Marik licked his lips again, sneering secretly in his heart, "I'm going to torture you slowly, let you feel your own cold death little by little!"

"My turn." Yami Yugi put his finger on the deck, "Draw!"

The drawn card was like a golden starlight illuminating the darkness.

Yugi's eyes moved, and he seemed to feel some mysterious throbbing the moment this card was drawn.

A fragment of a certain image flashed in his mind

In a dark world, a majestic man stood on the ground with a cone-shaped golden pendant on his chest, facing a huge demon god that shot straight into the sky like a mountain.

The world collapsed, the gods fell, and the dark clouds of despair enveloped everything in the world

Then he quickly returned to the present.

Was that just my lost memory?
