

I Play Yu-Gi 61

Chapter 61: Upstart Goblin

Elemental HERO's all-out attack!

The fusion heroes of the three attributes launched a fierce attack, and the output of a full 9,000 points made Keita, who was acting as a sandbag, instantly lost all of his HP!

When the duel was over, the three-dimensional image disappeared, and the uncle sat on the ground with a slumped face, his hands and feet were weak and trembling as if he had been hollowed out after a battle

MD, are you sure it won't hurt if you do it lightly?

It's not the same as what you said!

At this point, the task of uncle Keita has been completed the main purpose of Yuei Vu looking for him is to let him act as a background board to help him show off. Now that the coercion has been installed in place, he had no use of this tool man.

Yuei Vu put away the Duel Disk, stepped forward, and pulled up Keita, who fell to the ground. As usual, they exchanged a few words and then said goodbye.

This was also a custom among duelists. In short, the loser should tout the opponent's brilliance after the fight, and the winner should not be too complacent, and should not forget to reply "Good game", "Well play."

It was similar to ancient martial artists' tradition of clasping fists and bowing hands and being humble to each other after the fight.

After the tool man who completed the task left, Yuei Vu stayed alone and pretended to watch the scenery.

Another girl player was crazy wow, this NPC was really amazing, even the pose looking at the scenery with his hips on his back was so handsome!

The opportunity is right in front of you, so when will you wait if you don't go up and talk to each other?

It stood to reason that this should be the case, but a group of players surrounded him in a circle pushing and shoving, and no one took the lead for a long time.

While posing and pretending to be distracted, Yuei Vu began to wonder that the quality of this wave of players was too bad?

Shouldn't you hurry up to bootlick when you see an NPC like me who is so handsome and capable? What's the ink on the side?

Finally, a girl came out.

She was a short girl, and she was slender both horizontally and vertically it's a pity that the place where the flesh should grow is not long.

Well, this is not an exaggeration. At the airport, flies land on it and slip, and mosquitoes land on the splits.

But the girl looks pretty good-looking, with a face like a junior high school little sister, a cute look.

Yuei Vu glanced at her ID Moonflower?

It seems to be quite artistic.

Moonflower was a kind of small white morning glory flower that bloomed in night.

"That," Moonflower's soft and waxy voice pulled Yuei Vu back, "Are you a duelist?"

This was obviously nonsense.

Not to mention that Yuei Vu was still wearing a Duel Disk on his arm, he just finished playing cards in front of them.

But he also knew that Moonflower was just trying to trigger the mission, so he didn't care, he just said to himself: "The weather is really strange it's just a duel, yet I feel so hot"

He said, shaking his collar.

Moonflower tilted her head and began to wander.

Wow, the character design of this game is really amazing. I don't know which art master designed it to draw such a handsome NPC Even shaking his collar looks so good!

Oh wait, no, now was not the time for being dumbfounded!

Moonflower finally noticed the new quest that popped up in the quest list in front of her.

"New quest: Give NPC Yuei Vu a cup of shaved ice, maybe there will be a surprise!"

Moonflower's eyes lit up, the mission is here!

She looked around, and quickly noticed a small grocery store a few steps away, and quickly trotted past.

Yuei Vu breathed a sigh of relief.

She finally went.

After the edited quest was sent to her just now, the girl didn't respond for a long time. She stared straight at Yuei Vu, and for a moment he even thought that she was going to ravish him.

It seems that I still have to be careful to protect myself when I go out in the future.

Sometimes, being too handsome does bring some troubles that others don't have.

Some novice quests also give money rewards, although not much, it was not a problem to buy a cup of shaved ice.

Of course, Yuei Vu's real goal was not this. In fact, he just wanted to send a card to the player, but it would be weird to send it all of a sudden for no reason.

Soon Moonflower came back with a cup of shaved ice: "Here!"

Yuei Vu pretended to have an accident: "Is this for me?"

"Yeah." The girl nodded desperately.

"Okay, thank you."

Yuei Vu took two bites and nodded: "Sure enough, you have to eat shaved ice in summer to enjoy it."

He smiled and looked at the cute girl in front of him who was full of longing, as if looking forward to something, and asked, "Are you also a duelist who came here to participate in the Battle City competition?"

Moonflower continued to nod her head vigorously.

"That's right." Yuei Vu pretended to suddenly remember, "If you want to participate this card might be able to help."

He took out a card from behind him.

The players in the front row were not calm.

Surprised! This NPC novice quest directly rewarded cards!

This kind of quest was relatively rare. Players generally got experience, crystals, and money from quests.

A player rushed forward to see what card the other party sent

It's actually an "Upstart Goblin"!

Upstart Goblin (Normal Spell) Draw 1 card, then your opponent gains 1000 LP.

In the eyes of local DM duelists, even a bug like the Pot of Greed was a dispensable N card. Upstart Goblin, which only allow players to draw one card, and even gave the opponent back 1000 LP, was simply trash among trashes.

Therefore, this card was quite unpopular even among N cards. It was basically a waste that is stuffed into the pack by the card seller to make up the number and reduce the value of the good card drawn.

Thanks to this, Yuei Vu now had a dozen Upstart Goblins in his hands

However, it was different for players!

All players of Yu-Gi-Oh! knew that anything that can speed up the card draw was definitely a divine card in this game!

At the first sight, Upstart Goblin could only draw one card after activation, made no difference. But even the "Dark World Dealings", which gave a -1 hand advantage, still had a market among players just because it had the ability to replace cards in hand.

Dark World Dealings (Normal Spell) Each player draws 1 card, then each player discards 1 card.

Thinning deck was crucial in deck building, and anyone who had a little bit of knowledge knew.

On the contrary, the side effect of "your opponent gains 1000 LP", which was regarded as a fatal weakness by the local duelists, was completely ignored by the real card players.

As long as there were LPs left, 100 LP and 4000 LP were not too different. Anyway, 8000 LP points in the Yu-Gi-Oh! real card environment was like a thin layer of paper, thus the 1000 LP difference was simply a drizzle.

A novice quest actually rewarded such a useful thing, this NPC was really extraordinary!

Moonflower accepted this Upstart Goblin with a face full of joy.

The players in the back couldn't calm down either. A group of people hurriedly ran to the small shop next to them, and all of them said in unison that they wanted a cup of shaved ice, which startled the seller who was dozing off.

"Alright, alright, come one by one, don't worry"

The seller muttered as he sat up physically and mentally

However, when the players bought the shaved ice with the hard-earned money they just earned today, Yuei Vu just smiled and said, "Thank you for your kindness, but I'm done eating"

I don't have a grudge against my own stomach, why should I eat so much shaved ice?

The players beat their chests and feet. Soon everyone realized that this quest might only be a one-off, and only the first person could get this Upstart Goblin reward.

However, Yuei Vu soon changed the conversation and gave them hope again: "But I still appreciate your kindness. Everyone is a duelist, so let's cheer together in the game. If you need help with anything, you can come to me. I live in the Dream Card Shop"

The eyes of the players lit up, and they seemed to see hope again.

Chapter 62: Different Treatment

The first moment Snow Wave and Fae saw Yuei Vu's return, they were both delighted, and their bodies reflexively wanted to get closer.

However, when they saw the large number of players who came back behind Yuei Vu, they felt a cold depression in their hearts.

I think that I'm your only one, I didn't expect that I'm only one thousandth

Especially Snow Wave, he was very blue and thin now.

That kind of mentality was a bit like a child's favorite toy being snatched away, and a bit like seeing the most beloved person holding hands with others

Just like with Snow Wave and the others, Yuei Vu also opened the personal store function to new players.

Then, of course, the subsequent players also had the same reaction as Snow Wave and Fae.

"Fuck! Look! It's Elemental HERO! You can exchange it directly here!"

"Fuck! There is also a Pot of Greed! The Pot of Greed can be exchanged!!!"

A large group of players climaxed in place, jumping with excitement one by one as if they had already made up their minds about the heroic appearance of their decks filled with banned cards and roaming the arena.

It could be seen that not only the game quality of this group of players was average, but also the cultural level did not seem to be very good.

Players quickly realized that they hit the super golden thigh.

There have been other players who have gone to the card shop to explore before it was only natural to log in to the card game and immediately look for the card acquisition channel. Therefore, everyone has long discovered that it is impossible to obtain cards that they could use from the NPC card shop.

But here, cards sold by Yuei Vu were usable!

Soon someone shouted even more excitedly: "Look, there is still a Card of Sanctity!"

"It seems to be true! It's not the nefted version of drawing two cards by banishing everything else', it's a true Card of Sanctity!"

The real card version of Card of Sanctity has also been released, but the effect has been severely castrated. The original effect of unconditionally drawing six cards has been weakened to "Banish all other cards you control and in your hand (min.1 from each); draw until you have 2 cards in your hand".

After such an epic weakening, Card of Sanctity suddenly became tasteless, and their practical value was not high (if there was any).

It could be said that this kind of "drawing cards until six cards in hand" was exclusive for NPCs in Yu-Gi-Oh! DM. Real card players could not experience it in this life.

But now that Yuei Vu was here, this became possible for the players!

Of course, someone soon discovered the problem.

"This Card of Sanctity seems to require the NPC's Favorability to reach 100"

The players quickly began to check their current Favorability.

"I am 0 now."

"I am also 0."

"Ah? Why am I minus 10??" A certain player looked bewildered.

Yuei Vu gave the player a white lookspecially the string of "I'll Hang Your Mother On A Tree" ID on the top of the opponent's head.

Do you ask why your Favorability is negative? Don't you feel your own fault in your heart?

"Hey, my Favorability is 5." The female player Moonflower, who was the first to receive the quest from Yuei Vu, was flattered and delighted.

The players immediately began to envy her: "Is this also the benefit of triggering the mission first?"

"Damn, if I had come first"

Seeing the group of screwball players moaning beside him, Snow Wave couldn't help but snorted and opened his panel with great pride.

NPC Yuei Vu's Favorability towards him was a terrifying 15 points!

In fact, he himself didn't know why. He clearly remembered that it should not have been so high before he went offline last time. It was a few days, but when the Open Beta came, the favorability soared so much

But at least it proves that Yuei Vu still remembers him!

Fae, who was beside him, heard Snow Wave's exclamation.

He couldn't help being overjoyed and quickly opened the panel to check if his favorability had gone up in the past while he was offline.

After opening the panel, Fae was surprised to find that why does it seem to have fallen?

He remembered that the Favorability level had clearly stopped at -9 before he went offline. Why was it now -12?

Could it be that if you haven't brushed your face in front of Yuei Vu for too long, it will fall off naturally?

It doesn't make sense! Snow Wave hasn't been up for so long, why is he still up?

Fae couldn't understand why.

It's impossible that this NPC adjusted his Favorability while he was not online, right?

At this moment, Chika silently watched the large group of "customers" who suddenly appeared on the side and most of them were male customers. They were closely surrounding Yuei Vu, all of them were full of enthusiasm and anticipation, and they behaved very weirdly.

Chika felt that there must be something wrong

"Excellent men are always welcome." The store manager's grandfather appeared behind Chika-chan and sighed with emotion as he threw potato chips into his mouth, "Back when your grandpa was still young"

"Also often fantasize about being so popular?" Chika asked.

"That's right" Grandpa squinted his eyes and nodded with a smile. Halfway through his nodding, he suddenly realized that something was wrong, "Stop talking nonsense! What's the fantasy of being welcomed by a group of men?"

At this time, Snow Wave has also come up, and like other players, he has checked Yuei Vu's personal store.

He quickly realized that the product list was a little different from when he first encountered it.

For example, the most obvious one was that this "Card of Sanctity" was not there last time.

There were also new cards including this brand new "Machina" series, and cards like "Upstart Goblin", which were not available last time.

Was it because some adjustments have been made during the period between Closed Beta and Open Beta?

Or was it that the cards that Yuei Vu sold here would also change over time?

At this time, Snow Wave suddenly noticed that Yuei Vu seemed to be smiling at him?

Snow Wave felt his heart skip a beat, a bit like being watched by a crush during her student days.

No, it must be an illusion.

With so many players here, he must have just happened to be looking this way

In the end, he heard Yuei Vu say, "I haven't seen you for a while, Snow Wave. Are you back?"

All the players' eyes immediately focused on Snow Wave.

Snow Wave's heart suddenly burst into a storm, and his heart was ecstatic, and he even wanted to fly up to the sky to be side by side with the sun.

Yuei Vu actually remembers me!

Snow Wave hurriedly nodded like a chicken pecking at rice: "Yes, yes, I went out for a while in a hurry, and now I'm back."

"The thing you asked me to do before has been dealt with." Yuei Vu smiled, "Thanks to you, the evil was contained in time.

Well, we are now familiar with it. You can see if there is anything you want for the things I have here, and I will give you a long-term 20% discount. "

Snow Wave was stunned.

2 20% off for a long-term!?

Happiness came so suddenly, Snow Wave felt like a fairy.

All the players around have guessed that this was a Closed Beta player who had encountered Yuei Vu and triggered some hidden plot.

At this time, the players looked at Snow Wave with envy, jealousy, and hatred, and they were too sour.

20% off! In long term!

Who can withstand this?

Snow Wave was so excited that he was about to ascend to heaven and unconsciously held his head high, as if he felt that his whole person was different.

Now he was more firm in his beliefs

bootlick can't kill you, it on;y makes you stronger!

He was determined to be the number one leader of the Yuei Vu fan club! Anyone who wanted to join the club later has to ask for his consent!

Fae heard it, so he hurriedly leaned over and smiled: "Hehe, Yuei Vu, do you remember me? My name is Yuei Cannot Escape Fae!"

Yuei Vu looked at his "pure" smile, those iconic glasses, that wretched face that made the hair stand up

"Cough, I'm sorry." Yuei Vu coughed in a very disgraceful manner, "I can't remember clearly."

Fae: "???"

Chapter 63: Beauty Is Justice!

Although Yuei Vu's personal store opened a little bit, it made people feel extremely amazing, but looking at the most awesome things, it seemed that there was no one that players could buy now.

Either the price in crystal was ridiculously expensive, or it required Yuei Vu to have a particularly high favorability. In addition, there were many cards that need both favorability and crystal.

In short, in layman's terms, it is both liver and krypton.

Of course, Yuei Vu couldn't just put a bunch of cards that looked powerful but couldn't actually be bought to whet the appetite of players. If there were only a bunch of unbuyable eye-catching things in the store, he couldn't make money. The only effect was to stimulate players to rush to do tasks and upgrade to make money.

Yuei Vu also came out of the players at the beginning, he knew the situation of the players very well in each period.

For example, what kind of price could be afforded by novice players, and how to set the price of the product so that players felt it was very difficult, but if they worked hard, they could barely afford it.

Most World Link Online players were veteran players who had a deep understanding of Yu-Gi-Oh. Although the environment of the current era was not the same game as the environment they were familiar with, some of the awareness they should have was still general.

Soon they found available combinations from the relatively cheap cards in Yuei Vu's store.

"There are the Marauding Captain' and the The A. Forces!"

"Command Knight' doesn't seem to be expensive"

"Then it seems that you can make a Warrior deck first in the novice stage?"

""

The minds of the players were still very agile, and they soon found a combination of certain strengths from these "weak cards" that were ignored by the vast majority of duelists in the DM.

Marauding Captain (Level 3, ATK 1200) Your opponent cannot target Warrior monsters for attacks, except this one. When this card is Normal Summoned: You can Special Summon 1 Level 4 or lower monster from your hand.

In layman's terms, "you have to attack the taunting follower first"

Marauding Captain was also the originator of the common tactics used by Yu-Gi-Oh in ancient times. Because this monster has its own taunting effect, as long as two "Marauding Captain" were on the field, the effects of the two captains would form a mutual protective effect, making it impossible for the opponent to select either one as an attack target.

In this way, the purpose of blocking the opponent's attack could be achieved.

The A. Forces (Continuous Spell Card) All Warrior-Type monsters you control gain 200 ATK for each Warrior or Spellcaster-Type monster you control.

Command Knight (Level 4, ATK 1200) All Warrior monsters you control gain 400 ATK. If you control another monster, monsters your opponent controls cannot target this card for attacks.

At first glance, these cards were very weak, and in the eyes of local duelists, they were tasteless. Raising 200 points and 400 points of attack power seemed like a drizzle.

However, if these seemingly weak cards were used together, it was actually very easy to increase the attack power of the originally weak low-star monsters to the level of high-level monsters in one go.

In today's environment, whoever could call out high-level monsters first under the constraints of the advance summon system has already taken the initiative in most of the duel, but generally speaking, the so-called high-star monsters only had an attack power of more than 2,000.

Ultra-rare cards like Red-Eyes Black Dragon had an ATK of 2400, and in the animation, it was already known as "the top of dueling monsters".

If you properly used the attack power enhancements, it was not difficult to exceed this number.

Not to mention that this card also came with an attack-blocking combo.

Although this kind of combination has been eliminated for a long time in the future development of Yu-Gi-Oh, in this environment, it seemed to be quite powerful.

At least it would be no problem to fight those anonymous duelists.

Forget about it!

Why do you think so much? Buy, buy, buy more!

Players who went online on the first day did not actually have many crystals in their hands. It was nothing more than the initial crystal given on the account, and a pitiful upgrade reward.

Therefore, the arrangements of all players became quite consistent in the future go to the liver, earn crystal, and then hurry back to get a novice deck with at least decent strength before the Battle City competition started!

Of course, the novice deck definitely has more than one combination to choose from. Yuei Vu has put a lot of cards in the low-priced novice area, and players could choose a card group to buy according to their own preferences.

Due to Yuei Vu's proposal to revise some of the existing rules of dueling monsters, the Battle City competition was postponed for another week.

In other words, it was less than two weeks before the official opening.

Yuei Vu meticulously calculated the level of rewards for players' new quests, the speed of players' leveling up, and roughly estimated how many crystals each player could earn within two weeks.

Then he set the price according to this standard to ensure that as long as players work hard within two weeks, they could at least produce a suitable novice deck.

Yuei Vu felt that he was a kind person, the only NPC who was so considerate of players in the entire Link World.

Another thing that was different from reality was that players' choices of cards in the World Link Online were not limited to strength and practicality.

The projection technology of three-dimensional images made this card game much more realistic, so the appearance of dueling monsters, which were originally unimportant, suddenly became important.

Some cards were not very strong, but as long as they were cute and moe, they could still gain a lot of favor from players!

Of course, Yuei Vu had already anticipated this, so long before the start of the Open Beta, he had collected a batch of cards that were useless but had beautiful artwork.

Then the screwball players were quickly attacked

"AWSL! Pikeru is so cute!"

A male player used his Duel Disk to summon the "White Magician Pikeru" that he had just bought from Yuei Vu a cute little loli wearing a long white dress and just barely reaching the waist of most players.

White Magician Pikeru (Level 2, ATK 1200) During your Standby Phase, increase your Life Points by 400 points for each monster on your side of the field.

Although it may be basically useless in a duel, it was so cute!

A little loli in a white dress, with two pink ponytails dragging under her fluffy white hat, and holding a miniature wand in her hand.

A large group of male players was immediately attracted.

"Wow, this three-dimensional image is so real! It's like the real thing!"

"Can I touch it?"

"Don't be stupid, it's still a hologram after all"

"No, no, I'm going to buy one too, it's too cute! I bought it back and raised it as my daughter!"

"Didn't you just say that spending money on such a useless card? Is there any problem with your brain"

"That's my choice, do you have any opinions?"

....

A group of players chatted around the little loli. The summoned White Mage held the small wand in her hand, tilted her head, and looked at her new master with big, puzzled eyes. The little head looked like she was also doubting her new owner had a problem with his brain

"Wow!!! This is so cute!"

The female players also discovered a new continent.

A group of girls was now surrounding a "Watapon" summoned with a Duel Disk. The small and exquisite monster was like a ball of cotton with eyes and looked so harmless.

Watapon (Level 1, ATK 200) If this card is added from your Deck to your hand by a card effect: You can Special Summon this card..

"I want to buy this too!"

While Yuei Vu was trading with the players with a smile, his heart was filled with joy.

Whether it was White Magician Pikeru or the Watapon, they were all cards that were not valuable in the DM's homeland or in the system card pool.

But so what? Being cute means you can do whatever you want!

Beauty is justice!

At this moment, he heard a screwball player ask: "Well, in the future, do you think it is possible to buy a Dark Magician Girl?"

Someone immediately echoed: "Yes, yes, my first love! If there is any, I will buy it! No matter what cost!"

Yuei Vu glanced at the Dark Magician Girl floating behind him like a ghost, and smiled coldly in his heart.

I'm sorry, I've already reserved this one.

Here, I suggest you go to sleep quickly, dear, after all, you can have anything you want in your dreams.

Chapter 64: Penguin Warning

On the first day of the Open Beta, there was such a hot post in the forum.

"Shocked! A high-level NPC appeared on the first day of the World Link Online! A novice guide who uses Elemental HEROes?"

The content in the forum on the first day of the game's server launch was not particularly large, so such a post was quite eye-catching. Soon, many people responded to the thread below but it was mainly abuse at first.

"Please wake up, version 1.0 is the DM era, how can there be Elemental HERO?"

"Thread starter, are you really Yu-gi-oh fan?"

"I thought the shock department had been disbanded, so it was still developing business secretly?"

There were more and more posts later, and the popularity of the thread gradually increased.

However, after the thread starter posted the post for a long time, there was no movement. It seemed that he wanted to wait until the attention was high enough.

A large number of screwball players flooded into this thread and began to reply. However, what they didn't know was that the NPC mentioned in it was sitting behind the counter of the shop and pretending to take a nap while browsing the forum.

Yes, yes, they are still screwball players, exactly as I remembered.

Seeing that the thread starter did not move for a long time, the screwball players simply swarmed under the post. There were jokes, spams, and women's clothing photos

Then the screwball players began to push more and more outrageous, one by one began to say "people can't be generalized" and so on. All of a sudden, there were cheetah warriors, wolf nemesis and so on running everywhere: a slap that sent people 40 meters away, a speeder who can run 30 kilometers in one minute, etc The whole post was full of happy air. .

Seeing that the topic was getting more and more crooked, the thread starter who has been missing for a long time finally returned.

"Don't talk nonsense, just upload the picture!"

The screenshot of the game is the battle between Yuei Vu and the tool guy Keita he invited. On the opponent's field was the pitiful Red Ogre whose attack power has been reduced to 700, while Yuei Vu had three Elemental HERO fusion monsters.

"It's actually true!"

"Elemental HEROes and they all seem to be the heroes used by Jaden Yuki in the GX comics?"

"This NPC has a backstory!"

"Am I the only one who thinks this NPC is so handsome?"

"You're not alone!"

The female players were particularly excited.

"I want to adopt this little brother!"

"Ah, ah, he's so handsome, I can't stand it anymore"

"Did anyone notice that his name is Yuei Vu? It had the Yu' prefix!"

"So why is the hairstyle so normal"

Seeing this, Yuei Vu touched his head and fell into thought.

Should I dye my hair?

Although we have to believe in science and not in metaphysics, it seems that in Yu-Gi-Oh, the more the hair colors, the better the duelist

Chika next to the counter noticed his movements: "What's wrong? Is your head uncomfortable?"

"No." He said casually, "By the way, Chika, what do you think my hairstyle looks like?"

"It's good-looking." Chika didn't hesitate, "It's all good-looking."

Yuei Vu: ""

Forget it, I should have known earlier that even if I asked her, it would be a vain question.

At this time, his Dark Magician Girl also floated out, with seriousness written on her face: "I also think the master is beautiful!"

Yuei Vu: ""

No, why are you here too?

Speaking of which, the favorability of the Dark Magician Girl towards him seemed to have been increasing these days.

But because she was a spirit partner, the two were inseparable every day, so Yuei Vu didn't find it strange.

Ah ha ha! how is this possible?

She is a duel monster spirit, how could she have impure thoughts like a human?

About the favorability Isn't it normal to be loyal to the master as a spirit?

At this time, the forum has already begun to inquire about the address of this special NPC.

"I heard that this NPC's private store is full of SRs and URs?"

"Even the Pot of Greed and Graceful Charity can be exchanged?"

" There is even a special anime version of Card of Sanctity! Are you kidding me?"

The thread starter sent out the address of the Dream Card shop, and a large number of players rushed towards this address in a hurry.

This development was just as Yuei Vu expected.

When playing games, if you didn't show off, the game would be no fun. There would definitely be players who would post screenshots of Yuei Vu's incident on the forum to attract more people's attention.

In this way, he only needed to go out and show off once, and the news about him would naturally spread around, until all players have heard of it.

Seeing this, Yuei Vu nodded with satisfaction.

Screwball players were really reliable. He could sit at home and people would help him advertise.

Sure enough, soon another wave of players rushed in excitedly.

Chika stared blankly at the group of neurotics who were jumping and approaching outside the window, and was a little stunned for a while.

What's going on recently?

Is this the latest fashion? How do I feel that there are more and more strange people recently

Yuei Vu happily watched the players rushing into the store one by one. What he saw were not players, but moving crystal production machines.

It felt like the old farmer was at the harvest season, sitting at home watching the best leeks jumping into his basket one by one, he couldn't help showing a satisfied smile

Players who saw the news rushed over from all over the city, because there were too many people in the store, and there was even a long queue outside the door

Chika-chan never thought that her small shop would one day have such a large number of customers.

She looked at Yuei Vu with more and more surprise.

Could it be that Yuei Vu is the type that attracted both men and women?

This is the level of the national idol!

What's even more interesting was that NPC duelists passing by on the street noticed such a long queue outside this card shop, and they all stopped for a while, and they couldn't help but wonder what the mystery of this shop was.

Humans are social animals. When a person saw people lining up, they couldn't help but want to join in the fun, the reason being "if there is no good thing, how can there be so many people?"

So gradually another bunch of NPCs came in, queuing up to buy card packs

Players gradually realized that something was wrong: "Damn! Is the one in front of me an NPC?"

"What? Is this game so real? Do you still have to queue up with NPCs to grab a spot?"

The business in the store exploded instantly.

Yuei Vu intentionally asked Chika to host those NPCs, he would deal with players himself.

Seeing the scene of the crowd outside and queuing to the end of the street, Yuei Vu couldn't help but think of the grand occasion when he played an online game whose icon was a penguin, The first day the server opened, players received the invitation code and excitedly logged into the game to prepare to go online, but only saw a string of egg-crushing prompts on the screen: "You are waiting in line, and there are xxxx people in front of you. The estimated waiting time is 2 hours."

At that time, Yuei Vu was in pain. He thought about it, went AFK, and looked for something to eat first. As a result, when he came back after eating, he almost spat blood on the screen the waiting time changed from 2 hours to 3 hours

At that time, Yuei Vu angrily ran to the customer service to inquire. After waiting patiently for a while, the customer service girl who was suspected to be a stubborn man and a cute disguise finally replied: "Dear customer, this is because you are not a Premium Penguin member. Top VIP Premium Penguin members can enjoy priority queuing privileges, and can log in immediately without queuing"

Its marketing gave him a good inspiration.

What? Don't want to stand in line? Want to take the fast lane?

Okay, let's deposit the money!

Apply for a membership card and immediately enjoy the priority channel for members, and refuse the trouble of queuing!

Then after the system was developed, members could be divided into Silver members, Gold members, Platinum members, etc. The higher the level, the higher the priority!

If you can't get into the queue without being a member, the limited number of rare cards will definitely be snatched up by the senior members who are in the front.

At this time, you should think carefully, how can you become stronger without charging money?
(Penguin Warning.JPG)

Yuei Vu couldn't help but praise his wit.

Ha, it was a big loss for Jack Ma to not invite me to be the planner!

Chapter 65: Are You Envious?

"It's time to duel! Let's play Yu-Gi-Oh: World Link Online today!"

The speaker was "Miss Yuehua", one of the streamers who recently joined the "World Link Online".

However, this opening remark was not her original. It was said that in any video about playing cards, at least nine out of ten used this standard format. Everyone's game commentary style was very different, especially like to say some classic lines such as "but there seems to be no Kansai", "we are old XX".

This format seemed to have been spread from the video of a top-level streamer in the poker area. Because of the high quality, it had some influence on the later creators

Moreover, after the launch of the server, it attracted many other streamers to enter. Due to the superb quality of the game itself and the epoch-making ultra-high realism, even many players and streamers who didn't know about Yu-Gi-Oh cards have jumped over to learn to play cards.

It just so happened that the 1.0 version of Link World started from the beginning of the animation. Although the dueling rules at the moment were not strict enough, they were indeed very simple compared to later generations. There were fewer summoning methods and no complicated mechanism unfolding. It could be said to be extremely friendly to newcomers.

This "Miss Yuehua" was a typical representative of the players who just started and also brought her millions of netizens into the live broadcast room.

"Recently, Konami finally released this game that has been delayed for five years. I thought it was because the consortium was promoting it and it was too hard to come back. I was afraid that it was going to be stillborn. I didn't expect it to be launched this time.

Then this wave seems to be better than Final Fantasy next door, which makes people wait for ten years. I think when I first heard the news of Final Fantasy 15, I was still an ignorant little girl, and when it was officially released, I became a filthy demon queen"

Although it was still very early, the comment page in the live broadcast room was already rolling.

"Hahaha, come watch Sister Yue play cards!"

"Come to see Sister Yue, the vegetable chicken, being brutally abused by the NPC."

"What is this doing? Is Sister Yue lining up?"

"Is that the NPC named Yuei Vu? I heard that it seems to be a protagonist-level character."

"What? Shouldn't the protagonist of the DM era be Yugi?"

"Yeah, but that's an animation, this is an online game. The game may only be the protagonist of version 1.0, but this Yuei Vu may be the original protagonist throughout the next few versions"

Miss Yuehua also began to explain: "Yes, today we are going to meet the NPC rumored in the forum. There will be a little fewer people in the queue in the morning, and I have paid to become a Premium member, it should be my turn soon"

"Sister Yuehua is awesome!"

"Damn, you have to be members in every lineup. There are many good things to learn, why learn from Penguin"

The speed of being a Premium member was really different. Miss Yuehua soon stood in front of the counter.

When she came to look at the NPC in front of her, Miss Yuehua's eyes suddenly lit up

So handsome!

Before, she thought that the screenshots posted on the forum were all made of Photoshop after all, she was using technology to make her face more beautiful in her own live broadcast room, but she found that the pictures on the forum really didn't go through modifications.

This NPC named Yuei Vu was as good-looking as the pictures!

Miss Yuehua was distracted for a while, until Yuei Vu asked with a gentle smile, "Excuse me, customer, what are you going to buy?"

Miss Yuehua suddenly came back to her senses.

Yup! I'm not here to see the handsome guy, I'm here to buy something.

So she quickly clicked on the option of the private store and began to carefully select a combination of cards.

Although she was also a famous streamer, playing cards was in her blind spot of knowledge. Miss Yuehua's understanding of this card game may not be much better than that of passers-by NPCs.

But as a player, her advantage was that she has strategies to watch. It's not a big deal if you didn't know how to construct a deck. Just went to the forum to copy the card list. Some guides have long summed up the cheapest and easiest to obtain novice decks. She only needed to exchange them one by one according to the card list,. like a scumbag copying a scholar's homework.

The randomness of opening packs from the system card pool was too high, and players could only open cards of Types, Attributes, or series related to the cards they already had, or some general cards that were mostly useless.

The amount of crystal in the beginner stage was limited, and the benefits of spending them all to open the system card pack were really not high. It was more cost-effective to wait until you have completed the quest later and obtained a more promising series of cards before opening the pack from the card pool.

Therefore, with a little calculation, it was easy to come to the conclusion that it was definitely more cost-effective to use crystal to buy cards from Yuei Vu in the early stage than to directly invest in the card pool.

Miss Yuehua meticulously followed the cards copied from the forum to choose one by one, completely ignoring the instructions of viewers.

"Oh, what's the use of that one? That card is a waste, so it should be replaced with this one."

"Fuck there is XXX! Why don't you change to XXX?"

"The streamer is so noob"

However, Miss Yuehua has not been doing live broadcasts for a day or two. No matter which game or area she went to, there would always be people who tried to point the way. She has learned to ignore it now.

Unexpectedly, just after choosing two cards, Miss Yuehua suddenly noticed a prompt on Yuei Vu's head: "Favorability +5".

"!"

Miss Yuehua was flattered.

Favorability +5? Did my eyes trick me!?

Isn't it all said in the forum that this NPC's favorability is extremely difficult to gain, and it took a long time to increase it?

Yuei Vu looked at her and smiled gently: "Very good, your choice is very interesting, you must be a strong duelist, I look forward to fighting you in the Battle City.

By the way, this card might be useful to you, so it is considered a gift. Please accept it. "

There are even gifts!

Miss Yuehua quickly accepted it, and immediately checked the card.

An "Upstart Goblin".

However, this cute new streamer who has just entered the game was still stunned. Looking at the effect of "draw a card, the opponent gains 1000 LP" It sounded useless?

So she turned her head and asked the guys behind her: "Is this card useful?"

"Divine card!" Someone replied immediately.

"It's very useful for checking cards and thinning the deck!"

"Forbidden card."

"Forbidden card +1."

"Are you two trying to make me laugh? When did the Upstart Goblin become a Forbidden card?"

"Everything that can draw is a forbidden card."

"But the NPC is really good!"

"And so handsome!"

"Isn't it because he like our sister Yuehua ?"

"Sister Yuehua, why don't you just marry"

Although there were signs that the players behind her were about to quarrel, in general, Miss Yuehua still understood one thing this card was very useful!

"Thank you!" She quickly thanked her happily.

"It's nothing." Yuei Vu smiled and waved his hand, "If you have any needs, come back anytime, and I can do my best to satisfy it."

"Okay!"

Miss Yuehua happily took her unexpected gain today and jumped out.

She was so happy that she couldn't close her legs.

When she went out, the viewers were still commenting in the live broadcast room: "Wow, Sister Yuehua, is this indifferent? Everyone has made it clear!"

"Listen to the words of tigers and wolves"

"Don't say it. Sister Yue said that I am a woman who wants to become a Duel King, and men are very annoying."

When the players in the back row saw the Upstart Goblin, their eyes lit up.

Damn, is there such a good thing?

They didn't expect a hidden quest could be triggered when they queue up to buy a card. All the players in the back row stretched their necks and wanted to know how the girl in front triggered it.

Immediately, someone inquired about what she had bought, and then they followed and went to Yuei Vu to buy the exact same card.

The result was

of course, nothing happened.

Some players were in a hurry at the time and hinted wildly: "Please think carefully, is there anything you want to say to me?"

So Yuei Vu thought about it carefully: "Yes."

The player is overjoyed: "What?"

"When you're done buying, please get out of the way, and don't block the people behind you."

Player: ""

Yuei Vu laughed heartily.

Oh, do you think I give this card casually?

From the player's point of view, he may randomly select lucky players, but that was actually not the case.

He also knew this "Miss Yuehua". He also watched her live broadcast in his previous life when he was in a hurry to play games. At the very beginning, she was a complete newcomer. Most of the people watching her live broadcast were going for entertainment and fun. Everyone would be very happy watching the streamer play themselves to death.

However, after a long time, she gradually became familiar with the game and began to enter the competitive circle. Yuei Vu remembered that she also seemed to have won a good ranking in the league between players.

but that's all for the future.

The reason why Yuei Vu chose her as the focus of attention now was not that she was good-looking, but because of her traffic.

It's good to know some star players who have a large number of fans and audiences. Through these channels, he could let players know some news that he wanted to release, which helped to promote and maintain his popularity

In the information age, it was very important to control public opinion. Sometimes whether you were right or wrong depends on whether your voice was loud enough.

Now he has decided to take care of the spare tire ah, sorry, player. There were only two.

One was Miss Yuehua, whom he just gave an extra gift.

As for the other

Yuei Vu turned his attention to Snow Wave who was in the shop behind him, dressed in the attire of a manservant and dragging the ground sweating profusely.

Snow Wave dragged the ground smugly, wiped his sweat, and then looked at the players lining up outside with his head held high.

See? I've already worked for Yuei Vu!

Are you scumbags envious?

Chapter 66: Cut The Chives

That's right, Snow Wave has become the first player who has the opportunity to stay by Yuei Vu's side and fight for him!

His main work included but was not limited to watching the store, sweeping the floor, mopping the floor, and arranging the goods. Occasionally, he was also responsible for receiving NPC customers when there is no one in the store.

Because Yuei Vu made it clear to the store manager, Mr. Itou Shin, that he had hired absolutely free labor. Not only Mr. Shin did not need to pay a dime of wages, but he also didn't need to consider food and accommodation at all!

To this, Snow Wave nodded like a chicken pecking at rice, saying that "I don't want anything, I just want a chance to stay by Yuei Vu's side"

At that time, Mr. Shin had an "unbelievable" look on his face.

The world was really vast and full of amazing. How could there be such a talkative fool?

He was not a robot, wasn't he?

Mr. Shin circled Snow Wave twice and looked at him for a while, and then stretched out his hand and grabbed his face

Eh, it feels like a living person!

Snow Wave stood there upright the whole time as if he was really playing a dutiful robot.

As an excellent bootlicker, how could he fail because of this?

Let you see what is the basic quality of a bootlicker!

Chika, who had always been suspicious of this "weird person", was even more surprised at this moment.

There really is something wrong with this person!

He may have desired my Yuei Vu, right?

However, although the store manager and Chika didn't know, in the strict sense, Snow Wave was not a freelancer.

Because even if he didn't eat, drink, or get paid, every time Yuei Vu told Snow Wave to do something, there was an edited quest. In other words, his salary was EXP and some variable rewards of course, from Yuei Vu's personal storage.

And in fact, the EXP reward he gave is much higher than the general novice quest.

For novice quests, such as completing an advance summon, defeating three passerby NPCs, etc., because the number of duels per day was limited by Stamina, so players could only do a few of these quests.

But Snow Wave got a different treatment here!

All he needed to do is sweep the floor, stand behind the counter and smile, and occasionally do quests like "go out and meet the first passerby and say I love you" when Yuei Vu wanted to troll him.

Because the EXP that could be released every day was limited, it was impossible for Yuei Vu to distribute these experience points to all players equally. He could only focus on training the players he liked.

As long as Snow Wave received Yuei Vu's experience points and could upgrade quickly, he could get more crystals from level-up rewards, and buy more cards in Yuei Vu's store.

So this could also be understood as the process of "converting the daily experience limit into crystal".

Sure enough, players were the primary productive force. The first batch of Open Beta players has just arrived this week, and the crystal in Yuei Vu's hand has already reached more than 80,000.

The reason why it's only 80,000 was that he has other businesses every day, thus not always free to sell cards to players in the store. The second was because he sold too much and the inventory couldn't keep up.

Even those cards that were not very valuable and easy to obtain couldn't withstand the overwhelming enthusiasm of all players. One hundred cards with the same name were snapped up by enthusiastic players in no time.

But it didn't matter, this speed of making money has made Yuei Vu crooked.

Thinking that when I was playing in my previous life, I had never seen such a huge amount of crystal?

Every day, I get up early in the morning to dig into the dark, work hard on quests, and spend time and effort bootlicking NPCs.

Then after a round of open card packs, all sinking to the bottom, a week of hard work became worthless, GG

This was the main impression left to Yuei Vu by the game.

And now he is looking at the five-digit spar in the warehouse

It's just one word: Cool!

There was nothing to hesitate about, just All IN!

Yuei Vu glanced at the Lucky 20 on his panel and took a deep breath

It stands to reason that this Lucky attribute should not affect the luck of opening the package, right?

He still didn't believe it: There were more than 80,000 crystals here, could the system still sink them all for me?

If it really could well, I'll be helpless.

But it doesn't matter! By this time next week, there will be so much crystal again, haha!

Of course, it was impossible to sink completely. If more than 80,000 crystals couldn't exchange for a useful card, then it's not simply bad luck. Maybe it's a superpower, the same type as "Imagine Breaker".

Although it was still consistent according to the system, cards with unknown meanings still account for the majority especially the Elemental HERO series. For example, things like Spark Blaster, Bubble Shuffle, Hero Kid, etc., which was neither useful nor able to make players buy.

Like the trap card Kid Guard, he had nearly a hundred copies in his inventory now

But of course, there were useful cards.

And after his observation, he found it seemed that most of them belonged to the Dark Magician series.

But if thinking about it carefully, it may be an illusion. After all, there were too many supporting cards in the Elemental HERO series. In comparison, the card pool of the Dark Magician series was not so deep, and it was naturally easier to open useful things.

To be honest, with the help of players, Yuei Vu felt that the biggest factor limiting him should not be lacking crystals, but the depth of the card pool itself

Like all online games, the card pool of World Link Online would definitely not be static. With the update of the version, new cards would be added to the card pool, and new series and archetypes would be released.

This seems to be a matter of course. It was impossible for the system to allow players to duel with NPCs with Synchro, XYZ, or Link decks in the era of Yu-Gi-Oh! DM and GX. The environment in the Link era was no longer the same game as it was today. NPCs simply did not have the strength to fight back.

Therefore, although there were things like Elemental HERO in the system card pool, most of them were cards that would not cause plot conflicts, or would not be unbearable in the existing environment.

Yuei Vu spent almost one night carefully browsing and researching the newly drawn cards and compared them with the cards he bought in the store by opening the card pack these days.

By now, the revision of the rules that Yuei Vu was in charge of supervising has basically been completed, and Battle City would officially open next week. It's a pity that in the end, he still couldn't make the stubborn president Kaiba change his mind and persuade the other party to add a new rule that allowed "Fusion monsters can attack the turn they are Fusion Summoned"

Under such constraints, Elemental HERO which relied heavily on fusion was quite disadvantaged. But originally, in card games, there was no deck that could be played from the beginning until the server was closed.

He didn't have a choice before, but now it seemed maybe he could build a Dark Magician deck?

Chapter 67: Female Vampire?

"Are you ready?" Yuei Vu looked serious.

"Hmm um." Dark Magician Girl nodded.

"Thenthen I'm going to press harder."

The Dark Magician Girl tightly closed her eyes and lowered her head, biting her lips.

"Dark Magician!" Yuei Vu ordered, "Directly attack the Dark Magician Girl!"

The image of the Dark Magician flew into the air, and the green staff pointed forward. The wave of magic power turned into a dark red shockwave, and the explosion swept through everything, creating a black smoke that soared into the sky.

The Dark Magician Girl was overturned by the impact, and her LP was also dropped to 0 with this attack.

She bent outwards, making a standard squat on the ground, touched her little golden head, and stuck out her tongue in embarrassment.

"Yeah, I lost again." She smiled, "Sure enough, I still can't beat the master."

This was only discovered by Yuei Vu not long ago. It turned out that the duel monster spirit could also play cards with him.

At first, he thought about whether he could let the Dark Magician Girl accompany him to farm EXplet her deliberately keep losing to him to achieve the purpose of quickly gaining experience, but it was obviously too good to be true.

A duel with one's own spirit partner was similar to a battle between friends, and there is no experience reward. You could only duel for entertainment or test the strength of the deck and familiarize yourself with the operation of the new deck.

For example, right now, he was testing the strength of the Dark Magician deck he just built with the Dark Magician Girl.

Although from the scene, it looked like he was bullying a helpless girl

"Are you okay?" He stepped forward and extended his hand.

"Um!"

The Dark Magician Girl nodded, and her delicate little hand held his hand and stood up.

After all, spirit's physique was different from ordinary humans, and it was not so easy to be hollowed out.

Although she could only materialize for a short time, it's still enough to do many things, like playing poker with the master or doing something else that couldn't be described here.

At the same time, Yuei Vu also noticed that the girl's Favorability seemed to have risen again during this period

Sometimes it even made him wonder if the Favorability system was broken.

"Master, your deck is so strong, I have no chance at all."

Dark Magician Girl dematerialized and turned back into a spirit body, floating behind Yuei Vu.

"Master, whatever deck you use is amazing!"

"Ahem, it's too much for praise."

Yuei Vu responded casually while checking the deck construction.

If it was the earliest Dark Magician, the strength of the deck would definitely not keep up with the version's changes, but the Dark Magician has released a lot of powerful new card enhancements since 2014. If those cards could be drawn from the system card pool, they would definitely be able to be tier 1 in the environment of this era.

But in fact, he didn't have much hope for this at first.

As an online game, World Link Online must have updated versions. Although there may be some future cards in the card pool, in theory, the strength of a single card should not exceed the existing environment too far.

Sure enough, after more than 80,000 crystal stones were spent, the most powerful cards of the Dark Magician series such as Dark Magical Circle and Eternal Soul did not appear. Either these cards were too rare, or may simply not exist in the current card pool, and to obtain these cards, you have to wait for the version update.

(Dark Magical Circle (Continuous Spell Card) When this card is activated: Look at the top 3 cards of your Deck, then you can reveal 1 of them that is "Dark Magician" or a Spell/Trap that mentions "Dark Magician", and add it to your hand, also place the remaining cards on top of your Deck in any order. If "Dark Magician" is Normal or Special Summoned to your field (except during the Damage Step): You can target 1 card your opponent controls; banish it. You can only use each effect of "Dark Magical Circle" once per turn.

Eternal Soul (Continuous Trap Card) Every "Dark Magician" in your Monster Zone is unaffected by your opponent's card effects. If this face-up card leaves the field: Destroy all monsters you control. You can only use the following effect of "Eternal Soul" once per turn. You can activate 1 of these effects;

Special Summon 1 "Dark Magician" from your hand or GY.

Add 1 "Dark Magic Attack" or "Thousand Knives" from your Deck to your hand.)

But unexpectedly, Yuei Vu actually opened two future monster cards from the card pool, "Magician's Robe" and "Magician's Rod".

(Magician's Robe (Level 2, ATK 700, DEF 2000) During your opponent's turn (Quick Effect): You can discard 1 Spell/Trap; Special Summon 1 "Dark Magician" from your Deck. During your opponent's turn, if you activate a Spell/Trap Card or effect while this card is in your GY (except during the Damage Step): You can Special Summon this card, but banish it when it leaves the field. You can only use each effect of "Magician's Robe" once per turn.

Magician's Rod (Level 3, ATK 1600, DEF 100) When this card is Normal Summoned: You can add 1 Spell/Trap from your Deck to your hand, that specifically lists the card "Dark Magician" in its text. During your opponent's turn, if you activate a Spell/Trap Card or effect while this card is in your GY (except during the Damage Step): You can Tribute 1 Spellcaster monster; add this card to your hand. You can only use each effect of "Magician's Rod" once per turn.)

And he got a trap card that was quite powerful in the current environment.

Magician Navigation (Trap Card) Special Summon 1 "Dark Magician" from your hand, then Special Summon 1 Level 7 or lower DARK Spellcaster monster from your Deck. If you control "Dark Magician", except the turn this card was sent to the GY: You can banish this card from your GY, then target 1 face-up Spell/Trap your opponent controls; negate its effects until the end of this turn.

With these card enhancements, the power of this Dark Magician deck became quite impressive.

In Yuei Vu's opinion, the main problem with this deck was the lack of a powerful finisher, and there were not enough powerful monsters to bring enough suppressing power.

The core of this deck lied in the Dark Magician himself and the various spell traps used by the Dark Magician, giving full play to the variable spells of the "top magician".

In contrast, the characteristic of the HERO deck in his hand was that using fusion to quickly summon powerful monsters like Shining Flare Wingman, Great Tornado, and Gaia.

In comparison, the HERO deck was more focused on relying on high attack power to quickly suppress, while the Dark Magician deck had more variable effects.

In a complex actual combat, it was difficult to say which of the two routines was stronger or weaker. It could only be said that each has its own emphasis and could be switched in real-time according to the opponent.

Well, thinking about it carefully, maybe only a mortal like him needed to worry about this kind of pain.

If you are a powerful draw machine like the protagonists of Yu-Gi-Oh, who cares about the deck construction? It must be a combination of two systems in one deck!

Isn't it common sense that the more strange things are stuffed in the deck, the more awesome it is?

Don't believe me? Take a look at Yuki Judai, who mixed a lot of things into Elemental HERO to the point each episode could be a new deck, but he never dead draw.

So it's still the problem of bonding with your deck. If you believed in the Heart of the Cards, why did you need to be headache about this?

By now, there was only one week left until the official opening of Battle City.

The minor adjustments to the dueling rules he proposed were finally completed under his own supervision and were released by Kaiba Corp a week in advance.

The main change was that spell cards could not be activated in the opponent's turn (but they could still be used in the Battle Phase due to the president's own insistence), and the concept of "battle replay" has been added.

The duelists didn't find it particularly strange when the new rules were adjusted. After all, this new rule was a new thing. As long as it has not been officially applied in the competition, for the duelists, it was still in the test server debugging stage.

It was not surprising to make some minor adjustments before the version update was officially implemented.

As Yuei Vu was walking back home, he casually browsed the forum.

The opening of the player forum really provided him with a lot of distraction for his free time, and it was interesting to watch screwball players brag and tell stories. Especially watching them repost the video and GIF of Yuei Vu's duel over and over in the forum, and a group of people lined up to lick it below, it was extra interesting

It didn't take long for him to notice a new post on the forum that was only popular today.

"Big news! I run into a vampire! It's been a terrible pit. The rare card that I got a few days ago was taken away by the vampire!"

"Really? Where did the vampires come from in Yu-Gi-Oh?"

"It's true, I also met it!" A player quickly replied, "I lost the duel with her, she also said she wanted to grab the rare card but I didn't have it, and then she just sucked me dry, I'm so stupid

"Shit, a woman?"

"Where did she suck? Is it good? You said that I also want to try my luck."

"I know what you're thinking! It's really sucking blood from your neck. I lost one of three lives this week"

Three lives a week was said to be an anti-addiction setting for the game. Players could only be revived three times at most in 7 days. Losing one more and they would be forced to go offline until the week was over

That was to say, but it was a card game after all. How could you easily encounter a game that bet life? The upper limit of three lives was basically inexhaustible. (Lord of Thunder gave a like)

"Wow, worthy of being the Yu-gi-oh world, are all vampires in this game so disciplined? Do you really have to play cards first and then suck blood?"

"Ask the thread starter if the vampire is good-looking or not? If you win the game, is that mean you can do whatever you want with her?"

As expected of a screwball player, even the first reaction to seeing a demon was so different.

Yuei Vu flipped through the post, and it seemed that there were quite a few players who said they bumped into a female vampire last night. Many of them are still customers in his store. They just exchanged some useful cards with the crystal, and were robbed by the vampire

Yuei Vu thought about it. Huh? What if the cards these players just bought were stolen wouldn't they just come to me and buy them again?

Does that mean I can make double their money?

Bah! What am I thinking about?

Yuei Vu quickly stopped his evil thoughts.

This couldn't be done. When a customer encountered such a thing, he, as the seller, must do his after-sales service properly. If there was a chance, he would meet this vampire.

There were really not many businessmen like him who have such a conscientious after-sales service.

Since this kind of thing happened in Domino City's territory Then there must be news from the Nightcrawlers World?

Yuei Vu simply stopped by the Nightcrawler World headquarters and asked the president for information.

"It's Tilla Mook! It's definitely Tilla Mook!"

President Kawasaki Gai paced back and forth in his office, scratching his bald head, which had few hairs.

"President, do you recognize her?" Yuei Vu asked.

"Yes, of course, I do!" Kawasaki Gai said angrily, "She is just a jerk, who has no sense of honor! She worked under Pegasus before, but after Pegasus's underground organization collapsed, she ran away quickly and joined Ghouls."

"Ghouls? So she is Marik's underling?"

"Of course." The president snorted coldly, "We have to send a message to Marik and let him know that what he has done has crossed the line. It must be condemned! Strongly condemned!"

"So is that useful?" Yuei Vu asked.

Kawasaki Gai thought about it and admitted that he was right.

Whether strongly condemned was useful or not, they knew best, otherwise, everyone would not feel that the United Nations was a piece of paper mask.

"Leave this matter to me." Yuei Vu said, "I just need to know the whereabouts of that vampire, then I will deal with her personally."

Chapter 68: Don't Need to Talk Much

"Ahhhh!!!"

With a miserable groan, the physical impact embodied by the dark energy sent a player flying off the ground and rolling several times on the ground in an extremely embarrassing manner.

The player's LP was also dropped to 0.

Faint darkness enveloped the surroundings. A woman with a thin waist and long legs and skin as white as snow stepped forward, half of her face was hidden in the shadow of the black hood, and her red lips, which were too bright, showed a slight smile. Sharp fangs vaguely stick out from her soft red lips.

"According to the rules of the Shadow Game," she said with a sneer, "as a loser, your blood is mine!"

However, at the juncture of life and death, the strange duelist in front of her was not panicking at all, but just held h head in annoyance: "MD, if I can draw that card

Not only that, his companion on the side didn't seem to panic at all, but also sarcastically: "Didn't you say that you have redeemed a lot of good cards in a week? It doesn't seem to work at all."

"It's obviously because of this vampire's face! You can see that her skin is so white, she definitely has pure European blood. No wonder why she is so lucky"

"Is that your reason? Bullshit!" Several onlookers jeered together, "Looking at yourself! Unable to draw even one usable card, do you feel any embarrassment? Even Africans don't have a dark face like you!"

"Yami Yugi is from Egypt too! Egypt is also in Africa, so Yami Yugi is also an African, right?"

The vampire from Ghouls was a little confused.

She found out that there seem to be a lot of these strange duelists in Domino City these days. Many people of this group were lost in the Shadow Game, and they were about to be drained by her and swallowed by the darkness. But they were all as happy as the festival, and they didn't care about death at all.

Not only that, their companions even sneered and said sarcastic words on the side

Hey, you are his companion, aren't you?

As for your comrades, no matter how much you hate him, you must at least pretend to be sad, right?

Are they all so heartless?

But the rules of the Shadow Game were absolute. Since the battle has ended, what should be done must be done.

The female vampire Tilla Mook took off her hood, revealing her enchanting face and her fangs like a viper.

"According to the agreement," she said with a grim expression like a ghost, "your blood is mine!"

However, the screwball player was still not afraid at all, just sitting on the ground with a posture of "do it quickly", closed his eyes, and said, "If you want to come, hurry up, don't grind."

Tilla Mook: "?"

No, brother, did you not understand the situation?

I'm going to suck your blood now, big brother! You'll die if you lose too much blood!

Please be a little scared and give me some face, okay?

The vampire's teeth have been pierced into the skin, and the screwball player was still shouting strangely: "Ah~ it's comfortable! Ah~ It's so cool to be sucked dry!"

Onlookers: ""

Vampire Tilla Mook: ""

What kind of screwball duelists did I bump into today?

After sucking blood, the body of the player turned into nothingness and gradually dissipated.

Tilla Mook was a little surprised.

Huh? My Shadow Game level should not have reached the level that can devour the flesh.

At most, her ability should only be at the level where winning could restrain the opponent's actions.

Could it be that my dark energy level has become stronger unknowingly?

But she didn't think about it any further.

Instead, she continued to look at the remaining few people with a charming smile like sizing up his prey: "Your companions have been buried in darkness. Who will be next?"

"Oh, that trash is really not good." Another player stood up and stepped forward, "As expected, I still have to come."

"Go away, I'm the next one!" The second player began to stroke his sleeves.

"You all let that vampire go, let me come!" The third player began to untie his belt.

Vampire: ""

She suddenly didn't want to continue to suck the blood of these screwballs. She was afraid that the blood of the screwballs was poisonous

Then suddenly Tilla Mook was startled and realized something.

Damn! It's all because of the confusing behavior of these screwballs! I forgot to take the rare card on the opposite side!

Now the deck has disappeared along with the body, it's too late to think about getting them.

Just as she was thinking about it, another voice appeared on the other side of the street: "If you want to play Shadow Games, why don't you come and try it with me?"

Everyone looked at the sound in unison.

That's a man who was wearing a leather trench coat with a black lining and a Duel Disk in his hand. The hem of the trench coat behind him fluttered like a cape in the evening wind along the street.

That distinctive temperament, the unrestrained dashing

Can't be wrong! Absolutely only one person!

"Wow, that's Yuei Vu!" Some players exclaimed.

"Why did he leave the store? Could it be a side story?"

"No one has ever said that NPCs can only stay in one place and not go out. Didn't the official say it is a highly open game"

While the players were chatting, Tilla also narrowed his eyes.

"Yuei Vu So that's the case, a newcomer in the underground world recently?" Tilla Mook smiled, "Your reputation is really not small recently. I heard that you beat the legendary Kaiba Seto, smashed his Blue-Eyes White Dragon head-on, and even forced out the legendary God of Destruction It's really incredible."

Passers-by players quickly discovered the elements.

"Kaiba Seto Could it be the president!?"

"Nonsense! Could there be a second Kaiba Seto here? Didn't you hear her mention the Blue-Eyes White Dragon?"

"Is the God of Destruction the Obelisk the Tormentor?"

"Yuei Vu have played against the president Kaiba? And it sounds like it's a draw?"

"6666, it's really cool to be able to tie the giant gods. Although I haven't played cards before, I remember that the three Egyptian Gods with animation effects seem incomprehensible"

In fact, the news that Tilla Mook said was wrong. That game was not a "draw" but an "interruption". In the end, the president pulled the screw and turned off the Duel Disk and failed to finish the game

If that game continued, the chances of a draw should be very small. As a result, either Yuei Vu's Dark Magician defeated the president, or the president's Obelisk took him away in a wave.

Well, but he didn't intend to correct this little detail either.

This Ghouls vampire is so sensible! It was very polite to help him act in front of the players when they first met!

It was always better for others to show off on behalf of you. Especially when others told you how earth-shattering you are, and you pretended to be calm or didn't seem to hear it, the audience would feel that you are more inscrutable.

just like the reactions of several passers-by players now.

"Did you record it?"

"It's recorded!" A player patted his chest, "I'll post it on the forum immediately, this post will be popular!"

Yuei Vu was secretly satisfied.

Now he looked at this vampire girl and felt it was more pleasing to the eye.

If she can be a little more sensible, maybe I can spare her life, accept her as a mount or something
Ahem, just kidding.

"Then let me try if the rumors are really true." Tilla Mook opened the Duel Disk with a smile, and at the same time there was hunger in her eyes, "It's just that if I win, I will not only want your card, I want your body!"

Yuei Vu opened the Duel Disk: "No problem Eh, wait, don't you want blood?"

"For a handsome boy like you, sucking blood directly is too wasteful." The vampire girl licked her lips with her long tongue, "I have other plans for you."

Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows.

This stinky vampire is greedy for my body?

Darling, that's incredible.

Hearing this, the spirit of the Dark Magician Girl also floated out, looking at the vampire ahead full of hostility.

"Master! You must not lose this duel!" Her face was full of seriousness.

"I know." Yuei Vu smiled, "I didn't intend to lose."

"Duel!" x2

Chapter 69: Vampire Rare Hunter

"My turn, draw!" The duel started from Yuei Vu's side, "I summon from my hand, Rapid-Fire Magician', in attack position!"

A monster card was projected beside him, and a magician in a black robe emerged from the card.

[Rapid-Fire Magician, ATK 1600]

The three audience players were already surprised: "Huh? Isn't it an Elemental HERO?"

"Didn't you say that Yuei Vu used an Elemental HERO deck?"

"Normally, don't the characters in Yu-Gi-Oh only use one set of cards? How is this NPC different from others?"

"The effect of the Rapid-Fire Magician is to deal 400 points of damage to the opponent whenever the controller activates a normal spell card. Next, I activate Pot of Greed' from my hand!" Yuei Vu said, "I draw two cards from the deck, and you take 400 damage!"

A greedy and wretched green pot appeared, and the display that originally displayed the LP value on the Duel Disk in Yuei Vu's hand turned into the word "DRAW" to remind him to draw the card due to the effect of the spell card.

Yuei Vu drew two cards from the deck, and at the same time, the effect of the Rapid-Fire Magician was activated on the field. He held a wand in each of his hands, and the magic power released turned into colorful spheres, which alternated between the two wands in his hands like a circus juggling act.

"Take it!"

With a clear drink, the magic ball of light flew towards the opposite side, blasting a thick black smokescreen on the face of the vampire girl.

Tilla Mook, LP 4000 LP3600

The corner of Tilla Mook's mouth curled slightly and she snorted softly.

"Set a card, I end my turn."

"My turn, draw!" It was Tilla Mook's turn next, "I will first summon Master Kyonshee!"

A strange fog began to appear on Tilla Mook's field as if corpse gas reverberated on the field. An erratic ghost gradually condensed into a real body on her field a purple dress and a high hat, his entire face was blocked by a talisman posted on his forehead, like crawling out of a coffin in a zombie movie.

[Master Kyonshee, ATK 1750]

"Next is this card," Tilla Mook took out a spell card and licked the back of the card with her bright red tongue, "this card will make you realize the real horror of my vampires!"

For some reason, seeing her actions, Yuei Vu couldn't help but remember something in his mind
My card is smeared with poison (licking)

"Continuous Spell Card Vampire's Domain!" Tilla Mook inserted this card into the Duel Disk.

With the appearance of the image of the spell card, the whole environment became gloomy. An ominous dark breath wandered around as if evil spirits were choosing people to eat. Even the sky above their heads turned red under the effect of an unknown projection, like a blood-stained color.

"Due to this card's effect, by paying 500 LP per turn, during my Main Phase this turn, I can Normal Summon 1 "Vampire" monster in addition to my Normal Summon/Set.

Come on, my faithful vampire Vampire Sorcerer!" "

Tilla Mook, LP 3600 LP 3100

A wizard in simple attire and holding a bat-shaped staff appeared on the field. Under the brim of his hat was a pale face with dark green hair and vampire-like fangs at the corners of his mouth.

[Vampire Sorcerer, ATK 1500]

"A magician of this level is no match for my vampires!" She said proudly, "Battle! I use the Master Kyonshee' to attack the Rapid-Fire Magician!"

The zombie with the talisman on his face nimbly moved forward and flew to the magician. The magician hurriedly tried to counterattack with his wand, but he was already a beat too late.

As we all know, the mage in close combat was equivalent to the fish on the chopping block. The magician with even bullets was kicked by a zombie and blown to pieces without any resistance.

Yuei Vu, LP 4000 LP 3850

"It's not over yet, next is the Vampire Sorcerer!" Tilla Mook's attack continued, "Direct attack!"

"Flip the set card," Yuei Vu quickly counterattacked, "Trap Card A Rival Appears! Select 1 face-up monster you controls, and I can Special Summon 1 monster from my hand that has the same Level as the selected monster."

Tilla Mook frowned: "The Level of Master Kyonshee and Vampire Sorcerer are both 4"

"That's right, so the level I chose was also 4." Yuei Vu turned over a card in his hand, "Come on, Magician's Valkyria!"

A magician girl with a style and dress similar to "Dark Magician Girl" appeared on the field. She wore cool leather armor, snow-white skin, and a beautiful figure, holding a black staff, and had soft red hair under the wide magic hat.

[Magician's Valkyria, ATK 1600]

Of course, the players were not calm: "Wow! This projection is really big No, I mean this card is really white."

"The stereoscopic image is amazing, right? Brothers, don't stop me, I'm about to rush"

"A magical girl with an attack power of 1600? Her attack power is higher than that of a Vampire Sorcerer." Tilla Mook said indifferently, "Then I end my turn."

"My turn, draw!" Yuei Vu glanced at the card he has just drawn, "Then I will summon the second Magician's Valkyria!"

The light and shadow special effects of the flow of magic power appeared, and the second beautiful magician sister appeared on the field.

Double the joy!

[Magician's Valkyria, ATK 1600]

"Attack the Vampire Sorcerer with the Magician's Valkyria!"

The Valkyria on Yuei Vu's right hand jumped up and gave a coquettish drink with a clear voice. The staff swung, and the green magic wave hit the Vampire Sorcerer's body. The latter made a strange cry in a hoarse voice, and his body became illusory and distorted under the impact of magic until it disappeared.

Tilla Mook, LP 3100 LP 3000

But the female vampire smiled unconcernedly: "Hey, but at this moment, the ability of the Vampire Sorcerer is also activated. When my Vampire Sorcerer is sent to the graveyard by the opponent, I can add 1 DARK "Vampire" monster or 1 "Vampire" Spell/Trap from my Deck to my hand.

I chose Vampire Red Baron'."

Yuei Vu: A monster with the searching ability? I didn't expect to see such a card in the hands of the DM's duelist.

"Then I'll set another card, and I end my turn."

At this moment, the two Valkyria sisters stood on the field one by one, each gave a coquettish shout, and the wands were intertwined in a crisscross pattern. The green magic power fluctuations are connected to each other to form a transparent magic barrier, which protects the entire field of Yuei Vu.

"Oh?" Tilla Mook saw something, "Are these two girls magicians with special abilities of defense?"

"That's right." Yuei Vu smiled, "When Magician's Valkyria' exists on the field, my opponent can't target face-up Spellcaster-Type monsters other than her as an attack target.

And now there are two "Magician's Valkyria" on the field"

"In other words, I can't choose anyone, thus my attack is blocked." Tilla Mook smiled lightly, "It's quite a beautiful tactic, it's the so-called absolute defense'."

Yuei Vu shrugged and didn't speak.

It's just an ordinary use of taunt to form an attack block, and it had no resistance. It was far from "absolute defense", but it was definitely useful in this environment.

"But this kind of trick won't work in front of my powerful vampire!" Tilla Mook smiled confidently, "I'll let you see, even in the Ghoul, I belong to the high-end combat power. This is the strength of a noble vampire!"

Yuei Vu looked at her: Even if you are a noble, you still have to play cards with me obediently

Actually, there seemed to be a vampire named Camula in Yu-Gi-Oh! GX. She claimed to be the last remaining member of her clan.

However, the world was vast. Although this species was on the verge of extinction, there must be some remnants left in every corner of the world.

"My turn, draw! I activate another effect of Vampire Sorcerer' in the GY I can banish this card from my GY; 1 DARK "Vampire" monster I Normal Summon this turn can be Summoned without Tributing!"

While she was talking, the "Vampire Sorcerer" in the cemetery area of her Duel Disk popped up automatically, and she put it into her clothes. (There was no banished zone in the Duel Disk of this era)

Then she raised another card from her hand, her facial features twisted, and her eyes were full of enthusiasm.

"Let you see my trump card! As the proud nobles of our blood race

Vampire Red Baron! "

The darkness rolled out from the ground like a tide, and a warrior in black armor appeared in the darkness with spears and horses like underworld creatures.

He wore a helmet and a mask, and the hooves of his mount made a crisp and rhythmic sound on the ground. Countless bats fluttered and fluttered against the red background like a dark whirlwind.

[Vampire Red Baron, ATK 2400]

Chapter 70: The Game Designer's Own Son

Vampire Red Baron, come forth!

Yuei Vu clenched the cards in his hand and raised his vigilance.

Although it was only a monster with an attack power of 2400, the armor that was filled with dark miasma, made people feel as if some evil will was hidden.

At least Yuei Vu knew for sure that this monster was definitely not a Normie, but a vampire with hidden special abilities.

"Then I'm going to use the effect of Vampire's Domain again!" Tilla Mook said loudly, "By paying 500 LP per turn, during my Main Phase this turn, I can Normal Summon 1 "Vampire" monster in addition to my Normal Summon/Set!

I summon Vampire Baby! "

Tilla Mook, LP 3000 LP 2500

The ominous atmosphere intensified.

There was a cry from somewhere in the void, like a baby crying with resentment. Against the blood-red curtain-like background, a small baby gradually turned into an entity.

It had blue eyes, its whole body was wrapped in a wide green robe, and a strange light was refracted in its deep eyes.

[Vampire Baby, ATK 700]

"But no matter how many monsters you summon, as long as there are two Magician's Valkyria' on the field, you can't attack." Yuei Vu said.

"Of course I know." Tilla Mook smiled grimly, "But the Vampire Red Baron is the highest-level vampire, who have powerful special abilities!

Here I activate the Red Baron's first ability! Once per turn, I can pay 1000 LP, then target 1 monster my opponent controls and 1 other "Vampire" monster I control; switch control of those monsters! "

"So it is." Yuei Vu understood.

It was actually the NTR kind of effect

"I will pay 1000 LP to exchange the control of Vampire Baby' on my field with a Magician's Valkyria' on your field!"

Tilla Mook, LP 2500 LP 1500

The red vampire in armor raised the gun in his hand, and his scarlet eyes released spiritual pressure.

The eyes of a magician on Yuei Vu's side also turned red under the influence. She was swaying, her eyes began to become a little dazed, her eyes gradually lost their spirits, and she drifted to the opponent's field in a daze.

And the weird Vampire Baby was exchanged to Yuei Vu's side.

"Ha, the little magician girl is really unfaithful." Tilla Mook began to sneer, "In this way, your absolute defense' has been broken."

If there was only one Magician's Valkyria, there was no way to form a blockade. The only remaining magician girl on Yuei Vu's side clenched her teeth and held the staff as if she was determined to use her body to shield her master.

Now there were three monsters in Tilla Mook's field: Vampire Red Baron, Magician's Valkyria, and Master Kyonshee, while Yuei Vu had only one Valkyria and a silly vampire baby that didn't come in handy.

"By the way, Vampire Red Baron has another effect: At the end of the Battle Phase, if this card destroyed any monster by battle, I can Special Summon them from the GYs to my field."

Tilla Mook smiled smugly, her eyes narrowed.

"Are you ready to dedicate yourself to me?"

As soon as these words came out, the Dark Magician Girl spirit floated out again, clenched her small staff, bit her lip, and glared at the vampire But after staring for a long time, she realized that the other party didn't seem to be able to see her at all.

So angry!

When did the master call me out? I really want to hit her face by myself

"Don't worry.

Yuei Vu knew she was worried, and smiled at her, "I will win." "

"Oh."

The Dark Magician Girl nodded.

Since the master said so, of course, she absolutely believed it.

"Battle!" Tilla Mook threw his long white arms out from under Ghouls' unique robe, "First, Vampire Red Baron, attack and defeat the other Valkyria!"

The sound of hooves sounded, and the horse under the Red Baron let out a clear roar, like a general charging on the battlefield. The spiral spear thrust by the hands of the superior vampire. Although the remaining Magician's Valkyria tried her best to release the magic barrier, she was still vulnerable to the power of the superior monster.

Yuei Vu, LP 3850 LP 3050

"Next is the activation of the second effect of the Continuous Spell Card Vampire's Domain!" Tilla Mook said, "Each time my Vampire' monster inflicts battle damage to my opponent, I gain the same amount of LP!

Life Absorption!"

Tilla Mook, LP 1500 LP 2300

"It really has the effect of a vampire." Yuei Vu said.

Although the damage in the Shadow Game had an actual impact, because Tilla Mook was not a high-level dark duelist, the damage was not high.

It's much weaker than the dark shock when he was dueling with Mr. T.

"It's not over yet!" Tilla Mook shouted, "Attack Vampire Baby with the Master Kyonshee!"

The zombie with the talisman paper on its face flew forward again, raised its palms, and smashed the weird baby into pieces with one palm.

Yuei Vu, LP 3050LP 2000

But because "Master Kyonshee" did not belong to the Vampire archetype, she couldn't absorb LP through Life Absorption.

"One more shot!"

The female vampire paused, then squinted at the Magician's Valkyria who had been snatched from her side, showing a sinister smile.

"Hey, taste the power of your own Valkyria. Valkyria, attack your former master directly!"

The little magician girl who was controlled raised her staff, and the tip of the staff gathered a dark green magic shock

Several screwball players are especially excited at this moment.

"Fuck, the big NTR scene!"

"I'm so excited"

When Yuei Vu heard this, he couldn't help but want to roll his eyes.

Look at these screwballs, they can be so excited just by playing a card

But at this moment, his set card met the activation conditions.

"Open the set card Trap Card Magician's Circle!"

"What!?" Tilla Mook was taken aback.

Are you launching a trap at this juncture?

"Magician's Circle can only be activated when a Spellcaster monster declares an attack. Each player Special Summons 1 Spellcaster monster with 2000 or less ATK from their Deck in Attack Position."

Tilla Mook was taken aback: "Did you expect me to take control of the Valkyria?"

Yuei Vu pulled out the deck from the Duel Disk and didn't answer. The projected light and shadow of the trap card outline a complicated circle with golden lines on his field, like a magic pathway.

"What I want to choose is" Yuei Vu picked out a card from the deck and placed it on the Duel Disk, "Magician's Robe!"

The dark magic power surged to one place, gradually condensed into a solid body and continued to climb higher, and finally transformed into an illusory monster.

Rather than calling it a monster, might as well say that it was a robe light black robe and a tall magic hat, but there was no face or actual body under the brim of the hat, and its whole body was shrouded in sacred under the pale blue glow.

[Magician's Robe, ATK 700]

"What kind of monster is this?" Tilla Mook was shocked.

Why do I feel that this monster looks a bit like the costume worn by the Dark Magician?

However, the screwball players who were watching were all exploded at this time.

"OMG, it is the Magician's Robe!"

"Ah? I have never heard of it."

"Why don't you know this? It's a power-up card specially used for the Dark Magician', how can there be such a thing in the DM!?"

"What? The future card? Why does the NPC in the DM have such a thing? Is he the game designer's own son?"

"And since he has a Magician's Robe in his hand, I'm afraid it means"

The duel continued.

"The effect of the Magician's Robe is activated!" Yuei Vu waved his arm, "Only once in the opponent's turn, I can discard a spell or trap card, and special summon from the deck

Dark Magician! "

A pitch-black vortex opened up on the ground, and magic power suddenly shot into the sky like a water column. The slender figure leaped out of the magic vortex, twirled lightly in mid-air, and landed half-squatting. The green staff also flew out of the vortex, drawing a perfect arc in the blood-red space, and flew back to the Dark Magician on the field.

The players began to go wild in place.

"Shit, tell me if you recorded it! This guy really has a Dark Magician!"

"Damn it, it's really the game designer's own son!"