

I Play Yu-Gi 831

Chapter 831: The Supremacy Sun!

Tragoedia's back row coverage continued to increase, but he did not launch any form of offense, which made Yugi frown.

To be honest, the direction of the duel was a bit strange. Neither side acted rashly, but they were both digging holes and laying minefields.

"My turn, draw!"

As a trap master, Yugi knew very well that the longer this situation lasted, the more disadvantageous it would be. If you didn't try to take the initiative to attack, the trap would still be there where it should be. It would only dig deeper and deeper, making you more and more trapped and unable to extricate yourself.

If you saw the opponent's backcourt stacking four or five cards, you could not just do nothing and wait for the typhoon. Duel was actually a fast-paced game, and there was not much time for you to wait leisurely.

Especially when masters competed with each other, missing an opportunity might directly determine the outcome of the situation.

Yugi decided to take the offensive step first: "Summon the second Delta The Magnet Warrior', in attack position!"

[Delta The Magnet Warrior, ATK 1600]

"Delta's effect If this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can send 1 Level 4 or lower Magnet Warrior' monster from my Deck to the GY." Yugi revealed a card from the deck, "I send Gamma The Electromagnet Warrior' to the graveyard.

Then its time to enter the battle! Delta The Magnet Warrior, attack directly! "

The magnet warrior's eyes lit up with light gold spots. He ignored the blockade in the backcourt and flew directly across the field. He waved his steel fist and landed on Tragoedia's head.

"Hmph, open the set card." Tragoedia said, "Trap Card Ring of Destruction! Destroy 1 face-up monster and inflict damage to both players equal to its ATK."

The ring full of grenades fell on the neck of the magnet warrior. Before the mechanical warrior could swing his fist, it was detonated on the spot and exploded into pieces.

Yugi, LP 4000 LP 2400

Tragoedia, LP 4000 LP 2400

The blast of air was scorching hot, and it also contained a bit of strange dark miasma. Yugi took two staggering steps back, the Millennium Puzzle swinging unsteadily in his chest.

"Are you going to cut off my LP even if it damages yourself?"

Yugi said and drew another card.

"Set a card, I end my turn."

Although the monster was bombed again, at this time his back row was already filled with three black cards. Most people might feel their scalp numb when they see this posture.

"My turn."

Tragoedia drew the card and glanced at the three set cards at the back row of Yugi with a strange expression.

Big Lobster never expected that the first-generation duel king would also take the path of a nether player!

I, Tragoedia, am originally a being from the underworld. It is natural to play nether decks. How can you, a duel king from the living world, learn this trick?

But he didn't flinch, instead, he curled his lips into a contemptuous sneer.

Hey, are you playing autistic with me?

You are seeking death!

When it comes to being autistic, I have absolute confidence!

Tragoedia finally started to take action: "Activate the Continuous Spell Ebon Sun' from the hand!" (manga card)

The venue for the duel changed instantly. The color of the rising and falling seawater seemed to dim, and the blue sky turned black as if soaked in ink. A sun that seemed to be burning with dark flames hung high in the sky.

Yugi couldn't help but take another look at the black sun in mid-air, and alertly felt a hint of something bad coming from this Continuous Spell.

"Trap Card Embodiment of Apophis!" Tragoedia turned over a set card, "After this card is activated, Special Summon this card as a Normal Monster!"

[Embodiment of Apophis, ATK 1600]

"Activate the Spell Card Fiend's Sanctuary!" Tragoedia continued, "Special Summon a Metal Fiend Token' on the field!"

[Metal Fiend Token, ATK 0]

"Then I use Metal Fiend Token' and Embodiment of Apophis' as sacrifices!"

Tragoedia showed a cruel smile, pulled out a card in his hand, and raised it above his head.

"Look out, Duel King! The supreme king of the planets, the strongest of the Legendary Planet series, and the center of all things

The Supremacy Sun! ! ! "

There was a crackling sound like the world was opening up, and the sun pierced down from outside. The incandescent light beam pierces the earth from the black sun hanging in mid-air, carrying a burly and huge body!

He wore thick armor, and a dazzling golden light pierced out from the gaps in the armor, making it look like it was burning.

[The Supremacy Sun, ATK 3000]

"The sun of the Legendary Planet series?" Yugi looked up at the huge monster and couldn't help but murmur, "What a powerful monster, it has such a powerful spirit just by appearing on the scene."

"Yes, this is the center of the solar system!" Tragoedia said proudly, "Feel the unparalleled heat of the sun, Duel King!"

"It's really strong. In terms of aura alone, even Kaiba's Blue Eyes White Dragon' can't compare to it in its normal state."

Yugi nodded in approval and waved his hand.

"Open the set card: Trap Card Torrential Tribute! When a monster is summoned, all monsters on the field are destroyed!"

Before The Supremacy Sun could gain a firm foothold, he saw seemingly endless blue water rushing out of the trap card. The cold water reacted violently with the scorching heat of the sun, white smoke emerged with a hissing sound, and the huge sun sank instantly.

"Tch, is there really a trap to deal with this case?" Tragoedia didn't care, "Then the effect of the Continuous Spell Ebon Sun' is activated.

When The Supremacy Sun is destroyed, I can restore LP equal to his attack power. "

Tragoedia, LP 2400 LP 5400

"Is it a support card for The Supremacy Sun?" Yugi said.

In fact, he should have guessed it. The name of this card was "Ebon Sun", and the scene effect after activation seemed to be related to the sun. It should be a support card for the Legendary Planet series.

"I end my turn."

His ace was overwhelmed the moment it came on the stage, but Tragoedia didn't seem to panic at all but remained calm and composed.

"Then come to my turn"

"At this moment!" Tragoedia raised his voice and interrupted Yugi's words, "The effect of The Supremacy Sun' is activated! After this card on the field is destroyed and sent to the Graveyard, during the Standby Phase of the next turn; Special Summon this card from the Graveyard!" (manga effect)

Yugi was surprised: "An immortal monster?"

"Hahahaha! The sun is everlasting. Although it sometimes sets, it will always rise again!" Tragoedia shouted, "Get back on the field, sun!"

The golden light pierced out from the other side of the horizon, turning into a brilliant beam of light and piercing into the sky! Wearing heavy armor, The Supremacy Sun rose on the golden beam of light and hung to where the black sun was in the field as if it was ignited with his body.

Dazzling golden light filled the earth as if the entire land was burning!

"Another effect of Ebon Sun!" Tragoedia shouted, "When this card is on the field and The Supremacy Sun' is resurrected from the graveyard, its attack power increases by 1000!"

[The Supremacy Sun, ATK 3000 ATK 4000]

The sun rises again!

Chapter 832: Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior

The sun was rising again!

"Set two cards, I end my turn."

There was a ferocious expression on Tragoedia's face.

"The sun is everlasting! He is the strongest one in the Legendary Planet series, both the strongest attacker and the strongest shield! No matter what you do, you can't break through this defense line!"

Yugi didn't say a word but glanced quickly from the cards in his hand.

"Activate the Spell Card Graceful Charity'. Draw 3 cards, then discard 2 cards."

The additional grid on the side of the Duel Disk popped up, and Yugi placed a card into it, and the grid quickly retracted.

"The Field Spell Magnetic Field' is activated!"

A mechanized field quickly swept across the entire space. A huge circular stage was set below, surrounded by mechanized equipment and arms. Powerful electromagnetic force spread throughout the space, making crackling sounds in the air.

Tragoedia looked around at the modern machinery site, feeling like he was in a huge machinery processing plant.

"Is it a field support Magnet Warrior?"

"I summon the Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior' in attack position!"

A card was shot down by Yugi. The electromagnetic force was intertwined in mid-air. The parts were assembled and placed in sequence. The magnet warrior wielding a sword and shield landed lightly in front of Yugi.

[Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior, ATK 1700]

With the advancing of times, decks of classic series would also be strengthened over time, especially the series held by strong players like Duel King.

After so many years, all the classic series in Yugi's hands have been strengthened to varying degrees, and Magnet Warrior was no exception.

"The effect of Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior'! If this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can add 1 Level 8 Magna Warrior' monster from my Deck to my hand.

I added the Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior' from the deck to my hand. "

Cards automatically popped out of the deck. After being taken into Yugi's hand, the deck automatically shuffled, and countless cards turned into afterimages and overlapped.

"The effect of Magnetic Field!" Yugi raised his hand and pointed at the mechanical field, "If I control a Level 4 or lower EARTH Rock monster: I can target 1 Level 4 or lower Magnet Warrior' monster in my GY; Special Summon it!"

A card instantly popped up from his graveyard.

"I special summon Level 4 Beta The Electromagnet Warrior!"

Countless parts flew out from all over the electromagnetic field and were quickly assembled with various mechanical assistance. The parts meshed with each other, and arms and legs protruded from all sides of the torso. The metal warrior stood side by side with his comrades, holding the two opposing magnetic poles of red and blue on his head.

[Beta The Electromagnet Warrior, ATK 1500]

"Beta's effect!" Yugi continued, "If this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can add 1 Level 4 or lower Magnet Warrior' monster from my Deck to my hand. I added level 4 Gamma The Electromagnet Warrior' to my hand!"

"Bah, one after another," Tragoedia grunted.

Yugi raised his arms: "I banish Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior', Beta The Electromagnet Warrior' on the field, and the Gamma The Electromagnet Warrior' in the hand, transform and merge!

The true power of the Electromagnetic Warrior is unleashed here, the ultimate Magnet Warrior Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior! ! ! "

The three magnet warriors disintegrated at the same time, and their bodies turned into countless suspended parts. The colorful parts were connected by light blue slender filamentary currents, pulling each other to assemble.

A brand new machine was quickly formed under the assembly of metals. His figure quickly grew taller. Steel arms, legs, and an indestructible long sword extended from the clusters of metal. His whole body was entangled with fine filamentary currents.

[Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior, ATK 3000]

"So this is Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior is this your trump card?"

Tragoedia chuckled sinisterly.

"You were able to summon it, but that's all you can do!" He raised his arm, "Open the set card: Trap Card Floodgate Trap Hole! When the opponent Summons a monster: Change that monster to face-down Defense Position!

Monsters changed to face-down Defense Position by this effect cannot change their battle positions!

The poor and powerful electromagnetic warrior couldn't even stand firm. He was facing a bottomless hole, and he was about to be sent directly to the underworld without any explanation!

But Tragoedia obviously didn't realize who he wanted to trick!

"Then I open my set card too!" Yugi waved his hand, "Trap Card Magnet Force! During this turn, if any of my face-up Rock or Machine-Type monsters are affected by an opponent's card effect, transfer the effect to an appropriate monster the opponent controls!" (animation effect)

That's right, it's the key trap used by Yugi to defeat the three Egyptian Gods in the DM finale!

Tragoedia's expression finally changed: "The effect is transferred to my monster?"

Yugi waved his hand: "So according to this effect, the Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior' will not change to the face-down Defense Position. It is your The Supremacy Sun' that needs to change its form!"

Even Osiris's Thunder Bullet could be bounced back, let alone a mere trap. The Supremacy Sun was immediately forcibly turned over, and the scorching flame-like sunlight disappeared in an instant, and the huge monster was covered with it.

"Did you actually make the sun set?" Tragoedia looked grim, "But even so, his defense power is still 3000. Berserkion's attack power cannot break through"

"The effect of Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior' is activated!" Yugi said, "Banish 1 Level 4 or lower Magnet Warrior' monster from my Graveyard, then target 1 card the opponent controls; destroy it.

Moreover, there is no limit to the number of times this effect can activate in one round! "

Tragoedia's expression changed slightly.

At this time, there were two "Delta The Magnet Warrior" and one "Gamma The Electromagnet Warrior" in Yugi's graveyard.

There were three rounds of ammunition in total!

In other words, he could blow up up to three cards in one go!

"The Delta The Magnet Warrior' in the graveyard is removed from the game. First, destroy the remaining set card in the backfield!"

Berserkion raised his sword and lowered his hand, and the electric light made of electric current shot out of the air, slicing towards the only set card left in Tragoedia's back row.

Tragoedia said solemnly: "Then activate the Trap Card Self Destruct! All monsters on my field will be destroyed!" (Original card)

Yugi was slightly surprised: "Destroy your own monster?"

But he immediately figured out the joints.

The Supremacy Sun that was set by the "Floodgate Trap Hole" has lost the ability to turn back, but if you actively destroyed it and used the sun's own effect to resurrect the next turn, this restriction would disappear.

And if he didn't do this, Yugi would definitely use the effects of "Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior" to blow up his Continuous Spell "Ebon Sun", then "The Supremacy Sun".

In this case, it was better to blow up the sun manually first, so that he could use the effect of "Ebon Sun" to recover a wave of LP.

Tragoedia, LP 5400 LP 9400

The Supremacy Sun was blown into ashes, and the black smoke slowly dissipated in front of Tragoedia. He looked at Yugi coldly, his smile still confident.

Yugi roughly understood.

Tragoedia's deck may be stuffed with a lot of cards that make his monsters self-destruct, including the initial "Ring of Destruction" and the "Self Destruct" just now, which not only allowed The Supremacy Sun to avoid the opponent's effect in a self-destructive manner but could combine with the effects of "Ebon Sun", allowing The Supremacy Sun to be infinitely resurrected while constantly restoring life.

And these were cards Yugi had never seen before.

"Your deck really has some very rare cards." He said slowly, "It is indeed rare to see tactics like this."

As if feeling praised, the Big Lobster raised its tail proudly.

"Humph, that's natural." He smiled coldly, "Of course, you can't have seen my deck. Because this deck is my own power, the power bred in my darkness, it is my unparalleled concrete expression of strength!

To put it simply, it was actually "printing cards", a traditional skill of BOSSes in Yu-Gi-Oh.

These days, if you couldn't even print a card, you would be embarrassed to say that you were a BOSS.

Chapter 833: Can You Still Trap Me?

"The effect of Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior' is activated again!" Yugi's operation continued, "Banish the Gamma The Electromagnet Warrior' in the graveyard, and destroy Ebon Sun'!"

The Magnet Warrior struck down with his sword again, and the sword light formed by the electric current immediately cut the black sun in mid-air into two halves. The burning hemisphere fell down, dragging the black tail flames and slamming into the blue sea.

As a result, Tragoedia's field was completely empty.

"Battle!" Yugi entered the Battle Phase directly, "Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior', attack directly!"

The mechanical warrior flew forward nimbly, thread-like electricity wrapped around the blade, and swung down from Tragoedia's body.

The host of the Big Lobster was hit hard, its body trembled violently, its facial muscles were twisted ferociously, and part of the dark miasma contained in its body was split open by the power of the sword and dissipated in the air.

Tragoedia, LP 9400 LP 6400

"My turn is over."

Tragoedia looked at the last card left in the back row of Yugi and became a little impatient for no reason.

The ammunition of Berserkion has not been used up yet. There was still a "Delta The Magnet Warrior" in Yugi's graveyard, and there was an opportunity to blow up cards at will.

That troublesome magna warrior must be dealt with first.

"My turn, draw." Tragoedia raised his arms, "The sun is everlasting. At this moment, the sun will rise again!"

The golden light soaring into the sky, the huge body rising slowly under the shroud of brilliance, the sun of the Legendary Planet series was here again!

[The Supremacy Sun, ATK 3000]

Of course, there was no "Ebon Sun" to assist this time, and the attack power of the "The Supremacy Sun" after resurrection could not be increased. This attack power was only comparable to that of Berserkion. If they battled, both sides would die.

But it only seemed like a lose-lose situation on the surface.

After all, the sun was an immortal monster. No matter how many times he was defeated, he could be resurrected unconditionally. From the results, it seemed that the only one who was defeated was Yugi's Berserkion.

What Tragoedia cared about now was the final set card in the back row of Yugi.

"Spell Card Card of Sanctity! Each player draws until they have 6 cards in their hand."

"Although I don't know what kind of trap you have laid, this trick is of no use against me." Tragoedia directly drew another card from his hand, "Quick-Play Spell Mystical Space Typhoon', destroy that set card!"

The black whirlwind pulled Yugi's card up like an invisible hand, and a bolt of lightning from the eye of the wind smashed the trap into pieces.

The only trap was dismantled, and instead of being surprised, Yugi showed a confident smile.

"The card you just destroyed is the Trap Card Boo-Boo Game! If this Set card is destroyed by the opponent's card effect and sent to the GY: I can target up to 2 Normal Traps in my GY, except Boo-Boo Game'; Set them to my field."

As he spoke, the two traps had already exited the graveyard area of his Duel Disk, and were covered by Yugi's wave and fell onto the field.

"And the trap set by this effect can be activated this turn," Yugi continued.

"It's actually a double trap, huh?" Tragoedia said coldly, "But I'm one step ahead of you! Activate the Quick-Play Spell Twin Twisters! Discard 1 card, then target up to 2 Spells/Traps on the field; destroy them.

I destroy the two cards you just set! "

The two cards that Yugi had just set on the field were both rolled up by the white storm, spinning feebly in the wind, and torn into pieces by the powerful vertical and horizontal wind pressure.

Tragoedia clearly saw that there was a "Magic Cylinder" in it.

"Haha, it's really dangerous." Tragoedia sneered, "If I attack you rashly, I will eat the reflection of the Magic Cylinder' and be greatly damaged."

Yugi:""

"The first Duel King Muto Yugi, I have to say that your skills in traps are indeed extraordinary. Ordinary people may find it difficult to guard against, and it is easy to fall into catastrophe if you are not careful."

He paused and his tone suddenly rose.

"But this doesn't work against me! Battle! I use The Supremacy Sun' to attack Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior!"

Yugi narrowed his eyes: "They have the same attack power, do you plan to die together?"

Tragoedia sneered: "Take a closer look at your magnet warrior."

Only then did Yugi realize that a demonic shadow had appeared behind his Berserkion. It was transparent and abstract, but its image was ferocious. It tightly held the magnet warrior's arms, making him unable to move.

That is

Archfiend of Gilfer!

Yugi realized: "The moment when the 'Twin Twisters' was launched"

"Yes, this is the card I discarded to the graveyard when I activated Twin Twisters'. Archfiend of Gilfer' can reduce the attack power of a monster on the field by 500 when sent to the graveyard!"

[Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior, ATK 3000 ATK 2500]

Tragoedia laughed.

"See? Traps don't necessarily have to be set on the field before they can be activated." Tragoedia was so proud that he even began to preach in the tone of a senior who was telling his experience to a junior, "Traps set on the field can easily arouse alertness and make the opponent beware.

Traps must be unexpected in order to be most effective. The best traps are those that are invisible. Just keep this in mind! "

In the original work, when Big Lobster had a decisive battle with Judai and Manjoume, the two consecutive turns of his initial move started with a completely empty front row and two set cards in the back row. He called himself a master of nether tactics and has an enterprise-level understanding of autism.

Yugi smiled slightly.

"I see, it seems like you are also very knowledgeable about traps."

Tragoedia's nostrils were turned upwards, and "That's a fact" was written all over his face.

"It seems like it's a good thing I didn't underestimate you." Yugi continued.

Tragoedia: "?"

The swollen lobster gradually began to have an ominous premonition.

"Your attention seems to have been attracted by the Magic Cylinder' just now. It seems that you didn't notice the other card you destroyed." Yugi said, "That card is the Trap Card Cross Counter Trap' !" (manga card)

Tragoedia: "!"

In the last round of Yugi, "Graceful Charity" was activated to discard two cards in the hand, one of which was the "Magic Cylinder" and the other was this "Cross Counter Trap".

"Cross Counter Trap's effect! During the turn this card is sent to the Graveyard by the opponent's card effect, I can activate up to 1 Trap Card from my hand!"

This time it was really beyond the Big Lobster's expectations.

When this guys Boo-Boo Game was destroyed, not only did he set up a Magic Cylinder for reflection attacks, did he even consider the possibility that I would dismantle the trap again?

Tragoedia looked at Yugi in shock.

What level is this guy on? ?

"Based on this effect, I activate the Trap Card Trap of Darkness' from my hand!" Yugi shouted, "If my LP is 3000 or less: Pay 1000 LP, then target 1 Normal Trap in my GY, except Trap of Darkness'; this card's effect becomes that target's activated effect, then banish that target!"

Yugi, LP 2400 LP 1400

Tragoedia's expression changed a little.

"Trap in the GY It cannot be!?"

"What I want to activate is, of course, this card!" Yugi waved his hand, "Trap Card Magic Cylinder!"

Negate the attack of The Supremacy Sun and give 3000 points of reflected damage! "

All the powerful blows of The Supremacy Sun fell into a cup, and the hot and surging golden energy flow burst out from another cup, hitting Tragoedia's body without any reduction in power.

Tragoedia, LP 6400 LP 3400

Tragoedia was so dizzy from the explosion that he was covered in black smoke and his brain was a little hot.

He felt unbelievable.

How many layers of traps is this?

The "Boo-Boo Game" was a cover to lure him into destruction, but the trap set using this cover is still a cover!

Also, the trap activated from the hand get the effect of the trap card in the graveyard?

Is there such an operation?

The anxious Big Lobster quickly adjusted and looked at Yugi with only more fierce and vicious eyes. He flipped out the next card in annoyance.

"Quick-Play Spell Mischief of the Time Goddess! Skip to the start of the Battle Phase of my next turn!" (animation effect)

Yugi was surprised: "Doesn't this mean?"

"That's right, the sun has gained the ability to attack again!" Tragoedia shouted, "The Supremacy Sun' will attack Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior' again!"

The scorching torrent struck like a flare! The mechanical body of the electromagnetic warrior shattered into pieces under the powerful torrent, and the burnt-blackened parts flew everywhere.

Yugi, LP 1400 LP 900

Tragoedia raised his head again and let out a typical villain laugh, seemingly feeling extremely happy.

Hahaha, can you still trap me?

Then he saw Yugi respond with action.

Yes, I can.

"The effect of the Field Spell Magnetic Field!" Yugi said, "Once per turn, at the end of the Damage Step, when an EARTH Rock monster I control battled an opponent's monster, but the opponent's monster was not destroyed by the battle: I can return that opponent's monster to the hand!"

Tragoedia: "!!!?"

Damn it, your Field Spell is also a trap!?

Chapter 834: This Is Not A Duel At All!

The Supremacy Sun was rebounded by the effect of the field. Under the electromagnetic force, it feebly turned into a card and flew back to Tragoedia's hand. He was completely stunned.

Although he liked to say "The sun is everlasting" with great arrogance, deep down in his heart he also understood that The Supremacy Sun was not impossible to defeat, and there were many ways to solve it.

For example, if the card was directly bounced back to the hand like it was now, the sun would not be able to resurrect the next turn.

The Big Lobster was stunned, and his eyes gradually lost their highlights.

I'm so stupid, really.

I knew that there might be a trap in the back row, and I also knew that there might be a trap in the graveyard, but I never considered that there would be a hand trap behind the grave trap, and there would be a grave trap behind the hand trap.

After all this series of traps are over, the damned field was also a trap.

A series of pitfalls made Big Lobster doubtful about life.

Who I am? Where am I?

Is the opponent I am fighting a human being or a trap?

DOES THE DUEL KING MAKE THE TRAP, OR DOES THE TRAP MAKE THE DUEL KING?
IT'S A QUESTION THAT CAN'T BE ANSWERED BY MODERN SCIENCE!

I'm not crazy

But soon Big Lobster was brought back to reality by Yugi's voice.

"The subsequent effects of Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior!" Yugi shouted.

Tragoedia's heart skipped a beat at that time, and he forcibly recovered his senses.

WTF, why does it still have other effects??

"When Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior' is destroyed by battle, or by an opponent's card effect, it can cancel its own combination." Yugi showed three cards at once, "Special Summon 1 each of my banished Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior', Beta The Electromagnet Warrior', and Gamma The Electromagnet Warrior'!

Come back, electromagnet warriors Alpha, Beta, and Gamma! "

[Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior, ATK 1700]

[Beta The Electromagnet Warrior, ATK 1500]

[Gamma The Electromagnet Warrior, ATK 800]

Tragoedia tried his best to look calm and uncaring: "Oh, even if you summon these miscellaneous fish back"

"The effect of Beta The Electromagnet Warrior'! If this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can add 1 Level 4 or lower Magnet Warrior' monster from my Deck to my hand."

Yugi drew a card that popped up from the deck.

"I add the second Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior' to my hand."

Tragoedia continued to speak harshly: "More trash fish is still trash fish."

"The effect of Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior'! If this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can add 1 Level 8 Magna Warrior' monster from my Deck to my hand.

I added the second Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior' to my hand. "

Tragoedia shut up at the speed of light and just stared at Yugi with wide eyes.

It's coming again!?

After finally defeating that troublesome Berserkion, he was disassembled at the speed of light and immediately transformed into Unit No.2 ?!

How can a human Duel King be so awesome!?

"The second effects of the electromagnet warriors Alpha, Beta, and Gamma are activated!"

Tragoedia: "!"

WTF, why does it still have other effects?

You only have so many spots on a card, can you really write so many words?

And it's my turn! Mine!

Can you please respect my turn??

"The common second effect of the three Electromagnet Warriors' is that they can tribute themselves during the opponent's turn, and special summon 1 Level 4 Magnet Warrior' from the deck.

So I sacrificed all three Electromagnetic Warriors.

Show up, magnet warriors Alpha, Beta, and Gamma! "

That's right, what Yugi summoned here was exactly the most classic posture of the three magnet warriors he used when he fought alongside Atem!

[Alpha The Magnet Warrior, ATK 1400]

[Beta The Magnet Warrior, ATK 1700]

[Gamma The Magnet Warrior, ATK 1500]

Tragoedia learned the lesson this time (or maybe he finally felt fear), so he shut up and stopped talking.

Yugi's operation ended, and there was an eerie silence for a while. Until Yugi spread his hands and reminded him: "Okay, I have nothing left to do."

Tragoedia: ""

Being said like this during my own turn always feels like I'm being mocked

However, this was indeed a serious problem that Tragoedia was facing now. In his own turn, the opponent summoned three monsters, and a lot of resources were piled in the graveyard. But his side of the field was empty, and the only ace he had was bounced back to his hand.

"Set two cards, I end my turn." Tragoedia's actions looked a little helpless.

"Then it's my turn, draw!"

Yugi waved his hand: "Activate the effect of the Field Spell Magnetic Field' again! If I control a Level 4 or lower EARTH Rock monster: I can target 1 Level 4 or lower Magnet Warrior' monster in my GY; Special Summon it!

Resurrect, Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior! "

The magnet field was operating, and countless parts were assembled with the assistance of mechanical equipment. The electromagnetic warriors who had just left the field had returned.

[Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior, ATK 1700]

"The effect of Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior'! If this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can add 1 Level 8 Magna Warrior' monster from my Deck to my hand." Yugi revealed another trump card of the Magnet Warrior series.

"Valkyrion the Magna Warrior!"

It was also one of the strongest trump cards in Yugi and Atem's decks, and was also the biggest contributor to Yugi's counterattack and defeat of the three Egyptian Gods in "The Rite of Battle" back then!

"I sacrificed all the magnet warriors Alpha, Beta, and Gamma on the field! Transform and merge!"

Under the command of Yugi, the three magnet warriors lifted off the ground and hung in the air. Their bodies disintegrated and their parts were assembled. In an instant, they were assembled and assembled into a mighty and powerful combined god of war!

[Valkyrion the Magna Warrior, ATK 3500]

"Then I remove all the electromagnetic warriors Alpha, Beta, and Gamma on the field and in the GY from the game!" Yugi shouted, "Transform and merge!"

The three electromagnetic warriors also got off the ground, assembled and transformed in mid-air, and merged to stand side by side with the combined god of war who resembled the Valkyrion!

[Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior, ATK 3000]

Facing the two powerful Magna Warriors, Tragoedia finally began to truly feel the unusual pressure from the starfish-headed Duel King in front of him.

Its unscientific!

Can human duelists be this strong??

The effect of Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior. Yugi said, Banish 1 Level 4 or lower Magnet Warrior' monster from my Graveyard, and destroy a card on the field.

And now, there are three more Magnet Warriors that I just sent to the GY.

Tragoedia's face was almost deformed.

This meant that Yugi could blow up everything on the field!

Big Lobster was not feeling well, he even wanted to shout

This is not a duel at all!

Chapter 835: The Big Lobster Comes To The Battlefield

"The effect of Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior!" Yugi shouted, "Banish 1 Level 4 or lower Magnet Warrior' monster from my Graveyard, then target 1 card the opponent controls; destroy it!

I banished the Alpha The Magnet Warrior' in the graveyard and destroyed the set card in your back row! "

But Tragoedia immediately shouted: "Open the set card: Trap Card Fiendish Chain!"

The trap flipped, and magic chains flew out with the sound of metal breaking through the air, binding Yugi's electromagnetic warrior. The sword that had been originally raised to chop down was tied back tightly and completely stopped.

"The monster bound by the Fiendish Chain' cannot attack and its effects are negated," Tragoedia said.

In this way, the most troublesome card bombing ability of Berserkion was solved, so that he would not be defenseless in the face of unscrupulous bombing.

However, the crisis that Big Lobster was facing has not been resolved.

He had 3400 LP left, and Yugi still had "Valkyrion the Magna Warrior" with an attack power of 3500.

This would be the strike that determined victory or defeat!

"Fight!" Yugi immediately ordered, "Valkyrion the Magna Warrior, attack directly!"

The magnet warrior waved his sword and flew forward. The metal sword left a light blue current trail in the air, and the sword light was like blue lightning!

Boom! ! !

There was no doubt that Valkyrion's sword landed on Tragoedia's body, and the abstract virtual image formed by the dark miasma screamed like a demon.

However

Tragoedia, LP 3900

Yugi's eyes moved slightly.

How come you haven't fallen down yet?

Tragoedia gasped slightly, looked up at Yugi, and raised the corners of his mouth.

"Trap Card Nutrient Z'. During damage calculation, when I'm about to take 2000 or more battle damage: Gain 4000 LP first."

"I see, so not only did you survive, but the LP value was also restored a bit," Yugi said.

After a pause, he said: "Yuei Vu told me to be careful at the beginning, saying that the opponent might be very strong, and it seems so. Even from the perspective of an enemy, I must admit that your strength is quite rare."

"This is what I want to say." Tragoedia wiped the corner of his mouth, "I underestimated you, Duel King Muto Yugi. I thought that a truly strong person couldn't emerge from a weak human being. It seems that my thinking is too simple.

Even in my 3000-years-long life, I have rarely encountered an opponent as powerful as you."

Maybe Tragoedia wanted to show off, consciously or unintentionally emphasizing that "you are just a baby in front of me who has lived for three thousand years." To put it bluntly, he didn't get any advantage in playing cards and wanted to rely on his old age to show off.

However, the young man did not give him the face of an old man at all. Yugi was confused on the spot: "But I heard from Yuei Vu, didn't you sleep in a sealed state for the past three thousand years?"

Tragoedia: ""

"And he said that back then, your heart was taken away by the Winged Kuriboh, and you were sealed before you could meet the Pharaoh."

"Ahhhhh!!!"

The shame turned into a rage, and the Big Lobster roared angrily.

I'm so angry!

When I acquire the power of the three Sacred Beasts, I must kill that damn Duel King Yuei Vu!

Why is this guy's mouth so big? Don't you know that there are some things that you can't talk about?

He seriously doubted that if he allowed the Duel King to continue like this, it wouldn't be long before the whole world knew about his Big Lobster's shameful history!

Thinking of this, Tragoedia couldn't help but feel angry and fearful, and his eyes on Muto Yugi became even more sinister and fierce.

I must win this duel!

I must snatch away the three Sacred Beasts, kill these abominable Duel Kings, and conquer the world

Then kill everyone who has heard of my history of shame!

Anger seemed to have turned into substantial darkness, erupting from Tragoedia's body like a flood!

It was as if sin and all kinds of negative emotions suddenly found a carrier and burst out in the form of darkness visible to the naked eye. The miasma emerged arrogantly in the air, its shape distorted, like something struggling in a quagmire, trying hard to shape into some abstract shape.

A pair of thin and narrow eyes were lit up, and the quagmire seemed to be attached to the shell of a huge thing, shaping into some abstract shape. Those eyes were shining with yellow light, like a devil peering into the world through the cracks in hell.

The moment that thing appeared, Yugi felt an unparalleled sense of trembling.

Unlike sacred and majestic monsters like Blue-Eyed White Dragon or even Egyptian Gods, this thing felt like the aggregation of all evil, a form that was conceived after extreme emotions such as despair, fear, and rage found a carrier.

Tragoedia was summoned!

"I, Tragoedia', can be Special Summoned directly from the hand when I receive battle damage."

Tragoedia's voice was low and hoarse, and when he spoke, his voice was buzzing and vibrating, which was indescribably weird.

"Is this your true body?" Yugi murmured.

"I gain 600 ATK/DEF for each card in my hand, but my current hand only has 1 card, so my attack power is only 600."

[Tragoedia, ATK 600]

But even so, Tragoedia's "force" had been amplified to the extreme the moment he appeared.

Ordinary duelists might not even be able to face him in a normal duel.

"My turn, draw! Activate the Spell Card Graceful Charity'. Draw 3 cards, then discard 2 cards."

With a wave of his hand, he took out two cards.

"I set a card on the field, and then activate the Spell Card Card of Demise!! I can draw cards until I have 5 cards in my hand. During my 5th Standby Phase after activation, send all cards in my hand to the Graveyard."

Yugi frowned slightly: "The attack power of 'Tragoedia' depends on the number of cards in the hand"

"That's right, so my own attack power will increase accordingly!"

[Tragoedia, ATK 600 ATK 3000]

After a pause, he smiled sinisterly: "You must be thinking that with my attack power, I can neither defeat your 'Valkyrion the Magna Warrior' nor the 'Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior', right?"

Yugi:""

"Now let me show you the abilities I have!" Tragoedia shouted, "My own special effect! Once per turn: I can send 1 monster from my hand to the GY, then target 1 face-up monster the opponent controls with the same Level the sent monster had in the hand; take control of that face-up monster!"

Yugi was shocked: "It's the effect of gaining control?"

This effect was also very consistent with the performance of Big Lobster in the original manga.

Tragoedia's most dangerous power in the GX manga was his ability to brainwash people. He remotely controlled a large number of powerful duelists as his pawns to invade the Duel Academy. Sometimes he could invade the opponent's brain without even noticing by simply inserting a card into someone else's deck.

This ability was reflected in the duel, and it was obviously a professional in mind control and NTR.

I send the Level 8 Invader of Darkness in my hand to the graveyard, and my own effect is activated!

Tragoedia had an enthusiastic look on his face as if he was extremely looking forward to and excited about taking Yugi's monster away.

"Become my servant! Valkyrion the Magna Warrior!"

Chapter 836: Imperion Magnum!

Yugi clearly saw that the dark miasma radiating from Tragoedia's body involuntarily invaded the magnetic warrior on his side. Valkyrion's eyes suddenly darkened, as if he was possessed, and he was helplessly dragged to the opposite side like a puppet with strings.

[Tragoedia, ATK 3000 ATK 2400]

The Big Lobster's attack power has decreased due to the consumption of cards in his hand, but it didn't matter. At this time, Valkyrion the Magna Warrior changed sides. Yugi only had Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior, whose effect was silenced by the power of the "Fiendish Chain" and whose attack power was not as good as that of Valkyrion.

The situation that was originally an absolute advantage was easily reversed due to Tragoedia's personal appearance. Now Yugi faced the risk of being defeated in one fell swoop!

"Feel my power, my hatred, my rage, and then be defeated at the hands of your own servants!"

Tragoedia shouted loudly.

Of course, he didn't forget that there was still the troublesome "Magnetic Field".

As long as there was the "Magnetic Field", any monster that has fought with the Magnet Warrior would be bounced back to the hand. In other words, if he ordered Valkyrion the Magna Warrior to attack like this, it would immediately be bounced back to Yugi's hand.

"Activate De-Spell' from my hand to destroy the Magnetic Field!"

As soon as a piece of magic was eliminated, the huge field collapsed, and countless metal fragments were scattered everywhere.

[Tragoedia, ATK 2400 ATK 1800]

"Valkyrion the Magna Warrior, attack Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior!"

The controlled magnet warrior rushed out, like a mechanical arrow. The electromagnetic warrior, who was bound by the demonic chain, was unable to withstand the blows from his former teammate. The long sword fell from his right shoulder and opened a deep crack. The electromagnetic warrior cracked and collapsed, falling apart into parts everywhere.

Yugi, LP 900 LP 400

The impact of the Shadow Game was accompanied by pain that rippled through the body of Yugi the damage of a Shadow Game initiated by a monster-level existence like Tragoedia was naturally extraordinary.

But at this time, Yugi had already experienced many battles and had learned to turn a blind eye to pain. It was not like he had never faced stronger opponents.

He only paused briefly before continuing: "When Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior' is destroyed by battle, or by an opponent's card effect, its integration was released! Special Summon 1 each of my banished Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior', Beta The Electromagnet Warrior', and Gamma The Electromagnet Warrior!"

The broken parts were quickly reassembled, and they were reassembled back into the form of the electromagnetic warriors!

[Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior, DEF 1100]

[Beta The Electromagnet Warrior, DEF 1500]

[Gamma The Electromagnet Warrior, DEF 2000]

Yugi went on to say: "The effect of Alpha The Electromagnet Warrior! I add the third Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior' from the deck to your hand!"

Tragoedia was unhappy: "The haunting magnet warrior"

In this way, there was no doubt that in the next round of Yugi, this trio of electromagnet warriors would be removed from the game and merged into Berserkion again.

Then with the powerful ability of Berserkion to destroy cards and clear the field, the next turn would be very bad for Tragoedia.

He has now fully felt the horror of the Magnet Warrior series.

When Berserkion was defeated, he would unfuse and transform back into three electromagnet warriors. In the next round, the three could merge again and transform back into Berserkion.

In addition, Berserkion also had a powerful card-exploding effect without the "once per turn" limit, which could ensure the completion of a quick kill.

The existence of the "Magnetic Field" could not only help maintain the operation of this system, but also has a strong protective effect any monster that has not been destroyed after fighting with Yugi's magnet warriors would be forcibly bounced back to the hand.

In addition, Yugi himself was a trap master, with all kinds of traps emerging one after another, making it difficult for the opponent to do anything

In short, very terrifying!

"The effect of Beta The Electromagnet Warrior! If this card is Normal or Special Summoned: I can add 1 Level 4 or lower Magnet Warrior' monster from my Deck to my hand." Yugi continued, "I add another Gamma The Electromagnet Warrior' to my hand."

Tragoedia thought quickly.

In other words, Muto Yugi currently had a trio of Alpha, Beta, and Gamma on the field, and there was also one Alpha and one Gamma in the graveyard and hand respectively.

"Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior" could be Special Summoned by banished three electromagnet warriors, Alpha, Beta, and Gamma, from the hand, field, or graveyard. It would not work without any one of them.

Tragoedia quickly made up his mind: "Then I use myself Tragoedia' to attack Beta The Electromagnet Warrior!"

Of course, Beta The Electromagnet Warrior could not resist the attack of the Big Lobster, and the powerful dark miasma caused him to disintegrate on the spot.

"The next one is this card" Tragoedia waved his hand, "Spell Card Soul Release!"

Yugi's eyelids twitched.

Of course, he was familiar with this card, because he also had it.

In fact, to be precise, "Soul Release" debuted in the Yu-Gi-Oh TV series in the hands of Yugi.

"This card is"

"That's right, this card can banish up to five cards from any graveyard!" Tragoedia grinned ferociously, "I'll take the three Magnet Warrior' Normal monsters and two Beta The Electromagnet Warrior' from your graveyard!"

The dark dimensional cave opened, and five magnet warriors were sucked into the other side of the dimension one after another, and soon disappeared without a trace.

As a result, all the "Beta The Electromagnet Warrior" disappeared from Yugi's field and GY. Alpha and Gamma alone could not be combined into the "Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior".

Not only that, this "Soul Release" also removed all the ammunition stored in his graveyard. In this way, even if Yugi could draw another "Beta The Electromagnet Warrior" and combine it again to create the Berserkion, he would have no ammunition to use to blow up cards and clear the field.

In this way, most of the resources accumulated so far in Yugi's operation have been wiped out in one fell swoop.

"Set a card, I end my turn!"

Tragoedia smiled grimly and seemed to have regained his confidence in victory. The arrogant expression on his face simply said "I feel good again".

Yugi actually remained calm.

"Then it's my turn draw!" Yugi said.

Tragoedia watched him draw the card and chuckled proudly.

Oh, draw when you still can.

Even if you print a Beta on the spot, it will be of no use

"Spell Card Owner's Seal!" Yugi waved his hand, "Return control of all monsters on the field to their owners!"

Nani! ! ?

Tragoedia's eyes almost widened.

Fuck, why this Duel King's card-printing is so violent!?

Even if you print a banned card like "Raigekki", I can pretend that you are lucky. But you actually printed a copy of my natural enemy!?

However, in fact, this "Owner's Seal" was not printed on the spot. It was one of those cards with "unclear meaning" that Atem had used back then and was kept in the deck by Yugi.

Strictly speaking, it's a divine draw

But Big Lobster also prepared!

"Open the set card: Counter Trap Magic Drain!" Big Lobster waved his hand, "When the opponent activates a Spell Card, negate and destroy it! However, the opponent can also negate this effect by discarding a Spell Card in their hand."

He narrowed his eyes stared at the cards in Yugi's hand, and glanced at the other set card on his field with the corner of his eye.

It would be best if it could be eliminated here, but even if it didn't work, he still had follow-up methods.

However, Yugi seemed to have given up on this opportunity and allowed this "Magic Drain" to negate his "Owner's Seal".

Tragoedia couldn't help but sneer.

Heh, it seems like there are no other Spell Cards in your hand, right?

However, Yugi only smiled softly, which made him feel a little scared in his heart.

"You must think that I don't have any other Spell Cards in my hand, right? That's not true." Yugi slowly drew the next card from his hand.

The ominous premonition in Tragoedia's heart had reached its peak.

"I activate this card Spell Card Change of Heart!"

Tragoedia was struck by lightning.

Nani! ! ? ?

"The effect of Change of Heart' allows me to target 1 monster your opponent controls and take control of it until the End Phase!" Yugi pointed at the opponent's field, "I want to gain control of Tragoedia!"

Tragoedia: "!!!?"

Damn it, you actually want to NTR myself! ?

F*ck it! ! !

Tragoedia was dumbfounded when he saw the sudden change in the eyes of his clone on the field. It seemed that he had really been brainwashed and changed his mind under the effect of the Spell Card. He ran to the field on the other side of the game without thinking ..

Tragoedia: Im so dumbfounded.JPG

To be honest, being NTRed yourself was not a valuable experience that everyone could have. Tragoedia was very honored to experience it at this time

Of course, he also tried to use the dark miasma of his clone to corrode the spirit of Yugi if other duelists dared to NTR his clone in the duel, he would really get caught.

But it's a pity that the first-generation Duel King's mental toughness was not like that of a normal human being. Coupled with the blessing of the Millennium Puzzle, Big Lobster had no choice but to give up this tempting idea after secretly trying several times.

He even felt a little frustrated that the other party might not even notice his efforts

"The effect of Tragoedia' is activated." Yugi said, "Once per turn, discard a monster in my hand to gain control of a monster of the same level on the opponent's field.

I discarded the Level 8 Soldier Gaia the Fierce Knight in my hand and regained control of the Valkyrion the Magna Warrior! "

Seeing that Valkyrion, whom he had gained control, was taken back by Yugi and was taken back by his own effect, now Tragoedia only felt that the whole person no, the whole lobster body was not alright.

From his perspective, this was probably what happened

The monster that I managed to NTR was NTRed back by the NTRed me.

Okay, it sounds weird, but that's about it.

Is this what the so-called "The only ones who should NTR are those who are prepared to be NTRed"?

"Activate Spell Card Polymerization!" Yugi raised his hand high, "I fuse the Valkyrion the Magna Warrior' on the field and the Berserkion the Electromagna Warrior' in my hand!"

Tragoedia was startled.

The fusion of Magnet Warrior's two aces?

What kind of thing can be created out of this!?

The two Magna Warriors merged into the vortex, and majestic and powerful energy exploded. The beam of light hit the ground like a waterfall hanging from the sky. The sharp sword cut through the curtain, and the giant mechanical shadow rushed out!

The upper body of the magnet warrior was made of metal and looked like a horse. Its iron hooves crushed the ground and its blade radiated electric light.

"Fusion Summon! Come, Imperion Magnum the Superconductive Battlebot!

[Imperion Magnum the Superconductive Battlebot, ATK 4000]

The true ultimate form of the Magna Warrior, the most powerful Magnet Warrior!

Tragoedia felt great pressure from this new magnet warrior, and a huge sense of crisis lingered in his heart.

But no matter what, he couldn't let this opportunity go!

"Open the set card!" He waved his hand, "Trap Card Ruined Future! Halve my Life Points and destroy 1 monster on the opponent's field, then inflict damage equal to half the ATK of that monster!" (manga card)

Tragoedia, LP 3900LP 1950

Although he didn't know what effect this huge magnet ace had, its attack power was four thousand!

As long as the damage of this trap passed through, it would be enough to kill Yugi instantly!

The trap was activated, and a dangerous fire broke out! The flames twisted their bodies like an out-of-control dragon and rushed toward the ultimate Magnet Warrior, as if they were baring their teeth and claws!

But Imperion Magnum just raised his arm slowly and slashed it down with his sword!

Like a sword with an irresistible will, it seemed to be enough to undo everything in the world! The flames that erupted from the trap were instantly wiped out!

Tragoedia's pupils shrank.

"How can it be!?"

"The effect of Imperion Magnum the Superconductive Battlebot!" Yugi said, "Once per turn, during either player's turn, when the opponent activates a Spell/Trap Card or monster effect: I can negate the activation and destroy that card!"

Tragoedia's expression almost changed.

This Magnet Warrior actually contains such terrifying power?

Could it be that I, Tragoedia, is really done here?

Lost to a human!?

Unacceptable! ! !

However, things did not change according to human will and of course, Big Lobster was no exception.

"Battle!" Yugi said, "The final blow is here. Imperion Magnum the Superconductive Battlebot, attack directly!"

The power of electromagnetism spread across the entire field, turning into an electromagnetic storm! Waves of electric current wrapped around the long sword in the hand of the magnet warrior, and the lightning exploded like thunder.

One sword slashed down straight and inexorably.

It was as if the darkness itself was being cut in half.

Tragoedia, LP 1950 LP 0

Chapter 837: The Empty Seal

Imperion Magnum's sword slashed through Tragoedia's body without any hindrance. The body controlled by the Big Lobster was knocked upside down in the air and rolled on the ground in an exaggerated manner.

The darkness in his body was almost blown out of his body by this blow, struggling and twisting in mid-air, like a face deformed by pain.

He lost.

This was a result Tragoedia had never expected. Not long ago, he was confident that his card skills were unparalleled and that there was no way a human Duel King could be his rival.

Apparently, he took it for granted.

Traps have always been Tragoedia's strength this could be seen from the fact that he didn't summon a single monster in his starting hand and just passed turn after setting two cards.

According to the original plan, he should have tricked the opponent into being unable to play any cards and was doubtful of life when facing the huge pressure and seeing an absolute strength gap

..In the end, that script somehow fell onto his own head!

He never expected that Muto Yugis skills in tricking people would be even more disgusting than the dark monster who claimed to be a professional! His pitfalls were not only endless but also continuous. Trying to avoid one pit would only lead to a more violent and unsolvable chain of pits

And that's not all. The most terrifying thing is that while he has laid out a large number of traps to make it difficult for people to move forward, his deck could still maintain strong operation, endurance, and explosive capabilities!

Those damn magnet warriors refused to fall no matter how hard they fought. They assembled, then disassembled, then reassembled again. At every turn, they could unscrupulously blow up both the front and back rows. They were fierce to the point of unfriendly

The more the Big Lobster thought about it, the more frightened and angry he became.

MD! Am I the villain or are you the villain??

As a decent person from the light side especially a grand master like the original Duel King, wouldn't it hurt your conscience to use such a despicable and shameless method?

Shouldn't the Duel Kings be summoning those gorgeous monsters that have harsh and complicated entry requirements to fight the evil head-on??

Maybe it's the so-called "karma never misses". In the past, Big Lobster used nether tactics to trick the second-generation Duel King Hibiki Koyo, who was conscientiously playing the "Pure HERO" deck, to the point where he couldn't take care of himself, and he became his puppet from then on.

Time has changed, and after so many years, Big Lobster, who used to rely on his autism to do whatever he wanted, never expected that he would bump into someone even more autistic than himself. So Big Lobster finally felt the pain he felt when others were tricked by him, and even had the urge to shout "This is not a duel at all"

The outcome of the Shadow Game was decided, and the dark miasma lingering around seemed to be torn into countless pieces.

Tragoedia knew he was probably gone, but he was still confused.

Its unscientific! This Muto Yugi shouldn't he just be a mere mortal?

Didnt the Pharaoh leave this world long ago? Isn't the rest just a container?

Tragoedia suddenly seemed to think of something in horror, his eyes fell directly on the Millennium Puzzle hanging on Yugi's chest, and he said in horror: "Could it be could it be that you are actually .!?"

As if seeing what Big Lobster was thinking, Yugi stepped forward, stretched out his hand to caress the gold pendant hanging on his chest, and said slowly: "I'm not him He's gone and will never come back.

But before Tragoedia could react, Yugi added.

"I sent him to the afterlife with my own hands."

Tragoedia: ""

Wait a minute, doesn't this mean

Even the legendary Pharaoh lost to him?

Damn!

The Big Lobster couldn't help but want to throw the table.

You should have said such an important thing earlier!

If you had told me earlier, I, I, I I would have given up this duel and run away!

The belated Big Lobster finally realized at this moment that this guy was a cheater and could not be sorted in the category of human beings at all. If he had known that the Pharaoh had lost, there would be no way he, Big Lobster, could have fought so hard at least not until he had regained 100% of his strength and acquired the three Sacred Beasts.

But it's too late to say anything now

Not entirely.

He also left a last resort, a backup plan.

"I was careless once and fell into the hands of those hateful guardian priests. That was once my mistake and my shame but it won't happen again."

Tragoedia, who was already dying, showed a ferocious smile at this time.

"Muto Yugi, you are indeed stronger than I expected. But you don't think I put all my bets on fighting with you, right?"

In order to retain most of the strength to confront the unexpected, the person who appeared here at this time was basically Tragoedia himself.

But just to be on the safe side, he still had one clone, the last clone.

Although the strength may be less than one-tenth of his original body, it was also the last escape route Tragoedia left for himself.

"What did you do?" Yugi frowned.

"Look, this is the part that you haven't caught up with until now, Duel King." Tragoedia coughed and sneered, "It's not what I did, but what I have already done."

Tragoedia didn't bet everything on a duel with Yugi.

He didn't think he would lose. The villain's unique expansion made him truly believe that he was invincible. But at the same time, the humiliating experience three thousand years ago also taught him to be cautious and let him know that he must prepare a Plan B for everything.

So this time he learned the lesson.

When he landed on the island from one direction and was intercepted by Muto Yugi, his clone had already controlled the body of a student and invaded the island from another direction.

His goal was very clear, it was the seal of the "Three Sacred Beasts".

After all, they were demons that were said to be able to rival the "Three Egyptian Gods". Even the two first-generation Duel Kings and Seto Kaiba, the one who was only under the Duel King, had to seal it away.

If he could get the power of those three cards, Tragoedia believed that he would be even more invincible!

He found the dense forest behind the academy where the "Three Sacred Beasts" were sealed a bunch of singing and dancing screwballs in the forest made him a little confused, and he was a little confused as to what the method was.

But Tragoedia quickly came to his senses. He was pressed for time and had no time to waste.

Therefore, he directly launched a sneak attack without saying a word, using all his dark power, he transformed into a giant lobster and bombarded wildly.

The screwballs were playing games and dancing, and no one was alert at all. They were blown to pieces before they had time to react, and many people were sent back to the respawn point.

There were not many players in the stronghold. Some were not in the stronghold, and some were not online yet. The unexpected sneak attack killed a few more instantly. The few remaining screwballs were obviously not big enough in front of a world-destroying BOSS like Big Lobster. It was so eye-catching that they all exploded without even playing cards.

There was also a lying figure who fell to the ground, pointing at him and yelling, saying that this villain didn't care about duelist honors, didn't even play cards, and only relied on sneak attacks and deception, was simply despicable

Tragoedia ignored them of course.

In fact, Big Lobster himself felt a little unsure.

After all, his previous mission to test the seal of the three Sacred Beasts failed, and he had no idea about the strength and form of the seal. In addition, he himself was held back by Muto Yugi, and the one who managed to get here was only a clone with limited abilities. He was not sure whether he could violently break the seal.

But when he tried it with his own hands, he was surprised to find that the seal seemed not to be as strong as he thought.

It was better to say that this layer of seal feels like a thin film, the kind that would crack in place if you poked it casually.

But Tragoedia no longer had any time to doubt. He watched in surprise as the red, yellow, and blue light pillars soared into the sky, and the huge Sacred Beast seal was lifted amidst the roar, he was extremely excited in his heart.

Coming, coming, coming!

I have broken the seal and successfully obtained three Sacred Beasts!

Soon, when I master the power of the phantom, the world will fall at my feet! I will be able to fight my way back to the shore in no time, and the first thing to solve is the damned Muto Yugi that has humiliated me!

The terrain changed, smoke and dust rose, and the mechanical device that sealed the Sacred Beasts rose from the ground. It slowly opened, and three slots popped outobviously, those were the slots where the cards of the Three Sacred Beasts were supposed to be placed.

well yes, "should" be.

But now that the seal has finally been lifted and the device has been cracked, the three slots that appeared in front of Tragoedia were all empty.

The seal was broken, but there was nothing inside.

Tragoedia stared blankly at the three empty slots in front of him, a ferocious smile frozen on his face.

What the hell? Where are my Sacred Beasts?

How can three big guys disappear? Where did they go? ? ?

Chapter 838: Is This What You Are Looking For?

There were three legendary monsters sealed on the island of Duel Academy, who were among the strongest beings in the world of Duel Monsters, named "Three Sacred Beasts".

Although no one had seen these three existences with their own eyes, their names were well known. Everyone knew that the reason why the Three Sacred Beasts were sealed was due to the existence of top duelists like Yusei Fudo, Yugi, and Seto Kaiba, otherwise, the consequences would be disastrous.

Therefore, for the academy, the seals of the three Sacred Beasts were also the focus of the attention. When Tragoedia had just invaded the territory of the Sacred Beast's seal, all big shots of the academy were immediately alert.

The whole school was instantly alarmed, and leaders at all levels called to inquire about the situation. Mr. Chronos, the most senior teacher in charge of academy affairs, rushed to the scene. Principal Samejima, who had gone somewhere unknown, was also dragged out of the secret passage under the office by other leaders (ignoring the one who was with him at the time Tome-san).

The school immediately went into full lockdown and entered a state of alert as quickly as possible. The special teams responsible for security put on Duel Disks one after another, formed a neat square formation and rushed to the scene.

The entire Duel Academy seemed to have transformed from a campus into a war machine in an instant. The parts that were usually dormant in various parts were quickly activated and quickly gathered together.

The unrelated students were quickly controlled and returned to the campus and their dormitories, while teachers and professionals quickly gathered at the place where the Sacred Beast was sealed.

But it looked like they were already late.

It seemed that the seal of the Sacred Beast had been lifted.

A group of people surrounded Tragoedia near the sealing device. Principal Samejima took the lead and moistened his throat as if he were preparing to take the lead in speaking.

Here, Principal Samejima didn't seem to realize that he was pulled out of the secret passage too quickly, and the lipstick mark on his face had not yet been wiped off. A teacher standing opposite him winked at him desperately, but the principal couldn't understand the message

All the teachers felt embarrassed, but the occasion was too serious and the enemy was still in front of them, so it seemed not good to warn him aloud, thus everyone just pretended not to notice.

Tragoedia tried so hard to remove the seal but could not find the three Sacred Beasts. At this moment, he was thinking about the philosophical question of "Where did the Sacred Beasts go?" At this time, he saw Samejima heading towards this station, his head was so bright that it could be used as a mirror, and there was a lipstick mark on his face. He was a little confused and couldn't figure out what this was.

Have I been fooled?

The so-called Sacred Beast seal is simply a trap set to trap me?

Principal Samejima coughed and spoke: "I don't know who you are, but you took something that doesn't belong to you. Please return the three Sacred Beasts' cards immediately. It's not yours nor anyone else's to control"

Tragoedia was still in a daze, but when he heard Principal Samejima come up and directly accuse them, he couldn't help but feel angry.

Good guys, not only did you dig a hole here and wait for me to jump out of it, but you also prepared such a big pot for me!?

He felt like he figured out what was going on.

It must be these humans or at least some of these humans, who shamelessly and secretly stole the Sacred Beast Card from the seal, and then deliberately dug a hole here waiting for him to jump in, and then backhanded the shit basin on his, the great Tragoedia's, head and said he stole it!

As a human being, he is actually more insidious and cunning than a dark lord like myself!

After three thousand years, have human hearts become so twisted?

Tragoedia couldn't help but start to doubt his life.

He found that he did not have the human's autism when playing cards, and his deviousness was far less than that of humans. Was he not a fake dark lord?

At this time, Tragoedia actually realized that he was almost turning into a dead lobster.

His body was beaten to pieces by Muto Yugi, and although the clone that placed his last hope on successfully cracked the Sacred Beast seal, it only came to nothing.

After working for a long time and only feeling lonely, Big Lobster finally had to face a cruel reality, that was, although he may be proud of his strength and his ability to control people's hearts, his low IQ was still a flaw after all.

He was clearly calculated from the beginning to the end of this game and fell into a huge trap from the beginning to the end.

The main body had been dealt with, and that Muto Yugi was still on the island maybe he was coming here now. The only remaining clone of Tragoedia has also been surrounded.

In anger, as if venting his anger, he exploded.

That was the explosion of all his remaining strength, all of which broke away from the body as the host and rushed into the air. The majestic and powerful darkness hung above everyone's heads, forming a twisted body that looked like it crawled out of the abyss of hell. Those yellow eyes seemed to carry an eternal curse, coldly trying to burn into everyone's heart.

Everyone present was somewhat frightened.

Most of them have never seen such a level of dark existence this was a power that ordinary Shadow Duelists cannot match, and a sense of oppression that could kill even the thought of resistance in advance.

"You low-level, cunning, and insidious humans, you have no idea what kind of existence you have angered!" Tragoedia yelled angrily, "I will crush you all! I will bite your flesh, crush your bones, drink your blood dry, and bring about pain that is hundreds of times more terrifying than you can imagine"

We had to say that the explosive Big Lobster was very powerful and looked quite scary

It just wilted too quickly.

Like a storm from outer space, with the green whirlwind enveloping the steel body like a cannonball, Masked HERO Divine Wind dragged his flying cloak and gave Tragoedia a standard and straight Rider Kick on the nose of Tragoedia who was making an impassioned speech.

The Big Lobster howled miserably, and the aura he had built up suddenly collapsed. His dark and huge body fell to the side, and an ancient tree with a thick trunk was broken at the waist.

Yuei Vu jumped out of nowhere and fell straight into the forest from the sky. His undulating black clothes were like a wide cloak.

The teachers who were frightened just now suddenly showed joy: "Principal Yuei Vu!"

Everyone felt like they had taken a reassurance.

The Duel King is here! How can we lose now?

Tragoedia struggled to get up, but his current state was too weak. All he saw was Masked HERO Divine Wind flying up and down around him, constantly launching fierce attacks.

Tragoedia didn't even have the strength to parry, and was hit all over his head in three or two blows, and fell to the ground under another powerful flying kick.

This time, he really couldn't fight anymore.

Falling to the ground, trampled by Divine Wind, Tragoedia's mouth was still squirming: "Liar despicable there are no three Sacred Beasts here"

Yuei Vu stepped forward unhurriedly and slowly took out three cards in red, yellow, and blue colors from his pocket.

"Is this what you are looking for?"

Chapter 839: Who Else Could It Be?

Seeing the three cards that Yuei Vu took out from his arms, Tragoedia's eyes widened for a moment.

There was no doubt that those three cards were the three Sacred Beasts that he tried his best but still failed to achieve in the end!

His body moved almost before his brain gave the order. The moment Tragoedia, who was already exhausted and unable to fight anymore, saw the three cards, he suddenly stood up again just like LSP saw the discordant picture. He was about to pounce forward and try to violently snatch

Then he was kicked back to the ground by Masked HERO Divine Wind again.

Tragoedia's body hit the ground heavily again, and this time it seemed that he could finally get up again. But he still reluctantly raised his neck and glared at Yuei Vu with gritted teeth.

"The seal of the three Sacred Beasts, this facility was a scam from the beginning, right? The Sacred Beasts were never sealed here at all.

Duel King Yuei Vu, you took those three cards from the beginning? "

In fact, the shock of the others present was no less astonishing than Tragoedia's.

As of today, everyone indeed thought that the three Sacred Beasts were sealed in the sealing formation of Duel Academy. All the teachers and students thought so, otherwise they wouldn't have been so panicked when the seal was cracked.

But who would have thought that there was nothing in the seal, only a slight trace of the Sacred Beast aura remains, making outsiders mistakenly think that the three were still locked inside.

However, these three had entered Yuei Vu's pocket long ago

But of course, Yuei Vu couldn't say that. He coughed and acted righteously: "Last time you sent someone to the island to spy, I had already noticed that you were plotting against the Sacred Beasts.

Although the seal of the Sacred Beast is unbreakable, it still makes people feel uneasy if it is left here all the time.

I have long expected that sooner or later you might land on the island in person to steal the Sacred Beast cards. So I have taken the first step to take away the three demonic cards in the seal, to prevent a moment like today from coming. "

As soon as he said this, everyone around him immediately understood.

So it turns out that he is indeed Principal Yuei Vu! He sensed the approaching threat in advance and took personal responsibility for the safety of the three Sacred Beasts without any hesitation!

After all, where in the world can you be safer than under the protection of a duel king?

Principal Yuei Vu is like a god! He has predicted everything!

Tragoedia wanted to curse at that moment.

Because I was afraid of something being stolen, I stole it first myself. What kind of logic is that?

And you call this seal "unbreakable"?

Can you be more like a liar? Breaking a hymen is even more difficult than this!

He finally figured out that when the so-called "The Seal of Sacred Beasts" was established, they probably had no intention of actually sealing the Sacred Beast here!

From the very beginning, this despicable Duel King planned to take the Three Sacred Beasts as his own!

Yuei Vu continued to walk forward and came to Tragoedia, who was stepped on by the divine wind.

"Okay, it looks like you're almost done here. But before you finish, I have a few more questions to ask."

Tragoedia stared at him angrily, his lobster face tense like a martyr who would rather die than surrender, with words written all over his face, "Even if I die, I, the great Tragoedia, will not bother to deal with a despicable person like you."

"Chairman Kagamaru formed a team before his death." Yuei Vu said, "The team is composed of Shadow Duelists from various fields, and everyone is a master of the dark power. He called that team Seven Stars', preparing to arrange for them to snatch the three Sacred Beasts

Have you heard of it? "

The Big Lobster closed its eyes and ignored it. It looked like a salted fish, and it was the kind that looked down upon death.

"I know that you killed Chairman Kagamaru and controlled his company through him." Yuei Vu continued, "From this, I can also speculate that you are continuing to maintain the activities of the Seven Stars as Kagamaru.

You arrange for those Shadow Duelists to attack the Duel Academy and duel with the teachers and students of the academy. What I care about is, why? What's the point of doing this? "

Big Lobster opened his eyes and frowned: "What are you talking about?"

"There is no point in pretending to be stupid now." Yuei Vu said, "Whether you confess or not, it will not change the result waiting for you."

"It's inexplicable." Big Lobster snorted, "I've never heard of anything like that."

Yuei Vu was a little surprised.

Looking at Big Lobster like this, it didn't seem like he was lying in this case, it might not make sense for him to lie.

Maybe Seven Stars was really not instigated by Big Lobster?

Who else could it be?

Yuei Vu put aside this question for the time being: "There is one more thing. The second generation Duel King Hibiki Koyo once received a mission to help escort something.

But you attacked the archaeological team on the way back, and Hibiki became your puppet, right? "

The Big Lobster hummed vaguely as if acquiescing.

Defeating a Duel King was a glorious achievement that he was proud of. Big Lobster, who loved to show off (he was even sealed because he wanted to show off) would certainly not deny such a deed.

"Those things excavated by that archaeological team disappeared under the supervision of relevant departments not long ago." Yuei Vu said, "Those are all in your hands, right?"

Tragoedia showed surprise again.

"What are you saying?"

Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows: "Do you want to say that you didn't do it?"

Tragoedia stared at him for a long time, her devilish golden eyes unblinking. After a while, he suddenly raised his head and laughed like crazy.

Yuei Vu frowned.

"The duel king of mankind is so calculating." He said viciously, "You used the excuse of guarding against me to steal the Three Sacred Beast cards, and now you plan to use me as a shield to cover up your crimes?"

Yuei Vu: "?"

After being stunned for a long time, Yuei Vu came back to his senses.

Good guy, what Big Lobster means does he think that the slabs stolen from Department D were stolen by him?

Tragoedia felt that Yuei Vu first quietly took away the cards of the three Sacred Beasts, and then secretly went to the government agency to steal the stone tablets with the power of Sacred Beasts that he kept, and now he turned around and placed all the blame onto his Big Lobster head

"Do you think you are smart? Do you think everything is under your own calculation?" Tragoedia roared almost hysterically, "But no lie is eternal, and one day you will be exposed! Everyone will know your true face!"

He burst out with strength from nowhere, surged up again, and rushed towards Yuei Vu desperately. Even when the Masked HERO Divine Wind flew up to intercept, he had no intention of dodging.

Divine Wind's leg dragged the green whirlwind effect and hit Tragoedia hard. His entire body rose off the ground and flew upside down uncontrollably. His dark flesh exploded and exploded into a large mass of dark miasma in mid-air, which gradually dissipated.

Tragoedia was completely destroyed.

Yuei Vu couldn't help but curl his lips.

Damn, that lobster is obviously an evil monster but his lines are made to look like a hero who died unjustly, making it look like I am the heinous villain.

Why don't you just say "Heaven's net is as sparse as possible but never let anyone escape"?

It's a pity that the Big Lobster was dead, but some problems have not been solved yet or rather, the puzzles have become more complicated.

The Seven Stars were not ordered by Tragoedia, so who else could it be?

And those stone slabs that sealed the power of the Sacred Beast were not snatched away by Tragoedia then where were they now?

Chapter 840: Teacher Is Fine

With Tragoedia's demise, the biggest threat currently facing the Duel Academy seems to have been eliminated.

Yuei Vu directly sent a message through the Duel Disk to inform Yugi of the situation. He expressed his gratitude to Yugi for his help this time and invited him to stay for dinner.

But Yugi refused, saying only that he had other things to do, and left first.

When the academy found the unconscious body of Tragoedia's host at the designated location on the coast, Yugi had already left.

Then things entered the final stage. The academy's professional team began to clean the battlefield in the area invaded by Tragoedia, and at the same time collected information to restore the full picture of the incident.

As for the cards of the Three Sacred Beasts

Of course, Yuei Vu put them back in his pocket.

In the past, no one knew that the Three Sacred Beasts were in Yuei Vu's hands, but in fact, it didn't matter if they knew.

Anyway, part of what he said before was also true. Rather than finding a place to set up a so-called indestructible seal for such dangerous things, and waiting for some big BOS to take them away one day in the future, it would be safer to keep them in your own pocket.

Tragodia was defeated, and the crisis in the academy was resolved. Students who had been forced into college and dormitory lockdowns rushed out, asking each other what was going on.

Students who learned about the situation immediately rushed to the forest where the Sacred Beasts were sealed. Some were just watching the fun, and some were worried about their mentors.

After all, the location where the attack happened happened to be where those weird mentors were usually stationed.

Tenjoin Asuka breathed a sigh of relief when she saw that her mentor, Coke Sprite, was safe and sound: "Teacher, just be okay."

Coke Sprite was so moved.

Even my own students know how to feel sorry for me!

Coke Sprite hugged her good student tightly but then seemed to feel that there might be too much fat in some parts, making her a little breathless, so she quickly let go and touched Asuka's golden little head, said: Don't worry, your teacher is fine.

Izayoi who was traveling with her looked left and right and seemed to feel that she couldn't find her mentor, so she carefully tugged the corner of the Coke Sprite's eye and asked softly if she had seen her teacher Mr. Sandbag

Without even thinking about it, Coke Sprite casually said: Oh, he, he just rushed too aggressively and accidentally died

Seeing Izayoi's little sister's eyes widening with a frightened expression, Coke Sprite realized that she had slipped her words and quickly changed her words: "Ah, no, Mr. Sandbag is not on the island today, he went out to do something, after a while"

She said as she opened the system interface and looked at the time.

"He should be back in three hours and eighteen minutes."

"Ohoh." Izayoi nodded.

Although she was surprised as to why the teacher's return time was so accurate to the minute, the shy girl still didn't dare to ask any more questions.

In short, its good that the teacher was fine.

"Sensei, are you okay?" The one who spoke was Sho Marufuji, who was shrinking his head.

Native Noragami rolled his eyes: "Why do I think you sound disappointed?"

"Nothing!" Sho Marufuji shook his head desperately.

However, the most energetic ones were Snow Wave and his disciple.

"Sensei~ I was worried to death just now!" Mia hugged Snow Wave tightly with her little hands and leaned her little head against him.

"I told you that none of us was here during the attack Let go!" Snow Wave struggled desperately.

"Don't wanna~"

"Don't let me spank your butt!"

Mia's eyes lit up.

There is such a good thing?

"Just hit me!" She hugged him tighter.

Snow Wave desperately gestured to his good brother Fae for help, but Fae only gave him an encouraging look and gave him a thumbs up, as if to say: "Brother, I'm optimistic about your future, come on!"

The most desperate thing was that he noticed that Yuei Vu-san seemed to glance towards him although it was only for a moment, he did glance at it, then turned back and left.

Snow Wave was like being struck by lightning.

He shouted desperately in his heart

You are wrong, Yuei Vu-san!

Its really not my fault, but how could I meet such an evil disciple?

Of course, he was overthinking it, and Yuei Vu had no intention of paying attention to him at the moment.

As Yuei Vu walked out of the forest, he took out three Sacred Beast cards again, staring at these three cards and lost in thought.

Although the three Sacred Beasts were in his hands, to be more precise, he seemed to have only obtained the bodies of three of them.

The three Sacred Beasts and the three Egyptian Gods are described as having equal status in the original work. Divine beasts of this level were naturally arrogant they all liked to choose their masters. If you weren't accepted, even if you put the card on the Duel Disk, you may not be able to summon them.

And these three seem to be even more arrogant than the original three Egyptian Gods. Ever since they were brought back, they have been as unresponsive as if they were dead.

He didnt know if it was because he didnt go through the duel process to conquer these three but took them back directly by force, but the mission rewards were only crystals and experience, and there were no three real-life cards like the three Egyptian Gods mission in Battle City.

So these three Sacred Beasts were just like the Egyptian Gods that Yuei Vu originally held in his hand. They didn't listen to orders and ignored him, and there was no movement in the deck.

Sometimes he even felt that these three cards were like three ordinary pieces of paper, and he did not even feel the extraordinary power they should have from them.

Something feels weird.

During the time when Yuei Vu was away, a lot of things happened on the academy island.

It seemed that they were specifically targeting the stall where Yuei Vu was not present. The duelists from the "Seven Stars" were attacking extremely densely these days. Duelists from the Seven Stars came almost every day sometimes two in a day.

But these attacks were, just as Yuei Vu expected in advance, resolved without incident.

Nightshroud, who was the first to enter the battle, was defeated by Asuka, and then the vampire Camula who attacked was defeated by Sho Marufuji.

Then there was a thief organization composed of a group of spirits known as the "Dark Scorpion Gang", but their combat power was pitifully weak, and they were killed in two seconds by Manjoume.

The fourth place was Tania, a muscular female warrior who used the "Amazoness deck", and she was defeated by Misawa Daichi. It's just that she looked like the type that Misawa was interested in. Although he won the duel, Misawa was still interested in her.

The fifth is a certain ancient pharaoh who claimed to be undefeated for life. However, it was later discovered that this Pharaoh was actually average at playing cards. The reason why he was "undefeated for life" was just because he was a Pharaoh and others had to let him win.

The Pharaoh was then defeated by Asuka.

According to the original work, the Titan who called himself the Shadow Duelist and was caught on the island was also one of them. It's just that Titan was arranged by Yuei Vu and has been transferred to a special prison, so his role was gone.

It can be found that when facing the "Seven Stars" organization in the original animation, five of the seven enemies were defeated by Judai, and the final BOSS battle against the three phantoms was also defeated by Judai.

However, Judai seemed to have gone too far now. The Seven Stars team was almost wiped out, but he didn't even get a single match.

Seeing that the enemy's heads were almost being divided among his teammates, poor Judai could only endure the growing addiction to cards in the dormitory and jump around anxiously

Fortunately, his card addiction would soon be alleviated.

His opponent was the last and strongest remaining member of the "Seven Stars".

Osiris Red's dormitory head, the teacher named Daitokuji.
