

I Play Yu-Gi 801

Chapter 801: No Match For Cheaters

Kagurazaka stared blankly at the reading on the electronic display of the Duel Disk that jumped to "0", as if it was difficult to accept the reality for a long time.

I lost just like that?

With the deck of the strongest duelist in history, imitating the tactics of the best of the best, I was OTKed?!

No, it's not just that.

I was even OTKed during my own turn!

This whole duel felt like a joke to him, as if the other party wasn't even serious. The starfish head that "looks like a Muto Yugi" didn't even summon a decent monster from beginning to end.

What was the only monster he summoned in this duel?

Watapon, a miscellaneous fish with a mere 200 attack power

He was actually killed by such a miscellaneous fish!?

This made him feel like a clown on the stage in the eyes of others, as he was so swollen just a few minutes ago.

But why?

Kagurazaka couldn't figure it out, not at all.

He had studied Muto Yugi's duels carefully and had not missed every detail of each one.

The Duel King obviously also Fusion Summoned the Chimera the Flying Mythical Beast in the first turn. Why have I never seen that the Duel King was OTKed?

I did exactly the same thing, but why was it that I was instantly killed in just one turnah, to be more precise, it seemed like half a turn?

What's the difference between me and the real Duel King?

"Pah, pah, pah"

The applause echoed rhythmically. The devastated Kagurazaka followed the sound and almost didn't scream again.

Duel King Yuei Vu!

Who is the blond guy following him? It looks so familiar but I can't remember it

"As expected of Mr. Yugi, even if you haven't appeared in an official competition for so many years, you are still a national treasure." Yuei Vu jumped down from a big rock.

Yugi smiled: "Nothing, I'm already a bit rusty."

After a pause, he glanced at Kagurazaka and said, "There are also some outstanding and interesting students in your school. His duel is indeed quite nostalgic"

Kagurazaka was stunned for a while while listening, and it took his brain a long time to process the information she had just received.

Wait, what did Principal Yuei Vu call him just now?

It sounds like Mr. Yugi?

Nani? This person is really Muto Yugi!?

Kagurazaka suddenly raised his head and looked at Yugi blankly. He was dumbfounded for a moment.

When he thought about his previous self-righteous and outrageously stupid remarks, Kagurazaka felt like he was struck by lightning.

Fortunately, Muto Yugi was a duelist with a good temper and easy to talk to, and he didn't seem to care at all about Kagurazaka's disrespectful attitude just now.

Not only that, he also walked up to Kagurazaka and patiently enlightened: "Classmate, as I just said, what you lack is not tactical thinking or even deck construction.

Although these are all necessary qualities for a duelist they are not the most essential things for a true duelist. "

Kagurazaka looked at him blankly and repeated this sentence mechanically: "The most essential thing for a true duelist?"

"Well." Yugi patted his shoulder and said gently, "No matter whose deck it is, it will never be the best in your hands.

Only by personally selecting each card from thousands of cards and putting all the emotions of the duelist into a deck can it be possible to truly connect with the duelist. "

Actually, although it sounded a bit metaphysical, this was really what Yugi said.

Deck construction and tactical awareness were the icing on the cake. What really needed to be practiced was the divine draw.

You said that Yugi often starts with Chimera, but do you believe that as long as the opponent's hand can OTK him, it won't be Chimera?

What is this called? This is the bond with the deck! It is the proof of true strength!

The longer he stayed in this world and the more he understood how this card-centric world worked, the more Yuei Vu became convinced of one thing

Simply holding a high-level deck with excellent construction and powerful power may make you a world-class player, but it will not make you a top player.

He could even imagine what would happen if a player challenged Yugi with the famous "Sudden Death" deck.

Player A: "According to the effect of Makyura the Destructor', I activate the Trap Card Exchange of the Spirit' from my hand! All the cards in the decks and graveyards of both players are exchanged! Then because you have no cards to draw in this turn, I win!

Yugi: "Pay half of my LP, activate the Counter Trap Red Reboot' from my hand, and negate the Exchange of the Spirit!"

Player A: *@! #(Died suddenly on the spot)

Okay, just an example. But that's probably what it means.

The deck was like a weapon to the duelist the stronger the weapon, the more useful it would be in the hand of an expert. But the user's own strength still mattered the most. The higher the duelist's rank, the stronger the same deck could be in their hands.

Moreover, the rank of duelist in this world could be achieved through accumulated practice over time.

For example, Marufuji Ryo, who has mastered the 502 magic skills to the point where he could outplay Judai. Another example is that in the GX animation, there was a secondary student who practiced in seclusion in the mountains like a savage, and actually developed a divine drawing skill that was as good as Judai's.

So just like the training in fantasy novels, this thing required talent and hard work.

As long as you are gifted, have a "psychic physique" that can communicate with spirits, and have the guidance of famous teachers, coupled with years of hard study and practice, you will find

You are still no match for cheaters.

Yes, it is so true.

For example, our Judai. He was the reincarnation of a boss and brought his own cheat with him since his birth. He could level up even while lying down.

The first Duel King Muto Yugi wasn't so complicated as that. His cheat was a typical "grandpa" golden finger a certain ancient boss survived a catastrophe that destroyed the world, leaving only a trace of his residual soul in a certain artifact. Later, the artifact fell into the hands of the protagonist, and the remaining soul of the boss in the artifact became the protagonist's cheat.

It's just that the typical "grandpa" usually lost all his cultivation and his strength was greatly reduced due to some special reasons. He could only give the protagonist a training method and guide him to become stronger to face powerful enemies.

But the person Yugi met was a little different. His "grandpa" has always personally taken part in all matters big and small, personally fought from bosses to minions. From the beginning to the end, it had nothing to do with the protagonist

However, it was not until the end that everyone discovered that the "grandpa" seemed to be not as good as the protagonist.

The reason why the protagonist hired a proxy trainer was just because he was too lazy to play.

Or looking at it from another angle, it may be that everyone has misunderstood it.

Maybe Atem was the protagonist, and the genre of his novel was Second Chance. An ancient hero was reincarnated to the modern day, his ultimate goal was to defeat the evil god of destruction that he failed to defeat in his previous life. Muto Yugi was actually the grandpa

At this time, receiving personal education from Duel King, Kagurazaka-san's eyes lit up, as if he had found the way forward.

"Thank you, Mr. Yugi!" He took a deep breath, stood up, and said firmly, "I have learned it!"

No, you haven't. Yuei Vu complained from the side.

Kid, you are not a reincarnation of someone famous nor have a spirit partner. Learning after a cheater will make you a failure in school

Chapter 802: Start Taking Action

"Okay, the incident has been resolved satisfactorily, it's almost time for us to go back." Jonouchi stretched, "Thank you, Yuei Vu, I'll treat you to dinner another day."

"Well, it's almost time to say goodbye. I had a great time today." Yugi also said.

Kagurazaka, who was huddled aside to watch the big guys chatting, was silent for a long time. She stared at Jonouchi and seemed to be frowning in thought for a long time before finally exclaiming: "Ah! You are Jonouchi, the God of Gamblers who is also known as the God of Dice!"

Jonouchi's face suddenly turned black.

"What's wrong with dice? I have nothing to do with that kind of thing!" Jonouchi suddenly became unhappy, "You recognized Yugi and Yuei Vu, why didn't you recognize me until now?"

"Sorry." Kagurazaka scratched her head in embarrassment, "Because I didn't see the dice, I didn't think about it for a while"

"Hey, I told you it has nothing to do with dice, right!?"

Jonouchi was furious, feeling the injustice of the world and the darkness of the duel world

Why does everyone only remember me throwing dice!?

Isn't my ace the Red-Eyes Black Dragon? Super rare card! The legendary black dragon that brings endless possibilities!

Why do you all just remember dice?

This also strengthened Jonouchi's determination to quit gambling. From now on, dice will never be used in playing cards. Feng Ping was killed

"Forget it, let's go back today." Jonouchi was helpless.

"It's already late, why don't you stay on the island overnight?" Yuei Vu said, "I'll call a plane to take you back tomorrow morning?"

"No, no, no." Jonouchi waved his hand, "Mai just sent me a message. It seems that Valon guy is back in the city. Tomorrow he will have a meal with us to catch up on old times or something. There may even be a duel.

Jonouchi confidently patted the deck on his Duel Disk.

"Hey, my Red Eyes deck has just been strengthened, and that kid doesn't have the slightest chance!"

Yuei Vu: No, no, no, I think your deck with no coins and no dice is still weaker than before.

But having said that

"Valon?" Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows, "Is it the Valon from the Three Swordsmen of Doma?"

"Yes." Jonouchi smiled, "He is actually a pretty good guy, and we are in constant contact."

Yuei Vu: ""

Isn't that guy Valon the love rival of Jonouchi who steals Mai Kujaku's heart?

Now that Mai-sama is already with Jonouchi, the three of them can still get together, talk, laugh, and reminisce as if nothing has happened?!

To be honest, what past can the three of them have to reminisce about? Isn't their past just the dark history of Jonouchi and Valon fighting to steal Mai's heart?

Yuei Vu felt that maybe his EQ was so low that he couldn't understand the heroic spirit of people like them.

Even if you steal my wife, we will still be good brothers?

It feels quiteweird.

"But I wanted to ask before I spoke," Yugi asked, "If Sister Mai is here, why don't you bring her here with you?"

Upon hearing this, Jonouchi's face suddenly turned ugly again, and he glanced at Yuei Vu angrily.

Yugi looked at Yuei Vu curiously.

Do you still have any stories to tell while we are gone?

Yuei Vu looked away awkwardly and started to look at the scenery.

This was a long story.

When Yuei Vu returned to Domino last year, he stopped by Jonouchi's house as a guest.

At that time, Yuei Vu glanced at the carpet in their living room inadvertently and said: Hey Jonouchi, the corners of this carpet are a bit strange. It seems like it is not laid properly

Then

Then Sister Mai discovered from there the private money that Jonouchi had saved for half a year

From then on, Jonouchi was not happy to let Yuei Vu and Mai meet.

Being caught hiding private money this time is a trivial matter, but what if he is caught hiding something else next time?

In short, the matter of Kagurazaka stealing the deck has come to an end.

Yugi and Jonouchi said goodbye to Yuei Vu and left first. As the only school personnel present, Yuei Vu confiscated the exhibition card set stolen from Kagurazaka and called the teacher who was searching for traces of the lost card set to come and handle the follow-up matters.

Kagurazaka, who was caught stealing the card set, would undoubtedly face punishment from the school in serious cases, he may even be expelled from the school.

However, when a group of teachers and students heard the news and came to watch, Kagurazaka was very happy and had no fear of being punished. He excitedly told everyone that Muto Yugi and Jonouchi Katsuya were both on the island just now, and he even fought against the real Muto Yugi!

The Labyrinth Brothers who came to the academy before wanted to become a "legendary duelist" after being beaten by Muto Yugi. So I was beaten by him just now, am I also a legend now?

Although the Duel King didn't even summon a decent monster, just called a Watapon and OTKed him in seconds

But that counted as a fight, right?

"Mr. Yugi's guidance has made me completely understand what I still lack!" Kagurazaka said seriously.

Everyone shut their mouths and listened to him with bated breath.

The advice from Mr. Muto Yugi, the first-generation Duel King? This is not an opportunity that ordinary people can get!

Yuei Vu next to him couldn't help but become interested when he heard what he said.

Oh? Could it be that Yugi's two casual instructions really had the effect of enlightenment?

Actually, that's not surprising. After all, Kagurazaka himself had talents that were different from ordinary people, and his theoretical knowledge of dueling was very solid. Indeed, he may have learned something during the duel with Yugi

Then Kagurazaka said seriously: "The part that my imitation still lacks is that colorful hairstyle! "

Yuei Vu: ""

What?

"It's not just hairstyles, but also outfits, clothes, and even the Millennium Puzzle' pendant. If you want to imitate, you have to copy the whole set!" Kagurazaka gushed, "So far, my imitations have been too half-baked, and I haven't been able to imitate them at all. Restore the essence of the strong!

I must start again from the inside out, and transform my own image into the image of the other person"

Yuei Vu sighed.

Fine.

This child is hopeless.

Somewhere unknown, a dark room.

Seven black shadows appeared inside the room. Each figure stood apart and occupied a corner of the room.

A completely closed room with almost no light source. Darkness spread unbridled in the closed realm, and invisible pressure made the air as heavy as lead.

Everyone here was carefully selected, and each was a strong person in their respective fields.

A huge electronic screen lit up. A blurry shadow appeared behind the screen, and cold eyes swept across the screen from everyone in the room.

"The time has come." A gloomy and hoarse voice sounded from behind the screen.

Someone in the room said: "Is the target Duel Academy?"

"Let me go first."

The speaker stepped out of the shadow in the corner, and his figure was illuminated by the light of the electronic screen.

It was a man in a pitch-black windbreaker, with most of his face covered by a cross-sectioned black mask, with a scarlet jade fixed on the forehead of the mask.

"Duel Academy is a very nostalgic place for me." He said lightly, "I still have things to do there."

The shadow behind the screen stared at him coldly for a moment.

"Yes."

Chapter 803: Shadow Game!

According to the progress of the original animation, the Rise of Three Sacred Beast arc would be the first important arc of "Yu-Gi-Oh GX", and it would also be the first round of dark trials for the young people of the academy.

In this chapter, Chairman Kagamaru, the boss behind the scene, summoned seven powerful dark duelists known as the "Seven Stars" to launch an attack on the academy.

The academy would hand over the seven keys to protect the seal of three Sacred Beasts to the seven selected strongest teachers and students for safekeeping. The only way to win the key is to defeat the key's guardian in a Shadow Game.

Of course that was the original plot.

Originally, Yusei Kudo didn't think that this plot process would be repeated based on the animation. After all, with his intervention, the story background of the entire Rise of Three Sacred Beast arc has been greatly shifted.

First of all, the most basic thing was that the original behind-the-scenes boss of this arc, Chairman Kagamaru, who coveted the power of the three Sacred Beasts, had been buried.

A dead person can't have any conspiracy, right?

Is it possible that the old man can also entrust a dream to the duelists of the "Seven Stars", asking them to win the duels and unlock the three Sacred Beasts, and use the power of the Sacred Beasts to drag him back from the underworld?

If there was such an operation, Yusei Kudo could take the hat off for him. After all, this was miles beyond his expectations.

So now that Kagamaru was gone, there shouldn't be any more Seven Stars to cause trouble, right?

Furthermore, even if Kagamaru hadn't died, the mission of "guarding the seven keys" would not have been established at all.

Because the seal of the three Sacred Beasts on the island was jointly designed by Yugi, Yuei Vu, and Kaiba after they suppressed the Sacred Beasts. Unlike the original work, there was no key in the seal they designed.

After all, they sealed the three Sacred Beasts in the first place, and they didn't seem to have any plans to release them one day in their lifetime. Why would they design a key?

Wouldn't it be over if we just locked it up?

So now that Kagamaru was dead, Yuei Vu originally thought that the Rise of Three Sacred Beast arc of the original work might simply cease to exist. At this time, his energy was focused on searching for the lobster "Tragoedia" that became an evil spirit three thousand years ago, and he didn't pay much attention to the seal of the Sacred Beast.

He never expected that what was supposed to come would come.

Tenjoin Asuka didn't quite remember how things happened.

It's very late today. After finishing her day's study, she "happened" to pass by Osiris Red dormitory again. When she came to her senses, she was already on the way to Osiris Red dormitory.

"Well, it's been a long time since I lent the video disk of Battle City Tournament' to Judai. It's time for him to return it to me." The girl thought as she walked.

But when she came to Osiris Red dormitory and asked this question, Judai scratched his head: "Eh? Video disk? That I'm sorry, I've been too busy recently to watch it"

He's really busy.

Lets take today as an example. He went out fishing early this morning. After dinner in the afternoon, he dragged his two roommates Sho and Hayato, to the tennis court to play. He had no time at all

"Really?" Asuka put her hands on her hips, "There's nothing we can do about it. I'll just lend you a few more days. I'll come back to you in a few days."

"OMG! Asuka, you're so nice!"

Judai smiled so brightly that he almost said, "You are really my good brother."

Asuka glanced at his dormitory: "Huh? Is Sho not here?"

"Uh yeah, it seems that he was arrested by his teacher for special training again." Judai said sympathetically, "Sho's teacher is really strict."

"That's it"

Although she had already skipped the topic of the video, the girl still had no intention of leaving and chatted with Judai over and over again.

The other person left in the dormitory, Judai's roommate Hayato Maeda, was currently lying on the bed with a quilt tightly wrapped around him, curled up on one side as if he was trying to reduce his sense of existence and pretend that he didn't exist.

Hayato: Suddenly I feel I'm redundant. JPG.

That's when things went off the rails.

It was a sudden flash of light, hitting the dormitory like a sharp white thunder.

No one was prepared for this. Everyone felt that their eyes suddenly turned white, and the whole world seemed to be spinning.

The first thought that came to mind was just one word hot.

It was like being in hellish heat, and it felt like being thrown into a huge steamer.

The three soon found themselves on a platform as transparent as glass, with churning lava beneath their feet. The magma bubbles restlessly, and the space seems to be refracted and distorted by the high temperature.

The three of them were a little confused.

"It's amazing. Is this real magma?" The thick-headed Judai couldn't have any nervousness at all, lying on the edge of the transparent platform and looking around.

"This is the back of the school, right?" Asuka looked around, a little unsure.

There was a volcano on the island of Duel Academy, and all the students here knew about it.

But moving the three of them from the dormitory to the crater of the back mountain in an instant
Who has such power!?

The answer was soon revealed.

A bunch of fire dragons soared into the sky from the rolling lava! It flew high into the air and plummeted down like a waterfall. It hit the transparent platform hard, and hot waves of heat swept across the floor.

A figure slowly walked out of the wave of flames. Lava that could burn an ordinary person to ashes slowly drained away from the man's body. The hem of the black trench coat undulated behind him, and the eyes of the dark mask shone with scarlet light.

At this time, Asuka was completely unaware that this person was her biological brother, Tenjoin Fubuki, who disappeared on the island a year ago.

But now his consciousness has been completely swallowed up by the advanced existence called Nightshroud. Although this was still Fubuki's body, the consciousness that had taken over this body was already another existence.

"My name is Nightshroud." He said coldly, his eyes sweeping over several people, "I am here to hunt the souls of the chosen duelists.

Accept the Shadow Game with me. This is the only way you can get out of this realm. "

After a pause, he showed a cruel sneer.

"But the souls of those who lose will become sacrifices to darkness."

"Shadow Game?" Asuka became nervous.

The girl was indeed a courageous and talented duelist, but so far she has never been exposed to something as dangerous as a Shadow Game.

And Judai was no stranger to this.

He stepped forward very boldly and stood in front of Asuka and Hayato.

"Okay, if you want to duel, feel free to come over. I accept this challenge!"

Asuka's heart moved slightly when she saw him stepping forward without thinking.

After hearing the horrifying condition that "the souls will become sacrifices to Nightshroud", he was still able to stand up for his companions without hesitation

The girl felt that she had already lost to Judai in this regard because of her brief fear and hesitation when facing the "Shadow Game".

Of course, she might be thinking too much. Judai was relatively insensitive to dangers. He got excited instinctively just when he heard cards being played. Shadow Games and soul sacrifices were automatically filtered out by him

It's a pity that the other party didn't seem to be willing to give him this opportunity to play cards.

"If you want to duel, you can wait a while." Nightshroud said coldly, "Before that, the opponent I want to choose is you."

He stretched out his hand and pointed directly at Asuka.

Asuka was stunned for a moment and pointed to herself in confusion.

"Me?"

Chapter 804: She Is Still Your Sister!

"The opponent is me?" Asuka was a little dazed.

"Although I don't know the reason, I instinctively hope to fight you." The man who calls himself Nightshroud said calmly, "Why, don't you dare to accept it?"

Before Asuka could reply, Judai rushed forward: "Hey, don't ignore others! Your first opponent is"

"It's okay, Judai." Asuka stepped forward and smiled at him, "Since the other party has named me, I definitely can't back down.

After all, I am a duelist too! "

Asuka was a girl with strong self-esteem. She felt very guilty for being held hostage by Titan and being rescued by Judai last time. This time, the opponent named her to fight. She would no longer be able to hide behind Judai.

She didn't like to always rely on others.

"Uh okay then." Judai retreated.

Asuka may have felt that she didn't owe Judai any favors by bravely going up to the challenge, but she didn't know that Judai was even a little unhappy at having this exciting duel taken away

If it were someone else here, he might not give up this opportunity. But after all, Asuka was a "good brother". Judai thought about it and decided to give up this rare card game

But what they didn't expect was that at the moment they were locked by Nightshroud and involved in the Shadow Game, Asuka's mentor, Coke Sprite, immediately received a new mission prompt from the system.

The mission description said that her student Asuka was in a Shadow Game, and the location and opponent were clearly marked. And because this is Asuka's first time, if she won this duel, Coke Sprite, as a mentor, would also receive a very generous reward.

Of course, Sprites initial focus wasnt on rewards.

The moment she saw the mission description, Sister Sprite's heart immediately sank, her hands and feet were cold, and she panicked as if something had happened to her own daughter.

This was the most precious good student in their whole guild!

And unlike them, who died casually and unable to stay dead, if this lovely student lost, she would be gone for real!

Sister Sprite was so anxious that she rushed towards the back mountain and immediately informed the president.

When President Sandbag heard about this, he immediately became furious

Damn it, someone dares to touch our student!?

Coupled with other online players in the stronghold, a large number of people rushed to the location in a hurry.

But they still came a little late. By the time they arrived, the Shadow Game had already started, and until the duel was over, no one could set foot in that realm. They just had time to grab a front-row seat.

Thanks to the gentleman named Nightshroud who gave Asuka a final chance to adjust her deck before the battle, the mentors happened to catch up before the battle started.

Sister Sprite immediately became anxious when she saw it, and shouted to Nightshroud: "Hey! Let that girl go, come to me if you want to play cards!"

President Sandbag was particularly manly at times like this: "No, don't bully girls if you can, come at me!"

Anyway, the screwball's life was not precious. Even if someone accidentally died thrice, the big deal was that they would be forced to go offline for a few days. Although the card addiction was a bit unbearable, it was not a big problem.

But if their precious apprentice was gone, they really lost her!

Asuka didn't know what was going on, and couldn't help but be touched when she saw the teachers caring so much about her: "It's okay, sensei. Please take a look at the results of my practice!"

Nightshroud also sneered: "Once the Shadow Game starts, it cannot be stopped, nor can it be replaced midway. But don't worry, you will all have a chance when I finish her off."

It seemed that Mr. Nightshroud was very confident in his endurance. He could fight multiple people in succession and last all night in an activity that required a lot of physical energy. It was unusual for a Shadow Duelist.

Some players were surprised: "That's not right. Didn't this guy come out to play cards with Judai in the anime? How did Judai become an audience?"

Sister Sprite was also anxious.

Yes, if you are so capable, why don't bully that jellyfish head behind you? I promise that he can cure your card addiction!

What's the point of bullying our lovely Asuka?

Speaking of which, she is still your sister! Are you such a beast that you won't even let your sister go?

Nightshroud was also a top mini-boss in the early stages of the animation. Not only did he have the same ultra-rare card "Red-Eyes Black Dragon" as God of Gamblers, but his power also came from Nightshroud, the final BOSS of GX. It could be seen from the similar names.

In the early stages of the anime, it took a lot of effort for Yuki Judai to defeat him, and after the fight, he even went to the hospital bed for several episodes before getting out of bed.

Moreover, Nightshroud himself was Fubuki, the king who was once known as the "Twin Gems of the academy" along with Marufuji Ryo. Back then, his strength was equal to Marufuji Ryo. Now that his strength has skyrocketed after being swallowed by Nightshroud, he must not be underestimated.

Although Fubuki's record in the anime was disappointing and his winning rate was comparable to that of his senior Mr. Marik

If it were Asuka in the original anime, she might not be able to beat Nightshroud at this stage. And she doesn't have a background like Judai, so she might be killed if she's not careful.

That's why Sister Sprite was anxious, fearing that the UR student she finally got would be gone.

Now she could only hope that her special card training and supplementary cards for Asuka during this semester would work

"Duel!" x2

Nightshroud, LP 4000

Tenjoin Asuka, LP 4000

"I'm the first to go, draw!" Asuka took the lead in drawing a card.

President Sandbag was so nervous that his palms were sweating. He turned his head and looked at Coke Sprite: "Did you give her all the cards you bought last time?"

"Of course, I gave it to her!" Coke Sprite was also panicked, "I explained each card to her one by one, and the usage of each card was explained in detail for a long time!"

"Oh, that shouldn't be a big problem, right?"

President Sandbag said and looked sideways at the Coke Sprite.

Coke Sprite almost cried: "How did I know!"

To be honest, if she had the deck of cards that Asuka was holding in her hand, she would be completely fearless.

Most of the deck was Asuka's own cards, but after being carefully adjusted and optimized by Sister Sprite one-on-one, this deck had the retrieval ability, explosive capability, and field-clearing method that a high-level deck should have. It should be pretty good.

Of course, it could not compare to many decks in later generations, but at least in an environment like the GX era, it should be considered a top deck.

But Coke Sprite didn't dare to raise a flag.

After all, Asuka was just such a precious student, what if she lost because the goddess of fate was tempted?

Asuka took a deep breath to calm her breathing, her chest rising and falling with it.

While this duel was about her life, it was also an opportunity for her to give her best answer to her mentor who has been working hard for her these days!

She wanted to let the teacher see her current strength through this duel!

Chapter 805: Cyber Angel!

Asuka glanced at the first few cards, took a deep breath, quickly recalled what the teacher had taught her this semester, and immediately started taking action.

"I activate the Spell Card Merciful Machine Angel!" She played the first card, "Tribute 1 Cyber Angel' Ritual Monster from my hand or field; draw 2 cards, then place 1 card from my hand on the bottom of the Deck. "

She revealed a card from her hand.

"I use the Cyber Angel Benten' in my hand as a sacrifice and draw two cards from the deck!"

Asuka drew two cards, quickly selected a card from her hand, and stuffed it back into the deck. The Duel Disk quickly and intelligently sent that card to the bottom of the deck automatically.

"Then the effect of the Cyber Angel Benten'! If this card is Tributed: I can add 1 LIGHT Fairy monster from my Deck to my hand."

A card popped up from the deck and was quickly taken from Asuka's hand. The deck was automatically shuffled, and she revealed the card.

"I added the second Cyber Angel Benten' to my hand."

At this point, some players have already started talking about it.

"Hey, this is a good start!"

"Merciful Mechanical Angel exchanged two cards for two cards, and sent one more card back to the deck. It should have been a -1 hand advantage. But when using "Cyber Angel Benten" as the Tribute, not only will she not lose cards, she can even accurately retrieve a monster from the deck.

This set of operations compressed the deck's thickness, accumulated graveyard resources, and accurately retrieved a Fairy monster after two cards, making huge profits.

This move was completely unlike what an animated character should have, and it was completely inconsistent with everyone's impression.

Shouldn't the common characteristic of all characters in GX animation be losing cards?

"Sure, Sister Sprite!" She offered her a bargain and said, "You're good at teaching!"

Coke Sprite puffed up her chest and said, "That's a given!"

Don't you see how much money our guild and its president have spent?!

"Summon the Senju of the Thousand Hands' in defense position!"

The golden statue appeared on Asuka's field, with countless arms behind him spread out in different directions, like a peacock spreading its tail.

[Senju of the Thousand Hands, DEF 1000]

"The effect of Senju of the Thousand Hands'! When this card is Normal or Flip Summoned: I can add 1 Ritual Monster from my Deck to my hand." Asuka drew another card from the deck, "I added Cyber Angel Idate' to my hand."

Another search brought Asuka a new key component.

"Set two cards, I end my turn."

Asuka let out a long breath, causing a wave on her chest.

She was a little worried about her performance and glanced nervously in the direction of her mentor. She saw Coke Sprite giving her a thumbs up, with approval written all over her face.

"Then it's my turn, draw!" Entering Nightshroud's turn, "Activate Spell Card Graceful Charity', draw 3 cards, then discard 2 cards."

His starting hand was not surprising this guy was also a 502-type player. He had played a few card games in the animation, and every time he had a fixed number of cards stuck to his hand.

"I summon the Black Dragon's Chick'!"

A beam of lava fire rose into the sky, leaving an oval dragon egg that was burned red on the ground. The eggshell cracked open, and the little black dragon broke out.

[Black Dragon's Chick, ATK 800]

"The effect of Black Dragon's Chick'! Send this card from the field to the graveyard, and special summon from my hand"

Nightshroud exaggeratedly raised a card. In an instant, lava rolled in the crater, heat waves swept across, his black windbreaker kept rising and falling, and the jet-black dragon wrapped in lava rose into the sky!

"Show yourself, the legendary black dragon

Red-Eyes Black Dragon! ! ! "

Emerging from the hot magma, red liquid dripped along its dark shell with a hissing sound. The dragon's sharp claws fell to the ground, and the red pupils seemed to be boiling with hot fire.

[Red-Eyes Black Dragon, ATK 2400]

"It's here, it's really Red-Eyes!" Some players immediately became excited.

"God of Gamblers, can you still say these two are not your babies?!"

"Actually, I think Asuka looks more like Kaiba than Jonouchi"

"Fubuki's outfit also looks more like Kaiba?"

"But the Red-Eyes belongs to Jonouchi"

"Is that Jonouchi and Kaiba's baby?"

"Fuck, you are so crazy"

The idiots were chattering and arguing, and the duel continued.

"Spell Card Fissure!" Nightshroud's attack continued, "Destroy 1 monster with the lowest attack power on the opponent's field!"

Asuka looked at her field: "There is only one monster on my field"

"So I will destroy the Senju of the Thousand Hands'!"

The ground was torn apart, and the Thousand-Hand Statue's feet became unsteady, and it fell deep into the cracks with a rumble.

"This way you will be defenseless." Nightshroud sneered, "Battle! Red-Eyes Black Dragon, attack directly!"

The black dragon opened its mouth, its eyes seemed to be burned red, black lightning overflowed from the corners of its mouth, and what was brewing in it were pitch-black flaming bullets!

"Open the set card," Asuka opened the backfield, "Trap Card Offensive Guard! When an opponent's monster attacks directly, that monster's attack power is halved only during damage calculation!"
(Animation Card)

[Red-Eyes Black Dragon, ATK 2400 ATK 1200]

The jet-black flame bombs exploded head-on on Asuka's body, and the impact of the Shadow Game brought a scorching heat that was as high as a billion, as if it would evaporate all human muscles and bones.

The intense pain seemed to crush the nerves, and Asuka couldn't help but groan, her white and slender legs slightly bent.

Asuka, LP 4000 LP 2800

"Asuka!"

Seeing her unable to hold on, Judai seemed to start to worry about his companions. He looked at Nightshroud angrily.

"Hey, the guy with the mask! Let me do the duel!"

"Noit's okay."

Asuka rejected Judai's kindness, smiled at him, and stood up.

She was a little bit disfigured by the blast being inexperienced, she obviously still underestimated the intensity of the damage caused by the Shadow Game.

But she was a strong girl and she quickly cheered up by gritting her teeth.

"The follow-up effect of Offensive Guard', I draw a card from the deck," she said.

"Set two cards, I end my turn." Nightshroud chuckled, "At this level, you will be torn to pieces by my Red-Eyes' very quickly.

Shadow Game is not a child's play, it is a death game that only the strongest can adapt to. A hesitation, a hint of cowardice, any detail may lead to destruction! "

Asuka glanced at him, but only smiled softly.

"Really? Then let me return these words to you intact."

Chapter 806: Result of Training

"My turn, draw! Activate the second Merciful Machine Angel!" Asuka said, "Tribute 1 Cyber Angel' Ritual Monster from my hand or field; draw 2 cards, then place 1 card from my hand on the bottom of the Deck.

I Tribute the Cyber Angel Benten' that was retrieved from the deck in the last turn and draw two cards! "

She replaced two cards in her hand and returned one of them to the deck. The effect of the monster sent to the graveyard was also activated.

"The effect of Cyber Angel Benten'." She said, "If this card is Tributed: I can add 1 LIGHT Fairy monster from my Deck to my hand.

I added the Manju of the Ten Thousand Hands from the deck to my hand. "

Searching the deck again, after the "Manju of the Ten Thousand Hands" was taken out of her hand, the deck was quickly shuffled.

"Then I normal summon Manju of the Ten Thousand Hands!"

[Manju of the Ten Thousand Hands, ATK 1400]

"The effect of Manju of the Ten Thousand Hands! When this card is Normal or Flip Summoned: I can add 1 Ritual Monster or 1 Ritual Spell from my Deck to my hand." Asuka accurately retrieved it from the deck again, "I added the Ritual Monster Cyber Angel Dakini' from the deck to the hand!"

In this way, the preparations were almost complete.

Asuka showed two cards in her hand at once: "Ritual Spell Machine Angel Absolute Ritual! Ritual Summon a Cyber Angel' Ritual Monster by Tributing monsters from my hand or field and/or shuffling Fairy or Warrior-Type monsters from my Graveyard into the Deck, whose total Levels exactly equal the Level of the Ritual Monster!

I used the Level 6 Cyber Angel Benten in my hand as a sacrifice to Ritual Summon! Appear here Cyber Angel Idaten! ! ! "

Idaten was a Buddhist protector, but the image here was that of a graceful female angel, with a graceful and seductive figure, and her soft body curves are like undulating waves.

[Cyber Angel Idaten, ATK 1600]

Nightshroud sneered: "Huh, after all this hard work, you only summoned this"

Before he could finish his words, Asuka interrupted him: "The effect of the Cyber Angel Bente'n! If this card is Tributed: I can add 1 LIGHT Fairy monster from my Deck to my hand!

What follows is the effect of the Cyber Angel Idaten! If this card is Ritual Summoned: I can add 1 Ritual Spell from my Deck or GY to my hand. "

Asuka took out the two cards that automatically popped up from the deck in one breath.

"I added Senju of the Thousand Hands', and the Ritual Spell Machine Angel Ritual' to my hand!"

By now, many players have been a little surprised, and many have turned their attention to Asuka's mentor, Coke Sprite.

Not to mention anything else, just in terms of retrieval, card earning, and deck operation capabilities, Asuka's deck already had the flavor of a high-end deck!

Being in the spotlight, Coke Sprite couldn't help but hold her head high, feeling a little proud.

Strong, right? Now you know who taught her!

Even President Sandbag nodded slightly and was very satisfied. For a moment, he felt that all the money spent these days and the combined effort of all the brothers in the guild were worth it.

"Spell Card Machine Angel Ritual!" Asuka continued her combo, "Ritual Summon a Cyber Angel' Ritual Monster by Tributing monsters from my hand or field whose total Levels equal or exceed the Level of the Ritual Monster!

Use the Level 4 Senju of the Thousand Hands in my hand and the Level 6 Cyber Angel Idaten on the field as sacrifices! Ritual Summon!

The strongest angel comes here

Cyber Angel Dakini! ! ! "

A mechanical altar emerged, and a ritual circle opened below. Strange flames were ignited in the brazier, and the two sacrifices turned into beams and disappeared into the altar, and majestic energy exploded outward.

Stepping out of the whirlpool of the ritual was a mechanical ghost. She has four strong arms, two of which hold a shining sword, and the other two hold a long gold-encrusted staff.

[Cyber Angel Dakini, ATK 2700]

"The effect of Cyber Angel Dakini!" Asuka yelled, "If this card is Ritual Summoned, the opponent must send 1 monster they control to the GY!"

"Nani!?" Nightshroud's expression suddenly changed.

This effect was quite terrifying.

Because the effect of Dakini did not say "send a monster on the opponent's field to the graveyard", but "the opponent must send a monster to the graveyard". The target affected by this effect was the opponent player rather than the monster itself.

"Sending a monster to the graveyard" was an action that was forced on the opponent player. In other words, even a monster who "cannot be selected as a target" or "unaffected by any card effects" could not resist this powerful ability.

Even Gods were no exception.

Judging from the nature of this effect alone, "Cyber Angel Dakini" already had the top elimination ability, and was worthy of being the ace of the deck.

Now there was only one monster on the field in Nightshroud. He had no choice but to grit his teeth and send his ace "Red-Eyes Black Dragon" to the graveyard.

The dragon let out an unwilling cry but was unable to resist Dakini's irresistible power of judgment. Its body instantly disintegrated under the divine light and disappeared from the field.

"In addition, there is the effect of the Cyber Angel Idate sent to the graveyard as a ritual sacrifice!" Asuka continued, "If this card is Tributed, all Ritual Monsters I control gain 1000 ATK/DEF!"

[Cyber Angel Dakini, ATK 2700/DEF 2400 ATK 3700/DEF 3400]

Nightshroud looked a little ugly: "ATK3700?"

"Battle!" Asuka waved her snow-white arm, "Cyber Angel Dakini, attack directly!"

The mechanical angel stepped forward, her face was as cold as a pool of stagnant water, and the two steel knives in her hands fell together with the staff as if she was mercilessly judging the sinners.

But at this moment, the panic on Nightshroud's face disappeared instantly, replaced by a successful sneer.

"Huh, so simple." He said coldly, "Don't care about the opponent's possible counterattack, immersed in the powerful strength of your own monster, this arrogance will lead to your destruction!"

Activate Trap Card Mirror Force! "

As soon as this card came out, many people took a breath especially Just A Sandbag, the president of the Knights of Hanoi, who almost jumped up.

Damn, you actually used our guild's holy power to trick our guild's disciples?

"When an opponent's monster declares an attack: Destroy all the opponent's Attack Position monsters." Nightshroud sneered, "It's hard for you to reach this step, but this is the end!"

All your monsters will be destroyed by the light of the Mirror Force!"

The hemispherical shield released the divine light, and the dazzling light came back! The blue light was like an overwhelming rain curtain, covering the entire venue on Asuka's side, making it impossible for the monsters to avoid it.

But Asuka looked calm and withdrew a card from the graveyard.

"The effect of the Ritual Spell Machine Angel Ritual' in the graveyard is activated," she said. "If a LIGHT monster I control would be destroyed by battle or card effect while this card is in my GY, I can banish this card instead!"

"Nani!?" Nightshroud was shocked.

The defense of the sacred shield was split open by Dakini's blow, and the Cyber Angel was overwhelming, carrying a blow of 3700 ATK and hitting his undefended face head-on!

Chapter 807: Machine Angel Ritual!

The failure of the Mirror Force was unexpected by Nightshroud, but it didn't mean it was over.

"Damn it!" Nightshroud had to hand over the second life-saving trap, "Open the set card: Trap Card Kunai with Chain! When the opponent's monster declares an attack, that monster changes to defense position!"

The shimmering silver boomerang flew out with a light sound of tearing the air, and the long chain tightly tied the attacking Dakini with a metallic scraping sound.

All four arms of the Mechanical Angel were tied up, and the offensive was unable to continue, so she had to retreat temporarily.

[Cyber Angel Dakini, ATK 3700 DEF 3400]

The onlookers started talking again.

"Good guy, not only do you play Red-Eyes, but you also have Kunai with Chain? And you also say that you have nothing to do with Jonouchi?"

"Are you a descendant of the God of Gamblers?"

Although the main attack was blocked, Asuka's attack was not over.

"Then I still have Manju of the Ten Thousand Hands' on the field." She said, "Use Manju of the Ten Thousand Hands' to attack directly!"

Although it was only a lower-level monster compared to Dakini, the damage caused by direct attacks with the blessing of Shadow Game could not be underestimated. This blow caused Nightshroud to stumble back and almost vomit blood.

Nightshroud, LP 4000 LP 2600

"Activate Trap Card Paleozoic Leancoilia. Target 1 banished card; return it to the GY. I return Machine Angel Ritual' to my GY.

Then set a card, I end my turn." Asuka said, "At the end of the turn, the subsequent effect of Cyber Angel Dakini' is activated. Target 1 Ritual Monster or 1 Machine Angel Ritual' in my GY; add it to my hand."

She pulled out a card drawn from the graveyard area.

"I return the Ritual Spell Machine Angel Ritual' to my hand."

Although something went wrong and she couldn't successfully complete the kill, she had successfully won the upper hand. She has gained a dual advantage both in terms of the scene and resources. If she followed the normal thinking of playing cards, her victory was already more than half-stable.

Of course, that referred to the battle between normal players.

This was not the case with duels between animated characters. As long as the opponent's LP was still left, as long as there was still a chance to draw cards, no matter what the situation was, one could not take it lightly.

Even one card may turn you from the most perfect situation to the extreme.

"I admit that I have underestimated you." Nightshroud dusted himself off and stood up indifferently, "You are indeed an opponent worthy of your full strength."

"It's a compliment." Asuka didn't appreciate it.

"Hmph, then it's my turn."

Nightshroud drew the card, glanced at it, and immediately displayed it.

"The Spell Card Roll of Fate'. Roll a six-sided die. Draw cards equal to the result, then remove an equal number of cards from the top of my Deck."

The screwballs became noisy again.

"Nani? Didn't you pull out Jonouchi's deck?"

"Isn't this true?"

It's a pity that Nightshroud had Jonouchi's card but did not have Jonouchi's luck. When the dice hit the ground, the number that came out was just "4".

That's enough for him.

"Activate the Spell Card Monster Reborn'!" Nightshroud raised the newly drawn card, "Resurrect from the graveyard, my very soul

Red-Eyes Black Dragon! ! ! "

The black dragon wrapped in magma soared into the sky and returned from the underworld!

[Red-Eyes Black Dragon, ATK 2400]

"Spell Card Inferno Fire Blast'!" Nightshroud shouted, "At the cost of giving up the attack of the Red-Eyes Black Dragon' this turn, inflict damage to the opponent equal to the original ATK of that Red-Eyes Black Dragon'!"

To be honest, in this 4000 LP environment, a 2400 black flame shot was still very powerful.

The black dragon's roar released a dim light bomb, which exploded at Asuka's feet. The girl couldn't help crying out in pain, her petite body half-kneeling on the ground.

Asuka, LP 2800 LP 400

Coke Sprite felt her blood pressure soar and her heart in her throat. Next to her, President Sandbag has started to spit out the swear directly, talking about things like "not having the honor of a duelist".

Nightshroud didn't care and just continued: "Then I used the Red-Eyes Black Dragon' on the field as a sacrifice, and Special Summoned the new and strongest form after the evolution of Red-Eyes from my hand, bringing the ultimate darkness

Red-Eyes Darkness Dragon! ! ! "

The black dragon's body gradually disappeared, as if swallowed by the torrent of Nightshroud. The torrent gathered in one place and erupted together with the pillar of fire rising into the sky below!

The jet-black dragon was covered in steel armor, dark red lines spread along its body along special veins, and a dark storm erupted as its wings stretched.

[Red-Eyes Darkness Dragon, ATK 2400]

"The attack power of the Red-Eyes Darkness Dragon will increase by 300 points for each Dragon monster in my graveyard." Nightshroud shouted, "Now I have Black Dragon's Chick and Red-Eyes Black Dragon in my graveyard, as well as the cards that I discarded to the graveyard in the first turn Red-Eyes Wyvern' and Troop Dragon' so the attack power increases by 1200!"

[Red-Eyes Darkness Dragon, ATK 2400 ATK 3600]

Koala Brother Hayato, who had been quietly watching, finally couldn't help but spoke worriedly: "Oops! The Manju of the Ten Thousand Hands's attack power is only 1400. If he is attacked by the Red-Eyes Darkness Dragon with an attack power of 3600"

"Humph, it's over." Nightshroud sneered, "Although it was a good duel, it ends here. Come on, Red-Eyes Darkness Dragon! Attack the Manju of the Ten Thousand Hands'!!!"

The steel black dragon opened its mouth and brought a roar of despair!

"Open the set card!" Asuka raised her little hand lightly, "Trap Card Shift! Swap the positions of Manju of the Ten Thousand Hands' and Cyber Angel Dakini'!"

In this way, the target of the Red-Eyes Darkness Dragon's attack becomes Dakini!

[Cyber Angel Dakini, DEF 3400]

The black dragon's flame bullets tore apart the body of the Mechanical Angel. Countless circuits were exposed in her broken arm, and the blade was inserted into the floor while spinning.

"Did you escape a disaster?" Nightshroud said lightly, "But it's a pity. If Dakini is in attack position and you use the Shift' effect to change the attack target, her power can counterattack my Red-Eyes Darkness Dragon'."

"Indeed." Asuka did not deny it, but then smiled confidently, "But I still have many chances to defeat you."

"Arrogance."

Nightshroud was clearly not impressed.

"Then I'll set two more cards, and I end my turn."

"My turn!"

Asuka glanced at the drawn card, thought for a moment, added it to her hand, and drew another card from her hand.

"What I want to activate is the card I retrieved from my GY at the end of the last turn the Ritual Spell Machine Angel Ritual! Ritual Summon a Cyber Angel' Ritual Monster by Tributing monsters from my hand or field whose total Levels equal or exceed the Level of the Ritual Monster!"

"Sure enough, you want to counterattack through Ritual Summons." Nightshroud said solemnly, "But I expected this!"

Open the set card: Counter Trap Solemn Judgment! "

Asuka: "!"

Chapter 808: Solemn Old Man Cannot Stop The Operation

Counter Trap Solemn Judgment!

As soon as this card came out, the whole place was suddenly enveloped in holy light. The sky was overcast, and blue thunder roared behind the leaden black clouds.

Everyone in the audience gasped

His~ The Solemn old man is so terrifying!

Solemn Judgment was not a rare card in the original work not only has it been used by Yuki Judai as the protagonist, but it has also appeared in the hands of many minor characters who have only been given a brief shot of the scene.

But this did not affect its super single-card strength and interference ability!

It only needed half of the life points as a cost to cancel any of the opponent's actions, including summoning monsters and activating Spell/Trap. It was not an exaggeration to say that it had the power to determine the direction of the situation with one card.

Nightshroud, LP 2600 LP 1300

Nightshroud gritted his teeth and paid half of his LP, and the Counter Trap was activated. The Solemn old man appeared in the air with majesty and slowly extended his palm.

A bolt of lightning fell from the sky and hit Asuka's Ritual Spell, and the Spell Card immediately turned into ashes and disappeared.

"It will be difficult if you summon any more troublesome Ritual Monsters." Nightshroud snorted.

As the saying goes, "Bullying a girl pleasures you for a while, coaxing her burns you to eternity". Nobody knew how Fubuki would deal with his sister after he got rid of the control of Nightshroud

The Ritual Summon was blocked, but Asuka did not panic at all. She only thought for a moment, then changed her mind and continued talking about the book.

"Then I summon the Sonic Bird' to attack!"

[Sonic Bird, ATK 1400]

"When this card is Normal or Flip Summoned, I can add 1 Ritual Spell from my Deck to my hand." Asuka's deck popped up another card, "I added the Ritual Spell Machine Angel Absolute Ritual' to my hand!"

Nightshroud: "!"

Its a new Ritual Spell Card!?

He gritted his teeth, feeling a little uneasy.

Can you continue to operate?

Then Asuka quickly gave the answer Yes, I can!

"The Ritual Spell Machine Angel Absolute Ritual' is activated!" she shouted, "Ritual Summon a Cyber Angel' Ritual Monster by Tributing monsters from my hand or field and/or shuffling Fairy or Warrior-Type monsters from my Graveyard into the Deck, whose total Levels exactly equal the Level of the Ritual Monster!"

As she spoke, a card in her graveyard popped up automatically.

I returned the Level 6 Cyber Angel Benten from the graveyard to the deck as a ritual material!

Ritual Summon! Appeared again

Cyber Angel Idaten! ! ! "

The ritual circle emerged, and the beam of light shot into the sky. The graceful Cyber Angel flew out, and the energy turned into surging water under his feet.

[Cyber Angel Idaten, ATK 1600]

Nightshroud snorted: "It's this one again"

"When the Cyber Angel Idaten' is Ritual Summoned: I can add 1 Ritual Spell from my Deck or GY to my hand." Asuka drew a card from the graveyard, "I'll take the one you just negated. The Ritual Spell Machine Angel Ritual' is returned to the hand."

Seeing the card that was negated by "Solemn Judgment" return to Asuka's hand again, Nightshroud could almost foresee what was going to happen next

"Activate the Spell Card Preparation of Rites'!" Asuka said, "Add 1 Level 7 or lower Ritual Monster from my Deck to my hand, then I can add 1 Ritual Spell from my GY to my hand."

A card automatically popped up in her deck again.

I added Cyber Angel Benten, which was just shuffled back into the deck through the effect of Machine Angel Absolute Ritual, into my hand.

Then I returned the Machine Angel Absolute Ritual' from the graveyard to my hand again. "

The face under the Nightshroud mask was already quite ugly, and a cold sweat began to break out on his forehead.

"The Ritual Spell Machine Angel Ritual' is activated!" she continued, "I use the Level 6 Cyber Angel Benten' in my hand card and the Level 6 Cyber Angel Idaten' on the field as sacrifices! Ritual Summon!"

Coming again, my trump card, the strongest mechanical angel

Cyber Angel Dakini! ! ! "

Electronic ghosts and gods descend again on the torrent of rituals. Her steely face was cold and unsmiling, two long knives pointed downwards coldly, and the end of the staff fell heavily to the ground.

[Cyber Angel Dakini, ATK 2700]

"Dakini's effect!" Asuka waved her hand, "If this card is Ritual Summoned, the opponent must send 1 monster they control to the GY. Come on, send the Red-Eyes Darkness Dragon' to the graveyard!"

Nightshroud gritted his teeth, but there was nothing he could do. The power of judgment came down, and the Cyber Angel Dakini didn't even move a single step. With one strike from the air, he sent the powerful Red-Eyes Darkness Dragon into the underworld to sleep.

But Nightshroud hasn't given up yet.

From the corner of his eye, he glanced at the set card at his feet.

That was his last line of defense, the only thing he could rely on when facing Asuka's menacing Machine Angel army.

"The effect of Cyber Angel Benten! If this card is Tributed: I can add 1 LIGHT Fairy monster from my Deck to my hand.

The card I want to add to my hand is this one! "

The card deck was automatically retrieved again, and Asuka pulled out the card that automatically popped up.

"Ritual Monster Cyber Angel Izana!"

Nightshroud: "!"

Is it a new ritual monster?

"Then there is the effect of Cyber Angel Idaten'. If this card is Tributed, all Ritual Monsters I control gain 1000 ATK/DEF!"

[Cyber Angel Dakini, ATK 2700 ATK 3700]

Asuka then played the second ritual card she had retrieved: "The Ritual Spell Machine Angel Absolute Ritual' is activated!

I sacrificed the level 4 "Sonic Bird" and the level 4 "Manju of the Ten Thousand Hands" on the field as sacrifices! Ritual Summon! Come

Cyber Angel Izana! ! ! "

The ceremony was carried out in the mechanical altar, and the flickering fire in the brazier was extinguished. The afterimage of the metal angel flew out, spinning gracefully like a dancer, holding a cold battle ax and a golden trident in his hand.

[Cyber Angel Izana, ATK 2500]

"Izana's effect!" Asuka yelled, "If this card is Ritual Summoned, the opponent must send a Spell or Trap Card on their field to the graveyard!"

"Nani!?" Nightshroud completely lost his composure.

There was only the last Spell and Trap Card left on his field!

There was no choice. The card was overturned in an instant under the light of the Cyber Angel, and it hurriedly exited the game without ever getting a chance to show its strength.

Counter Trap Negate Attack.

A Counter Trap that could negate the opponent's attack and force the end of the Battle Phase.

This card might have given Nightshroud a chance to make a comeback but that was no longer possible.

"Okay that's amazing, Asuka." Judai said blankly, "Why do you feel like you're a different person compared to when you first started school?"

Asuka smiled confidently.

"Battle!" She raised her hand, "Cyber Angel Dakini, directly attacks Nightshroud!"

There were no monsters, no set cards, not even handcards. Nightshroud's frontline collapsed completely, and available resources were completely crushed, leaving no possibility of fighting back.

Dakini's blow passed smoothly without any ripples. Two blades of light flashed and slashed down Nightshroud's body. Then the heavy staff collided head-on like a speeding car, knocking the opponent away with a groan, and the black trench coat flew up.

Chapter 809: What Is The Meaning?

A Shadow Duelist from an organization called "Seven Stars" launched an undeclared war and attacked the Duel Academy in the middle of the night without any warning. But thanks to the first-year school belle Tenjoin Asuka who stepped forward and bravely defeated the Shadow Duelist who challenged her, the matter was contained.

Within one night, the news spread within Duel Academy.

Tenjoin Asuka, who was originally a star academy, became more famous because of this, and once again became the focus of the whole school's attention. A first-year student bravely accepted the challenge of the Shadow Duelist and even won beautifully, the little girl instantly became a star on campus.

As her direct instructor, Coke Sprite not only received generous rewards from the system but also received commendations from the academy.

Yuei Vu even directly sent a big gift package to Coke Sprite, asking her to choose the cards to optimize the deck construction of herself and her student Asuka.

In addition, Yuei Vu also opened a special limited-time discount channel for her. Within a week, Coke Sprite could enjoy discounts and benefits that were unmatched during normal events.

Asuka, who was the center of attention, had already entered the infirmary.

Shadow Game was not harmless, especially for a girl like Asuka who is doing it for the first time. After it was over, she was sent to the infirmary.

Chika-chan was in Yuei Vu's room at that time (learning to play cards). She received a call in the middle of the night and immediately went to the infirmary to work overtime.

Of course, Yuei Vu quickly followed over to understand the situation.

Asuka, the victor of the Shadow Game, was not seriously injured. Although the mental and physical burden was heavy, it was not a big injury.

Chika checked Asuka's body carefully and told her that she should be fine after just two days of rest.

But as the loser of the Shadow Game, Nightshroud's situation is not optimistic.

Asuka had been fighting fiercely with the masked man for so long, and when she finally won, she was surprised to find out

Nani, this is actually my brother!?

Asuka, who was supposed to be in a good mood after winning the card game, suddenly felt bad.

She resolutely applied for this school partly to find out the secret of her brother's disappearance. This was also the reason why she would break into the restricted area from time to time and wander around the abandoned dormitory where the accident happened.

As a result, after searching for so long, she finally found him, but he was accidentally killed by herself ???

Fortunately, Yuei Vu, who came with Chika, also helped check Fubuki's condition and immediately told Asuka that her brother was actually fine.

Or rather, it was Asuka who rescued him from the darkness.

Although the body that dueled Asuka was indeed Tenjoin Fubuki, the real person playing cards at that time was not his true form, but an evil existence called Nightshroud that power was sealed in the black cross-sectional mask on Fubuki's face.

After Tenjoin Fubuki disappeared, he had been trapped in the shackles of Nightshroud. His consciousness was sealed in the deepest part of his body and was almost annihilated. And thanks to Asuka breaking the power of Nightshroud in this Shadow Game, this body was freed.

So it was not Fubuki who was defeated and punished in the Shadow Game, but Nightshroud. The reason why Fubuki hasn't woken up yet is because his own consciousness has been suppressed for too long, and after a while, he could no longer even bear the burden of this body.

Of course, this shouldn't be a big problem. As long as the Nightshroud didn't come back to cause trouble, and there were no other weird dark beings coveting Fubuki's body, as long as they let him lie in bed to recover, waiting for his self-awareness to return, he would be fine.

Asuka still trusted Yuei Vu's words. After all, she grew up listening to the stories of the first Duel King. This conclusion also gave the girl reassurance. If she really killed her brother through a Shadow Game without knowing it, she might not be able to get out of this shadow for the rest of her life.

However, this incident also attracted Yuei Vu's attention.

He originally thought that since Kagamaru was dead, the attack from the "Seven Stars" would have ceased to exist. But now it seemed that he was a little too optimistic now.

So who is behind Seven Stars now?

First of all, he was sure that Kagamaru was dead he confirmed this with his own eyes, so he could rule out the possibility that the elder director was still behind Seven Stars.

But what he already knew was that Kagamaru had been controlled remotely by Tragoedia before. In fact, the old guy died a long time ago. He was Tragoedia's puppet for a long time.

Is it possible that the "Seven Stars" are recruited and established by Kagamaru has now become Tragoedia's thugs?

The last time the Northern Academy came to the island to hold a friendly match, Yuei Vu had already discovered that Big Lobster was also coveting the cards of the Three Sacred Beasts. Maybe this was all for the sake of the Three Sacred Beasts?

But what Yuei Vu still couldn't figure out was what's the point of this?

In the original work, the target of the Seven Stars' attack was the seven keys that sealed the Sacred Beasts, but the three Sacred Beasts here were sealed by Yuei Vu. There was no such thing as a key!

Could it be that he wanted Seven Stars to demolish the entire Duel Academy and kill all the living people to violently break the seal?

It didn't seem very realistic.

Moreover, no matter how arrogant Tragoedia was, he should also know that although the Seven Stars were all strong duelists with different backgrounds and abilities, they were still too young to fight Yuei Vu.

It can't be that Big Lobster is worried that our teachers and students upgrade too slowly, so he traveled thousands of miles to arrange to be delivered EXP packs by express delivery, right?

If that's the case, that's too polite. That's a free deal of experience, a card set, and free shipping. The last time a good person was so polite was Mr. Marik from the Battle City era. He was so polite that Yuei Vu felt a little embarrassed

The attack of the Seven Stars was not a big deal. Judai and others in the original work can handle it. Now that the GX protagonist group has been strengthened to some extent compared with the original work, Yuei Vu believed that even if he ignored a few Shadow Duelists, they should be unable to make any ruckus.

What was more concerning was the movements and intentions of the Big Lobster.

That night, Yuei Vu phoned Mokuba.

"I'm sorry, Brother Yuei Vu, I've been busy here and don't have time to pay attention in person." Mokuba's voice was a little apologetic, "But our specialists here have been investigating the matter you told last time about Kagamaru.

But the people behind the scenes are very cautious, and so far the progress has been limited"

After a pause, he lowered his voice, and his tone sounded a little weird.

"But about the new information you gave me last time about the Duel King named Hibiki Koyo?"

"Hmm. What did you find?"

"It really does."

Mokuba paused and seemed to be thinking about his words.

"Remember when the media announced that Hibiki Koyo was ill?"

"Yes, so what?"

"After you mentioned Hibiki Koyo last time, the commissioner of the Kaiba Corp did a deep dive on the matter but guess what? It's fake."

"What's fake?" Yuei Vu asked.

"The whole thing the rumor about the Duel King being ill is a complete lie." Mokuba said, "Hibiki Koyo is not ill at all. He is missing and no one knows where he is.

But we also discovered something interesting. Before Hibiki Koyo disappeared, he last received a commission mission.

We don't know what the specific content is, but we know that the client is from a government special operations agency, and the code name is D Does it sound familiar? "

Yuei Vu was silent for a moment.

"Get me a plane, Mokuba," he said. "Maybe we should discuss in person."

Chapter 810: Secret Mission

The helicopter landed on the top floor of Kaiba Corp's headquarters at two o'clock in the morning even though the group building was still brightly lit at this point.

Unsurprisingly, Mokuba was already waiting on the top of the building. Standing upright behind him was Isono, the loyal bodyguard of the Kaiba family.

"Sorry for asking you to work overtime so late." Yuei Vu jumped off the plane.

"It's okay." Mokuba waved his hands grandly, "I'm very happy to be able to help Brother Yuei Vu."

As he spoke, he led Yuei Vu into the building. The automatic door slid open after the smart lock verified their identities. The two walked into the building, with Uncle Isono following behind at a certain distance.

"President Kaiba isn't here again?"

Yuei Vu felt that the president seemed to be getting busier and busier recently, and no one else was around when he came to the company headquarters several times.

"Going on a business trip again?"

"No." Mokuba said with shame, "My brother heard that Yugi is back, and I have been trying to stop him from dueling recently. For some reason, my brother has been talking about Yugi since he came back from your Duel Academy last time, seems to be more interested in finding Yugi to duel with than before

By the way, Brother Yuei Vu, do you know what's going on? "

".I have no idea."

Yuei Vu thought of the "Gandora the Dragon of Destruction" that he had given Judai and Manjome before they started fighting, so he just pretended to lie as if nothing had happened.

Judging from the results, he felt that his operation should be given full marks. Ever since Judai defeated Manjome that time, the president had not mentioned playing cards with him for a long time. He guessed that the president's head was full of Yugi these days and he had no time to think about anything else.

This wave was called hatred transfer.

By sacrificing Yugi as a target, he gained his hard-earned leisure time under the nose of the president.

"Let's not talk about this for now." Yuei Vu went straight to the topic, "What did you say about Hibiki Koyo?"

"Oh."

Mokuba handed him the tablet he had prepared. Yuei Vu took it and what was displayed was the news report from that year.

Reports said that the second-generation Duel King Hibiki Koyo suddenly fell ill and fell into a coma while on vacation abroad, and was sent to a local hospital for emergency treatment. However, the specific process was unclear, and the specific matters were not explained clearly.

"This was the original statement made to the outside world, but it is not the truth."

Mokuba helped Yuei Vu turn the screen to the next page.

It was a photo of a paper document with the words "Top Secret" printed on it. The signed unit is the special government agency called "Department D" a special department specially established by superiors to deal with supernatural phenomena after the Doma incident.

"Since its establishment, Department D has been trying to attract top duelists from all walks of life, hoping that the power of those masters can be used by them. Their leader Fujino will contact my brother every three days and often discuss cooperation matters between Kaiba Corp and their department. "

Mokuba obviously didn't like Fujino very much, and his tone was full of dissatisfaction when he talked about him.

He always felt that this guy coveted something from the Kaiba Corp, but he didn't know what it was "The terms they offered are indeed very generous, and many duelists are indeed willing to work for them." Mokuba said, "There are signs that Mr. Hibiki Koyo had this intention.

Although Mr. Koyo did not accept the invitation to become an agent after winning the title of Duel King, there is a cooperative relationship between him and the department.

Sometimes Department D will encounter some troubles that are difficult to handle. At this time, they will ask Mr. Koyo to help solve it. But Mr. Koyo is not interested in reward, he just hopes to be helpful. "

"Sounds like SHIELD and Captain America." Yuei Vu said.

"What?" Mokuba didn't understand.

"Nothing, you continue."

"Oh. Let's talk about Mr. Koyo's last mission This was originally highly confidential, but the people in our group in the department helped us get it."

It was not that easy even for the Kaiba Corp, which almost ruled the world, to place one's own people in such a department. Mokuba didn't know why, but the person in charge named Fujino had a surprisingly good attitude towards the Kaiba Corp, which made many things a lot easier.

Yuei Vu continued to read backward and had already browsed the general content of the file.

"Archaeology." Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows, "Archaeology again?"

Archaeologists have now become a famous group in various animated film and television works, and were commonly known as "Instigators of Doom". You never know which day someone in any corner of the world would dig up something that should not be unearthed, and the world would be destroyed directly

"Well, the cause of the matter was that an archaeological team dug up a certain object." Mokuba explained, "This top-secret document only involves the content of Mr. Koyo's mission. Because the participants in the mission do not need to know what the object is, so it is not mentioned in it.

In short, it was described as an extremely dangerous object, which shocked the entire archaeological team the moment it was exposed to the light.

At that time, many people judged that this was beyond the scope of what they could handle. Its level of evil was frightening, and it should be handled by more professional people. "

"So they contacted the government department." Yuei Vu said.

"This is when Department D steps in," Mokuba said, reaching out and turning another page on the screen in Yuei Vu's hand.

"The mission description says this is a simple escort mission. They need to rush to the archaeological site, take over the object from the archaeological team, and transport it back to the headquarters. It's that simple."

"It doesn't sound like a mission that requires the Duel King to take action." Yuei Vu said.

"That's the problem." Mokuba said seriously, "That thing is described by archaeologists as a frighteningly evil' thing no matter what it is, they obviously think that it requires a duel king to be in charge. Something that makes people feel at ease.

"So things didn't go as smoothly as they said?"

"It seems so," Mokuba said. "Their ship encountered rare storms and tsunamis at sea. From subsequent analysis, it was found that it was extremely abnormal weather.

There was no sign that they would encounter a storm, and the cyclone mixed with thunderstorms seemed to only cover the specific area where the transport ship was located. "

Yuei Vu continued to flip back, only to find that the document had reached the last page.

He raised his head: "No more?"

"Yeah, that's all." Mokuba shrugged helplessly, "Their ship rode the wind and waves and passed through the storm back to the headquarters. But Mr. Hibiki Koyo disappeared, and he never came back from that mission.

But at the same time, he was also the only missing person on that mission list. "

"So what happened in the storm?"

"I don't know. There are no relevant written records even within Department Dor maybe we didn't find it."

"What about the archaeological team? What should they know?"

"This is also the weird part." Mokuba looked a little solemn, "Our people carefully investigated the situation of everyone in that team, and found that all of them had accidents after the excavation."

"Everyone had accidents?" Yuei Vu asked curiously.

"Yes. Some people were in car accidents, and others fell and died while riding horses." Mokuba said, "Among the remaining people, two went insane and went to a mental hospital, while others fell ill and are bedridden in the hospital to this day."

This was a bit weird.

This reminded Yuei Vu of the anecdote in DM when the stone tablets of the Three Egyptian Gods were unearthed. Before Pegasus personally took over the production of the three God cards, all the designers who had handled those three slates went crazy and had no good end.

So what exactly did the archaeological team unearth? Whats the connection with Hibiki Koyos disappearance?

"But there is still one person left in that team, who is neither crazy nor dead." Mokuba called up the relevant files, "Koizumi Keita, the captain of that archaeological team.

He has retired early since that incident, but the Kaiba Corp found his current address. Maybe you want to take a look? "

"Give me the address." Yuei Vu said, "I'll go see him."
