

I Play Yu-Gi 771

Chapter 771: Failure Is Not Allowed!

Seto Kaiba closed his eyes and withstood the blow from the Masked HERO, whose attack power was over 70,000.

The strongest Ultimate Dragon he was proud of was pierced by the hero's flying kick, and the storm tore the dragon's body into pieces. His remaining LP quickly dropped to zero, and the cold numbers silently announced his defeat.

He lost again.

The three-dimensional images disappeared one after another. Masked HERO Divine Wind folded his arms and fell back to Yuei Vu, looked at him, nodded like a comrade who had been through life and death, and then disappeared into a shadow.

The whole place fell into a brief and mysterious silence.

Immediately afterwards, there was thunderous applause.

All teachers and students stood up and applauded from the bottom of their hearts. The sounds converged into one place, like muffled thunder that was about to tear the arena apart.

This was undoubtedly a duel that would be of great benefit to the future dueling careers of all duelists present. The duel between the truly strong ones told them that the border of the duel was not just a world that they could see with their naked eyes. It turned out that there was such a possibility in this card game.

Through this duel, all of them got a glimpse of a new world. The confrontation between the two top experts showed them the tip of the iceberg of the new world but even this was a huge opportunity for them.

Yuei Vu walked up to Kaiba. Before he could speak, Kaiba snorted: "You won. Then according to the agreement, the boy will stay in the academy."

Yuei Vu knew he was talking about Judai, but he didn't care at all.

To be fair, Yuei Vu felt that even if he lost to President Kaiba, the president would not be willing to actually kick Judai out of the academy. After all, Yuki Judai from the future left a deep impression on him. It was not easy for the president to find a strong card friend, so it was impossible for him to really let Judai drop out of school.

To put it bluntly, his purpose itself was just to play cards

But there were still gains for Yuei Vu.

President Kaiba was a man who stuck to his word. Since he said that from now on, Yuei Vu would decide the affairs of the academy and he would not interfere, then he would definitely not interfere.

Although in the past, when Yuei Vu had conflicts with the president on certain decisions, he often had the final say, but after all, there was still a process of playing cards.

Although Yuei Vu has not lost so far, playing cards with the president was different from torturing passer-by NPC. It was very stamina-consuming. He felt exhausted every time after playing cards, as if his body had been hollowed out.

It's good now. From now on, the president would not ask questions at all, and he wouldn't even have to play cards. It should be a lot easier in the future.

President Kaiba seemed to have come here specifically to play cards. After the cards were played, he didn't even go through the polite process, and turned around and left without saying a word.

Principal Samejima politely asked the president to stay for dinner, but the president refused on the grounds that he had "more important business to do."

Did you come all the way to play cards when you had important business to do? It doesn't look like you are very busy

That's what he thought, but of course Principal Samejima didn't dare to say it directly. He just smiled and said that it was normal for President Kaiba to have a busy schedule and no free time

"Did you come all the way to play cards when you had important business to do? It doesn't look like you are very busy"

After hearing this, Principal Samejima suddenly became excited.

Nani, I just dare to think in my heart only, who is so ignorant that he said it directly?

He turned around and looked Oh Duel King, it's okay.

Sure enough, Kaiba only glared at Yuei Vu fiercely, snorted and said nothing.

He had lost, so he didn't have enough confidence to ridicule

Others didn't know about the president's details, but how could Yuei Vu not know?

It was indeed true to say that President Kaiba had "important business to do" every day, but the "important business" here may refer to "testing the newest version of AI Bot"

"Although I lost this time, don't think it's over." Kaiba said coldly to Yuei Vu before leaving the arena, "Wait for me, Yuei Vu ."

Yes yes yes, I'm waiting. Yuei Vu-san thought.

Anyway, it hasn't been a year or two. Every time after playing cards, the president always says one or two similar words, and Yuei Vu has become numb.

But because of this, Yuei Vu didn't realize that the president meant another matter this time.

A few minutes later, somewhere outside the arena.

"Sensei, your strength is indeed extraordinary." Manjome stood in front of Kaiba, "I have never seen anyone as powerful as"

"That's enough." Kaiba said in a cold tone, looking very unhappy, "It's just a defeat, there's nothing worth to mention."

"Yesyes." Manjome lowered his head, "But even though sensei lost this time, you only lost with the last move. Mr. Yuei Vu was just lucky ."

As soon as these words came out, Kaiba immediately glared: "What did you say!?"

Manjome quickly shut up knowingly.

"Hmph, if you lose, you lose. Don't make boring excuses!" Kaiba snorted, "If you don't even have this kind of courage, you are not worthy of being my student!"

Lucky? Yuei Vu?

Others didn't know about Yuei Vu's details, but how could Kaiba not know?

He has studied Yuei Vu for so long, and naturally understood Yuei Vu's luck attribute. He knew that Yuei Vu's luck was so bad that it's almost metaphysical. If the Duel King flipped a coin and guessed Tail, it's always Head. He could be called the opposite of a certain horse bone.

But instead of making Kaiba think it was a flaw, it actually made him appreciate Yuei Vu even more.

Kaiba couldn't stand God of Gamblers like Jonouchi. He felt that victory won by shitty luck was unconvincing.

Duelists like Yuei Vu who never leave the outcome to luck are the real strong ones!

Besides, it can be said that it was luck that Kaiba lost to Yuei Vu once, but can his six consecutive losses also be explained by luck?

Manjome's body was shocked, and he quickly changed his words: "Mr. Yuei Vu is the Duel King after all. It is normal for a man who dominates the top to lose"

"Huh!?" Kaiba seemed to be even more angry after hearing this, "You mean, you think I can't win against him?"

"No, I didn't mean that"

Manjome felt a pain in his heart.

Sensei is not happy if I said he is better than Yuei Vu, and he's even less happy if I said he is not as good as Yuei Vu. So what does Sensei want to hear?

Fortunately, Kaiba didn't dwell on this topic any further.

"According to the college's practice, the league match with Northern College should be coming soon." Kaiba said calmly.

Manjome quickly paid attention: "Northern College? Is the other party very strong?"

"Hmph, compared to our main team, they are all inferior duelists." Kaiba snorted, then solemnly said, "But the focus you need to focus on is not the league itself, but getting the qualifications to compete.

The Duel Academy will only select one student to represent the competition, which means"

Manjome quickly responded: "Teacher, you mean, I want to win the championship in the school selection I want to defeat that Yuki Judai in the selection?"

"That's right." Kaiba said coldly, "I have already said that this is your biggest goal at this stage, and it is the opponent you must defeat no matter what."

Manjome reacted quickly.

He remembered that Kaiba-sensei had said that he would reveal the fact that Manjome Jun was his student when he was ready.

But that was also the time when he had to defeat his archnemesis (the one Kaiba designated for him) Yuki Judai!

It looks like that time is now.

"Don't worry, sensei!" Manjome suppressed his excitement, "I won't let you down!"

"Humph, that's natural." Kaiba said domineeringly, "Failure is not allowed!"

But sensei, you just lost

That's what he thought, but Manjome still stood at attention: "Yes, sensei!"

Chapter 772: Competition

Unsurprisingly, the duel between Yuei Vu and Seto Kaiba became the headline topic in Duel Academy for the next whole week. You could hear people talking about it almost everywhere, in the classrooms between classes, in the corridors outside the classrooms, in the noisy cafeteria, and on the tree-lined paths outside the Academy.

After this battle, the students also have a clearer understanding of the strength level of the top duelists in the world today. Those students who were originally proud and complacent and felt that they were close to the first-class masters were also forced to accept their own shortcomings.

Since that day, Manjome Jun entered a highly tense state of preparation for war.

The instruction from his master, Seto Kaiba, was also the most important mission he has received since becoming Kaiba's apprentice, which was to defeat Yuki Judai in the upcoming selection competition and win the spot to represent the academy in the exchange competition with Northern Academy.

The exchange competition itself was not a key point. It is said that Northern Academy has never won the exchange competition with the main department in the past years. The level of students there was generally not as good as that of the main department.

However, to get a place in the competition, it meant that Manjome must first defeat all other outstanding students in the department during the selection process. Naturally, it was impossible to bypass Yuki Judai in this process.

That was the opponent he had to defeat!

These days Manjome had been waking up early and working hard even harder than usual. He changed the structure over and over again, consulted and memorized a large amount of card information, and constantly searched for cards that he thought suited him from the huge card library and tried various possible combinations.

He has been dueling a lot with his junior brother these days. It was one-on-one at first, but later he felt that these so-called "top students" were too weak, so he simply let two or even three of them play together, but he was still able to win easily.

He studied all the duel videos of Yuki Judai until midnight, created special folders to classify the videos, and recorded a large number of notes about his experiences.

Sometimes when the class was about to start, he would still concentrate on studying the videos he has watched countless times on the computer, exploring the tactical patterns and ideas of Yuki Judai.

His junior brothers couldn't help but murmur in private.

Is Big Brother watching the video of Yuki Judai again?

Why is he so obsessed with that kid? I have seen he watched that guy through the window last time.

Its true to say that. Big brother wouldnt be interested in such a silly boy, right?

By chance, Manjome came out with a mug to pour coffee and looked at them with a cold face: "What are you muttering about?"

The boys were startled and quickly changed the subject gracefully. From then on, no one dared to mention it again.

Within a few days, the official notice from the Academy came down.

Eight students, including Yuki Judai, Manjome Jun, Tenjoin Asuka, Misawa Daichi, and even Marufuji Ryo, who was known as the Academys Kaiser, were all called to the conference room after school one day.

Principal Samejima and Professor Chronos have already been waiting here.

With a smile on his face, Professor Chronos told all the outstanding students present about the upcoming annual exchange duel with Northern Academy.

Oh oh oh! Judais eyes lit up, Does this mean I can fight against a very powerful guy!?

Looking at all the students present, they were all top students with excellent grades. Only Yuki Judai was the last in almost all theoretical classes. However, a certain jellyfish head didn't have any consciousness of being out of place. Whenever he heard that cards were being played, he got excited all over.

Of course, many students in the school know that this jellyfish head, despite being the tail of a crane, had an impressive record of defeating Professor Chronos in the entrance exam, and no one thought it was inappropriate for him to stand here.

There were only eight people present, and it seemed that there were only eight candidates selected by the academy. Among the candidates for this year's representatives were Judai, Manjome, Misawa Daichi, and Asuka. They occupied four places, which shows that this freshman class was extraordinary.

Chronos said that the eight of them need to compete for the only qualifying spot and compete as representatives of the academy. This weekend we plan to hold an elimination tryout.

But before the fight started, Marufuji Ryo spoke first: "I already played as the representative last year, so I won't go this year."

Arent you going to participate, Ryo? His mentor Samejima asked unexpectedly.

Hmm. Marufuji Ryo glanced at Judai from the corner of his eye, then quickly turned his eyes back to his mentor, bowed, and said, My practice is not enough, I still need more effort.

Even though his sight at that moment was so hidden that Judai himself didn't even notice it, it was caught by Manjome, who had been paying close attention.

Manjomes eyes were secretly surprised.

What does it mean?

Could it be that Marufuji Ryo, known as the Academy's Kaiser, had already been defeated by this Yuki Judai?

What a surprise, he is indeed a student of that Duel King. Although he looks silly and has no brains on the outside, his strength should not be underestimated.

Ill pass it, too. Asuka also said.

Misawa said unexpectedly: "Asuka, why are you doing this?"

"Judai and I have already fought against each other in private." Asuka didn't feel embarrassed at all and said honestly, "My strength is not enough, and I don't think it will be any different if we do it again."

As she spoke, she even thought about the stomachache she felt when her "Cyber Blader" was instantly killed by Judai's "Karma Cut"

Misawa looked at Judai with some surprise.

Even Asuka actually lost to him? And from her words, it sounded like she was completely defeated.

Is this Yuki Judai that strong?

Manjome looked at Judai with even sharper eyes.

Even so, he was confident that he would never lose and could not lose!

At this time, Judai who was the focus of attention had no idea of being the center and was even distracted.

Suddenly I really want to eat natto

After that day, Manjome only became more attentive, waking up early and cramming at night. To save time, he didn't even go to the canteen in the dormitory after class at noon. He only brought a cup of noodles with the theme of "Blue-Eyes White Dragon" from the canteen.

However, when he was eager to rush back to the dormitory to continue studying the video and studying the gameplay, he happened to hear a voice that he was very familiar with these days.

Ah~uh-huh. Marufuji Sho leaned against the river and yawned, Aniki, its time to go have dinner. I havent seen a single fish all morning.

Well, it seems so. Im just not lucky and theres nothing I can do about it.

Manjome stopped and took a closer look. When he saw Judai lying on the bank of the river with his legs crossed and holding a pair of fishing rods, he almost got angry.

I work hard from morning to night every day to prepare for the battle, but in the end, why are you just like a retired old man, doing nothing but fishing?

Chapter 773: Do You Still Need To Practice Drawing Cards?

Manjome considered himself a duel genius, and everyone around him had told him so since he was a child.

But even so, he never slacked off. Especially after meeting the legendary duelist Seto Kaiba as his mentor, he never relaxed his efforts for a day and worked ten times harder than others in learning and training.

So why can this jellyfish head who is leisurely fishing here be his opponent?

Marufuji Sho noticed him first: "Eh? Isn't that the Manjome?"

Oh, it's really him, Judai stood up and waved to him enthusiastically, Hey, Manjome, are you coming to fish too?

The word "angry" appeared directly on Manjome's forehead.

Do I look like someone who is going fishing?!

Marufuji Sho said: "How is it possible? If you go fishing, you will bring tools, right?"

Thats right, hahaha.

Manjome said with a stern face: "You guys, are you still in the mood to fish leisurely here?"

Judai yawned: "I stayed up too late last night. I want to go out and relax in the sun anyway."

Hmph, even a guy like you can still work a little harder in a pinch, right?

This made Manjome feel a little more balanced.

It turns out that he didnt play all day long. Today, he might just come out to relax after studying.

"Working hard? No." Judai and Sho looked at each other and said with a smile, "It's a new game that was just released in the past two days. Because it was so fun, I accidentally played it very late in the dormitory."

Manjome: ""

Mr. Thunder's rage gauge continued to rise.

"You guys!" His expression turned gloomy again, "The competition is coming soon, don't you feel nervous? Even if you just practice your card drawing skills"

This was a required course for Manjome every day. Although it was a bit metaphysical to say this, card drawing practice was also very important to help them maintain their feel, so that they would not be unable to draw key cards in an important duel.

However, Judai was even more confused: "Do you still need to practice drawing cards?"

That confused expression seemed to say:

Isnt this just a matter of having hands?

Is there any duelist who can't draw the card he wants? No way, right?

But Judai did not mean to be sarcastic, he was puzzled.

Since childhood, Yuei Vu-sensei never seemed to have mentioned it to him

Practice card drawing? What's so good about this?

"Hmph!" Manjome was so angry that he snorted heavily, "Yu ki Ju dai ! Just wait for me. This weekend, I will knock you down and prove to that man that I am better than you!

Although he didn't understand which song Manjome was singing, Judai was simple-minded and never got hung up on details. He automatically filtered out the question of who "that man" was and why Manjome wanted to do him, and responded directly and passionately: "Okay, I won't lose in a duel! Then we'll see you on the field!"

Manjome turned his head and walked away, his eyes becoming colder and colder. As he walked, his mind was already planning the training arrangements and tactical plans for the next few days.

However, I heard Judai's voice coming from behind me soon: By the way, Sho, let's go exploring in the back mountain in the afternoon!

Eh? But brother, don't you have to prepare for the competition?

Hey, it's the same thing if you do that kind of thing when you come back at night.

Manjome almost vomited blood on the spot.

Does this guy completely ignore me, Lord Thunder??

From Manjome's observation, Yuki Judai seemed to be in the same relaxing and unhurried state in the remaining days before the game.

He still followed his daily route such as exploring, fishing, taking naps in class, and sometimes lying on the lawn to bask in the sun. There was no sense of urgency at all.

This made Manjome angry, but he also felt more confident.

Can you win against me in this state?

In the past two days, Manjome has been following him like a ghost. After class and training, he would often peek at Yuki Judai's doings intentionally or unintentionally, and then sneer like a villain.

The junior brother next to him even once saw their eldest brother with a gloomy face in the classroom, sneering and shouting to himself "Yu ki Ju dai".

The junior brothers looked at each other, but no one dared to say a word.

This state was maintained until the knockout rounds at the weekend.

The first few turns of the knockout rounds were uneventful. Marufuji Ryo and Tenjoin Asuka both abstained, and among the remaining "top students" there were not many truly capable students.

Judai and Manjome basically had no obstacles all the way and won every match easily.

The only one that was slightly stronger was Misawa Daichi. After enrolling, he also received a lot of guidance from his mentor Yuei Cannot Escape Fae. Unfortunately, the time after school started was too short, and Fae was tight on money and could not exchange many powerful cards for him.

He only made some optimization and adjustments to the Misawa deck construction based on the original basis.

This level of adjustment was certainly not enough to deal with a divine draw master. Unfortunately, Misawa-san ran into Sunshine Boy Yuki Judai in the second round. He was knocked down by Judai before he could make any waves.

Judai and Manjome both advanced to the finals, and the two would compete for the final qualifying spot on Sunday.

At noon that day, reporters from Duel Academics school newspaper blocked the two high-profile finalists in the cafeterias of the Osisris Red and Obelisk Blue dormitories respectively.

The reporter who interviewed Manjome asked: How do you feel now?

Feeling? I've never been in better shape.

Then you are very confident about the final?

"Of course." Manjome snorted coldly, "There is only one winner in this duel, and that must be me!"

At the same time, a reporter also asked Judai the same question: "How do you feel now, Judai?"

"Huh?" Judai, who was chewing fried shrimp in his mouth, turned around and said, "Feeling? I think the fried shrimp in the Osisris Red dormitory is super delicious!"

The reporter:""

With about an hour left before the game, Judai received a text message. It was sent to him by Yuei Vu, and the content was only a short sentence.

Come to my office.

He has always been very attentive to what the teacher said. So Judai immediately put down what he was doing and rushed to Yuei Vu's office.

Yuei Vu-sensei? he greeted tentatively when he entered the door.

Yuei Vu turned around from his chair.

Is there a game to play in the afternoon?

Yeah. Judai nodded.

"How are you prepared?" Yuei Vu paused, "Although I wanted to ask this, I guess you are not very prepared, right?"

Judai scratched his head in embarrassment.

"You are not the type who is good at using your brain. There is nothing wrong with keeping a normal mind, but I still have to remind you that your opponent this time may be a little different from the classmates you have dueled with before."

"Manjome?" Judai said, "He does feel a little different, and he seems to be a very powerful guy, right?"

At this point, Judai became excited again.

Oh, the thought of being able to duel with such a guy makes my blood boil!

Yuei Vu smiled: "It's a good thing to have a fighting spirit, but don't be careless."

Dont worry, sensei, I wont lose!

Although I think you should be fine, I just want to be cautious.

Yuei Vu took out a card from under the table and passed it across the table.

Judai picked up this card and was stunned for a moment.

Nani? Wouldn't it cause dead draw something like this?

Oh wait, I dont know how to dead draw, so never mind.

But by the way, why does Yuei Vu-sensei want me to add weird things to the HERO deck?

"Take it." Yuei Vu said, "Maybe it will be useful in this duel."

Oh, if you think so, sensei.

Judai didnt ask any more questions and just silently added this card to the deck.

Chapter 774: Battle of Disciples

For the finals of the representative selection, all the teachers and students in the school who had free time gathered at the academy's duel arena. Many students rushed to the arena without even eating lunch, just to get a front-row seat with a good view.

As Judai's younger brother, Marufuji Sho was naturally extremely motivated to rush over and grab a front-row seat. To his surprise, Asuka-san came just as early and even happened to sit next to him.

"Sho, what's going on with you?" Asuka saw Sho looking like a ghost with two dark circles under his eyes. He looked as if someone had punched him on both sides even symmetrical.

"Because of my mentor." Sho looked like he was crying, "My mentor is simply a devil! He doesn't eat or sleep, he won't let me sleep! Last night, he gave me extra training until the clock turned midnight and then let me go back to sleep"

His mentor was Native Noragami. Brother Noragami was very unhappy that he was assigned to such an unlucky "UR" student. Every time his good brother Fae held his student's trumpet in front of him, he felt as if he was shorter than his friend.

Native Noragami had never been weaker than Brother Zai Jie, but the student assigned this time was not as good as Brother Fae, and his student's actual combat performance was not as good as Brother Fae's. The key was that the student's character was not even comparable. In short, his student was crushed in all aspects!

Brother Noragami, who hated failure, immediately worked overtime to formulate a training plan from hell for his students, then worked overtime to urge Marufuji Sho to study.

Poor Sho was tortured by his tutor all night long, and he felt as if his body had been hollowed out.

"That's it." Asuka expressed sympathy, "It's so pitiful."

"How about your mentor, Asuka?"

"My mentor?"

Asuka thought about Coke Sprite.

Sister Sprite and the entire Hanoi Knights guild behind her were very fond of Asuka as their apprentice. Since then, their entire guild has been working day and night, and President Sandbag has made one microtransaction after another, sparing no effort to buy cards to strengthen their precious disciple's deck.

And since the last time she witnessed her mentor's dueling skills, killing two legendary duelists in two seconds in two rounds (let's count the Labyrinth Brothers in this category), Asuka had gained a great admiration for this mentor.

In addition, Coke Sprite usually put forward a lot of optimization ideas for her deck construction and proposed many new card-playing concepts that Asuka had never heard of or thought of. Now in the mind of the girl, Coke Sprite had become an expert professor who was friendly, approachable, and very considerate of students.

The girl's respect for her mentor almost overflowed from her swollen chest.

Of course, in order not to irritate Sho, she still couldn't say this directly. So she just said: "She is okay, she is easy to talk to."

"Misawa said the same thing. Why do I feel that other mentors are so easy to talk to" Marufuji Sho was helpless, "It's over, it's over, I don't think I can survive the next three years ..

Asuka smiled bitterly: "It's not that exaggerated"

Finally, it's time for the finals.

As the finalists, Judai and Manjome entered the stage from different contestant channels on the left and right respectively.

Sho glanced past the podium and almost screamed when he saw the person sitting next to Principal Samejima.

"That's Mr. Kaiba!?"

Asuka followed his gaze and was surprised to find that it seemed to be true.

That Seto Kaiba actually came all the way to watch this duel?

But this is just the finals of the school selection! In contrast, shouldn't Mr. President be more concerned about the friendly match with Northern Academy?

Or is there something special about this duel?

The seating arrangement at the rostrum was also particularly interesting. Principal Samejima and Professor Chronos, the two actual leaders of academy affairs, sat in the middle two seats, with Yuel Vu and Kaiba sandwiching them on the left and right.

This was really hard on the principal and the professor.

Before the cards were played, the two of them felt President Kaiba's cold gaze coming from beside them, as if it was about to cut the person into pieces. It felt like an invisible steel knife was scratching coldly on their bodies.

Of course, they knew clearly that the object of President Kaiba's attention was Yuei Vu, who was sitting on the other side of them, but the pressure from a big shot like the president, even just the aftermath, was a bit overwhelming.

But the other big boss next to them acted like a normal person, acting as if he didn't notice the president's unkind gaze at all or maybe he was simply used to it.

Professor Chronos was restless, and his forehead began to sweat before the fight started. From time to time, he took out his lace handkerchief and wiped the sweat on his forehead.

At the same time, he couldn't help but admire the Duel King next to him more and more he could completely ignore the president's murderous gaze all day long. As expected, the Duel King's ability to withstand a murderous aura was extraordinary.

Kaiba still didn't tell Yuei Vu that the Obelisk Blue student on the field was his apprentice.

He will wait until Judai is defeated by Manjome in front of everyone's attention, and then reveal this fact to Yuei Vu with a victor's attitude

The one who trampled you under my feet was none other than me!

Of course, Yuei Vu already knew about the relationship between Manjome and Kaiba, and he also knew about Kaiba's thoughts. It's just that the president didn't take the initiative to say it, so he didn't mention it.

If it was exposed now, how embarrassed would the president be if Manjome lost later?

As a model employee who always considered the benefit of his boss, Yuei Vu knew what to say and what not to say.

What? What if Manjome wins?

Yuei Vu said that he generally didn't consider small probability events

Who was Judai?

He was an amalgamation of classic protagonist templates from all kinds of novels. He was the reincarnation of the "Supreme King", the most powerful lord of the dimension in ancient times, who lost all his cultivation and had to re-cultivate from the beginning. He had a "grandpa-type" golden finger named Yubel. He had a "natural card physique" with a rare talent for divine drawing since he was a child. His teacher was Yuei Vu, a modern Duel King, the top big shot of the world, who gave him step-by-step guidance

Compared to him, Manjome was just a genius with extraordinary talents and a perfect fit with the Duel Elves. How can he compete with Judai?

Yuei Vu: Besides, I have been training this clone account for six years. President, you have only been training your clone account for one or two years. Logically, you can't beat me in terms of experience and level, right?

But even though he thought so in his heart, Yuei Vu didn't say it aloud, so as not to dampen the president's enthusiasm. He thought it would be good for the president to devote more energy to guiding students, so that he would not have to think about how to find excuses to catch him playing cards when he had free time all day long

Both masters and Manjome knew the meaning behind this duel. Only Judai was ignorant and didn't know anything. He stood on the field and still smiled at Manjome: "Let's have a fun duel together, Manjome!"

"Humph."

Manjome rolled his eyes at him and did not answer.

"Duel! X2"

Judai, LP 4000

[Manjome, LP 4000]

Chapter 775: Fivefold Combination!

"I'll go first, draw!" Manjome was full of momentum, "Activate the Continuous Spell Different Dimension Hangar! Remove from play 3 Level 4 or lower Union Monsters from my Deck! (anime card)"

Different Dimension Hangar, the "VWXYZ" deck-specific support card used by Manjome in the original animation, was modified by Consortium K many years later and turned into "Union Hangar".

Three cards popped up quickly from the Manjome deck.

"I remove Y-Dragon Head', Z-Metal Tank' and W-Wing Catapult' from the game!"

The five-fold mechanical combination from President Kaiba's rare deck series "VWXYZ" has been used by Kaiba many times in DM, and in the GX era it became one of the most popular ace series.

The red, gold and blue mechanical monster was absorbed into the black vortex that opened in mid-air, as if it was being contained in a temporary arsenal.

"Then I normally summon X-Head Cannon!"

[X-Head Cannon, ATK 1800]

"At this moment, the effect of the Continuous Spell Different Dimension Hangar' is activated!" Manjome said, "When a monster written in the card text of a Union Monster removed by its effect is Normal or Special Summoned to my side of the field, I can Special Summon that Union Monster!"

Manjome revealed two monster cards in the exclusion zone in one go.

The Y-Dragon Head and Z-Metal Tank cards that have been banished from the game both have the name X-Head Cannon written on them, so I special summoned both of these monsters!

[Y-Dragon Head, ATK 1500]

[Z-Metal Tank, ATK 1500]

With just two cards, Manjome already gathered the three components corresponding to X, Y, and Z at the same time!

Then I removed X-Head Cannon, Y-Dragon Head, and Z-Metal Tank from the game! Manjome shouted, Combine!

The machine which use the strongest firepower to suppress the enemy

'XYZ-Dragon Cannon!' "

The three machines began to deform and disintegrate at the same time. The metal crawler tracks served as a strong and stable base, and the deformed Y-Dragon Head was placed in the center. The head cannon, as the top, has his lower body embedded in the back of the faucet, and the parts interlock with each other to fit together perfectly.

[XYZ-Dragon Cannon, ATK 2800]

Many students couldn't help but exclaimed.

"XYZ-Dragon Cannon isn't it President Kaiba Seto's main monster?" Marufuji Sho was shocked, "Did he actually summon it in the first turn?"

Kaiba sat in his seat with his arms folded, a slight smile of approval appearing on his cold face.

Hum , so-so.

"Set a card, I end my turn." Manjome said.

"Oh oh oh, Manjome, you are so awesome!" Judai was excited, "You summoned such a strong and handsome monster in the first turn!"

"It's Manjome Thunder." Manjome said with a cold face, "Stop talking nonsense and draw cards quickly. No matter what tactics you use, I will defeat you!"

"Hehe, then I'm not polite." Judai smiled, "My turn, draw! First, I activate the Spell Card Graceful Charity! Draw 3 cards, then discard 2 cards.

Judai glanced at the majestic dragon cannon in Manjome's field and thought quickly.

The attack power of 2800 was considered high in the entire HERO series, and it was indeed powerful.

But he didn't have to defeat the monster.

"I summon the Elemental HERO Bubbleman'!"

[Elemental HERO Bubbleman, ATK 800]

"When Bubbleman is summoned successfully, if I have no other cards on the field, draw two cards from the deck." Judai said, "Activate Spell Card Polymerization! I fuse Elemental HERO Bubbleman' and the Elemental HERO Avian' in my hand!

Fusion Summon! Elemental HERO Mariner! "

[Elemental HERO Mariner, ATK 1400]

Sho in the audience felt strange: "A Fusion hero with only 1400 attack power?"

"Set a card onto the field." Judai said, "The effect of Mariner when there is a Set card in my Spell & Trap Zone, this card can directly attack the opponent player!"

"Nani?" Manjome's pupils shrank, "Are you going to bypass the Dragon Cannon and attack directly?"

"Mariner, direct attack!" Judai had already ordered.

The Elemental HERO jumped on the rapids, just like riding the wind and waves. The heavy anchor dragged the steel chain and shot through the air, and the three-dimensional image penetrated Manjome's chest from the front.

[Manjome, LP 4000 LP 2600]

"Very good!" Judai clenched his fist, "Then I end my turn."

Looking at the Set card in the back row of Judai, Manjome suddenly realized something.

This guy isn't going to rely on Mariner to continuously attack directly and then interrupt his movements through the pit in the Spell & Trap Zone, right?

Many viewers have also become aware of this tactic.

Misawa Daichi muttered: "Use various traps to neutralize the opponent's attacks, and even prevent the opponent from successfully summoning monsters at all, and then use Mariner to continuously attack directly to cause damage.

With an attack power of 1400, Judai wins as long as he hits three shots. What a terrible tactic."

Or "nether" might be more appropriate.

Faced with such an arrangement, you could only watch helplessly as the monsters you summoned were flipped face-down, destroyed or even banished, and you were completely unable to organize an effective attack. The opponent would steadily cut you 1400 LP every turn. The damage was not high but it drove people crazy

Kaiba glared at Yuei Vu fiercely.

YueiVu! As a Duel King, you actually taught your students such insidious tactics!

However, Yuei Vu didn't take it seriously at all, and even thought Judai did a great job.

He believed that if another first-generation Duel King Muto Yugi himself were here, he would probably give Judai a thumbs up for his tactics

"I see, you want to defeat me through continuous direct attacks?" Manjome sneered, "That's too underestimated of me! My turn, draw!

I summon V-Tiger Jet! "

[V-Tiger Jet, ATK 1600]

"At this moment, the effect of the Continuous Spell Different Dimension Hangar' will special summon W-Wing Catapult!"

[W-Wing Catapult, ATK 1300]

"I removed V-Tiger Jet and W-Wing Catapult from the game and combined them!" Manjome shouted, "Show up, VW-Tiger Catapult!"

The deformed combination of the Tiger Jet and the Wing Catapult fit together one up and one down, and quickly assembled into a brand new powerful assault aircraft!

[VW-Tiger Catapult, ATK 2000]

"It's not over yet! I will banish the combined monsters XYZ-Dragon Cannon' and VW-Tiger Catapult' from the game, and make them combine again!"

Manjome raised his arms high.

"The super weapon with the strongest firepower, the ultimate combination of five machines VWXYZ-Dragon Catapult Cannon! ! ! "

Electricity burst out, and countless electric snakes entangled and intertwined. The Dragon Cannon became the main body. The rotating tracks separated towards the sides and turned into hands. Y-Dragon Head's body was pushed to the back and the red metal bone wings unfolded. X Head Cannon still acted as the head, and two black, elongated cannon barrels poked forward.

The final combination of the machines transformed into a metal giant that towered over the sky, its steel feet causing the ground to collapse!

[VWXYZ-Dragon Catapult Cannon, ATK 3000]

Chapter 776: Transcendent Wings

VWXYZ-Dragon Catapult Cannon was summoned!

Judai raised his head and looked at the giant Gundam-like robot in front of him. His eyes couldn't help but shine: "Soso handsome! Do you actually have such a powerful monster, Manjome?"

"Thunder." Manjome added again for Judai, then hummed and smiled, "Of course, to this extent"

Manjome felt happy for a few seconds at being praised, and then quickly came back to his senses.

Wrong! Now is the fateful battle between my and him, this is not the time to be complacent!

"Shut up!" Manjome snorted and shouted, "The effect of VWXYZ-Dragon Catapult Cannon is activated! Once per turn, banish 1 card on the opponent's field!"

"Such a powerful effect!?" But Judai waved his hand, "Then open the set card: Trap Card Paleozoic Canadia! Target 1 face-up monster the opponent controls; change it to face-down Defense Position!"

"Sure enough, this is such a tactic!" Misawa-san in the audience was proud of his professional commentary hit. "Use various traps that Judai is good at to interfere with all the opponent's actions, and then rely on Mariner's direct attack ability to inflict fatal damage!"

"Hmph, I've seen through this level of tactics a long time ago!" Manjome sneered twice and waved his hand.

"Look at it, Judai! This is the card that will bring you despair

The Continuous Trap Royal Decree! "

The set card in front of Manjome slowly opened.

"As long as this trap exists, the effects of all other trap cards on the field will be negated!"

"Eh?" Judai was a little dazed, "Are all the traps unusable?"

The activation of Paleozoic Canadia failed, and the trap card was crushed to pieces under invisible pressure.

Yuei Vu couldn't help but glance sideways at Kaiba.

Okay, President, how come you, with such thick eyebrows and big eyes, have learned how to play anti-meta?

Otherwise, why would Manjome specifically stuff such a thing to disgust our Judai's Justice Nether HERO deck?

"So the activation of the Paleozoic Canadia' fails, and VWXYZ will not be flipped." Manjome shouted, "The effect of the Dragon Catapult Cannon continues to activate! Once per turn, banish 1 card on the opponent's field!

Remove Elemental HERO Mariner' from the game! "

The giant robot slowly raised its arm, and along with the golden light came a dimension-breaking bombardment! Mariner was hit from the front, and his armor was shattered by the strong impact. He was blasted out of the dimension along with the flow of light and quickly disappeared from the field.

"Then there's a direct attack from the Dragon Catapult Cannon!"

All the gun barrels of the robot fell down and fired all the bullets! Dazzling firelight, heavy projectiles, missiles all over the sky mixed with energy beams, multicolored heavy artillery poured down on Judai, and the explosion of fire was like gorgeous fireworks.

[Judai, LP 4000 LP 1000]

"Humph, that's all." Manjome chuckled triumphantly, feeling as if he had seen the dawn of victory, "Then I end my turn."

Kaiba was equally satisfied with his student's performance.

Huh, did you see it? YueiVu!

Sure enough, I am stronger!

Although there was an urge to tell Yuei Vu the truth immediately and ridicule him, the president still relied on his good endurance to suppress this urge.

After all, I have been holding back for so long, so I can wait for a few more minutes. I am not in a hurry.

The president had automatically imagined Yuei Vu's shocked expression when he saw his student defeated and heard that Manjome was the president's apprentice.

I have been suppressed by the hateful YueiVu for so long, and the day has finally come for me to turn over. It makes me happy just thinking about it!

Yuei Vu continued to remain calm, dutifully pretending that he knew nothing.

To avoid embarrassment to the president after the duel was over later

"Huh~ It's going to be bad if this continues."

Although he said this, Judai still couldn't seem to be nervous at all. Instead, he was even more excited to try.

"Then it's my turn, draw!

I'll activate this card

Spell Card Miracle Fusion! "

Two cards pop up in Judai's duel disk graveyard.

"Banish the Elemental HERO Clayman' that was discarded last turn, and the Elemental HERO Avian' from the graveyard, and fuse them!

The fusion condition is 1 Elemental HERO' monster + 1 EARTH monster! Fusion Summon!

Roar, Elemental HERO Gaia! "

The ground shattered, the earth cracked, and the hero wrapped in pitch-black armor crashed to the ground, his figure like a steel fortress!

[Elemental HERO Gaia, ATK 2200]

"The effect of Gaia!" Judai said, "When this card is Fusion Summoned: Target 1 face-up monster the opponent controls; until the End Phase, its ATK is halved and this card gains the same amount of ATK! Gaia Shock!"

[VWXYZ-Dragon Catapult Cannon, ATK 3000 ATK 1500]

[Elemental HERO Gaia, ATK 2200 ATK 3700]

Judai waved his hand, "Gaia, attack and destroy the Dragon Catapult Cannon!"

The hero struck hard, and the steel fortress seemed to roar like heavy metal. The black iron fist smashed the shell of the machine into pieces, the barrel broke in half, and the giant fell to the ground with a crash.

[Manjome, LP 2600 LP 400]

"Succeeded!" Judai clenched his fist, "Okay! It's just a little bit"

"Not bad." Manjome snorted, "After all, this is Duel King's HERO' series. Even if the trap is blocked, the combat power of the hero itself cannot be ignored"

Judai continued: "I set three cards on the field, and then activate the Continuous Spell Mirage of Nightmare! During the opponent's Standby Phase, this card allows me to draw cards until I have 4 cards in my hand, but during my Standby Phase, I must randomly discard to the Graveyard the same number of cards I drew with this card's effect.

I end my turn. At this moment, Gaia's attack power will return to its original state! "

[Elemental HERO Gaia, ATK 3700 ATK 2200]

Manjome glanced at set card in the Spell & Trap Zone with disdain.

No matter how many cards you hide, its meaningless! As long as there is "Royal Decree", all the traps you used are a pile of waste paper!

"My turn!"

"At this moment, the Mirage of Nightmare' effect is activated," Judai said, "I draw four cards!"

Manjome glanced at the drawn card and his eyes flashed.

Very good, this card allows him to immediately seize the opportunity to counterattack!

"Equip Spell Dimensional Catapult!" Manjome shouted, "Special Summon 1 VWXYZ-Dragon Catapult Cannon' in my graveyard, ignoring the summoning conditions, and equip it with this card!

Resurrect, Dragon Catapult Cannon! (animation card)

The steel giant broke out of the whirlpool of the underworld and landed on the ground steadily. A golden heavy cannon was assembled on its arm, ready to go.

[VWXYZ-Dragon Catapult Cannon, ATK 3000]

"Eh? Did it finally come back to life after being defeated?" Judai muttered.

"The effect of the Dragon Catapult Cannon' resurrected by this effect will be negated." Manjome hummed, "Then let's fight directly! Dragon Catapult Cannon, attack the Elemental HERO Gaia!"

As if energy from outside the dimension converged on the body of the giant machine, countless golden particles slowly swirled into a golden vortex, gathering at the muzzle of the dimensional heavy cannon!

"This moment!" Judai waved his hand, "Open the set card!"

"Muda (Useless)!" Manjome said quickly as if he was afraid of the jellyfish's mouth, "The Royal Decree' is here, and any trap will be ineffective"

"I know, so what I want to activate is not a trap, but the Quick-Play Spell The Flute of Summoning Kuriboh!" Judai shouted, "Special summon 1 Winged Kuriboh' from the deck!"

The little guy flapped his white wings and obeyed the call and landed lightly on the field, shouting "Kuri Kuri" while jumping up and down.

[Winged Kuriboh, DEF 200]

"Hahahaha! I don't know why you called this kind of fish monster, but it will directly lead to your defeat, Ju dai!" Manjome laughed, "Another effect of the Dimensional Catapult' When the VWXYZ-Dragon Catapult Cannon' equipped with this card attacks, it can inflict piercing damage!

Because you summoned a monster during the battle step, a Battle Replay occurred. So I want to change the target of attack

Go, Dragon Catapult Cannon, attack the Winged Kuriboh! "

If this blow passes, it is reasonable to say that it will cause 2800 damage. My opponent has only 1000 LP left, he will be defeated on the spot!

But Judai actually smiled.

Manjome: "!"

Only then did he realize that his desire for victory had made him a little too complacent and ignored the possible risks.

Could it be that this is actually a trap?

"Open the set card!" Judai raised his hand, "Quick-Play Spell Transcendent Wings! Send 1 Winged Kuriboh' I control and 2 cards from my hand to the GY, and special summon it from the deck

Winged Kuriboh LV10! ! ! "

The shining light of evolution, the wings behind Winged Kuriboh are growing rapidly surrounded by golden light! The sacred light enveloped the whole place, and what was born from that light seemed to be some kind of superior existence that people dared not look directly at.

Catalyzed by evolutionary magic, the potential of the Winged Kuriboh is developed and its power is released! The white wings spread out, and the soft and irresistible white light was like a rolling river, even the thunder blasted by the dimensional destruction cannon was swallowed up!

"What is this!?" Manjome was shocked, "Can this kind of monster still evolve!?"

"The effect of Winged Kuriboh LV10 During the opponent's Battle Phase: I can Tribute this face-up card; destroy as many Attack Position monsters the opponent controls as possible!" Judai said, "After that, inflict damage to the opponent equal to the total attack power of all monsters destroyed!"

"Nani!?" Manjome was shocked.

[VWXYZ-Dragon Catapult Cannon, ATK 3000]

[Manjome, LP 400]

The sacred white light scattered the machine into countless parts, just like gravel and sawdust being washed away along the waterfall, and soon the ten thousand-foot-long figure disappeared in the dazzling light.

Winged Kuribohs ultimate counterattack!

Chapter 777: Best Match!

Winged Kuriboh LV10 disappeared, and its glory gradually dissipated from the field. The vast field was swept away into an empty space, leaving not even a single wreckage of the invincible VWXYZ fusion machine.

However

Manjome, LP 1400

Judai was surprised: "Hey~ Manjome, you are so strong! Even such a strike cannot defeat you"

Manjome took a breath, and a spell card appeared on his field.

Quick-Play Spell Emergency Provisions! Send any number of other Spell/Trap Cards I control to the Graveyard; gain 1000 LP for each card sent to the Graveyard this way.

"Oh, so you sent the Royal Decree', Dimensional Catapult', Different Dimension Hangar', and another set card to the graveyard to recover 4000 LP. That's why you are unscathed." Judai understood, and then he was full of admiration, "As expected of Manjome, you are really amazing!"

Huh, of course. By the way, its Thunder.

Manjome smiled triumphantly for a few seconds, and then quickly recovered.

No, be serious!

The duel I'm fighting right now is the one that will determine my future fate!

He gave Judai a vicious look.

He is really a dangerous guy. On the surface, he looks harmless, innocent, and stupid, but if I'm careless, my attention will be taken away by him.

At this time, Seto Kaiba had a very ugly expression when he saw his student's incomparably powerful "VWXYZ- Dragon Catapult Cannon" being instantly killed by a mere Winged Kuriboh.

Kuriboh, it's Kuriboh again!

Not only did it pit him for the rest of his life, but now it also pitted his disciple?!

Noticing that President Kaiba looked unkind, Yuei Vu coughed and pretended to mention casually to Professor Chronos next to him: "Speaking of which, Judai's Winged Kuriboh' was given to him by Muto Yugi."

Professor Chronos was so shocked that he almost jumped up: "Mamma Mia! Do you mean the Muto Yugi I'm thinking about?"

Yuei Vu smiled: "Who else could it be?"

Mamma Mia! Chronos repeated again.

He is not only the direct disciple of Duel King Yuei Vu, but also has special care from another Duel King Muto Yugi?!

Why is this student named Yuki Judai so special? What kind of talent is needed to win the favor of two first-generation duel kings at the same time?

When President Kaiba heard this, veins popped out in his clenched fists.

Damn it! Its actually Yugi's card!

This Seto Kaiba was targeted by both Yuei Vu and Yu gi at the same time?!

The president was very angry, but he didnt say anything.

But to think about it differently, doesnt it mean that as long as Manjome wins this duel, it means that Yuei Vu and Yu gi will be pushed below me together?

He crossed his arms and looked at Majome on the stage, his gaze only became sharper.

This duel must be won!

Even though he didnt know what was happening on the other side of the rostrum, he could still feel the mentors gaze that was almost filled with murderous intent, and he felt a sudden increase in pressure.

Although the Dragon Catapult Cannon was knocked down, I have not made a normal summon this turn. He said, I summoned the Eclipse Wyvern to be in Defense Position, and then set two cards. I end my turn.

Eclipse Wyvern, DEF 1000

Then its my turn! Judai geared up.

At this moment, you will have to discard the cards in your hand due to the side effects of Mirage of Nightmare. Manjome reminded.

"I know." Judai smiled, "So I also activated the Quick-Play Spell Emergency Provisions! Send the Mirage of Nightmare' to the graveyard and restore 1000 LP."

Judai, LP 1000LP 2000

Manjome was unhappy: "Hey, is it the same type of spell as me?"

Spell Card Spell Books from the Pot, both players can draw three cards from the deck!

His eyes quickly scanned the cards he drew, and then he immediately took out two of the cards in his hand.

Spell Card Polymerization! I fuse Elemental HERO Liquid Soldier in the hand and Elemental HERO Gaia on the field!

The frozen hero who appeared in the freezing abyss

Elemental HERO Absolute Zero! ! ! "

A storm of ice and snow fell from the sky. The hero in plain white armor was surrounded by snowflakes flying in the sky, and slowly fell down with his arms raised.

Elemental HERO Absolute Zero, ATK 2500

Seeing Judai summoning the eldest brother of Elemental HERO for the first time, many students exclaimed in surprise.

Absolute Zero! Is it a super rare card?

I heard that only Principal Yuei Vu has this card, right?

This first-year student had a great background!

When Liquid Soldier is used as Fusion Material for a HERO' monster, and sent to the GY or banished: I can draw 2 cards, then discard 1 card. Judai raised his voice, Battle! Elemental HERO Absolute Zero, attack the Eclipse Wyvern! "

The eldest brother sprinted in a straight line, and countless ice picks roared out in a sharp storm, instantly cutting the Eclipse Wyvern's body into riddled with holes!

Tch! But the effect of Eclipse Wyvern is activated! Manjome said, If this card is sent to the Graveyard: Banish 1 Level 7 or higher LIGHT or DARK Dragon-Type monster from my Deck!

The card I want to banish from my deck is

He drew a card from the deck and raised it high above his head. Although it has not yet been played in this duel, the face of this card has already released a boundless holy light!

Light and Darkness Dragon!!!

The shadow of the dragon briefly flashed behind Manjome. It was a black and white dragon with the energy of light and darkness perfectly blended into one body!

Jushidai looked at the phantom and was briefly distracted: "This is"

Kuri Kuri! The Winged Kuriboh spirit jumped out and rubbed Judai's little face hard.

Don't be careless, Judai, that one is a spirit. Yubel also appeared with her arms folded, and it's not just any ordinary one, but a very powerful spirit.

However, this did not seem to serve as a warning but only made Judai more excited.

Manjome, you actually have such a powerful spirit! He said, By the way, does that mean you can also see spirits?

Manjome sent the "Light and Darkness Dragon" to the outside area and snorted proudly: "Of course."

Wow, maybe we'll get along unexpectedly! Judai was excited, I can also see spirits!

Manjome was immediately annoyed: "Nonsense! Who wants to get along with you?"

Judai pouted: "How stingy"

Manjome was about to attack, but he suddenly paused, as if he suddenly thought of something, and quickly pressed another button on the duel plate.

"The moment my Eclipse Wyvern is destroyed, open the set card!" he shouted, "Trap Card Dragon's Bond! This card can only be activated when a Level 4 or lower Dragon-Type monster is destroyed. Special Summon 1 Level 4 or lower Dragon-Type monster from my Deck!" (comic card)

A card popped out from Manjome's deck.

I special summon the level 2 Wish Dragon! (manga card)

Wish Dragon, DEF 100

The monster was summoned to the field, and Manjome let out a sigh of relief.

It was a close call. I was interrupted by Yuki Judai. If I got distracted and missed the activation time of the card, the trap could not be activated. Damn!

He felt that this Yuki Judai was simply a cancer as if he had some kind of special talent. It felt like those around him, whether friends or rivals, would unconsciously fall into his rhythm and behave erratically.

Simply a master of rhythm!

Fortunately, Manjome got rid of his interference in time several times, otherwise, if he missed the key card activation time for such a ridiculous reason, he would probably be expelled by Kaiba-sensei after such a low-level mistake.

Thinking of this, Manjome couldn't help but sneer.

Wish Dragon had the ability to sacrifice itself and Special Summon two tokens on the field. Using this ability, he could easily gather two sacrifices in the next turn. This way he could call upon his ultimate ace monster, Light and Darkness Dragon!

That would be his victory!

Moreover, Judai's monster has already attacked this turn and could no longer destroy his Wish Dragon.

"Open the set card!" Judai waved his hand, "Continuous Trap Sea Stealth Attack!"

Manjome: !?

Nani? Why is there such a thing in your HERO deck??

When the Sea Stealth Attack is activated, I can activate 1 Umi from my hand or graveyard!

The Field Spell was inserted into the field area of the duel disk, and the three-dimensional projected seawater swept across the field, and the raging waves instantly filled the entire field!

"Then there is the follow-up effect of the Sea Stealth Attack!" Judai said, "Once per turn: I can banish 1 WATER monster I control until the End Phase; this turn, face-up Spells/Traps on my field cannot be destroyed by the opponent's card effects.

I banished Elemental HERO Absolute Zero'. All spell and trap cards on my field will not be destroyed during this turn! "

What an awesome tactic! As a top student, Asuka understood the horror of this chain immediately and couldn't help but change her expression instantly.

Marufuji Sho looked confused: "Is there any point in protecting the Spells/Traps on his field from being destroyed? It's his own turn, and it's already Main Phase 2."

No, the focus is not on this effect. Asuka explained, The focus is on the cost of this effect.

"The moment Absolute Zero is banished, his effect is activated!" Judai shouted, "When he leaves the field, all monsters on the opponent's field are destroyed!"

Ah! Marufuji Sho finally realized, Wouldn't it be a good match between these two cards?

"That's right." Asuka said, "Every turn Judai can use the effects of Sea Stealth Attack' and Absolute Zero' to cooperate to destroy all the monsters on the opponent's field and at the same time protect his own field." Umi' and Sea Stealth Attack' themselves cannot be destroyed."

She did not continue speaking and looked at Judai with a complicated expression.

Did this guy show mercy when he dueled me?

The power of Absolute Zero exploded, and the boundless cold air swept across like water waves. In just an instant, the Wish Dragon on Manjome's field was frozen into an ice sculpture!

Chapter 778: President Is Targeted

A blow that froze the sky and the earth and the entire arena was instantly frozen. The poor Wish Dragon didn't get the chance to use its ability and was shattered into pieces of ice everywhere in an instant.

"Tsk." Manjome gritted his teeth, "Did you actually see through my intentions?"

Of course, if he knew Judai better, he would know that he was simply overthinking. In Judai's duels, most of the cards were played by intuition. He tended to play cards more instinctively than by using his brain. There was no such thing as a magic horse who could see through tactics.

"I end my turn." Judai said, "Then at the End Phase, according to the effect of Sea Stealth Attack', Absolute Zero will return to the field!"

The waves swept across, and the hero's white body flew out from the waves. His feet touched the sea surface, and the undulating waves around him were frozen into ice crystals.

Elemental HERO Absolute Zero, ATK 2500

Then it comes to my turn!

Although the stepping stone originally planned as a sacrifice for his ace monster was destroyed, he still had a method!

First, I activate the Trap Card Crevice Into the Different Dimension'! Declare 1 Attribute and select a total of 2 monsters with that Attribute from any Graveyard, and banish those monsters.

I select the LIGHT attribute and banish Winged Kuriboh' from your GY and Eclipse Wyvern' from my GY!

Then the effect of the Eclipse Wyvern is activated! If this card is banished from my Graveyard: I can add the monster banished by this card's effect to my hand.

I add the Light and Darkness Dragon in the banished zone back to my hand!

Manjome took back the "Light and Darkness Dragon" that was banished from the last round. The Light and Darkness Dragon briefly flashed in mid-air, and the shining light poured down.

Oh, is it coming? Judai began to look forward to it.

Manjome frowned slightly.

Even though he wanted to summon the "Light and Darkness Dragon" right away, as long as the combination of "Sea Stealth Attack" and "Absolute Zero" were still on the field, the sacrifice he summoned could be blown up by Judai anytime and anywhere.

Manjome subconsciously glanced at Yuei Vu at the rostrum from the corner of his eye.

This should be the combination developed by "that man", right?

As expected of the Duel King, it is indeed a terrifying chain

But its not impossible to conquer!

The prerequisite for Sea Stealth Attack to work was that the Field Spell "Umi" must exist on the field. If this arena disappears, the entire chain will collapse.

Of course, "Sea Stealth Attack" could also protect "Umi" from being destroyed by card effects, but only card effects.

"I activate a Field Spell from my hand." Manjome held up a card in his hand, "Mausoleum of the Emperor!"

The terrain was transformed, and the turbulent sea water receded in all directions, disappearing into nothing in an instant. The ancient mausoleum rose from the ground, and strange firelights were ignited in the brazier one after another, casting mottled and distorted images on the walls. The terracotta warriors and horses are neatly displayed in the deep pits on both sides, like a sleeping army.

Beautiful response! Misawa Daichi commented, As the new Field Spell is activated, the Umi field is pushed out. Not only that, the effect of this new field is

Activate the effect of the Field Spell Mausoleum of the Emperor! Manjome shouted, Pay 1000 LP to replace the two Tributes required for a Tribute Summon! (animation effect)

Everyone held their breath when he pulled out the card in his hand.

I paid 1000 LP and used the terracotta warriors and horses in the Mausoleum of the Emperor as sacrifices!

The incarnation of light and darkness, the dragon who judges sin

The Light and Darkness Dragon!!! "

Manjome, LP 1400 LP 400

The dragon in the shadow finally transformed into a real entity and spread its huge wings. Black and white feathers intertwined all over the sky, falling like snowflakes. The dragon was overlooking the world from a high place. The white half of its body was as elegant as an angel, while the black part was as ferocious as a devil.

Light and Darkness Dragon, ATK 2800

Its so awesome. Judai was dumbfounded, This is Manjome's spirit.

He was stunned for a while, and he didn't even hear Manjome's "attack" command clearly. Until the Light and Darkness Dragon spit out black and white lightning from its mouth, Absolute Zero's figure seemed to be penetrated through the chest by a javelin of electric light.

Judai, LP 2000 LP 1700

Yuei Vu didn't come back to his senses until he was hit by the impact of the virtual image. At the same time, Yubel's voice came to his ears: "Idiot, is now the time to get crazy about other people's spirit?"

Hey, Im sorry. Judai scratched his head in embarrassment, and then shouted, Then the effect of Absolute Zero! When he leaves the field, all monsters on the opponents field will be destroyed!

The power of absolute zero was released again! The ice field that froze everything opened up, the ancient tomb was instantly frozen, and the flames dancing in the brazier were extinguished at low temperatures.

Judai! Manjome shouted, If your trump card is absolute zero, then my trump card is light and darkness!

The effect of the Light and Darkness Dragon is activated! When a Spell Card, Trap Card, or monster effect is activated: This card loses exactly 500 ATK and DEF, and that activation is negated!"

Light and Darkness Dragon, ATK 2800/DEF 2400 ATK 2300/DEF 1900

Powerful power of light and darkness spurted out from the dragon's body, and the energy storm smashed the sweeping ice crystals into pieces!

What a terrible effect. Asuka was surprised, The defense power of Light and Darkness Dragon is 2400. Does that mean it can negate the effects of up to four cards?

In the Yu-Gi-Oh card game, invalidating the opponent's actions and interrupting the opponent's tactical intentions were always the most popular effects. For example, the most representative one was the Counter Trap "Solemn Judgment", also known as "Nope".

This trap only required paying half of the LP to cancel the opponent's summoning of monsters or the activation of spells or traps. In actual combat, stepping on such a trap, especially in the early environment, may directly determine the direction of the game to a large extent.

Not only having this kind of power that could "negate all the effects of spells, traps, and monsters", the Light and Darkness Dragon could also negate four times!

You must know that the duelist only has six cards in his hand. One Light and Darkness Dragon could cancel the opponent's first four actions!

Such a powerful ability made it popular in the real card environment for a while, and even the players often prepared some "Light and Darkness Dragon" dedicated counter cards in the side deck, which was enough to see the popularity of this thing at the time.

Of course, its effect was not perfect. Even with all its power, the Light and Darkness Dragon had flaws.

For example, its effect was mandatory. Whenever a magic, trap or monster effect was activated, this dragon must deduct 500 ATK and DEF from itself to negate that effect, and it did not distinguish between friend and foe.

In addition, it could only negate the "activation of cards", but could not invalidate the activation effects of cards that were already on the field, such as Continuous Spells and Continuous Traps.

However, this did not affect the fact that it was a very powerful monster, and it was definitely sufficient as the ace of the deck.

Judai currently has no card in his hand that could defeat it.

"A really tough guy has come out." Yubel snorted and paused, "But there is one way to defeat him."

"Eh?"

Judai was stunned for a moment. He thought of the pros and cons of the "Light and Darkness Dragon" ability and suddenly remembered the card that Yuei Vu-sensei gave him before the game started.

That's right!

If it is the power of that card

Judai was suddenly startled for a moment.

Could it be that Yuei Vu-sensei had already expected that Manjome would summon the "Light and Darkness Dragon", so he gave me that card?

Judai's mind quickly became active.

Have you noticed it yet? Yubel chuckled.

Yeah. Judai chuckled, As long as I can draw that card next time, itll be good, right?

Yubel smiled: "There must be nothing wrong with what you said."

"Who knows?" Judai wiped his nose, looking forward to it, "Then it's my turn, Manjome!"

"It's Thunder!"

Manjome emphasized, but at the same time he felt a little uneasy looking at Judai's energetic look.

Does this guy really have any reversal moves?

Then its time! My turn!

Judai pressed two fingers on the top of the deck, and his movements paused briefly, as if he was brewing something.

Draw!

The card was drawn.

It was like heaven and earth opening up, and a whole new world was created.

A possibility takes root in the present and gives birth to a new future.

Here it comes! Judais eyes lit up.

I told you that you can definitely do it.

Yubel seemed not surprised, but her eyes towards Judai became even more dazzled.

As expected of my Judai!

The love meter is overflowing.

Im going up, Majome!

Its Thunder! Manjome continued to emphasize.

Im going to borrow the effect of your Field Spell too! Judai shouted, Pay 1000 LP to replace the two Tributes required for a Tribute Summon!

Judai, LP 1700 LP 700

This is the card I want to summon! The Dragon of Destruction that shatters everything into atoms

Gandora the Dragon of Destruction! ! ! "

Nani!? x10086

The whole audience was shocked!

President Kaiba's expression froze instantly, his pupils shrank, and his eyes were filled with shock.

Isnt it Gandora the Dragon of Destruction, the ace monster of Yugi??

Could it be that the cards he gave to this boy were more than just a Kuriboh??

Hateful Yugi!

Kaiba gritted his teeth in anger.

He felt that he was being targeted by these two Duel Kings together!

Yuei Vu noticed the president's reaction, but he only coughed lightly and pretended not to notice.

Actually, Yugi really shouldn't take the blame for this. Gandora was indeed the trump card of Yugi, but the one in Judai's hand was not given by Yugi, but by him.

The dark dragon tore the earth apart, its solid body as if cast from black iron! It seemed to have countless eyes opened all over its body, and each eye radiated a red-hot cutting beam outward!

"The effect of Gandora the Dragon of Destruction!" Judai shouted, "Pay half of my LP, destroy and banish as many other cards on the field as possible!"

Judai, LP 700 LP 350

The laser light shot out in all directions as if it was turning everything in its path into atoms!

Giga Rays!

Then the effect of the Light and Darkness Dragon! Manjome shouted, Negate Gandora's ability!

The Light and Darkness Dragon roared! The black and white lightning hit the body of the Destruction Dragon, binding the ability to destroy the world back into its body!

Light and Darkness Dragon, ATK 2300/DEF 1900 ATK 1800/DEF 1400

Judai smiled: "Then the effect of Gandora the Dragon of Destruction will be activated again. Pay half of my LP, destroy and banish all the other cards on the field!"

Only then did Manjome react in shock: "Nani? Didn't the Destruction Dragon's ability have the once-per-turn limit?"

Judai, LP 350 LP 175

The ability of the Destruction Dragon was activated again. Manjome had no choice but to grit his teeth: "The Light and Darkness Dragon's effect is activated again!"

Light and Darkness Dragon, ATK 1800/DEF 1400 ATK 1300/DEF 900

"Then activate the ability of Gandora the Dragon of Destruction' again!" Judai said, "Giga Rays!"

Manjome had no choice but to say: "Light and Darkness Dragon, negate that effect!"

Light and Darkness Dragon, ATK 1300/DEF 900 ATK 800/DEF 400

400 DEF was no longer enough to support the Light and Darkness Dragon's ability to activate again.

It's over.

"Gandora the Dragon of Destruction, your effect is activated!" Judai shouted, "Take half of my LP, destroy and banish all cards except yourself!"

Judai, LP 175 LP 88

This time there was finally no obstacle, and the light of destruction and death swept across everything. The ancient mausoleum collapsed, the brazier fell to the ground, a large area of the building collapsed, and the rubble crashed to pieces on the floor.

The Light and Darkness Dragon screamed powerlessly, and it also failed to withstand the power of the ray of destruction. It was hit head-on by a beam of death light, and the light-dark body seemed to disintegrate into countless particles, dissipating like glowing dust.

Gandora the Dragon of Destructions subsequent effect! Its attack power will increase by the number of cards destroyed by this effect x 300!

Gandora the Dragon of Destruction, ATK 0 ATK 900

900 ATK was far from high, but it was more than enough to end this duel.

The Destruction Dragon opened its mouth and prepared the final blow. The torrent of red shock erupted, swallowing Manjome head-on.

Manjome, LP 400 LP 0

Chapter 779: Master And Apprentice

Manjome lay on his back, staring blankly at the ceiling of the duel arena, not even responding to the applause and shouts of the audience that rang in his ears.

He lost.

To be precise, he lost half a minute ago, but he was still trying to accept this fact.

He lost the duel he must not lose.

Manjome was very tired at the moment. He had never felt so exhausted before when he had worked overtime and trained all night long. His body lay on the ground as if it were weightless, and he didn't even want to move a finger. Every cell in his body had never been as hungry for rest as it was now.

The shouts from the audience seemed to be gradually fading away, and some of them were hard to hear clearly.

He didn't even dare to look at his mentor's expression, although he could probably imagine it.

Judai waved happily to the enthusiastic classmates around him.

According to the usual practice, no matter whether he won or lost after playing cards (although he has basically never lost so far), he would put on a standard "Yuki Judai-style" POSE and say "That was a fun Duel!"

But this time, seeing that Manjome was hopeless and looking like it was the end of the world even though he just lost a game of cards, he didn't do that.

Judai recalled a conversation he had with Yuei Vu in the past.

"Judai, you said, 'That was a fun Duel.' Although you may really think so, sometimes not all opponents may be willing to hear this."

Eh? Why? Judai blinked in confusion.

Dueling is such a fun thing, how could anyone not find it interesting?

Because no matter what, this is still a game of victory and defeat. Yuei Vu said, The winner will get as much satisfaction as the loser will have a corresponding sense of frustration.

And not everyone in the world has the time to enjoy a duel happily. Some duelists may have reasons why they have to win, and not everyone can afford to lose.

For many people, winning may be much more important than the duel itself. "

Little Judai was even more confused. Apparently, such a topic was too complicated for his simple little mind.

"Don't think too much about it if you don't understand." Yuei Vu touched his little jellyfish head, "Anyway, don't forget this, you will understand one day."

"oh oh."

Judai stepped forward and came to Manjome, touched his head, and smiled: "Although you seem to have won this time, you are so strong, Manjome! I didn't expect you to have a spirit as strong as the Light and Darkness Dragon', it really scared me.

Manjome glanced at him coldly.

Actually, I think dueling should be a happy thing. Although I may feel unhappy if I lose, I still feel that no one should be harmed because of dueling.

It was rare for Judai to become serious.

Victory and defeat are common in duels. It would be a pity if you can't enjoy the process just because you lose a duel once in a while.

He really thought so from the bottom of his heart.

Judai had been used to being beaten since he was young. Not to mention winning against Yuei Vu, he even struggled to successfully summon the monster he wanted to summon.

A few years ago, a young Judai was tricked by Yuei Vu continuously which made him doubt his life. Finally, he sluggishly raised the question, "Is it true that strong men play cards like this in the underworld?"

So to eliminate the doubts of Judai, Yuei Vu first specially invited the legendary duelist Mr. Marik from Egypt to play cards with little Judai, and then invited Mr. Marik's loyal servant Rishid, the beautiful sister Ishizu to play.

As the finale, he specially invited Muto Yugi, the first-generation Duel King who was as famous as himself, to play a game of cards with Judai.

After being taught by three Tomb Keepers and two Duel Kings, and experiencing the baptism of nether in eighteen styles, Judai accepted this setting.

Oh, it turns out that this is how real strong people play cards.

The reason why I couldn't beat him was just because I was too honest.

Even if he received this devilish baptism at an early age, which was enough to cure a thousand-year card addiction, Judai's enthusiasm for dueling has never diminished. It was enough to show that in terms of enthusiasm for playing cards, perhaps only President Kaiba could compete with him.

"Looking at it from another perspective, is it because everything is uncertain that the duel is so interesting?" Judai explained to Manjome enthusiastically, "Just like the world may change every time a card is drawn, at the beginning of the duel, no one could have guessed the next direction in advance, right?

Isn't this the fun of dueling? Think about it, the next time we fight, I will probably lose to you Manjome! Isn't it exciting to think about this possibility? "

Judai couldn't help but get excited when he said this as if the possibility of "being defeated by Manjome" made him look forward to it.

He looked like a kid who couldn't wait to share his beloved toy with his friends.

Manjome stared blankly at his excited expression, feeling that even the frustration and sense of loss in his heart had been diluted a lot.

Yuki Judai is such a baffling guy that people can't understand him at all.

Huh, idiot. He muttered vaguely.

Judai leaned over and stretched out his hand to him: "Come on, let's have a fun duel together next time!"

Manjome looked at the hand stretched out to him, and was surprised to find that he actually hesitated for two or three seconds about the option of "Should I reach out and hold it?"

He quickly shook off this terrible thought, slapped Judai's hand aside, and stood up.

MD, I almost got carried away by the rhythm of this jellyfish head without paying attention!

Hmph! Who wants to play with you next time?

As soon as he opened his mouth, he realized that this statement seemed a bit bad.

Simple-minded, hot-blooded idiot!

He cursed again, and then Manjome turned his head and left the scene angrily.

Im sorry, sensei.

Outside the academy, in a deserted place, Manjome stood in front of Kaiba with his head lowered.

"I failed."

Kaiba's back was turned to him so that he couldn't see his expression.

"I said, failure is not allowed," Kaiba said coldly, with a tone of non-negotiability in his voice.

Manjome bit his lip, lowered his head, and said nothing.

From the moment he failed, he had more or less expected that he would be abandoned and expelled from the school, becoming a shame that neither his teacher nor his family wanted to mention again.

He was not ready to face this fact.

Kaiba seemed to be taking steps to leave.

Every time he took a step further, Manjome's heart sank a little lower.

But before he had gone far, Kaiba stopped for a moment.

Failure is not allowed, so you must keep trying until you succeed!

Manjome suddenly raised his head, his face full of surprise.

"Sensei!"

"Hmph, don't give me such an ugly expression." Kaiba snorted coldly, "If you don't even know how to deal with defeat, you are not worthy of being my student!"

After all, as a teacher, Kaiba has extremely rich experience in defeat.

Yes, yes! Sensei!

Manjome suppressed his joy and bowed vigorously. He didn't raise his head until his teacher's back disappeared from his sight.

Yuei Vu, who saw this scene from a dark place not far away, couldn't help but sigh softly.

From some aspects, this duo of master and apprentice is quite suitable.

Chapter 780: From The Beginning To The Grave

The final between Judai and Manjome was over, and the new semester was already halfway through in the blink of an eye. The Academy quickly entered a state of preparation for the match with the Northern Academy. As a representative player, Judai was even given the right not to go to the classroom this week.

Obviously, the academy hoped that he could seize the chance and use the little time left to prepare well and adjust his condition to face this representative battle. It's a pity that Judai-san didn't have such self-awareness at all.

If he had been left on his own, this week would most likely have been wasted.

Then Yuei Vu, as a teacher, was not happy.

Want to be lazy? Impossible!

Without saying a word, Yuei Vu dragged Judai out of the dormitory the next day and arranged special card-playing training and extracurricular exercises!

Over the years, under the guidance of Yuei Vu, the improvement of Judai's card-playing ability could be seen with the naked eye. However, other subjects were not so good

Of course, Yuei Vu has never forgotten to pay attention to the conditions of the students entrusted to the players. He found that this education model seemed to be making some progress.

Among the first batch of students, the ones who have made the most obvious progress are probably Sakura and Asuka. Not to mention their card skills and awareness levels, first of all, their deck construction was much more optimized than in the original anime.

This was, of course, thanks to the active efforts of all the members of the Knights of Hanoi Guild, and especially to the great help of the president Just A Sandbag.

It was naturally impossible for a character like Asuka, who was considered the female protagonist in the animation, to have a brick hand, but in terms of divine draw skill, she was still incomparable to a serious cheater like Judai. The construction optimization was still necessary.

In addition, among the tutors, there was another generous one, named Native Noragami.

Brother Native Noragami seems to be determined to help Marufuji Sho to become a decent man. He has been holding Marufuji Sho for special training day and night these days.

In the past two days, he found a set of professional knowledge test questions related to playing cards called "K Language: From The Beginning to The Grave" from the forum and gave it to his students for training.

After a set of questions, Marufuji Shos state was like this

Who I am? Where am I? Have I played cards?

For example, there was a question like this.

"Known: The effect text description of Ryko, Lightsworn Hunter' is that it can be activated when this card is flipped, and you can choose a card on the field to destroy and send the top 3 cards of your Deck to the GY.

Question: Is this effect a target effect? "

Marufuji Sho immediately thought that this was the kind of question that was given at the beginning of the exam, and it could be regarded as a greeting gift to the students from the teacher who wrote the question. After all, the first question should not be difficult, otherwise, it may affect students' ability and confidence in answering the questions.

Theyve all said, select a card on the field to destroy it. Even if you thought with your butt, it must be a target effect!

Then his teacher gave him a big "X" indifferently.

Marufuji Sho was dumbfounded.

What? It already said "You can choose a card and destroy it", so why isn't a target effect?

Then there were questions like this.

"Known: When Keeper of Dragon Magic' is Normal or Special Summoned: You can discard 1 card, and add 1 "Fusion" Normal Spell card from the deck to your hand.

Question: Which cards among the following options cannot be retrieved by the effect of Keeper of Dragon Magic'?

A. Polymerization B. Miracle Fusion C. De-Fusion D. Fusion Recovery"

Marufuji Sho chose A without even thinking about it it was clearly written on the card that it searches for 1 "Fusion" Normal Spell card. What could possibly go wrong?

Soon he received another big "X" from his mentor. Native Noragami told him expressionlessly that all four cards could be retrieved (1)

Marufuji Sho's worldview was impacted.

Nani?

Could it be that all the cards I have been playing for so many years have been fake?

Brother Noragami sighed repeatedly, shook his head, and said something about "never see such a stupid student before". Marufuji Sho was almost autistic

Compared with those players who have drawn rare characters, Snow Wave has no motivation at all right now.

In fact, many other players were quite envious of Snow Wave. Because what he drew was a female student, with a mixed face of Eastern and Western descent, a sweet and obedient appearance, and a pair of sweet dimples when she smiled.

Her name was Mia. She came to Duel Academy from a Western country. She was currently in her third year and would graduate in another year.

But Snow Wave's idea was very simple.

Good-looking? Does it look good enough to be consumable?

This kind of passerby who has never been seen in original anime and manga has no future at all!

Therefore, Snow Wave has never been very motivated toward his female student.

But the girl was very enthusiastic about learning. She ran to her tutor every three days to ask all kinds of questions. She was much more motivated than her tutor.

She came to the tutor very quickly when something happened, and she also liked to take the initiative to look for trouble when nothing happened.

Last weekend, she held up her white skirt, exposed her equally white thighs, and said, "Sensei, do you think there are any top-notch questions for me to do?"

So Snow Wave searched the forum and handed her the set of "K Language: From The Beginning to The Grave."

From then on, the girl never mentioned what she was asked to do.

Of course, this did not affect her enthusiasm to establish a sense of presence in front of the teacher.

They were originally chatting about deck building that day, but somehow the topic suddenly went off the rails and they started chatting about students' campus life.

Somehow the girl made a mistake and asked: "Sensei, have you ever considered having a romantic partner?"

"Huh?" Snow Wave expressed confusion, "What's the point of that? It will affect my dueling skill!"

Mia was confused: "What does this have to do with dueling skill?"

"Of course it did! Listen carefully, we duelists have a supreme manual called "Anti-Evil Dueling Technique". On page 1, it wrote To learn this technique, you must not have a woman in your heart!"
(2)

Mia was even more confused: "Is there such a thing?"

"Of course!" Snow Wave was midway excited when he remembered something, "Oh, by the way, you may have to change this. It would have to be called To learn this technique, you must not have a man in your heart'. But the meaning is the same, you know.

In short, women only affect the speed of card drawing! Men too! "

But Mia still didnt understand!

What does dueling skill have to do with a romantic partner?

Or do duelists have to reach a state of selflessness where they have no cards and no ego, and the person and cards are one, in order to draw the card they want?

That's too difficult!

"Well actually, it's not so strict" Snow Wave muttered, holding his chin.

After all, the above sentence was just the general outline of the manual, and there was actually a follow-up later.

Page 2 wrote, "But even if you have a woman in your heart, you can still learn this technique."

Page 3 wrote, "Women only affect the speed of card drawing. But a rich woman doesn't, so does a loli."

Mia didn't know what was going on, and immediately became excited when she heard this: "Sensei, what kind of girl do you like?"

"Well, let me think about it" Snow Wave thought for a while, "Maybe big breasts?"

Mia (looking at her impoverished size):

"Or someone older? I like someone more mature."

Mia:

"If not, then she has to play your cards well, right? At least she should be able to solve the effects clearly."

Mia (reminiscent of the set of "K Language: From The Beginning to The Grave" that she failed to pass):

After hesitating for a long time, the girl bit her lip: "But reality is not so ideal! Very few people can find the most ideal goal. Sensei, have you ever considered the people around you?"

"Huh?" Snow Wave held his chin, "Well it's true what you said. As for the girls around me it seems that there is no other option"

Mia held her breath, even a little nervous.

Snow Wave shook his head: "Forget it, Sister Yuehua is out of my league Why did you fall?"

Mia got up weakly and said with a sad face: "Sensei, do you really not remember me?"

Snow Wave: "?"

Although he felt a little guilty to say this, he had no impression

"Many years ago, when I was only fourteen years old, the streets were in chaos. I collapsed on the ground, and the streets were filled with hideous and terrifying monsters

I thought I would die, but I didn't because you saved me, sensei. I even wrote you a letter later"

Snow Wave frowned, and as he listened, he felt that the story was becoming more and more familiar to him, and then he was suddenly startled.

"Fuck!" He almost jumped up, "Is it you!?"

