

I Play Yu-Gi 721

Chapter 721: Yuei Vu-san, Where Art Thou?

Today was the first day that version 2.0 of "World Link Online" went online.

Tens of thousands of players have logged into this game after a long absence. Their consciousness accelerated through the passage of unknown technology, breaking through the barriers of space and dimensions, and once again came to this unknown world.

And this time the number of players has further expanded compared to version 1.0.

In fact, although it was a card game, the degree of realism of the game "World Link Online" was really ridiculous. The huge map, lifelike picture effects, and NPC's intelligence were comparable to humans. No matter which part, it was enough to attract a large number of players.

And it may be a bit unbelievable to say it, but in fact, Yuei Vu himself was now also an important factor in attracting players.

"You will never find such an earth-shatteringly handsome NPC in any other game!"

This was what the top post on the forum said, followed by a lot of comments and likes.

The post also contained a lot of Yuei Vus show-off moments in the game, from various videos and clips of highlight moments.

The person involved, Yuei Vu, had also visited this post. After briefly browsing it, he nodded slightly.

Its not easy to be half as handsome as I am, so-so.

However, there were quite a few new players attracted by screenshots and edited videos.

With his impeccable appearance, the black trench coat billowing behind him like waves, and the masked hero standing like a protector behind him in the screenshot, his handsomeness was almost overwhelming!

"Husband, stop playing cards and come home with me!"

"Mom, I'm in love! What? You said you want to see my boyfriend? Come and lie down in the game cabin and I will take you there"

""

There were even some girls who, seeing the screenshot and the good looks, didnt even understand what the game was about, so they started shouting that they wanted to get into the trap.

Typical of the late stage of fangirl.

Isnt it just a game of cards?

For such a handsome brother, let alone just learn to play cards, it is not impossible to learn other difficult things!

So the question was, since the game was so popular and there were so many people wanting to get into it, why were there only a few million players so far?

The answer was there was no quota.

Yes, World Link Online was not a casual game, and it could not be entered by just anyone who wanted to. If you wanted to play games, you had to have a slot.

Many people have also asked: Why are the quotas so tight? Wouldn't it be nice to let more players in and earn more money from them?

The official response to this was that it was a technical problem.

Because "World Link Online" was different from any existing game, there were some technical difficulties that had not yet been overcome, so there was an upper limit on the number of people that could be accommodated.

However, after the 2.0 version update, the upper limit of this capacity has also been expanded. The official issued new quotas, and more selected lucky people were able to enter the World Link Online and start their card-playing journey.

But what exactly the "technical issue" referred to, according to them, involves commercial secrets and has not been made public.

It seems that the more people come in, the smaller the obstacles will be?!

But the difference from a few years ago was that the world was unprepared for players.

Although they behaved strangely and sometimes were a little crazy, no one at that time suspected that they came from other dimensions, and no one thought there was anything wrong with them.

But its different now.

Since the "Duel Link" system was developed and Kaiba Corporation's research confirmed the existence of other dimensions it was said that President Kaiba himself has personally visited other dimensions the origins of players have been somewhat guessed.

Many people believed that these duelists were strong men from other dimensions.

Seto Kaiba regarded this as evidence that the "Duel Link" system would be officially completed sooner or later.

On the first day of launch, almost everyone in the forum was discussing the same issue in full swing

Yuei Vu-san is missing!

This was a first-class event.

Six years have passed, a new era, a new version, and suddenly Yuei Vu-san seemed to be everywherebut nowhere to be found.

It was said that he was everywhere because Yuei Vu's influence as the "Duel King" had visibly become greater than before. Not only did Domino have a personal museum about him, but also products and advertisements he endorsed, and he even had a "Duelist Building" with a painting style that made people think it was built in the wrong studio.

Not long after the server was launched, a large number of players had already gathered under this building to admire its elegance. The bodyguard, Uncle Isono, personally led the team and went to great lengths to prevent the "enthusiastic" crowd from swarming in.

That's right, Uncle Isono has been temporarily assigned to maintain the security of the "Duelist Building".

These days, its not easy to make a living without knowing how to play cards. When Uncle Isono went out and introduced himself to people, saying "I am Seto Kaiba's bodyguard" yes, the one who could jump out of a jet unscathed then people burst into laughter. ..

In fact, with Uncle Isono's resume and strength, it was not impossible to simply quit his job and start his own business, becoming a "bodyguard hero" or something.

To say that Yuei Vu was nowhere to be found was a literal meaning.

Yuei Vu's haremah, no, it's a fan club. They have already visited the Dream Card Shop, his residence, the Nightcrawler World Association, and Kaiba Corp. There was no sign of Yuei Vu.

At this time, Snow Wave and several members of the fan club who gathered again had begun to feel a little depressed after traveling to several places without hearing from Yuei Vu-san.

Several people are now standing on the street, discussing what to do next.

"Yuei Vu-san doesn't really want us anymore, right?" Miss Yuehua muttered in frustration.

As soon as she went online today, her live broadcast room became extremely popular. The audience, who had been depressed for several days, couldn't wait, hoping that under the leadership of Miss Yuehua, they could once again catch a glimpse of Yuei Vu-san, who was rumored to be the most handsome duel king.

Everyones planes and rockets have been brushed in place, but this is the result?

Yuei Vu-san, where art thou?

The audience was anxious. Miss Yuehua said that she was extremely anxious too!

Now that I have accepted the gift, what will happen if Yuei Vu-san doesnt come out?

She was just a pitiful and helpless little streamer. Without Yuei Vu-san, she could only make ends meet by being cute How does she need to compensate for this?

No, no!

Miss Yuehua quickly shook her head to get rid of some terrible thoughts.

She believes that Yuei Vu-san was definitely not the kind of man who frequently changed his girlfriend!

Everyone discussed the next step enthusiastically. However, they found that only Heart Gone With The Wind was squatting aside as if it had nothing to do with him, looking at the ground and studying something unknown.

Coke Sprite couldn't help but go up and ask: "What are you studying?"

Following his gaze, she found that he seemed to be looking at little ants crawling around on the ground?

"Didn't I hear you say before that everything in Yu-Gi-Oh can be played with cards?"

"Yes." Coke Sprite said.

"Then is it possible for me to play cards with these ants?"

Coke Sprite: ""

MDZZ!

Everyone continued to discuss, and Fae even came up with such a bad idea as "How about we kidnap Mokuba to ask?"

Until a voice sounded from behind them.

"What are you doing in a place like this?"

The screwballs froze instantly as if they were electrocuted.

Several screwballs turned their heads and turned around, looking over at them, and they couldn't help but gasp with surprise on their faces.

"Yuei Vu-san!!!"

Chapter 722: Having Other Uses

"Yuei Vu-san!!!"

The screwballs were so excited that they howled.

Yuei Vu-san was finally back!

"Holy shit, is this true?" Fae pushed Native Noragami, "Quickly pinch me!"

Brother Noragami rolled his eyes at him, his face full of disgust.

Miss Yuehua, who just now was worried about how to compensate the audience, now felt better in an instant. The popularity of her live broadcast room skyrocketed, and the comments filling the screen rolled past like waves.

The boss and the little rich women finally couldn't hold back their eager wallets, and they were overwhelmed by the planes and rockets. Miss Yuehua's face was full of joy, and her little mouth kept saying "Thank you, boss" and "Boss is so generous" until later it turned into "too much, really too much". However, even though she said this, her body actually wanted more sincerely

There were also excessive comments that even directly said: "Woman, get out of here! You are blocking me from watching Duel King!"

""

When Coke Sprite saw Yuei Vu, whom she hadn't seen for five days, her eyes were confused for a moment.

As expected, he was as handsome as she remembered

Then she realized a problem: "Yuei Vu-sanit seems like he hasn't changed at all."

"Yes." Miss Yuehua agreed.

According to the plot setting, six years have passed, but Yuei Vu's face didn't seem to have many traces of time, but his temperament seemed more mature and steady, which made people feel more reliable.

"But speaking of which, President Kaiba in GX hasn't changed much."

"That's true"

Among the first-generation characters who had roles in GX, Yugi Muto may have changed the most. The harmless short man in the DM game had become slender and had sharper facial lines when he appeared in GX. You could even see clear muscles on his thin arms.

If it weren't for the fact that the GX setting clearly stated that the background of the story is many years after DM, everyone would definitely think that it was Atem who appeared in the animation.

"Yuei Vu-san is the incarnation of the Creator God of Light!"

This statement was unanimously agreed by the screwballs.

Actually, when it came to Yuei Vu's true age even the man himself didn't know how to calculate it.

If I count from the moment I created this duelist account and traveled through time, I should be seven years old now?!

It didn't seem very reliable.

But it doesn't matter. An idol-type Duel King like me has no problem pretending to be eighteen years old forever.

"Long time no see." Yuei Vu greeted several people.

This was true. It has indeed been a long time since he saw these screwballs. It has been so long that he even misses the crystals in their pockets.

"I just came back from Duel Academy." Yuei Vu said, "I heard that you are back in the city."

In just one sentence, several players received a lot of messages.

"Duel Academy? Is Yuei Vu-san already a teacher at Duel Academy?" The person who just spoke was One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer.

"Ha! Sure enough, we are right to follow Yuei Vu-san! Enter the GX main line directly!"

Miss Yuehua's focus was different: "You mean, as soon as Yuei Vu-san heard that we were back, he immediately flew back from the island of Duel Academy?"

The streamer's eyes were bright.

Ha! After six years, Yuei Vu-san was the first to come to us immediately when he came back online!

What does that mean? This means that we can be the first to get access to GX-related quests, get the new version of cards first, and get ahead of the big players faster!

Sure enough, all those duel disks were not in vain!

Yuei Vu-san, please hurry up and satisfy us with quests!

Yuei Vu did not disappoint them and immediately launched a mission without saying a word. Several player quest panels lit up at the same time, and they all eagerly opened the quest list to view it.

"I have some positions that require a lot of manpower, a lot of duelists with strong strength and excellent tactical qualities." Yuei Vu said, "Help me find as many excellent duelists as possible and wait for me at the designated location."

[New quest: Recruiter]

[Description: Duel King Yuei Vu is recruiting a large number of outstanding duelists! Take people to report and you can receive rewards.]

Several screwballs looked at each other.

Ah, this

They thought they could have Yuei Vu-san all to themselves, but they never expected that the first quest Yuei Vu gave them when he came back was to recruit more people to join

I thought I was your one and only, but I didnt expect it to be only one in a thousand.

Yuei Vu glanced at them and chuckled.

Hehe, a bunch of silly kids.

How can I only raise a few small fry like you in a fish pond as big as mine?

Havent you heard that its shameful to waste resources?

"Okay, let's go." Yuei Vu waved his hand, "You know where to find me."

The location he designated was a large duel arena owned by Kaiba Corporation in Domino City anyway, the facilities at the president's house were almost equal to his own, so he could borrow them if he wanted without having to say hello, so it was convenient to use.

The time and address were written on the quest panel, so players didnt have to worry about not being able to find the location.

In the new version, Yuei Vu had other uses for these players.

After handing over the quest, Yuei Vu didn't stay long. He saw the shadow of the Masked HERO appear briefly beside him, and then he jumped up. Coerced by the shadow, he jumped high into the air and disappeared at the top of a building.

Several players' eyes widened, and the live broadcast room was even more lively.

"Yuei Vu-san seems to be more awesome at controlling spirits than before"

"Hold it up, I'm going to blow it up, Yuei Vu-san!"

"Isn't it common knowledge in card games that the Duel King can fly into the sky and escape the Matrix?"

"Can we show off like this when our level gets higher in the future?"

""

The live broadcast screen was transmitted, and countless keyboards behind the screen exerted their skills at the same time, and the news flew out quickly like wings.

On this day, the forum was once again dominated by the name "Yuei Vu".

In version 2.0, getting on Yuei Vu's thick and golden thigh was still the primary goal of players.

The version would change, and the protagonist of the version would also change as the plot progresses. But only Yuei Vu-san, the world protagonist of this game, would not change!

Besides, who is the protagonist of the new version?

Yuki Judai!

Players all know that Yuki Judai is also a student of Yuei Vu, right?

Moreover, Zorc, the Great Evil God himself, has confirmed that Yuei Vu-san is the incarnation of Holactie the Creator God of Light!

Even if he's not the protagonist, it's definitely not wrong to follow Holactie's incarnation, right?

So it was completely foreseeable that a large number of players soon gathered in the duel hall, gathered on the podium and stretched their necks, waiting for Yuei Vu to speak.

Those strange-looking players who looked like active primary school students reminded Yuei Vu of the opening ceremony of an elementary school.

He walked onto the stage and coughed.

"Thank you all duelists for coming." Yuei Vu said, "As you may already know, I am recruiting people. I need strong duelists, people who have a deep love for the game of dueling monsters and a deep understanding of it.

Duel is entering a new realm, and the world is evolving with it. In this process, the training of the younger generation of duelists is crucial. They are the future of the duel world and will also lead the direction of this world."

No one among the noisy players said a word. Everyone held their breath and raised their ears, listening carefully to Yuei Vu's speech.

It looked like the primary school students lining up in the playground when the principal was speaking on the podium.

"This is why I invite you here, you duelists with unique talents and understanding of duels that are different from ordinary people. We invite you because we hope you can participate in this process and become part of this bright future."

Yuei Vu paused and smiled mysteriously.

"I hope to hire some of you to serve as special instructors at Duel Academy."

The whole place fell into a brief and eerie silence.

What followed was an uproar as if a bomb had exploded.

Chapter 723: Recruiting

A few days ago, just before Link World was launched again, many players expressed a similar view.

They felt that as the version updated, the main plotline advanced, and the background of the story and the map changed, the days when the players in the Domino City area who initially obtained the test quota could continue to be the lead were numbered.

The reason was simple: because Domino, known as the "Battle City", was no longer the main map of this version. In the future, they may have fewer and fewer opportunities on this map, and the center of the world would shift to the island where the new stage "Duel Academy" was located.

Finding a way to sneak into Duel Academy was the greatest opportunity!

At this moment, a brand new door has been opened in front of these first batch of players. Whether they could pass through this door and seize this opportunity depended on their destiny.

Recruiting players to become teachers in Duel Academy was an idea that Yuei Vu has already had for a long time.

Yuei Vu had a relatively clear understanding and positioning of his own strength. He had a card pool that was unmatched by the entire player base, a means of collecting crystals on a large scale, the ability to obtain animation cards that players could not obtain, and a "Duelist Rank" system that players did not have in short, he could perform divine draw according to the actual situation.

Of course, what was the most important in a card game was the deck itself, especially in the Yu-Gi-Oh world view, the cards held by the duelists are originally part of their strength.

In the current player ladder competitive environment, players who were always at the top must first have a tier-1 deck. You must first have a deck that is worthy of being played on the table, and secondly, you must have room to compete with others in terms of game understanding and operation.

Even the best chef cannot cook without material. No matter how strong a player was, he still needed the support of the deck. Even if you were a world champion player, you would still be powerless against the opponent's "one card makes everything" meta deck with an "Axe Raider" deck full of Normies.

Of course, if it's a seafood-haired boss who could print cards out of thin air, that's a different story.

However, if we only talk about deck construction, tactical awareness, and in-depth understanding of the game as a card player, some more professional competitive players may be better than Yuei Vu.

So who else in the world is better suited to teach newbies how to play cards than these professional guys?

The current principal of Duel Academy was Samejima, and his teaching ability was obvious to everyone. The principal's teaching philosophy was obviously more focused on practicing divine drawing rather than deck building. His teaching policy was

As long as you can draw the card you want, you can skip the rules of deck construction and so on.

Actually, this could not be said to be wrong. Why were the players busy cutting down, deleting, and optimizing the construction of the deck? Wasn't it just to reduce the chance of a dead draw?

So since I can draw cards according to my personal preferences with the help of BGM, why should I learn how to build a deck?

This principle was not wrong, but this method required too much talent from the students. Principal Samejima has been busy in the Cyber Dojo for so many years, but only a genius like Ryo Marufuji has emerged. There were very few people who could achieve the ultimate level of divine draw.

But the players approach was different. What the upper-level deck building pursued was a stable performance, a strong deck retrieval ability to ensure that key cards could be used, and an excellent deck operation ability to ensure long-term endurance.

If the bond with the deck was not enough, you could compensate by increasing the probability. Therefore, the way players play cards with real cards was more suitable for ordinary students without talent. After all, not every student was Marufuji Ryo and Yuki Judai. Most of the students in Duel Academy were ordinary people with average abilities.

Of course, when Yuei Vu proposed this proposal, there were naturally doubts in the school board.

Many people have already seen the unique understanding of dueling by these outside duelists, but what also impressed the school directors was their abnormal brain circuits.

Some people have suggested that such a bunch of crazy people who dress in fancy clothes and like gossip may not be suitable for the position of college teachers.

In fact, Yuei Vu was not completely opposed to this point of view. He did not think that screwballs could behave as teachers, nor did he think that this group of players who played just for entertainment could be tied up in the classroom to attend classes on time.

So here he had no intention of letting the players become teachers in the traditional sense, but had other arrangements.

After a debate on the board of directors, Seto Kaiba, who had the absolute say in the board of directors after all, the president seemed to be on the verge of ruling the world directly made the decision.

Kaiba slammed the table, interrupting all discussions among the school directors.

"It's not that your proposal is unacceptable." The president magically pulled out a Duel Disk from the conference table, "But! If you want my vote, you must first defeat the deck in my hand!

Come on, Yuei Vu! Let's duel! "

School directors: ""

Seto Kaiba has a very high say in Duel Academy.

Seto Kaiba insists on solving all problems that cannot be reached by playing cards.

Seto Kaiba cannot beat Duel King Yuei Vu in playing cards.

This proves that Yuei Vu basically has the final say in Duel Academy.

The logic is clear, the reasoning is rigorous, and there are no flaws at all

"Ding!"

[New quest: Duel Academy teacher selection!]

[Description: By having a duel with Duel King Yuei Vu, Yuei Vu will give you points based on your actual performance in the duel. If the score reaches 60 points, you will be qualified for the finals.]

[Requirements for participation: Ranked platinum or above in the competitive ladder.]

Seeing the last line of requirements, a group of players immediately began to wail.

Obviously, not everyone here had the platinum level.

Its not that Yuei Vu thought that players below the platinum level on the ladder were not good enough. It could not rule out some players who had good skills but were too unlucky or didnt have a deck that was good enough to reach high ranks.

But his time was limited. It would be too slow for him to review so many players one by one. The number of people he could recruit was limited anyway, so he might as well use the ladder levels to filter them first.

However, Yuei Vu still gave preferential treatment to those players with high enough favorability around him. Even if their competitive level was not high enough, Yuei Vu still gave them a chance.

As for old customers, feedback was still necessary.

As soon as the mission description was posted, players immediately rushed to sign up.

Everyone also knows that the quota was limited. If they were too late in the queue and the quota was filled, they might not even have the chance to go up for the test.

"Yuei Vu-san, me first!"

"I was obviously the one who came first!"

"Damn, in that case, let's have a duel! Whoever wins goes first!"

"Then you two in front of you can fight while I'm on first."

"Yuei Vu-san, let me go first, I have a lot of water!"

"The one above, you have a problem"

Chapter 724: Large-Scale Card Advertisement

Long panted heavily, and a burning whirlpool blew out of his nose. A giant dragon with five heads stands between heaven and earth. On the left was a steel black dragon flapping its wings and floating in the air. On the right was an ice-blue flying dragon that looked like it was covered in frozen scales and stood tall in the sky.

Five-Headed Dragon, ATK 5000

[Red-Eyes Darkness Metal Dragon, ATK 2800]

White Night Dragon, ATK 3000

"Five-Headed Dragon." Yuei Vu snapped his fingers, his black clothes flying behind him, "attack the player directly."

The Five-Headed Dragon opened its mouth, and colorful shocks came out. The dazzling light curtain was like a floodgate on the horizon being broken through, and the chaotic flow of elements exploded out with the dragon's breath.

"Uhhhhhh!!!"

[Player A, LP 0]

A player was flipped on his back, his LP was cleared by a blow from the Five-Headed Dragon, and he was also flipped to the ground by the impact of the three-dimensional image in an exaggerated way.

Although the Five-Headed Dragon was the shame of the dragon clan, as a six-for-one big monster with 5000 ATK but no useful effects, at least this thing was so big and powerful. When the three-dimensional image attacked, the scene was cool enough, and it could have a good show-off effect.

This duel was over in a few rounds, but the whole process was spent with the "WTF" sounds coming one after another from the screwballs.

"WTF! Future Fusion!"

"WTF! Red-Eyes Darkness Metal Dragon! The pillar of the dragon clan!"

"WTF! The trash that cannot even act as a wall!"

Five-Headed Dragon:

"Next."

Yuei Vu waved his hand, signaling the beaten player to step down, and the players in line behind him to follow quickly. At the same time, he easily pulled out the deck of cards in the Duel Disk and replaced it with a new one.

The next one was that Yuei Cannot Escape Fae.

Fae came on stage, pushed up his glasses frame out of habit, and smiled at Yuei Vu. His original intention may have been to get closer, but his expression like a suppressed beast still made Yuei Vu instinctively disgusted.

The image of the character coupled with this wretched smile was not compatible with a good-looking guy like Yuei Vu

However, Fae was also a player that Yuei Vu was relatively familiar with, and his dueling skill was quite acceptable.

After two or three rounds of confrontation, the duel ended at the speed of light.

In the last turn, there was 1 "The Six Samurai Zanji" on Fae's field. Then he first normal summoned 1 "The Six Samurai Yaichi", and then special summoned "Great Shogun Shien".

Shien was also the trump card in Brother Fae's hand now. As long as there were 2 or more face-up "Six Samurai" monsters on the field, he could be special summoned directly. Not only did he have 2500 ATK, but he also had the interference effect of limiting the opponent's Spell/Trap activation.

At the beginning of the Standby Phase of this turn, Yuei Vu activated the trap card "Battle Mania", so that all the monsters on Fae's field must attack during this turn.

But it didn't matter. Brother Fae said that he was the more proactive type, and sometimes he may even be a little too proactive. Attacking must be exactly what he wanted.

Of course, before attacking, you must first clear the pits in the back row. Therefore, Brother Fae chose to activate the effect of "The Six Samurai-Yaichi" first, which could destroy the only cover card in Yuyu's backfield.

But he never expected that when Yaichi's arrow penetrated the card and the card was torn apart in mid-air, that card turned out to be Continuous Trap "Mirror Force Launcher"!

"The effect of Mirror Force Launcher is triggered." Yuei Vu smiled, "When this card is destroyed, can Set this card from your GY and 1 Mirror Force' from my hand, Deck, or GY.

And the cards set by this effect can also be activated this turn! "

The onlookers' voices of "WTF" kept coming one after another.

OMG, Yuei Vu-san has more and more good things in his hands!

Countless premium players could no longer hold back and are ready to move again, wishing they could buy it right away!

"When Great Shogun Shien' is on the field, the opponent can only activate 1 Spell/Trap Card each turn, but that is limited to the card itself. Mirror Force Launcher' is a trap whose effect is activated after it is destroyed and goes to the graveyard, so it is not within this limit." Yuei Vu said.

Then there would naturally be no suspense about what happens next.

Shien was forced to attack under the effect of "Battle Mania", and the "Mirror Force" wiped out all the samurais of Brother Fae in an instant.

Fae was obviously not the kind of advanced duelist who, when the field was empty, could make a comeback in adversity with one divine attack. The reflected attack also took away almost all the resources at hand. The result of the duel was decided.

"Okay, you're qualified." Yuei Vu said, "I'll call you in two days."

Fae was overjoyed, and at that time he acted as if he was going to rush up to hug Yuei Vu and kiss him twice, but he backed down under Yuei Vu's unkind gaze.

However, after this series of cards were played, the onlookers were frantically taking screenshots and posting non-stop. After a few minutes, it was reported on the forum that Yuei Vu-san actually had such-and-such cards, and Yuei Vu-san took out another deck of such-and-such series

Yes, Yuei Vu took advantage of this assessment opportunity to advertise his various decks.

Yuei Vu even took out the deck of cards that he didn't use at all and was just gathering dust in his card library all day long, and showed them off specifically to the screwballs.

For example, sponsored by the passionate young man Aigami, the typical Cubic deck looked fancy and had gorgeous special effects, but players may get stuck when playing

But this deck still had a lot of fans.

Seeing Yuei Vu perform a series of gorgeous "Five Cubic Attacks Combo", directly OTKed the opponent, many players became excited at that time and even fantasized about slaughtering the opponent with the Cubic deck.

There was also the "Knights of Hanoi" guild where Coke Sprite belonged. It was said that when their president "Just A Sandbag" saw the "Mirror Force Launcher", he almost overturned the stronghold with excitement.

"Buy! Must buy!" The president was waving his arms and talking incoherently.

The Mirror Force is the holy power of us!

This wave of advertising was necessary.

Yuei Vu feels that after all, so many years have passed since version 1.0. It has been many years since he won the Battle City Championship and the title of Duel King.

What if there was a screwball thinking he was outdated?

Is this necessary to give them a sense of his presence?

The effect of this advertisement was also very significant, and the players once again recalled the surprise they were shocked by Yuei Vu-san.

As an NPC in the world of Yu-Gi-Oh!, Yuei Vu-san changed more than 20 decks in one breath today, without duplication, and he didn't even take out his iconic "HERO" series!

You tell me this is an NPC? Is this a walking card warehouse?

But after fighting Fae, Yuei Vu would stop here for today.

Playing cards were also very energy-consuming. Although Yuei Vu's endurance was now astonishing and beyond human reach, there was still a limit after all. Fighting more than 20 people in turns at one breath still emptied his stamina bar.

He asked the remaining players to go back and prepare first, and then set a time for the assessment in a few days.

Leaving the venue, it was completely dark outside. Yuei Vu walked on the streets of Domino at night, looking at the bustling night scene of the city, feeling the changes in Battle City over the years, and a sense of intimacy arose spontaneously.

He was reborn in this city, worked hard in this city, and built everything he has now from scratch.

This city gave him an opportunity, and now he had the ability to make it better.

After walking for a while, turning the corner ahead was Domino's famous scenic spot White Dragon Park.

Yes, that's right. Over the years, President Kaiba has reformed this city into a shape that was getting closer and closer to a White Bride city.

There were noisy sounds and some gorgeous light effects at the entrance of the park. A large group of passers-by gathered around and stretched their necks to watch. From the sound, it sounded like someone was having a duel.

"AMAZING!" a duelist shouted in the middle.

Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows, feeling that the voice sounded familiar as if he had heard it somewhere. So he stopped and stepped forward curiously to watch.

Sure enough, someone was dueling in the middle. Ignore the duelist on the right who looked like he was getting beaten at first glance, but on the left oh, there's a "Dark Magician" there, which was quite rare.

And the duelist who controlled the "Dark Magician" turned out to be

"Pandora?" Yuei Vu was a little surprised.

Chapter 725: Be Sentenced For Using Fake Cards

The duelist, who was surrounded by the audience in the middle of the field, was wearing a red suit, a zebra pattern cross-sectional mask, and a magic hat. His body was slender and straight, and he smiled with a mean and obscene aura.

Isn't this the same Pandora who gave me the novice gift package?

Thinking about it this way, that was the first pot of gold that Yuei Vu made when he was reborn in this world. Things have changed now, Yuei Vu has risen from the unknown to the Duel King today, and Pandora has also transformed from the capable expert of the Ghouls in the past turned into an entertainment duelist who performs on the street under the guise of "magic duel".

Seeing this guy made Yuei Vu remember the past a little bit.

But isn't this guy already cold?

As he remembered, when Marik controlled Pandora's body to play a Shadow Duel with him, and after losing, Pandora had turned into a ration of darkness?

"Amazing!!!"

Pandora knocked down another duelist who came forward to challenge him. At the same time, he took off his hat and bent down to salute the audience, as if he was performing a magic trick.

Pandora was among the duelists who had been recognized by Yugi, so was not a problem to beat passers-by and abuse them. The magician even seemed to be at ease. He put his hat back on his head calmly and gracefully, and said with a smile: "Who else wants to challenge?"

As he said that, he took out a card, which was the rare card "Dark Magician".

"This guy is also eager for a real duel."

"Oh? Then if someone wins, are you willing to give up that rare card?"

"It's not a big deal, of course." Pandora turned back confidently, "But the premise is that you have the strength to win over me

..Ah ah ah ah ah! ! ! ! "

The magician suddenly screamed as if he had seen a ghost, frightening the onlookers to the point where they almost jumped up.

A group of people followed his gaze and looked at the person who had just asked the question, and some people immediately started to scream.

"Duel King Yuei Vu!?"

Yuei Vu covered his ears: "Don't be so surprised, it's like seeing a ghost"

Pandora's confident aura collapsed instantly, and his legs in the suit shook like chaff.

At that moment, Pandora, the former rare card hunter, once again recalled the fear of being dominated by the Duel Disk hunter.

"You Mr. Yuei Vu?"

"What are you doing with such a sad face? Do you hate seeing me so much?"

"Nono, I'm very happy."

Pandora tried his best to smile, but his smile was uglier than crying.

"You are punished by the Shadow Game"

"Oh, after Battle City, Lord Marik did his best to free all the people who were swallowed by the power of the Millennium Rod." Pandora explained, "Some people's souls have been irretrievably lost in the darkness, but some people like me are lucky enough to be released."

"That's right." Yuei Vu nodded.

Indeed, he remembered that in the anime, after Battle City ended and Marik was whitewashed, many people who had been defeated in the Shadow Game were recovered.

For example, Sister Kujaku Mai.

"Then what are you doing here?" Yuei Vu asked, "With your strength, playing in the professional league is much more promising, right?"

Pandora grimaced: "Because I was once a duelist of Ghouls, and now I have been blacklisted by Kaiba Corp and am not allowed to participate in any recognized competition"

"What about playing Shadow Games?"

There were also many dueling events in the underground world, and there were no requirements for the resume and identity of the duelists.

"I'm afraid of getting killed" Pandora shrank his neck.

Yuei Vu: ""

I thought that at first he was a general of Ghouls and lived a life of licking blood at the tip of a knife, but now he is so cowardly

Yuei Vu gestured to the "Dark Magician" in his hand.

"Are you still playing with fake cards?"

Pandora quickly shook his head, with a smile on his face: "How dare I? It's not as good as it was back then. President Kaiba investigates so strictly, and you will be sentenced directly for using fake cards"

Good guy, are you going to be sentenced directly for playing fake cards?

Yuei Vu said that he had never heard of this.

Is the president so strict in cracking down on piracy now?

"How about let's have another duel?" Yuei Vu smiled, "Duelists make friends with cards. We are old acquaintances. We haven't seen each other for so many years. Why don't we have a duel to reminisce?"

Upon hearing this, Pandora immediately trembled violently and waved his hands repeatedly.

"No, no, no." He smiled awkwardly, "Don't you know what I'm worth? I don't think it's necessary"

"Don't be modest." Yuei Vu said, "Didn't you tell me last time we met that you were caught off guard by me just because you underestimated the enemy and were unprepared?"

After thinking about it, I think what you said makes sense. Maybe you are really a better master of the Dark Magician?"

Pandora was very frightened by him.

How come this Duel King remembers the conversation six years ago so clearly?

He shouldn't be particularly vindictive, right?

Pandora grimaced: "Don't make fun of me. I was too young and reckless at the time"

"Nothing." Yuei Vu said with a smile, "In this way, if you win, I will sponsor you a Dark Magician No, how about a whole Dark Magic deck?"

And if you beat me, you can use this experience to go to President Kaiba. He will definitely erase the stains in your life, and you can start from scratch. "

Pandora blinked and seemed a little moved. But he secretly glanced at Yuei Vu again, and couldn't help but grimace again.

The premise is that I can win

Pandora now wished he could find a time machine and travel back in time to slap his past self's mouth.

Tell me, why are you so free to provoke the future Duel King?

And the person you offended was not a harmless and easy-to-talk Duel King like Yugi Muto, but a master who loves to pull out duel disks and still holds a grudge

"How about this." Yuei Vu continued to suggest, "I promise that I will not summon monsters of level 2 or above during the entire duel. Is this okay?"

Pandora stayed for two seconds, suspecting that he heard wrongly.

"You said you wouldn't summon"

"Monsters of level 2 or above, you heard me right." Yuei Vu smiled, "I promise, I will only summon level 1 monsters to fight you. Is that okay?"

Pandora's mind quickly became active.

Level 1 monsters? Aren't they all trash fish?

No matter how awesome he is as a Duel King, he can still defeat me with a bunch of trash fish?

But on the other hand, if I can win against Yuei Vu

Pandora felt evil for a moment.

If he won this game, he would be able to harvest a large number of rare cards of the Dark Magic series, greatly improve his strength, and be able to return to the duel world, instead of struggling to survive every day like now.

Give it a try and turn your bicycle into a motorcycle!

"Okay." Pandora narrowed her eyes, "Since Mr. Yuei Vu insists so much, then I'd better obey him respectfully!"

Chapter 726: Violently Earn Cards

"Breaking news! Yuei Vu is playing cards! Coordinate is XXX, come and watch!"

The players' message transmission speed was still very good. Before the game started, a player noticed the situation and directly posted a screenshot on the forum.

None of the players who participated in the test had gone far, and the loyal little fans like Yuei Vu didn't even leave at all. They followed Yuei Vu all the way. Now they even grabbed a front-row seat to watch the card game.

"Pandora?" A player immediately noticed the opponent's identity, "Is this guy still alive?"

"Didn't Yuei Vu teach him a lesson many years ago?"

"A classic duel! This wave is a tribute to version 1.0."

Pandora stepped forward, pulled out the card deck from the Duel Disk, and handed it to Yuei Vu.

Yuei Vu was confused for a moment.

What's going on? Giving me the deck even before you lost? Are you so polite?

He was stunned for a while, and when he noticed the Duel Disk in Pandora's hand that was old enough to be dragged into a museum as an antique, he realized that Pandora wanted to exchange decks to shuffle

Yuei Vu: ""

How old is it, and there are still people whose Duel Disks can't shuffle deck automatically?

Pandora's face hurt.

Then what else can I do?

Being blacklisted by the Kaiba Group and unable to afford a Duel Disk, I had no choice but to buy outdated models to make ends meet

But these days are over!

Pandora's eyes were full of fighting spirit as if he had found his original self again.

The person in front of him was the Duel King, and he was also the direct culprit of his life taking a sudden turn and falling to the bottom!

As long as I can win this game, everything will be completely different!

Thinking of this, Pandora's seemingly dull eyes became active again.

Pandora, whose life had fallen into an abyss and was struggling to survive, had already given up all his previous unrealistic ambitions, but this sudden opportunity in front of him ignited the long-dormant impulse in his heart again.

Pandora had a very clear positioning of his own strength. Maybe he was still a master, and if he could enter the professional league, he could be prosperous, but as the version updated and the times changed, he has long been eliminated from the ranks of top duelists.

He knew that he was absolutely no match for Yuei Vu. No matter the level of dueling skill, supernatural power, influence, or social status, they were all far behind.

Therefore, he has never thought of seeking revenge on Yuei Vu for so many years. The reason was very simple, because he was cowardly.

But now the other party actually took the initiative to give him such an opportunity.

Only summon level 1 monsters?

Madness!

Pandora still had a polite smile on his face, but he was mocking and feeling a little unhappy in his heart.

Its true that Yuei Vu is the Duel King, but even the Duel King is not allowed to look down on me like that!

"Wait, Duel King." He sneered secretly, "You will pay the price for your arrogance!"

"Duel!" x2

Yuei Vu, LP 4000

Pandora, LP 4000

"Then I go first." Pandora said, "Draw."

His fingers wrapped in gloves slowly passed over the six cards in his hand, and he elegantly pulled out one of them, like a magician on the stage.

"First of all, I discard a Normal monster card from my hand and special summon Cosmo Brain!"

The broad blue robes fluttered up, and the magician fell slowly on the wind. He held a golden scepter in his hand, and the fingertips swirled like a milky white celestial body.

[Cosmo Brain, ATK 1500]

"The attack power of the Cosmo Brain will be increased by 200 points x the level of the monster sent to the graveyard." Pandora said, "The card I sent to the graveyard is Dark Magician', and its level is 7. Therefore, the attack power of the Cosmo Brain will be increased by 1,400 points. "

[Cosmo Brain, ATK 1500 ATK 2900]

"Then there's the Spell Card Silent Doom!" Pandora continued to play a card, "Special summon a Normal monster from my graveyard in defense position!

I specially summon the Dark Magician! "

Magic patterns were engraved on the earth, and ancient spells called the wizards in the underworld. The red robe flew out lightly, and the fluctuations of magic power were like diffuse blood mist. The green and clear staff cut through the blood curtain, spinning and flying back to the mage's hand.

[Dark Magician, DEF 2100]

Passers-by NPCs began to express their amazement at the right time: "He summoned the Dark Magician' and another magician with an attack power of 2900 at once!"

"After all, that Pandora was once a legendary duelist. Even if he fell into despair, he still retained some strength." Someone commented.

After hearing this, Pandora couldn't help but have the word "well" appear on his forehead.

Soon, when he won this duel, it would no longer be "once" anymore. He would rejoin the ranks of top duelists and become a god worshiped by duelists!

"Set a card, I end my turn." He said, "Come on, Yuei Vu, you're welcome, just come on over!"

Level 1 monsters are all miscellaneous fish anyway. Can you still give me a one-star monster with an attack power equal to that of a Blue Eyes White Dragon?

Pandora sneered in his heart.

"Okay." Yuei Vu agreed readily, "Then it's my turn, draw."

Since they were old acquaintances who hadn't seen each other for many years, Yuei Vu decided to give the opponent a big gift first to show friendship: "Activate the Spell Card Nibelung's Treasure'. Activate 1 Nibelung's Ring' from my Deck on the opponent's side of the field, equipping it to a monster they control. Then, draw 5 cards." (animation card)

A card popped up in the deck, and he drew it into his hand and showed it.

"Equip Spell Nibelung's Ring' is activated." Yuei Vu smiled, "I equip it to the Cosmo Brain'." (Animation card)

Pandora saw that a silver ring was roughly put on the hand of the Cosmo Brain on the field, and then his whole body withered, and his aura dimmed as if he had changed from a Cosmo Brain to a cosmic retard.

"Nani?" Everyone in Pandora was dumbfounded, "What did you do?"

"Nibelung's Ring's effect The equipped monster cannot attack, be Tributed, or change their battle position, and their effect will be negated. However, you can draw 2 cards in your Draw Phase, but you must discard any drawn monster card to the Graveyard."

[Cosmo Brain, ATK 2900 ATK 1500]

A group of players were frying on the spot.

Of course, they have actually seen these two fake card-level artifacts before these were Siegfried's cards, which he used when he duelled with Yuei Vu.

Siegfried's entire deck now belonged to Yuei Vu, thus these two artifacts naturally were in Yuei Vu's hand.

But even if you knew these two cards, seeing this kind of artifact that violently earned cards such as eating and drinking water still made people feel the urge to worship from the bottom of their hearts

Chapter 727: Kuriboh YYDS!

Although Pandora didn't react as strongly as the players when he saw these divine cards, he still felt something was wrong.

But Mr. Magician had a strong psychological quality and quickly calmed down.

Nothing to panic about. The Duel King has said that he will only summon level 1 monsters in this duel. If there are only monsters of this level, there is nothing to panic about no matter how many cards he draws

"I normal summon the Kuriboh' from my hand in attack position." Yuei Vu said.

The fluffy little guy jumped onto the field, blinked his big eyes twice, and looked at the owner with some confusion: "Kuri Kuri?"

[Kuriboh, ATK 300]

Kuriboh, who has been focusing on blocking attacks for 30 years and has appeared frequently but rarely has the opportunity to officially go on stage, felt a little confused.

Why did Master summon me? In attack mode, no less?

Master, are you going to arrange for me to beat someone?

"Quick-Play Spell Multiply"! Tribute a monster with 500 or less ATK, and split that monster into any number of Tokens!" (anime effect)

The Spell Card effect was activated, and the Kuriboh was divided into five.

[Kuriboh Token, ATK 300] x5

"Spell Card Cross Attack!". Yuei Vu said, "Target 2 face-up Attack Position monsters I control with the same ATK; this turn, one of them can attack the opponent directly and the other cannot attack.."

The five on the field were all Kuribohs with an attack power of 300, so he could naturally choose any of them at will.

A group of fluffy little guys gathered together in a circle, discussing something fiercely "Kuri Kuri", it looked like they were having a meeting to study who would be able to slap the other person's face this turn.

The little guys quickly reached a consensus and elected one of the Kuribohs as the representative. The Kuriboh flapped its little wings, raised its little green paws, and jumped towards Yuei Vu "Kuri Kuri" as if to say "Choose me, choose me."

Yuei Vu also met its request: "This turn I choose to directly attack with this Kuriboh Token'."

Pandora disagreed: "Oh? But even if it attacks directly, its attack power is only 300. At this level"

"Equip Spell United We Stand!" Yuei Vu said, "Equip to the Kuriboh Token'. For each monster on my field, the equipped monster's attack power increases by 800!"

The five little guys hugged each other, grabbing each other with their green little paws, shouting "Kuri Kuri" with such force that their eyes narrowed into slits. The power of the five Kuribohs was stacked together, all concentrated on the Kuriboh in the center.

[Kuriboh Token, ATK 300 ATK 4300]

Pandora's eyes widened.

I was so surprised!

Damn it, the attack power of the miscellaneous fish monster has soared to be higher than that of the God of Destruction, can you believe it?!

The players were also in high spirits especially Miss Yuehua, who was waving her hands desperately while emphasizing to the audience that she had also played this gimmick deck (but the success rate was not very high)

"Fight, Kuriboh Token!" Yuei Vu said, "Attack Pandora directly!"

Kuriboh OTK!

"Kuri Kuri!"

The Kuriboh floated up, and rushed forward fiercely. It's just that as a cute little guy, he really didn't have much talent in combat, so his most ferocious and powerful blow was just an ordinary charge.

But with an attack power of 4300, it was enough to clear all of Pandora's remaining LP!

However

"Hey, if you want to defeat me with such a simple attack, Mr. Yuei Vu, you underestimate me too much."

Pandora let out a sinister laugh like the old eunuch in the palace, and then waved her hand: "Open the set card: Trap Card Mirror Force!"

The onlookers became restless.

Passerby NPC: Its actually a super powerful rare card called Mirror Force that can change the situation instantly!

Player: Knights of Hanoi YYDS!

The transparent protective layer created powerful counterattack energy, which was overwhelming. Kuriboh was so scared that his little face was deformed, and he covered his eyes with his little paws in fear.

"Due to the effect of Mirror Force, when the opponent declares an attack, all attack position monsters on the opponent's field will be destroyed." Pandora chuckled, "Let all the miscellaneous fish monsters disappear!"

The Kuriboh was knocked dizzy on the transparent shield, and the sacred blue light fell like a world-destroying meteor shower. All the Kuribohs were shrouded in light, and each one seemed to melt and disappear.

But Yuei Vu quickly inserted the next card into the Duel Disk.

"Quick-Play Spell Detonate"! Destroy as many Kuriboh' and Kuriboh Tokens' I control as possible, then destroy cards the opponent controls, up to the number of cards destroyed by this effect!"

Pandora's expression changed drastically: "Nani!?"

"I destroyed all five Kuriboh Tokens' on the field!" Yuei Vu said, "Therefore, I can choose up to five cards on your field to destroy.

So destroy all the cards on your field! "

The five Kuribohs launched a sacrificial sprint at the same time! One of the Kuribohs exploded violently on the sacred protective shield, creating a gap with its body. Several Kuribohs swarmed in from the gap, violently bombarding the bodies of Cosmo Brain and Dark Magician like cannonballs.

Kuriboh's small body contained amazing energy, which even a top magician could not resist. The defenses of the two magicians were torn to pieces by the blasting flames, their robes were also set alight by self-explosion, and both were burned to ashes.

Seeing that all the cards on the field were about to be destroyed, he gritted his teeth and simply opened the last set card.

"Quick-Play Spell Emergency Provisions! Sends the activated Mirror Force' on the field to the graveyard, restoring 1000 LP."

Pandora, LP 4000 LP 5000

Barely able to regain his breath, Pandora raised his arm to block in front of his face. When he came to his senses, the field in front of him had been blown up into an empty space, with a light black smoke screen floating in the air.

He gritted his teeth: "This kind of bastard monster actually took down two of my magicians"

"So strong." Some passers-by also started whispering to each other, "Does Kuriboh have such a strong power?"

Players needless to say: "Kuriboh YYDS!"

"As expected of Mr. Yuei Vu, even this kind of monster can exert such a powerful force."

Pandora complimented the opponent on the surface, but what he was thinking in his heart was

Fuck it! Miscellaneous fish are just a bunch of miscellaneous fish after all!

Although it was indeed a bit annoying that his magicians were wiped out, the situation was still in his favor. Sweeping his field was probably the limit of this bunch of fish monsters, but his LP was still unscathed.

On the other hand, Yuei Vu had to end the turn with an empty field.

In the next turn, it's his chance!

"Set three cards, I end my turn."

Yuei Vu waved his hand and made three set cards in the Spell Trap Zone.

Pandora's eyes lit up.

Sure enough, even the Duel King is helpless! He has no more monsters to summon!

The players have already begun to cast sympathetic glances at Pandora.

Good guy, three set cards in the back row Fortunately, I am not the opposite of Yuei Vu-san, otherwise, my mentality will explode.

Someone is still walking, but he is already dead.

For the same thing, the conclusions drawn based on different observation angles may be very different.

At this moment, Pandora has already begun to fantasize about his comeback route after winning this card. He has even thought about the pretentious lines for his debut. Little did he know that in the eyes of the players, he was already a dead person

Chapter 728: Berserk Kuriboh

Pandora, who was not aware of the seriousness of the problem at all, started his turn with confidence.

"My turn, draw!"

Pandora squinted his eyes and glanced across Yuei Vu's empty field (and ignored the three set cards magnificently): There was nothing on his field now. He must have thought that I couldn't produce more than 4000 damage in one round.

Hehe, you underestimate me.

You will see it, and everyone who looks down on me will see it!

"Spell Card Pot of Greed, draw two cards from the deck.

Then activate the Ritual Spell Advanced Ritual Art! Ritual Summon 1 Ritual Monster by sending Normal Monsters from my Deck to the GY whose total Levels equal the Level of that Ritual Monster! "

Pandora pulled out the deck of cards from the Duel Disk, unfolded the deck, and started picking cards one by one

There's no other way, it's hard to make ends meet, and it's so hard not to be able to afford a new Duel Disk.

But this is about to change soon!

When I defeat the Duel King and return to the duel world, I will soon be back on top!

"I sent the Level 8 Cosmo Queen' from the deck to the graveyard!"

Pandora sent a card to the graveyard of course, he didn't forget to reshuffle the deck and insert it back into the duel disk and then aggressively took down a card in his hand.

"Ritual Summon! The sacrifices serve as food for black magic rituals and appear in the dark chaos Magician of Black Chaos! ! ! "

A jet-black beam of light erupted, and the Dark Magician stepped out on the erupting airwave. His staff was pointed diagonally at the ground, his eyes were majestic and cold, and his eyes were so sharp that people dared not look directly at him.

[Magician of Black Chaos, ATK 2800]

The NPCs and players who were watching gasped again.

NPC: The legendary master of chaos, the ultra-rare card "Magician of Black Chaos"! It's too strong!

Player: Three-for-one Ritual Normie! It's really too strong!

However, since Pandora was so poor, it was quite surprising that there were so many rare cards of the Dark Magician series in his deck.

This reminded Yuei Vu of the protagonist group of "Yu-Gi-Oh! 5DS" they all lived in slums and were very poor, but they all had at least a few rare cards in their hands.

The explanation given in the anime was that spirits would choose their own Signers, and Signer Dragons would always find ways to come to their masters.

Maybe Pandora really has something to do with the Dark Magician?

"Hey, you don't have any defense on the field anymore." Pandora waved her hand, "Magician of Black Chaos, attack directly! Spell of Destruction Death Ultima!"

The magician raised his staff, and the magic turned into a surging dark surge, erupting from the tip of the staff like a turbulent vortex.

Yuei Vu calmly drew a card from his hand and stuffed it into the graveyard.

"Activate the effect of the Ankuriboh' in my hand." He said, "When the opponent declares an attack, I can discard this card, then target 1 monster in either GY, except this card; Special Summon it to my field, but send it to the GY during the End Phase."

A card in the graveyard pops up and returns the card to the hand.

"I special summoned the Winged Kuriboh' from the graveyard on the field."

"Kuri Kuri!"

The cute little ball-shaped guy jumped out of the graveyard, with a pair of angelic white wings growing from its back.

[Winged Kuriboh, DEF 200]

"Winged Kuriboh?" Pandora was stunned, "I see, is this the card that was sent to the graveyard in the first turn? You actually hid this move Then a Battle Replay occurred!"

Magician of Black Chaos, continue to attack the Winged Kuriboh! "

The magician waved his staff, and the magic of chaos was activated with full force. The dark magic storm almost swallowed up the Kuriboh. The little guy was so frightened that he covered his eyes with his wings, shrank his head, and muttered "Kuri Kuri" in a low voice.

Yuei Vu's lips curled up: "You just said attack', didn't you?"

Pandora felt his heart skip a beat, and every cell in his body was sending a "danger" alarm to him.

When the Battle Replay occurred just now, he gave up the opportunity to terminate the attack and issued an attack declaration again, he had already missed the last chance to save his life.

Pandora's eyes widened and he looked at the frightened little guy who was holding his head and squatting in defense.

Can this thing still be able to kill me?

"Open the set card!" Yuei Vu snapped his fingers, "Quick-Play Spell Berserker Crush!"

"Berserker Crush" sounded like a very domineering and tyrannical card. The first time you hear the name of this card, you may think of some dark warrior with a body as strong as a mountain, roaring all day long while wielding a mace to crush people. However, this was not the case.

This "Berserker Crush" card picture showed a Winged Kuriboh with super fierce eyes and waving its little claws to beat people.

"Berserker Crush's effect Banish 1 monster from my GY, then target 1 Winged Kuriboh' I control; that target's ATK/DEF become equal to the ATK/DEF of the monster that was banished, until the end of this turn!"

That's right! This was a support card for "Winged Kuriboh"!

Pandora was surprised for a moment, but then he chuckled: "Don't scare me, Mr. Yuei Vu. Only Ankuribohs' and Kuriboh' are in your graveyard now"

Aren't they all trash fish?

It makes absolutely no sense to change the board of the trash fish on the field to be the same as the trash fish in the graveyard

Nani! ! ? ?

Pandora almost screamed when he saw Yuei Vu slowly showing a "Valkyrion the Magna Warrior".

When did this kind of thing end up in your graveyard?

Then he quickly reacted: "The first Graceful Charity"

Was it already sent to the graveyard at that time?

In other words, the Duel King has already laid out his tactics from the very beginning of the duel!?

[Valkyrion the Magna Warrior, ATK 3500/DEF 3850]

[Winged Kuriboh, ATK 300/DEF 200 ATK 3500/DEF 3850]

Pandora narrowed her eyes.

3850 DEF should be able to withstand the attack of the Magician of Black Chaos. But the enhancement of "Berserker Crush" was only effective for one turn. Doing so was just struggling to survive

"Open the set card." Another card was turned over in front of Yuei Vu, "Trap Card Spikeshield with Chain! Equip this card to Winged Kuriboh', and the equipped monster's attack power will increase by 500."

[Winged Kuriboh, ATK 3500 ATK 4000]

Pandora: "?"

Kuriboh is in the Defense Position, what is the significance of increasing attack power?

"Spikeshield with Chain has a subsequent effect." Yuei Vu added, "If the equipped monster battles while in Defense Position, it gains DEF equal to its ATK during damage calculation only."

[Winged Kuriboh, DEF 3850 DEF 7850]

The small Kuriboh grew at an alarming speed, and its huge size almost filled the field on Yuei Vu's side. It puffed up its chest proudly, and when it flapped its snow-white wings, it turned up a suffocating hurricane.

"Kuri Kuri!"

"Nana Nanani!?"

Pandora seemed to hear the sound of his jaw hitting the floor.

He couldn't help but want to rub his eyes.

Kuriboh with 7800DEF!?

The onlookers were all excited.

"The Kuriboh has a defensive power of nearly 8,000!"

"Even Obelisk is no match!"

"Brother Kuriboh is finally here for real!"

"Kuriboh: MD, if I don't take action, you really think that I'm a mascot, right?"

""

Pandora quickly recovered from the shock.

Everyone else was dumbfounded. The attack command could no longer be revoked. If the Magician of Black Chaos continued to attack like this, 5050 combat damage would be directly reflected to him in one breath, and he would be instantly killed!

Can you believe that I was killed by a Kuriboh?

The damage is impartial, which is exactly 50 points more than my LP!

And Kuriboh was facing its butt at him!

Winged Kuriboh: Kuri Kuri? (Why are you lying down before I can exert my strength?)

This is unbelievable.

Being killed by a Kuriboh is enough to bring shame to any duelist!

"Quick-Play Spell Concentrating Current!" Pandora played the last card, "Target 1 face-up monster I control; it gains ATK equal to its current DEF, until the end of this turn. Other monsters I control cannot attack during the turn I activate this card!"

[Magician of Black Chaos, ATK 2800 ATK 5400]

Originally, Pandora wanted to keep the card in his hand to OTK Yuei Vu with one blow, but he had no choice but to play it out first to save his life.

If the attack power was 5400, it could offset a lot of damage, so that it would not be directly fatal.

The Magician of Black Chaos's death spell hit the Kuriboh head-on, but the little guy flapped its wings fiercely and bounced back. Pandora was knocked to the ground by the realistic three-dimensional impact and fell into a mess.

Pandora, LP 5000 LP 2550

Although he was embarrassed, he managed to survive. Pandora panted heavily, feeling like an old scalper.

But this should stop it. Just wait until the next turn

Yuei Vu snapped his fingers again.

The last set card was revealed.

"Continuous Trap Dimension Mirage!" Yuei Vu said, "Activate this card by targeting 1 face-up Attack Position monster the opponent controls. At the end of the Damage Step, when it attacks a monster, but the attack target was not destroyed by the battle: I can banish 1 monster from my Graveyard; it must attack again in a row!

Pandora: "!!!?"

WTF?

Players were equally excited.

"Holy shit, isn't this AIBO's card? Yuei Vu-san, have you finally taken action against AIBO?"

"Is it true that people from the underworld are unable to not play nether cards!?"

While he was talking, another card popped up in Yuei Vu's graveyard area.

"I banish the Kuriboh' in the graveyard." He said, "Dimension Mirage' effect is activated! The Magician of Black Chaos' must forcefully attack the Winged Kuriboh' again!"

The Magician of Black Chaos gritted his teeth and was trembling all over, but his muscles were forced to raise the staff in his hand as if out of control. The undercurrent of dark magic concentrated on the staff and blasted toward the Winged Kuriboh.

The feathered Kuriboh held its head high and proudly received the death spell with its fluffy body.

Bounce!

The chaotic magic power counterattacked again, and Pandora fell head over heels.

Pandora, LP 2550 LP 100

"Because my Kuriboh failed to be destroyed in this battle, so the Dimension Mirage' effect is activated again." Yuei Vu smiled and shook a card he took out from the graveyard in his hand, " I banish the Ankuriboh' in the graveyard, and the Magician of Black Chaos' must attack the Winged Kuriboh' again."

Pandora's eyes widened and he watched in horror as his magician raised his staff and aimed at the Kuriboh on the playground.

At this moment, the little guy whom he had just regarded as a useless fish who could only flap his wings to act cute, had turned into the ultimate monster as terrifying as a ghost or god in his eyes!

He couldn't help shouting to his magician in a hoarse voice from the bottom of his heart

No!

Don't go there! ! !

But now the battle could no longer be terminated by his master's orders. The trap was triggered again, and the magician's staff was raised again. The impact of chaos erupted for the third time, hitting the body of Winged Kuriboh, and then was bounced back again.

Pandora was blown to the ground again, and this time he was motionless, not even struggling.

Like a salted fish that has lost its dream.

Chapter 729: You Tricked Me!

Pandora lay sprawled on the ground, staring blankly at the gradually dimming night, letting the changing neon lights shine on her face.

He was defeated.

This matter itself was nothing, after all, he already knew that he was no match for Yuei Vu. He had rich experience and full mental preparation for defeat.

But he was defeated by a Kuriboh.

To add to the insult, he was defeated by a Kuriboh in the defense position and didn't even move its butt from beginning to end.

Defeating the Duel King, returning to the duel world, and regaining glory when the king returns, all the beautiful fantasies he had a few minutes ago were shattered by such a small Kuriboh.

When people talked about him again, they would only remember him as a comedian, a funny character, a third-rate clown who could not stand on the stage.

Maybe people would say this when talking about him in the future.

"Hey guys, does anyone remember that Pandora?"

"I remember! How could I not remember? Was it the one who hit the Kuriboh's butt and was killed by it? It was so funny, I laughed all day long!"

""

What a shame!

Pandora has foreseen that from now on, even if he washed his hands in the gold basin and was no longer involved with the duel world, his legend would always remain in the world

Because he would be nailed to the pillar of shame!

People would even place wreaths outside his black-and-white photo. There was a "Winged Kuriboh" on the mourning hall. Even the elegiac couplet read "Unprecedented! The only duelist who was killed by Kuriboh!"

What a nightmare!

Thinking of this, Pandora felt completely helpless and simply lay down straight on the ground, unable to get up.

That's it, the world was not worth it.

The players next to them were still in high spirits, and their blood was boiling. They wanted to pull out their credit card immediately, imitate Yuei Vu, and make a Kuriboh deck to play.

Especially Miss Yuehua, who had already done this kind of gimmick deck before, her thinking was suddenly broadened when she saw Yuei Vu constructing this tactic.

She felt that she was still too narrow-minded so far, and her imagination was as small as a damn little strawberry. But Yuei Vu's majestic performance today greatly developed her, and she felt that she had been broadened a lot at once (referring to ideas)

Got it, now go back to make another deck!

Speaking of which, Yuei Vu-san is really handsome

Looking at Yuei Vu's figure controlling the Kuriboh, his tall back, and king-like temperament are simply stunning.

However, not only Miss Yuehua, but also a group of female players and maybe a few male players, were online at this time, and an emergency conference was held.

"Yuei Vu-san, I want to give birth to your baby"

"Handsome guy, do you want a haircut? 20 for a big head and 500 for a small head"

"The one above, are you serious?"

So why is the small head more expensive than the big head?

""

Pandora was lying on the ground with his eyes closed. He heard a group of screwballs beside his chirping and saying meaningless words, buzzing like insects, which made him feel extremely annoyed.

He felt that the card deck on his duel disk was being pulled out the duel disk was not pulled out. Pandora probably thought that the model was too old and was disliked but he didn't care anymore.

Pandora's head was now full of Kuribohs. He closed his eyes and felt that the Kuribohs in front of him were all large and small, horizontal and vertical, and the continuous noise of the pile of screwballs turned into a bunch of "Kuri Kuri" in his ears. The cries were superimposed one after another, making people distracted.

He felt that he might not be suitable for playing cards

"Okay, get up." Yuei Vu said, "Victory and defeat are common things in battles"

"Leave me alone, Mr. Yuei Vu." Pandora was like a salted fish.

"Actually, I wanted to say that you would be in the way of people walking if you lie here."

Pandora: ""

Mr. Magician slowly got up, but still seemed to have lost his soul.

"Don't be too discouraged. In fact, you are a pretty good duelist." Yuei Vu said seriously, "You are very talented. The combination of the qualifications of a genius magician and the duel. Through this duel, I also saw a bright spot from you."

"Oh?" Pandora's eyes flashed, "Are you serious?"

"Of course." Yuei Vu nodded seriously, "You have the ability to be funny that others don't have. I think your duel must be the kind of duel that can bring a smile to everyone's face!"

Pandora: ""

If he hadn't considered that the Duel King was on the other side, and recalled the embarrassing scene when Yuei Vu commanded the "Dark Magician Girl" to chase him around the last time they met, he might have rushed up and beat him up.

What the hell is "brings a smile to everyone's face"!

Doesn't it mean that "you are a comedian"?

"Don't be angry, I'm serious." Yuei Vu said seriously, "Actually, why do you think I want to challenge you to a duel this time? Do I want your deck? Of course not."

In this case, can you give me back my deck first?

Pandora unconsciously cast his eyes toward the deck of cards that Yuei Vu pulled out of his hand, but the latter seemed to notice his gaze, with a nonchalant expression but he put the deck of cards into his pocket at the speed of light.

Pandora: ""

I believe you my ass.

"The reason why I contacted you is because I saw the shining point in you, your talent." Yuei Vu looked serious and his tone was calm, as if the deck he just put in his pocket was his own.

Pandora sighed inwardly.

That's all. He had done a lot of evil as a rare card hunter of Ghouls and robbed a large number of duelists' rare cards. Now that he was sanctioned by the Duel King, it was probably the retribution he deserved.

He said: "Your talent should not be buried in the streets, Pandora. I came to bring you a way out a chance to start your life again."

Pandora's eyes flickered: "What do you mean?"

"Didn't I tell you that you have a talent for comedy?" Yuei Vu smiled, "Although it may be difficult for you to take the professional route with your abilities, you can still take the entertainment route!"

Do you know about Entertainment Duel? Dont understand? It doesn't matter. To put it simply, you have to be funny enough, and your duel must bring a smile to the audience even the opponent.

I think you have such a talent. For example, you see, I just finished this duel with you, and I am very happy and can smile from the bottom of my heart. "

Pandora: ""

But I am very unhappy!

But he started to catch up with Yuei Vu's meaning: "You mean, you can provide me with a chance to become a"

"Entertainment duelists, yes." Yuei Vu nodded, "President Kaiba's positioning of duels is too professional. He believes that duelists should be technical and competitive. But I think Duel itself is an entertainment sport, and there is still a lot of room for exploration in entertainment.

I have always had this idea, and recently I have teamed up with some colleagues who have the intention to try it in this field.

If you are willing, we can package you into the first batch of entertainment duelists in the dueling world, a comedian in the dueling world.

Just imagine it. Even if you are not a strong player in the professional league, you can still become a celebrity, a star. You can still get out of the trough and find a new direction in life. "

Pandora had to admit that he was moved.

In other words, what else did he have to lose?

He was already at the lowest point in his life. He lost everything and paid the price for the evil he had done. Now he has nothing.

This is a turning point opportunityan opportunity that must be seized!

"Okay, Mr. Yuei Vu!" Pandora nodded vigorously, "From now on, I am yours! I will absolutely obey your orders!"

Although this statement felt a bit strange, this wasn't the time to worry about this detail.

"Okay." Yuei Vu nodded cheerfully and activated the call function of the Duel Disk. "Wait a moment. I will call those colleagues now to introduce you to them."

"Okay!" Pandora looked forward to it.

Twenty minutes later.

Warmly welcome new members to join!!!

Pandora, who was held above his head in the "Aruba" posture by a large number of muscle brothers smelled of alcohol, his sharp screams were drowned out by countless thunderous and powerful voices.

Pandora, who had skinny arms and thin legs, was thrown into the middle of this group of big men, like a helpless lamb thrown into a pack of wolves. Tears streamed down his face, and he screamed silently from the bottom of his heart

Duel King, you tricked me! ! !

Chapter 730: Legendary Duelist Chat Group

Although Duel Academy was located on the southern island, considering that it is inconvenient to go to the school from the city across the ocean and may be affected by weather, the Duel Academy's annual admissions examination was still located in the city.

Domino City was recognized as the capital of dueling in the world. The holding of the first generation "Battle City" competition in this city attracted the attention of the world to this city, and it has since won the title of "Battle City".

At this time every year, the Duel Academy temporarily rented a specific duel arena belonging to the Kaiba Corp to hold actual combat assessment tests.

The practical assessment was the second level of the overall assessment. Only students who meet the score requirements in the first round of the written examination were eligible to participate in the second round of assessment.

Candidates needed to defeat the examiner who used the test-specific deck in the assessment. Whoever won the duel would be promoted, and those who lost would be eliminated.

The exam has started now.

As the honorary principal, Yuei Vu sat in the VIP seat with his legs crossed, watching the young duelists taking the test one after another, and from time to time he could see some nostalgic familiar faces.

For example, Jun Manjome, who had a sultry look on his face that made people mistake him for the protagonist's nemesis in the early stage, but turned into a comedian in the later stage.

For example, Daichi Misawa, who seemed to be a key combat force in the early stage, simply disappeared in the later stage.

For example, Asuka Tenjoin, who was only fifteen years old, but had endured a SIZE that her age should not have to bear

Its quite nostalgic to see so many old faces. For Yuei Vu, the story of GX happened many years ago, a classic and wonderful story.

And now he has become a legend that these young people admire. Many of them may have grown up listening to the legend of Duel King Yuei Vu.

But as of now, he has not found the shadow of his little jellyfish.

Sure enough you're late, right?

It was completely within Yuei Vu's expectations.

But thats fine too. Judai was late and missed the exam, so he had reason to arrange for Professor Chronos to go into battle in person and give Judai a special test that was different from others.

Having said that, it was indeed a bit boring to sit here and watch the freshmen playing cards. Most of the new players were at the level of ordinary people in animation. Many people were still using Normie monsters, and their strength was average and the fighting was not exciting enough.

Just as he was thinking about it, the Duel Disk in Yuei Vu's hand suddenly rang.

When he clicked on the projected floating display, he found that it was a message from the chat group.

This was the chat group established when Kaiba Corporation first developed the chat system on Duel Disk. The senior members who joined the group at that time were all players who had participated in the Battle City Competition. Now all of them were "Legendary Duelists".

Later, as time went by, more and more newcomers who had emerged in the new KC Cup and Battle City Competition joined this group, and some of the top players in the professional league were also gradually recruited. Now this place has become a gathering place for top duellists.

Yuei Vu seldom surfaced in the group, and only occasionally dived to peek at the screen. The message suddenly popped up today because an old acquaintance he followed popped up.

"Damn you Kaiba! Come out!"

He could feel the speaker's anger through the screen, and he could figure out that a Jonouchi at a glance.

The topic that was being discussed in the group suddenly came to an end, and a group of new duelists quickly paid their respects.

"OMG, God of Gamblers!"

"God of Dice, please accept my friend request!"

In the past few years, he has become a great god worshiped by the professional circle in the city. Some people gave him the nickname "God of Dice", while others called him the "Legendary Horse Bone".

Of course, it was said that he personally didn't like either of the two titles

"What's going on, Jonouchi?"

The one who surfaced was Mokuba, who wore a little yellow hat in front of his name, symbolizing his status as the supreme leader of the group.

This was Yuei Vu's idea. When the system was first developed, he proposed to add a small yellow hat symbolizing status in front of the group leader's name to show nobility

"Where is that damned @Kaiba?" Jonouchi continued to ask.

He was the only one in the group who dared to tag the president like that.

"My brother has a lot of things to do, and he is very busy and has no time to reply. If you have something to tell me, it's the same." Mokuba said and smiled back.

"I happened to see a promotional picture for Duel Academy's admissions today. Isn't this one of that damned Kaiba's creations?"

He said and posted a picture. There were some handsome legendary monsters drawn on the picture, and the text reads: "If you don't want to be a duelist like the horse bone, sign up now!"

A series of expressions of people banging on the table and laughing began to appear below, and all kinds of gods pretending to be corpses popped out.

"Laughing? Why are you laughing?" Jonouchi suddenly felt unhappy, "Marik, why are you joining in the fun!?"

Marik Ishtar responded with a standard and polite smile. Next, there was a large list of professional duelists who worshiped the great god.

Although there was a time when Mr. Marik was a villain, that was all in the past. Now Marik was also one of the "legendary duelists" in the first generation Battle City, and was an unattainable existence in the current professional circle.

"By the way, Yuei Vu, aren't you also a principal of Duel Academy? That guy Kaiba put some private goods on your school's posters! Shouldn't you do something about Kaiba?" Jonouchi began to poke Yuei Vu.

"Honorary principal." Yuei Vu surfaced.

The group immediately exploded, bubbling up one after another. A large group of junior professional duelists began to worship him.

"Duel King!"

"Duel King, please accept my friend request!"

Yuei Vu casually showed up in the group with an emoticon of "The worst in the group. JPG", causing an uproar.

"The boss loves to joke."

I heard that big guys like to pretend to be cute, and today I saw that he really lives up to his reputation.

As a result, as if today's movement was not big enough, another big boss with a super ID appeared.

This time it was President Kaiba himself.

"Yuei Vu!"

Even though he was separated from the screen, the president's distinctive voice seemed to ring in Yuei Vu's ears.

"Have you come back to Domino? Very good, come to the company for a duel!" Kaiba poked him.

Jonouchi was immediately furious: "Aren't you too busy with everything, Kaiba? Why did you come out as soon as Yuei Vu surfaced?"

"Hmph, Horse Bone, shut up," Kaiba replied.

"Nani? Damn it, do you want to duel?"

"A horse bone is not worthy of my attention yet. But if you want to do something, I can accompany you." Kaiba said.

All the duelists saw the excitement and began to boo. Some people suggested that all three of them should come together to have an offline date, while others were asking for the address and wanted to watch from the front row.

Today may be the busiest time this group has ever had. These great gods with thunderous names appeared in so many breaths today.

But that's not even the end.

"Speaking of which, today is the entrance exam for Duel Academy." Someone popped up and poked Yuei Vu, "I just met your lovely student on the road."

When this news came out, all the juniors in the group couldn't help but gasped when they saw the ID.

Muto Yugi!
