

I Play Yu-Gi 71

Chapter 71: This Is Cheating

Dark Magician, summon!

Tilla Mook's smile froze, and she was taken aback.

Could it be that eating this damage was also part of his plan?

Immediately afterward, she discovered that not only did Yuei Vu didn't care about it, but even the three screwballs who were watching from the side seemed to do the same or even the opposite.

Player A: "It's over, she said candle in the wind'."

Player B: "This is the first time I've seen a villainess who is reckless like this. 1100LP is still too high to trigger blood lock, yet she dares to use that phrase."

Player C: "That's right, even the guy in the animation who said this word when the other party only had 25 LP left was already rested in peace, but this girl dared to boast when the other party had more than 1000 LP left Pray for your soul. "

Tilla Mook: "???"

Is there something wrong with my game understanding or what?

Obviously, my LP is dominant! Why do you all have the same attitude as I am already cold?

I am a professional duelist of Ghouls, can't I understand this situation?

"Come on, stop dawdling." Yuei Vu crossed his arms with a calm expression, "Is your turn over?"

"Damn." Tilla Mook gritted her teeth irritably, "I'll set two cards. I end my turn!"

Even Dark Magician couldn't make her fear.

One of the two cards she set was "Negate Attack", which could negate attacks and forcefully end the Battle Phase. It was a life-saving artifact.

The other was a "Sakuretsu Armor", which not only could defend against attacks but also has a powerful counterattack effect that could destroy the opponent's attacking monsters.

No matter which one was a rare trap of the highest level on the market. Such a setup was perfect.

And not only that.

"At the end of the turn, another effect of Vampire Red Baron was activated!"

At the same time as Tilla Mook shouted, a black vortex opened under her feet. The vampire in black armor let out a low growl, and his eyes glowed red under the helmet. The beautiful shadow seemed to be forcibly dragged back to the field from the underworld it was another Magician's Valkyria who had been knocked down.

Tilla Mook chuckled: "Vampire Red Baron has the ability to special Summon monsters that are destroyed by it through the battle at the end of the Battle Phase. This way, I have two Magician's Valkyria' on my field.

I don't need to say more about the effects of your own monsters, right? "

"Ah, I understand." Yuei Vu said calmly, "As long as two Magician's Valkyrias are on the field, even if I defeat your vampire, I can't continue to attack."

"That's right." Tilla Mook was triumphant.

The attack was blocked by monsters, and there were two pits in the Spell Trap Zone. Such an arrangement was called an impregnable wall.

Tilla Mook felt that she had stabilized. She didn't even know how to turn such a formation.

Then, as long as she waited until the next turn, she could use the effect of the Vampire Red Baron again to take control of the monsters on Yuei Vu's field, even if the target is the legendary Dark Magician!

I add up to six cards in the front and back row, how can you beat me?

"My turn." Yuei Vu drew a card, then smiled slightly, "But if that's all you can do, you might lose in this turn."

"What!?" Tilla Mook was startled.

"Activate the spell card from the hand Bond Between Teacher and Student!" Yuei Vu played the spell card, "This card can be activated when there is a Dark Magician' on my field. I can special summon from the deck "

Yuei Vu pulled out the deck. At the same time, the Dark Magician on the field had raised his staff high and began to sing. The dark green lines on the ground were interwoven into a magic circle, and the magic circle slowly rotated, like a portal that was being activated.

"Come on! Dark Magician Girl!"

The magic circle spun rapidly, and the burst of magic released a radiant brilliance. The beautiful magic girl flew out with her wand held high, and twirled lightly in mid-air, full of vigor and vitality.

A few passers-by players were completely blown up.

"Ah, ah, it's the Dark Magician Girl!"

"My ex-girlfriend!"

"Go away, I suspect you are thinking of eating her!"

"I can die with no regret"

The three screwball players pushed each other. They stared at the magic girl who appeared on the Yuei Vu Field without blinking. They were even more excited than when they saw the Dark Magician!

They could even think of the shock when this video was posted on the forum.

A group of nerds who were licking at the Dark Magician Girl on paper all day long in reality, how couldn't they start rushing in place after seeing this video?

This was bound to be hot!

The magician girl was very angry today, very angry.

She usually blinked her eyes and pretended to be cute when she was on stage, to liven up the atmosphere to make everyone happy, but today she was not in that mood.

The Dark Magician Girl's green and beautiful eyes stared at the female vampire opposite her fiercely.

This woman actually wanted to take advantage of my master!

My master is so handsome, can you take advantage of it if you want?

She clenched the small staff in her hand, and just waited for the master's order, then waved the staff up to beat people

At this time, the female vampire didn't know if it was an illusion. She always felt that the eyes of this magical girl summoned by Yuei Vugang looked a bit fierce and scary

"Bond Between Teacher and Student' has another effect." Yuei Vu said, "Because of this effect, after special summoning the Dark Magician Girl, I can set 1 Dark Magic Attack', Dark Burning Attack', Dark Burning Magic', or Dark Magic Twin Burst' directly from the Deck. I choose Dark Burning Attack'!

Immediately after, he flipped the set card

"Dark Burning Attack' was activated! This card can only be activated when I control a Dark Magician Girl' monster. Destroy all face-up monsters on my opponent's side of the field! "

"What!? All monsters?" Tilla Mook looked at the Dark Magician Girl in astonishment, "How could this little magician girl know such strong magic?"

The Dark Magician Girl flew up lightly, raising her small staff above her head and turning a few circles in her palm.

Dark red magic waves were released from her staff, sweeping across the opponent's entire field like a storm. Tilla Mook's entire field was engulfed by waves of magic and black currents, the Vampire Red Baron, Master Kyonshee, two Magician's Valkyrias The four monsters were instantly killed by the Dark Magician Girl in the blink of an eye. The magic power smashed them to pieces, leaving no residue behind.

After the smoke cleared, Tilla Mook put down the arm that subconsciously blocked in front of her, and met the little magician girl's angry eyes.

Dangerous!

The word popped into the female vampire's mind.

No, it doesn't matter.

She still had two set cards in the Spell Trap Zone, both had a first-class defensive effect. As long as she got through this turn, there's still a chance

"Next is this card" Yuei Vu played another spell card from his hand, " Dark Magic Attack'! When there is a Dark Magician on my field, destroy all Spell and Trap Cards on the opponent's field!"

"What!?"

Tilla Mook's face turned white with fright (although she was originally white).

Blowing up the front row then and blowing up the back row?

This is too shameless, isn't it? Isn't this invincible?

(Elemental Hero: Absolute Zero: Yes, this is too shameless, don't you think, bro?

Masked HERO Acid: Yes, yes, this is cheating.) (*)

The Dark Magician rose and fell, and the dark magic was like a tidal wave. Tilla Mook's back row was completely engulfed in an instant, and the two traps were torn to shreds under the magic bombardment.

"Negate Attack' and Sakuretsu Armor'?" Yuei Vu chuckled, "It's really a shame that you dare to bring a card like Sakuretsu Armor"

Its okay to play this card in real life. But in Yu-Gi-Oh! anime so far, anyone who has used the card Sakuretsu Armor had a miserably defeat

In this way, the female vampire's field was completely empty.

Looking at the Dark Magician and the Dark Magician Girl on Yuei Vu's field, Tilla Mook suddenly felt like a naked little girl, a helpless feeling of being forced into a small corner by a big man

Yes, in this era when the only hand trap was Kuriboh, the outcome was basically decided under such circumstances.

"The last blow!" Yuei Vu waved his hand, "Dark Magician Girl! Dark Magician! Direct attack!"

The magician and his apprentice both flew up, and two staffs, one long and one short, pointed at the vampire. The dark and dark red magic was intertwined in one place, swirling and bombarded out, and exploded in the face of the vampire.

Originally, the Shadow Game had substantive damage, and our Dark Magician Girl seemed to have materialized herself at the moment of the last shot. What the staff released was not a three-dimensional image but real magic damage.

So, um

let's put it that way.

The fate of Miss Vampire was a bit tragic.

Tilla Mook, LP 2300 LP 300 LP 0

Yuei Vu leisurely put away the duel plate, and now his opponent is lying on the ground in an indecent posture, covered in black smoke and silent

Actually, Tilla Mook's LP was only 2300 just now. If he attacked directly with the Dark Magician, he would have won.

However, Yuei Vu didn't. He allowed the Dark Magician Girl to fight first, and then let the Dark Magician take the head.

Um

That's right, I just pet my spirit. What's your opinion?

Chapter 72: Discount

Sure enough, as expected by the onlookers at the time, the dueling video of Yuei Vu VS Ghouls' female vampire became an explosion instantly.

World Link Online had its own video recording function. Players could record any video they see in the game in real time as video material.

After recording this video, several people originally planned to post it directly on the player forum, but after thinking about it, they felt that the effect might not be good enough. After all, they were just passers-by and had a very little reputation among players.

After thinking about it, they still contacted a streamer who has a huge number of fans as a foundation. It just so happened that the streamer could add sound effects later, and the effect of the video might be better.

This streamer used to be an anime reviewer and especially loved the Yu-Gi-Oh series dramas. After the launch of World Link Online, he has also undertaken a variety of exciting game materials and produced many high-quality videos.

His ID was Doguma Seto. This ID was really simple, and it made people know he was President Kaiba's fan at a glance.

As a streamer who turned into a game commentator, Doguma Seto's style was naturally influenced by a senior in the same division.

The video started with a direct crit.

"I don't have time to explain! Today is your favorite Yuei Vu's turn to play cards!"

The video started directly with Yuei Vu and the vampire Tilla Mook standing on both sides of the street, and the duel has just started.

"I know that this is the most famous NPC these days. Having a name with the Yu- prefix and a novice shop, being as handsome as this streamer In fact, I don't hide from everyone that I'm also his fan. So this time, let's see with our own eyes the style of the rumored Yu- prefix character"

Although the video has only been released for an hour, the number of clicks has already broken through the 1 million mark, and there were also a lot of comments scrolling through the screen.

The video of a famous streamer has this advantage. Just posted it for 30 to 50 minutes and it might become a trend. Unlike the poor little streamer, there may only be three comments in the video submitted for more than half a month, and two of them may be spam.

"Okay, the duel has already started, and now the first turn is Yuei Vu's Wow, Yuei Vu, you said you're not the protagonist? As we all know, in Yu-Gi-Oh anime, who dares to play first turn has set a foot in the coffin. Only the protagonist is an exception.

I suspected that this Yuei Vu might know we still doubted his status as the protagonist in the world, so he played first and proved it to us.

And now everyone probably knew that Yuei Vu must be playing a Pure HERO Deck', so here he first shot a Rapid-Fire Magician' this is a Very Pure Hero. Then he played a Pot of Premium Gold'.

Don't ask me why it's a Pot of Premium Gold'. Players who didn't understand could log in to the game to find Yuei Vu's personal store, and took a look at how many zeros in the price of Pot of Greed'. Then you may be surprised to find out that you may not make as fast as he directly grabs the money, here I can only say that it is really the style of Konami"

""

As time goes by, the number of clicks on the video was getting higher and higher, and the comment area was lively.

Of course, such a popular video was also moved to the video submission area of the game forum by the streamer himself. The discussion thread below was also in full swing.

And the players who happily watched the video may never have imagined

The protagonist in the video, the NPC himself also watched the video with them in the forum,

When Yuei Vu saw the opening scene, he nodded slightly, thinking it was quite interesting.

He also remembered that this streamer named Doguma Seto was very popular in the video area even though he wasn't good at playing cards in general. And the launch of World Link Online also allowed him to make new content, and his popularity would rise to a higher level later.

If there was a chance, he may train this specially produce videos related to him to attract more viewers' attention.

Once belonged to the screwball players, he knew very well that the life of traffic fever was very short.

Audiences in the new era were always fond of the new and dislike the old. If you couldn't keep finding ways to do things to maintain the popularity, you would soon be forgotten by everyone and gradually become out of breath.

This was why the PR methods must be in place, always became the center of new topics, and keep making big news to attract attention. To this end, an excellent microphone was definitely necessary.

Anyway, Yuei Vu's daily EXP was enough for training a spare tire group

The duel was coming to an end. When Yuei Vu in the video summoned the legendary monster "Dark Magician", and the comment panel also entered a wave of climax.

"Shit, there really is a Dark Magician!"

"666, isn't Yuei Vu really the protagonist of the world? having both Elemental HERO and Dark Magicians?"

"Boldly predict that in the next version, Yuei Vu will take out Stardust Dragon and come out to scare us"

"Number 39: Utopia asks to fight!"

"By the way, did anyone notice that this Dark Magician is red, not the same as Yugi's"

There was still a lively discussion about the Dark Magician in the barrage, but they didn't expect another bombshell to follow.

"Spell Card Bond Between Teacher and Student, Special Summon from the deck Dark Magician Girl!"

The moment the energetic magic girl appeared on the screen, it was like detonating a depth bomb in the barrage. A bunch of the original diving party was blown to the surface.

"Waifu! This is my waifu!"

"Waifu, why do you stay in the deck of another man?"

"555, I'm so envious, I want to be that NPC"

"This wand is really big no, what I want to say is that the card is really round"

"My friend asked me to ask how much the Dark Magician Girl' cost. He said he was going to rob a bank to get money"

....

A completely unexpected reaction.

Yuei Vu nodded in satisfaction.

In this way, players' interest in him would be even higher.

Undoubtedly, there would be a lot of players trying to discover the connection between Yuei Vu and the main timeline of World Link, and find the reason why he has both an Elemental HERO and a Dark Magician.

In this regard, Yuei Vu just wanted to say

dig! You can dig!

If you can dig out any clue, count me as a loser!

In fact, these screwball players didn't know yet, not only did he have a Dark Magician Girl, but it was even a spirit card!

The kind that if necessary, you could also touch, and it could even help you warm the bed!

When the time came to discover this, screwball players would definitely explode on the spot.

However, he did not intend to reveal these to the players for the time being.

after all

It's obvious that it can be done in two installments, so why do you have to finish it all in one go?

And now he had something more troublesome and laborious to do.

He wants to write down the IDs of the players who were affectionately called Dark Magician Girl by "waifu" in this pile of comments as much as possible.

These players could enjoy a 13% discount when they come to his store to buy cards in the future.

Chapter 73: Master Marik, Please Forgive Me!

Somewhere in Domino City, an unknown basement.

A man dressed in black like a sack walked down the dark stairs. He wore a wide hood, and his sturdy body was tightly covered in black clothes. It was clear that there was no one around, but the brim of his hat was kept low as if he was afraid of being recognized.

Walking along the darkness where people couldn't even see their own fingers, he walked to the end of the stairs, and in front of him was a locked iron door.

The man took out the key from under the large clothes, inserted it into the keyhole, and turned it around before turning it around, nervously checking to see if anyone was following him.

After confirming that it was correct, he squeaked and opened the door.

There was a dim light from the other end of the door. The flickering candles lit up by themselves from the braziers hanging on the walls on both sides as if there was an invisible ghost in this confined space.

The man walked to the end of this secret room and knelt down carefully against the empty wall, just like people in ancient times were devoutly waiting for divine revelation on the altar.

A golden light appeared on his forehead under his hood, forming a golden eye.

The man showed a look of horror and awe, then kowtowed in this empty room.

"Master Marik."

Marik Ishtar, the descendant of the Tomb Keeper Clan, the leader of the Ghouls although he was not here, his voice was projected directly into the man's mind through the power of the Millennium Rod.

"Tilla Mook was defeated too." Marik came straight to the point, and his voice sounded cold, "You know what this means, right?"

"YesYes" The man was submissive, bowing his head, and didn't dare to say a word.

"Three rare card hunters have been defeated by that kid in Nightcrawler World so far," Marik said coldly, "and every time that kid wins, he will take away our deck, as if he is deliberately provoking us.!"

Yes, that's right, the deck held by the vampire Tilla Mook who was defeated this time was also snatched by Yuei Vu

And this time, the process was also recorded by the "photographers" in the front row.

When they saw this scene in the video, the screwball players were overjoyed

"I'm surprised that you can take other people's decks if you win?"

"I seem to know why there are so many cards in Yuei Vu's store"

"Did you say that next time you go to the store, you can buy a vampire deck to play?"

"I feel this deck should be fine with a little adjustment in this environment. Wait for an expert to build it."

When seeing this, Yuei Vu couldn't help but wonder if his actions would lead the screwball players astray.

Imagine the picture of screwball players running up to pull out the deck every time they defeat the opposite side in the future it seemed a bit funny.

Hearing Marik's anger, the man was shaking like a sieve and lay motionless on the ground, not daring to say a word at all.

"This is completely different from what you promised before." Marik said coldly, "Domino City was supposed to be your area. You are the nail that Ghouls planted here, and you promised until the Duel City Tournament, that everything can be handled.

But you failed, you let me down. So unless you can give me a good reason in two seconds, your mission is over. "

As he spoke, the golden eyes on the man's forehead had already radiated divine light.

The man's pupils contracted, and his frightened eyes were bloodshot. He began to gasp heavily, almost suffocating, and even had the illusion that death was strangling his throat

"Waitwait a minute!" he shouted desperately, "I have a card for you to see!"

"Oh?"

Marik paused the execution for a while, ready to see what he could pull out with great interest.

With trembling hands, the rare hunter took a card from his robe.

It was a rare card of the highest level USR.

Marik became interested: "You actually got the Red-Eyes Black Dragon? I remember this card is"

"It was from that friend of Yugi Muto Jonouchi Katsuya." The rare card hunter seemed to have found hope again, and quickly took credit.

"I see, so you have done something useful after all." Marik snorted.

The golden eyes on the man's forehead dimmed a little.

"Well, I'll spare your life this time," Marik said, "but things can't continue like this. If we continue, we'll be in an even more unfavorable situation before the plan is officially implemented.

I am arranging for more people to go to your site, and I will rush over to participate in the competition when things are over here. "

"Ah?" The man was stunned for a while, "But it doesn't mean that if too many people are sent over, it will lead to a full-scale battle between the two sides"

"It doesn't matter." Marik sneered, "The purpose of Ghouls' existence is for this time's plan, for the hatred of our Tomb Keeper Clan that has surpassed three thousand years. We'll fight if necessary, there's nothing to be afraid of."

After a pause, he smiled and said: "I have already set up a hidden weapon in Domino City. Unlike you trash, it is a puppet controlled by me personally, and his deck has the ultimate trump card that can wipe out any enemy in an instant."

The man's eyelids jumped: "Could it be God?"

"That's right! It's the god of the underworld, Orisis!" Marik said loudly.

The man reminded cautiously: "But if the doll loses the duel, wouldn't the God card be?"

If you lose the duel, won't you feed to the opponent?

It's really funny like that.

"You mean I'm going to lose!?" Marik raised his voice.

"No no."

"Hmph. " Marik snorted heavily.

Marik said that he was the second strongest duelist in their village, and he has never lost a card game with anyone other than his sister!

It's just that he grew up within the Pharaoh's tomb, and he basically never played cards with anyone other than his sister

I, Marik, feed to the opponent?

Impossible!

The man realized that he said the wrong words, and hurriedly made up for his flattery: "Master Marik is wise and martial, unparalleled in the world. In addition, with the God cards in your hand, there must be no rival."

"Humph."

Assuming you know your mistake, this time I will spare your life.

"One more thing." Marik said coldly, "I asked you to pay attention to the whereabouts of Kaiba and my sister Ishizu, are you doing it?"

"Yes." The man said hurriedly.

"Okay, continue to pay attention." Marik said, "Osiris the Sky Dragon', The Winged Dragon of Ra', these two god cards are in my hand. Obelisk the Tormentor' was handed over to Seto Kaiba by my elder sister.

Although it was a minor accident, it was not a problem. In time, I will defeat Kaiba to retake Obelisk, and even if my sister blocks my way, I will defeat her myself"

The man said subconsciously: "But I heard that when you duel with Master Ishizu, you don't seem to have a high rate of winning"

Then he realized in time that he was wrong and quickly shut up.

The leader of Ghouls, the descendant of the Tomb Keeper clan, and the master of The Winged Dragon of Ra Marik Ishtar fell into silence for a minute.

Then he said coldly, "I've decided, I still have to execute you first."

"Ahhh! I was wrong, please forgive me!!!"

Chapter 74: Make Way For Duel!

A few days passed quickly, and the "Battle City", the largest duel monster event in history, hosted by the Kaiba Corp, was finally about to kick off.

The duelists equipped with the latest Duel Disks took to the streets of the city one after another, and suddenly they were everywhere in Domino City. The densely packed duelists gathered from all directions to the designated place where they received the notification, waiting for the announcement of the tournament organizer.

At this moment, Yuei Vu was also among the crowd of duelists, looking at a specially made transparent card in his hand.

Dark Magician Girl floated behind him, her little head leaned over his shoulder curiously: "Master, what is this?"

"This? It is a puzzle card." Yuei Vu explained, "Each contestant will get a puzzle card. I remember that the first eight people to collect all six puzzle cards will qualify for the top eight."

Generally speaking, Puzzle Cards were given when you receive the Duel Disk presented by the Kaiba Corp in the store, which could also be regarded as a qualification for the Battle City competition. Therefore, Yuei Vu and other players theoretically did not have this.

However, they could receive the main quest of "Fighting Battle City". Everyone could get it from the quest panel two days before the competition. The system would distribute puzzle cards as special quest items to all players who have received the quest.

Dark Magician Girl nodded thoughtfully: "That is, you can take someone else's rare card by winning?"

"That's right. So not only winning, but speed is also important."

"It doesn't matter! For Master, entering the top eight will definitely be easy!"

The spirit girl wrote "My master is the best in the world" all over her face.

While speaking, Yuei Vu had already walked to the square where duelists gathered.

Although most of them were passersby, there were quite a few familiar faces here.

The first was the protagonist Yugi Muto. His colorful starfish head was easy to notice at a glance. Then the hot gal next to him must be Mai Valentine- although she didn't face Yuei Vu, for a player like Mai Valentine, it was hard to not recognize her. After all, the size was just there.

Thinking of this, Yuei Vu couldn't help but subconsciously glance at Dark Magician Girl who was floating in a ghost state beside him.

Humph! After all, it still can't compare to my spirit!

Dark Magician Girl: "?"

Why does the master see me like that? Is there something on my face?

Cough cough, focus, focus

Immediately afterward, Yuei Vu noticed the cannon fodder duo in the DM, Ryuzaki the Dinosaur user and Haga the Insect user.

Although Haga was just an ordinary person in the DM setting, he was an out-and-out bad guy. The five Exodia the Forbidden One parts of Yugi were thrown into the sea by him, making the only set of Exodia the Forbidden One parts in the world out of print.

No, now Haga was sneering wildly on Yugi's face again, saying something like "My insects are already hungry and thirsty", "The army of insects is unstoppable" and so on.

However, at this time, Haga obviously did not realize the seriousness of the problem, nor did he realize that the starfish head in front of him would become his eternal psychological shadow in the future

Then of course, there were screwball players who were eager to try it during the Open Beta.

Players were in groups of three and two, their faces were full of anticipation. After all, this was the first time they participated in the main storyline of DM, and it was still a Battle City competition with clear rules for gambling cards. Every player would inevitably fantasize about reaching the top eight and rushing to the finals, rewriting history while reaping a lot of benefits.

But they were probably thinking too much.

In the Open Beta, players only had two weeks to mine and collect cards, thus the strength of the deck was limited.

It may be okay to bully ordinary passers-by, but if you encounter a player with a maverick hairstyle, 80% of them would overturn.

In the early stages, players basically came for sightseeing, and it was not practical to reach the quarterfinals.

Then, as expected, a large group of screwball players gathered near Yugi, obviously wanting to follow the protagonist to benefit.

Although most players found out after two weeks that following the original protagonist didn't seem to have any benefits, there were always some people who don't give up.

What if?

What if Dark Yugi or AIBOU sees me as beautiful and takes me back to being a follower?

Yuei Vu knew best about the players' mentality, but he only found this kind of mentality amusing.

Heh, even someone as handsome as me doesn't get noticed. You are all probably thinking too much.

The time was approaching, and the opening speech of the competition finally officially began.

"Hahahahaha!!!"

A series of three-stage laughter came from the sky, and through the huge loudspeaker, it seemed to hover over the whole city.

A huge shadow shrouded like a black cloud, and an airship with the KC logo was slowly approaching, covering the sky above the square.

A huge electronic screen hangs under the airship, and the image clearly shows the appearance of the president, Kaiba Seto.

He never missed any opportunity to show off, and if he wanted to show off, it must be on the largest scale. It was really the style of the president.

When Kaiba appeared on the big screen and the arrogant three-stage laughter sounded, ad it really had the demeanor of a domineering CEO. Seeing this, you may forget that this guy was actually only sixteen years old, and he was still in the same class as Yugi Muto

By the way, President, have you ever gone back to study?

The sixteen-year-old president has even worked hard on his own. This experience was indeed hard to imagine or not to admire. After all, starting from an orphanage with a younger brother, not everyone has the ability to become the president of a multinational corporation.

Yuei Vu remembered that in the anime, he earned a big amount of money when he was a child. On Seto's birthday, he was given a 2% share of KaibaCorp and was told that although he could spend the money any way he wished, he must return ten times the amount in one year.

Ordinary people may be at a loss for such a perverted request, but Kaiba, who was only ten years old at the time, did not. He returned all the money within a single day.

How? He first bought 51% shares of a long-established pottery company with his assets and then sold the company's shares to the original owner for ten times the price

What? You don't buy it?

I'm sorry, but your entire company will be shut down and leave the employees jobless!

When he saw this, Yuei Vu's expression was like this: (|||)

President, you are so special Isn't that just robbing?

Is it really possible to make money like this?

There are no rules and no laws in this world, right?

What about the judge? Where is the judge?

Oh, by the way, the judge may not be able to beat President Kaiba at cards.

Then it was not a problem

In this way, Kaiba Seto not only met the expectations of his adoptive father but even more than that. In the end, he simply threw Gozabur out of the game and took over the Kaiba Corp.

It was not an exaggeration to say that he is a business genius.

At this moment, Kaiba has explained the rules of this competition to everyone in the air succinctly.

In short, the entire Doshino City was a stage for duels, where duelists could duel each other anywhere in the city and at any time.

The winner could not only take the loser's puzzle card but also can arbitrarily claim a rare card from the opponent's deck as a trophy.

The time limit for qualifying was within today. During the whole period, all other daily activities in Domino City were suspended, all of which had to make way for the Kaiba Corp's card game!

If you didn't know the truth, you might even mistake Seto Kaiba as the mayor of Domino City

However, Yuei Vu knew that it was nothing right now.

After a few more years, when the timeline reached "The Dark Side Of Dimensions", at that time, Kaiba directly added new regulations people without a registered deck were not even allowed to stay in the city.

Must know playing cards to live in a house, don't you believe it

At that time, Yuei Vu found out that President Kaiba may not really be the hidden mayor of Domino City, but he may be the hidden head of the country

Chapter 75: Unknown Meaning

The Battle City Tournament was in full swing. As soon as President Kaiba's declaration came to an end, duelists started dueling all over the city.

Scenarios like the following were happening all over the city.

"My turn, draw! I summon the Blue-Winged Crown!"

[Blue-Winged Crown, ATK 1600]

"Hahaha, how about it? Your monster can't defeat my Blue-Winged Crown!"

"Hey, don't get carried away! I summon the High Tide Gyojin!"

[High Tide Gyojin, ATK 1650]

"What! A monster with an ATK of 1650!?"

"You didn't expect it, did you? This is the power of rare cards! Come on High Tide Gyojin, and defeat the Blue-Winged Crown! I won, hahaha!!!"

""

And, such a scene.

"I normal summon Leo Wizard' from my hand!!!"

[Leo Wizard, ATK 1350]

Unexpectedly, the passerby duelist had just photographed this monster, and a large number of screwballs (players) who were not aware of it immediately appeared beside him.

"Fuck, the legendary divine card!"

"I saw the real face for the first time in my life!"

"I will exchange these cards with you, please exchange this card for me!" More screwball players began to imitate the famous scene of President Kaiba.

The NPC passers-by who summoned the "Leo Wizard" were all frightened by the group of screwballs that suddenly threw themselves on their faces. They looked at the monsters on the field and looked at the group of screwballs in front of them. They were stunned for a while.

What the hell? Is it my fault that I don't know it is still a rare card? Why haven't I heard?

Of course, it is impossible for the NPC to understand because this was an ancient legend that has only been passed down among the players of Yu-Gi-Oh!

According to legend, in ancient times, the advanced summoning system of the Yu-Gi-Oh card game was somewhat different from today. According to the early rules, not only did monsters of level 4 or higher need Tributes to be summoned, but monsters with an ATK of 1400 or higher also needed sacrifices too.

Therefore, it was conceivable that the Leo Wizard with an attack power of up to 1350 and could be directly summoned was such a terrifying divine card

Its ATK was as high as 1350! It was even 50 points higher than 1300. What a powerful station ability!

At that time, the Leo Wizard was still a Level 4 monster, but it was later adjusted to Level 5.

Although the rule that "a Tribute is required for those with an attack power of 1400 or more" soon disappeared, the great Leo Wizard still lived in the hearts of millions of Yu-Gi-Oh players as an eternal meme.

What? Do you say it's useless to spend a lot of money to buy it back?

Heh, are there fewer useless things that we screwball players like to spend money on?

While most of the duelists were playing cards in full swing, some people chose to stay put and sit in the corner to explore the situation while fishing.

That was the rare hunter who was in charge of stationing in the Domino area and collecting information while collecting rare cards. The thugs of the Ghouls took the Red-Eyes Black Dragon from Jonouchi Katsuya, but he didn't even give a name until the end of the animation.

Yes, considering that he might still be useful, Marik spared his life after all.

At this moment, the rare card hunter was among a group of ordinary people, sitting at the table in the outdoor cafe, looking at every duelist passing by on the street with thief's eyes, ready to find his next prey.

He smiled wickedly while sticking out his tongue and licking his lips.

Okay, which unlucky duelist will be my next dish?

"Um?"

The rare card hunter noticed something and was a little stunned.

He saw a guy with a Duel Disk on his hand must be a duelist.

But he wasn't too sure that guy appeared from a corner not far away and ran in a way that made those who didn't understand thought that the floor under the guy was burning his feet.

What kind of new performance art was this?

The rare card hunter looked at each other in confusion was this guy jumping in his direction?

Then the man actually jumped straight up and stopped in front of the rare card hunter.

"Ha! I finally found it!" The guy opened the Duel Disk and shouted loudly, "According to the rules of the dueling city, I will challenge you!"

The rare card hunter frowned: "Who are you?"

"Me? My name is Snow Wave but it doesn't matter!"

"Never heard of that."

The rare card hunter thought about it carefully and felt that he had no impression. It seemed that he had never heard of this name in any dueling competition in the country.

If that's the case, he must be a rookie, right?

Then there is nothing to be afraid of.

The Rare Card Hunter calmly took a sip of coffee, pulled out the chair, and stood up, as if preparing to move.

He sneered: "Since you want to die so much, then I will accept your rare card."

Snow Wave's eyes lit up when he saw that he agreed to fight.

It's done!

The reason why Snow Wave found this place was actually because he received a quest from Yuei Vu in the store before the game started yesterday.

[Quest: Hunting Ghouls!]

[Description: The rare card hunters of Ghouls are ready to fight in the Battle City Tournament, you must stop their ambitions! Find and defeat them!]

Then Yuei Vu even thoughtfully added a "Limited Time Event" section to the "Private Store" these days, where players could exchange a small amount of crystal for a few specific strategy cards.

And as Yuei Vu's number one slave ah no, as the head of the fan support group, Snow Wave had the right to directly receive the strategy card for free!

This wave was sure to kill!

"Duel!" x2

Snow Wave, LP 4000

[Rare Card Hunter, LP 4000]

"I'll go first, draw!"

Snow Wave took a look after drawing the card but didn't get what he wanted. But it didn't matter!

"I summon the Marauding Captian' in attack position! Then I activate the special effect of the Marauding Captian, and special summon another Marauding Captian from the hand! I end my turn!"

[Marauding Captian, ATK 1200] x2

"Oh?" The rare card hunter hummed, "Using the effect that two monsters to create an attack lock? It is indeed an advanced tactic. But well hum."

He didn't say the second half of the sentence, but what he thought in his heart was in front of my Exodia, this is all in vain!

"My turn!"

After the Rare Card Hunter drew the card, he directly played the banned card without monologing.

"Pot of Greed! Draw two cards from the deck!"

Then he glanced at the cards in his hand, without thinking about inserting the next banned card into the Duel Disk.

"Graceful Charity! Draw three cards from the deck, and then discard two cards from the hand to the graveyard."

Snow Wave: ""

Damn! Even if he was already mentally prepared, this NPC is so rude, right?

Judge, do you care? Do you see how many cards he has passed directly when he comes up?

However, it's not over yet. The combo of Thousands of Years Banned Cards still had another strike.

"Spell Card Card Destruction! Both players discard all cards in their hands, and then draw the same number of cards from the deck!"

""

Snow Wave felt as if there was a crow screaming "Ya ya" above his head, flapping his wings and flying over slowly

He couldn't bear it any longer: "Fuck, this is cheating!"

Rare Card Hunter: "?"

What's up with this person?

Didn't I even draw that um ten or so cards?

Why is it cheating?

Really weird.

He looked down at the cards in his hand Steady! He already has three different pieces of Exodia's five parts, victory was in sight!

"I normal summon in the defense position Giant Soldier of Stone."

[Giant Soldier of Stone, DEF 2000]

"Set a card, I end my turn." The rare card hunter couldn't help laughing when he hit here, "Hey, you have stepped into my death trap, boy. You are definitely unable to guess what you're facing"

"Exodia." Snow Wave said calmly with an expressionless face.

Rare Card Hunter: ""

"!?"

What! ? How did this kid know I was going to use Exodia! ?

The rare card hunter was shocked.

Does he know me?

No, wait a minute, calm down first, there is nothing good.

Even if he knew I used Exodia, it was too late. I already have three parts in my hand, and he can't stop my moves even if he guessed right!

"My turn, draw!"

After Snow Wave drew the card, he smiled.

Thanks to the "Card Destruction" just now, he had already drawn the card he wanted.

Exodia, right? Now I'll let you see the fearsome of card printing!

"Activate Continuous Spell Force of Four!" Snow Wave inserted the Spell Card into the Duel Disk, "When this card is activated, if any player has more than 4 cards in their hand, they must send cards to the Graveyard until there are 4 cards in their hand. While either player has 4 cards in their hand, if an effect would add a new card(s) from their Deck or Graveyard to their hand; they must send all those cards to the Graveyard instead!"

Rare Card Hunter: ""

"!?!?"

Who the hell would put such a thing with unknown meaning into the deck??

Chapter 76: A Mouthful Of Blood

"Continuous Spell Force of Four!" The extra spell card on the Snow Wave field instantly established an absolute advantage, "Okay, now you have five cards in your hand, hurry up and throw one away for me."

The rare card hunter glanced at his five cards and gritted his teeth angrily.

Is this card printed just now? Otherwise, how can this moonstruck have a card countering me right on the spot?

However, no matter how angry he was, he still had to play cards. The rare card hunter reluctantly selected one of the five cards in his hand and sent it to the graveyard.

"I end my turn."

The "Giant Soldier of Stone" on the opponent's field has 2000 defense points, and Snow Wave has not yet drawn a card that can remove this Normie, so he can only end the round first.

The Force of Four was an animated Continuous Spell card that has not been implemented. The only time it appeared was in the hands of Aster Phoenix, a character of Yu-Gi-Oh!

However, although there was no real-life version of this card, the game World Link Online has made this card. This game liked to make some anime cards with unclear meaning and completely useless. Players suspected that it was especially used to fill the card pool, giving you the illusion that its card pool was thick and rich

Yuei Vu spent thousands of crystals to open packs from the system card pool in one go, and found a few of these things.

At that time, Yuei Vu's first reaction was "what a useless card", so he was ready to throw it in the corner to eat dust. But then he thought eh? If I remember right, Ghouls seems to have a rare card hunter who specialized in playing Exodia?

Wouldn't this thing be able to counter him?

Since then, Snow Wave had this card with unknown meaning in his hand

In Yu-Gi-Oh! GX episode 144, Amon, the duelist who used the Exodia the Forbidden One, already has four Exodia parts in his hand, and the fifth one has also been placed at the top of the deck due to the card effect. As long as he drew a card in the next round, he could complete the Exodia the Forbidden One and win directly.

It was during that turn that Aster activated the Spell Card "Force of Four". In the next turn, although Amon drew the fifth piece to his hand, he had to discard the fifth piece to the cemetery according to the effect of the Force of Four, and the Exodia the Forbidden One Exodia did not appear.

It could be seen from this part of the animation plot that the victory condition of the Exodia the Forbidden One could not take effect until the effect of "Force of Four" was resolved.

Of course, Aster did not know that the opponent was using the Exodia the Forbidden One before the duel started. So this card could also be understood as printed by him on the spot, otherwise, there was no reason to explain why he, who played a pure HERO Deck, would have such an obscure thing

At this time, the rare card hunter was holding a "Left Arm of the Forbidden One" in his hand, and he had just thrown a "Left Arm of the Forbidden One" into GY, and then he drew a "Left Arm of the Forbidden One" in the Draw Phase this turn

The Rare Card Hunter had the urge to tear up this card.

Fuck! What the hell kind of luck?

It's not like the Blue-Eyes White Dragon of President Kaiba. Three cards glued together could stabilize the chance to summon Blue-Eyes Ultimate Dragon What was the use of three Exodia left hands?

Are you summoned to directly slap the opposite side?

Now the Rare Card Hunter's hand contained three different Exodia parts plus a duplicate left hand, which could be said to be a complete brick hand

The rare card hunter was in pain for a long time, and finally gave up the bait idea of "summon the left hand to slap the opposite face", and reluctantly announced the end of his turn.

Now I can only hope that the screwball on the opposite side will not be able to draw out a monster with an ATK of 2000 or more in the next turn

"My turn, draw!"

When it was Snow Wave's turn, he laughed after drawing the card, "It's here! I tribute a Marauding Captian' to summon Judge Man!"

A heroic warrior with a sword on the field turned into starlight and dissipated, and a new card was projected on the field. An old guy with fangs and a gray beard appeared from the card, wearing a robe like a Judge Man and a cloak behind him.

[Judge Man, ATK 2200]

Although it was a Normal monster with an attack power of 2200, it was a Level 6 monster that only needed one Tribute. Therefore, although he disliked it, Snow Wave, who had few choices in the novice stage, still added this card to his.

The Rare Card Hunter's expression changed suddenly.

Oh crap! Its attack power exceeds the defensive power of the "Giant Soldier of Stones"!

"Judge Man, destroy the Giant Soldier of Stones!"

The high-level monster with an ATK of 2200 flew across the field and easily broke the Giant Soldier of Stones on the opposite field. The body of the monster turned into countless stones and shattered, which also meant that the only line of defense that could protect the rare card hunter was broken.

"Marauding Captian! Direct attack!"

The captain shot up, alternating his hands with long swords, the sword light flashed, and the image cut through the Rare Card Hunter's body ruthlessly.

[Rare Card Hunter, LP 4000 LP 2800]

"Very good! Keep it like this!" Snow Wave was proud, "Set a card, I end my turn!"

"Damn!"

The rare card hunter gritted his teeth and glanced at the four Exodia parts in his hand, and then looked at the two monsters on the Snow Wave Field. His whole person felt unwell

He even wanted to surrender

But he also knew that as long as he gave up, the command Mr. Marik had planted in his mind would immediately trigger, and everything in his head would become a mess.

MMD! After all, how could someone carry such an inexplicable Continuous Spell Card?

I am so completely deceived!

There is no way out, I can only struggle until the end!

"My turn, draw!"

The rare card hunter glanced at the card he had drawn, and a glimmer of hope suddenly ignited in his already desperate eyes

"Spell Card Mystical Space Typhoon!" He hurriedly played out the newly drawn card, "This card can destroy a spell or trap card on the field! I destroy the Force of Four!"

A green Spell Card appeared on the field, and the rolled-up storm shot straight at the opposite field, precisely tearing the continuous magic beside Snow Wave into pieces.

Very good! Now I destroyed that pesky Spell Card, I still have hope!

As long as I can draw a Pot of Greed or Graceful Charity in the next turn anyway, I have a lot of such things in my deck, maybe I can turn the table

But first I have to survive the next turn.

Rare Card Hunter: "I'm normal summon the Left Arm of the Forbidden One' in defense position!"

Of course, he didn't summon it out to slap the face, but because if he didn't summon any monster as a wall, he would definitely die in the next turn.

In this way, if Snow Wave couldn't summon new monsters in the next turn, he still had a chance to make a comeback.

However, he didn't expect Snow Wave to jump up in excitement at this moment: "Ha! That might be the case!"

Although it didn't make much sense, he just wanted to say this in a duel because it sounded so handsome! Fashion value UP!

"Open the set card!" Snow Wave waved his hand so big that he almost twisted his waist, "Trap card Chain Disappearance! It can only be activated when a monster with an ATK below 1000 is summoned. Destroy the summoned monster and banish it from the game!

Then if there are cards with the same name in the opponent's hand or deck, they are also banished!

So you have to remove from play all the Left Arm of the Forbidden One' from your field and deck!

"Pfft!"

The rare card hunter raised his head, and a mouthful of blood spurted three feet away.

Chapter 77: You All Come To Play Me On Purpose?

"Chain Disappearance is activated!" Snow Wave's face was excited with the trick's success, "Okay, let me banish all the Left Arm of the Forbidden One' from the game on your field, deck, and hand!"

The rare card hunter felt that his head might be congested and he was a little dizzy.

His brain "buzzed", his eyes turned black for a while, and Snow Wave's last words echoed over and over in his ears.

All were removed from the play

Removed from the play

Removed

The rare card hunter wanted to cry but had no tears.

In this era of DMs, even the cards sent to the GY were basically irrelevant to this duel, and there were very few things that could effectively use the resources of the GY, let alone the banished zone.

Ninety-nine percent of the banished cards have gone away for good in this round.

Oh, so this rare card hunter may also go far in this game

Obviously, his deck was all built around the Exodia the Forbidden One. The deck was completely composed of deck thinning cards, wall monsters with low star and high defense, and spell trap cards that blocked attacks and stall.

Other than that, there were only three copies of each Exodia part, 15 in total.

So the only way for him to win was to collect all the Exodia parts, and that's it. It was almost impossible to reduce the opponent's LP to zero by conventional methods.

What? Did you say that putting 15 Exodia parts in the deck will cause dead draws?

The answer was Obviously yes!

In the animation, when this guy was playing against Yami Yugi, he was stuck in a hand accident with his own Exodia parts

There was no surprise about what happened next. The rare card hunter was directly pressed to death by Snow Wave without any struggle.

What's even funnier was that this guy even started the Shadow Game confidently at the beginning, but now he has suffered the consequences of his own actions. The two monsters in Snow Wave took turns to attack directly. Under the real damage of the Shadow Game, the hunter screamed.

Yes, he was also a Shadow Duelist, but he was relatively weak and not strong enough to take the opponent's life.

Otherwise, he wouldn't be able to snatch the "Red-Eyes Black Dragon" from Jonouchi so easily. Jonouchi and his good buddy Honda once beat a dozen professional bodyguards from the Kaiba Corp, and their combat effectiveness was the pinnacle of human beings in Yu-Gi-Oh! DM.

If it wasn't for the rare card hunter having the power of a Shadow Game, how could there be no fighting back from Jonouchi?

As for Yugi later on

Um

That may be because his dark power was too weak, and he was no different from ordinary people in front of Yami Yugi

[Rare Card Hunter, LP 2800 LP 0]

It was finally over.

This was the first thought that popped into the rare card hunter's mind when the images of the two monsters vanished and his body slumped to the ground.

He collapsed on the ground, panting violently, sweating profusely, with a hollowed-out expression

Snow Wave rushed up and pulled out the opponent's deck from the Duel Disk. He was about to follow Yugi's example and shoved the whole set into his pocket, but he didn't expect a warning prompt to pop up in front of him.

"Warning! According to Battle City's rules, the winner can only get one rare card from the opponent. The one who breaks the rules will be punished by the competition organizer and disqualified!"

Snow Wave: ""

Damn! Does Kaiba still manage this?

"Cut, I can't take it all, it's boring"

Snow Wave grumbled helplessly as he unfolded the deck in his hand and began to choose one by one.

The rare card hunter lying on the ground couldn't help but spit out another mouthful of blood when he heard his muttering.

Do you actually want to take all of them? Do you have any morality left?

If he could only choose one, it didn't make sense to take a piece of Exodia. After all, Snow Wave also remembered that the Exodia the Forbidden One in this guy's hand was originally a fake card. Even if he took it, it would not work.

Snow Wave actually saw the "Red-Eyes Black Dragon". He wanted to take this card for a moment, but then he reminded himself that Red-Eyes Black Dragon belonged to Jonouchi. In the animation, it was because this hunter robbed Red-Eyes Black Dragon from Jonouchi so that he was later beaten by Yugi to the point that he could not take care of himself.

So if I got this Red-Eyes, shouldn't Yugi come to me?

Snow Wave shook his head and decided to be cautious first.

That is the Duel King, the Pharaoh! Who the hell wants to provoke that bigshot now?

He thought about it for a while, and finally took a "Pot of Greed".

However, the cards taken here were not actually system quest rewards, but the victory rewards formulated in the Battle City competition. Therefore, the rare cards obtained by players through this rule were actually the same in nature as those purchased from the card store. They were counted as quest items and unable to be used directly.

Such cards could only be thrown in the warehouse and wait for a certain quest to be triggered in the future, or sold to the system to be disassembled and exchanged for some crystals.

Either

you can also take it back and go to Yuei Vu to see if he is interested in receiving it.

Because Yuei Vu has specifically explained to the players that if he encountered any interesting card, he would buy it at a "high price".

Of course, even the "high price" was actually relative to the price of the system.

However, the players felt that it was quite profitable because at least it was more cost-effective to sell cards that you couldn't use to Yuei Vu than the system.

This NPC was handsome and strong, and it's super good!

Snow Wave took the card and the puzzle card and jumped up and down happily.

The rare card hunter gasped for a moment, gritted his teeth, and tried to get up again.

Now he's totally screwed up. Not to mention losing to an inexplicable weirdo, he also lost his own puzzle card. In this way, he didn't even have the qualifications to continue participating in the Battle City, and he would definitely be killed by Marik-sama when he returned.

In desperation, another person appeared from behind: "Found you!"

The rare card hunter shuddered, turned around, and found that there was another duelist behind him.

The Rare Card Hunter was full of questions: "Who are you?"

"Me? My name is I'll Hang Your Mother On The Tree'but it doesn't matter."

Rare Card Hunter: "??????"

Such a name unimportant?

Are you kidding me?

The weirdo raised the Duel Disk: "Do you want to have a duel? According to the rules of the Battle City."

The rare card hunter was annoyed by the other party's taunting, but after thinking about it, the anger quickly disappeared, and the wretched smile was put on his face again.

It's like the old saying "someone brings a pillow as soon as I feel sleepy".

He just lost the puzzle card, yet someone came to the door immediately to deliver one.

Of course, a "witty" hunter like him wouldn't tell the opponent that his puzzle card had actually been lost to someone else otherwise, they might not choose to duel with him.

As long as he won this game, he would be able to get a puzzle card and escape the death sentence!

Therefore, without any hesitation, the hunter immediately started the duel.

"Duel!" x2

"Then I'll go first, draw!" The player named "I'll Hang Your Mother On The Tree" took the lead, then laughed, and immediately played a spell card.

"Activate Continuous Spell Force of Four! When this card is activated, if any player has more than 4 cards in their hand, they must send cards to the Graveyard until there are 4 cards in their hand. While either player has 4 cards in their hand, if an effect would add a new card(s) from their Deck or Graveyard to their hand; they must send all those cards to the Graveyard instead!"

The rare card hunter almost collapsed.

You you all come to play me on purpose, right?

Chapter 78: We Call This A Summoner, Do You Understand?

Yuei Vu walked leisurely on the streets of the dueling city, wandering aimlessly.

He also didn't have anyone he particularly wanted to challenge, so he just followed whatever opponent he encountered. Anyway, the duelists in the whole city, including the players who have just been online, should not be able to be his opponent, and most of the strong players also chose to avoid other strong opponents in this stage.

Everyone would of course want to save a little time and effort, and dueling with weaker opponents would also increase the probability of advancing to the next round.

In this way, the content of the Yami Yugi in the animation was probably the top level of the Battle City. He repelled wave after wave of Ghouls' high-level duelists, which even included a puppet that Marik himself remotely controlled and held the "Osiris the Sky Dragon".

Just thinking of this, Yuei Vu noticed a prompt popped up on his quest interface.

He opened it to take a look and found that it turned out to be a reminder that the quest was automatically canceled. The following explanation was because Ghouls rare card hunter was defeated by Yugi Muto, and fifteen of Exodia's fake cards were all torn to pieces by the game. The hunter has lost the ability to fight again, so the mission which he gave to players was automatically canceled.

It was an expected result. According to the animation plot, this rare card hunter should have been defeated by Yugi to get the card of "Red-Eyes Black Dragon" back for his friend Jonouchi.

However, Yuei Vu reckoned that many players who received the quest should have gone to fight this hunter before that.

Maybe this would be the headline of tomorrow's underground world news.

"Shock! A certain Ghouls hunter was actually played by multiple screwballs in the Battle City!"

According to the Battle City rules, if each person grabbed a card from this guy, he should have lost a lot of cards

Although these cards seemed to be temporarily in the hands of the players, they would most likely end up in Yuei Vu's hands in the end.

After all, the cards obtained according to the Battle City gambling rules were only mission items for the players, and they couldn't use them either.

It was well known that although the card pool in the DM era was the smallest, many cards have simple and OP effects. There were many banned cards and divine cards that duelists have not realized the value of, so it's not a surprise if they appeared in the cannon fodder NPC's deck.

Local NPCs may not recognize the awesomeness of these cards, but players who were used to playing real cards know the goods!

Mixing a hundred cards at random, and a real player could always find the most useful card at a glance.

The card gambling rule of Battle City was regarded by many duelists as an excellent opportunity to strengthen their decks because they could come into contact with top rare cards from all over the world that were rarely seen on weekdays. The same was true for Yuei Vu.

But unlike others, he was not fighting alone.

All players who have logged into World Link Online during the current Open Beta were all potential hunters!

Not surprisingly, the end of this Battle City competition should be another bumper harvest for him.

Pedestrians on the left and right sides of the road seem to have decreased unconsciously. Yuei Vu looked sideways and found that there was such a weird clown not far away.

He looked like a clown, with a fat uniform, a bright red smile, a pale face, and colorful makeup.

He bowed gracefully towards Yuei Vu, gestured to the building in front of him, and then dexterously jumped backward into the grass and disappeared.

Yuei Vu frowned slightly.

He remembered this clown it seemed to be the subordinate of the magician Pandora?

In the animation, this clown guided Yugi to find the duel field prepared by Pandora, and the two had a "Saw" version of the duel there

The ankles of the duelists on both sides were fastened by shackles. A high-speed rotating chainsaw is placed on the slide rails on the sides of the two. The person whose LP was zeroed first would be cut down by a chainsaw.

Now this development It seemed that Pandora hated him for pulling his deck, so instead of going to trouble Yugi, he came to trouble him.

But has Pandora been "thrown into the depths of darkness" by Marik after the last defeat? Why was he released to do something again?

Thinking about this, Yugi was really a daring art master. They sent a clown to provoke him. Whether it was a trap or not, he simply followed the route arranged by others and went directly without bringing any companion.

Of course, Yuei Vu, as a duelist with the Yu- prefix, couldn't show weakness here. So he didn't even think about it, and immediately pretend not to see it, turn around and leave.

What! ? Why should I go into such a clear trap? I am not the Duel King.

Yugi had his own main character aura, not to mention the pharaoh himself. There were very few people on this Earth who could be his opponent. Of course, he could be iron-headed and reckless.

Anyway, Yuei Vu applied a pearl of old wisdom here: Of the Thirty-Six Stratagems, fleeing is best.

Knowing that it is a trap and playing according to other people's rules, do I look that stupid?

Yuei Vu pretended not to see it and even bought a hot dog while passing by a fast food restaurant. He went out early in the morning to attend the opening ceremony of Battle City, so he didn't even eat breakfast until now.

It wasn't until he slowly finished breakfast while walking that a certain Ghouls magician finally couldn't hold back and appeared in front of Yuei Vu in person.

Sure enough, it was Pandora again.

"You!" This time, Pandora didn't wear the big black robe that looked like a sack when they met last time. Instead, he was wearing a magician's red suit and a white mask with a cross-section and glared at Yuei Vu angrily.

Yuei Vu was amused when he saw that he was not only not afraid, but also laughed: "I thought that as long as I didn't go, you would always be waiting alone in that dark basement Are you really bored to the point you have to come up and check the situation?"

Pandora's face darkened: "Enough!"

He snapped his fingers.

From the grass on both sides, several guys wearing Ghouls' iconic black robes with their hoods lowered to cover their faces immediately popped out. They looked like mass-produced cannon fodder soldiers.

A group of black-clothed strong men blinked and surrounded Yuei Vuyan in the middle.

"Oh?" Yuei Vu looked around, "Aren't you going to solve the problem through a duel this time?"

"I gave you one chance, but you ran away and didn't accept it." Pandora said coldly, "For a cowardly duelist like you who can't even accept a duel, I think Lord Marik would agree to do so."

In other words, we hit people directly this time!

A few strong men tugged their sleeves without saying a word and looked like they were going to pin Yuei Vu on the ground.

but

Boom! boom! boom!

Several deafening explosions sounded, and a burst of energy burst out with astonishing airwaves. The strong men of Ghouls instantly turned on their backs, their noses bruised and their faces swollen, groaning on the ground.

The materialized Dark Magician Girl carried a small magic wand on her shoulders, blocked her body in front of her master, and pouted at the group of big men who wanted to plot against her master.

Yuei Vu stood behind the Dark Magician Girl with his arms crossed, looking calmly at Pandora who was so shocked that he doubted his life.

What? You say that men hiding behind girls are cowards?

Heh, we call this a summoner, do you understand?

What you see now is actually my mount that I can ride on!

Chapter 79: Directly Attack

Although many players gathered around important NPCs like Yuei Vu and Yugi before the Battle City competition started, after the official opening of the competition, most players chose to spread out and fight each other.

It was not good to follow the NPC in the promotion round. The opponents you met were all defeated by the plot NPC, how could you get puzzle cards to advance?

It was obviously unwise to challenge these important NPCs directly at this juncture. In the early days of the open beta, players were severely lacking cards. When facing these NPCs, they couldn't rely on their advanced awareness and deck-building ability to gain an advantage.

Players who were qualified for the open beta had the same dream to advance into the top eight.

If successful, not to mention other benefits, at least they would definitely be famous among players and may be recruited by any interested club or live broadcast platform in the future.

Therefore, most players still preferred to find soft persimmons.

But not without exception.

For example, Miss Yuehua, the streamer who received some special attention from Yuei Vu before, was a complete salted-fish-mentality player.

For a rookie like her who has just memorized the basic rules like "putting monster cards vertically is attack position and putting them horizontally is defense position", entering the quarter-finals was really out of reach.

From the beginning to the end, Miss Yuehua hadn't thought about promotion.

What does it mean to play a game? What does it mean to be promoted?

Why don't you go to view Yuei Vu's playing?

That's right, she was wandering around the city at the moment, looking left and right to find Yuei Vu's whereabouts.

If someone came to her door, she would accept it. If not, she would be too lazy to take the initiative to challenge others.

Winning or losing didn't matter to her. Anyway, even if she lost the puzzle card and lost the qualification, it would not prevent her from continuing to find Yuei Vu.

But even so, she kept reminding herself in her heart.

Although I was looking for Yuei Vu, it was definitely not because I desired his body!

She has been in the streamer circle for a long time, and she believed that her vision is still broad. What kind of tall, rich, and handsome had she never seen before? How was it possible to fall for an NPC who looks so handsome?

"I, Miss Yuehua, am definitely not a naive girl!

The reason why I am looking for him now is just because of the strong request from the live broadcast room, but in fact, I don't care. After all, her character is a queen, the kind that acts a little colder, is absolutely fundamentally different from the kind of little girl who becomes nympho when she sees a handsome guy"

At this moment, a large wave of comments rolled over: "Hey the streamer, look to your right! That's Yuei Vu!"

Miss Yuehua's eyes were instantly filled with little stars: "Ah!? Where?"

Looking in the direction pointed by the audience, Miss Yuehua quickly saw Yuei Vu's figure.

The girl whose eyes were full of little stars wanted to rush up for the first time, but her reason stopped her.

No, Miss Yuehua, you have to be calm, you have to be reserved

Forget it!

Go go go!

Miss Yuehua trotted all the way to get up. As a result, it happened that at this moment, a few strong men of Ghouls jumped out to surround Yuei Vu, a group of muscular men formed a human wall, and the air was filled with an anxious breath of freedom

Then the pop-up screen started again.

"What the hell are those people trying to do!"

"Let go of my husband!"

"The streamer, hurry up and save him!"

Miss Yuehua couldn't help but complain: Save him? Then who is going to save me?

As for her small body with less than 30 Endurance, how could she fight those muscular men?

But that would soon be unnecessary.

Because the players were quickly surprised to see a flash of light in the deck of Yuei Vu's Duel Disk, a beautiful magical girl flew out of the deck, and a series of spell bombings instantly blew the strong men to their knees.

The audience was even more shocked now.

"What? Why can his Dark Magician Girl beat people? Isn't it a hologram?"

"No, you can see that he didn't even open the Duel Disk, but the Dark Magician Girl flew out of the deck by herself!"

"Fuck! Could it be a monster spirit!?"

"Is that Dark Magician Girl real!?"

"Wow, it's blown up, it's actually my waifu's spirit! I'm so envious of 555"

"I'm so envious of the Dark Magician Girl, and I also want to be Yuei Vu's spirit"

"I don't know who to envy=="

Miss Yuehua stared straight at Yuei Vu, who was standing behind the Dark Magician Girl with her arms folded and her side facing her. She felt as if a mini version of herself was shouting in her heart

So handsome!

How can you even have a side face No, the back of the head is so handsome!

I was so envious of the spirit next to him! If only I could act as this spirit and protect him myself

At this time, Pandora was also doubting life.

"What!? This magician girl what's the situation?" Pandora's face was full of astonishment.

"Among duel monsters, Dark Magician Girl is the only disciple recognized by the Dark Magician." Yuei Vu smiled with his arms crossed, "It seems that even if you claim to be the master of the Dark Magician, you don't seem to know it at all."

Hearing this, the Dark Magician Girl puffed out her chest proudly, as if she was a little proud.

Pandora's heart was shocked the Dark Magician actually has an apprentice that I don't know about?

It feels like my wife secretly went out to find another man behind my back

Bah! That's not the point at all!

"Before this, why were your monsters real?" Pandora felt that the worldview was challenged, "Shouldn't it be all three-dimensional images!?"

"Oh? It looks like you don't know anything even if you are with Marik." Yuei Vu shook his head, "I think you don't understand at all."

"Understand what do you know?"

To be honest, Pandora was really a little flustered when he looked at the petite magician girl in front of her, was afraid that the other party's disagreement and another magic-guided explosive bomb would blow him away

In fact, it was not uncommon for monsters to materialize in Yu-Gi-Oh. As early as in the Duelist Kingdom arc, Yugi's classmate, the holder of the "Millennium Ring", Bakura, once summoned physical monsters.

Yami Yugi in the animation until the Duelist Kingdom arc didn't seem to be able to do this (maybe it has something to do with his memory loss), but in the subsequent Orichalcos arc, when the materialized monsters invaded the human world on a large scale, Yami Yugi has also been able to. He counterattacked by materializing his own monster.

This move should be regarded as a common skill for high-level dark duelists. For example, Yuki Judai in the later stage of GX could also make his Neos materialize.

In addition, the dueling monster spirit "Honest" that appeared in the later stage of GX not only be able to materialize freely but even transform and disguise as other humans.

Yuei Vu boldly speculated that Marik, who held a Millennium Rod, should also know it, but didn't bother to tell his subordinates.

"Since that's the case," Pandora gritted her teeth and opened the Duel Disk, "Let's use a duel to decide the outcome!"

Yuei Vu rolled his eyes.

You just said that you won't play cards if you don't want to play cards, but now that you want to play, I'll play with you. Isn't it shameful for me?

No, let's beat people directly today!

There is no need to talk about playing fair with these evils!

"Dark Magician Girl!" Yuei Vu ordered without saying a word, "Directly attack Pandora himself! Black Burning Magic!"

Dark Magician Girl waited for the master to say a word and immediately waved her little wand after receiving the order.

Pandora quickly turned around and ran away, cursing at the same time: "@#%&*"

Chapter 80: The Cursed Armor

"Dark Magician Girl, attack Pandora directly!"

Before the last syllable of Yuei Vu's words, the Dark Magician Girl had already received the order and flew out, as if she had been waiting for her master to say so.

Miss Yuehua, who was eating melon beside him, and her audience were also excited to see that.

"It's too bold! The duel monsters are hitting people!"

"My waifu is so cute when she beats people"

"Brother upstairs, don't just drink, come, come, come here, brother, I have some cephalosporins for you to drink"

"Get out of the way, get out of the way, my urine is yellow and I wake him up Eh! Why are you shut up? Yamete!"

There was so much joy in the live broadcast room, but Pandora felt a pain in the ass. Although he turned his head and ran for the first time, how could he escape the magic of a Dark Magician Girl? A black magic missile burst down and landed directly on his back, blowing up a large cloud of smoke.

However, Yuei Vu, who has read countless films, knew a truth that was common to all worldviews, that was, there was no harm if there was smoke

When the smoke cleared and Pandora in a red suit reappeared in sight, he was slumped on the ground with a terrified look, but he was completely unscathed as if he had not been attacked by the Dark Magician Girl at all.

Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows.

The Dark Magician Girl cautiously fell in front of her master, and shielded him with her slender, snow-white arms: "Master, this is a Shadow Game'."

"Ah, I know." Yuei Vu nodded.

The pale golden translucent light enveloped Pandora like a closed sphere, protecting him from the impact of the explosion of the Black Burning Magic. A golden eye lit up on the magician's forehead, and the light pierced through the mask, looking sacred and solemn.

"The power of the Millennium Items." Yuei Vu quickly understood, "Is it Marik?"

Pandora, who was sitting on the ground shaking like a sieve, obviously just realized this, and immediately laughed proudly in response.

"Lord MarikLord Marik's power protects me! Haha!" He regained his confidence and jumped up, "It seems that you can't escape this battle in the end."

"It seems so."

Yuei Vu estimated that 80% of it should be the divine power from the Millennium Rod, which Marik used to monitor and control his subordinates at any time, and also lurked in the bodies of these Ghouls hunters as a weapon that could be invoked at any time.

If the opponent was an ordinary person, Dark Magician Girl could beat him, but if the opponent has a certain degree of power in the Shadow Game, it was another matter.

During the Shadow Game, players were basically invincible, and normal damage, including hot weapons such as firearms and ammunition, could not hurt players in the game. The only way for both players to damage each other and defeat the opponent was to defeat the opponent according to the rules of the game.

"Okay, since you insist so much, let's do it again." Yuei Vu shrugged nonchalantly, opened the Duel Disk, and mocked, "To be honest, I thought you had no cards to duel after the last time. But it seems that Ghoul's skill in forging fake cards is really good, and he has given you a new set so soon."

"Hmph, let's talk big words now." Pandora also opened the Duel Disk, and it seemed that "returning to playing cards to solve" gave him confidence again, "Last time I was underestimated and unprepared to be caught off guard by you."

If you want to use that card this time, let's continue to use it, but my deck has been greatly strengthened compared to last time. Now I will prove to you, what is the real master of Dark Magician! "

Apparently, Pandora still remembered the "Last Day of Witch" by Yuei Vu last time, and now there was a shadow in his heart.

However, this time, Yuei Vu didn't bring that card at all.

"Duel!" x2

"I'll go first, draw!" Pandora took the lead again in a hurry, and then laughed, "Last time I really underestimated you, but this time it's completely different!"

I normal summon The Illusory Gentleman' in attack position! "

A "gentleman" magician dressed in red and wrapped in an elegant red cloak appeared on the field, holding a staff in his hand.

Yuei Vu couldn't help but look sideways.

Are you a gentleman too?

Nice to meet you.

[The Illusory Gentleman, ATK 1500]

"Then set a card, and I end my turn."

"My turn." Yuei Vu came up and immediately entered the rhythm of the attack, "Summon Breaker the Magical Warrior!"

A swordsman in red armor appeared on Yuei Vu's field, with a high spiral hat covering half of his face, holding a sword in one hand and a shield in the other.

[Breaker the Magical Warrior, ATK 1600]

"When the Breaker the Magical Warrior is successfully summoned, he can place a Spell Counter' on himself, and his attack power increases by 300 points for each Spell Counter on him.

Moreover, he can remove 1 Spell Counter and destroy 1 Spell/Trap on the field!

I remove the counter of Breaker the Magical Warrior and destroy your set card! "

Yuei Vu pointed forward, and the magic swordsman swung out his long sword from the air. The magic power condensed on the blade and flew out as a shock visible to the naked eye, slicing the set card in Pandora's Spell Trap Zone straight into two pieces.

It was a "Sakuretsu Armor".

Yuei Vu looked at it.

Why do these people like to set Sakuretsu Armor so much?

Whoever uses this cursed armor will die. I don't understand

Pandora couldn't help but grit his teeth. If Yuei Vu could step into this trap honestly, he would be the first to take the initiative in the duel.

Unfortunately, it's obviously not that easy.

"Because the counter is removed, the attack power of Breaker the Magical Warrior remains at 1600." Yuei Vu said, "But in terms of attack power, it still has the upper hand. Go! Breaker the Magical Warrior, attack the gentleman er The Illusory Gentleman!"

The swordsman in red armor flew forward, the blade cut straight out, and when the sword fell, he cut Pandora's monster in two.

The poor gentleman let out an unwilling roar before he died, and was then completely shattered by the power of the magic sword.

Pandora, LP 4000 LP 3900

"It looks like your so-called greatly strengthened' is not so good," Yuei Vu chuckled sarcastically, "If the full score is 100 points, it may mean that the combat power level has risen from 5 to 6."

The muscles under Pandora's mask twitched, but he didn't speak. After all, he really lost the first turn of confrontation.

But the battle has just begun!

Yuei Vu said, "I'll set a card, I end my turn."

"My turn, draw! I activate Pot of Greed' to draw two cards from the deck."

Pandora drew two more cards, then narrowed his eyes: "Just let you see how my deck has been strengthened! Activate Equip Spell card Premature Burial! By paying 800 LP, then target 1 monster in your Graveyard; Special Summon that target in Attack Position and equip it with this card.

The Illusory Gentleman, come back to life! "

Pandora, LP 3900 LP 3100

The gentleman who was just cut down was immediately pulled back from the cemetery and returned to the field again. He chuckled twice as if saying, "you didn't expect that I'm back again, did you?"

However, Pandora continued to operate: "And then I activate Quick-Play spell card Magical Dimension'! When I control a Spellcaster monster, I can Tribute 1 monster I control, then Special Summon 1 Spellcaster monster from my hand, then I can destroy 1 monster on the field.!"

So the poor wizard gentleman was sacrificed before he even stood firm

The wind direction on the field changed suddenly, the magic power surged, the scarlet cyclone reverberated around, and the figure wearing a red robe and holding a staff flew out of the magic circle for summoning.

"Fell down under the power of the strongest magician!" Pandora raised a card in his hand, "Come on, Dark Magician!"
