

I Play Yu-Gi 861

Chapter 861: It Hurts My Self-esteem

Facing the vampire's enthusiastic offer, Yuei Vu couldn't help but feel speechless.

After thinking for a moment, he couldn't help but ask: "By the way, you didn't hesitate to sell yourself and sign a Shadow Game contract to follow me. Why?"

Yuei Vu really couldn't figure it out.

In addition to being handsome, playing cards better, and having some spare money

.It seems like I don't have anything special!

Ok, this may sound a bit understated. However, he felt that this did not seem to explain why the vampire insisted on being his little maid.

The vampire straightened up, with an expression on her face that said "I won't be sleepy if you ask me this", and began to tell her tragic story vividly.

It seemed that Camula had drafted many times for this moment, and the copy may have been polished countless times.

She planned to start from a warm and happy Middle Ages, describing the heyday of their vampire race, her family and friends, and how her race was suppressed and exterminated, as well as her own transformation in the darkest and most desperate moments. Inadvertently revealing her gentleness and kindness, and finally leading to her grand desire for racial rejuvenation.

But she never expected that when the plot of her story had just advanced to the "warm family" part, Yuei Vu yawned feebly and said, "The story is too long and I am not interested in it! Shorten it to 20 words or less!".

Camula almost bit her tongue.

So she had to hold back the copy she had revised repeatedly for several days, and honestly confessed: "Our race has been exterminated, and I want to revive the vampire race."

Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows.

Good guy, after all, you actually covet my body?

But if I think about it carefully, there is no shortage of vampires who are greedy for my body in the family anyway, so it doesn't seem to matter if there is one more.

If Camula is really willing to sign a contract through the Shadow Game, it doesn't seem like there would be anything wrong with letting her do some hard work at home?

Okay, you can stay here, but just put your tongue back a little bit. Don't stick it out, it looks weird.

No problem, sir.

Camula was overjoyed and retracted her soft and slippery tongue with a smile on her face.

Her tongue was also magical. She was obviously a vampire, but her tongue was like Orochimaru. It could be long or short, could be bent and stretched, and could even perform some stunts that ordinary people were unable to learn.

But Chika-chan may not be happy.

Not long after Yuei Vu moved to Duel Academy island, he picked up his vampire maid Tilla from Domino to help him take care of his house.

It just might be a bit of a hindrance to Chika-chan.

For example, Chika was sitting on the sofa reading a book that day, and the vampire maid suddenly came in, holding a mop in her hand and mopping the floor.

Mopping the floor was normal, but her mopping was quite loud.

Chika watched Tilla sweating profusely and subconsciously looked down at her airport. Suddenly, she felt the world was spinning and her eyes were dizzy.

The old problem of dizziness happened again.

She frowned and gestured to Tilla: "Turn around."

The girl felt that she was really witty.

This is the so-called "out of sight, out of mind." Since she turns her back to me, I can't see it, so that's no problem, right?

Tilla also obeyed the hostess's words and obediently turned around and continued to mop the floor. She mopped the floor until it was as shiny as a mirror.

However, Chika discovered another problem immediately.

After the vampire turned around, her breasts were no longer visible. However, the section of white thigh exposed above the black silk suspender belt and the pert buttocks under the maid's skirt swayed in front of the girl's eyes, making the girl's eyes spin.

Chika closed the book with a snap, stood up silently, turned around, and left.

Tilla didn't know what was going on: Miss, are you going out?

Chika glanced at her expressionlessly and left without saying a word.

It hurts my self-esteem. JPG.

Even one vampire made her a little dizzy. Now two came, and the size of both of them was so obscene, which made the girl deeply feel the malice of the world towards the airport.

Heh, what's wrong with being a little flat? Isn't it just a little less fat?

Besides, people who really like you won't care about such a small flaw.

Love should be tolerant of all flaws. Not to mention defects, even loopholes will be accepted. (the serious kind)

After a series of things had been dealt with, the first school year of Judai and his friends was coming to an end.

Yuei Vu was quite satisfied with the students' results and progress in the first semester. The students who were picked out by the "mentors" for special training performed well in their first external battle against the "Seven Stars" organization.

Each specially trained student, including Marufuji Sho, has been proven to be capable of fighting one of the "Seven Stars" on their own.

The results of the first batch of experiments were pretty good, and Yuei Vu decided to recruit the second batch of tutors before the start of the second semester.

This time, he thought that he could consider dividing the tutors equally, and classify the tutors according to the characteristics of Osiris Red, Ra Yellow, and Obelisk Blue.

Most of Obelisk Blue's mentors should be similar to President Kaiba's style, emphasizing Arggo Beatdown, pursuing the strongest lineup in an instant to burst out the maximum output. Simply put, they followed the OTK route.

Ra Yellow was relatively steady, with balanced offense and defense, and more emphasis on gaining resources and interrupting operations in protracted battles.

As for Osiris Red

To put it nicely, it was the one with "infinite possibilities" that used unexpected tactics to attack the opponent, and the enemy never expected what would defeat him.

To put it bluntly, they followed the gimmick route. The characteristic of the Osiris Red was that everyone liked to put things of unknown meaning into the deck. The instructors would prefer to study some weird gimmick decks instead of developing meta decks of burst type or control type.

For card players, the gimmick deck was usually the entertainment deck. It had neither a stable start nor a reliable finish. Winning one game could make you feel good all day long, but in the long term, it could not be compared with meta decks.

But for the Duel Academy, Osiris Red was indeed a class with "infinite possibilities" and may even be stronger than the other two classes.

Then again: If you can do divine draws, who wouldnt want to play gimmick decks?

According to the original work, at this point, the teachers and students of the academy should still be in a tense atmosphere of fighting against the Seven Stars. However, the timeline has changed, and the Sacred Beast incident has been dealt with in advance.

This allowed students to welcome the college's annual grand event with a relaxed mind.

Duel Academys cosplay-themed school festival.

Chapter 862: School Festival

In the cosplay-themed school festival, students would be asked to dress up as their favorite duel monsters to participate.

Although the event was themed around cosplaying a monster, the content was quite rich. There were artists performing traditional skills, stalls selling various foods, and some amusement park-like attractions.

Of course, a card-playing arena was also indispensable.

After all, this was a duel academy, so the activities must still focus on playing cards.

The tutors in the grove were also allowed to participate in the students' carnival. Thanks to the opportunity of this school festival, Yuei Vu lifted the restrictions on "fancy clothes" and allowed the instructors to wear their own rare props and costumes on the island.

This time it suddenly got out of hand.

All of a sudden, all kinds of strange things appeared on the college island. A large number of screwballs showed off their box-bottom fashions that they had treasured for many years. They wore all kinds of strange animal headdresses on their heads. They frequently appeared in the woods and dormitory areas, and occasionally be witnessed by students passing by the teaching building.

However, during the school festival, there were still some students who dressed strangely, and no one thought there was anything wrong with these idiots.

With the leadership of these off-the-line teachers, the students were quickly involved in the carnival wave. The students' enthusiasm for the activity was also very high. They quickly used their brains to activate their thinking and dressed up as various monsters to participate.

Sure enough, young people in any world were not lacking in imagination. There was Dark Magician, Blue-Eyes White Dragon, men in women's clothing, and what's even more outrageous was that there were people cosplayed Zorc Necrophades.

Although the great evil god Zorc was defeated in the sandbox game world called "Pharaoh's Memories", and the outside world has no way of knowing the specific situation that happened inside, after so many years, to help everyone better understand the original Duel Kings and their contribution (and also to make money), Yuei Vu collaborated with the Kaiba Corp to use the most advanced technology to reproduce the entire memory sandbox, including the entire plot of Ultimate Dark RPG.

This virtual sandbox was later made into an unprecedentedly large RPG game. Players could enter this game to recreate the battle between the Duel King and the great evil god Zorc who wanted to destroy the world.

As for the combat process, since it was produced by Kaiba Corp, there was no need to say more. When the protagonist played by the player encountered any enemy in the game, it would eventually evolve into it's time to duel!

This game won the title of the Best Game of the Year for its immersive, ultra-realistic experience and exciting process, and once became the hottest topic of the year.

As for the final BOSS of the game, Zorc Necrophades, the great evil god of destruction, has also attracted widespread attention with his "dragon under the crotch" image that could be called a performance art level.

The student who bravely cosplayed Zorc in the school festival certainly attracted the attention of countless people, because this student's cosplay was indeed lifelike, especially the domineering and majestic dragon head that leaked from the side could actually move, it was almost like the real thing.

Then the student was taken away by the disciplinary committee.

The reason was "immoral".

(A certain evil spirit who lived in the Millennium Ring gave a thump up).

Judai and his friends also actively participated in the activities.

Asuka-san, with the instigation of her roommate, became the signature monster the legendary duelist Mai Kujaku Harpie Lady.

The Harpie Lady was really not something that ordinary girls could control, but the effect of this outfit on Asuka was really good.

The gold armor outlined the slender waist, which also highlighted the curvature of the two hips. The curves of both the front and the back were particularly conspicuous under this outfit.

In addition, the armor's front chest design, which showed the designer's taste at a glance, although not gorgeous, perfectly exaggerated the girl's already outstanding size among her peers. There was a large area of white skin above the collar and delicate collarbones.

If the "lethality against perverts" was divided into levels from 1 to 10, then Asuka-san who cosplayed the Harpie Lady should probably be at level 12.

A screwball wearing a hippopotamus hood was still debating this with a screwball wearing a rabbit hood.

Tsk, this size has to be an E, right?

I think it may be D, maybe its because of the bonus on clothes.

I have a different opinion on this. I think I have more experience in film reading.

Oh, who is not a pervert? Why do you think only you can do that?

Once upon a time, a pervert was a shady creature. When someone labeled them similarly, they would often deny it and use various excuses.

However, times have changed. It seemed that their own era had finally arrived. Not only do perverts these days tend to put on a "yes, I am a pervert" attitude when they were discovered, but they even go as far as if anyone doubted their pervert qualifications, they would be very anxious and try their best to prove themselves.

It's very strange.

Tenjoin-san, you look pretty good.

The one who came closer to talk was Misawa Daichi.

"Thank you"

Asuka smiled and was about to say something in return, but was suddenly stunned.

She forgot what this classmates name was.

Is this Misaka? Or Daito?

In fact, we couldn't blame her. Different from the original work, Asuka interacted with Misawa very rarely throughout the first school year, and there was really no chance to get to know each other.

The students in Duel Academy only sit in the same classroom when they choose the same course. There were not many opportunities to communicate with each other in daily life.

That's why Sho felt strange that Asuka always seemed to be hanging around them as if she always had various reasons to appear near them.

He once asked Judai, "Aniki, have you noticed that Asuka-san always sits next to us during class?"

Judai was stunned: "Is that so?"

Sho: "What? Haven't you noticed? It happened in the entire school year!"

Judai rubbed his head in embarrassment: "Ah, as you know, I either didn't go to class or was sleeping, so I didn't pay much attention."

Sho: ""

Hey~ Asuka looks so beautiful today!

The one making noise was Asuka's roommate Junko.

Is that so?

Asuka was a little embarrassed.

At this moment, she happened to see Sho who was dressed as a "Submarineroid". After thinking about it, she walked up and asked, "By the way, where is Judai? We agreed to meet here, but I don't think I saw him." "

If there were any activities, Sho would not be able to participate. His mentor would tie him up in a grove and work overtime day and night for special training.

But when Brother Noragami heard that the tutor could also participate in this event, he was very excited and more motivated than his student, who was given a rare day off.

"I didn't see him either." Sho looked around, "Aniki seems to have said that he is preparing to make a grand debut."

As soon as he finished speaking, he heard a loud noise.

Then he saw a person wearing green armor, with a bright red scarf hanging around his neck, and a golden belt around his waist shining brightly in the sun.

That guy stood gracefully on the top of the eaves, making a handsome pose. Judai's voice came from under the helmet: "Masked HERO Blast, transform!"

The eyes of the screwballs nearby were all attracted. Looking at the condescending figure of the knight and the scarf fluttering in the wind under the sun, a sentence suddenly popped up in their minds.

Oh god, why not me?!

Chapter 863: It Just Looks Like The Real Thing!

The Masked HERO outfit that Judai-san made was really cool, and the scarf was also very stylish. The only problem was that the eaves where he appeared may be slippery. He didn't pay attention for a moment, and with a slip of his foot, he fell down beautifully.

Aniki!

Marufuji Sho hurriedly ran forward to help.

Judai's helmet flew off after he landed, and he looked disgraced, but looking at the silly smile, he seemed to be fine.

Judai, are you okay? Asuka also stepped forward to help, looking a little worried.

"It's okay, no problem."

Our Judai had a very good physique that no one else could match. In the anime, the jellyfish head was able to fly over walls and climb walls, just like President Kaiba who did free-falling from the airplane cabin every day. A fall of this level was nothing.

Judai sat up and glanced at Asuka who was holding his arm. He was suddenly startled: "Hey, Asuka, you are so big."

The girl was instantly petrified, and half a second later steam began to rise from her head: "W-What are you saying all of a sudden?"

But then she realized that she had gone astray. Because Judai was pinching her wings with great interest: "Oh oh oh, it feels like real things, so awesome! I want to get a pair of wings too!"

Marufuji Sho stared: "But Aniki, there is no Masked HERO with wings, right? And the Harpie Lady is a female, so it should be suitable for a girl to play the role."

What does that matter?

Judai didn't mind at all. It seemed that he didn't think it was unacceptable to wear women's clothing.

Asuka held her forehead and let out a sigh of relief. She didn't know why she was still a little disappointed.

Huh? Is that Manjoume?

The sharp-eyed Judai caught a glimpse of another friend at least he thought they were friends.

It's just that Manjoume was not wearing a cosplay costume, but his usual uniform.

This was not surprising. After all, not everyone has the mood and energy to create a cosplay costume, and many students participating in the event kept their normal attire.

Manjoume~ Judai enthusiastically stepped forward and patted his shoulder, acting like a good brother he hadn't seen for many years. Hey, you're such an awkward guy and you said you're not interested in the school festival. Why don't you come anyway?

Manjoume felt as if he was facing a formidable enemy and immediately threw away his hand: "Don't touch me."

After a pause, he did not forget to add: "And it's Manjoume Thunder!"

You're so stingy, were all friends, what does it matter if I touch you?

I don't remember when I became friends with you.

At this time, Judai's eyes lit up and he noticed a ghost-like little guy floating next to Manjoume's head.

Huh? Manjoume, is this your new spirit? It looks funny.

That was a very ugly spirit. It had a yellow body, big red pants, two eyes on tentacles, and thick and red lips like a big sausage.

This was "Ojama Yellow" who was Manjoume's signature spirit in the anime and was almost the soul of the character.

It was a Normie who had 0 ATK, 1000 DEF, and no special effects. It even looked a bit awkward. No matter how you look at it, this card alone was trash.

Hearing Judai's words, Manjoume's face suddenly changed, and he hurriedly reached out to catch the floating Ojama: "Don't talk nonsense! I am not such an ugly elf!"

However, although he moved quickly, he didn't expect that Ojama Yellow's movements were so swift. He stepped aside and avoided Manjoume's grasp. Tears filled his big eyes: "Brother, don't you want me anymore?"

Shut up and go back!

Manjoume quickly grabbed twice in the air, but Ojama Yellow was disturbed and nimbly avoided them with his hands.

Brother, you are so exaggerated. You obviously didn't say that last night.

Manjoume made another volley capture, and this time he finally caught the Ojama and pushed him back into the deck.

Judai chuckled: "You seem to have a good relationship. How did you meet?"

"Don't know." Manjoume groaned, "I just happened to pick it up on the roadside. Of course, this kind of trash doesn't suit my deck at all. I'm going to take it to the canteen to sell it tomorrow."

What? Keep it for yourself?

Manjoume said that even if he, Majoume Thunder, didn't have a single card and withdraw from the duel world, he would definitely not use this kind of bastard!

Ojama Yellow jumped out again: "Brother, that's too much. This is obviously a fateful encounter. It's God's willah ah ah!!!"

His face was darkened.

Damn, if it weren't for the fact that there is a spirit in this "Ojama Yellow", I would have thrown away this ugly and useless Normie a long time ago

Since it was a cosplay-themed event, the grand appearance of Tome-san, the most famous cosplayer of Duel Academy, was naturally indispensable.

Tome-san once again presented her treasured Dark Magician Girl costume, making a gorgeous appearance as the finale character.

Although this was not the first time that the students had seen it and mentally prepared for it, the firepower of this costume was too strong, and many young students were still unable to resist it.

Even Fae, who was known as "the one who can get around with everything", couldn't help but remain silent for a long time when he saw this scene. Then he lamented that the last time something so big fell down, the dinosaurs were all extinct.

But soon someones eyes lit up and he discovered the savior.

Oh shit, Dark Magician Girl!

His companion turned back lazily: "Don't try to fool me, it's just Tome-san, damn it!"

Countless lines of sight were attracted towards him like magnets sensing a magnet.

The girl has beautiful and smooth blond hair, green eyes, and a cute magic hat on her head.

Men often say that they like a slightly chubby body type the most, but everyone generally says that if you are fat, you have to be fat where you should be, and everyone understands that.

This girl was the most typical "fat in the right places" and had the most perfect figure you could ever see in your dreams. Not only did she have an amazing capacity, but she also had enough curves where it should be curved, and a pair of long, snow-white legs with a slightly voluptuous feel.

The eyes of drivers on all roads were widened.

This quality feels like it was cut out of the official website pictures that they usually use for, er, academy purposes!

It just looks like a real Dark Magician Girl!

All the gentlemen immediately forgot about Tome-sans version, and all said that they could rise again!

And she was dragging a little silver-haired lolita in her hand.

Players might not recognize the various dragons, the messy mechas, or cards with unknown meanings, but they could always recognize girls with cute looks.

Although they all said something about "not taking a target", which seemed to be true, the sales and the sky-high prices have exposed the inner preferences of the gentlemen.

So someone recognized it immediately

This silver-haired girl must be Silent Magician!

And its in the form of a lolita!

The Dark Magician Girl waved to everyone enthusiastically, and at the same time tugged on the Silent Magician's arm, seemingly gesturing for her to say hello as well.

But the silver-haired girl only turned her head to one side and pursed her lips without saying a word.

She seemed to be unhappy about being forcibly taken out for a ride.

There was no doubt that these two were naturally Yuei Vus spirits.

It was also quite interesting that although they were both magical girls, their personality traits were completely opposite.

The Dark Magician Girl had an active personality and wanted to go out for fun every day. She especially liked crowded and lively occasions like school festivals.

Meanwhile, the Silent Magician was a perfect introvert. Her biggest hobby was staying at home and not going out. The thing that annoyed her the most was when someone talked to her.

Speaking of which, it seems that the Dark Magician Girls spirit appeared in the original school festival. It seems that she even played a game of cards with Judai.

But at least so far, Yuei Vu seemed to have only seen his own silly spirit, and has not seen any other wild Dark Magician Girl.

This suddenly gave him a bold idea.

This Dark Magician Girl I picked up could it be the one in GX?

Chapter 864: Criminals Can Also Play Cards

On the other side of the ocean, in a brightly lit international city.

Perhaps the entire city's traffic was concentrated in one place, and the streets were blocked. Tens of thousands of people surrounded the white circular open-air arena, surrounded by pale white watchtowers, and searchlights cut through the night like golden swords.

Today was the highly anticipated annual finals of the Pro League. Nearly half of the people in the city gathered here, even those who couldn't get tickets.

The arena was overcrowded inside and outside, and the Kaiba Corp's hot air balloons with the "KC" logo echoed leisurely above the arena. A huge electronic screen hangs in the air, and on the screen are the contestants competing today.

What made this match so exciting was that one of its protagonists was a rising star in the professional scene.

It was a young man with silver-white hair and deep, sharp blue eyes. He always wore a smart and elegant white suit, with a confident but elegant smile on his handsome face, as if he was confident about everything.

Aster Phoenix, a rising star in the professional world. Although this was his first year entering the league, he has not lost a single game so far.

As a newcomer, Aster's journey surprised many experts. During his competition, he encountered strong opponents many times, and almost every time, as a newcomer, he was not favored by the experts.

An overseas professional commentator called "Old Immortal" claimed more than once that he felt it was time for the newcomer to hit a wall. But every time, Aster refreshed everyone's understanding, killing his opponents instantly with an almost impeccable performance, and severely slapped the professional commentators in the face.

In just one season, Aster has won himself a large number of fans, and it seemed that most of them were girls.

There is no way, handsome people sometimes have this kind of trouble.

Aster's handsomeness was also written into his character design. When he first appeared in Duel Academy in the anime, Asuka's two nymphomaniac roommates rebelled at the speed of light and ran to support Aster. The reason was simply "he is too handsome".

Even when Yuei Vu accidentally saw Aster in a TV interview, he had to admit that

Not bad, the young man is almost half as charming as me.

Although it is impossible to outperform me, it is still worthy of recognition.

Everyone was wondering when this newcomer, who was making his mark for the first time, would hit the wall. As a result, Aster miraculously set new records defeated powerful opponents time and time again, and actually won all the way.

He won more and more games until the entire professional league circle was full of his name. The headlines in newspapers and magazines, as well as people's daily topics, were almost inseparable from the name Aster Phoenix.

What follows was a question that everyone finally had to face-

-Is this guy going to win the championship directly?

Winning the world championship in the first season of entering the league is too ridiculous, right?

Then, under the spotlight, he actually made it this far, standing in the league finals.

All the spectators present felt that they were witnessing the birth of a new legend.

Today, Aster's opponent was a burly man with a bald head and a muscular body. He even wore a uniform unique to prisoners when he appeared.

According to the referee, this was the famous prisoner duelist Doctor Collector, a super-high IQ criminal with an IQ of 200, who was currently serving his sentence in prison!

The moment the host finished his introduction, the muscular man suddenly shouted loudly and used his monster-like muscle power to forcefully burst his clothes, tearing his tight clothes to pieces and exposing the strong muscles underneath.

Yes, that's right, felons serving time in prison these days could actually go to the arena and play cards after serving their sentences.

It could only be said that perhaps in the social system established under the leadership of the Kaiba Corp, the rights of playing cards were above all else. Maybe those in power thought it was too cruel and inhumane for a criminal in prison to serve so many years and not even be allowed to play cards, so they allowed him to play cards while serving his sentence.

There was even news that while Doctor Collector was in prison, he was also assisting the FBI. Maybe it was his cooperation that earned him the privilege of playing cards while serving his sentence.

Dueling crimes were also quite popular among gangs. Nowadays, many street gangsters don't bring guns but Duel Disks when they go out.

In recent years, FBI has been intensifying its efforts to crack down on the problem of transnational duel criminal groups. It was said that the agents of the relevant teams must not only be equipped with guns but also Duel Disks when on duty.

In the professional league finals of the second season of GX animation, the same Doctor Collector stepped onto the stage of the finals, but his opponent in the animation was DD, who was said to have been the world champion for ten consecutive years and was Aster's adoptive father, a villain possessed by "The Light of Destruction".

Of course, that part of the Light of Destruction had been eliminated by Yuei Vu six years ago, so there was no screentime for it here.

Therefore, it was Aster himself who replaced DD in the original history on the finals stage.

Doctor Collector stood on the playing field and looked at Aster, who was a full head shorter than him, and couldn't help but grin.

"The opponent in the finals is actually such a young kid. It seems that people are not groundless when they say that the level of the league is getting worse year by year."

Aster maintained his usual elegant smile and seemed not to take the opponent's pre-match trash talk at all. He just silently opened the duel disk, and the deck was quickly shuffled automatically in the slot.

He made a "please" gesture to indicate that he was ready.

"Tch, you're a pretentious brat." Doctor Collector was disdainful and opened the Duel Disk as well. "You will soon stop laughing."

"Duel!" x2

Doctor Collector, LP4000

Aster, LP 4000

"I'll go first, draw!" Aster said, "Activate Spell Card Take Over Five! Send the top 5 cards of my Deck to the Graveyard.

Then I summon Destiny HERO Diamond Dude in attack position! "

[Destiny HERO Diamond Dude, ATK 1400]

"Diamond Dude's effect Excavate the top card of my Deck, and if it is a Normal Spell, send it to the GY, otherwise place it on the bottom of my Deck. During the Main Phase of my next turn, I can activate the effect of that Spell in my GY. "

If a real card player used the effect of "Diamond Dude", he may not be able to draw a Normal Spell Card nine times out of ten. But for a duelist like our Aster, throughout the entire animation, he has never failed to draw a Spell Card.

What I drew is the Normal Spell Card Destiny Draw. Aster said, The effect of Destiny Draw is to draw two cards from the deck at the cost of discarding one Destiny HERO.

But because of the effect of Diamond Dude', I can directly draw two cards next turn without discarding Destiny HERO'. "

He then drew another card.

"Set a card, I end my turn."

Doctor Collector couldn't help but laugh as he looked at the lone Diamond Dude and a set card on Aster's field.

"Haha, those people are bragging that you are a rising star in the duel world, but it seems like you are nothing more than that. With a lineup of this level, you will be instantly killed in front of me.

My turn, draw! "

"Continuous Spell Dimensional Fissure!" He played the first card, "As long as this card is on the field, all monsters sent to the graveyard by both sides will be banished instead!"

Chapter 865: World Champion!

Dimensional Fissure could basically be regarded as a Spell Card version of the "Macro Cosmos". However, in the presence of "Macro Cosmos", any cards sent to the graveyard by both sides are removed from the game, while with "Dimensional Fissure", only monster cards were removed.

But in terms of disgustingness, this Continuous Spell Card may not be much worse than the Macro Cosmos.

As a top duelist who could reach the finals, Doctor Collector naturally had his own tactics.

He first activated "Graceful Charity", drew three cards, and then discarded two cards in his hand. At the same time, he specifically showed those two cards. Since they were both monster cards, they were directly removed from the game by "Dimensional Fissure".

Then he activated "Magical Stone Excavation", discarded two cards, and returned the Spell Card "Graceful Charity" in the graveyard to his hand. The two hand cards discarded at the same time were also monster cards, so they were also directly removed from the game.

Then the Spell Card "Graceful Charity" was activated again, and two more monster cards were discarded and removed from the game.

Fully prepared, Doctor Collector laughed loudly, his powerful voice like a bell, making people's eardrums hurt.

"Boy, you're already doing well to get here, but that's all!" Doctor Collector shouted, "Activate Spell Card Dimension Fusion!"

Pay 2000 Life Points, and both players Special Summon as many of their removed from play monsters as possible! "

After all, this was a Thousands-Of-Years Banned Card, so this operation was still quite strong. So far, Doctor Collector has removed six monster cards from the game, and through the effect of "Dimension Fusion", he could call five monsters onto the field at once!

Unless it was a monster with its own summoning restrictions and could not be Special Summoned by conventional means, Doctor Collector's routine could theoretically summon any five monsters!

This was quite terrifying, and the audience held their breath.

[Doctor Collector, LP 4000 LP 2000]

Coming soon!

What kind of monster could it be? Was it a prehistoric dragon with over-the-top attack power? Or a machine that crushed everything on its path?

Considering that Doctor Collector was tall, muscular, and even a prisoner, the monsters used by this standard macho duelist must also be extremely vicious beasts

Nani!?

Nobody ever expected that our macho duelist would actually take a photo of a short, cute magical loli!

[Ebon Magician Curran, DEF 0]

Ebon Magician Curran, a cute little magical girl with a delicate face, wearing a Lolita-style dress, holding a small pink whip in her hand, and there was even a pair of rabbit ears on the hat on her little head.

In short, it didn't fit the style of a macho prisoner

But the macho contestant obviously didn't think there was anything wrong and even continued excitedly.

"Special Summon the Cosmo Queen!"

[Cosmo Queen, ATK 2900]

"Special summon three Magician's Valkyria!"

[Magician's Valkyria, ATK 1600] x3

Needless to say, the Magician's Valkyria was a fair-skinned mage girl with long legs who looked exactly like the Dark Magician Girl in both attire and appearance.

So Mr. Prisoner summoned five monsters at once, and all five of them were girls.

This is very macho. JPG.

Without saying much, Doctor Collector first directly ordered the Cosmo Queen to launch an attack on the "Destiny HERO Diamond Dude"!

Of course, it was impossible for Diamond Dude to resist, and he was shattered on the spot by the Cosmo Queen's blow.

[Aster, LP 4000 LP 2500]

But the moment I received damage, the effects of the Vision HERO Poisoner, Vision HERO Increase, and Vision HERO Minimum Ray that I sent to the graveyard last turn were all activated!

If I take battle or effect damage while this card is in my GY: I can place this card from my GY in my Spell & Trap Zone as a face-up Continuous Trap! "

Destiny HERO and Vision HERO were both designed by Aster's father, who was the strongest hero in his mind.

As a child, Aster made a promise to his father to win the title of world champion with the help of these heroes.

Now was the time to deliver on that promise.

"These phantoms can't protect you!" Doctor Collector shouted.

Aster snapped his fingers: "Open the set card: Trap Card Waboku! I take no battle damage this turn, and my monsters cannot be destroyed by battle this turn!"

Doctor Collector: "!"

Waboku, one of the strongest defensive traps, can almost completely block the possibility of the opponent's attack.

But why didn't he launch it before the Diamond Dude was destroyed?

Could it be that

Doctor Collector's eyes fell on several phantoms in Aster's backcourt.

Deliberately taking damage just to call out these phantoms?

"Set two cards, I end my turn." Doctor Collector said.

His overwhelmingly favorable situation did not waver.

As long as "Magician's Valkyria" was on the field, the opponent could not select other Spellcasters as attack targets. Now there were three "Magician's Valkyrias" on his field, and the two other monsters were all Spellcasters.

In other words, even if Aster summoned a powerful enough monster, he couldn't even launch an attack.

Doctor Collector showed a ferocious smile that said, "I'm sure you're going to get killed." He laughed out loud.

He was determined to win this world championship!

"My turn, draw!" Aster still maintained a leisurely pace, "During my Standby Phase, the effect of 'Take Over Five' in the graveyard is activated.

Banish 'Take Over Five' in the graveyard and a card with the same name in the deck, then I can draw 1 card.

Next is the effect of Destiny HERO Diamond Dude. The effect of the Spell Card "Destiny Draw" sent to the graveyard in the last round can be activated directly without any cost. I draw two cards from the deck. "

Aster glanced at the hideous crack flashing with electric light above the other person's head, and raised his eyebrows slightly.

"It seems like we have to deal with this troublesome thing first." He said calmly, "Activate the effect of the Spell Card Galaxy Cyclone' in the GY.

Banish this card from my GY, then target 1 face-up Spell/Trap on the field; destroy it! I destroy the Dimensional Fissure'. "

The cracks were forcibly closed under the power of a silvery white whirlwind. Doctor Collector frowned and hummed: "It's a small trick"

"Then I also activate the Spell Card Graceful Charity'," Aster interrupted, "Draw 3 cards, then discard 2 cards."

"The Spell Card D Spirit' is activated! If there is no Destiny HERO' monster on my field, Special Summon 1 Level 4 or lower Destiny HERO' monster from my hand.

Come on! Destiny HERO Disk Commander'!"

[Destiny HERO Disk Commander, ATK 300]

False ultimate Destiny HERO: Plasma.

True ultimate Destiny HERO: Disk Commander.

"The effect of Vision HERO Increase' During the Main Phase, if this card is treated as a Continuous Trap: I can Tribute 1 HERO' monster; Special Summon this card. I used Destiny HERO Disk Commander' as a sacrifice to special summon Increase!"

[Vision HERO Increase, ATK 900]

"When Vision HERO Increase is Special Summoned from the Spell & Trap Zone: I can Special Summon 1 Level 4 or lower Vision HERO' monster from my Deck!"

[Vision HERO Vyon, ATK 1000]

"When Vyon is summoned, I can send 1 HERO' monster from my Deck to the GY. I send the Destiny HERO Malicious' to the graveyard.

Then the second effect of Vyon is activated! Banish Destiny HERO Captain Tenacious' from my GY; add 1 Polymerization' from my Deck to my hand. "

The fusion card popped up accurately and was pulled out by Aster into his hand. The deck was automatically shuffled quickly.

"How can it be spread to such an extent in an instant?" Doctor Collector's face changed slightly, "Are you trying to launch an attack using the fusion tactics that the HERO' is good at?"

But as long as the Magician's Valkyria' is here, all your attacks will be blocked"

"The Spell Card Doctor D' is activated. Banish 1 Destiny HERO' monster from my GY; add to my hand or Special Summon 1 Destiny HERO' monster from my GY."

Two cards popped up in Aster's graveyard.

"I banish the Destiny HERO Dogma' and resurrect the Destiny HERO Disk Commander'!"

[Destiny HERO Disk Commander, ATK 300]

"The effect of Disk Commander If this card is Special Summoned from the GY: I can draw 2 cards."

Aster drew two more cards, and then another card popped up in the graveyard.

"The effect of Destiny HERO Malicious' in the graveyard! Remove Malicious from the game and special summon another Malicious from the deck!"

[Destiny HERO Malicious, ATK 800]

Seeing the field was filled with all kinds of heroes, Aster paused briefly and smiled softly.

"The real show is about to begin now." A card in his hand was quickly revealed, "Activate Spell Card Polymerization! I fuse Destiny HERO Disk Commander' and Destiny HERO Malicious' on the field!

The fusion condition is 2 Destiny HERO monsters! Fusion Summon!

The hero who runs through the Wheel of Destiny and takes on a new form to dominate the dark future

Destiny HERO Dystopia! "

Chapter 866: Aster's Strength

The dark blue armor reflected the bright white light, and the streamlined exoskeleton armor covered the hero's entire body. The hero's golden helmet had a "D" mark printed on its forehead.

Destiny HERO Dystopia?

The macho prisoner, who claimed to have an IQ of 200, looked like he had been poked into a blind spot in knowledge.

There is such a character in the HERO series?

Actually, its not his fault that he didnt recognize it. After all, this was indeed a brand new Destiny HERO, designed by Aster's father himself, and it was the first time since its introduction that it had been publicly unveiled.

This was Aster's brand new power, which represented his determination to go all out and aim for the world championship!

Destiny HERO Dystopia, ATK 2800

"The effect of Dystopia If this card is Special Summoned: I can target 1 Level 4 or lower Destiny HERO' monster in my GY; inflict damage to the opponent equal to that target's ATK." Aster said, "There is only one Destiny HERO' below level 4 in my graveyard, that is Destiny HERO Disk Commander', so you will take 300 damage!"

Dystopia raised his arm, and the golden beam hit the prisoner's body like a cannonball.

Doctor Collector, LP 2000 LP 1700

But the prisoner didn't take it seriously and continued: "Even so, as long as the Magician's Valkyria is around, you still can't attack."

The effect of the Vision HERO Poisoner. Aster said, During the Main Phase, if this card is treated as a Continuous Trap: I can Tribute 1 HERO' monster; Special Summon this card.

I used the Vision HERO Increase as a sacrifice and Special Summoned the Vision HERO Poisoner!

The body of the incremental person disintegrated and disappeared, and a phantom in the back row switched to an entity and stepped forward.

Vision HERO Poisoner, ATK 900

The effect of Poisoner If this card is Special Summoned from the Spell & Trap Zone: I can halve the ATK of 1 face-up monster on the field!

Doctor Collector felt that he understood: "So, through the clever cooperation and linkage between the effects of various heroes, do you want to break through the attack power of the Cosmo Queen"?

After all, the attack power of Cosmo Queen is 2900, so even your ace hero cant defeat her. If the attack power is halved by Poisoner, her attack power will only be 1450, which is indeed feasible. "

After a pause, Doctor Collector chuckled: "But you seem to have forgotten that as long as the Magician's Valkyria' is around"

"You seem to have made a mistake." Aster chuckled gracefully, "I activate the effect of Vision HERO Poisoner', and the target whose attack power is going to be halved is

Destiny HERO Dystopia! "

Nani!?

Not only Doctor Collector, but all the spectators in the audience were surprised.

Halve the ATK of your own monster!?

Destiny HERO Dystopia, ATK 2800 ATK 1400

Doctor Collector began to feel puzzled: "What do you want to do?"

The effect of Destiny HERO Dystopia! Once per turn, if this card's current ATK is different from its original ATK, I can target 1 card on the field; and destroy it!

I destroyed the Magician's Valkyria! "

Dystopia flipped his palm, and a dark ball of thunder and lightning broke through the air and landed on a "Magician's Valkyria". The magical girl died.

And after activating this effect, the attack power of Dystopia returns to its original value.

Destiny HERO Dystopia, ATK 1400 ATK 2800

Some members of the audience have already begun to admire and applaud.

The commentator couldn't hold back: "Beautiful! Cleverly using the combination of Vision HERO and Destiny HERO to launch an attack, player Aster is tearing apart the opponent's iron-clad defense step by step!"

Doctor Collector curled his lips: "Huh, it's just a little cleverness that has made little progress. I still have two Magician's Valkyrias' on the field, and you still can't attack."

The effect of Vision HERO Minimum Ray! I use the Vision HERO Poisoner on the field as a sacrifice, and the Minimum Ray is Special Summoned!

Vision HERO Minimum Ray, ATK 1200

Then activate Minimum Rays effect. Aster shouted, If this card is Special Summoned from the Spell & Trap Zone: I can destroy 1 Level 4 or lower monster the opponent controls.

I destroyed the second "Magician's Valkyria"! "

The Vision HERO raised his hand and raised the light gun. The slender laser beam passed through the Valkyrie, and the girl immediately turned into golden powder and exited.

Doctor Collector's expression finally changed.

The second Magician's Valkyria has also been breached! the commentator shouted emotionally, Has Doctor Collectors defense been shaken by the hero?

A wave of shouts from the audience rang out again, all seeming to be cheering for this new star!

"That is a good move, kid." Doctor Collector's expression when he looked at Aster was no longer arrogant.

But he did not panic.

Aster read something from his expression. He knew that this man was confident, and even with the defense line being torn apart in such a large way, he still seemed to feel that he had a chance to win.

He quickly judged that a large part of that confidence may come from the two set cards in the opponent's back row. It seemed that Doctor Collector thought it was the guarantee that he could survive this turn safely.

Aster pondered for a moment and said: "I haven't done any Normal Summon this turn. Then I will use the Vision HERO Minimum Ray' and Vision HERO Vyon' on the field as sacrifices to Tribute Summon Level 8, Vision HERO Witch Raider! ! ! "

The two heroes both turned into phantoms and disappeared, and a dark torrent rose from the ground!

The masked heroine wore a bright red wide-brimmed hat. The barrel of the silver-white gun in her hand was shining brightly, and the beautiful long hair under the brim seemed to be shining with golden light.

Vision HERO Witch Raider, ATK 2700

"The effect of Vision HERO Witch Raider!" Aster shouted, "When this card is Normal Summoned: I can destroy all Spells and Traps your opponent controls! "

Even the pitfall in the back row was taken into consideration?!

This criminal doctor who boasted of having a high IQ began to sweat on his forehead.

The "Dimensional Fissure" with super interference capabilities, the "Magician's Valkyria" with its attack-blockade combination, plus the setup in the backcourt, it should be an iron wall of defense no matter how you look at it.

I didn't expect that this young man could press forward so hard and smash all my arrangements in one turn!

The Witch Raider was firing on all cylinders, and the gun in her hands was firing loudly. The ferocious firepower crackled in the backcourt of Doctor Collector, and both cards were reduced to ashes.

One of the two set cards was "Mirror Wall", a powerful trap that could reduce the opponent's attacking monster's ATK to half.

There was another one, which was the well-known "Sakuretsu Armor".

"Oh! The two super powerful traps have the counterattack power that can reverse the situation in one breath!" the commentator shouted excitedly, "But both cards were completely crushed by Aster's tactical layout with no blind spots! Could it be that is it really today? Are all of us here going to witness history?"

Doctor Collector's face was quite ugly.

But it's not over yet.

His "Ebon Magician Curran" was in the Defense Position. The remaining "Magician's Valkyria" had an attack power of 1600, so even if it was defeated by the Dystopia, it would only deal 1200 damage.

And neither the powerful Dystopia nor the Witch Raider could conquer the 2900 attack power of the Cosmo Queen.

Even after talking so much, Aster still couldn't complete the killing.

Doctor Collector was confident and just waited until his next turn.

Activate the effect of Destiny HERO Malicious in the graveyard again. Aster said, Banish this card from my GY; Special Summon 1 Destiny HERO Malicious' from my Deck.

Destiny HERO Malicious, ATK 800

Doctor Collector: ""

Wait a moment, what do you want to do?

How the hell can you continue to swarm?

Activate the Spell Card Vision Fusion! Aster waved his hand, I fuse the Vision HERO Witch Raider, Destiny HERO Malicious, and Destiny HERO Dystopia on the field!

The fusion condition is 3 HERO monsters! Fusion Summon!

The ultimate Vision HERO is coming here

Vision HERO Trinity! ! ! "

The red armor crashed onto the field, and the energy core built into the armor ran at full speed, roaring like an idling engine!

Vision HERO Trinity, ATK 2500

The attack power of Trinity is doubled during the turn it is Fusion Summoned! Aster shouted, And this Fusion Summoned card can make up to 3 attacks during each Battle Phase!

Vision HERO Trinity, ATK 2500 ATK 5000

Doctor Collector's expression was almost deformed.

Attack power 5,000 and three consecutive shots!?

The whole arena was boiling, and some audience members who couldn't hold back their emotions jumped up from their seats and shouted Aster's name loudly.

There were no set cards, no hand cards, even every monster in the graveyard and its effects were clear.

This means that Doctor Collector did not even have the opportunity to print a hand trap or a grave trap on the spot.

Even if the gods come, they will not be able to save him.

Battle!

After a long operation and endless combo, Amity finally announced that it had entered the Battle Phase.

To the prisoner, it was like a sentence of despair.

Vision HERO Trinity, attack! Trinity Crush!

Absolute crushing power, the ultimate hero suppressed the entire field! All the magicians under Doctor Collector's hand were shattered one after another under the overwhelming tomb of light, and the destructive light pillars shot straight into the sky like breaking through a pavilion!

Doctor Collector, LP 1700 LP 0

Chapter 867: Monster!

"Aster Phoenix is the winner!"

The value hanging on the electronic display screen representing Doctor Collector's LP dropped rapidly, and finally stopped steadily at "0".

The applause was thunderous.

The shouts and applause were like a wave that broke out in an instant and almost collapsed the entire arena. Even the excited congratulatory lines of the commentator were drowned in the enthusiasm of the people, and even the ground on the stage seemed to be resonating.

Young man Aster Phoenix stood in the center of the stage, his expression as calm and indifferent as ever. He waved politely to the enthusiastic crowd and seemed not to be dazzled by the huge glory at all. He even seemed not to be surprised by this victory.

It was as if for him, this trophy had already been reserved and belonged to him, and it had already been placed here. All he did was step forward and take what belonged to him step by step, it was that simple.

World Champion, a dazzling title that countless people looked up to, representing the best of the best!

All of Asters contact information exploded that night. The phone calls came one after another, and he was almost overwhelmed by countless blessing messages.

A large number of contacts, who may have just been acquaintances and whom he had no memory of, sent him blessings and even expressed their interest in going out for dinner and playing cards. Of course, he ignored them without exception.

It was as if everyone around him was more enthusiastic about winning the championship than Aster himself. On the contrary, the parties involved were neither surprised nor too happy about it.

Because he felt that being a world champion was actually nothing more than that.

It's not that he was arrogant, nor did he feel that way at the beginning. The reason why he had such an idea was that he was influenced by Yuei Vu.

That was when he told Yuei Vu that he planned to officially enter the professional circle.

"Oh, let's do that." Yuei Vu replied casually, "Then try to win back the championship next year."

Ed was stunned for a long time: "Do you mean the regional championship?"

Huh? What's the use of that? Of course, I'm referring to the world champion.

Yuei Vu's tone was matter-of-fact, acting like it's as easy as having hands.

His idea was simple. If you can't even win a championship, then why are you playing in the competition?

In fact, the professional league in Yu-Gi-Oh was not quite the same as in other similar works. Although it was said to be a worldwide league, its level was not necessarily that high.

If nothing else, first of all, duelists like Yugi, Yuei Vu, Kaiba, and Jonouchi are not players in the league, and any one of them could actually sweep through the professional circle.

In addition to them, there were the three Swordsmen of Doma in DM, or the Ishtar siblings from the Tomb Keeper Clan.

Let's not talk about DM, even among all the truly ranked strong men who have appeared in the GX animation, none of them came from the professional circle. On the other hand, most of the great players who claimed to be at the top of the professional league were just rookies in the anime.

Because almost every industry and every field in the Yu-Gi-Oh was related to card playing, there were endless card-playing masters, and most of the masters were actually not interested in the option of "playing in the professional circle" and had their own reasons for not participating.

For example, for a duelist like Yuei Vu, playing in the professional league was tiring. He had to fly around the world all day long, and he was so busy that he didn't even have a chance to drink water. The income level wasn't worth such a hardship.

The bad guy named "DD" who was possessed by the Light of Destruction in GX could actually win so many consecutive championships, it could be seen that the standard of this league was just that.

It was worth mentioning that in the end, DD who held the world championship title was also defeated by Aster. So Yuei Vu felt that there was reason to believe that Aster in the original anime actually had the potential to win the league championship, but it just took time.

That's why Yuei Vu felt that there was no way Aster, who had been trained more or less by his side over the years, couldn't win this championship.

Sure enough, Aster, who had just entered the league, did not disappoint him and successfully won the championship.

Of course, this did not mean that professional leagues were just free and easy. In fact, in terms of the overall level of the duel world, professional players could indeed represent the level of top players, and it was not easy to win the championship in such a league.

It's just that Aster, who has already adjusted his mentality, has turned the page and is ready to continue marching toward a new goal.

After dealing with the post-match interviews and getting rid of the reporters who were chasing after him, Aster went straight back home.

His father has been waiting here for a long time and has prepared flowers for the celebration and a grand dinner.

Aster was helpless: "I told you, there is nothing to celebrate"

That's not okay.

Mr. Phoenix insisted on pushing him into the chair in front of the dining table and patted his head lovingly.

Not every father has the opportunity to see his child win such an honor.

When he was young, his father liked to touch his head. Now he has grown up, and his father still has not changed such a habit.

"Perhaps I should thank Brother Yuei Vu." Aster watched his father sit down across the dining table and said, "The tactical ideas I used in the game are largely due to Brother Yuei Vu's teachings."

Did you tell him?

Of course, the first thing I did when I left the meeting was send him a message.

It should be so. Mr. Phoenix smiled, We are lucky to have met him. If we had not met him, you might not have a father.

Ha, who knows? Maybe you will become someone else's adopted son and meet some strange people. "

Aster paused and frowned: "Dad, this is not funny at all."

"Okay, sorry, I just mentioned a possibility." Mr. Phoenix didn't dwell on the topic anymore, "Speaking of your Brother Yuei Vu, he sent me a message earlier today, saying that he was going to come here to celebrate you in person."

Ed's eyes lit up: "Really? But I just"

So it seems like he guessed the outcome before the final started. Mr. Phoenix smiled and adjusted his glasses. He has no doubts about you.

Aster showed a happy smile, much happier than when he defeated his opponent in the final and won the world championship.

Yeah, hes always been like that.

Snapped.

The chandelier on the ceiling of the living room went out, and the sound of electronic devices going off echoed in the darkness that quickly took over the entire place.

Mr. Phoenix turned his head in confusion: "Is there a power outage?"

What followed was a strong earthquake. Almost everything on the cupboards was dumped to the floor, mugs smashed to pieces on the floor. Mr. Phoenix was also thrown off the chair without warning, and his vision went dark briefly.

"Dad!"

Ed hurriedly stepped forward to help him up. The latter waved his hands to indicate that he was fine and adjusted his glasses at the same time.

Whats going on? Is it an earthquake?

Then another wave came, a strong earthquake.

Although this sounded a bit weird, Aster felt that this touch was like extremely heavy footsteps.

He stood up, walked to the window, opened the curtains, and then froze on the spot.

He saw some kind of monster, huge and bulky, like a moving fortress, walking slowly among the streets of the city, with people and vehicles fleeing in panic at its feet.

It stood tall in the sky, and its blue body as solid as a rock was clearly reflected in the glass curtain wall of the skyscraper.

A monster.

Not the duelist's collective name for the creatures inhabiting the cards, but rather a walking disaster-like monster that seemed to come from an old special-photography movie set.

Chapter 868

Everyone saw this scene. A huge monster suddenly appeared from nowhere and walked in the city. Its huge tail was like a broom, sweeping up and down the city streets.

The road surface designed for humans simply could not withstand such huge pressure, and every step taken by the monster left a cracked pit in the ground. It approached heavily and slowly, and its tail swept away the vehicles and lampposts parked along the way. Various things continued to explode at its feet, and continuous fires formed one.

It was heading towards a building. People in the building fled in terror as if they were racing against death in the last few seconds of their lives.

But many people actually knew that it was in vain. They had no possibility of escaping before the monster knocked down the building.

Unless someone came to the rescue.

Suddenly, a dark torrent hit the monster's face from the side. The monster roared, and its head turned to the left as a burst of blood mist exploded.

It stopped, changed its route, and looked sideways fiercely as if to see who was so ignorant that it dared to offend itself.

That was a dark hero. He was wrapped in thick armor, and one of his arms was like a silently roaring dragon head. Huge ferocious wings stretched out behind him, and the bright moonlight poured onto the ferocious body without reservation.

Destiny HERO Plasma!

This was naturally the spirit summoned by Aster.

Yuei Vu, who had reached Rank 10, no longer needed the "force" of Plasma. In addition, Yuei Vu already had a more useful real-life version of Plasma, so he returned the original version to its true owner long ago.

After all, Plasma was originally designed by Aster's father, and it was considered his property from the beginning. Yuei Vu accepted this card only for temporary storage. When Aster grew into a duelist who could take charge of his own business and had the power to control this card, Yuei Vu would naturally return it to its original owner.

And now Aster obviously already had such strength.

"Plasma!" Aster's Duel Disk had already been activated. He stood on the roof not far away, "Stop it!"

The enemy was very powerful, but he still stepped forward and blocked the path of the giant monster, trying to intercept its movements and reduce casualties.

Because he knew that Yuei Vu had done similar things more than once.

Privately, Aster watched the video of Yuei Vu sealing the three Sacred Beasts over and over many times, longing for the day when he could stand up like him and save the world like a handsome hero.

After all, he, Aster Phoenix, was also a man who would be the Duel King!

So of course he couldn't back down in a place like this!

The battle between the hero and the big monster began. The first one to attack was Plasma. Plasma used Blood Terror, and countless bloody arrows hit the big monster head-on!

But nothing happened.

Then it was the big monster's turn to counterattack. The big monster opened its mouth and spit out a high-pressure water gun, which also hit the Plasma head-on.

The effect is outstanding!

Plasma flew backward with just one hit. His body was like a cannonball, penetrating the tall building behind him from front to back. He flew downwards and shot into the ground, creating a big crater in the ground with a loud noise like thunder.

Aster's face changed slightly.

What a powerful monster!

The current Plasma has escaped from the possession of the Light of Destruction. His power as a spirit could not be compared with that of his heyday, but he was still a strong man in the world of duel monsters.

Aster never expected that he would be unable to fight back in front of this giant monster.

Aster has been with his father, who was a card designer, since he was a child. Now he was a professional player, and he thought he had a fairly comprehensive understanding of Duel Monster cards in the world.

Even though he searched his memory throughout, he could not remember that there was such a giant creature in front of him in any series of cards.

What the hell is this?

Aster even began to wonder: Was this thing really the spirit of a duel monster?

Plasma was knocked out. Although he did not leave the field, he seemed to be unable to recover in a short period of time. Unfortunately, the monster seemed to have locked onto the location of Aster, the controller of Plasma.

Aster realized something was wrong.

He managed to slide down the slope of the roof a second before the overwhelming slaps fell. The building seemed to explode right behind him, and the entire roof disappeared under the monster's slap.

Aster was almost caught in the collapse of the roof. He hung with difficulty on the edge of the broken rooftop, his body suspended in the air, and all his weight was borne by his two arms.

He had never been more grateful for those push-ups he did regularly.

But the monster had no intention of letting him go. Its huge eyes seemed to narrow as if taunting the duelist who dared to challenge it.

Aster imagined that this guy might be steaming or braising himself quickly.

It would take some time for Plasma to fly back, and it may be too late. The only way for him to avoid being treated as a side dish by the big monster was to let go and take a leap of faith.

Bang!

Like a loud hammering sound with a blunt object, the monster's head suffered a heavy blow. The big blue man howled miserably, covered his head, and fell to the side.

When the beast's body fell, the movement was like a landslide. The ground was smashed into pieces, and the land seemed to have sunk. Dust rose into the sky, and water pipes that broke underground spewed transparent water columns into the sky.

A black and white whirlwind rolled up in the sky. A silhouette gradually appeared in the center of the storm, a warrior.

He had a symmetrical black and white body, riding the storm of chaos, with two-color streamers flying behind his helmet.

Contrast HERO Chaos!

Aster was immediately surprised: "Brother Yuei Vu!"

The black armed helicopter fell from the night, its propellers roaring like steel. The cabin door with the "KC" mark was opened, and Yuei Vu stood on the edge of the cabin, his windbreaker flying under the hurricane of the propeller.

Sir, it will be dangerous to continue approaching! the pilot warned.

You really couldn't blame him. Looking at the giant creature struggling to get up on the ground, a normal person should feel scared.

It doesn't matter, come closer. Yuei Vu said.

The pilot had no choice but to do as he was told.

Who makes someone the boss?

Through the smoke and dust, Yuei Vu finally saw the big man's appearance clearly.

With a rock-solid blue body and huge size, the most eye-catching feature was the huge carapace on its back, making it look like a giant turtle. The shape under the carapace was like layers of scales, and the teeth were like neatly arranged sharp saw teeth.

Yuei Vu recognized this guy at that time. With such a prominent appearance and the fact that it was a famous name in the Yu-Gi-Oh! world, almost no card player would not be able to recognize him.

Gameciel, the Sea Turtle Kaiju!

What? Not familiar with Yu-Gi-Oh! and never heard of this name?

Then you may have heard of its other name in the parallel universe.

Because this was one of the protagonists of the Tokusatsu movie, almost as famous as the Godzilla back then.

Gamera the Giant Monster!

Chapter 869: Are You The One Who Releases This Sea Turtle?

As we all know, the card pool of the Yu-Gi-Oh series was all-encompassing. Aliens, vampires, mechas, ninjas, you could find almost any element among them.

Among series with the theme of "heroes" already has masked heroes, including civil servants from M78 who were intergalactic law enforcement, so naturally their mortal enemies, the big monsters who specialized in creating earthquakes and tsunamis, were indispensable.

That was the "Kaiju" series.

The word "Kaiju" referred to the giant creatures in film and television works in a general sense, and was also the villain that M78 civil servants deal with full-time.

Each Kaiju in this series had its counterpart in a famous Tokusatsu film and was a famous overlord in their respective parallel universes.

For example, the giant turtle in the city at this time corresponded to "Gamera the Giant Monster", a representative character in the Japanese movie which was once as famous as Godzilla.

But even for players who didn't know about Tokusatsu, Gameciel, the Sea Turtle Kaiju was also a frightening beast.

Just because of the ordinary sentence on this card:

"You can Special Summon this card (from your hand) to your opponent's field in Attack Position, by Tributing 1 monster they control."

Just such a simple line of words was enough to defeat all the gods in the world of Yu-Gi-Oh. Whether you were the invincible Red Daddy, the Three Egyptian Gods who were full of force, or the Blue-Eyes Shining Dragon that was said to have absolute resistance, you could be turned into a turtle in one second.

Because "Tributing an opponent's monster" was its summoning condition, its nature was the same as "summoning the Dark Magician Girl by using Obelisk the Tormentor as a sacrifice". No matter how strong a monster's resistance was, they could not resist it.

You worked hard, tried your best, spent all your resources, and operated about it for five minutes, and finally made a big monster that you thought was invincible.

Then in the next round, he would turn into this stupid turtle at the speed of light.

Any player who has experienced this kind of despair would never forget the horror of Sea Turtle.

Similar monsters like the Lava Golem required the opponent to have two monsters on the field to summon, and The Winged Dragon of Ra Sphere Mode required three. That meant they were useless if the opponent only controlled one monster. But our Sea Turtle only needed one sacrifice, which means it could easily kill any big monster in any situation.

This feature of the Kaiju series reflected the characteristics of Tokusatsu monsters: they could eat anything. It seemed that there was nothing in the world that they could not digest.

Of course, Contrast HERO Chaos's blow couldn't kill the Turtle Kaiju so easily. Gameciel shook his head and climbed up, glaring angrily at the black and white hero in mid-air.

Just when Yuei Vu thought it was ready to gather its strength and fight the Masked Hero for 300 rounds, this guy turned around 360 degrees and ran away.

For such a big turtle, its body instantly became insubstantial and transparent, disappearing without a trace.

But its breath has not disappeared. Not only that, but after the Kaiju disappeared, Yuei Vu could feel that the power continued to expand and become stronger and stronger.

Yuei Vu stood on the edge of the cabin, his eyes quickly passing between the ruins below, and he quickly found the source of the power.

Or to be more precise, the bad guy didn't seem to want to hide at all.

That man was wearing a black formal suit, with a shaggy beard, and a pair of square-framed glasses on the bridge of his nose, with white flashes reflecting on the lenses.

Pedestrians on the entire street had already fled when the Sea Turtle was strutting around, which made the man standing in the middle of the dilapidated ruins particularly eye-catching.

Coupled with the cold smile at the corner of his mouth and his eyes staring directly at the gunship in mid-air, that shaky expression simply said:

"That's right, I was the one who released that Sea Turtle. Come and fight me."

As an enthusiastic Duel King who was always willing to help others, Yuei Vu decided to meet this guy's request without thinking.

Seemingly seeing Yuei Vu's intention, the pilot in the front seat of the cabin said: "Sir, we can land now."

"Need not."

As soon as he finished speaking, Yuei Vu jumped out of the cabin and fell vertically.

The Masked Hero turned into his Divine Wind form, which helped him cushion his fall, adjusted his posture, and landed steadily among the ruins of the street.

Yuei Vu discovered that the superhero-style landing seemed to be really addictive!

It's fun to pretend to be cool for a while, and it's always nice to pretend to be cool all the time.

After landing and standing firm, Yuei Vu took a closer look and realized, wow, this guy was a familiar face.

DD, the "third-rate duelist with a fourth-rate deck" in the original work, was possessed by the Light of Destruction when he was in despair, killed Aster's father, took away the card of Plasma, and later became Aster's adoptive father.

Back then, Yuei Vu took the initiative to destroy the Light of Destruction that resided in the Plasma. He thought that this guy should withdraw from the stage of history from now on.

He didn't expect this guy to come out again at this moment.

In fact, ever since the Sea Turtle Kaiju appeared, Yuei Vu felt that the powerful energy fluctuations on the Kaiju were somewhat familiar. It's just that there were so many villains that he had beaten, and he couldn't even remember them for a while.

It wasn't until he saw DD's face that he suddenly remembered that it corresponded to the plot related to GX.

Duel King?

DD, who was obviously a no-name duelist, recognized Yuei Vu's identity, but he didn't give in at all. Instead, he showed off the Yu-Gi-Oh villain's tradition of "joining the dark side and expanding" very skillfully, with "I'm invincible" written all over his face.

Ha, I'm worried that I can't find a suitable opponent to test my current strength. Is this the so-called 'when you get really sleepy, someone gives you a pillow'? DD smiled crookedly and pushed up his glasses.

Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows: "So you think you can beat me?"

That's right.

DD had the look of a villain, and the confidence came along with the role.

"Let me guess, your confidence comes from the big turtle just now, right?" Yuei Vu continued to ask, "Did you release that monster just now?"

"Not bad."

DD looked like he was not trying to hide it at all, and his face was as proud as a child showing off his toys.

He showed the card "Gameciel, the Sea Turtle Kaiju" towards Yuei Vu, and then started laughing wildly.

Even you, the Duel King, are only the king of this world at best. But I have mastered a power that does not belong to this world!

If he was still doubtful until just now, then when DD showed this card, Yuei Vu was completely convinced.

It can't be wrong.

What resided in this "Gameciel, the Sea Turtle Kaiju" was The Light of Destruction in the GX animation that intended to destroy everything in the universe.

Chapter 870: The Evil of Universe

It was probably not an exaggeration to say that The Light of Destruction was the real BOSS throughout the entire GX series.

This cosmic villain first appeared in the "Society of Light" arc in the second season of GX and was described as a malevolent celestial entity with endless destructive impulses.

When Judai's ace monster "Elemental HERO Neos" appeared, Neo-Spacians explained to Judai the opposition between good and evil that has existed in the universe since ancient times and The Light of Destruction was the biggest enemy that Neos and Neo-Spacian had to face.

Everyone already knew that Elemental HERO Neos was actually the civil servant of M78 who had changed into a new vest. Then the identity positioning corresponding to The Light of Destruction in the plot setting was naturally obvious.

The Light of Destruction that appeared in "The Society of Light" arc was the power that possessed the "Destiny HERO Plasma" card many years ago. After Aster's father died, it was transferred to DD's body, and then transferred again, at the end of the arc, to the new BOSS Saio Takuma, until the power of Judai and Neos eliminated him at the end of that season.

Moreover, The Light of Destruction attached to "Plasma" had been killed by the "Osiris the Sky Dragon" controlled by Yuei Vu six years ago. It could be said that it was strangled in the cradle before it caused trouble, so it stood to reason that the above series of plots should not appear.

But this was not absolute.

For example, even if Yuei Vu killed the evil thoughts that were attached to the Plasma, The Light of Destruction still appeared now, and as if it was a joke of fate, DD was chosen as the host again.

Because what Yuei Vu defeated at the beginning was only a very small part of The Light of Destruction's main body.

It could also be seen in the animation of "The Society of Light" arc that although The Light of Destruction possessing Saio Takuma was indeed very strong and had certain abilities of BOSS, it was not at the level of destroying the world.

That guy's plan to destroy the world at that time was to gain control of the satellite cannon by controlling the prince of a certain animated fictional country and hoped to destroy the planet through the bombing of the satellite cannon from the earth's orbit.

In fact, it could be seen from this that this guy's level as a BOSS was nothing more than that.

Darzt/Zorc: To destroy the world, you still need to borrow the human satellite? You bring shame to us last BOSSes, why dont you quit the chat group

But despite this, Yuei Vu never took it for granted that "The Light of Destruction is nothing more than that, I can fight ten of them".

After all, according to the explanations of Neo-Spacians, The Light of Destruction's main body was actually deep in the universe. Until the animation ended, no one knew what it really looked like, or how strong it was.

The only information that could be obtained from the animation was that even the most powerful BOSS Yubel in the entire GX story became so powerful after receiving a wave of Light of Destruction in the universe.

The fluctuations of The Light of Destruction not only gave Yubel two new forms that she did not have in the past, but also gave her very terrifying power.

Yubel, who has obtained The Light of Destruction, could suppress the three Sacred Beasts even with only one hand left in her body (to be fair, they were in card form at that time), and could easily break through the barriers between parallel time and space, and, with a snap of her fingers, could dig out the entire Duel Academy from the island and transported it to other dimensions.

In that state, Yubel could really be said to have killed all people who stood in her way. All the strong men in the GX animation were defeated by her. As a Yu-Gi-Oh villain, Sister Yub created the myth of "zero defeat" which was unprecedented and unique. Even the final battle with Judai at the end of the arc was indecisive.

(Team "zero win", Mr. Ma, Bakura, Aigami, and others press F to show respect)

What was even more terrifying is that even The Light of Destruction that appeared in this arc was still just the tip of the iceberg of its true self.

At the end of this chapter of the animation, when Yubel accepted her whitewash and merged with Judai, she also swore that they would fight side by side from now on to fight against The Light of Destruction which intended to destroy the universe.

It's just that the animation screenwriter may have forgotten about this later, and twenty years later, this hole was still there and has not been filled

But one thing was certain, that was, this guy's true self could not be underestimated. After all, the biggest ambition of BOSS so far was to destroy the earth, but the setting of this guy's was to destroy the universe. The scale was different.

And the thing that worried Yuei Vu the most was not its strength, but its mystery and unknown.

Of the BOSSes that have appeared so far even if they were as powerful as the Great Evil God Zorc, Yuei Vu at least knew its details.

What people fear most is actually the unknown.

So here Yuei Vu has already cursed the screenwriter who dug holes in GX animation, and even wanted to drag the screenwriter into this world to play a Shadow Game with him

How to defeat the BOSS could be thought about later, but first of all, Yuei Vu must deal with other people's miscellaneous things.

and, by the way, collected the Kaiju series.

To be honest, a divine weapon that could swallow gods alive, and was said to be equal to a Bankai, was delivered to his door with free shipping. If he didn't accept it, how could he live up to his heart as a duelist? ?

Yuei Vu: This turtle would have to change its surname to Vu after today!

"Duel!" x2

Yuei Vu, LP 4000

DD, LP 4000

Although DD himself was a chicken, The Light of Destruction attached to him was not. It could be seen from the fact that The Light of Destruction in the original anime could directly transform this piece of shit from a third-rate novice into a world champion.

Yuei Vu waved his hand directly: "Set three cards onto the field."

"Huh? Did you just start with three set cards?" Seeing three set cards in the back row, not only did DD not realize the seriousness of the problem, but he even mocked, "It seems that Mr. Duel King's starting hand is not ideal.

Since the duel hasn't officially started yet, I can specifically allow you to shuffle the cards and start again, haha"

Yuei Vu ignored him and waved his hand

Card of Sanctity!

After setting three cards and playing one card, Yuei Vu only had two cards left in his hand, making a net profit of four cards. DD had five cards in his hand and only drew one.

Earning cards in Duel King's duel was so simple, crude, and boring.

Even the other party didn't think much about it.

"Ha! It's a card that speeds up drawing. Sure enough, your hand is very bad, right?"

"Summon the Magician's Rod'."

[Magician's Rod, ATK 1600]

When Magician's Rod is summoned, I can add 1 Spell/Trap that mentions Dark Magician' from my deck to my hand. Yuei Vu said, I added Illusion Magic to my hand.

Then activate the Quick-Play Spell "Illusion Magic"! Tribute 1 Spellcaster monster; add up to 2 copies of Dark Magician' from my Deck and/or GY to my hand.

I tributed the Magician's Rod and added two Dark Magician cards from the deck to my hand. "

The magician waving his staff disappeared from the field, and two magicians popped out of the deck and were drawn into his hand.

"Hey, are you using the Dark Magician?" DD said disdainfully, "A mere magician is just a ration in front of the powerful Kaiju."
