

I Play Yu-Gi 751

Chapter 751: The Creator!

"Set a card, I end my turn."

Kagemaru announced the end of the turn, and a string of bubbles gurgled out of the life-saving cabin.

Then its my turn, draw.

Yuei Vu drew a card, and at the same time, a card from the graveyard popped up.

During the Standby Phase, when there are no Spell/Trap Cards on my field, the Treeborn Frog in the graveyard can be Special Summoned!

The little frog flew down to Yuei Vu's field, with an angelic halo of light above his head and a team of white wings behind his back.

Treeborn Frog, ATK 100

Spell Card Graceful Charity! Draw 3 cards, then discard 2 cards.

Then I use the Treeborn Frog on the field as a sacrifice to Tribute Summon! The Emperor of Thunder who judges all things with lightning

Zaborg the Thunder Monarch! ! ! "

The frog disappeared as if struck by thunder, and was replaced by the emperor wearing white armor. When the combat boots hit the ground, lightning burst out, and the floor was scorched black. The tall emperor's palms were filled with lightning, and he was so tall that people could only look up at him.

Zaborg the Thunder Monarch, ATK 2400

When Zaborg the Thunder Monarch is Tribute Summoned, I can destroy a monster on the field. Destroy the The Blazing Mars!

The emperor waved his palms, and the thunder and lightning burst out like a flood that broke a bank! The electric light hit the body of The Blazing Mars, crackling and beating, blasting the golden dragon's head into charred black, and even the knight above it was blown away.

"Instantly got rid of Mars?" Chairman Kagemaru said solemnly as he watched the behemoths of the planet series disappear into thin air, "The Thunder Monarch's ability is indeed terrifying."

"It's too early to be surprised." Yuei Vu said, "Activate the effect of the Ronintoadin' in the graveyard. If this card is in my GY: I can banish 1 Frog' monster from my GY; Special Summon this card."

He revealed a card from the graveyard.

I removed the Swap Frog in the graveyard from the game and Special Summoned the Ronintoadin!

Ronintoadin, DEF 2000

Activate the Spell Card Tribute Carnival. This card can only be activated in the turn in which a Tribute Summon was performed. I can Tribute Summon 1 monster in addition to my Normal Summon/Set. (Animation card)

Yuei Vu showed another card in his hand.

I use the Ronintoadin as a sacrifice to Tribute Summon! The Ice Emperor who harnesses the power of ice and snow and freezes all things

Mobius the Frost Monarch! ! ! "

A storm of ice and snow rose from the ground, and ice cones pierced the sky. The emperor of ice and snow fell among the ice, his black cloak undulating among the goose feathers.

Mobius the Frost Monarch, ATK 2400

The effect of Mobius the Frost Monarch When this card is Tribute Summoned: I can target up to 2 Spell/Trap Cards on the field; destroy those targets.

The Ice Emperor swung his heavy fist through the air, and the rotating storm pushed the curtain of white snow flat!

A double attack on the front row and back row, a tactic that sweeps the entire field in one turn to ensure an instant kill. Kagemaru said, The Monarch series does have comprehensive and terrifying power.

But"

The spell trap zone in Kagemaru's spell trap zone was blown up and crushed into pieces in the ice and snowstorm. But his place was not cleared, but instead there was an ancient and grotesque golden statue.

When the Statue of the Wicked is destroyed while it was Set, Special Summon 1 Wicked Token'.

Wicked Token, DEF 1000

Have you considered the possibility that the spell trap zone will be cleared? Yuei Vu said.

In this way, there was an extra wall on Kagemaru's field, and Yuei Vu had to clear this wall before he could touch him. Kagemaru's remaining LP was 3300, and the emperor's attack power was both 2400. Even if the attack passed, it was not enough to defeat him.

"How about it, Duel King?" Kagemaru's muddied voice sounded like a challenge, "Do you still have a way to break through the defense line and complete the kill?"

It seems that I am underestimated.

Yuei Vu smiled slightly and then took another card in his hand.

When I successfully Tribute Summon a monster, I can Special Summon Illusory Snatcher' directly from my hand!

It was a group of mist-like creatures with an erratic shape. It barely condensed into a human-like entity, quickly scanned the "Mobius the Frost Monarch" beside it, and then quickly condensed. The mist gradually transformed into snow-white armor and a floating cloak. An identical "Mobius the Frost Monarch".

When Illusory Snatcher is Special Summoned by its own effect, its Type, Attribute, and Level will all become the same as that face-up Tribute Summoned monster!

Illusory Snatcher, ATK 2400

In this way, the number of monsters that Yuei Vu could use for attack reached three!

Battle! The first is the Illusory Snatcher, attack the Wicked Token!

The Evil God statue was nothing more than a wall with a defense of 1000 and had no resistance to the power of the emperor. The Illusory Snatcher's punch shattered the statue into pieces.

Direct attack from the Zaborg the Thunder Monarch!

Thunder erupted, and lightning struck directly on the surface of the mechanical device. The mechanical arm was so electrified that it danced wildly. Electric sparks popped out from the gaps in the metal body. The liquid in the life-support cabin rolled turbidly, and the air was filled with the smell of something burnt.

Kagemaru, LP 3300 LP 900

Mobius the Frost Monarch, attack directly!

The Ice Emperor's sprint was blasted through the air by the frozen fist. After all, it spread close to the ground at a speed visible to the naked eye, and the heavy punch was like a heavy artillery with cold air, bringing the final sentence.

Boom!

The Ice Emperor's fist fell, but it was not the end of the duel. There was no electrical sound of the value of LP became zero, but the crispy ring of the ice crystal on the fist of the emperor.

"I banish Necro Gardna' in the graveyard." Kagemaru said, "Negate one attack this turn from a monster you control."

Yuei Vu narrowed his eyes slightly.

"What a pity, Mr. Duel King. Just a little bit more and the duel will be over by now."

I end my turn.

Yuei Vu looked at the figure hiding in the machine. He felt that something seemed to be inconsistent, but he couldn't tell which part it was.

He had never met Chairman Kagemaru before, and he couldn't say how much he knew about this guy. But he just felt that something was not quite right about the old guy hiding in the life-support cabin in front of him.

Draw.

The robot drew a card from the deck on behalf of its owner, and invisible waves of darkness erupted centered on the figure in the survival cabin.

Yuei Vu could feel that the air seemed to become a little heavier.

Spell Card Monster Recovery. Returns all the cards in my hand and field to the deck, shuffles the deck, and then draws five cards.

The deck of cards was automatically shuffled, and the space reverberated with the sound of metal friction in the operation of the mechanical device.

Spell Card Pot of Greed, draw two more cards from the deck. Kagamaru said, Then I normal summon The Creator Incarnate!

What appeared on the stage was a warrior in orange-red armor, wearing a wide red cloak, holding a long sword sealed in a sheath, like a majestic general.

Use the The Creator Incarnate as a sacrifice, I special summon this guy from my hand
.The Creator! ! ! "

Chapter 752: Interceptomato

The Creator was also a pretty old card. It was a huge giant with a red body and a solemn image standing on the earth like a silent guardian.

The Creator, DEF 3000

Then there is the effect of the The Blazing Mars in the graveyard! Kagamaru said, While this card is in my hand or GY: I can banish 3 other monsters from my GY; Special Summon this card!

I removed Watapon, Eva, and The Creator Incarnate from the game! The endless flames, descending again

The Blazing Mars! "

Spheres of fire erupted from the ground, and pillars of lava swirled in the air. The burning sphere unfolded from the inside out, the knight's body and the dragon's head merged ferociously into one, and the dragon's mouth was filled with golden flames.

The Blazing Mars, ATK 2600

Then theres the effect of The Creator! Kagamaru continued, Once per turn, I can target 1 monster in my Graveyard; send 1 card from my hand to the Graveyard, and Special Summon that target!

I discard a card in my hand and special summon Zoa' who was originally discarded to the graveyard by you! "

The Creator slowly opened his eyes, which lit up with a dark red light. A dark vortex opened on the ground, and a soul was pulled out of the underworld by an invisible divine power. The blue-skinned demon fell back onto the field, its ugly eyes widened, and its claws scratched the ground sharply, sparking bright sparks on the metal floor.

Zoa, ATK 2600

"Furthermore, the card I discarded to the graveyard is Nimble Angler'." Kagamaru continued, "If this card is sent from the hand or Deck to the GY, I can Special Summon up to 2 Level 3 or lower Nimble' monsters from my Deck, except Nimble Angler'."

Two cards automatically popped out of the duel disk and were taken into the hand of the machine he controlled.

I special summon the Nimble Manta and Nimble Momonga.

Nimble Momonga, DEF 100

Nimble Manta, DEF 100

In the blink of an eye, the entire five monster zones in Kagamaru's field were filled to the brim.

Yuei Vu narrowed his eyes: "The effect of The Blazing Mars"

"Exactly." Kagamaru said calmly, "The Blazing Mars can deal 500 points of damage to the opponent by sending the monsters on the field to the graveyard. And there is no limit to the number of times this effect can be activated!"

There were currently four monsters on the Kagamaru's field that could be used as ammunition, or even more.

Yuei Vu knew that when "Nimble Manta" was sent to the graveyard by a card effect, any number of "Nimble Manta" could be Special Summoned from the deck.

In other words, Kagamaru had six shells that could be used for the effect of "The Blazing Mars", including three Nimble Manta, one Nimble Momonga, one Zoa, and The Creator.

With all these bullets, it could deal a total of 3000 damage, which was more than enough to achieve an instant kill!

The effect of The Blazing Mars. Kagamaru said, Send the Nimble Manta to the graveyard, inflicting 500 points of damage!

The Nimble Manta was quickly enveloped in flames, and the cannonballs turned into flames and filled the Mars. The burning fireball exploded in the sky and roared towards Yuei Vu!

But Yuei Vu's expression didn't change, and a card quickly popped up from the graveyard.

"I banished the Intercepto' from the graveyard!" He showed the card, "This effect can only be activated during the opponent's turn. This turn, any effect damage I take becomes 0! "

Small tomatoes popped out of the cemetery area, looking like football players wearing helmets. But the powerful blow from Mars was turned into nothingness in front of this tiny tomato!

Not only was this burst of fire, but its effect wiped out all the possible damage this turn!

The effect of Nimble Manta If it is sent to the graveyard by a card effect, I can special summon any number of Nimble Manta from the deck.

Nimble Manta, DEF 100

Although Kagamaru could no longer use Mars' effect, he still chose to summon this extra monster. It was a good choice whether it was used as a defensive shield or as ammunition fired by The Blazing Mars in the next turn.

Then let's fight directly. The first is The Blazing Mars, attack Mobius the Frost Monarch!

The golden dragon opened its mouth, like a hot blow from the core of Mars! The realm of ice and snow was shattered, the ice armor melted under the flames, and the Ice Emperor's body was shattered.

Yuei Vu, LP 1800 LP 1600

Then comes Zoa, defeat Zaborg the Thunder Monarch!

The demon launched a fierce attack, its claws tearing the air and dragging a long string of sparks on the floor. The Thunder Emperor's lightning struck the demon's body but to no avail. Lightning's spear was not enough to penetrate the demon's scales.

The emperor was pierced by a claw blow, and his body was torn in half.

Yuei Vu, LP 1600 LP 1400

The two emperors were defeated one after another, but the "Illusory Snatcher" who mimicked Mobius was still left on the playground. His attack power was 2400, and although the remaining "The Creator" on Kagamaru's field was powerful, fighting was not its specialty. The attack power of 2300 was not enough to penetrate this last line of defense.

Perhaps anticipating this, he chose to put The Creator on the defensive. The defense power of 3000 points was still quite high, and it was not so easy to be defeated.

Now there was The Creator on the field with a defense power of 3000. If Mars was destroyed, he could resurrect Mars back to the field at any time.

In addition, he had four monsters that acted as walls. Among them, when "Nimble Momonga" was destroyed by battle, he could gain 1000 LP, then Special Summon any number of "Nimble Momonga" from the Deck in face-down Defense Position.

In other words, not only could the "Nimble Momonga" block three attacks, but if all three were knocked down, Kagamaru could recover 3000 LP in one breath.

Such an iron-walled lineup should not be easily broken through.

On the other hand, Yuei Vu only had 1400 LP left. This amount was like a thin film that could be broken by the powerful burning effect of "The Blazing Mars".

This turn, he was protected by the ability of "Interceptomato", but as long as Kagamaru could wait until the next turn, he could easily win with the effect of Mars.

However, for the sake of safety, he still had to take out all the cards in his hand and arrange absolute insurance.

Considering the opponent he faced, there was no room for saving any card in this duel.

Set three cards, I end my turn.

There were three more set cards under Kagamaru's robot.

Come on, Duel King. He said, Try to break through my defenses and let me see your legendary strength.

Chapter 753: You Don't Know Who I Am

Yuei Vu looked at the black figure standing in the life-saving cabin, thought for a moment, and then said: "Chairman Kagamaru, your real purpose in the end should be to save your own life, right?"

The huge mechanical device stayed in place without moving, and the people in the life-saving cabin did not respond at all.

"I know you are about to die." Yuei Vu said, "This does not require any logical ability, nor does it require collecting any evidence. Look at you now in this device, hanging on to your last breath. Maybe one day you will never see the rising sun again, that was obvious enough.

You have accumulated a lot of wealth over the long years, and you have also gained powerful dark power. Unfortunately, none of these can help you resist aging. You cannot stop the pace of death and the natural process.

But you are not willing to do so. You want to rebel against this inevitable law. You have studied the immortal vampires, pursued the secret of the Pharaoh's immortality, and searched for the legendary ultimate alchemy that can make people eternal.

This all led you to where you are today, right? The ultimate answer you find, the thing that gives you the power of immortality."

Yuei Vu didnt say clearly what it was.

But if Chairman Kagamaru was really the instigator behind the scenes as in the original work, then he must know what Yuei Vu was talking about.

Three Sacred Beast cards, which were inhabited by the existence comparable to gods. They had the power to absorb the energy of duel spirits all over the world and give anyone vitality.

As long as he had those three cards in hand, Kagamaru could regain his youth.

There was a long silence, and then the man in the machine spoke in a low voice: "You know a lot."

It didnt sound like he was denying the facts pointed out by Yuei Vu.

"More than you think." Yuei Vu said, "But what I want to ask is, what do you want to do by arranging Titan to go to the island?"

He was more concerned about what all this had to do with his student.

Judai at this stage was just an ordinary student, well, an ordinary student with extraordinary talents, but even so, he had no reason to attract Kagamaru's attention.

Yuei Vu was actually not sure whether Kagamaru hired Titan, which was why he didn't take the initiative to mention Judai's name. He was just testing, wanting to know if Kagamaru was the employer.

"If you want to know," Kagamaru said, "You must defeat me first, Duel King."

Although he did not answer Yuei Vu's question, he has given Yuei Vu important information.

It seemed that he really did it.

"Let me see your strength," Kagamaru emphasized again.

"As you wish."

The loser in a Shadow Game has no right to resist or deceive. Playing cards was always the simplest and most efficient way to communicate.

My turn, draw! Yuei Vu said, During the Standby Phase, when there are no Spell/Trap Cards on my field, the Treeborn Frog in the graveyard can be Special Summoned!

Treeborn Frog, DEF 100

He then showed a card in his hand: "Activate the Spell Card Nibelung's Treasure! I activate the Equip Spell Nibelung's Ring' from the deck and equip it to the The Blazing Mars' on your field, and then I draw five cards from the deck!

A silver-white ring was embedded on the huge dragon head of The Blazing Mars. The restraint of power made it scream dully, and it feebly spit out a few sparks from its mouth.

Kagemaru understood: "Has the most threatening effect of Mars been restrained? But you still have to find a way to break through the solid front line on my field."

"Actually, I don't have to do this." Yuei Vu said calmly, "I used the Treeborn Frog' on the field as a sacrifice to Tribute Summon!

The dark emperor who rules over the underworld

Caius the Shadow Monarch! ! ! "

Dark mire overflowed on the ground, and an evil and cold breath filled the air. It was a dark emperor, with a painting style that was completely different from all the emperors that had appeared before. His actions and even his very existence exude an uncomfortable evil aura. Just looking at him seemed to evoke the evil that grew in the darkest corners of everyone's heart.

Caius the Shadow Monarch, ATK 2400

Kagemaru's voice was a little more urgent: "The ability of this Monarch"

"If this card is Tribute Summoned: Target 1 card on the field; banish that target," Yuei Vu said, "However, if the removed card is a DARK monster, it can inflict 1000 damage to the opponent!"

Kagemaru, LP 900

"Is that so?" Kagemaru understood his intention, "You don't need to break through my defense line on the field, you can just directly deal damage."

"That's right." Yuei Vu said, "It is the duelist, not the monster, who determines the outcome. No matter how powerful the monster is, as long as the duelist's LP returns to zero, the outcome is determined.

According to the effect of Caius the Shadow Monarch, I removed the DARK attribute Zoa from the game and gave you 1000 points of effect damage! "

The shadow emperor's power was activated. A dark sphere surrounded by lightning took shape in his palm as if he was holding some kind of evil aggregate in his hand, with enough power to deprive any existence from a dimension.

Zoa was locked by this, and this demon had no way to resist the power of the shadow emperor. It let out a shrill scream and was twisted along with the space it was in, like a piece of paper that had been crumpled into a ball and thrown into the wastebasket outside the dimension.

But Kagemaru opened a set card at the critical moment.

"Trap Card Gift of The Mystical Elf!" Kagemaru said, "Increase my Life Points by 300 points for each monster on the field."

The moment before Zoa was banished, there were seven monsters on the field. Yuei Vu said.

"That's right, so I restored a total of 2100 LP." Kagemaru's eyes were cold.

The divine blessing turned into soft blue light and shone on his survival cabin, reflecting a pale and strange light on the glass cabin door. The shadow emperor's impact came right after, hitting the device hard.

Kagemaru, LP 900 LP 3000 LP 2000

Did you block it for now? Yuei Vu said.

"And at this moment, open the set card!" Another set card in Kagemaru's spell trap zone was opened, "Continuous Trap Double Payback! When the opponent activates an effect that causes 1000 or more damage to me, place 1 Payback Counter on this card for every 1000 damage I took.

During the opponent's next End Phase: Destroy this card, and inflict 2000 damage to the opponent for each Payback Counter on this card! "

Yuei Vu, LP 1400

"Oh?" Yuei Vu watched the shadow emperor's impact damage being absorbed by the trap, "Will the trouble be kicked back to me?"

"Exactly." Kagemaru said, "The shackles have been put on, and the god of death is waving his scythe. Have you heard the countdown, Duel King? Those are the steps of the god of death, and the countdown of your life.

You will never be able to find out the truth, and you will never be able to understand my true purpose. Because you will be buried here. "

After a pause, two sharp eyes shot through the glass and the bubbling liquid.

You'll never even know who I am.

Yuei Vu's eyes moved.

What's the meaning?

Isn't this guy a Kagemaru?

Chapter 754: Mega Monarch!

"The victory or defeat has been decided." Kagemaru said, "At your next End Phase, the Double Payback' effect will be triggered, and you will receive 2000 points of rebound damage.

Unless you can break through all my defense lines within this turn and reduce my LP to 0. Do it, if you can."

Yuei Vu ignored him: "Activate Spell Card Double Summon! In this turn, I can conduct the second Normal Summon.

Then I tribute the Illusory Snatcher on the field!

The emperor of wind who controls the divine wind and scatters all things

Raiza the Storm Monarch! ! ! "

The Illusory Snatcher disappeared from the field, and a dark green whirlwind rose from the ground! A huge figure emerged from the storm, and the Emperor of Wind came riding the storm. The whirlwind was like countless invisible sharp blades violently cutting the metal walls and floors.

Raiza the Storm Monarch, ATK 2400

"The Monarch of Wind." Kagamaru seemed to understand. "His ability is to bounce a card on the field to the top of the owner's deck. Is your target the Continuous Trap Double Payback? No, it's more than that."

He quickly understood the change in the situation.

Kagamaru now had 0 cards in his hand, and all available resources were on the field. And now the effect of his most powerful killing weapon "The Blazing Mars" was negated by the "Nibelung's Ring", and he could not launch attacks. The attack power of the monarch on Yuei Vu's side was 2400, and on Kagamaru's side, there was no monster whose attack power could exceed this value.

Of course, for high-level duelists like them, as long as they could still draw cards, the chance to make a comeback would inevitably come to their hands.

However, Yuei Vu used the effect of "Raiza the Storm Monarch" to bounce the trap cards back to the top of Kagamaru's deck, which not only eliminated the crisis of reflected damage from the trap cards but also further blocked the possibility of Kagamaru's divine comeback.

In this way, the card that Kagamaru drew in the next turn must be the "Double Payback" card.

Unless he could be like a certain protagonist in later generations who could reprint the card he has already drawn into another card on the spot.

If he couldn't do it, there was a high probability that Kagamaru would lose.

It's a good idea. Kagamaru said calmly, But I still have this card. Continuous Trap Fiendish Chain!

Chains flew out of the trap like a gun that shot through the air, tightly binding the Storm Monarch with the sound of metal collision. Before the emperor could activate his divine power, the power was locked back into his body by the strange chain. The green storm stopped suddenly, and the Storm Monarch groaned vaguely.

"The effects of the monster bound by the Fiendish Chain will be negated and they cannot attack." Kagamaru said, "It's a good attempt. You are indeed just a little short, but it does not change the result."

Originally, he could use the "Fiendish Chain" to bind the shadow emperor when he appeared on the stage, but Kagamaru did not do so.

He deliberately suffered the shadow emperor's effect damage to trigger the "Double Payback" rebound effect. The purpose of aiming was to kill with one hit.

The power of the Storm Monarch was restrained, and the situation faced by Yuei Vu remained unchanged. At the end of this turn, the "Double Payback" effect would be triggered, and he would lose.

If this turn has an End Phase.

Quick-Play Spell Trap Booster. Yuei Vu showed a card, According to this effect, I can activate a trap card from my hand. (Animation card)

He inserted a card into the Duel Disk.

What I want to activate is the trap card Dark Advance. During either player's Main Phase or Battle Phase: Target 1 monster in my Graveyard with 2400 or more ATK and 1000 DEF; add it to my hand.

After that, I can Tribute Summon 1 monster with 2400 or more ATK and 1000 DEF in face-up Attack Position! "

You can still be summoned by a higher level? Kagemaru sounded a little surprised.

The Monarch series was not rare, and it has been used by passers-by in the original animation. Therefore, Kagemaru was certainly not unfamiliar with this series.

But even so, it was the first time he had seen someone like Yuei Vu who could let Monarchs jump out one after another as if they were free of charge.

But Kagemaru remained calm.

In this case, even if he gains an extra normal summon, what can he do?

The Monarch series only had six attributes, and he knew the effects of each of them. No matter which Monarch Yuei Vu wanted to summon next, it would not be enough.

"You think that no matter what emperor I want to summon, it won't be enough to break through the predicament and complete the killing in this turn, right?" Yuei Vu smiled.

Kagemaru quickly recalled the Monarchs who had been sleeping in Yuei Vu's graveyard until now, and said calmly: "Your only choice is to recycle the Mobius the Frost Monarch' in the graveyard. Mobius's effect can destroy my Double Payback'. That is enough to help you delay the inevitable."

"That's not necessarily true." Yuei Vu smiled, "Have you forgotten? When your initial Hand Destruction' was activated, you were not the only one who accumulated resources in the graveyard. I also had the opportunity to discard two cards to the graveyard. .

The figure in the life-saving cabin fell into a brief silence.

Indeed, he ignored this.

But the card he discarded and went to the graveyard, could it be that he was the emperor who could make a perfect comeback?

It seems you may not know. Yuei Vu said slowly, The six Monarchs of EARTH, WATER, FIRE, WIND, LIGHT, and DARK, they are indeed the foundation of the Monarch deck.

But what most people dont know is that the strength of every Monarch is not what it seems on the surface. They contain power within their bodies that has not been developed by most people, and they have a new advanced form! "

"What?"

According to the effect of Dark Advance, this card is what I want to take back.

Yuei Vu picked up a card that popped up from the Duel Disk's GY area and turned it over.

Caius the Mega Monarch!

Kagemaru had a thought in his mind.

There is actually a Monarch that he doesn't know about!?

Although Caius the Mega Monarch is Level 8, I can Tribute Summon this card by Tributing 1 Tribute Summoned monster!

So I offered the Caius the Shadow Monarch as a sacrifice!

The aggregation of resentment and evil spirits, the shadow emperor with a new attitude after evolution

Caius the Mega Monarch, summon! ! ! "

The dark emperor broke through the earth, the ground was shattered, and the fragments were thrown into the air, and were crushed into powder in the dark realm of the emperor.

It was like a king stepping out of the netherworld. He had a weird and ferocious image, with eyes shining like a demon. He was surrounded by ghosts, and his abstract face looked like a skeleton, as if he wanted to choose someone to kill at any time.

Caius the Mega Monarch, ATK 2800

Like a dark mountain, with shocking power, the king's domain spreads the moment the emperor's footsteps hit the ground, followed by the cold and biting darkness and evil.

Is there such a thing as the advanced form of the Monarch? Kagemaru was surprised.

"The effect of Caius the Mega Monarch is activated!" Yuei Vu pointed at the indomitable Dark Emperor, "If this card is Tribute Summoned: Target 1 card on the field; banish it, and inflict 1000 damage to your opponent.

But if this card was Tribute Summoned by Tributing a DARK monster, the target of this effect can be 2 cards, instead! "

"What!?"

The shadow emperor began to move. His thick arms turned, and the large movements affected the entire field! Darkness gathered from all directions, and fluctuations locked the trap "Double Payback" on the back row and "The Creator" in the front row.

The power of the shadow emperor seemed to cause the collapse of space, and both monsters and traps were sucked into the black vortex. Even "The Creator" was unable to resist.

The fluctuations continued unabated, turning into countless black electric currents that crackled and exploded on Kagemaru's life-support device. The electronic display in front of the robot flickered on and off for a while, sparks danced on the console, and the system seemed to be on the verge of overload.

The water in the life-saving cabin was turned into a turbid mess, and there was a sound of blunt object impact. It sounded like Kagemaru's body hit the glass wall behind.

Kagemaru, LP 2000 LP 1000

A cold and sharp gaze came from the life-saving cabin, falling directly on the dark and huge emperor.

Caius the Mega Monarch is such a terrifying power

Battle! Yuei Vu waved his hand, Caius the Mega Monarch, attack The Blazing Mars!

The dark emperor charges! It was as if his entire domain was being affected by his steps, a dark cyclone roared in mid-air, and majestic power gathered on the waving iron fist, like a black cannonball leaving the barrel!

"If the battle is established, it will be 200 points of damage." Kagemaru thought quickly, "In this way, next turn"

At this moment, activate the effect of the trap card Skill Successor' in the graveyard! Yuei Vu waved his hand.

Kagemaru was shocked again.

There is actually a pit buried in the graveyard!?

Banish this card from my GY, then target 1 face-up monster I control; that target gains 800 ATK until the end of this turn!

I increased the attack power of Caius the Mega Monarch! "

Caius the Mega Monarch, ATK 2800 ATK 3600

The Blazing Mars, ATK 2600

Kagemaru, LP 1000

Oops! Kagemaru realized something was wrong.

The Dark Emperor's full blow!

The torrent of darkness dispersed the flames, and the hammer-like punch cracked the golden dragon's head. The dragon let out a shrill scream, and the solid gold shell cracked with a crisp sound, and half of the knight's armor standing on its back also shattered until the whole thing turned into ashes.

Kagemaru, LP 1000 LP 0

Chapter 755: Awakening Darkness

The LP value returned to zero, and Kagemaru and the machine were knocked away. The shadow emperor's blow seemed to set off a violent wind in the room, violently overturning the crawling robot, dragging a long string of sparks along the ground, sliding out, and hitting the wall behind heavily.

The physical impact of the Shadow Game destroyed most of the robot's systems, and the joints of the robotic arm were also broken. The metal shell was damaged in many places, with broken wires exposed, and the scrapped circuit board was crackling with sparks, like the scream of a machine.

The life-support capsule was overwhelmed and ruptured in the impact, and a large amount of water gushed out. The figure hiding behind the glass cover finally revealed his true appearance. He was sitting sideways in the broken glass cabin, his head drooped and motionless.

It was an old shadow, naked, with skin as dry as cracked bark. Judging from the appearance alone, it can hardly be called a human being, but a skinny mummy.

Yuei Vu recognized the other party's identity at a glance.

Its unmistakable, this guy is the BOSS in the early stage of GX, the immortal Kagamaru.

Finally, we met directly, Chairman Kagamaru.

Yuei Vu turned off the duel disk system, and the image of the shadow emperor disappeared behind him.

He stepped forward and said slowly: "In a duel between Shadow Duelists, one victory equals one condition. I think you should also know the rules. So I will go straight to the point and ask directly."

He suddenly paused when he said this and realized something was wrong.

Yuei Vu quickly stepped forward and stretched out his hand to check Kagamaru's breathing, but there was no movement.

Damn, I didn't accidentally hit him to death with too much force, right?

Thinking about it this way, the chairman had only one breath left. It was normal that his old body may not be able to withstand the impact of the dark duel.

This time it's a little bit more troublesome.

Although Kagamaru may indeed be the mastermind behind the scenes, and killing him directly may eliminate the trouble behind him, Yuei Vu was still quite concerned about Kagamaru's previous words, "You don't even know who I am."

Is it just a bluff?

It was a pity that the dead could not speak, and some unsolved doubts may have to be taken to the grave by Kagamaru.

Yuei Vu called Mokuba and asked him to arrange for professionals from Kaiba Company to come and clean up the mess. This island was not small, and it seemed a bit strange that Kagamaru was alone in such a large sanatorium. A thorough inspection by a professional may reveal some unexpected findings.

Mokuba agreed to his words and said that he would arrange for the team to go there immediately.

Yuei Vu hung up the phone and was about to leave, but his eyes were accidentally attracted to the scrapped robot that Kagamaru had just used.

Seeing that the paralyzed robot system seemed to have not completely collapsed, and the screen was still flickering on and off, Yuei Vu thought and came to the console of the machine and looked through the records.

This machine was directly connected to Kagamaru's life-saving capsule. It was directly responsible for Kagamaru's life support system. In other words, there should be relevant records in the system.

Yuei Vu's guess was right. But at this time, he had no idea what he would see in the system's records. Those contents briefly froze him in place, and his mind was filled with doubts.

It was clearly recorded in the life support system that the owner of this system, Chairman Kagamaru in front of Yuei Vu, breathed his last three months ago.

He was long dead.

Yuei Vu frowned.

So who is the guy who just dueled with me?

Elsewhere.

Poof!

A man suddenly opened his closed eyes, and suddenly he spurted out a mouthful of blood.

A woman next to him immediately stepped forward to help him: "Sir, are you okay?"

The man gave her a cold look.

That was a woman wearing a standard secretary outfit. Her appearance was not particularly outstanding, but she was still good-looking. Her soft lips were covered with thick lip gloss, her slender legs were covered with black stockings, and her feet were wearing high heels. Her lethality to ordinary men was definitely not weak.

However

Without saying a word, the man slapped the woman on the top of her head. The woman's pupils shrank in horror, and she felt everything in her body being sucked out like a flood, pouring into the man's palm.

She opened her mouth, perhaps to beg for mercy, but her tongue was as stiff as a rusty iron rod and her vocal organs refused to work.

Within a few seconds, the woman's eyes lost their luster and she collapsed limply to the ground.

The man took a deep breath and seemed to have regained his composure. He looked down at his hands and snorted angrily.

The human body is really troublesome. It is weak and vulnerable. A duel of this level can cause such severe trauma.

He paused and narrowed his eyes.

Duel King Yuei Vu, even using my remote-controlled puppet as a medium, can actually cause damage to me. It seems that I still underestimated him.

In the original GX animation, Kagamaru may still be the final BOSS in the Three Sacred Beasts arc, but it was obviously not the case here.

Three months ago, this man found Kagamaru. Through a duel, he defeated Kagamaru with absolute crushing power and killed the chairman of the Duel Academy. From then on, Chairman Kagamaru became his puppet.

Kagamaru's company was kept in the dark. They all thought that their own director was crazy, but no one thought that someone else was already giving the orders.

This giant company has long been a toy in the hands of this man.

And this man, or to be more precise, the mind inside it, since this body was nothing more than a puppet.

The true one that occupied this body at this time was a more powerful and older being named Tragoedia!

This was a monster from three thousand years ago. It was extremely powerful, unparalleledly evil, and wielded a terrifying darkness. Its power once even became a nightmare for the ancient Egyptian priests!

This thing was the final BOSS that ran throughout the entire "Yu-Gi-Oh GX" manga. It had a dominant level of tyrannical strength and was nearly unrivaled among all the characters that appear in the manga.

At this point, you may have to ask, since this Tragoedia is so awesome, how was it sealed three thousand years ago?

This was a bit funny to say.

Three thousand years ago.

Tragoedia, who was hiding in the host's body, was arrested by the ancient Egyptian priests and taken to the Egyptian palace.

In fact, it had the ability to break free easily. It could kill these priests at any time if it wanted to, but it just didn't do that.

Tragoedia said that he would pretend to be a pig and eat the tiger, and he would ambush the priests, and then suddenly break out when they got to the palace.

In short, its just to show off!

The priests summoned the "Winged Kuriboh" spirit. Winged Kuriboh has the ability to take out the heart of an evil person and put it on the "Millennium Scale" to test the evil.

Tragoedia sneered as Winged Kuriboh took away his heart, triumphantly imagining the shock when the priests measured his strength level.

Later, it was indeed installed in place. When the priests saw the test results, they couldn't help but scream, shouting that there could be such evil resentment in the world!

Tragoedia was very satisfied when he saw the panicked expressions of the priests and felt that his purpose of showing off had been achieved. Then, when it was about to show its might and kill all the priests on the spot, it suddenly realized a fatal problem.

Fuck! My heart is still with that spirit!

Tragoedia's strength was greatly reduced after losing his heart. Although it rushed towards the Winged Kuriboh angrily, it was quickly suppressed by the combined efforts of the priests, and it has been sealed for three thousand years.

Cause of death: Pretending to be a pig to eat a tiger, but pretending to be a pig too long and really turning into a pig.

After the seal, the priests were still frightened. Someone was wiping cold sweat and said: This monster was unusually powerful. If it were in its complete state, we would definitely be no match.

Fortunately, his brain didn't seem to work very well!

But three thousand years later, an archaeological team excavated the stone slab sealing it from the underground tomb.

This powerful monster finally saw the light of day again!

This time it has learned the lessons of three thousand years ago, and it would never capsize in the gutter like before.

Tragedy: This time, there was no Pharaoh and no guardian priest in the world.

This world will be my possession!

Chapter 756: Tutors And Students

"Come on UR! Come on UR! SR is fine too Please!!!"

Fae closed his eyes and prayed in a low voice for a long time. Finally, he opened the file bag in front of him and took out the document in the bag that made him full of expectations with trembling hands.

He slowly opened his eyes and bravely looked at the title page of the document. But seeing the golden light of the document shining, a large word "UR" wrapped in colorful streamers came into view.

Oh yeah!

Fae almost screamed out excitedly at the hoarse voice.

Looking further down, in the name column on the title page, there were clearly written a few large characters "Misawa Daichi".

That's right, it's the student he would be responsible for next as his mentor.

Fae let out a long breath.

It's okay, it's okay, it's acceptable.

Although Misawa Daichi was almost invisible in the protagonist group, and he simply disappeared in the later stages of the animation, after all, he was at least a respectable character in the academy.

If there was a character panel, Misawa's basic stat was definitely not low, and he deserved the title of "UR" character among all the students in the academy. It's still much better than those passerby students in the academy that you may have never heard of.

Today was the day when tutors received students. The sealed portfolio was handed over to the instructors, and a group of players made a fuss. When the portfolio was unsealed, everyone was as excited as if they were drawing cards from the character card pool of a Gacha mobile game.

Miss Yuehua opened the file bag with excitement, took out the document, and took a look, her face suddenly darkened.

An extremely inconspicuous "N" sign meant that the student she drew had very average talent and potential. She then looked at the photo posted on the file and found that it was a second-year boy whom she had no memory of at all. His appearance was as plain as his tutor's breasts.

Miss Yuehua suddenly puffed up her mouth.

Damn it! Why can't I draw students with high rarity?

But its normal. After all, students with high rarity were basically famous characters in the animation. There were only a few in total. Most of the students assigned to players were passers-by in the animation.

The players seemed to get students randomly, but in fact, they were all assigned to them by Yuei Vu.

Miss Yuehuas main role was actually as a camera tool. What Yuei Vu was interested in was purely the number of viewers she brought. When it came to card skills, her level was far inferior to many big players in professional competitions. The reason why she was let in was purely because of the back door opened by Yuei Vu for her.

Therefore, of course, Yuei Vu couldn't hand over a student with real talent and potential to her, so he only assigned her an insignificant role.

Coke Sprite flashed with colorful lights, and the dazzling special effects attracted the attention of blockbusters. When she took out the document with the big "UR" printed on it, a group of screwballs nearby couldn't help but exclaim in surprise.

Tenjoin Asuka!

The most desired student among all tutors.

One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer, who was holding the file rated "R" that he had drawn, felt his face was almost turning green.

After all, to please Asuka, he paid a precious Axe King!

Now thats good, all his investment was in vain!

One Hammer Deal No Counter-Offer felt his heart bleed.

Fae got a UR, and his mood was very good. He couldn't wait to show off to his best friend, Native Noragami. He held Misawa Daichi's UR file sheet in his hand and danced and basked next to Native Noragami, like a seal just out of the water.

Native Noragami glanced at him disdainfully and snorted disdainfully.

Just drawing a mere piece of bookworm makes you excited like this. See what I can do!

Isnt it just UR? I can get one too!

Brother Native Noragami held his breath, stared at the envelope he opened with wide eyes, and slowly pulled out the thin file paper inside.

The sealing strip was torn open, and colorful light suddenly overflowed from the mouth of the bag. Looking at the rippling brilliance, Native Noragami's breath was almost stagnant and he couldn't help but want to cheer.

F*ck, its really coming! UR!

Brother Native Noragami couldn't hold back his excitement, and even couldn't help but want to perform a "tactical fallback" for the dumbfounded Brother Fae.

See? This is my strength!

However, when he pulled out the file and saw the name clearly, he was dumbfounded.

What the hell is this Marufuji Sho?

Fae, who was already dumbfounded next to him, saw the name clearly and couldn't help but pat his legs and burst into laughter: "Hahahaha! Brother Native Noragami, congratulations!"

Native Noragami's face turned dark.

Fuck! Why is Marufuji Sho considered UR?

As we all know in GX, Marufuji Sho, Judai's junior brother, was one of the characters in the entire game whom most audiences wanted to pull out of the screen and beat up, yes, that included the villains.

The animation failed very badly in portraying the growth of this character. Throughout the whole work, he basically played the role of a dragster. His strength was terrible, and he was taken hostage every three days. He was saved by Judai countless times, but in the Different Dimension arc, he even blamed Judai (although he was affected by special powers).

Because of these poor performances, none of the mentors wanted to take him.

Brother Native Noragami put away the "UR" file depressed and made up his mind.

Put this boy through hell!

He still didn't believe that this student couldn't be taught well!

Among the remaining players, there was still the last player who got lucky and drew "UR".

That was the leader of the Knights of Hanoi guild, Just A Sandbag.

He drew the last "UR" student in the remaining file, Sakura Izayoi.

This guild president's dueling skills were considered average among players. In terms of skills, he was not as strong as the only girl in their guild, Coke Sprite.

Seeing the student, Just A Sandbag whistled excitedly. The first thing he did was Snapshot, show off!

A few seconds later, the picture of the character he drew was posted to the forum, and a big red envelope worth 10,000 RMB was attached to the post.

Nobody knew whether screenshots or red envelopes were more effective. Anyway, this post quickly became popular. Countless people commented, some thanking the boss for his generosity, and some congratulating him.

Soon, these tutors were arranged to meet with their students.

Sakura Izayoi was still a shy little girl and behaved quite reserved in front of the teacher.

She greeted her new teacher politely and carefully, but she soon discovered that she didn't know what to call him.

"Don't be nervous." Just A Sandbag behaved very kindly. "Just call me Sandbag'."

Sakura: "?"

Even as a nickname, she thought the teachers name was weird.

Of course, she did not dare to say this.

She heard that all of these instructors were experts in special skills and were all big figures in the dueling world, while she was a newbie who had just entered school. She lowered her head and didn't dare to say anything, just took whatever the teacher said.

But she didnt know that in the eyes of this teacher, she was the kind of little princess of their entire guild the kind that they wanted to build a palace to enshrine!

President Sandbag who drew the rare character was in a great mood. With a wave of his hand, a large amount of money was pushed into the game. He exchanged it for crystals at the speed of light and ran to Yuei Vu to collect all the useful cards he could exchange at this stage.

Then he turned around and stuffed a handful of rare cards into his lovely student's hands.

Izayoi was immediately frightened: "Sensei, this is"

Its just a small gift, I mean it, just take it, and dont be polite!

President Sandbag always loved to show off, especially in front of girls, even if they were cute girls in virtual games. This made him feel good about himself.

Sakura held a lot of cards in her little hands and was a little dumbfounded.

Even if it's a greeting gift, shouldn't the student be the one who gave it to the teacher?

Never heard of teachers who give gifts to students!

And she took a general glance and found that there were many cards that she had never seen or heard of before. At first glance, they were very rare and expensive cards.

This teacher is too kind, right?

Thank you, Sandbag-sensei. She was almost too nervous to speak.

"You're welcome, you're welcome." President Sandbag laughed, "Take them all. If you need anything else, just tell me and I'll figure it out!

As long as you can study hard and make progress every day, it will be the greatest reward for me as a teacher! "

Yes, Sandbag-sensei! Sakura thanked her quickly.

Sure enough, I met a good teacher! She thought.

The one that was in sharp contrast with this was Marufuji Sho.

"Trash! Why are you so bad!?! With this level and these results are the recruitment standards of Duel Academy so low now?" Native Noragami cursed, "You are one of the worst students I have ever taught! No, you are the worst student, bar none!"

Well, because Sho was the only student that Brother Native Noragami had taken so far, what he said was also true and there was nothing wrong with it at all.

Marufuji Sho lowered his head, trembling, and did not dare to breathe out, with tears streaming down his face.

Its over. The tutor I was assigned seems to have a bad temper, and my future will be dark for the next three years

Chapter 757: Start With Cyber End Dragon, Isn't It A Loss?

After confirming that Chairman Kagamaru had been out of the picture, the only clue that Yuei Vu could trace was cut off.

Although Titan who invaded Duel Academy was successfully caught, the stupid guy couldn't even remember why he appeared on the island, let alone provide any useful clues.

The news of the death of Chairman Kagamaru would undoubtedly have the greatest impact on the company owned by him. There had been a huge shock, and it was foreseeable that this company was about to usher in a storm.

Mokuba arranged a special team to continue the investigation and promised that if anything is discovered, Yuei Vu would be notified immediately. There was nothing he could do for the time being, so he returned to the academy.

But these days, Judai was not idle either.

The decision from the school's top management finally came down, clearly informing them that students who trespass into restricted areas and violate school rules must accept a duel with a designated opponent as an assessment. If they failed, they might be directly expelled from the school.

Marufuji Sho, who was already severely hit by his new mentor, became even more exhausted after hearing the news, and wanted to give up at that time. While Judai was trying to cheer up his junior brother, he overheard Asuka mention that Sho had an older brother in this academy, and he was the strongest person in the academy who was named "Kaiser".

At this moment, Judai's duel mind suddenly became excited. He couldn't help but want to play cards with the so-called "Kaiser". He rubbed his hands to try to see how powerful the strongest man in the academy was.

What a coincidence, Marufuji Ryo appeared in front of them at this moment.

Long time no see, Judai. He stepped forward and said.

Brother! Sho, who was feeling depressed, exclaimed in surprise.

Asuka on the side felt strange after hearing what Marufuji Ryo said.

"Long time no see"? Did they meet before?

But Judai looked as confused as she was: "Eh? Have we met before?"

"Don't you remember it anymore? That's right, after all, so many years have passed." Ryo smiled slightly and took out a card, "But you should remember this guy, right?"

Cyber End Dragon!

Judai's eyes lit up at this moment, and he immediately had an impression: "Ah! You are from the Cyber Dojo!"

Marufuji Ryo. Ryo said with a smile, Thanks for your care to Sho.

Judai, who remembered cards but not people, suddenly remembered it and walked up to him like an old acquaintance: "Oh, it's been so many years since then. It's nostalgic. I didn't expect the one called Kaiser is actually you.

"It's just a title that was given to me without permission. Compared with you, I'm still far behind."

Seeing the two of them chatting like old acquaintances after not seeing each other for many years, Sho and Asuka couldn't help but look at each other.

Aniki and elder brother actually know each other?

Asuka was also surprised: "Are Kaiser and Judai acquaintances?"

She looked at Judai with even more curiosity.

Yuki Judai how many secrets did you still hide?

They hadn't seen each other for so many years, thus they were more interested in playing cards than chatting. It happened that their common younger brother Marufuji Sho was also watching, and the two decided to compete on the spot after many years.

However, compared with the original plot of the animation, Marufuji's mentality at this time was very different.

If in the anime, when Ryo first fought against Judai, his role was that of the king, then here he considered himself the challenger.

Many years ago, the divine drawing skill that Little Jellyfish Yuki Judai showed in the Cyber Dojo deeply shocked Marufuji Ryo's heart.

Although Judai happily forgot about that day after he finished showing off, since then, the shadow of a certain jellyfish head has lingered in the heart of young Ryo.

For many years, he has been chasing that figure hard.

Now its time to verify the results!

Duel! x2

Marufuji Ryo, LP 4000

Yuki Judai, LP 4000

I am the one who goes first.

Ryo's luck was not very good. As a user of the Cyber Dragon deck, he got the first turn immediately.

He knew that Judai was the direct disciple of the legendary first-generation Duel King, and he did not doubt that Judai was a completely different person after so many years.

But over the years, he has never slacked off for a day!

Now is the time, Yuki Judai! Look at the results of my training!

Marufuji Ryo waved his hand and drew out four cards in one breath.

I am here to activate my secret skill, the power of 502, to directly fuse three Cyber Dragons!

Seeing the sudden flash of lightning in the sky, the electric currents mingling and intersecting, and the three mechanical dragons twisting their bodies into one, Asuka and Sho who were watching were stunned.

Nani? Do you show respect by summoning your strongest dragon?

Is the opponent worthy of it??

The storm of steel subsided, and the three-headed dragon stabilized its body and slowly fell. The metal parts were assembled and interlocked on its body, and the joints connecting its neck were still beating with electric light.

Cyber End Dragon, ATK 4000

Oh oh oh! Its the Cyber End Dragon! Judais eyes lit up, Hes so handsome!

Thats awesome, Asuka said with admiration on her face.

Marufuji Sho said with a solemn expression: "Brother, he is serious."

In his impression, he had never seen such a serious brother before!

Is Aniki really such an opponent worthy of caution in my elder brother's impression?

However, unlike these two viewers, Judai was impressed by his handsomeness and couldn't help but say: "But when you start with Cyber End Dragon, you can't attack in the first turn, so isn't it the loss of four cards in your hand?"

There are only two cards left. Wouldnt it be very bad if I defeated the Cyber End Dragon next turn?

Marufuji Ryo was stunned for a moment.

It seemed that no one had ever asked him such a question.

But he quickly came to his senses and said, "Only if you can defeat it."

He took out a card.

Set a card, I end my turn.

The card he set was "De-Fusion", which could not only release the fusion of Cyber End Dragon during the Battle Phase and transform it back into three Cyber Dragons for additional attacks, but also can let it evade when it is selected as the effect target.

It was basically Kaisers standard starting move in the early stages of the animation. What stood out was that he had such a strong bond with his deck that it looked like never shuffled it.

Seeing Cyber End Dragon on the first turn, 90% of the students in the academy may surrender instantly. They had no countermeasures when facing this big brother of Cyber series, which had an attack power of four thousand and even had a piercing effect.

But Marufuji Ryo knew that the opponent in front of him could not fall so easily.

At this time, it's Judai's turn: Then it's my turn, draw!

Judai glanced at Kaiser, then at the card he drew, as if he was momentarily hesitant.

Ryo clenched his fist and said: "No need to hesitate, Judai! Just use your strongest move and let me see your full strength!"

Since the other party has said so

Okay! Judai agreed readily, no longer confused, and directly played the card in his hand.

Asuka-san played the role of commentator: "The Cyber End Dragon, which has an attack power of 4,000, is a monster that cannot be defeated by ordinary means."

Marufuji Sho also echoed: "This is my brother's overwhelmingly powerful duel!"

As soon as he finished speaking, Judai's card had been inserted into the duel plate.

"I activate the spell card System Down!" Judai shouted, "Pay 1000 LP; banish all Machine-Type monsters the opponent controls and in their Graveyard!"

Marufuji Ryo: ""

Marufuji Sho: ""

Asuka: ""

Chapter 758: I Am Not As Good As Him!

System Down was similar to the Spell Card "Last Day of Witch" that Yuei Vu once used. It was a powerful magic used to counter a specific Type.

This was a fatal blow to any Machine deck. This mere card could paralyze the entire system of the Machine deck, clearing out all the resources the opponent has managed to pile up in the field and graveyard during the entire duel.

Yuei Vu in the original time and space obviously would not put such weird things in his deck, and this was thanks to the education he received from his teacher since he was a child.

"Sometimes a duel is an intelligence battle." Yuei Vu educated Judai at the time, "Knowing the opponent's details, knowing the opponent's deck construction and mode, you can make the most accurate selection from the vast card library and draw out corresponding cards for targeted combat.

Many powerful decks have weaknesses, and catching the opponent's weaknesses will help you win more easily. "

In fact, this was a dilemma faced by many generations of Yu-Gi-Oh protagonists. They often knew nothing about the villain's deck they encountered for the first time, but the villain knew the protagonist's deck and ace monsters well.

This disadvantage often made battles that the protagonists could easily resolve very difficult.

"Judai, you may not understand because you are still young, but you have to remember one thing." Yuei Vu said to little Judai earnestly, "Although duels are often happy, they are not always so. Sometimes duels are also a burden, a pain, and there may be times when you have to win for yourself and your teammates."

Little Judai's innocent eyes were filled with doubts: "Will a duel be painful?"

"Yes. Heroes are not only handsome, but they also have. Forget it, it's too early to tell you this." Yuei Vu rubbed his little head, "Think about it, if you know the opponent's deck and have cards that can bring an easy victory, but you don't use them in the duel. Is this considered going easy?"

Uh, it seems so, right?

"That's right, going easy in a duel is a taboo. Not only is it irresponsible to yourself, it is also disrespectful to the other party." Yuei Vu said seriously.

The history of GX was bound to deviate greatly from the original work. Yuei Vu was not sure whether Judai's teammates would become his load like in the original work. The burden of the mighty turned a nice sunny boy into an autistic one.

So no matter what, he hoped that Judai could always be prepared.

Oh, I seem to understand. Judai was confused, but he still remembered everything his teacher said.

One System Down was placed on the field, and the majestic Cyber End Dragon's system was directly shut down. Even the three Cyber Dragons in Marufuji Ryo's graveyard were not spared. They were all affected by the System Down and were banished from the game.

The "De-Fusion" that was set had no meaning. Even if he canceled Cyber End Dragon's fusion, the three Cyber Dragons that returned to the field would also be eliminated by the power of "System Down".

Asuka was shocked: "Are you kidding me? With just one card, all the bright Cyber Dragons are defeated"

Sho was even more shocked and speechless.

However, Marufuji Ryo quickly recovered from his shock. Instead of feeling trapped, he nodded slightly: "One card can determine the outcome. As expected of you, you are truly terrifyingly powerful."

The praise made Judai scratch his head in embarrassment: "Oh, it's nothing."

The duel continued. Judai expressed courtesy here, and he also performed a 502 trick in front of Marufuji Ryo. He started by directly playing one Polymerization and the model worker couple, and once again jumped out of his favorite Flame Wingman. Without wasting time to monologue, he immediately declared a direct attack.

Fortunately, Marufuji Ryo kept this "De-Fusion". Here he activated the De-Fusion in time and released the fusion of the Flame Wingman. He summoned the "Avian" and "Burstinatrix" as fusion materials back to Judai's field in defense position, thus he was able to survive this turn of attacks.

There was no monster that can continue to attack in Judai, so he set two cards and ended the turn.

Marufuji Ryo took a deep breath.

There was one last card in his hand.

This card he drew next would be very important.

But he has a calm mind. Even in this absolutely unfavorable situation, his confidence has not wavered.

This was the confidence he gained after years of practicing Cyber style.

As long as you believe in your deck, the deck will definitely respond!

Draw!

YaDaZe (successful)!

What Marufuji Ryo drew was the Quick-Play Spell "Cyberload Fusion"!

Cyberload Fusion: Fusion Summon 1 Fusion Monster from your Extra Deck that lists a "Cyber Dragon" monster as material, by shuffling the Fusion Materials listed on it into the Deck, from among your cards on the field and/or your face-up banished cards, but monsters you control cannot attack for the rest of this turn, except that Fusion Summoned monster.

A Spell Card that allowed the Cyber Dragon to fuse in the banished area!

The only three Cyber Dragons in his deck were all banished from the game, and at this critical moment, a card draw that determined victory or defeat, he happened to accurately draw this card from the remaining thirty-four cards in the deck. It was so accurate that it looked like he just printed on the spot.

Is this a coincidence?

Of course it's not a coincidence! This is proof of being a strong person and is a must for a true duelist!

Then Ryo was naturally ready to launch it directly

Open the set card! A set card in the back row of Judai flipped over in the flash of lightning during the Draw Phase, Counter Trap Drastic Drop Off!

When the opponent adds a card from their Deck to their hand, including drawing: They must discard 1 of those cards! "

Nani! ?

Marufuji Ryo was shocked.

He looked at Judai in astonishment.

Has he actually considered blocking the opponent's only possibility of a comeback?

After Marufuji Ryo figured this out, he seemed to suddenly realize something.

Believe in the strength of the opponent, believe that the opponent has the power to draw a reversal card in a desperate situation, and predict and block this possibility. Isn't this a sign of respect for the opponent?

Respect your opponent, this was the most important thing Ryo's mentor Samejima taught him, and it was also Ryo's consistent style of dueling.

At this moment, seeing Judai's duel and feeling the pressure of having all his actions predicted and all paths blocked, Marufuji Ryo couldn't help but sigh with emotion.

I am not as good as him!

Ryo closed his eyes and with a calm smile abandoned the "Cyberload Fusion" he had placed his hopes for reversal on to the graveyard, ending the turn without doing anything.

The graveyard on the field was empty, and there are no usable cards, so there was no doubt about the outcome.

Judai turned the model worker couple into attack position. Avian and Burstinatrix attacked separately and caused 2200 damage. Then he activated the Quick-Play Spell "Flash Fusion", allowing the two model workers to fuse during the Battle Phase, once again merging into his favorite hero Flame Wingman.

Judai waved his hand: "Flame Wingman, attack directly!"

Elemental HERO Flame Wingman flew high into the air and dived down like a flaming cannonball!

Perfect Kill!

Marufuji closed his eyes and accepted the blow with satisfaction.

Marufuji Ryo, LP 0

Chapter 759: Everyone Understands But Me?

Marufuji Ryo, LP 0

Although he was completely defeated, Marufuji Ryo remained very calm from beginning to end. It was as if this result was completely within his expectations and at the same time he was very satisfied.

As the Kaiser of the academy and the king respected by countless students, he was not frustrated at all by this powerless defeat.

He might even have benefited from it, seeing a whole new horizon through the duel.

Marufuji Sho was dumbfounded for a long time, finding it difficult to accept the reality: "Brother actually lost?"

The brother he admired the most in his heart and respected him almost like a god actually lost?

Asuka seemed equally surprised by the result: "Ryo lost?"

The girl looked at the jellyfish-headed boy with a more complicated expression.

Yuki Judai how strong is he?

The elite professor of the academy, Chronos, was defeated by him. Now even Kaiser, who was known as the strongest in the academy, has been defeated and it was a Perfect Kill

And he is still a first-year student!

Isn't this the rhythm of running towards the Duel King from now on?

Judai, on the other hand, had no consciousness of being worshiped, but followed the usual routine: "Gotcha! That was a fun Duel!"

Marufuji Ryo also smiled and said without any rebuttal: "Yes, it was a fun Duel."

After a pause, he said seriously: "Respect the opponent's dueling skill, consider all the opponent's possibilities and fight back. This is the duel style I have always implemented.

But Judai, today you once again showed me what there is always someone better' means. You made me see my own insignificance and made me understand that I cannot be satisfied with the success I got in this academy.

I have to thank you for this, Judai, you let me see more possibilities for my future. "

Judai:"?"

Respectpossibility better and so onwhat do you mean?

Judai blinked blankly.

What Marufuji Ryo said was a bit too much information for his brain capacity, and he couldn't understand it

As for what Ryo said about respecting the opponent's duel and blocking the possibilities Judai never thought about it at all.

It's just that Yuei Vu taught him, "It is more important to interrupt the opponent's actions than to be immersed in your own combo."

It was precise because he remembered Yuei Vu's teachings because Judai's brain was not very good, so he mainly remembered it with his body after countless experiences of being pitted, that's why he brought so many cards with unknown meanings in the deck.

The next thing was simple, he just needed to draw the most suitable card at the right time

This part was obviously not difficult.

After listening to his brother's words, Marufuji Sho's body felt like he was struck by lightning, and he suddenly had an epiphany.

Correct! Brother's duel has always been a duel based on respect for the opponent!

But in comparison, he, Marufuji Sho, always gets carried away easily. When playing cards, he always subconsciously regards his opponent as a fool, completely ignoring the possibility that the opponent may launch a counterattack

My brother wanted him to notice this before engaging in this duel!

That must be it!

"I understand, brother!" Marufuji Sho's eyes became firm, "I won't let you down again!"

Judai:"??"

What do you know again? Why don't I understand anything?

Asuka frowned and thought hard for a long time. When she heard Ryo say the word "there is always someone better", her brows suddenly relaxed and she thought about something.

One of the words that Kaiser has often said in the academy in the past few years was "There is always someone better."

Whenever someone complimented him on how powerful he was, or even deified him as an unparalleled duelist, he would modestly decline, saying that there was someone out there, at least he knew that there was a junior who was much better than him.

In the past two years, he has never mentioned that junior fellow student's name to anyone. Therefore, this junior student has always been something like a campus legend in the academy. Everyone knows about him, but no one knows who he is.

Combined with the fact that Marufuji Ryo and Judai seemed to have known each other a long time ago, Ryo's attitude towards Judai, and his respect and admiration for his strength, Asuka felt as if she had discovered an incredible fact

Yuki Judai may be the legendary junior student!

The girl's eyes suddenly looked different when she looked at Judai.

Before she entered school, she had heard rumors about the "legendary junior student". Unexpectedly, she was so far away and right in front of her. This legend had always been by her side!

If in the past she had suspected that Marufuji Ryo's praise of that junior was exaggerated, she no longer felt it at all now.

Because in her opinion, Yuki Judai was indeed such an excellent duelist!

Asuka looked at Judai, curled her lips, and smiled.

She was not the kind of girl who gossiped. On the contrary, she could be very tight-lipped when needed.

One is to avoid causing trouble to Judai's campus life. At the same time, it was also because she was the only one who knew his secret, which made the girl feel a little proud.

"I see." Asuka smiled and winked at Marufuji, "I understand."

Judai:"???"

What do you understand again?

What do you all know? Why do I seem to be the only one who doesn't understand anything?

"I will become stronger, Judai." Ryo patted his shoulder before leaving, "Looking forward to our next duel. Sooner or later, I will surpass you, Judai."

Judai came to his senses.

Although Judai couldn't understand what they said just now about them being like the Riddler, he quickly forgot about it. After all, to Judai, nothing matters more than playing cards.

"Okay, I'm also looking forward to our next duel!" Judai waved happily.

Yuei Vu sat in his room, watched the duel through the island's surveillance system, and couldn't help but nod slightly.

Good children can be taught. My disciple is worthy of being the Supreme King reborn, and this game of cards has the charm of this teacher.

The "System Down" is like a stroke of genius, and the last shot completed by "Drastic Drop Off" is the finishing touch

At this moment, Chika had just finished taking a bath. She had wet silver hair and was wearing a light yellow nightgown. There was a faint fragrance when she entered the door.

She leaned on Yuei Vu's shoulder and looked at the screen, instantly alert: "Who is this girl?"

At this moment, the surveillance screen showed Judai and the others just breaking up after finishing their card game, and it happened to be Asuka on the screen.

"This is a first-year student." Yuei Vu said.

Oh, students. Chika breathed a sigh of relief, but then her breath stagnated again.

Wait, a first-year student, doesn't that mean she's only fifteen years old?

Chika glanced at Asuka's SIZE on the screen, then looked down at her small airport

The tragic story of A cup.JPG.

Chika pouted, turned away and walked away.

Yuei Vu: "?"

What stimulated you again?

Alas, women are so confusing.

If only they could write their thoughts clearly on their faces like a card effect

Chapter 760: Legendary Duelists

Gray fog filled the sea. A small boat broke through the fog and rode the undulating waves.

The wooden boat docked steadily on the shore. Two figures, one red and one green, flew out. The two figures flew across the sea, like the legendary light kung fu masters who tread water without leaving a trace. One left and one right crossed and landed. on the ground on the shore.

They were two bald men dressed in retro style, with the words "Mei" and "Ky" written on their foreheads respectively. The two bald heads leaned together and struck a handsome pose, with sweet and confident smiles on their faces.

"We are the wandering guardians." The one who spoke was the bald man with the word "Mei" written on his head.

"Labyrinth Brothers!" replied the bald man with the word "Ky" written on his head.

The two of them took a wrong step, walked in a special direction, and crossed their arms in an even weirder pose.

"As long as we brothers work together!"

"There's no door we can't guard!"

The loud voice echoed on the empty beach, and the white waves crashed hard on the beach. A gust of cold wind blew through the dense woods, and a crab slowly passed by on the beach as if it glanced at the two posing bastards as it passed by.

The air was filled with the unique humidity of the seaside and the smell of embarrassment.

"Ahem."

After posing, the bald man named "Mei" coughed: "You are in good spirits, partner."

"You are the one, eldest brother." Ky also started exchanging commercial blows, "If you maintain this state, any opponent can be defeated easily, right?"

The two looked at each other and laughed.

The Labyrinth Brothers were now among the "Legendary Duelists" and were also star-level bosses to newcomers in the dueling world.

Although these two brothers did not have a bunch of dazzling trophies and titles, they only needed such a simple line in their bare resumes to make anyone awe and make them into legends

They once fought against the legendary duel king Muto Yugi!

Well, that's right, "fought against", not "won against".

These two were hired by Pegasus to deal with Muto Yugi when they were in the Duelist Kingdom and they even played according to their own rules at that time.

At that time, Yugi and Jonouchi, who were still a novice duel player, fought against them in a Tag Team match, but they still lost.

Although the commission failed for the Labyrinth Brothers, judging from the results, they may still have made a profit. Because they lost a game of cards, a few years later, this actually became their capital to brag and gain a foothold.

Wherever they go, they would proudly hold their heads high, point to their noses and say, "I was beaten by Yugi Muto." Then everyone in the audience would stand in awe, and suddenly feel that these two are great people.

They reached the pinnacle of their careers with just this one failed record, as if they were both an indispensable part of Duel King Muto Yugi's path to becoming a god.

It's like the anonymous Mr. Kakuzu next door, who threw a shuriken at the First Hokage from eight hundred miles away, and then ran for his life for three days. After that, he was bragging about it for the rest of his life.

After laughing, the two began to look around.

"Brother, did we land at the wrong place?" Ky looked around, "I didn't see the school."

Mei looked around and found that it seemed to be true. There was nothing around except trees and water.

The island where Duel Academy was located was quite large, and unfamiliar people could easily get lost if they boarded the wrong location.

"Let's go deeper first and take a look," Mei said.

"Good idea."

"President, this is your list."

On the tree-lined path behind the academy, Coke Sprite sent a screenshot to the one next to her while walking.

President Sandbag took the list, glanced at it roughly, and raised his eyebrows.

"So much?"

What he was holding in his hand was the list of all the "Cyber Angel"-related support cards and animation-exclusive cards from Yuei Vu, including series represented by "Ice Queen", "Blizzard Princess", etc. in the manga, and others. Many general support cards were well-compatible with the above deck series.

All of them were cards related to Coke Sprites new student, Tenjoin Asuka.

In Yuei Vu's first test of recruiting mentors, the Knights of Hanoi Guild may have benefited the most.

If all current players in Link World are used as the base, the probability of being randomly selected as the first batch of test instructors was almost the same as winning the lottery.

And there were actually two mentors in their Guild!

Moreover, the two tutors selected students with UR rarity!

These two students, Sakura and Asuka, were simply the daughters of President Sandbag these days, and they were also the kind of apples that "hold it in your mouth for fear of melting, and hold it in your hand for fear of falling."

Just A Sandbag was always a tycoon who loved to show off. Needless to say, if he got this opportunity this time, he would show off until death!

When they were drinking and celebrating that night, President Sandbag was so excited that he waved his hand and said that if they wanted to teach the students, they must teach them the best!

Immediately after that, he arranged for his younger brother to go to Yuei Vu's store to compile a list of special cards and even general-purpose cards that their two students could use, and he would buy as many as they could!

However, President Sandbag not only underestimated the current crystal exchange rate in this game, but also underestimated the thickness of Yuei Vu's card pool, and even underestimated the price

As a card game that has broken all previous online game models and has a serious shortage of accounts, the price of crystals in Link World has risen again and again, reaching a level unmatched by any online game in history.

Even general-purpose cards were included. When all the required cards were counted, a list was made and placed in front of President Sandbag. Even such a tycoon couldn't help but feel a bit of a headache when he saw the number of the bill.

Not that he didn't have that much money. But he had to consider a real-life issue, that was, if he spent so much money to buy a bunch of data in a virtual game, would his father break his legs

"Actually, the price discounts offered by Yuei Vu-san to tutors are quite large." Coke Sprite said,
"But President, after thinking about it, it's still not cost-effective to just pay for it.

Yuei Vu-san seems to pay more attention to the improvement of students themselves. If we can help the students we guide to achieve substantial improvement and make visible progress, Yuei Vu-san will give more limited-time discounts based on the actual situation, or may even directly give away some rare cards .

"Well let's do this first."

President Sandbag was helpless.

I have already boasted, but found that I can't afford it

The two of them were chatting and walking, and suddenly they heard someone calling from behind.

"For those of you in front, I would like to ask, which direction is your academy headquarters located?"

It was just a Sandbag and Coke Sprite. I looked back and saw it at a glance

Two shiny foreheads?

Coke Sprite said "Ah" and recognized these two.

"Are you Labyrinth Brothers?"

When the two bald brothers heard this, they couldn't help but look at each other happily

Hehe, we met a little fan girl!

It seems that the legend of we two brothers has become ubiquitous in the world!

Thinking of this, the two couldn't help but do another cross-flip, crossing their arms to form a standard POSE.

Mei: "Wandering Guardian!"

Ky: "Labyrinth Brothers!"

Mei: "As long as we brothers work together!"

Ky: There's no door we can't guard!

Coke Sprite (looking at their bald heads): "Except for the forehead?"

Mei:""

Ky:""
