

I Play Yu-Gi 891

Chapter 891: Indirect Observation

"The boss is right behind you" may be one of the most destructive words to workers.

Although Yuei Vu has not claimed to be a "worker" for a long time, his body still reacted instinctively when he heard these words. He turned his head and saw the president's stiff face.

Kaiba crossed his arms and said expressionlessly: "What did you just say?"

"Well"

Yuei Vu glanced at Mokuba from the corner of his eye, and what he got was an expression that said "powerless" but even looked a little gloating.

I knew this guy was unreliable.

"Well, what I mean is that our president is probably the most sincere and passionate president in the world for users and players.

You see, Colonel Sanders may not necessarily eat fried chicken, and Steve Jobs may not use an iPhone, but the whole world knows that our president will never put down the Duel Disk, right? "

Mokuba reminded: "Theoretically, my brother has sealed his deck and retired."

Yuei Vu disagreed: "Theoretically, Jonouchi is a horse bone."

President Kaiba walked in without saying a word, took the terminal from Mokuba's hand, and glanced at it: "Domino Daily News? Humph, it's just a clown trying to impress people for the sake of sales."

So it seems that Kaiba may not agree with the report's evaluation of him as "a man who thinks with his Duel Disk".

However, it seemed that the president had not come to capture Yuei Vu to be his card friend for a while. The reason was probably related to the fact that Yuei Vu's good friend Yugi helped him share the pressure.

Yuei Vu also deliberately asked Mokuba in a sideways way. Mokuba said that he heard that Yugi had returned to Domino a while ago, and the president really couldn't wait to go and play cards with him.

It's just that the president set out in high spirits, like a general determined to win. But when he came back, his face was ashen, he bit his lip and said nothing.

On the contrary, after the card game, Yugi still had a friendly and warm smile and waved to say goodbye to them. His posture was almost like saying: "Let's play cards happily again next time~"

As for the result of the duel?

Mokuba said they usually didnt mention this.

Anyway, this was not the first time President Kaiba happily grabbed the Duel King to play cards with him. His subordinates all knew what to do.

If the president was high-spirited when he came out after playing cards, everyone could naturally go up and cheer for the president, who seemed to enjoy it a lot.

But if the president came out with a pale face and said nothing (which seemed usually to be the case), then everyone would tacitly agree not to mention it, as if there was no such thing happening.

If there was some dumb idiot who didn't know how to look at his face and insisted on bringing this up, it's over. He would definitely be sent to Siberia to dig potatoes the next day.

Yuei Vu wholeheartedly nodded to the president's suggestion that "it will be over between us when this competition is over." At the same time, he was planning to fly back to Duel Academy overnight as soon as the competition was over, and not to give the president any opportunity.

Many people in the outside world feel that the connection between these legendary duelists, who have shared life and death together and have been fighting side by side since the first Battle City Tournament to this day, should be as close as an indestructible steel plate.

However, in fact, although Yuei Vu did not deny that he has a good relationship with these old friends from the DM era, if he could choose, he would actually prefer to deal with the young freshmen of GX.

First of all, let's talk about Jonouchi. The God of Gamblers, the absolute emperor of die was not someone not in line with people like Yuei Vu. If Yuei Vu had a "candidate list of opponents", Jonouchi would definitely be at the bottom.

Not to mention Muto Yugi. Yuei Vu felt that any person with a sound mind and normal brain circuits on the planet may not want to play a game with Muto Yugi again. There may be only two exceptions, either a card addict who couldn't live without a duel or a masochist.

Then there was the president.

Theoretically speaking, among these people, the president seemed to be a pretty good player, especially after being tricked by his only two card friends in various ways for so many years, it was really not easy for him to still stick to the Power Deck route.

Playing cards with the president was not a big deal in itself, but it happened so often that no one else could stand it.

At first, Yuei Vu still didn't understand why Atem had to be in such a hurry to return to the underworld when his friends were so reluctant to give up. Anyway, he has been wandering alone for three thousand years, so why not be patient and wait for a few more decades, so his AIBO could accompany him on the road?

Later, not long after Atem left, Yuei Vu felt that he had solved the case. He felt that the main reason may be that the president chased and dueled with him too frequently, and Atem's mind could not bear it.

Somewhere, in a palace filled with dazzling white light.

Saio Takuma sat alone at the table, with a white tablecloth spread on the table. He stared intently at the tarot cards on the table, which were being shuffled and cut automatically.

The shuffling stopped. Saio's round eyes lit up with a dim scarlet light, as if he was trying to see through the pile of cards to see the trajectory of fate.

Normally this should be a fairly easy task for him, but it was different now.

Because it involved a man named Yuei Vu.

After that, Saiou tried to predict Yuei Vu's tarot cards more than once, but the result every time was a failure without exception.

So now he decided to think differently.

He sent Alice, one of his most capable subordinates, to test this opponent whom he couldn't see through. They would confront each other head-on, which made the fate of the two people intertwined under artificial arrangements.

His seed, the power of the Light of Destruction, was already lurking in Alice's body. Saio felt that through the influence of that power, perhaps he could indirectly observe Yuei Vu's fate from Alice's perspective, and also find out why he was so special on the chessboard of fate.

He turned over the first card.

A chariot of a king, with the victor standing condescendingly on it as if showing off his achievements to the people.

The Chariot, which symbolized absolute victory.

When the tarot cards are turned over, a future takes root in the present and is put on the agenda of destiny.

Through this tarot card, he seemed to see the Light of Destruction dominating everything, illuminating the stubborn darkness on the chessboard of destiny. The supreme light dyed everything into the white of destruction.

Even the duel king.

Saiou showed a cruel and ferocious smile, with fangs sticking out from the corners of his mouth.

Although he still didn't know why he hadn't been able to directly predict Yuei Vu's future, that was no longer important.

Because he has seen that this stubborn stain would be eliminated and the future would still be bright and open.

The future belonged to the supreme Light of Destruction!

Chapter 892: Why Is It Always You?

The KC Cup morning match ended and it was finally the halftime break.

There was still a while before lunch, and at Chikas insistence, Yuei Vu decided to accompany her to the Kaiba Land first.

The Dark Magician Girl followed behind, focusing on "eating" content along the way. The rare trip in casual clothes made the girl feel like she had discovered a new world, and everything was new to her.

Master, this apple candy is delicious!

She ran over excitedly and handed an apple candy to Yuei Vu.

"I don't need it." Yuei Vu smiled and touched her little head, "You can eat it yourself."

Yuei Vu felt a little relieved. Could it be that she still remembered me after finding something delicious?

If a child can give you his favorite candy, it means they really like you.

Master, these octopus balls are also delicious!

"Master"

Seeing the girl enjoying herself among various vendors and shops, Yuei Vu didn't stop her, but only reminded her: "Don't run too far."

These two days happened to be the carnival event of Kaiba Land, and the venue was really packed with people. Dark Magician Girl was not very smart, and her sense of direction was actually a bit bad. If she was not careful and was overwhelmed by the crowd, she may not be able to find the way back.

In this respect, she was about the same as Chika.

Its just that Chika was very witty. She was holding Yuei Vu's arm tightly and not going anywhere, so there was no way she would get lost.

"Ah!"

The reckless Dark Magician Girl turned her head without seeing clearly, and bumped into someone with a "snap".

In a flash of lightning, she clearly felt something. She felt as if she had crashed into a hard steel plate, which immediately caused a backlash, and an invisible but amazing force rushed toward her like a surging wave.

Almost out of conditioned reflex, the spirit girl immediately took defense. She was so proficient that the spells engraved into her muscle memory were activated, and the simple but practical black magic defense instantly spread all over her body, resisting the impact.

At this time, she could see clearly who she bumped into.

That was also a girl, dressed in snow-like white clothes, with short blond neck-length hair, and wearing a Duel Disk on her hand but that didn't mean much, more than half of the people in Kaiba Land were wearing Duel Disks.

Alice, the subordinate sent by Saio to participate in this competition.

This was a completely random encounter, a complete accident.

Just as the Dark Magician Girl sensed the other person's specialness for the first time, Alice immediately realized that she was no ordinary human being.

Without thinking, Alice immediately activated the power of the Light of Destruction that resided in her body.

That was the ability that Saio gave her. She could slightly affect other people's consciousness and interfere with other people's cognition, such as exerting a mental suggestion to make the other person forget her existence.

Alice didn't know who she bumped into, but she clearly remembered that her mission this time was to Yuei Vu, and she had to avoid unnecessary complications.

Before setting off, Saio had emphasized that she must keep a low profile, at least not to arouse the other party's suspicion until she won the championship and had a chance to meet Yu Yu.

Thus she wanted the girl in front of her to forget about her, or at least make the girl relax her vigilance and avoid conflict.

But obviously, that had no effect.

In other words, it had the opposite effect. Not only was her mental attack useless, but it actually made the Dark Magician Girl's face immediately turn serious.

"This method is of no use to me." The Dark Magician Girl warned, "Who are you?"

Tch Alice gritted her teeth.

She never expected that she had been careful when slipped into the KC Cup to participate, yet something like this still happened. She was not seen by the Kaiba or Yuei Vu but was cooked because she randomly collided with such a mysterious girl.

Alice quickly thought about countermeasures.

She still hoped to solve the problem in a low-key manner, avoid attracting unnecessary attention to herself, and win the competition as planned.

The main purpose of Saio sending her here was actually to test, he did not expect that she could defeat Yuei Vu. The key to this operation was to not be exposed, even if she lost, it didn't matter.

But the unknown blond girl in front of her had obviously discovered the ominous power within Alice in the "accidental contact" just now.

Then Alice must first find a way to get rid of her

"What happened?"

A voice came from behind.

Alice listened in a circle, her heart and lungs almost stopped for a moment.

Duel King Yuei Vu!?

Alice gritted her teeth and started to break into a cold sweat.

Whatever you are afraid of is what comes. This Yuei Vu actually appears here by such a coincidence

"Huh?" Yuei Vu noticed Alice, "You are who are you? Are you a contestant in this competition?"

Although he didn't watch the morning competition very carefully and didn't remember the name of any contestant, he still had some impression of Alice.

Pretty girls are always easier to impress.

"Master, be careful!" The Dark Magician Girl tugged at the corner of his clothes, "There is something wrong with this woman!"

Huh? Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows.

Master?

Alice noticed this title keenly and took another look at the girl in front of her who collided with her ball.

This blond hair, and this sexy figure that is even more exaggerated than myself

Masaka!?

Alice's pupils narrowed.

Is this the Duel King's spirit the Dark Magician Girl??

Alice's whole body was not feeling well.

Damn! If you are a spirit, why can't you just stay inside the deck?

What is the probability of this? In such a big Kaiba Land, with such a large group of people, how could I happen to be hit by the Duel King's spirit?

This had nothing to do with disguise skills at all, its just a stroke of bad luck.

Then this could only be said to be an arrangement of fate. In the animation, this may be called a plot kill

Wait, it's not right! Didn't Saio-sama say that fate is on our side?

Or is it because fate has changed again and again?

But now that she had been exposed, there was nothing more to say.

Alice had a sudden change of heart and decided to overturn her original plan.

Plans cannot keep up with changes. As a subordinate, you must have the ability to adapt to changes.

Hiding, disguising, testing strength, it all doesnt matter anymore!

As long as I kill the Duel King here, that'll be fine, right?

Thinking of this, Alice's eyes suddenly turned white, and astonishing energy fluctuations burst out from her body, like transparent air waves sweeping and pushing in all directions.

Floor tiles cracked, powder was blown up into the air, and a transparent storm swept across, causing countless tourists to exclaim.

The surging, twisted white light was like a climbing mountain, standing majestically in front of Yuei Vu, transforming into a maniacally laughing demon, waving invisible claws!

The Light of Destruction!

Its you again. Yuei Vu frowned.

Why is it always you?

Chapter 893: Black Flame!

Now he knew that the other party was from the Light of Destruction camp, there was naturally nothing more to say. The Shadow Game was started immediately.

Play cards first and ask questions later.

Duel! x2

Yuei Vu, LP 4000

Alice, LP 4000

Im the first to go, draw!

Alice took the initiative and her movements were very clean and neat.

Set a monster onto the field, then set three more cards, and my turn is over!

This made Yuei Vu, who was still recalling what deck the opponent was using, couldn't help but raise his eyebrows.

Yuei Vu remembered that he should have seen Alice's game through the live broadcast in the morning. Although he didn't look at it very seriously and wasn't particularly sure of the opponent's tactics, at least he was sure that it wasn't four set cards from the start.

Could it be that she actually retained her strength in the competition and did not use her real deck?

Yuei Vu put aside his doubts for the time being. No matter what, what he should do remained unchanged.

On my turn, I activate the Spell Card Graceful Charity. Draw 3 cards, then discard 2 cards.

Then I activate the Spell Card A Hero Lives!" Yuei Vu said, "When there are no face-up HERO' monsters on my field, pay half of my LP to special summon 1 Level 4 or lower Elemental HERO' from the deck "

Alice held her breath.

Are you ready to attack with your favorite combination of heroes right from the start?

For this reason, he did not hesitate to pay a full two thousand life points directly

Yuei Vu, LP 4000 LP 2000

I summon the Elemental HERO Prisma!

The prism reflected the brilliance of the crystal, and the diamond-like Elemental HERO flew directly out of the deck with a golden light.

Elemental HERO Prisma, ATK 1700

The effect of Prisma Once per turn: I can reveal 1 Fusion Monster from my Extra Deck, then send 1 of the Fusion Materials whose name is mentioned on that card from my Deck to the GY; this card's name becomes the sent monster's until the End Phase.

Yuei Vu revealed a card, and another card popped up from the deck at the same time.

"What I am showing is Gladiator Beast Gyzarus'. I send the fusion material Gladiator Beast Bestiari' from the deck to the graveyard. Until the end of the round, Prisma can be used as Gladiator Beast Bestiari'.

Reflect Change! "

Prisma's whole body was flashing with light, and the bright light flowed on the surface of the spar, and the image of the Gladiator Beast was reflected on the diamond-like clear body.

Alice frowned: "Gladiator Beast?"

I normal summon Gladiator Beast Dimacari!

Gladiator Beast Dimacari, ATK 1600

I return the Elemental HERO Prisma who was treated as Gladiator Beast Bestiari and Gladiator Beast Dimacari' to the deck!

The fusion condition is Gladiator Beast Bestiari + 1 Gladiator Beast' monster! Contact Fusion!

Howling wind, the ancient king of the Roman Empire

Gladiator Beast Gyzarus! ! ! "

The fusion of Prisma and Dimacari, two beams of light were immersed in the whirlpool in mid-air, a powerful energy mixed with a green whirlwind erupts, and King Gyzarus came riding the storm!

Gladiator Beast Gyzarus, ATK 2400

"Gyzarus's effect," Yuei Vu said, "When this card is Special Summoned: I can target up to 2 cards on the field; destroy those targets! Destroy the set monster and the set card in the middle!"

Gyzarus's green metal wings rolled up a storm, and the dense red spikes shot the two cards in the front and back into sieves.

Battle! Yuei Vu then waved his hand, Gladiator Beast Gyzarus, attack directly!

The whirlwind hit Alice's body. She groaned, crossed her arms in front of her, and staggered back two steps.

Alice, LP 4000 LP 1600

Gyzarus's attack actually passed without any hindrance, which surprised Yuei Vu a little.

Are the remaining set cards just decorations? How could he get through so easily?

However, he continued: "The Battle Phase ends, and the effect of Gladiator Beast Gyzarus' is activated. Return it to the Extra Deck; Special Summon 2 Gladiator Beast' monsters from my Deck, except Gladiator Beast Bestiari'."

Two cards popped up from the deck, and he drew them into his hand respectively.

"I special summon Gladiator Beast Hoplomus' and Gladiator Beast Secutor'!

Gladiator Beast Hoplomus, DEF 2100

Gladiator Beast Secutor, DEF 300

"The effect of Hoplomus." Yuei Vu continued, "If this card was Special Summoned by the effect of a Gladiator Beast' monster, its original DEF becomes 2400."

The golden beast warrior roared in a low voice, the muscles all over his body swelled as if they were inflated, and flying flames rose up from the soles of his feet.

Gladiator Beast Hoplomus, DEF 2100 DEF 2400

Set a card, I end my turn.

"At this moment, over the set card!" Alice raised her hand, "Trap Card Back to the Front! Target 1 monster in my GY; Special Summon it in Defense Position!"

The card that Gyzarus had just blown up immediately popped into her hand.

"Based on this effect, what I special summon from my GY is Horus the Black Flame Dragon LV4!"

The dark vortex opened, black flames burst out, and a firebird shrouded in black flames jumped out onto the field, with flames leaping under its feet.

Horus the Black Flame Dragon LV4, DEF 1000

Ho, is it actually the Black Flame Dragon? Yuei Vu narrowed his eyes slightly.

It was really a nostalgic monster full of the flavor of the old times.

As you could tell from the name, it was the same as the "Armed Dragon" series and the Silent series of Yugi. They were called LV monsters.

The characteristic of LV monsters was that they could continue to grow from low levels to high levels as the number of turns increased. The longer they last, the more powerful they become.

The disadvantage was also obvious, that was, it was too slow.

This kind of series took several turns to grow a powerful monster who was often not even powerful enough was often unable to cope with the increasingly accelerating duel environment.

Especially in the era of "whoever goes first will win", decks that required two turns to exert their power were too extravagant, and this series that was destined to be slow would naturally be eliminated by the environment.

My turn, draw! Alice said, Activate the Spell Card Pot of Greed, draw two more cards from the deck!

In fact, if she used "Back to the Front" in advance, Alice could actually resurrect the Black Flame Dragon LV4 one step ahead of time to block Gyzarus's direct attack. But she didn't do that, obviously to save the monster.

It was equivalent to using your own LP as a shield to keep the monster on the field.

But it didn't matter. Yuei Vu clearly remembers that Black Flame Dragon LV4 must "destroy the opponent's monster in battle" before it could evolve into a more advanced form, which meant that if she wanted the monster to upgrade, she must let it fight.

In that case, it would be impossible for her to summon the upgraded form of the Black Flame Dragon

Spell Card Graceful Charity, draw three cards, then discard two cards.

She raised her arms.

"Then open the set card: Trap Card Level Soul! Tribute 1 monster on my side of the field. Remove from play 1 LV' monster from my Graveyard, and Special Summon 1 monster from my hand or Deck that is specifically listed by that removed monster, ignoring its Summoning conditions!"
(animation card)

She pointed to her own field.

I offer the Horus the Black Flame Dragon LV4 on the field as a sacrifice!

Immediately afterward, a card from her graveyard popped up.

The Horus the Black Flame Dragon LV6 in the GY is removed from the game!

A dark whirlwind erupted, a magic circle opened on the ground, the golden Eye of Horus opened in mid-air, and black flames filled the space.

Judge of Horus, the dragon of black fire that burns and destroys all things

Horus Black Flame Dragon LV8! ! ! "

Yuei Vu:

Chapter 894: Heraklinos

Okay, this was a bit unexpected.

Although according to the normal process, the LV series monsters needed to gradually upgrade and become stronger as the number of battles and turns increased, as mentioned before, this is too inefficient and slow, making it difficult for the LV series to cope with the fast pace of the current duel environment.

But if you wanted to reach the full level in one step, it was not completely impossible.

The LV series had some support cards that could subvert this situation. But generally speaking, these cards could only speed up the evolution of LV monsters to the next stage. Directly breaking through two realms and summoning the ultimate form of the Black Flame Dragon like this was really unexpected.

[Horus the Black Flame Dragon LV8, ATK 3000]

"As long as the Black Flame Dragon LV8 exists on the field, I can negate the activation and effects of any Spell Card and destroy it!" Alice said, "In other words, your Spell Card has been sealed!

Battle! I use Horus the Black Flame Dragon LV8 to attack the Gladiator Beast Secutor!" "

The metal dragon opened its mouth, black flames penetrated the space, and the air was filled with a pungent burnt smell.

"Open the set card!" Yuei Vu flipped the cover card in the backfield, "Trap Card Magic Cylinder! When an opponent's monster declares an attack: Target the attacking monster; negate the attack, and if inflict damage to the opponent equal to its ATK!"

A pair of exquisite magic barrels appeared on the field. One of them completely absorbed the black flames, while the other quickly flipped over, like a cannon ready to go, with the muzzle locked straight on Alice's position.

"Oh, is there really a trap? But that's also included in my calculation."

Alice quickly drew two more cards from her hand.

"Quick-Play Spell Trap Booster!" Discard 1 card. This turn, I can activate 1 Trap Card from my hand! What I want to activate is Continuous Trap Royal Decree! "

The red trap card flipped over under the influence of magic, and an invisible but majestic force spread out.

That was an absolutely forbidden command, a forbidden area where all trap powers were bound. The powerful Magic Cylinder was eclipsed the moment it was activated, gradually becoming blurred and transparent until it completely disappeared.

"Royal Decree prohibits all traps." Alice snorted, "As long as this card is face-up on the field, all trap card effects on the field will be invalid except for this card!"

"Eh? Trap cards can't be used either?" The Dark Magician Girl on the side widened her eyes.

"That's right!" Alice laughed, "As long as the Black Flame Dragon is on the field, all Spell cards will be negated! And while the Royal Decree' is in effect, any trap cards will be negated!"

In other words, everything is negated! This is my real power, absolute blockade! The moment this lineup is formed, you have already lost, Duel King! "

The Black Flame Dragon's attack continued, and the churning black flames hit Secutor as if a jet of black water completely enveloped him.

Black flames penetrated the body of Secutor, and a ball of pitch-black flame exploded with him as the center, and the dark pillar of fire shot straight into the sky.

However, when the black flames dissipated, Alice was surprised to find that the gladiator beast still seemed to be safe and sound.

[Gladiator Beast Secutor, DEF 300]

"What?"

"The effect of Shield Warrior' in the GY." Yuei Vu showed a monster card, "During damage calculation, in either player's turn: I can banish this card from my Graveyard; monsters I control cannot be destroyed by this battle.

Alice frowned slightly: "Using the effect of monsters in the Graveyard?"

"Furthermore, the moment the battle phase ends, the effect of Gladiator Beast Secutor' is also activated!"

When he finished speaking, two cards had been popped out of the thick deck.

"The effect of Secutor At the end of any Battle Phase in which this card attacked or was attacked: Special Summon 2 Gladiator Beast' monsters from my Deck!"

He drew two cards in one go.

Special summons Gladiator Beast Bestiari and Gladiator Beast Laquari!

[Gladiator Beast Bestiari, ATK 1600]

[Gladiator Beast Laquari, ATK 1800]

"The effect of Laquari If this card was Special Summoned by the effect of a Gladiator Beast' monster, its original ATK becomes 2100."

[Gladiator Beast Laquari, ATK 1800 ATK 2100]

"The effect of Bestiari If this card was Special Summoned by the effect of a Gladiator Beast' monster, target 1 Spell/Trap Card on the field; destroy that target." Yuei Vu waved his hand, "The Continuous Trap Royal Decree' is destroyed!"

The bird-headed Gladiator Beast flew into the air, and the green whirlwind hit the trap card, turning it into golden light points and smashing it to pieces.

"Oh, master, you are amazing!" the Dark Magician Girl admired, "You broke through the double blockade so easily."

"Hey." Alice muttered unhappily, "But even so, as long as the Black Flame Dragon is around, you still can't use Spell Cards."

She took out two more cards.

"Set two cards, I end my turn!"

Although she was still arrogant, she was beginning to feel upset at this time. Not only did her attack fail to achieve any results, but it seemed to make the opponent's monsters attack more and more. At this moment, Yuei Vu had four "Gladiator Beasts" on the field, which made her very uneasy.

She really should be uneasy.

"Draw!"

Yuei Vu directly picked up three cards from the monster area of the Duel Disk.

"I return the three monsters Gladiator Beast Laquari', Gladiator Beast Secutor', and Gladiator Beast Hoplomus' to the deck!"

Alice's eyelids twitched.

The fusion of three Gladiator Beasts!?

"The fusion condition is Gladiator Beast Laquari' + 2 Gladiator Beast' monsters! Contact Fusion!

Gladiator Beast Heraklinos! ! ! "

With the triple fusion, the three Gladiator Beasts turned into golden light and disappeared, and powerful energy seemed to burst out from the other side of time and space!

A high-concentration energy storm swept across, and a golden shining battle ax emerged from the energy storm. The Gladiator Beast king holds a battle ax and a golden shield. The moment his footsteps hit the ground, it was like a mountain falling apart.

[Gladiator Beast Heraklinos, ATK 3000]

Alice gritted her teeth: "The same attack power as the Black Flame Dragon"

"Then I normal summon Gladiator Beast Darius'."

[Gladiator Beast Darius, ATK 1700]

"I return Gladiator Beast Bestiari' and Gladiator Beast Darius' from the field to the deck!"

The fusion condition is Gladiator Beast Bestiari + 1 Gladiator Beast' monster! Contact Fusion!

The howling wind, the ruler of ancient Rome, comes again

Gladiator Beast Gyzarus! ! ! "

[Gladiator Beast Gyzarus, ATK 2400]

"Gyzarus's effect!" Yuei Vu waved his hand, "When this card is Special Summoned, up to two cards on the field will be destroyed! I will destroy Horus the Black Flame Dragon LV8' and the set card on the right side of your back row! "

Gyzarus spread out his thin metal wings, and the sharp red spikes were like pouring rain!

"Open the set card: Trap Card Memory Loss!" Alice flipped over the set card in the back row, "When an effect of an Attack Position monster the opponent controls is activated: Negate that effect, and if change that monster to face-up Defense Position!

I negate the activation of Gyzarus's effect and turn it into Defense Position! "

Facing Gyzarus's attack, Alice immediately launched a tit-for-tat counterattack with traps!

But it's useless!

"The effect of Gladiator Beast Heraklinos!" Yuei Vu said, "Discard a card to negate the activation of a Spell/Trap Card and destroy it!

Negate and destroy Memory Loss'! "

The king's battle ax fell from the air, and the golden ax light smashed the force field of the trap effect into pieces, and the trap card was also split in two simultaneously.

Alice's face turned a little pale: "It actually has such an effect"

The trap failed, and Gyzarus's shot passed without any hindrance. The powerful Black Flame Dragon was unable to fight back against this force and was instantly blown to pieces.

Alice realized that she had underestimated her opponent. She had too much confidence in her duel, and she took the duel itself too much for granted.

What she thought was the absolute blockade of the iron wall was as fragile as a paper window in front of the Duel King.

"Battle!" Yuei Vu said without thinking, "Gladiator Beast Heraklinos, attack directly!"

The Gladiator Beast launched a charge with fierce momentum, and the battle ax in his hand drew a long golden arc, like a meteor falling from the sky.

Alice's pupils shrank.

It's not over yet, she still has one last resort, the last move.

"Open the set card: Trap Card Dimension Wall!" Alice shouted, "This card can only be activated when the opponent declares an attack! The opponent player will bear the battle damage caused in this battle!"

This was her trump card, a decisive move.

Yuei Vu's remaining LP was 2000, and Heraklinos's attack power was 3000. As long as the damage reflection passed, she would directly complete the counterattack and get the victory.

"The effect of Gladiator Beast Heraklinos." Yuei Vu said expressionlessly, "Discard a card to negate the activation of a Spell/Trap Card and destroy it!"

Alice: "!!??"

Nani!?

Doesn't the effect of this Gladiator Beast have a "once per turn" limit?

The last trap was also shattered, the Gladiator Beast's battle ax suddenly fell down, and Alice let out a shrill scream.

[Alice, LP 1600 LP 0]

Chapter 895: Society of Light

The KC Cup competition was temporarily suspended.

The news spread quickly. The tourists soon heard about the "Shadow Duelist" infiltrating the venue. Fortunately, the Duel King stepped forward to stop the opponent in time, thus avoiding further harm.

Kaiba Corp could undoubtedly use this incident to write a big book and create a wave of momentum for Yuei Vu, but that was all for another time.

At this moment, Alice, who was unconscious, had been subdued, and Yuei Vu was discussing the matter with Kaiba and Mokuba in the lounge.

Their statement is not accurate. Yuei Vu corrected him, In fact, this girl is not a Shadow Duelist, it would be more accurate to say she is a Light Duelist.

Her power comes from light, not darkness. After all, everyone should know that light generally represents destruction and evil, while darkness is justice"

But as soon as he said this, he quickly saw the ghostly blue-eyed girl next to President Kaiba becoming unhappy.

Kisara pouted.

Light generally represents destruction and evil? Who said that?

Blue-Eyes White Dragon is known as the "Dragon of Light", but I am so gentle and cute, and have nothing to do with destruction or evil.

Mokuba looked at his brother: "Brother, do you want to stop the KC Cup?"

Huh, no need to. Anyway, this is not the first time we are disrupted by evil-minded bastards. If they have the guts to come, let them come!

President Kaiba behaved very confidently and domineeringly.

But then he glanced at Yuei Vu: "Anyway, the role of these miscellaneous things is, at best, to increase the number of defeated foes under the hand of Yuei Vu!"

Yuei Vu was listening and nodding in agreement, but suddenly he felt bad when he saw the president turning to him.

President, why are you dragging me along?

You want to show off, why cant you do it yourself?

By the way, Brother Yuei Vu. Mokuba suddenly took out a deck of cards and handed it to him.

Yuei Vu: ?

What does this mean?

"Oh, this is the deck of the woman named Alice. When she was escorted back just now, I noticed that the deck in the Duel Disk was not removed. I think you may have forgotten it." Mokuba laughed.

Yuei Vu: ""

He realized that he needed to clarify: "The world is getting worse. Some reporters these days are just trying to attract attention and are completely irresponsible about the content of their reports. They label me as 'The Successor of Ghoul' and 'The Duel Disk Harvester'.

Is this the way they treat a hero?"

Mokuba tilted his head: "Then how about I put this deck back?"

In the duel just now, I felt a very powerful and evil light energy. If I guess it correctly, it should come from the deck she holds.

Yuei Vu took over the deck from Mokuba's hand without saying a word, speaking righteously.

I have to personally make sure this deck is kept in a safe place.

And then give it back to her after the inspection? Mokuba asked.

"If no problems are found, of course." Yuei Vu nodded slightly.

Of course, the probability of not discovering the problem was probably nigh-zero.

While discussing, a communication request suddenly came from outside.

What appeared on the video call screen was a black suit bodyguard guarding the door outside. Yuei Vu was surprised that it was not Uncle Isono who appeared this time.

Sometimes he couldn't help but suspect that Uncle Isono was actually a mass-produced clone army of the Kaiba Corp, because he seemed to always be able to appear in all places where the president needed to take charge of all matters at the same time.

But this time it was not Isono, but a young man who looked quite young and seemed to have just joined the job.

"Mr. President, you have a visitor from the military." The young man in a black suit said, "Officer Fujino from Department D wants to see you."

"Fujino? It's him again?" Kaiba frowned, obviously not liking him, and said coldly, "Say I'm not here."

"Yes, sir."

Then they heard the man in the black suit turn his head and say: "The president said he is not here."

Yuei Vu x Kaiba x Mokuba: ""

After a moment, the man returned to the scene: "Sir, I tried my best to explain, but the officer just refused to believe it and insisted on seeing you."

Kaiba said expressionlessly: "You're fired."

The man in black was like being struck by lightning.

Nani! ?

Yuei Vu said: "Maybe we should still arrange for Isono to be responsible."

Mokuba sighed: "Isono is on sick leave."

"He can get sick?" Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows, "I thought he was a robot."

A few minutes later, Fujino had already brought two subordinates to the lounge.

"Kaii ba!" Officer Fujino strode in, his windbreaker undulating behind him, "You're fine."

Kaiba crossed his arms and said coldly, "If you have something to say, tell me quickly. I don't have time to chit-chat with you."

"President, you are as cold as ever." Fujino seemed to be used to it and disapproved of the president's attitude, "But today, I came with information."

He made a gesture, and a subordinate behind him immediately stepped forward and handed him a cigar.

Fujino held his cigar in his mouth and subconsciously prepared to light the fire. Suddenly he realized something was wrong and said angrily: "No, I don't want this! Projection! Project it for me!"

The subordinate suddenly realized his mistake and hurriedly took out three small metal spheres.

Fujino rolled his eyes at him and threw the three metal spheres on the table. Light blue light radiated out from the sphere, forming a huge suspended projection in mid-air.

That looked like an electronic file with four big characters in the title.

The Society of Light.

Yuei Vu narrowed his eyes.

He had impressions of this name. In the original work, it was a stronghold established by Saio Takuma in the Duel Academy. All members of the association were students who had been brainwashed by the Light of Destruction. It was a bit like a large cult.

Is it another boring supernatural organization? Kaiba said lightly.

As expected of the president, you have great intuition. Fujino smiled.

Yuei Vu rolled his eyes at the officer.

I really didnt expect that you could even bootlick him in such a situation.

The Society of Light is a new organization that emerged in the underground world not long ago. Fujino said, They came to our attention because one of their members was suspected of causing a tsunami accident with extraordinary power. Since then, we have had a team investigating this organization.

But so far our knowledge of this organization is very limited. We don't know the structure of their organization, the majority of their members, or their specific purposes.

But there is no doubt that this is a very powerful organization that may break the balance that has been maintained in the underground world for many years. It is said that they have a strange ability to assimilate those defeated by their members and become one of them.

As a result, this group is growing rapidly, but unfortunately, we can confirm the identities of only a few of its members. But among the members we are lucky enough to be able to identify, there is currently this woman. "

A picture of Alice appeared on the projection screen.

Ah, the duelist who just dueled with Brother Yuei Vu. Mokuba said, Is she from the Society of Light?

"Yes, this is why the incident on your side attracted the attention of our department." Fujino continued, "In addition, in the latest progress in the investigation, we have found a suspect who may be the leader of this organization."

He then moved the screen to the next screen.

That's a new photo, a new face.

Maybe he was a stranger to Kaiba and Mokuba, but Yuei Vu was quite familiar with him.

Saio Takuma, Fujino introduced, A fortune teller.

Chapter 896: Monster Zero

"Saio Takuma was originally a fortune teller. He was abandoned by his parents when he was young because he was different from ordinary people, and he and his younger sister Mizuchi depended on each other to live."

Fujino began to introduce the information they had at hand.

"There is reliable evidence that he has the extraordinary power to predict the future to a certain extent. He is an extremely rare gifted person."

You mean superpowers? Mokuba asked.

"You can say so," Fujino nodded and continued, "But something may have happened to him afterward. He disappeared for a while, and there were no clues to trace his traces during that time. It was like he It's like the world has evaporated.

It was not until recently that his name returned to our view, and he was suspected to be the leader of the recently emerged Society of Light. "

Kaiba, who had been silent all this time, said coldly: "This guy named Saio, do you know his location?"

"We have clues." Fujino considered the wording, "But the investigation requires a process, and the other party is also very cunning. We still know very little about this Society of Light'."

Obviously, this was his euphemism for "not found his location yet".

Kaiba showed a contemptuous expression, as if "That's it?" written all over his face.

Yuei Vu shrugged: "Don't embarrass others too much, president. They are government departments, you know? Sometimes they can't even find their own people."

Fujino understood the ridicule and seemed to feel that it was very humiliating. He immediately turned his face: "That's nonsense. I know exactly where and what every agent under me is doing!"

Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows in doubt: "Really?"

"Most of them." Fujino seemed to have less confidence when Yuei Vu looked at him like this, "They always answer all my questions."

What about the small part that's left?

Fujino thought briefly: I generally don't ask that small group what they are doing.

Yuei Vu had already noticed that this guy was apparently the head of Department D, but this was actually not appropriate.

Officer Fujino was more of a facade than the person in charge. His job was more focused on running errands, showing faces, and coordinating between departments and enterprises to solve problems together.

For example, go to Kaiba Company to communicate and negotiate.

In other words, he was generally responsible for projects on the surface. Maybe he could influence the rough policies and action lines within the department, but he did not have much control over actual actions.

So he really didn't always know where his people were and what they were doing.

"However, we have made new progress, and this is one of the things I came to talk about this time."

Fujino brought up a new image on the projection screen.

It looks like a video image with the polar region in the background and blurry glaciers and ice layers in the picture.

The video content was a bit blurry, and even after post-processing, the clarity was still bad. This hazy scene, as if through a thousand-degree myopia filter, reminded people of the famous love action movies of Japan.

The video started playing and the progress bar advanced slowly. The first thing that appeared was a harsh noise, followed by a roar like something, a thunderous explosion, stirring and churning in the clouds outside the sky.

Something moved in the blurry picture.

At first, Yuei Vu thought it was part of the glacier, but he didn't see the difference until it started to twist its body greatly.

It was a body larger than the frozen mountains and rivers, swaying under the storm and the sky full of ice and snow. Golden thunder and lightning lingered around its body, its three long and flexible necks intertwined and twisted, and its three heads radiated lightning that penetrated the sky.

The video was very short, only about one minute.

After watching it, Yuei Vu only felt the outline of this monster.

Why does it look so familiar?

This is the video we captured in Antarctica. Although it was only for a moment, we can be sure that it was a quite terrifying existence, a destroyer of worlds again.

Maybe after thinking about it for a while, Fujino felt that he had encountered quite a lot of world-destroying people since he entered the industry, so he added the word "again".

Yuei Vu pondered for a moment: "What's the codename you gave it? Let me guess, it happens to be called Ghidorah', right?"

"What? What is that?" Fujino was a little confused, "No, of course not. Why do you think so? My experts are more inclined to call it

Monster Zero. "

Yuei Vu: ""

Okay, it sounds similar, they all refer to the same thing.

He was now certain that the big guy captured in this video is undoubtedly a member of the "Kaiju" series, and is the top-level king among the Kaiju.

In the parallel world, it had a more famous and frightening name.

King Ghidorah!

Ghidorah, the most famous evil monster in the famous Godzilla series of movies, was set to be the first extraterrestrial visitor in the series, and had the title of "the strongest villain in the series".

It had three dragon heads, bat-like wings, could spit thunder and lightning from its mouth, and was covered in solid scales like gold.

Ghidorah in the Yu-Gi-Oh! worldview also had three dragon heads, bat-like wings, and could spit thunder and lightning from his mouth. He looks basically the same, except that his scales are not gold but silver.

Here, its name was "Thunder King, the Lightningstrike Kaiju".

Our experts believe that Monster Zero is an extraterrestrial visitor, a cosmic species. It has come to the earth since ancient times and has never left. Fujino continued, It has been frozen in Antarctica for countless years.

But now it has awakened and may bring disaster at any time. "

Mokuba stared at the blurry outline in the image for a moment: "Is it very strong?"

My people had a brief encounter with it, so lets just say it was powerful beyond our conventional understanding of the realm of dueling monsters.

We have reason to believe that this is a threat that can be classified as a god. If not handled properly, it may have an impact on the entire human civilization! "

Yuei Vu knew that the "god" level he was talking about was the government department's assessment level for disasters involving Duel Monsters. Generally speaking, this level meant there was a risk of the end of the world.

So we have never given up tracking the traces of Monster Zero. Maybe it is still hiding somewhere in Antarctica. Fujino said, And in the recent investigation work, our two clues overlapped.

We seem to have found signs that the Society of Light is also searching for Monster Zero, and it seems that they also want to know the whereabouts of Monster Zero. "

This attracted Yuei Vus attention.

Is there a connection between the Light of Destruction and Ghidorah?

"This is also the main reason why I came here." Fujino looked at President Kaiba seriously. "Next, we are going to go to Antarctica. But even though we don't want to admit it, an opponent of this level may have exceeded our department's ability to handle it.

So we hope that a powerful and unparalleled duelist like President Kaiba can join us."

I refuse, Kaiba said without thinking.

Fujino swallowed back the last half of his sentence. But he still did not give up: "Think carefully, President, this is not just about you and me, this is about world security!"

"It has nothing to do with me." Kaiba snorted. "I have no interest in cooperating with a military and political agency that is full of lies and confidentiality regulations. No one in the entire system is worthy of trust."

But President, you have me. Fujino tried to defend, Look, I have never lied to you, right?

Kaiba looked at him coldly: "Then you must first make me believe that you are the actual person in charge of the department."

Fujino was speechless for a moment.

That cannot be called deception on our part.

Then what do you think it should be called?

The officer looked away under President Kaiba's aggressive gaze.

That is just a specific interpretation of the existing facts from a certain angle

Yuei Vu understood: "It means bragging."

"Anyway, I have a lot of work to do." Kaiba said calmly, "I don't have time to interfere with your world security' affairs."

After a pause, he changed the subject: "But Yuei Vu can go with you."

Yuei Vu: ???

Why did it suddenly involve me?

He? Fujino looked at Yuei Vu with a look of disgust on his face.

What? Are you questioning the strength of my people?

"No I'm not"

Yuei Vu asked: "But President, according to the original plan, don't I have to duel with the KC champion?"

Plans cannot keep up with changes.

Kaiba snorted, with a sharp look in his eyes, he raised the Duel Disk in his hand.

I'll take your place.

Yuei Vu: ""

President, are you planning to steal my game?

Chapter 897: Unforgivable!

When Yuei Vu was invited to the KC Cup, the Duel Academy also ushered in a new school year, and the new students who came with it.

In previous years, the focus of the senior brothers was usually on the cute little junior sisters with thin waists and long legs, and the senior sisters often only paid attention to the handsome junior students.

But this year was different.

This year, the attention of all teachers and students in the entire academy may be unprecedentedly focused on such a person without any controversy.

Aster Phoenix!

It was said that this year there was a young duelist who wrote a legend, the superstar who won the world championship in his first year in the Pro League, actually decided to study in this academy!

This was a literal bombshell, and the whole school exploded. This incident was so incredible that even Professor Chronos laughed heartily when he heard about it. He obviously took it as a joke.

The world champion comes to our school? Should I teach him or should he teach me?

Until he got the personal confirmation from Principal Samejima.

"Mamma Mia!" Chronos almost took off on the spot, "That Aster Phoenix is really coming to our school, nanone!"

The whole academy was in shock, especially among the girls.

There were not a few nymphomaniac girls like Asuka's two roommates in the original work who always were head-over-heel on Aster. After all, he was young, tall, handsome, and had a gentleman's manner in addition to being a talented duelist. Girls generally had no resistance against such a man.

So it was completely foreseeable that on the day Aster Phoenix landed, he was greeted enthusiastically by students who gathered around the pier, almost like a concert scene.

Aster Phoenix appeared in front of everyone as promised.

As he walked down the stairs of his luxurious private cruise ship, he waved politely and deftly to the enthusiastic classmates around him, just as he had done countless times in public.

He was wearing his usual white suit and walked calmly and gracefully. He was followed by a beautiful and capable secretary and two bodyguards in black suits.

All his luggage was carried by two men in black suits.

Just looking at the posture, you couldn't imagine that this is the entrance of freshmen. If the academy here hung a banner on the pier that read "Warmly welcome the world champion to the school to inspect the teaching work," there may not be any sense of discord.

Principal Samejima personally came out to welcome this new student, who may be the first in the history of the academy to have such an honor. The bald principal smiled and shook hands with Aster, while Professor Chronos chewed his handkerchief from behind and muttered like a repeater, "Oh my God, it's really him."

While Aster was making polite greetings, his eyes kept scanning the crowd, his blue eyes searching for targets like a radar working at full capacity.

Seeing that the boss seemed to have been unable to find the target as expected for a long time, the secretary whispered in his ear: "If you are looking for Judai-san, he is over there."

Looking along the snow-white little hands of the secretary, Aster saw Judai in the crowd not far away, who was smiling and waving to him. His eyes suddenly lit up and he showed joy.

But in just a moment, Aster covered up the instinctive emotional expression at this moment, and snorted with pretended contempt: "Don't be smart, I'm not looking for that kind of guy."

As he said this, Aster-san's body had honestly deviated from his trajectory and was heading towards Judai.

Oh, long time no see, Aster!

Judai was so excited that if someone hadn't stopped him, he might have gone up and hugged him directly.

"Obviously not long enough," said Aster. "I don't want to see you at all."

Even though he said this, a smile couldn't help but appear on his lips, as if he was recalling the past.

Judai didn't mind at all and continued to say happily: "By the way, Aster, you are so awesome! I have watched all your games."

Hearing this, the corners of Aster's mouth rose even more obviously, as if uncontrollably, and even his waist seemed to be a little straighter.

"Of course." He said proudly, "Since we were separated last time, I have been getting stronger every day!"

For Aster, other peoples compliments and charity always went in one ear and out the other, and he never took it seriously. Of course, he was certainly not complacent about it.

But it happened that only the most clumsy and uncreative compliment from the jellyfish head in front of him was able to bypass all his defenses and hit a certain point in the deepest part of his heart, making him feel indescribably useful.

The students watching were all aware of it at this time.

What the hell, Aster-sama and our academy eldest brother Yuki Judai seem to have a relationship?

"I didn't expect you to be the world champion." Judai said sincerely, "You are so strong, Aster!"
Aster's face said, Don't talk about that.

The title of "World Champion" has never made him so proud as it is now. It was clear that he didn't care at all when he won this title.

"Humph, of course, the professional world is very cruel." Aster said, "There is a huge difference between me who has been tempered in the professional world, and you who have been muddling along in the greenhouse of the academy!"

The secretary complained behind her expressionlessly: "But sir, you insist on coming to the academy to study despite almost everyone's obstruction."

Aster's face darkened and he rolled his eyes at her. The secretary looked away as if she didn't notice, looking at the scenery.

Judai didn't seem to hear it, and still smiled: "Haha, if we fight now, I might not be Aster's opponent anymore!"

Aster smiled, but suddenly felt that there was something wrong with his words, and immediately emphasized: "Huh, I didn't lose to you even in the past! I always win more in duels between us!"

"Oh." Judai nodded seriously, "That seems to be the case."

Aster was then satisfied and turned around to move on. But he thought for a moment, paused briefly, and added: "However, you can be considered my old rival after all. If you think you can surpass me, I will always welcome the challenge!"

After saying this, he left.

His voice was not soft, and many students present heard it.

It was spread from one person to another, and the academy exploded again.

Shock!

World champion Aster Phoenix is actually the old rival of the academy's eldest brother Yuki Judai!

Asuka next to Judai couldn't help but ask: "Have you known each other before?"

"Of course!" Judai nodded, "We are very, very good buddies!"

"Best friends?" Asuka lowered her voice, "Then Aster said he won more"

Ah, this is what he said.

Asuka was confused: "What does this mean?"

Oh, because we have dueled too many times, I haven't really kept track of the wins and losses. Judai rubbed his head in embarrassment, Dueling is all about fun, winning or losing doesn't matter, right?

So if Aster says he wins a lot, it means he wins a lot. "

Asuka: ""

Campus paparazzi with a keen sense of smell immediately went to work, and the hot campus news was freshly released. Judai and Aster instantly became the focus of the whole school's attention in the new semester.

Nearly all the students in the school showed great interest in this century melon.

Except for one person.

When Jun Manjoume saw this title, he almost tore up the newspaper.

He was in disbelief.

Old rival? Of that Yuki Judai?

I don't remember when I allowed him to take my place!

Mr. Thunder was furious.

Unforgivable!

Chapter 898: Aerial Attack!

As soon as Aster arrived at the school, Judai sent a message to Yuei Vu and also attached a photo of the pier crowded with students.

From the photos, Yuei Vu could imagine how lively the scene was.

In fact, he also handled the admission procedures for Aster. Aster skipped almost all the normal registration, assessment, and review steps along the way. He didn't participate in the entrance exam or interview. He even enrolled directly without even meeting the academy leaders.

It was so easy to get the green light to enter the school directly, and all the steps were actually smoothed by Yuei Vu.

Although "the world champion of card playing comes to learn to play cards" sounded a bit weird, actually Yuei Vu thought that Aster may really need to come to the academy to experience it.

Compared with the various big shots that came to the Duel Academy during the GX anime, the so-called professional league may just be a group of novices pecking each other.

If any BOSS in the three school years of Duel Academy even a staged elite monster was thrown into the professional arena, it would be a powerful demon king.

Therefore, the professional league was actually just for fun. If you really wanted to gain experience, you had to come to the Duel Academy.

And Yuei Vu felt that it was necessary to arrange an opponent for Judai.

In the early stages of the anime, Aster's strength as a duelist was actually stronger than Judai's. In the original work, the first confrontation between the two "pure hero" decks ended in Judai's complete defeat.

Although Judai was Yuei Vu's direct disciple, he actually taught Aster a lot too.

The two of them grew up together since they were little. They both know each other's decks and routines from the bottom up, and both had victories and defeats when competing with each other.

Yuei Vu thought it would be a good idea to arrange for Aster to come to the academy. After all, there was not even a single opponent in the entire school, and he was worried that his lovely apprentice would easily become too arrogant.

Speaking of which, before the start of this semester, Principal Samejima even came to Yuei Vu to talk about the "GX Tournament". He also mentioned the idea in meetings on campus.

When he mentioned it like this, Yuei Vu remembered that this happened in the second year of GX.

To put it simply, Principal Samejima used the Duel Academy as the stage to host a worldwide duel event called "GX". Many of the top ten players in the professional league appeared in the original game, making it a worldwide event that attracts worldwide attention

Theoretically.

However, it was worth mentioning that in the original game, Manjoume won the championship in the end because the more capable Aster, Judai, and Saio were fighting a BOSS battle to save the day.

Aster lost to Saio first. Judai inherited Aster's will when the world was on the verge of destruction, defeated Saio, and saved the world, but he also missed the final stage of the GX competition.

However, it can be seen once again that the level of the so-called "professional league" was nothing more than this. A large number of professional duelists, including the top ten in the league, participated, yet the final champion was Manjoume, a second-year student in the academy. This showed that the professional players were nothing more than this

Although the title of the animation was GX, the level of the competition was too low, so Yuei Vu simply forgot about this competition in the original plot.

Now that he thought about it, he felt that this was a good opportunity and worthy of something special.

After all, the organizer in the original work was Principal Samejima. Although saying this may be a bit disrespectful to the bald old principal, the teacher's influence was limited after all, and the ability to invite a top professional ranking boss may be the limit.

And if Yuei Vu could use his influence to expand the scale and influence of this competition, he might be able to invite more strong players to participate. In this case, the GX competition should also have a good training effect on the students.

He can also take the opportunity to find some serious experts to train his lovely apprentice

After sending the message to Judai, Yuei Vu raised his head and soon found that Officer Fujino, who was sitting across from the cabin, was looking askance at him, his eyes a bit unclear.

Yuei Vu looked a little weird and almost blurted out "What are you looking at", but he held it back before speaking.

"Any questions?"

"In fact, there is." Officer Fujino sat up straight and said, "I don't like you, Duel King Yuei Vu."

Yuei Vu was relieved and felt his tense body loosen up a bit: "That's great."

"No, I'm serious." Fujino snorted, "I know what kind of person you are."

"Oh? Tell me?"

Fujino sneered: "Use various tricks to attract the attention of those in power, use tricks to gain trust, and get closer to the center of power and money step by step"

"Sorry, wait a minute," Yuei Vu frowned, "The higher one' you are talking about, could it be President Kaiba?"

"You know it yourself." Fujino snorted, "I don't know how you deceived his trust and obtained such huge power so arrogantly, but remember, I am watching you all the time.

If you have even the slightest suspicion"

"Wait a minute, do I skip any episode? When did you become the president's person?" Yuei Vu asked, "Does the president know?"

"Sooner or later he will believe that I am a reliable ally." Fujino snorted, "Unlike you, who maliciously defrauded his trust, but in fact you are just coveting wealth and power."

"Fine."

Not only was Yuei Vu not angry, but he actually found it a bit funny, which made this long journey to Antarctica less boring.

Although he knew that Fujino was interesting before, he didn't expect him to be so interesting. His whole person was filled with joy from top to bottom

"But you may have made some mistakes." Yuei Vu said with a smile.

"What?"

"You said I deceived the president's trust? But to be honest, that's the last thing I need now." Yuei Vu spread his hands, "If you have any ideas to help me reduce the president's favor Ugh, I mean trust, any suggestions are more than welcome.

The officer stared at him suspiciously for a moment, then hummed: "Do you think I will believe you?"

Yuei Vu smiled playfully: "Then let me guess whether you believe it or not?"

Fujino rolled his eyes at him, crossed his arms, looked away, and said nothing.

It was at this moment that the aircraft shook violently.

The floor beneath everyone's feet seemed to lift up suddenly, followed by the entire cabin spinning, and the lights at the top flickered violently.

Fujino was tied to the seat belt and was thrown around. He tried hard to suppress the churning content in his stomach: "Report the situation!"

"We're under attack, sir!" someone yelled from the front seat.

"There's a target on the radar the target is extremely huge!" the pilot shouted, "it's flying towards us right in front!"

Chapter 899: Lightningstrike Kaiju!

"Warning! For aircraft ahead, please land immediately and undergo a safety inspection, otherwise, we will carry out fire strikes"

The pilot tried to give a warning and intimidation in accordance with the regulations, but Fujino interrupted him with a loud voice: "Fire! Just fire like hell!"

The vibrations of the aircraft became more and more intense, and everyone in the cabin felt as if they were surrounded by an ominous thick cloud. Fujino guessed that the constant impact came from the storm.

He knew that in a place like this, there was a high probability that what they were facing was not an airplane or any product of human technology.

That's a demon that dominated the sky!

The missile flew out of the pylon with a sharp roar, trailing a long burning tail. In the beyond-visual-range bombing, the missile seemed to have successfully hit a target outside everyone's sight. The fiery red flames spread and lit up the gray sky.

With the fireball hit by the missile, they finally saw the tip of the enemy's iceberg.

The fiery red light reflected a piece of silver-white shiny scales, like a layer of steel armor. The thing was so huge that the flames of the explosion could only briefly illuminate a small part of its body.

The pilot caught a glimpse of the heart-stopping scene through the cockpit glass a huge object rushed out of the black clouds at a terrifying speed that defied physics. The blurry outline was surrounded by soaring tornadoes and golden lightning, like an army following the general's charge!

Three huge heads poked out from the dark clouds, roaring as if they had lightning in their mouths!

"Warning! Too close!"

A shrill alarm sounded in the cockpit of the aircraft.

The pilot pulled desperately on the control lever. Department D's aircraft was equipped with high-tech equipment with top performance, and they had few rivals in terms of maneuverability.

But even so, it's still too slow or we should say the enemy is too fast. You may not imagine that the huge and bulky body on the other side can move that fast.

The collision was inevitable, and the outcome seemed obvious.

No one would be lucky enough to think that their steel-framed aircraft would have any good consequences when it collided with the opponent's flesh even the frontal bombardment of airborne missiles was just like scratching an itch, so for that thing, this aircraft was probably nothing more than a thick-skinned fly.

But that didn't happen.

The moment the aircraft and the three-headed dragon were about to collide, something faster flew out from the side!

The red body split the sky in half and slammed into the three-headed dragon. The big guy was thrown out of the center of the chaotic storm without any explanation, avoiding the path of the aircraft!

The aircraft quickly lifted up and then regained its balance with difficulty. Fujino felt as if the seat belt was cutting into his flesh, and his whole body felt as if someone had violently thrown him out and then been violently pulled back. Stomach acid seemed to pour into his throat.

"What's the situation?"

He looked out from the window of the cabin, looking at the three-headed giant dragon left behind by them, and the afterimage that saved them.

It was an indescribably great being. Most of its body was covered by clouds, and its long body was coiled up, looming among the clouds.

Blue and gold lightning struck alternately, illuminating its fiery red body intermittently, and its long and thick tail swayed among the black clouds.

Osiris the Sky Dragon!

Fujino gasped in shock and quickly realized whose hand it was.

They broke into the territory of "Monster Zero" and were attacked by the other party. If Osiris hadn't appeared in time, they would have been blown to ashes by now.

He looked at Yuei Vu and found that the latter had unbuckled his seat belt at some point and walked to the cabin door.

"Youwhat are you going to do?" Fujino asked in shock.

"That guy is a bit unusual." Yuei Vu said calmly without looking back, "Osiris may need me. Just find a place to land, and I will find you after I'm done."

Fujino opened his mouth and wanted to say something, but Yuei Vu had already opened the hatch without any explanation. The suffocating airflow instantly blocked his mouth, and Yuei Vu's back quickly disappeared among the gray clouds outside the cabin.

The surviving officer gasped violently. He looked at the small figure outside the window and the fluttering hem of the windbreaker and was a little dazed for a moment.

He had never been more aware of how lucky he was to have the Duel King accompanying him just as he was aware of the fact that at that moment they could have been completely wiped out.

Fujino's attitude towards Yuei Vu has undergone subtle changes.

Maybe this guy

It's not as bad as I thought before?

The ability of the Masked HERO Divine Wind helped Yuei Vu stabilize in mid-air. At the same time, the Dark Magician Girl also appeared, using defensive spells to resist impacts including air currents and lightning.

In such a harsh environment, ordinary creatures simply could not survive.

At this time, the two dragons were fighting in mid-air. Red and silver dragons slammed to each other, blue and gold thunder crisscrossed the clouds. The constant penetration of the two great beings left huge holes one after another between the clouds.

Osiris was excited.

It has been a long time since he has encountered such a powerful opponent.

The last time he fought an opponent of this level was the awakening of the Sacred Beasts No, this enemy felt even more powerful than the incomplete Sacred Beasts at that time!

After all, the Sacred Beasts that went berserk back then had not fully awakened, and the stone slab that sealed part of their power had not yet been excavated. In addition, Sacred Beasts did not have a duelist as a master in this world at that time, so their strength was inevitably compromised.

But summoning the gods was actually quite a burden for Yuei Vu.

Although it was true that the Egyptian God followed him, after all, he was neither a priest nor a pharaoh and did not have a Millennium Item. The burden of maintaining the embodiment of the Egyptian God was also quite heavy.

This was also the reason why he would not easily use the Egyptian God as long as the situation allowed it.

But this time was different.

Yuei Vu was convinced the moment King Ghidorah or in this world it should be called the "Thunder King, the Lightningstrike Kaiju" appeared.

This is no opponent that ordinary spirits can contend with!

So in the flash of light before they collided, he didn't hesitate to directly summon Osiris, the Egyptian God who controlled the sky!

The fierce battle between the two dragons broke through the clouds, flew into the sky, and then swooped down at a super high speed and hit the ground hard. Bolts of lightning fell as they fell, exploding the thick ice.

The Lightningstrike Kaiju established its foothold not far away, with its three heads staring at it eagerly.

It was slightly injured in the air battle just now, and its silver-white scales were torn in many places, but the injuries were not deep and did not affect its mobility.

The sky dragon also slowly lowered its altitude, its fighting spirit rising, and even a little eager to try.

There was a slight vibration in the space.

Like a reactor operating, an atomic cannon charging.

A third party broke into the battle.

The moment Thunder King sensed the threat, he turned his head and roared at the top of his lungs. But at the same second, the red ray hit its body, pressing the huge silver three-headed body onto the ice!

Atomic Breath!

Chapter 900: Duel King's Anger

Atomic Breath!

The red-hot and powerful impact caught the Lightningstrike Kaiju off guard. The three heads simultaneously let out a roar that was somewhere between a threat and a scream. The extremely heavy body hit the ice layer more than two thousand meters thick, and ice shards flew everywhere.

The air was distorted by the high temperature, and a body standing tall on the sky seemed to be walking slowly through a misty film.

Its body was like a pitch-black mountain, but its solid skin was covered with ravines, which outlined lines like volcanic magma. There was lava flowing in every ravine.

It looked like a giant walking dinosaur, with fins on its back that were as red as a reactor furnace, extending along its spine to the top of its head.

It had a thick and powerful tail, and red wings, and its body was like a hot water bottle on the edge of erupting, constantly spraying white steam.

Dogoran, the Mad Flame Kaiju!

Or you could also call it by its more well-known name in the parallel world

Burning Godzilla!

The design prototype of the Dogoran, the Mad Flame Kaiju came from the Burning Godzilla that appeared in the "Godzilla vs. Destoroyah" series. It was a supernormal form when the core temperature of Godzilla's body soared and energy ran rampant.

Okay, even though the setting said so, in fact, compared to other Kaijus, Dogoran was slightly less similar to Godzilla, especially since it actually had a pair of wings.

In the setting of the MonsterVerse, Godzilla, and Ghidorah had been natural enemies since ancient times, and it seemed to apply here.

As the saying goes, enemies are extremely jealous when they meet. Thunder Dragon King was very angry when he was hit with a sap. He regrouped and prepared to charge and counterattack against the Dogoran organization.

Then he was pushed back to the ground again by a stronger and more powerful golden bombardment.

Superconductive Wave Thunder Cannon! ! !

Osiris was not polite at all, he released a literally "mouth cannon" against these three-headed fools.

Good guy, how dare you look at others when you are fighting with me?

You dont know how to write the word death, do you?

The Kaiju was known as the Thunder King, but it was obviously a little weak when facing the lightning attack of a god. The three-headed dragon was pushed hard against the ice, which cracked and water splashed out. Under the power of the thunder cannon, the Kaiju slid backward against the ice until it smashed a small iceberg into pieces.

Taking two shots in a row obviously caused serious damage. The three heads of the Kaiju were limp and drooping. It was covered in bruises, its strong silver scales were cracked, and its organs might even have been damaged.

Thunder King, the Lightningstrike Kaiju fell and could not rise again.

Yuei Vu landed, and the ice beneath his feet cracked in all directions. He slowly took out a card.

It was a completely blank card, with no name, no artwork, and no effect description text, just a complete whiteboard.

Of course, bringing this card was not for convenience. Maybe Yuei Vu did not have the ability of a true Duel King "blank card = let there be effect" like Atem, but he has learned to seal monster spirits.

This was what he did to the Three Sacred Beasts many years ago.

For those evil spirits who made trouble and did bad things by relying on their strength, Yuei Vu's current standard solution was to beat them until they lie on the ground and call daddy, and then throw the Master Ball eh, the blank template card made by Industrial Illusions to seal the spirit.

Yuei Vu also specifically mentioned this process in a TV interview on behalf of the Duelist Alliance.

He stated righteously that taming evil spirits was difficult and came with huge threats. But as the Duel King, he had an unshirkable responsibility. For the safety of citizens and the stability and prosperity of human society, any powerful and evil monsters should come at him. He was bear all the evil!

It might be better if it was an evil female spirit with bulging front and back (cross out)

Yuei Vu smiled and walked towards the weak three-headed dragon that collapsed on the ground.

For some reason, Thunder King watched this human being, who was no bigger than its toes, approaching slowly, but its heart went off an alarm. It couldn't help but protect its body with its wings and desperately shrank into the ruins of the collapsed glacier.

It looked very much like a little girl stuck in a corner, pitiful and helpless.

Don't come over here! ! !

And Yuei Vu, who was holding the seal card in his hand, was like a doctor holding a syringe to coax a child. His warm smile seemed to say: Show your butt, it wouldnt hurt at all, and it would be over in one go.

But before he could take action, he saw golden light rippling from Thunder King's body, which suddenly became transparent and virtual, and disappeared without a trace.

Yuei Vu froze in place.

F*ck!

Where is my Ghidorah? Where does such a big Ghidorah go? Who rob me!?

This made him realize quickly that he was late.

It was different from the original three Sacred Beasts. The three Sacred Beasts that caused trouble in the city back then were wild and had no master, so they were beaten to a black and blue face and were quickly sealed away.

But this Thunder King seemed to have a master.

After it woke up from the ice, someone got there before Yuei Vu and became its owner. At this moment, it should have slipped back into its owner's deck to hide.

No wonder it was so difficult to search for such a big monster after Monster Zero woke up, and it took the relevant departments so long to find its whereabouts.

In such a large Antarctica, it would be much more difficult to find a duelist hiding his whereabouts than a three-headed dragon as tall as a building.

And things here were not over yet.

The Thunder King disappeared out of thin air, but now there were still two mythical beasts.

Having lost their primary target, Osiris and the Mad Flame Kaiju's eyes fell on each other, staring at each other eagerly without taking a step back.

Not to mention Osiris, he was a majestic Egyptian God and a top-notch dueling monster. He would naturally not be intimidated by anyone with his imposing manner.

Dogoran was the Godzilla of the Yu-Gi-Oh World, and he seemed to have inherited the trait of "wanting to fuck whoever is bigger". Now it feels that the sky dragon was quite big, so it wanted to go up and show off.

However, the two mythical beasts looked at each other for a moment, and finally, Dogoran snorted heavily from his nose, sprayed steam all over his body, and finally turned his head and disappeared.

It's like receiving instructions from someone.

Osiris felt that he had the upper hand in this battle of momentum, and roared proudly, wagging his tail, and then disappeared back into the card on the Yuei Vu's Duel Disk.

Yuei Vu breathed a long sigh of relief.

He felt that he was already sweating a little, and his physical strength was exhausted a lot.

Summoning an Egyptian God was not the same concept as going out for a walk with a Dark Magician Girl, and the burden they placed on the duelist could not be compared to each other.

The searchlight stabbed down from mid-air like a sharp sword, and the sound of idling engines sounded in the air. A huge black sci-fi-style transport plane appeared above Yuei Vu's head. It landed slowly, and the airflow blew the ice debris on the ground around.

Yuei Vu raised an arm in front of his face and narrowed his eyes to look at the visitor.

He saw the white logo posted on the outside of the transport plane's cabin, and the text attached below.

Monarch.
