Chapter 671: The Duel In The Tomb

BOOM! ! !

The loud noise, as if thousands of bombs were detonating at the same time, echoed in the closed chamber, and the sound was deafening. The load-bearing pillars of the main hall seemed to have been violently clawed by demons and split into two pieces. They smashed into pieces on the floor and blasted the floor tiles into pieces.

Flames erupted violently and hurricanes swept through. Seto Kaiba was blown away by the impact of the explosion, and his back hit the floor full of debris.

Judging from the impact he endured and the distance he was knocked away, most people would probably have stopped breathing long ago. However, President Kaiba, who could jump directly from a jet without a parachute, was obviously not an ordinary person. He only waited for two seconds before getting up again on his knees, breathing heavily in the choking dust.

Kaiba was currently in an ancient underground temple, in the middle of a fierce duel.

A brand new enemy stood before him. It was a blue-haired boy with intimidating golden eyes and round-toed boots. The Duel Disk in his hand was made up of glowing cubes, floating strangely in the air.

Seto Kaiba's LP was like a candle in the wind, but the boy was still unscathed. The president was half-kneeling on the ground, looking at the huge monster behind the boy with its teeth and claws, and could not help but grit his teeth

So how did things get to this point?

An hour ago, after receiving a call from Mokuba, President Kaiba immediately took his Blue Eyes White Dragon and hurriedly came to Egypt.

The news from Mokuba was what he wanted to hear most and had been waiting for a year

The fragments of the Millennium Puzzle were found!

When the battle ceremony ended, Atem's soul returned to the underworld. After completing its mission, the indestructible Millennium Stone also self-destructed from within, turning into fragments and sinking into the abyss, taking with it seven Millennium Items.

No one, including the tomb-keepers, knew where those artifacts had fallen. The Ishtar siblings felt that perhaps the seven Millennium Items had returned to the underworld with the Pharaoh's soul.

But Kaiba didn't care.

Even if the Millennium Puzzle fell into the depths of hell and were burned to ashes, he would still dig into hell to put the ashes back together!

Yugi!

You dont think you can escape from our card game by dying, do you?

As the saying goes, hard work pays off. After a whole year of unremitting efforts, Kaiba actually dug out the pieces of the Millennium Puzzle piece by piece.

Then a boy named "Aigami" appeared in front of Seto Kaiba at that moment.

Kaiba frowned and quickly accessed the database at the company headquarters to compare the facial recognition information and obtain the boy's information.

"Are you Aigami?" Kaiba asked.

"Oh, you found out my identity all of a sudden? As expected of President Kaiba who controls the entire Domino City. You are indeed like a dictator."

Aigami was not surprised at all, and just smiled calmly: "Domino is known as the Duel City'. I heard that now people is not allowed to settle down if they don't register a deck. You are really overbearing, President Kaiba."

Kaiba looked at him silently and said nothing.

Behind the president, Mokuba pouted.

Recently, the Kaiba Corp has even been discussing cooperation with politicians, preparing to formulate new legal provisions, stipulating that from now on, the election of the head of state could be linked to duels

He heard that the front election in a country on the other side of the ocean was very chaotic, and it was caused by fraudulent ballots and dead people voting. The old method was really unreliable.

If there was another situation in the future where candidates refuse to admit defeat to each other, why not just take out the Duel Disk and play cards live in an upright manner? Whoever won would get the position. No cheating, no bloodshed, and everyone was happy

Seeing that this guy named Aigami seemed to be trying to cause trouble, a group of black suits from the Kaiba Corp came up immediately.

Just when you thought they were going to play cards, these bodyguards pulled out their guns with serious faces

Of course, in the world view of Yu-Gi-Oh, for people who just draw guns without drawing cardslet's put it this way, the end would not be good.

As expected, Aigami smiled, and snapped his fingers, and a group of bodyguards immediately disappeared out of thin air with exclamations and evaporated on the spot.

Mokuba was shocked: Where are our bodyguards?

Aigami laughed loudly: I sent them to another dimension!

Mokuba:

Aigami suddenly became arrogant and began to commit a common mistake of villains: He proudly explained the principle of his superpower.

To put it simply, in Aigamis view, the world was composed of the consciousness of everyone living in the world. Peoples consciousness was intertwined and connected with each other, which was equivalent to an Internet covering the entire world.

And Prana had power beyond the consciousness of ordinary people. They could cut off all connections between a person and everyone else in the world. Others could not observe him or realize his existence. That person was equivalent to being sent to a different dimension.

In layman's terms, it meant unplugging the network cable. You were originally playing an online game called "Earth Online". Aigami could unplug your network cable and kick you out of the server, forcing you to log off and play single-player.

"Disappear under the power of Prana, Seto Kaiba!"

Aigami laughed and used his power to pull out the network cable on Kaiba as well.

However, the president rolled his eyes and hugged his arms: "Boring!"

With a cry of boredom, Aigami was shocked to find that his power was rapidly fading, and the ability of the Quantum Cube didn't work on this man!

Aigami looked up in shock, and was even more surprised to find that President Kaiba's whole body was actually glowing with golden light!

That was the light of superstitious scientific materialism!

President Kaiba: I really believe in science, and you and your blabbering metaphysical cube are nothing to me!

The all-conquering method of unplugging the network cable failed, and Aigami could only attribute the reason to "Kaiba's personal consciousness is too strong and can resist the power of Prana."

But it didn't matter, he still had a trump card.

That's a duel!

Of course, he didn't plan to accompany Kaiba to play with the other party's familiar rules, but directly played with Prana's unique set of "Dimension Duel" rules.

Aigami's plan may be achievable. He may have thought that there was an ambush here, and he could catch Kaiba by surprise. Kaiba didn't know the rules of Dimension Duels, and he didn't have time to adjust his deck accordingly. He would definitely have to pay a great cost when he first entered the new land.

As a result, he discovered that when the fight started, Kaiba actually didn't know the difference in the rules of "Dimension Duel", yet all he drew in his starting hand were Krystal Dragon, Blue-Eyes Alternative White Dragon, and so on. There were no monster cards below Level 4, highlighting a high-star starting hand.

Aigami almost spit out a mouthful of blood at that time.

What the hell?

If he didn't pull some tricks and play with fancy rules like "Dimension Duel", and follow the normal rules of playing cards, would Kaiba not be able to summon any monster, and would be stuck to death due to a brick hand?

However, he didn't know that a true duelist's hand cards would always change according to the duel rules, even if the duelist himself didn't know the rules

The duel raged fiercely in this underground temple.

The White Dragon deck faced the Cubic deck, and the two sides fiercely exchanged offense and defense. The dragon's scorching breath crisscrossed the hall, and the deformed Cubic monster blasted out thunder and fire.

Floor tiles were blown to pieces and pillars were knocked down one by one. The dome of the main hall screamed in shock and impact again and again, gravel and dust fell like intermittent rain, and the entire space seemed to collapse at any time

It's the final round.

Because he had no idea about the Cubic deck, Kaiba was suppressed throughout the duel. Now his LP was like a candle in the wind, and had no spell or trap on the field. On the opposite, Aigami's field has the "Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth" with an attack power of up to 3000.

The last round, the last card draw.

Whether Kaiba could come back from adversity depended on this final draw.

"You only have three Blue-Eyes White Dragon' cards on the field that have 0 attack power and cannot attack or defend. How can you make a comeback in this situation?" Aigami laughed.

Come on, draw cards as you like.

Can you still print a card to counter me?

Kaiba fell silent.

He couldn't lose, especially not in a place like this.

He has yet to see the opponent he must defeat again, and so far he has not been able to win even a single victory in a duel with that guy. How could he lose in a place like this?

But if it were that guy, what would he do now?

Kaiba fell into memories, and countless scenes of Atem saving the day and making a comeback from desperate situations flashed through his mind.

He reviewed every duel Atem had experienced over and over again, remembering every frame clearly.

He recalled what Atem said to him when he fought against the Five-Headed Dragon summoned by the Big Five.

Kaiba: You actually fused my Blue-Eyes Ultimate Dragon and your Black Luster Soldier to create the "Dragon Master Knight"? I have never heard of this card. Yugi, did you already know about its existence?

Atem: The Heart of the Cards will respond to the duelist's wishes. If you believe he exists, he will naturally exist.

""

There was also the duel between Atem and Dartz, the shameless old demon who also secretly printed cards.

Atem: Although it is not written on this card, I activate the Spell Card "Legend of Heart"! Then, although I did not have these three cards in my deck, I can special summon the true form of the legendary dragons the three Legendary Knights from my hand, deck, or graveyard!

Dartz:

Kaiba suddenly figured something out.

By the way, this is that guy's grave!

Yes, that's right. After almost demolishing the entire temple and beating it to pieces, President Kaiba finally remembered that they were essentially playing cards on the tomb of the pharaoh.

It's just that the tomb has been almost destroyed by them

In a flash of lightning, a complete set of winning formulas flashed through Kaiba's mind.

This is the tomb of the Pharaoh = There is the Pharaoh's remaining memory data in the tomb = There is the remaining data of three Egyptian Gods in the tomb = There are the Egyptian Gods here.

The process was indeed confusing, and it's normal to not understand it. After all, only a true duelist like the president could complete such a meticulous deduction.

But the process was not important, what was important was The president slapped his hand on the floor, and then shouted!

Aigami: "?"

What? You can't beat the game of cards, so you are trying to dig a hole and run away?!

Kaiba's eyes were stern and his face was resolute.

Yugi! Lend me your strength!

If the soul of Pharaoh Atem was really still there, then he would be pretty good to the president. Because the president said he would borrow his power, he actually borrowed it.

"My turn!" Kaiba yelled at the top of his lungs, and pulled out a card with a brilliant light from the floor, "Draw!!!"

Aigami: "???"

Wait a minute, where did you draw the card from?

Hey, referee, someone committed a foul. Do you see it?

"Hahahahaha! Come, God of Destruction!" Kaiba raised the card he pulled out from the floor, "Obelisk the Tormentor!!!"

Aigami: @#%&

Chapter 672: Get Up And Duel Me!

When he got up from bed in the morning, Yuei Vu was not surprised to learn from Mokuba that "Kaiba dug up the Millennium Puzzle".

In his message, Mokuba gave him a concise summary of last night's situation, including their encounter with the mysterious boy called "Aigami".

Mokuba also mentioned that Kaiba played a game of cards with Aigami last night, but it was a pity that the game did not end in the end. At the end of the duel, Mokuba collected all the pieces of the Millennium Puzzle and ran away with it.

The president, who was concerned about Atem in the underworld, was anxious to go back and put together the Millennium Puzzle. He just said, "We will decide the outcome tomorrow, Aigami!" then turned around and ran away.

In order to put together the Millennium Puzzle, the president actually didn't even finish playing the most addictive card game on weekdays. This may also show the extent of his dedication to Atem.

However, Aigami also escaped a disaster because of this.

Although the game of cards was not played to the end, many viewers of the animation felt that if the president hadn't been anxious to go back and put together the Millennium Puzzle to see Atem, he would have defeated Aigami in this temple. The whole movie would have ended right there.

After reading the news, Yuei Vu got dressed and got up. When he went out, the vampire maid, who had completely transformed into a domestic shape, had already prepared breakfast. She was standing at the dining table with a sweet smile on her face. She bowed deeply when she saw her master coming out, her big and white balls bounced accordingly.

It was in sharp contrast to Chika-chan's Little Red Riding Hood-like figure.

At this time, you may ask again, why Little Red Riding Hood?

Because as everyone knows, Little Red Riding Hoods grandmother was eaten by the big bad wolf (crossed out) (1)

If Yuei Vu expected it right, Kaiba would definitely go to the company's newly built space station to build blocks today.

That thing was really a black technology product. In the past year, Kaiba not only built a space station in the sky but also built a space elevator that could directly enter the space station from the ground.

It was said that a person sitting in that elevator could rise from the earth's surface to the space station in just six seconds without any additional safety measures. If the physics-defying degree of it were known, Newton would probably shed tears of sadness.

But it may be hard for you to believe that Kaiba spent so much money and almost single-handedly pushed all human technology forward by a generation within a year, just to put together the Millennium Puzzle.

It took Yugi Muto eight years to put together the Millennium Puzzle, but the president could not wait that long, so he built such a space station.

Yuei Vu didn't understand the principle very well, but according to the president's description, it seemed that the cosmic environment was conducive to the construction of the Millennium Puzzle.

Yuei Vu planned to take a look at the space station today, while still thinking about whether there was any way to stop the president from dragging people out from the underworld to play cards.

But before that, he had one more thing to do today.

At nine o'clock in the morning, the restaurant in Domino Central Square.

"Happy birthday."

Chika touched Judai's little head and handed him a beautifully wrapped small gift box.

"A gift for me!?" Judai's eyes widened, "Can I open it?"

"Sure."

So Judai couldn't wait to open the gift box and was pleasantly surprised to see an exquisite figure of "Elemental HERO Sparkman"

"Oh oh oh, it's Sparkman!" Judai danced with excitement, "Thank you, Sister Chika!"

Chika nodded slightly, indicating that he didn't need to say it.

After all, he is Yuei Vu's student.

Little Aster next to him came over enviously: "This is so handsome! Can you show it to me?"

"Okay!" Little Judai is quite generous to his friends.

Ever since they met last time, Little Aster has been pestering his father for three days and a half, saying that he wants to go and play with Judai. It just so happened that Mr. Phoenix had something to do in Domino and needed to stay for a while. He was also very happy for his son to communicate more with the Duel King's disciple.

As a result, the two children became inseparable.

"Yuei Vu also prepared gifts for you," Chika said.

Little Judai's eyes suddenly lit up when he heard this, and his expectant eyes immediately turned to Yuei Vu.

Yuei Vu smiled mysteriously, and naturally, he did not disappoint the little jellyfish. He took out two thick teaching aid books, each hand held one, and smiled kindly at Judai

Cute little jellyfish, what you had lost? This "Question-Solving Guide" in my left hand, or this "Exam Express" in my right?

Judai: The smile gradually faded. JPG.

The boy took two steps back uneasily and muttered softly: "Neither of them belongs to me"

Yuei Vu nodded with a satisfied expression.

"What an honest child. Then as a reward, I will give you both books!"

Judai:""

The little jellyfish was holding two teaching aids in his hands, and he was lying on the chair with his whole body feeling bad.

Of course, Yuei Vu was not a devil. Children's learning must be focused, but appropriate incentives are also necessary.

In addition to the books, Yuei Vu also prepared other birthday surprises for Judai.

"Excuse mewhich one of you two is Yuki Judai?"

A voice that was familiar to all of them sounded from behind. The two children turned back and shouted "Ah" almost at the same time.

"Mr. Yugi!?"

Muto Yugi stood behind the two children with a smile and waved to them.

Following closely behind him was Jonouchi and a group of inseparable friends.

Little Aster suddenly stood upright as if by reflex, his back as straight as a tight string, his little face flushed.

Mr. Yugi! It's Mr. Yugi!

I actually met Brother Yuei Vu and the legendary Mr. Yugi at the same time!

What a double happiness!

The kid was already introverted. When he saw his idol getting nervous, he opened his mouth for a long time and couldn't say a single word. However, the crefree Judai didn't have this problem at all. The little jellyfish took Yugi's hand and started chatting, chattering.

Yuei Vu also greeted Yugi and his group of friends.

At this time, they were about to graduate from high school, and each had a lot of things to do, so they didn't contact each other for a long time. This time, in order to give the student a birthday surprise, Yuei Vu contacted Yugi to meet him.

Especially Yugi, there were really a lot of things to be busy with these days. He was selected as the outstanding student representative of the school, and the school was planning to arrange for him to speak at the graduation ceremony.

To be fair, just because Yugi's attendance rate was probably only higher than Kaiba's, it was simply magical that he was chosen as the "Outstanding Student Representative". After all, it was known that he spent almost the entire last year playing cards, and he didn't even visit the school.

Maybe it's because no one among the teachers and students in the school could beat him at cards.

Seeing the two children happily surrounding Yugi, Yuei Vu patted him on the shoulder: "Then I'll leave the rest to you."

Yugi was stunned for a moment: "Yes, yes Yuei Vu, do you have anything else to do?"

"Well, President Kaiba is a little bit"

Yugi suddenly understood and showed an "Oh, I understand" expression, but did not continue to ask any more questions.

Obviously, he didn't know yet that Kaiba had dug up the grave and unearthed the Millennium Puzzle.

Low Earth orbit, Kaiba Corp's space station.

In the sealed container, countless lasers crisscrossed each other, and the world's most advanced computer was running at full power, calculating and simulating. One hundred thousand synthesis mode simulations were performed every 0.1 seconds, and the golden fragments scattered rapidly were trying to assemble.

Seto Kaiba crossed his arms and stood outside the transparent container, his firm eyes staring unblinkingly at the pieces of Millennium Puzzle being assembled.

Soon, Yugi!

Get up and duel me!

Chapter 673: President Wants Everything

"The orbital elevator has arrived."

"The gravity field is stable."

"There are no system errors, and the level 3 track tube security device has been checked."

""

A series of crisp and melodious electronic female voices kept ringing in Yuei Vi's ears as he walked through the long aisle. He walked slowly along the long and narrow corridor leading to the orbital elevator. Both sides of the corridor were neatly lined with state-of-the-art computer equipment.

Behind each computer was a programmer girl wearing a sci-fi uniform, a helmet, and smart goggles. Each of them had slender and nimble fingers, tapping on the keyboard all the time, like a pianist playing to the climax of a movement.

Yes, that's right. As always, the programmers at Kaiba Corp were all girls, and all of them had sweet voices and good looks. There wasn't even a single guy in the room.

Regarding the extremely imbalanced male-to-female ratio in the coding community, Yuei Vu was very curious about how the president managed to recruit all programmers who were girls.

Or was it because the president felt that all his programmers were just decorations anyway, the company firewall could be entered as easily as a bus, and every time something went wrong he had to go out and type the code himself, so why not just find some pretty girls to keep his eyes on?

After getting into the orbital elevator developed by the president, Yuei Vu fastened his seat belt. An elegant electronic female voice swirled around him, and the scene outside the glass was blurred by the high speed.

Sitting in this thing, feeling the stars become within reach, Yuei Vu felt like he had entered a whole new dimension.

He still found it unbelievable that President Kaiba would create such unscientific pieces of stuff just to drag Atem up to play cards.

This kind of black technology system was enough to make anyone think that they had entered the wrong studio. Although this was an anime about card games, there was no sense of incompatibility at all when seamlessly connecting with the Mobile Suit Gundam next door.

"You have arrived at your destination."

The elevator gradually stopped, and the synthesized electronic sound sounded for the last time.

"Have a nice trip."

Yuei Vu walked through most of the space station and came to the central room. Not surprisingly, he saw President Kaiba waiting patiently, and the Millennium Puzzle being assembled under the scanning simulation of the supercomputer.

President Kaiba didn't even turn around when he came in, but he seemed to instinctively know the identity of the person coming.

"Yugi said it took him eight years to complete this thing." Kaiba said calmly without looking back, "And I will finish it in six hours."

Yuei Vu thought and organized his words and tentatively said to the president, "President, have you ever considered that maybe digging graves is wrong?"

It was said that we should let the deceased sleep. Atem finally let go of everything to rest in peace in the underworld. Wouldn't it be inappropriate for you to dig him up like this after he has been lying there for a year?"

However, the president only gave him a cold look.

Peace?

He can rest in peace, so what about me?

I won't allow him to escape before our conflict has the final result!

Yuei Vu couldn't help but mutter: "The point is, if he has to wait until you can defeat him, President, it will be too difficult. By then, I'm afraid he won't be able to buy a ticket back to the underworld."

"What did you say?"

"Nothing."

Obviously, this argument was not feasible. The president seemed not to think there is anything wrong with his grave-digging behavior at all.

In fact, let alone digging graves, he had played cards with Aigami in Atem's grave before, and even destroyed the grave directly without thinking there was anything wrong with it.

Yuei Vu decided to change his way of approaching.

Isn't the president the most superstitious about science? Okay, then let's reason with him from a scientific point of view.

As we all know, the souls of the deceased and the underworld are all superstitious and unscientific from the perspective of modern science. People say that the souls of the deceased are still there. After all, it is just a relief to the living.

President, don't you always say that all kinds of supernatural are nonsense?

How can a dead person come back to life?

But the president said "Humph" again: It was just the limitation of modern science. Some phenomena cannot be explained yet due to the limitations of the times, but I will find out the principle sooner or later!

Yuei Vu: ""

Damn it, president, why didnt you say that when Atem was still here?

I still remember that whenever Atem mentioned metaphysics to the president in the past, you would always say "I won't listen, I won't accept, blah blah blah." Now that he's gone, you actually change your tone?!

Yuei Vu was helpless and reminded the president that Atem was not the only Duel King back then.

You have never defeated Atem, but have you ever defeated me?

Why do you have to be so obsessed with someone who is already dead?

However, he couldn't help but shut up when the president glared at him with a ferocious "What? Do you want to play cards?" look.

The president snorted again: "Don't worry, sooner or later there will be an end between you and me. But before that, I still have some loans to settle with this guy."

Yuei Vu: ""

Good guy, President, do you still want to catch two fishes with both hands?

Playing cards with a Duel King is not enough fun, you want to play with two?!

Yuei Vu was really helpless now.

He finally saw that President Kaiba's determination was unshakable. His current mentality may be "Either you come back to the earth, or I go to the underworld to find you. In short, you can't escape from this duel no matter what, Yugi"

Yuei Vu felt that there was nothing he could do. After thinking about it, he felt that the last person left in the world who might be able to stop the president's growing obsession with Atem was Muto Yugi.

In terms of missing Atem, there may be no one in the world who could compare with Yugi. But even so, Yugi didn't show even a moment's hesitation when sending Atem away, shaking Atem's determination to return to the underworld.

Yuei Vu thought that if that didn't work out, he might as well tell Yugi the whole story and arrange for him to play cards with President Kaiba to see if he could help Kaiba get rid of this idea.

But for Yugi who may have finally gotten over the sadness of parting, this may be a bit cruel.

After giving up trying for the time being, Yuei Vu sighed and changed the subject: "President, Mokuba told me that you met the opponent named Aigami' and you let him go?"

Mokuba described the process to him, and it was roughly the same as the development in the movie, but there were some minor differences.

Mokuba said that of all the people from Kaiba Corp who went to that temple, almost all the armed bodyguards were sent to another dimension by the Aigami using some metaphysical means. The only ones who came back in the end were Kaiba, Mokuba, and Isono.

Kaiba was a superhuman, and Mokuba was suspected of being the crown prince of Konohagakure. However, its a bit intriguing how Uncle Isono escaped unscathed.

Maybe Isono was the real boss behind the scenes (crossed out)

Kaiba glanced sideways at him and hummed in reply.

"Have you never considered catching him?"

"Why should I do this?" Kaiba asked.

"Uh, because of the recent missing persons incident in Domino? Maybe those are related to Aigami?"

"Not interested." Kaiba crossed his arms, "It has nothing to do with me. Just leave that kind of matter to the police. It's not our company's responsibility."

Yuei Vu was surprised.

It turns out that Domino still has polices?!

But President, even if there is a police force, I dont think they can help you!

After all, they can't beat Aigami in playing cards.

What? Does the police station have to play cards when arresting people?

This is really not a joke.

Fudo Yusei, the protagonist of "Yu-Gi-Oh! 5DS", was chased around by police for three days in New Domino City. However, the police could not catch him from beginning to end because they could not win every time he played cards.

"Scan completed."

It was then that the computer emitted a soft electronic beep.

All the components stopped, the laser stopped scanning, and the device stopped functioning, but the Millennium Puzzle was not finished.

"What's going on?" Kaiba said with a cold face.

"The program cannot continue to execute." The computer replied, "The shapes of the final fragments do not match and cannot be assembled."

Kaiba figured out the problem quickly.

Did that guy Aigami secretly replace the pieces of the Millennium Puzzle?

"Aigami!"

President Kaiba, who had said it was none of his business just a second ago, suddenly turned gloomy.

Looks like someone was going to have a tough time.

Chapter 674: Aigami's Heart is Tired and Wanted to Retire

Domino Center Restaurant.

"Muto Yugi."

Aigami stood somewhere hidden on the edge of the circular corridor on the second floor of the restaurant, leaning against the metal fence, looking coldly at Muto Yugi at the table below.

For them, Prana, Muto Yugi was another obstacle besides Kaiba.

If the Pharaoh returned from the underworld, they would lose the ability to dimensionally ascend. So one of the biggest threats to them was Kaiba who stubbornly insisted on digging graves to play cards, and the other threat was Muto Yugi, the container of the Pharaoh in this world.

Even if Kaiba really put the thousand-year-old bricks back together, it would be useless. The return of the Pharaoh must have a container that existed in the present world. Muto Yugi was a necessary factor in reviving the Pharaoh's soul, and it would never be successful without him.

Logically speaking, if Aigami could find a way to eliminate Yugi, then no matter what Kaiba did, the Pharaoh would never come back.

So this was what Aigami was planning in his heart.

As for whether he could beat Muto Yugi?

Ha, what a joke!

He is nothing more than a vessel for Pharaoh. Who doesn't know that he got the title of Duel King by hiring a substitute leveler?

How can I, Aigami, lose to this guy?

Maybe I can't beat the substitute leveler, can I still not beat the one who hired the substitute leveler?

""

It had to be said that Aigami, as a BOSS, was not only poorly informed but also had no clue about his positioning. He obviously did not know what kind of terrifying existence he was preparing to challenge.

In two hours of the movie, if President Kaiba's daily torture of AI Bot was not counted, there were a total of four card games, three of which included the BOSS Aigami.

Then Aigami lost two of these three games, and in the other game, he pulled out the screws and ran away when he was about to lose. With this level of record, it was even comparable to his senpai, Mr. Ma, the villain in Battle City.

The key was that he also inherited the common characteristic that Yu-Gi-Oh villains always had. In the movie, this guy fought Kaiba and Yugi separately, and in the end, he was not even satisfied and wanted to fight Yugi and Kaiba team up together. His arrogance was comparable to that of the thousand-year-old BOSS Darzt who was now buried in a grave.

But as the saying goes, "Join the dark side to become three times stronger". After being evilized, Aigami fought in a 1vs2 battle and even defeated President Kaiba in the process. He should be considered as winning half the game, a record that was better than Mr. Ma back then.

Marik's dueling skills and face art were both classics handed down from generation to generation, and have been unshakable for countless years.

Aigami was brewing a conspiracy in his heart and was playing with the "Quantum Cube" that was missing a corner. The eighth Millennium Item exuded a dim orange-red light in his hand, making his face look sinister and dark.

"Wow, brother, your clothes are exactly the same as Mr. Yugi's!"

Aigami, who was staring down gloomily, was startled. He quickly turned around and saw the innocent jellyfish-headed child with innocence written all over his face.

Aigami: "!"

Isn't this kid the one who was next to Yugi just now? When did he?

Aigami was a little wary.

He remembered that this kid seemed to be the student of the Duel King named Yuei Vu, and he was the champion of the last KC Cup, so he was worth paying attention to.

"Kid, why are you here?"

"I came here to find the toilet." Judai looked around confusedly, "But the toilet doesn't seem to be here."

"The toilet is over there." Aigami pointed him in the right direction.

"Oh, thank you, big brother!" Judai smiled brightly, "But big brother, where did you buy your clothes? They are exactly the same as Mr. Yugi's!"

Aigami: ""

However, he still showed a gentle smile: "You are talking about these clothes because this is a school uniform. Mr. Yugi and I are students of the same school."

"Wow, big brother, what is this?"

Judai noticed that Aigami was holding a cube with one corner missing. His eyes lit up and he reached out to touch it.

Aigami quickly drew back his hand to avoid it, and steam appeared on his forehead uncontrollably.

It felt like a naughty kid from elementary school came to the house, and he looked surprised when he discovered your treasured limited edition figure.

This Quantum Cube is a Millennium Item!

A 3000-year-old artifact!

Can you afford to pay for the damage?

Of course, he just roared in his heart, but he definitely couldn't say that with his mouth.

Calm down, be calm. Aigami said to himself.

He's just a child, just fooling around. I can't behave childishly like him.

Aigami continued with a kind smile: "This, this is an antique. It used to be from Egypt. This is a treasure I got from a very important person to me."

"Huh?" Little Judai noticed a golden eye embedded in the missing edge of the Quantum Cube,
"This eye"

Aigami's heart tightened.

Indeed, this Eye of Anubis was the symbol of the Quantum Cube as a "Millennium Item".

Each of the seven Millennium Items in the past would be decorated with such an eye symbol. The temple where the battle ceremony took place a year ago also had such an eye, called the "Eye of Truth", which witnessed the final showdown between the Pharaoh and Yugi.

Judai stared at these eyes for a long time. His big eyes suddenly widened and his small mouth slowly opened, as if he thought of something terrible.

Aigami was secretly shocked.

Did this kid notice the connection between the Quantum Cube and the Millennium Items?

It was really hard for Aigami not to be nervous. The identity of Duel King Yuei Vu was a mystery. Rumor said that he could control the Three Egyptian Gods, and he was even responsible for the defeat of the Great Evil God Zorc. Aigami still can't figure out the details of this duel king.

Although the person in front of him was a child, he was after all the Duel King's only apprentice.

Maybe he also hides some secret?

Aigami's eyes sharpened, his expression gradually became sinister, and there was a cold murderous look in his eyes.

This child cannot be kept!

Aigami's thoughts flashed, and the golden light spots representing the power of Prana gradually appeared on his forehead. He was going to activate the Quantum Cube and use the power of Prana to banish this naughty kid to another dimension.

But suddenly he saw Judai pointing at the cube and laughing loudly: "Hahahaha! These eyes are so funny, so funny, so stupid.

Hey, brother, why did you fall? "

"Ahem, I'm fine." Aigami smiled awkwardly, "Yeah, it's quite funny."

Aigami: Heart is Tired and Wanted to Retire. JPG.

"By the way, big brother," Judai spoke again.

Aigami weakly responded: "What?"

He was trying to figure out how to send this troublesome kid away without getting suspicious.

How about directly rewriting his memory and making him forget about himself?

Prana had the "super consciousness" that transcended ordinary people. It could give other people wrong impressions to a certain extent and achieve the effect of rewriting memories.

But for some reason, he always felt that there was an instinctive voice in his heart telling him that this child was not simple and that he had better not do this, so he did not take action.

Aigami was just thinking about it when he heard Judai ask again: "By the way, big brother, what are you doing here? Why do you peek at Mr. Yugi?"

Aigami almost fell down again.

"Ahem, kid, are you mistaken? I didn't peek."

"Ah!" Judai's pupils shrank, as if he suddenly thought of something, and took two steps back, "Are you?"

Aigami: "!"

Damn it! This disciple of the Duel King, did he notice that something was wrong?

The Aigami's murderous thoughts reappeared, and the school uniform clothes moved automatically without wind. The Quantum Cube energy in his hand gradually became active, and orange-red light gradually emerged from the inside.

"You're a fan of Mr. Yugi!"

Aigami: ""

Judai put his hands on his hips proudly: "Actually, I am a fan of Mr. Yugi too. I can take you to see Mr. Yugi, big brother."

Judai said, looking directly into Aigami's pupils that seemed to be emitting golden light, and seemed to suddenly feel dizzy before his eyes. He staggered back a few steps, holding his dizzy head. He felt the world spinning for no reason, and his body crooked and fell to the side.

Aigami had a gloomy face, and a golden light shone on his forehead.

This child cannot be kept!

I must send you to another dimension today!

Aigami thought so, and the power of the Quantum Cube was activated. The comatose Judai was gradually covered by a burst of pale golden light, and it seemed that he was about to be exiled away from this dimension.

Aigami's expression suddenly changed at this moment.

He saw a half-human half-demon figure that had feminine features appear in front of him and stared at him coldly.

"I don't know who you are." Yubel said coldly, "But whatever you are doing will stop here."

Chapter 675: Dimension Banishment

"Monster spirit?"

Aigami's eyes changed slightly, and he was slightly surprised for a moment.

But it was only for a moment.

After all, he held an artifact called the "Quantum Cube" in his hand, as well as the support of all Prana's companions.

Duelists in the other world all know that the Millennium Items were the ultimate props in the underground world. The most typical example was the "Millennium Eye" that Pegasus received. The power of the Millennium Eye transformed Pegasus from an ordinary person who knew nothing to the strongest overlord who ruled the global underground world.

Each of the Millennium Items was a divine prop, and could not be matched by the power of just a monster spirit.

In addition, duel monster spirits had limited power in the real world. Not only did they have limited activity time in reality, but it was also difficult for them to exert their full strength without the support of their masters.

Even for the most powerful beings like the Three Egyptian Gods, they were only three cards without the control of the master. Although they could also use their divine power to impose divine punishment, what they could do was very limited.

Because of this, the three Egyptian Gods were restrained by the power of Orichalcos, which was supposed to be far inferior to them. It was precisely because of this that in the original work, the three brothers were tragically used by Dazrt as the offering to the God of Orichalcos, and all their divine power was drained by the evil god.

Although Aigami did not recognize Yubel, he also discovered that Judai who was unconscious next to him was Yubel's master.

What's there to fear about a masterless spirit?

No matter how strong she is, can she still be stronger than the three Egyptian Gods?

"A mere spirit." Aigami twitched the corner of his mouth and sneered, "You have no idea what you are facing."

Half a minute later.

Bang!

Aigami flew backward, leaped across the empty platform, and hit the wall behind with his back heavily.

I'm careless.

He wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth and spat.

Yubel spread her dark and ferocious wings and walked forward slowly, his eyes of different colors shining like eternal flames in the darkness.

"How dare you attack Judai?!" Yubel said solemnly, "Stupid human being, you have violated a taboo that must not be touched!"

She still clearly remembered what Yuei Vu warned her back then.

If she acted too arrogantly and turned too many people into vegetative states and sent them to the hospital, Judai would definitely raise questions.

She knew Judai was a kind child. If he found out that it was Yubel who hurt others, he might really dump her as Yuei Vu had warned.

That is absolutely unacceptable!

So Yubel made up her mind to change her approach this time.

This time she was going to crush the other party into slag, not even leaving ashes!

Judai would definitely not be able to find it this way!

Yubel: I'm so witty. JPG.

Aigami wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth and stood up holding on to the wall. Yubel's body was clearly reflected in his cold golden pupils. The Quantum Cube seemed to come alive and float beside him on its own. The golden eyes in one corner of the cube were like the gaze of a devil.

He was indeed a little bloated and underestimated the enemy, but that didn't hurt.

After all, the Quantum Cube was not an artifact that was good at fighting.

"I see, it seems that you are indeed a special spirit." Aigami chuckled, "But you are not from this dimension, are you?"

"You can actually detect this. It seems that you are also a unique human being."

Yubel paused and sneered in a low voice.

"But that doesn't matter, you're done here anyway."

"That's not necessarily true." Aigami smiled. "You come from another world, which may make you feel special. But the fact is that this will become your biggest weakness."

"What are you saying?"

Yubel began to sense that something was wrong.

She heard some gibbering, like someone muttering in the dark.

Then there were pairs of eyes, orange-red, like will-o'-the-wisps, which were lit up one after another from the surrounding dark space. All kinds of people appeared around. They were all different in height, short, fat, and thin, and they were dressed in different ways, but they had the same eyes as if they were carved from the same mold.

That made them look like a unified and complete individual.

Yubel was surprised when there were so many people around, but she soon realized that was not the case.

It wasn't these people who appeared next to her.

Instead, she was moved into their territory unknowingly.

She didn't know since when they had left the space where they were originally. Now they were in a dark and lightless realm, with no entities and no scenery around them.

"We are Prana."

Aigami stepped forward from among the black shadows.

"We possess a super consciousness' far beyond that of any conventional creature. By attuning all of our consciousnesses, we can banish anyone from this dimension."

He paused and smiled.

"And you, an existence that does not belong to this dimension at all, are like a shadow that has never existed, a virus. You are not accepted by anyone, and you are not recognized by anyone.

You are an isolated individual, like an isolated island in this dimension. "

Aigami's eyes were stern and his voice was cold.

"It's easy to expel you from this dimension."

The Quantum Cube levitated, emitting strange orange-red light and heat. The cube flew high into the air, watched by all the shadows, like the sun in this space.

"Go to hell!"

Yubel raised her palm and blasted an energy bomb towards Aigami.

But it's no use. Aigami just stood there, not even bothering to avoid it. His body was like a massless holographic projection. The energy impact flew past his face, passed through his body strangely, and disappeared without a trace at the other side of the dimension.

"It's useless." Aigami sneered, "Essentially, we are not even in the same dimension anymore. I am only talking to you in the gap between the two dimensions. So no matter how hard you try, you can't touch me."

Yubel ignored his words. She was still trying her best, using various means to attack Aigami, or try to find an exit, trying to understand the principle of how Aigami's power worked, and looking for a way to escape from this endless cage.

Just like what Aigami said, she was originally a heretic who broke into other dimensions without permission, a virus. She had almost no interaction with the world and was literally alone.

Aigami cut her off from the Internet called "The World" and kicked her into this unknown dimension. She was like a bird locked in an infinite cage, unable to find an exit no matter how hard she flew.

Yubel, who appeared in the GX animation, possessed the power of dimensional movement. She could distort dimensions and time and space according to her own will, and could even accomplish the feat of moving the entire Duel Academy to a different dimensional space.

But the current her didn't have such a power.

This was a concept that Yubel had never encountered before, a power that she had never been exposed to. Maybe she could find a way to crack it, but she would need time.

"You can wander in this infinite dimension forever."

Aigami sneered and made a gesture. The shining cube in the sky flipped rapidly and released its power again.

He was ready to leave, to leave this dimension completely. Yubel would be exiled to this corner of this dimension forever until the end of time.

But he actually failed.

The rotation of the dimensional cube stopped as if an invisible hand was holding the cube. Aigami felt as if someone had given his body a heavy blow and blasted him out of the dimensional gap.

"What's the situation?"

Aigami fell on his knees in front of Yubel. He was surprised to feel another existence, an extremely powerful existence far beyond ordinary human consciousness, domineeringly breaking into their dimension.

Yubel's heterochromatic pupils shrank, and her face showed an expression of surprise and joy.

Overwhelming pressure and endless darkness enveloped this dimension like the clouds before the storm. A figure appeared out of thin air in everyone's eyes. Although he was only the size of a child, he looked solemn and cold, with an aura like an ancient king.

The mist that filled the space obscured his face, and only the pair of golden pupils that seemed to be burning pierced through the darkness, like a pair of sharp and hot daggers, which made people dare not look directly.

Aigami was wrong.

Yubel was not alone in this world, not a completely isolated island.

There was another person who was closely connected to her from her past life to this life, even across time, space, dimensions, and reincarnation.

His name was

Supreme King!

Chapter 676: You Are In Trouble!

The young boy slowly walked out from behind the misty fog, revealing his appearance and posture.

He was not tall, had a small body, had a jellyfish-like hairstyle, wore casual children's clothes, and had an "E" icon that represented Elemental HERO hanging on his chest.

But none of this mattered.

All these seemed insignificant in front of his pair of golden eyes that made people fear from the bottom of their hearts and made people instinctively dare not look at them.

"Judai?"

Yubel didn't know whether to be happy or worried.

Judai had the power of the Supreme King sealed within his body. That power came from his previous life and was perhaps one of the most mighty powers in all dimensions. Yubel knew this, so she wasn't surprised.

But for the current Judai, this power was still a little too early.

Power comes with a price. Judai in this life was still just a child. He still needed to grow up and needed more time to adapt.

This was exactly the meaning of Yubel's existence. She was the knight who protected the king. She would defeat anyone who coveted this power and carefully protect Judai's growth until he could stand alone.

But what was happening now was a mistake, he shouldn't have woken up so early.

Yubel's eyes fell on the cube floating in Aigami's hand.

Was it the influence of that thing that caused the Supreme King to awaken?

Of course, Aigami's reaction at this time was even more shocking.

He had already recognized that the one in front of him was the jellyfish-headed child that had been bothering him endlessly, or at least someone looked exactly the same.

The reason why he couldn't say for sure was because the other party's aura was completely different from the child just now. Aigami felt as if a completely different soul had been inserted into the child's body in just a few minutes. Looking directly at him made people want to kneel as if they were worshiping the supreme king.

"Won't the power of the Quantum Cube' work on him?" Aigami murmured.

This was not without precedent.

The "Quantum Cube" could kick most people out of this dimension, but this was not absolute. It was ineffective for some people.

For example, Seto Kaiba, who was unswervingly superstitious about science countered the Aigami's domain with one move of "Materialist Light".

Another example was the God of Gamblers, who was protected by the goddess of luck (wrong)

In the anime, Aigami also tried to force Jonouchi to offline but failed in the end. The explanation in the anime is that the bond between Jonouchi and his friends transcended dimensions.

We generally had a general term for this kind of people: cheater.

Aigami looked at the young man with golden eyes in front of him and fell into a brief thought.

Could it be that this guy's self-awareness is stronger than our Prana, so the Quantum Cube is ineffective against him?

At this time, Judai's consciousness has gone offline, and now the person who took over this body is the king of twelve different dimensions, "Supreme King". This king had been sleeping for an unknown number of years. He might have been in a daze, but the first thing he did after waking up was to create a black Duel Disk with a strange shape and a metaphysical aspect on his arm without saying a word.

In short, the Supreme King wanted to play cards.

Aigami, who unfortunately appeared in front of the Supreme King who had just woken up, clearly played the role of "give him a pillow as soon as he fell asleep", and was very lucky to be chosen as the Supreme King's first opponent.

"Do you want to duel with me?" Aigami sneered, "Stupid."

Although Aigami was an orphan who was picked up and raised by Shadi, he didn't really have many opportunities to fight against real strong people, he was so confident that he could punch Yugi and kick Yuei Vu to prove he was the best of the world.

But speaking of it, he had just suffered a loss from playing cards with President Kaiba last night. If he hadn't teleported and ran so fast, he might have been dead by now.

But it doesn't matter!

Aigami's confidence was still swollen.

I'm unable to beat Kaiba who doesn't care about the duelist's honor and print cards from the floor. How can I be unable to beat you, a little kid who jumped out of nowhere?

Aigami really didn't believe in bad luck today!

"Then come on!" Aigami shouted, "I'll let you personally feel the gap in strength between us and realize your stupidity!"

Yubel crossed her arms and stood aside, assuming the standard attitude of an audience and remaining silent.

She was indeed a little uneasy about Judai's unexpected awakening, but she put aside the doubts for the time being and just chuckled softly, ready to watch the show.

In her eyes, the current Aigami has become a complete clown. He had no idea about his own abilities and had no idea what he was facing.

Supreme King, LP 4000

Aigami, LP 4000

The duel disks of both sides were activated, and the dimensional space changed again. The black shadows of Prana appeared one after another again, dark red vortexes opened in the sky, and blood-colored particles seemed to be floating around.

"This duel will be conducted using our Prana method." Aigami sneered, "It's our Dimension Duel!"

The Supreme King's face was ashen, and his expression was as stiff as a Terminator. He silently drew five cards from the deck, and his eyes as cold as knives seemed to be saying silently

It doesn't matter if you play by the rules of a different dimension or not, you're going to die today anyway.

"I'll go first, draw!"

Aigami, who took the lead, did not rush to attack but tried to read some useful information from the opponent's eyes and face.

Analyzing body movements and reading expressions was also a major part of dueling, and psychological warfare often played a vital role. Many duelists couldn't help but express their emotions about the situation and their cards, making them easy to predict.

In this regard, Aigami was quite confident in himself. Just as he felt that he was gifted with extraordinary dueling skills, he also felt that he should be a master of psychological warfare.

But after just a few seconds of trying, he gave up the idea.

Because it may be easier to read useful information from a dead person's face than it is to Supreme King.

Aigami drew a card from his hand.

"I summon Vijam the Cubic Seed' in attack position!"

The dimension shook, golden waves emerged, and a one-eye being opened its eyelids under the bloody sky. The huge Cubic monster had a strange body pieced together by countless surging golden particles. It had sickle-like arms on both sides. There was no head above the deformed neck, only one big eye.

[Vijam the Cubic Seed, ATK 0]

"Set a card, I end my turn."

After finishing the simple formation, Aigami curled up the corners of his mouth and revealed a provocative smile.

"Just come here, kid." He said, "Soon, I will let you know about the horror of Dimension Duel and Cubic monsters!"

But the Supreme King didn't even look at him.

"My turn, draw."

He drew a card, and the sound without warmth was like a cold machine.

Chapter 677: Evil HERO

"Draw."

The Supreme King's eyes moved down and landed on the card he had drawn. This made his golden pupils look a bit ferocious under the cover of countless dark red particles.

His expression did not change, his eyes flickered slightly, and he seemed to be aware of the subtle differences in the rules of this duel.

"Spell Card Take Over 5. Send the top 5 cards of my Deck to the Graveyard."

Supreme King drew five cards from the top of the deck and placed them at the entrance to his black Duel Disk's tomb area. That position was like opening a huge mouth and swallowing five cards into it.

Then the Supreme King calmly drew another card from his hand: "Dimension Summon! Evil HERO Malicious Edge."

The particles in the special dimension surged, as if being drawn by invisible forces and gathered in one place. The swirling particles gradually transformed into entities, a thin but powerful figure, arms and sharp claws protruding from the darkness. The dark blue hero wore a dark mask, and the mouth exposed under the mask sneered sinisterly.

[Evil HERO Malicious Edge, ATK 0 ATK 2600]

Only then did Yubel realize what was special about this duel: "Can high-level monsters be summoned directly without sacrifices?"

Aigami narrowed his eyes: "Did you notice the difference in the rules of Dimension Duel' so quickly?"

In "Dimension Duel", how much attack power the summoned monster could exert depended on the duelist's own soul power. But the kid just lightly patted the card to summon the monster. Without even moving his eyelids, the monster's attack power surged to its maximum.

This kid is indeed no ordinary person!

"Battle!" The Supreme King's voice fell coldly, like an ancient king issuing a verdict, "Evil HERO Malicious Edge, attacks the Vijam the Cubic Seed'."

The Evil HERO smiled crookedly. He kicked off his feet and jumped into the air with amazing jumping power. He swung his arm, and the sharp thorns shot out like raindrops, densely scanning towards the one eye of the monster in the square realm.

You are deceived.

Aigami showed a proud chuckle and raised his hand to open the set card in front of him.

"Open the set card: Trap Card Cubic Ascension!" Aigami shouted, "When the opponent's monster declares an attack, Special Summon 1 Vijam the Cubic Seed' from my Deck, and change the attack target to it!

Countless golden particles were released from the trap, forming a golden vortex. The spinning one-eye emerged from the whirlpool. It was the second "Vijam the Cubic Seed", the starting point for almost all tactics of the Cubic deck.

[Vijam the Cubic Seed, ATK 0]

"Although the number of monsters on the field has changed, according to the effect of Cubic Ascension', Battle Replay won't occur and your attack cannot be stopped."

Aigami's smile was like a mockery of the ignorant.

But the Supreme King was unmoved at all: "Then Malicious Edge will attack the second Vijam the Cubic Seed'."

The sharp claws were thrown out of the demon's hand, cutting the air with a piercing sound.

But just before the blow was about to hit, Vijam the Cubic Seed, who was selected as the target, disappeared.

The blade thrown by the demon hit the ground with a clanging metal impact, but the Cubic monster turned transparent and disappeared from the trajectory of his attack with a burst of golden light.

Immediately afterward, even the body of Malicious Edge began to change. The Evil HERO saw in horror that his hands and feet began to become transparent and corroded as if soaked in water, and even the armor on his body was in pieces.

Vijam the Cubic Seed cannot be destroyed by battle. Aigami said, And after Vijam fights the opponents monster, it can move itself to the spell and trap area.

After that, the opponent's monsters that fought with Vijam' will be de-dimensionalized'. Monsters that have been de-dimensionalized' cannot attack and their effects are negated! "

Yubel next to him frowned: "But battle damage still needs to be calculated."

The battle just now was established. Malicious Edge's attack power was 2600, while Vijam's attack power was only 0. Logically speaking, Aigami should suffer a high amount of 2600 points of battle damage.

"The battle between monsters in Dimension Duel' will not cause battle damage." Aigami said, "Only when one of the monsters is defeated, the controller will be damaged by the attack power of that monster."

Yubel snorted: "Are they all rules that are beneficial to you?"

"Whatever you say." Aigami said, "Even the duel of us Prana transcends dimensions!"

"Set two cards." Supreme King raised his arm, and there were two more cover cards in front of him, "I end my turn."

Yubel crossed her arms, folded her wings, and stood aside without speaking.

It didn't matter what the duel was or what the rules were, my Judai would definitely win.

Because he is the Supreme King, the most powerful being in all dimensions!

"It's my turn, draw!"

Aigami waved his hand.

"I activate the effect of Vijam the Cubic Seed' placed in the S/T area! During my Main Phase, I can Special Summon this card from my Spell & Trap Zone!

Come back to the field, Vijam! "

[Vijam the Cubic Seed, ATK 0]

"Then I normal summon the third Vijam the Cubic Seed' from my hand!"

One-eyed Cubic monsters continued to appear. Now there were three Vijam on Aigami's field!

"When there are three Cubic Seed' monsters on the field, this guy can be Special Summoned from the hand!" Aigami raised a card in his hand, "Come on Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth! ! ! "

Flames and thunder and lightning rolled up on the field in front of Aigami. The surging golden energy gathered and condensed the body of an island-like floating monster. The lightning radiated from the body and exploded in all directions.

[Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth, ATK 0]

"Then, the three Vijam the Cubic Seed' on the field all overlap under the Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth'!"

Aigami stuffed three cards into the same monster area on the Duel Disk.

"For every monster card overlapped below the Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth', its attack power increases by 1,000 points!"

[Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth, ATK 0 ATK 3000]

"Tremble under the terror of Cubic monsters!" Aigami shouted, "Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth, attack Evil HERO Malicious Edge!"

The huge monster charged. Its only eye rotated strangely, and three beams of flames mixed with electric current poured out like the Yellow River!

"Remove the Necro Gardna' in the graveyard from the game." Supreme King drew a card from the graveyard area of the Duel Disk, "Negate the next attack from a monster you control."

The hot and heavy bombardment only hit the cold phantom. The ghostly guardian tenaciously blocked the full-force bombardment of the Cubic Behemoth, but it disappeared immediately after contributing its own strength.

"Beautiful defense, but what are you going to do with the next attack?" Aigami sneered, "Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth, attacks again!"

Yubel on the side murmured: "Does that Cubic monster have the ability to attack continuously?"

Brilliant golden lightning surged, and pillars of fire erupted from the body of the Cubic Behemoth. The frightening and terrifying energy brewed again, like a beam of volcanic lava burning through the atmosphere, and like lightning piercing the sky.

"Open the set card: Trap Card Intrigue Shield." Supreme King said, "Equip it to Evil HERO Malicious Edge'. The equipped monster will not be destroyed by battle once per turn, and the battle damage caused to players will also be 0."

Of course, there was no battle damage under the "Dimension Duel" rules.

The golden shield engraved with exquisite relief appeared in the hands of Malicious Edge, helping him once again tenaciously withstand the devastating blow of the super beast from the square realm. The turbulence of electric light and surging flames violently washed away the shield, and the floor around the Supreme King was burned with black smoke.

"Blocked again?" Aigami frowned, "Then Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth', attacks for the third time!"

Yubel was surprised: "This monster can attack three times in one turn?"

This was indeed the monster effect of "Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth", but three attacks were also its limit.

However, the Supreme King seemed to have no means of defense for the time being. The Cubic Behemoth released a roar of thunder, and the hot lightning penetrated the body of Malicious Edge. The hero's armor was shattered and burned to ashes by the high temperature.

[Supreme King, LP 4000 LP 1400]

A strong impact strong enough to overturn the car hit him head-on, and the airwave was as hot as a steam iron. But the Supreme King just stood there upright and withstood the impact, not even closing his golden eyes for a moment. His small body was as straight as an iron flagpole.

"This guy"

Aigami frowned but didn't say anything more.

"Set three cards, I end my turn!"

Chapter 678: You Have Luckily Survived

"My turn, draw."

The Supreme King drew a card, glanced at it, temporarily added that card to his hand, and then took out another card from his hand.

"Summon the Keeper of Dragon Magic'."

[Keeper of Dragon Magic, ATK 0 ATK 1800]

"The effect of Keeper of Dragon Magic'. If this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can discard 1 card; add 1 Polymerization' Normal Spell Card or Fusion' Normal Spell Card from my Deck to my hand."

A card in the Supreme King's hand was swallowed by the Duel Disk, and then another card was automatically ejected from the deck.

"Add the Spell Card Dark Fusion' to my hand."

Aigami saw the Spell Card clearly the moment he showed it briefly, and couldn't help but secretly pay attention to it.

Dark Fusion?

A fusion card I've never heard of.

"Set a card on the field." The Supreme King obviously concealed the "Dark Fusion" just retrieved on the field. "Then activate the Spell Card Card of Sanctity'. Each player draws until they have 6 cards in their hand."

The Supreme King pulled out six cards in one breath and spread them out in his hand. His golden eyes quickly swept over the new cards in his hand, and then he raised his eyelids and pointed at the monsters on his field again.

"Keeper of Dragon Magic's subsequent effect." He said, "Once per turn, I can reveal 1 Fusion Monster in my Extra Deck; Special Summon 1 of the Fusion Materials mentioned on that monster from my GY in face-down Defense Position.

Supreme King revealed a Fusion Monster card.

"What I'm showing is Evil HERO Inferno Wing'. According to the effect of Keeper of Dragon Magic', the fusion material Elemental HERO Avian' in the graveyard is Special Summoned in face-down Defense Position."

Evil HERO Inferno Wing corresponded to the classic "Flame Wingman" among Elemental HEROes. They were basically the same in terms of artwork, monster effects, and fusion conditions.

But the weird thing was that Flame Wingman was obviously a man, but somehow, after joining the dark side, he turned into a girl.

The Keeper of Dragon Magic waved the spear in his hand, and a dark vortex opened beside him. The winged hero flew out, only briefly showing his face, and then turned back into a face-down state and covered the field with a card.

An extra grid popped up on the side of the Supreme King's Duel Disk.

"The Field Spell Supreme King's Castle' is activated!"

With a tone that was non-negotiable, the Field Spell was placed in that area and absorbed into the duel disk. Powerful dark power erupted from the Supreme King as the center, and the terrain of the different dimension was rapidly transformed by that power.

The winding road stretches out like a snake, and a huge castle rises from the ground soaring into the sky. Gloomy black clouds enveloped the towering castle, and the fire of hell burned under the suspended bridge.

The Castle of the Supreme King was a domain ruled by the king of different dimensions.

"Open the set card." Supreme King turned over the card that was just set, "Spell Card Dark Fusion. Fusion Summon 1 Fiend Fusion Monster from my Extra Deck, using monsters from my hand or field as Fusion Material.

I fuse the Elemental HERO Avian' on the field and the Elemental HERO Burstinatrix' in my hand.

Dark Fusion!

Set the whole world on fire with the fire of hell

Evil HERO Inferno Wing! "

It was still the fusion of Avian and Burstinatrix who could be called a model working couple, but the atmosphere is completely different from the past. What is born from the vortex of the elements was no longer a hero who was full of energy and brought hope. Instead, it was an evil demon that had fallen into darkness, revealing gloom and despair.

The hero flew into the air, spreading her demonic wings that seemed to be blackened by ink. The dark eyepiece covered most of her face, and even the whirlwind of flames that rolled up when she soared was cold and dim.

[Evil HERO Inferno Wing, ATK 0 ATK 2100]

"The power of the Elemental HEROes combined into an evil one?" Aigami frowned, "I have never heard of such a hero."

"Battle!" Supreme King said, "Evil HERO Inferno Wing, attack the Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth'.

"Attack with a monster with lower attack power?" Aigami asked.

Does this Evil HERO have hidden special abilities?

This evil female hero gave him a very bad premonition, and an instinctive impulse told him that he must seize this opportunity to fight back.

"Quick-Play Spell Shrink!" Aigami chose to flip the set card here, "Choose a monster on the field, and its attack power becomes half of its original attack power until the end of the turn!

I halved the attack power of the Evil HERO Inferno Wing! "

The monster summoned by the real card's "Dark Fusion" could not become the target of the effect this turn, but the description of "Dark Fusion" in the animation was "The summoned monster will not be destroyed by the effect this turn", so the effect of Shrink here was effective.

[Evil HERO Inferno Wing, ATK 2100 ATK 1050]

"The effect of the Field Spell Supreme King's Castle'." Supreme King didn't seem to notice this change at all, and just continued on by himself, " Once per turn, during damage calculation, if my Fiend monster battles an opponent's monster: I can send 1 Evil HERO' monster from my Deck or Extra Deck to the GY; my monster gains ATK equal to the Level of the monster sent to the GY x 200, until the end of this turn."

Another card popped up in Supreme King's deck.

"I send the Level 5 Evil HERO Sinister Necrom' from the deck to the graveyard." Supreme King said, "Inferno Wing's attack power increases by 1000 points."

Aigami felt enlightened.

The Quick-Play Spell "Shrink" could only be used before the damage calculation of the battle between monsters on both sides began, while the effect of "Supreme King Castle" was activated while the damage calculation was in progress.

In other words, if he had just hesitated and not listened to his instinct and used this "Shrink" in time, then with the effect of "Supreme King's Castle", the attack power of Inferno Wing would have reached 3100.

In that case, Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth would no longer be a match for Inferno Wing.

But now

[Evil HERO Inferno Wing, ATK 1050 ATK 2050]

"Hey, it looks like I have the upper hand after all." Aigami chuckled, "Your attack declaration can no longer be stopped, the power of the Cubic Behemoth will crush your hero.

According to the rules of Dimension Duel, you will take damage equal to the attack power of the destroyed monster, which is 2050 points.

That's the end for you! "

But there was still no fluctuation on the Supreme King's face.

He just calmly pulled out another card in his hand.

"Quick-Play Spell Forbidden Scripture."

A Spell Card emerged, and a forbidden book appeared suspended in the air. The pages of the book were slowly opened, and the majestic magic power was released like a storm, with supreme power and power, canceling all spell instructions, like countless invisible and intangible magic chains, from which nothing in the world could escape.

"Forbidden Scripture's effect When monsters on both sides fight, only during the damage calculation step, the effects of all cards on the field except this card are negated." Supreme King said coldly, "Furthermore, the damage calculation for this battle uses each monster's original ATK and DEF!"

"Nani!?" Aigami was shocked, "Oh no, the square monster's original attack power"

[Evil HERO Inferno Wing, ATK 2050 ATK 2100]

[Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth, ATK 3000 ATK 0]

At this moment, Aigami suddenly woke up.

The effect of the opponent's use of "Supreme King's Castle" just now was not actually to increase the attack power of Evil HERO Inferno Wing.

He just wanted to send the "Evil HERO Sinister Necrom" from the deck to the graveyard and earn more resources.

"The battle continues." Supreme King said, "Evil HERO Inferno Wing, attack! Inferno Blast!"

The hero's sharp claws drew icy flames in the air, The hell karma fire was contained in the power of that claw and tore the body of the square monster apart.

The majestic Cubic monster completely lost its resistance under the constraints of the holy scripture. The sharp claws sliced its body open as easily as cutting tofu, and the cold fire burned it to ashes.

Aigami crossed his arms in front of him to block the storm and cyclone. He felt as if his weight had disappeared and was almost being lifted off the ground by the suffocating storm.

"In Dimension Duel', players will be damaged by the attack power of the destroyed monster. However, when the Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth' is destroyed, its attack power is 0, so the damage is also 0."

Supreme King looked at Aigami calmly, his cold and empty tone seeming to be stating an insignificant fact.

"The effect of the Inferno Wing is to inflict damage to the opponent equal to the original ATK or DEF of the destroyed monster in the GY. Of course, also because when the Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth' is destroyed, the attack power and defense power are both 0, so this effect damage doesn't work either.

He paused and said slowly: "It seems that you have luckily survived."

Chapter 679: Evil HERO VS Cubic

"You have luckily survived."

The Supreme King's voice was still cold and hollow, without any warmth, without any emotion or even ridicule.

It's like he's really just stating this solid fact.

However, this was what made Aigami most angry.

He felt like being looked down upon. The opponent's attitude made him feel like a clown who overestimated his abilities, as if defeating him was just a piece of cake and not even a warm-up exercise.

Aigami looked directly into the opponent's golden, intimidating pupils, feeling the cold steel-knife gaze, and felt his heart getting even angrier.

"The battle is not over yet."

The Supreme King seemed completely unaware of his opponent's change in mood, or more likely, he didn't care at all even if he noticed it.

He was the Supreme King, the strongest duelist and the greatest careerist in all dimensions. He would defeat any opponent who stood in his way, defeat all the strong men in the endless dimensions, and one day would stand at the true apex.

He has never been interested in understanding his opponents, only knocking them all down.

"Keeper of Dragon Magic," Supreme King said, "attack the enemy directly."

The knight in green armor waved his spear, and his cape fluttered as he sprinted.

[Keeper of Dragon Magic, ATK 1800]

"Don't get carried away!" Aigami shouted, raising his arms high, "Open the set card: Trap Card Security Orb! When the opponent's monster declares an attack, target that attacking monster; change that target's battle position!"

This card could only be activated when an attack was declared, and all the effects activated by both parties when the Inferno Wing attacked just now were performed during the damage calculation step, so the Security Orb missed the timing.

A red spherical machine appeared on Aigami's field, and the blue ray locked on the knight who was trying to charge.

This way, he could at least avoid the damage caused by this attack.

But the Supreme King also flipped the set card immediately: "Then I activate my Trap Card - Dramatic Rescue! When a monster on my field becomes the target of a card effect, return that targeted monster to the hand, then Special Summon 1 other monster from my hand." (Animation effect)

Aigami's eyelids twitched: "A trap that replaced the monster?"

"Keeper of Dragon Magic who became the target of the Security Orb' returns to the hand." The Supreme King showed another card in his hand, "Summon the Evil HERO Infernal Gainer!"

The figure of the Keeper of Dragon Magic disappeared out of thin air, and the ray impact of the Security Orb was thrown into the air with great force.

The Evil HERO appeared from the field wearing thick demon-shaped armor. His whole body was covered with white bone spurs, and he had blade-like silver-white steel claws. The armor was shaped like a metal demon skeleton.

[Evil HERO Infernal Gainer, ATK 1600]

Aigami's expression changed: "Did you even prepare for this step?"

The effect of Evil HERO Infernal Gainer. Supreme King continued, During my own Battle Phase, if this card has not declared an attack, banish it from the field.

Then target 1 Fiend monster I control; that target can make a second attack during each Battle Phase. " (anime effect)

Aigami: "Nani!?"

The space was distorted, the current tore open the dimensional rift, and the hell demons turned into transparent phantoms and disappeared from the rift. At the same time, the attack authority of Inferno Wing was also reset, and it once again gained the ability to launch an attack.

The Supreme King ordered coldly: "Additional attack. Evil HERO Inferno Wing, attack directly!"

The evil heroine spread her wings of corruption, and she flew up, blowing with the gloomy and cold wind, and her sharp claws dragged down the scratches of hell's karma.

Inferno Blast!

The cold karmic fire that penetrated the soul, the impact of hellfire, and the painful touch that penetrated the bone marrow swept through Aigami's body. The impact of the explosion blew him high into the air, and he fell down like a kite, with his nose in close contact with the solid ground.

[Aigami, LP 4000 LP 1900]

At this point, the Supreme King's attack finally ended.

"Set three cards." Supreme King said, "I end my turn."

But Aigami was still lying on the ground and did not get up.

The pain caused by the hellfire burn still reverberated throughout his body, lingering like a hallucination. Aigami pressed his hands on the ground, tried hard to force himself to get up, and looked at the Supreme King with anger and resentment, but with a hint of fear.

This guy is simply ridiculously strong!

Looking at the jellyfish-headed child, or more exactly, the soul of the king hidden in this child's body, he felt like he was looking at an indestructible fortress loaded with ammunition.

The child's image seemed to gradually merge with the dark Supreme King City behind him, becoming unreachable and invincible.

Aigami began to doubt life a little.

Are my dueling skills not so good?

It's okay that I couldn't beat Seto Kaiba yesterday, but why couldn't I beat this little brat who appeared out of nowhere?

Lord Shadi never mentioned that there are so many cheats in the world!

"Get up." The Supreme King's cold voice sounded again, like an irresistible command, "Surrender is not allowed. You have only one choice, and that is to be defeated by me in a duel."

This sentence once again ignited the anger in Aigami's heart.

"Don't be so arrogant, kid."

He stood up, calmed his breathing, regained his composure, tried his best to pretend that the duel had just begun, and let himself return to the duel field in this dimensional realm.

"My turn!"

Aigami pulled the card hard, as if the greater the movement of the card, the more miracles it would bring to him.

"I remove the Buster Gundil the Cubic Behemoth' from the graveyard from the game, and I can return a Vijam the Cubic Seed' from the graveyard to my hand." (Animation effect)

Aigami recovered a piece of Vijam from the GY and immediately placed it down.

Summon Vijam the Cubic Seed!

[Vijam the Cubic Seed, ATK 0]

"Then activate the Spell Card Multiply!" Aigami said, "Tribute a monster with 500 or less ATK, and split that monster into any number of Tokens with the same name. (Animation effect)

I used the Vijam the Cubic Seed with 0 attack power as a sacrifice and specially summoned three Vijam the Cubic Seed Tokens! "

Vijam split under the effect of the Spell Card, split into three with the rippling golden waves, and stood side by side on the Aigami's field.

[Vijam the Cubic Seed Token, ATK 0] x3

Although they looked no different from the real "Vijam the Cubic Seed" on the outside, they were just Tokens after all, and did not have the abilities of real Cubic monsters.

The only thing they got from the original deity was appearance and a similar name.

But that's enough!

"When there are three Cubic Seed' monsters on your field, this guy can be Special Summoned!" Aigami shouted, "The light of textiles and the darkness of darkness can restore the world to its proper form and open the door to a new world!

Indiora Doom Volt the Cubic Emperor! ! ! "

The darkness seemed to swallow up the dimension, and the light seemed to brighten the entire sky. The golden light spots floating in the sky abstracted the thick palms. The white body fell heavily to the ground, and the pattern on the chest looked like a mocking grimace.

Indiora Doom Volt the Cubic Emperor, summons! ! !

Chapter 680: Oh Hell No!

Indiora was based on Indra, whose full name was "Devnm Indra", which meant "the one who can be the master of the gods in the heavens", so he was also called "Emperor Shakten". From his name alone, people could know that he must be a big god.

Of course, for many modern people, the first reaction when they see this name is probably not some Indian mythology, but the ancestor of Uchiha in the ninja village next door.

It's just that the vest of this great god in the world of Yu-Gi-Oh didn't have anything fancy like the Sharingan and Rinnegan. However, with the lightning, thunder, and constant tremors when it appeared, it didn't seem to be easy to deal with.

"When Indiora Doom Volt the Cubic Emperor is Special Summoned, overlap the three Cubic' monsters on the field below it." Aigami said in a deep voice, "This card gains 800 original ATK for each monster stacked underneath it."

[Indiora Doom Volt the Cubic Emperor, ATK 0 ATK 2400]

"Then, when Indiora Doom Volt is summoned," Aigami raised his arms, "Inflict 800 points of damage to the opponent!"

The arms of the Cubic monster began to dance, and thunderclouds seemed to be summoned in mid-air of another dimension. Pale lightning streaked through the air, making a harsh sound like a cat's claws scratching glass.

A bolt of thunder violently exploded where the Supreme King was standing. The airwave spread like a rising tide, and the light curtain almost swallowed up the short body.

The fact that his opponent had less than 1000 LP seemed to give Aigami a lot of peace of mind, which calmed his fluctuating mood a little. He raised the corners of his mouth and sneered: "How's it going? Can you understand a little bit about the power of the Cubic monsters now?"

The black smoke slowly dissipated, and the golden eyes shot out sharply. The Supreme King stood there calmly, his expression still as if made of steel.

Supreme King, LP 1400

"What?" Aigami showed a surprised expression.

"Trap Card Damage Polarizer." Supreme King said calmly, "This card can only be activated when an effect that inflicts damage is activated. Negate its activation and effect, and each player draws 1 card."

As he said that, he had already drawn the card.

Aigami curled his lips and also drew a new card.

"Are you only at this level?" Supreme King asked.

Aigami's facial muscles twitched.

"Hey." He gritted his teeth, "The ignorant boy, I will shut you up quickly! I activate the Spell Card from my hand Cubic Wave!"

A Spell Card was played, and golden radiance spread quickly like transparent ripples, covering the entire Supreme King's Castle at a speed visible to the naked eye.

"Cubic Wave's effect Target 1 Cubic' monster I control and 1 face-up monster the opponent controls; the ATK of that monster I control becomes double its current ATK, and the ATK of that monster the opponent controls becomes half its current ATK. When all the targeted monsters have left the field, destroy this card." (anime effect)

Aigami shouted: "I halved the attack power of the Evil HERO Inferno Wing' and doubled the attack power of Indiora Doom Volt the Cubic Emperor!"

[Evil HERO Inferno Wing, ATK 2100 ATK 1050]

[Indiora Doom Volt the Cubic Emperor, ATK 2400 ATK 4800]

"How about it? In this way, even with the increase of your Supreme King's Castle', your Evil HERO can't keep up with Indiora's attack power!" Aigami said.

Indeed, the Field Spell "Supreme King's Castle" required sending an "Evil HERO" monster from the deck, so that the attack power of the monster on the field increased by 200 points x the Level of the sent monster.

But now the attack power gap between Indiora Doom Volt and Inferno Wing has been widened to 3750, which means that the Supreme King needed to send a Level 19 Evil HERO in order for the Inferno Wing's attack power to overtake.

Level 19 monsters obviously didn't exist.

The corner of Aigami's mouth curled up: "Go ahead! Indiora Doom Volt the Cubic Emperor, crush the Evil HERO Inferno Wing!"

Indiora got the order and started his action. The Cubic Emperor's body began to deform, and the grimace on his chest disappeared, opening like a shell. It revealed cold eyes like blue LED lights, countless interlocking and rotating gears, and a heavy black metal cannon.

The gears moved, energy was filled, countless thunders were poured into the barrel, static electricity broke through the air, and crackling sounds sounded around the body.

Aigami's face turned grim: "Disappear!"

Supreme King's cold voice interrupted his fantasy, "Open the set card: Trap Card Chaos Burst. The moment the opponent's monster declares an attack, Tribute 1 monster, then target the attacking monster; and destroy that target.

After that, inflict 1000 damage to the opponent. "

"Nani!?"

Aigami took two steps back in shock.

"If the attacking monster is destroyed, according to the rules of this Dimension Duel, you must suffer damage equal to the attack power of your own monster, which is 2400 points. If adding an additional 1000 points of damage, the total is 3400 points."

Yubel stood aside and chuckled.

"Oh, the winner has been decided."

As expected of my Judai! He is indeed the strongest in this world!

Inferno Wing turned into countless light points and disappeared, and a whirlpool of thunder and lightning shot out from the trap card. Indiora was hit head-on, and thunder struck through his chest. The huge body of the Cubic monster burst apart, and the scorching torrent drowned the Aigami.

The Supreme King stood there with a cold face, watching his opponent's figure disappear in the explosion, his eyes like sizing up the struggling ants beside his boots.

However, Aigami still did not fall.

He was covered in cuts and bruises, panting, the light spot on his forehead flickered on and off, and blood dripped down his fingertips, but he was still alive, with burning breath coming from his nose.

Aigami, LP 500

"Oh?" Yubel said in surprise, "You still have breath?"

"It's not over yet."

Aigami's eyes were tough and fierce, and at this moment he didn't feel like a villain but like the indomitable protagonist in traditional hot-blooded comics.

"At that moment, I activated the Quick-Play Spell Emergency Provisions' from my hand." He said, "I sent the active Spell Card Cubic Wave' and another set card on the field to the graveyard, and restored 2000 LP."

"Is that why you managed to stay alive?" Supreme King said calmly.

"Staying alive? No, this moment is the real ending of this duel!" Aigami raised his voice, "Indiora is immortal!

When Indiora Doom Volt the Cubic Emperor is destroyed by the opponent, it can be directly returned to my hand. Then all the Cubic Seed monsters placed under it will return to the field! (animation effect)

The body of Indiora Doom Volt disappeared, and the three "Vijam the Cubic Seed Tokens" embedded in its body returned again, each using their strange single eyes to examine the empty Supreme King on the field.

Then when there are three Cubic Seed monsters on my field, Indiora Doom Volt the Cubic Emperor can be Special Summoned from my hand.

And this effect can be activated during the Battle Phase! "

Aigami held up the card that had just bounced back into his hand.

"The light of textiles and the darkness of darkness restore the world to its proper form and open the door to a new world! Come again and reveal the true form of the emperor of Cubic!

Indiora Doom Volt the Cubic Emperor! ! ! "

The flying gold particles were arranged in combination, and once again condensed into a huge white monster. The three Vijams were embedded in it one after another, and each turned into a component of the Cubic Emperor. Electric sparks filled the air with joy.

[Indiora Doom Volt the Cubic Emperor, ATK 0 ATK 2400]

"First of all, it's Indiora's effect!" Aigami shouted, "When this card is Special Summoned, it will inflict 800 points of damage to the opponent again!"

Indiora raised his arms, and blue arcs of lightning surrounded his body and flew into the air, then fell from the sky and struck the Supreme King. The Supreme King took the damage without blinking as if even his pain-sensing nerves had been cut off.

[Supreme King, LP 1400 LP 600]

"You have no monsters on the field that can protect you, so it's truly over. The battle continues!" Aigami roared, "Facing the direct attack from Indiora Doom Volt the Cubic Emperor!"

The grimace on the Cubic Emperor's chest changed again, and the gun barrel gradually came out as the gear-like base rotated. High-concentration energy condensed, and particles flew in the dimensional space.

There was no monster that could defend, no Evil HERO that could serve as a wall. The Supreme King was facing the mighty Cubic Emperor, but his golden eyes seemed to shine brighter than the charging heavy cannon.

The Supreme King just slowly raised his hand.

"Open the set card."

His voice was still cold and calm, as if neither victory nor defeat could cause any fluctuations in him.

"Trap Card Necro Fusion." He said, "Fusion Summon 1 Fusion Monster from my Extra Deck, by banishing Fusion Materials mentioned on it from my GY face-down."

The Supreme King's Duel Disk spat out two cards from the graveyard, and he revealed those two cards.

"I fused the Evil HERO Malicious Edge' and Evil HERO Inferno Wing' in the GY." He said, "The fusion condition is Evil HERO Malicious Edge' + 1 Level 6 or higher Fiend monster! Fusion Summon!

Evil HERO Malicious Fiend! ! ! "

The images of the two Evil HEROes flew out of the vortex in the GY and merged in the form of souls under the effect of the trap. A chaotic flow of elements erupted in the mid-air of Supreme King's Castle, the power of darkness and chaos erupted, and a brand new dark hero crashed to the ground.

He was a slender and thin hero, but his torso tightly wrapped in black armor seemed to contain infinite power. There was a steel knife as sharp as a claw on the back of his hand, with wide wings behind him, and a ferocious smile under the cross-sectional black mask.

A demon with a heroic reputation.

[Evil HERO Malicious Fiend, ATK 3500]

"You actually Fusion Summoned during my turn?" Aigami's expression changed again, and he said hurriedly, "Then a Battle Replay will occur and the attack will stop. Indiora, come back!"

But the Cubic Emperor didn't seem to hear his master's order, and the cannon barrel on his chest was still charging with violent force.

"Why!?" Aigami was shocked.

"The effect of Evil HERO Malicious Fiend." Supreme King said indifferently, "During the opponent's Battle Phase, all monsters the opponent controls must change to face-up Attack Position, and they must attack this card, if able."

"!?"

It actually has this effect!?

The battle could no longer be stopped. The heavy cannon on the Cubic Emperor's chest blasted out a spiral beam. Malicious Fiend just waved his hand, and the steel claws on his wrists tore the energy impact into pieces.

Malicious Fiend dodged and rushed forward, his body turning into an afterimage. The six cold and sharp claws on both hands were raised high, like the sickle raised by the god of death.

Aigami's pupils contracted and his breathing stagnated.

Oh hell no!

The Evil HERO's claws fell, dragging six dark scratches that seemed to cut into pieces of space.

The Cubic Emperor let out a low cry, and the solid outer shell was split open. It collapsed backward, metal parts popped out from the chest, and the barrel in the chest burst and overloaded, exploding into a burning fireball.

Aigami was hit by the scorching storm and was blown away by the current. His body was as light as a feather.

[Aigami, LP 500 LP 0]
