

I Play Yu-Gi 91

Chapter 91: Nether Deck

According to the rules, the duelists from the two camps formed a circle, enclosing Yuei Vu and Rishid, who were the representatives of the battle, in the middle.

The two sides shuffled each other's cards, inserted their decks back into the Duel Disk, turned around, and walked back to their designated fields.

But this time, they didn't play Shadow Game.

Yuei Vu himself would not start the Shadow Game. At most, he could only summon spirits to attack people. Rishid did not use the power of darkness when he fought against Jonouchi in the animation, and Yuei Vu guessed that the big man might not be able to use Shadow Game too.

From Yuei Vu's point of view, he actually didn't want to defeat the big man in front of him, or rather, it would be more useful to keep Rishid alive.

According to the DM plot, Marik also had an evil dark personality in his body. Compared with the main personality, the Yami Marik lurking in his heart was more evil, full of destructive impulses, more unpredictable and more elegant.

When Marik was a child, he accepted the cruel ritual of the Tomb Keepers clan and engraved on his back the secrets of the pharaoh guarded by the Tomb Keepers clan for generations. Because of the unbearable pain, he nurtured hatred for the nameless pharaoh and even the world, thus the dark personality was born.

Brother Rishid was the key to suppressing Marik's dark personality. In the original work, it was also because Rishid fell down in a duel with Jonouchi that Dark Marik was awakened.

Yuei Vu didn't want Yami Marik to come out to disrupt the situation for the time being, so it's better to let this man leave and return to Ghouls.

Of course, people could leave, but the card had to stay.

"Duel!" x2

Yuei Vu, LP 4000

[Rishid, LP 4000]

Rishid: "I will go first, draw! I set three cards and end my turn."

As expected of the well-known DM's early-stage "heavy pit brother" Rishid, this start was too worthy of being a tomb keeper. Playing no monster, directly setting three cards in the Spell Trap Zone, it's the standard underworld start.

But it didn't matter. The advantage of Yuei Vu compared to the original character was that he already knew what deck Rishid would use, and he also knew that 90% of his entire deck was a trap.

To put it bluntly, it was a pit, a pure heavy pit. Take one step and be tricked by three traps, the kind that made you doubt your life.

Since he knew in advance that the opponent was self-closing (1), you can of course adjust a wave of decks in advance. Here, Yuei Vu brought all the typhoons in his hands: Mystical Space Typhoon,

Heavy Storm, and even brought in Dust Tornado that he kicked out of the deck for a long time. It was the best way to deal with this kind of self-closing player.

Sure enough, the effect of this adjustment was immediate. In Yuei Vu's starting hand, there was a Mystical Space Typhoon, so naturally, he had no hesitation.

"Quick-Play Spell Mystical Space Typhoon!" Yuei Vu played this timeless classic pit-clearing old card, "Destroy a S/T card on the field!"

The swirling storm rushed towards Rishid's Spell Trap Zone with lightning, and rolled up the leftmost one of the three set cards. The flashing lightning struck the card, and the strong wind pressure ripped the card to pieces.

It was a "Widespread Ruin".

"And then I summon Breaker the Magical Warrior!"

The wizard warrior in red armor appeared on the field with a sword in one hand and a shield in the other.

"When the Breaker the Magical Warrior is successfully summoned, it can place a Spell Counter on itself, and its attack power will increase by 300!"

Rishid narrowed his eyes: "And by removing a Spell Counter, you can destroy the spell and trap cards on the field, can't you? But it's not that simple!"

Rishid waved his hand: "Open the set card Trap Hole! When my opponent Normal or Flip Summons 1 monster with 1000 or more ATK: Target that monster; destroy that target! "

A huge hole appeared on the sole of the Breaker the Magical Warrior's foot. The warrior in red armor stepped on the air under one foot, his body crooked, he couldn't stand still, and he fell into it.

But at this moment, Yuei Vu quickly played another card from his hand: "Quick-Play Spell Illusion Magic! Tribute 1 Spellcaster monster; add up to 2 copies of "Dark Magician" from my Deck and/or GY to my hand! "

After all, the magic warrior who fell into the cave was not smashed, but turned into a golden light and was liberated under the effect of the spell card.

Yuei Vu pulled out the deck, picked out a "Dark Magician", showed it to the opponent, and added it to his hand.

The players were very excited at this time.

"Appeared! The original self-closing deck!"

"Can you face the opponent head-on like a man?"

"All the nether players must die and the whole family"

Over the years, self-closing had been a part of Yu-Gi-Oh, and while the game is developing, the self-closing routine was also constantly developing with the times.

The players of Yu-Gi-Oh! have more or less the experience of being trapped to the point where their relatives did not recognize them. Therefore, when everyone saw this nether deck (2), they seemed to feel the same way, and they all had a feeling of righteous indignation.

"Come on, Yuei Vu!"

"That's right, hurry up and beat that self-closing back to the netherworld!"

Although Big Brother Rishid had a stable mind and didn't care about the abusive words of the players, he couldn't help but be surprised by the shameless behavior of these screwballs

It was clear that they just defected from his side only a few minutes ago, but now they were screaming more fiercely than the other, and those who didn't know might think that they are all brothers with Yuei Vu

So it seemed that the morality of this group of screwballs didn't worth a cent.

"Speaking of which Does Yuei Vu seem to be playing autism when he knows that the other party comes up?" Some players realized the problem, "Why did you just start with a wind and a Breaker?"

"I'm afraid it's not not shuffled?"

"What do you know? It's called the bond with the deck, do you understand?" A player immediately explained, "True duelists are only able to draw cards that come in handy."

When Yuei Vu heard this, he couldn't help but wanted to roll his eyes.

"The bond with the deck" my ass, there were 6 copies of typhoons, 2 copies of Breaker, and a bunch of thinning draws in the deck, but I only got 2 cards in my hand. This bond is already in arrears and needs to be recharged, okay

But it still didn't matter. He still has a good understanding of Rishid's deck. The opponent's deck was basically a full-trap deck with extremely poor offensive ability. It's okay to remove two pits this round.

The key was to look at the follow-up.

"I end my turn."

"Then it's my turn." Rishid drew the card, suddenly hummed, his tone changed, and said in a voice that seemed to have been lowered several times, "From now on, you are going to step into the absolutely restricted area. People other than the Tomb Keepers are absolutely forbidden and will be instantly killed by countless traps."

Yuei Vu's face turned positive.

Are you coming?

He was waiting for this card.

"Activate from the hand," Rishid took out this card from his hand solemnly, as if performing some kind of ceremony, "the Field Spell Card

Temple of the Kings! "

Chapter 92: Even Professional Commentators Would Not Understand This Situation

"The field spell is activated! Temple of the Kings!"

The big and powerful voice fell, and the entire scene which both parties were in began to change.

The golden floor tiles paved the ground, and the quaint buildings rose from the ground in a rumbling vibration.

The golden sacred palace quickly occupied the entire venue, and the light in the space dimmed. The flickering candles were placed on both sides of the hall, and the faint flickering light illuminated the dense ancient texts on the walls.

A golden box was tightly sealed in the center, there was an ominous aura from the gap in the box lid.

"Appeared! A Thousands Of Years Banned card!" The players began to get excited again.

What? You asked why could any named character take out a banned card so casually?

That's right.

In the early days of Yu-Gi-Oh DM, although the environment was monotonous and slow, now looking back at it, it was really the era of banned cards. Many cards had a terrifying ability that was extremely OP in the current era, but because the environment in the DM period was too monotonous to develop the terrifying potential of these cards.

Temple of the Kings was a typical example. It was not until 15 years later that K Company modified its card effect and weakened its ability, therefore this card was able to see the light of day again in its lifetime.

In the later stage of the Yu-Gi-Oh animation, Temple of the Kings had an opportunity to appear again in "Yu-Gi-Oh! VRAINS", but Temple of the Kings that appeared in the animation at that time had the real-life weakened card effect.

However, the temple in Richid's hands was definitely the original, and it has even more powerful animation effects!

That's right, this temple was the real target of Yuei Vu, and he was determined to win this forbidden card!

"When Temple of the Kings is on the field, the opponent can only set one spell trap card per turn." Rishid explained coldly, "and as the guardian of the temple, my trap card can be activated during the turn it is set."

"So awesome? Isn't it cheating?" Some players were not calm.

"Setting a spell and trap card in one turn? Does it have such an effect?"

"It's the animation effect. The real-life card is a Continuous Spell, but here it's a Field Spell."

Rishid said solemnly: "Temple of the Kings is a sacred area for worshipping the pharaohs. Our tomb keepers shoulder the sacred duty to protect this area! My trap is set for this purpose!"

So that's why you keep going to trouble the Pharaoh?

If it sounds so nice, you should go to the Pharaoh to be loyal!

If you and your boss Marik acted more sincere, broke the Millennium Rod in front of Yugi, and then declared an oath of "I will be loyal to you" or something Maybe the pharaoh decides to let go of the past when he is in a good mood?

"Look, in order to defend against the invaders, the sacred incarnation of the guardian shrine has appeared!" The uncle who was suspected of having a second illness made an exaggerated pose, "I'm going to summon the trap monsters that guard the shrine now!"

Open up the set card-Embodiment of Apophis! After this card is activated, it is summoned as a Monster Card in my Monster Zone.

Appear, Embodiment of Apophis! "

A pitch-black mist was released from the floor tiles of the temple, and dark monsters rose from the ground. The body looks like a standing snake. The hands stretched out on both sides of the torso hold a simple sword and a shield respectively. It has a human-like head, but at the same time, a snake's head sticks out from the back.

[Embodiment of Apophis, ATK 1600]

At this time, the NPCs watching the battle were all shocked: "What? A trap monster?"

"A trap card that can be used as a monster? I've never heard of such a thing!"

"Could it be that it can be summoned in the opponent's turn, and it doesn't count towards the normal summon limit? This is too strong, right? "

""

In contrast, the reactions of the players were completely different.

"What a useless trap monster. Having only 1600 ATK with no effect"

"Don't say that, at least it can act as a wall."

"Paleozoic Canadia is asking to fight!"

"Zoma the Spirit asks to fight!"

(Paleozoic Canadia and Zoma the Spirit are both trap monsters. Paleozoic Canadia has the effect of turning monsters on the opponent's field into a face-down defense position. Zoma the Spirit has the effect which is triggered when it is destroyed by battle, it can inflict damage equal to the ATK of the attacking monster.)

Rishid couldn't help but become a little upset when he heard the group of screwballs chattering beside him. What's more annoying was that he has never heard of the cards that these people are talking about

"Fight!" he shouted, "Embodiment of Apophis, attack directly!"

The snake-like monster flew forward, and the blade slashed toward Yuei Vu's head. Yuei Vu raised the Duel Disk like a shield to block, and the image of the sharp blade slashed from him, taking away 1600 LP at the same time.

Yuei Vu, LP 4000 LP 2400

It doesn't hurt.

As expected, Rishid's deck was not very aggressive. Ninety percent of the decks were trap cards, and the only aggression was made up of trap monsters.

"Set two more cards, and I end my turn."

Rishid had two more set cards in the Spell Trap Zone.

Yuei Vu: "My turn, draw! I activate Graceful Charity. Draw three cards from the deck, and then discard two of them."

Looking at the new cards, his eyes moved here it is!

"Activate a spell card Heavy Storm!"

When players saw this card, they were at the climax again. Like Mystical Space Typhoon, almost no one who has played cards did not know it.

The effect of the Heavy Storm was extremely simple and rude destroying all the spell and trap cards on the field.

This was also representative of the card with super powerful effects in the first generation of cards. Even after ten or twenty years, it was not inferior at all.

The players were extremely excited.

"Can someone say that this card can be bought in Yuei Vu's store?"

"Yes, yes, but it's useless if you ask because you can only buy it if you have a big cock. He won't sell to enoki mushrooms like yours."

"Don't listen to his nonsense in the front, you can buy it if your butt is up."

""

Heavy Storm could destroy all spell and trap cards on the field, including Temple of the Kings, and the trap card that was treated as a monster on the Rishid's field.

If this succeeded, Yuei Vu has touched one hand to the victory.

However, the storm suddenly stopped when it approached the edge of the temple, as if it hit some invisible wall at the edge of the sacred realm, and couldn't move forward.

Yuei Vu frowned slightly.

"Hmph, Temple of the Kings is the most sacred realm, how could it be destroyed by you so easily?" Rishid said, "I said, there are many traps in the temple, and those traps will punish anyone who breaks into the temple with evil intentions.

Look! This is the trap you are triggering now! Counter Trap Card Judgment of Anubis! "

The pitch-black mist flew out from the gap between the temple floor and the wall tiles, quickly condensed and mixed in the air, and condensed into some kind of illusory entity while swirling.

It was a purple-black head, a bit like a jackal in shape. The sky-high tornado shuddered to a halt before it, and the jackal's eyes lit up with a gloomy scarlet gleam as if an evil blade had pierced the storm.

A player exclaimed: "Beerus! Is that you?"

"Damn it, it's really like you said that! Isn't Beerus the God of Destruction in Dragon Ball?"

"Sir, you went to the wrong studio, Dragon Ball is next door"

Rishid shouted: "Judgment of Anubis is a trap that can be triggered when the opponent activates a Spell Card. That card's effect is negated and all monsters on the opponent's field are destroyed. Inflict damage to the opponent equal to half the total ATK of those monsters." (animation effect)

Yuei Vu's field was empty now, so he didn't take any damage.

Judgment of Anubis was also one of Rishid's representative cards, and the animation effect was that as long as the opponent "activates a spell card", which was impossible to prevent.

"Then I will normal summon the Magician's Rod' from the hand in attack position."

[Magician's Rod, ATK 1600]

This was a monster of the same series as the "Magician's Robe" he used before. What was summoned to the field was a blue phantom with a shape and outline similar to that of a black magician. Only the staff held in his hand was a figurative form.

"When the Magician's Rod is successfully summoned, I can add 1 Spell/Trap that mentions Dark Magician' from my Deck to my hand."

Yuei Vu picked out a trap from the deck, flipped it over, and showed it to the other side.

"What I want to add to my hand is the Magician Navigation'."

The players were getting excited.

"It's coming, it's coming! The standard Dark Magic combo is unfolding!"

"Unfortunately, it looks like Yuei Vu doesn't have a Dark Magical Circle?"

"No difference, Ghouls' eldest brother should have gone far"

The players all had the expressions of "even professional commentators would not understand this situation", as if in their eyes, Rishid was already dead.

However, the NPCs watching the battle were all dumbfounded.

What are these people talking about? Isn't Yuei Vu's LP still a disadvantage?

Why is victory or defeat already decided? Is it because I'm not smart enough to understand?

Chapter 93: Everything Is Negated!

"Battle!" Yuei Vu waved his hand, "Use Magician's Rod to attack the Embodiment of Apophis!"

The illusory magician raised his staff, and the avatar of the snake head raised his sword and shield in a demonstration.

The magic shock washed away like flowing water, knocking the golden shield far away from the avatar's hand. The body of the trap monster shook violently, and the body was about to disintegrate into a black mist under the agitation of magic. But before it died, it threw out the sharp blade in its hand, and the whirling blade split the magician's phantom in two.

Both sides had 1600 ATK, so of course, it resulted in a mutual kill.

"Due to the effect of Temple of the Kings', I can only set one card per turn. Then I set a card and end my turn."

Rishid narrowed his eyes slightly and glanced at the set card at Yuei Vu's feet.

If he guessed correctly, that card should be the "Magician Navigation" that was just retrieved by the effect of Magician's Rod.

But it was just the easy part. The hard part was that he has never seen or heard of that card, thus having no idea what was its ability

In any case, the duel must continue.

"My turn!" Rishid drew a card, and then inserted the card into the Duel Disk without hesitation, "I will set a trap card Then according to the effect of Temple of the Kings', it can be activated this turn.

Flip set card Reckless Greed! Draw 2 cards and skip my next 2 Draw Phases!"

Rishid drew two cards again.

"Then I set another card on the field." Rishid set one of the cards and played the other, "Activate Spell card Graceful Charity! Draw three cards, then discard two cards."

Rishid discarded the two he had drawn into the GY, and immediately waved his arms: "Then according to the effect of Temple of the Kings', I activate the trap card I just set Disgraceful Charity! Both players add all cards from their Graveyards that were discarded by the effect of a Spell Card activated this turn to their hands!" (Anime effect)

Looking at Rishid's posture of replenishing three cards in one go, Yuei Vu couldn't help but look up at the sky

As expected of a DM duelist, the card draw engine was simply incredible. Did everyone have a book called "1001 Ways To Refill Your Hand"?

Rishid glanced at the newly added hand cards and slowly raised his head.

"The duelist of the Nightcrawler World, you are indeed a strong man." He said in a deep voice, "So in order to fight against you, I will also use all my strength to perform a sacred ceremony here and summon the holy beast that guards this temple. !"

Seemingly to confirm his "sacred ritual", before Rishid inserted the next two cards into the Duel Disk, a hip-hop-like pose of unknown meaning followed, and then two Spell cards were activated one after another.

"Spell card Cup of Sealed Soul! Spell card Seal of Serket! Then the final condition is this Temple of the Kings!

When these three sacred artifacts exist on the field at the same time, a sacred ceremony will be carried out, and the holy beast that protects the temple will descend on this field!

Special summon Mystical Beast of Serket! "

The black mist released from the three cards connected to one place and transformed into an incomparably huge dark energy. Two deep blue eyes lit up, followed by a huge steel-like body.

The heavy feet landed on the steps of the temple, and the weight of the entire temple seemed to sink. The huge crawling silhouette moved like a tank that was slowly driving out, bringing a dull and oppressive feeling that enveloped the audience.

When the smoke screen cleared, the holy beast looked like a red scorpion?

It had a sturdy shell, long body, red pincers, and a long tail. Its huge mouth was full of circles of jagged teeth.

In short, it was a monster that could cause extreme discomfort.

[Mystical Beast of Serket, ATK 2500]

"Mystical Beast of Serket is the guardian of the temple and will knock down any enemy who steps into this holy place." Rishid said loudly, "and it can devour any opponent who stands in front of him, absorbing its power"

"To put it bluntly, its own attack power will increase by half the attack power of the destroying monster." Yuei Vu looked at the disgusting scorpion and said lightly, "And it can't attack during the turn it was special summoned, right?" (anime effect)

"That's right, you survive for another turn." Rishid said lightly, "But in my next turn, no matter what monster you summon, it will be defeated by the holy beast and become its food!"

Rishid glanced at the last card in his hand.

"I set a card, and then use the effect of Temple of the Kings' to activate the trap I just set this turn." Rishid waved his arm, "The second Reckless Greed! Draw 2 cards and skip my next 2 Draw Phases.."

It's quite profitable to use two "Reckless Greed" in one turn because the effect of "skip two card draws" would not stack. No matter using two or three cards, it would only skip the Draw Phase of the next two turns.

Rishid glanced at the two newly drawn cards, and even his tough face which was like being paralyzed for ten thousand years couldn't help showing such an imperceptible smile.

At this moment, what Rishid thought might be similar to Rishid is here. Who dares to kill me?

Oh wait, I take the wrong script

"Set two cards !" Rishid said, "I end my turn!"

There were two more traps. There's nothing to say about this, after all, it would be strange for him to draw something else.

But that had no effect.

Victory has been decided.

"Wait a minute, before your declaration is over Open the set card!" Yuei Vu swept his right arm, "Trap card Magician Navigation!"

With the effect of this trap, Special Summon 1 "Dark Magician" from my hand, then Special Summon 1 Level 7 or lower DARK Spellcaster monster from my Deck.

Bring it on! The Dark Magician, and the Magician's Robe! "

The trap card projected a magic circle on the ground, and a dark undercurrent emerged from the whirling magic circle. The magician in the red robe flew straight out with the emerald staff wrapped around his arms, followed by the illusory robe of the magician.

[Dark Magician, ATK 2500]

[Magician's Robe, DEF 2000]

"Are you actually summoning the top magician before my turn ends?" Rishid snorted, "Then I'll end my turn now"

"Wait a second, it's not over yet!" Yuei Vu interrupted again with a wave of his hand, "I also need to activate the ability of the Magician's Robe!"

Rishid: ""

Hey, is this your turn or mine?

"Magician's Robe can special summon 1 Dark Magician' from the deck by discarding a Spell or Trap Card during the opponent's turn!" Yuei Vu said, "Come out, the second Dark Magician!"

Another magician in a red robe flew out of the magic circle and stood side by side with the first Dark Magician.

The NPCs next to them were extremely surprised: "He actually summoned three monsters in one go during the opponent's turn!"

"Don't talk about this kind of thing, it's completely unheard of!"

In contrast, the players were quite calm.

From their perspective, this was just a basic move.

Rishid looked gloomy: "Then can I end it now?"

Yuei Vu smiled: "Please."

"I end my turn."

"My turn! This will be the last turn! Draw!" Yuei Vu said, "Tribute the Magician's Robe'Come on, Dark Magician Girl!"

The Dark Magician Girl who appeared on the stage turned around and waved to the master enthusiastically, expressing her happiness for being able to help the master in person.

However, as soon as the girl turned around, she was a little frightened by such a large number of enthusiastic fans that she had inexplicably created

"Dark Magician Girl, I love you!"

"Go ahead, I'm the one who came first!"

The Dark Magician Girl was a little surprised and pointed her little finger at herself.

Are you calling me?

"AWSL, she just looked at me! My life is complete"

"I have no regret."

Seeing how excited the group of screwballs were, although the Dark Magician Girl didn't understand what they were excited about, she still smiled and waved to the enthusiastic fans as a response.

Rishid narrowed his eyes: "I see. Both Dark Magician and the Mystical Beast of Serket have 2500 ATK. If you trade one Dark Magician with my monster, then use the remaining monsters to launch a total attack"

"You think too much." Yuei Vu chuckled lightly and opened another card in his hand.

"Activate the Equip Spell Magic Formula! Equip it to a Dark Magician on the field, and increase the attack power by 700 points!"

[Dark Magician, ATK 2500 ATK 3200]

Rishid gritted his teeth: "The attack power exceeds that of the Mystical Beast of Serket"

"Dark Magician, attack the Mystical Beast of Serket!" Yuei Vu shouted, "Break down the forbidden temple! Dark Magic Attack!"

The Dark Magician took the order and jumped up, flying condescendingly in mid-air to charge up, and a huge pitch-black magic sphere was brewed with the wand in his hand.

The power of the Dark Magician who has been strengthened by the spell book is absolutely beyond the ability of Serket at this moment.

"This is what I'm waiting for!" Rishid raised his voice and swept his arms, "Activate Trap Card Eye of Ujat!"

The trap card was opened, and an eye like an illusory image appeared in front of the Dark Magician. The Dark Magician's face changed suddenly, he gritted his teeth, and the wand in his hand began to deflect direction uncontrollably.

The Dark Magician Girl was so frightened that she hurriedly took a step back and guarded her with a small staff in front of her vigilantly.

"Eye of Ujat can confuse the opponent's monster, change the opponent's monster's attack target so that it hits his teammates," Rishid said.

Yuei Vu waved his hand: "This kind of low-level trap is useless to the top magician among magicians! It's invalid!"

As soon as the voice fell, the phantom eye that emerged immediately disappeared, as if it had received an absolutely irresistible order.

"What!?" Rishid was taken aback.

Is Dark Magician really that powerful? Are all trap cards invalid?

How did I not hear it before?

"Only when there is a Dark Magician on your field, I can banish Magician Navigation' in my GY to negate the effect of a Spell or Trap Card on the opponent's field until the end of this turn!" As Yuei Vu spoke, a black magic circle was opened on the ground, and the trap card swirled and jumped from it. Come out, "The effect of Eye of Ujat has been negated, so the Dark Magician's attack continues!

Dark Magic Attack! "

The impact of the magic was like a straight shot of a javelin, shattering the sturdy shell of the holy beast, and piercing its body from front to back.

The holy beast who guarded the temple let out a groan, and finally was no match for the spell of the top magician, and his body was torn apart.

[Rishid, LP 4000 LP 3300]

There was still a Dark Magician Girl and another Dark Magician on the Yuei Vu field who did not attack, and the success of the follow-up attack would directly declare the victory of the duel.

"Uhthen I activate the trap again!" Rishid yelled, "Trap Card Time Machine! When a monster is destroyed by battle, return the destroyed monster to the field in the same position! Come back! Come on, Mystical Beast of Serket!"

"It's invalid!" Yuei Vu waved and shouted.

As he said, white smoke appeared on the trap card in front of Lishid, and the card began to become transparent. Then it disintegrated, dissipated, and disappeared completely.

"What what!?" Rishid's surprise was no trivial matter.

He saw another pitch-black vortex open at Yuei Vu's feet, and a red card flew out, spinning several times in mid-air

It was "Magician Navigation"!

"Magician Navigation?" Rishid exclaimed, "but this card has just been"

"That's right, the Magician Navigation just now was removed after the effect was activated, but what I'm activating now is the second Magician Navigation' in the GY!" Yuei Vu said loudly.

"The second one? But when don't tell me!?"

Rishid looked at the second Dark Magician on the field in surprise and immediately thought of Yuei Vu's last operation in the previous round

"Magician's Robe can special summon Dark Magician' from the deck by discarding a Spell Trap Card during the opponent's turn!"

Rishid suddenly said, "Could it be that time"

"That's right. Although due to the effect of Temple of the Kings', I can only set one card to the field in one turn." Yuei Vu said lightly, "But I activated the effect of Magician's Robe' to Special Summon the second Dark Magician. At that time, what was discarded from the hand as the cost is this second Magician Navigation'."

Rishid was stunned.

Special Summon the Magician's Robe from the deck with the effect of the first Navigation and then use the cost of activating the Magician's Robe to discard the second Navigation to the Graveyard.

Two Magician Navigations, twice negation

Did he actually calculate to such an extent?

Chapter 94: Join To Betray!

The two Magician Navigation, twice negation, directly eliminated all the last defensive means of Rishid.

Due to the effect of Time Machine, the outline of the Mystical Beast of Serket, which was destroyed by the battle, had already reappeared on the field. It gradually became illusory, until it turned into smoke and dissipated.

Rishid stared blankly at the empty field in front of him, almost forced to accept the fact that was happening

He has already lost.

All traps have been nullified, the field was empty, zero cards in hand He has absolutely no means of counterattack.

"Dark Magician, Dark Magician Girl." Yuei Vu made his final attack declaration, "Direct attack!"

The wands of the master and the apprentice alternated with each other, the mana exchanged, and the dark undercurrent swept toward Rishid overwhelmingly. The latter raised his head and closed his eyes, like a ship facing the surging waves, even the outline was engulfed by the waves

[Rishid, LP 3300 LP 0]

Although it wasn't fatal, the impact still caused the big man's body to be overturned by the air, and he fell to the ground ruthlessly.

When the duel was over, the stereoscopic image disappeared. Yuei Vu stepped forward slowly, Rishid gasped for a moment and stood up with his knees.

For a while, no one on both sides stepped forward to disturb them.

The big man looked at Yuei Vu for a moment, then sighed softly.

"I lost," he said. "You're really strong and you haven't even gotten serious, have you?"

Yuei Vu began to reflect on himself

What? I haven't even gotten serious? Why didn't I know?

"As your opponent, I know it." Rishid closed his eyes lightly, "You have completely seen through my tactics from beginning to end.

All my means and all my counterattacks were perfectly resolved by you as if you had already stood at the finish line from the first turn of the duel. So although I feel very sorry, it seems that my level is not enough to force you to use all your strength"

Yuei Vu: ""

Did I not use all my strength? How can you reach that conclusion?

Playing cards was not like fighting. When you threw a punch, you could use only 70% of your strength and save 30%. But when dueling you could only play whatever cards you draw.

Rishid said that "his tactics are completely seen through" This was not true.

After all, because Yuei Vu basically knew about Rishid's heavy trap style, so he deliberately jammed a few more typhoons before starting the fight. In addition, the Dark Magician deck could deal with traps better than the HERO deck, so it seemed that Yuei Vu is in control of the whole process.

Now, this big man who has been tricked was actually looking like he was convinced and willing to bow down, making Yuei Vu feel a little embarrassed

Well, of course, that's what I said, but the process that should be followed is still indispensable.

"According to the agreement," Rishid said, looking back at the group of small fries (who were suspected of being pulled over to make up the number), "We admit defeat. And our Ghouls won't make any big moves during the Battle City and there will be no organizational conflict with you."

Yuei Vu nodded.

It meant that Ghouls would neither try to enter the Battle City competition on a large scale, nor come to trouble the Nightcrawler World again, but some sneaky little actions were still indispensable.

There won't be any organizational conflict, but he didn't promise that Marik would not come to trouble Yuei Vu. Having suffered so much from Yuei Vu, it was simply impossible for the tomb-guarding successor to just let it go.

But this was exactly what Yuei Vu wants to see.

After all, Battle City itself was a competition held by Seto Kaiba in order to lure Marik, who owned two God cards, to come and send the card. If Marik didn't come, it would be meaningless.

From Yuei Vu's point of view, risks and benefits coexisted. The Battle City would certainly be much more comfortable without Marik and Ghouls, but in that way, he could gain a lot less from it.

Rishid immediately took out the puzzle card for the Battle City and his most cherished "Mystical Beast of Serket": "Puzzle card and rare card, as agreed before, now belong to you according to the rules of the Battle City."

This big man was quite honest, willing to accept the bet, and voluntarily handed over the ante before Yuei Vu even opened his mouth.

However, Yuei Vu didn't want this big scorpion.

Not to mention the harsh conditions for summoning, it may not be of any use after being summoned

So Yuei Vu coughed twice and rejected his good intentions: "This one is fine, you can keep it for yourself. The card I need is another one. It's the field spell you used in the duel just now, Temple of the Kings', just that one. I'm quite interested."

Rishid's expression changed slightly.

To him, Temple of the Kings was not just a card, it also represented the sacred realm that he vowed to protect as a Tomb Keepers (although he was adopted).

The Tomb Keepers all claimed to be the guardians of the tomb of the Pharaoh, and regard it as the ultimate mission higher than their own lives.

And his current situation may be roughly equivalent to losing the tomb

But Rishid was indeed a principled duelist. Although it looked very difficult, he finally took out Temple of the Kings with gritted teeth and handed it over to Yuei Vu.

Later, when the big man led the team to leave, seeing his lonely back as if he had lost his goal in life, Yuei Vu even wondered if he would kill himself as an apology when he went back

Considering that Rishid was the equivalent of a brother to Marik, and without Rishid, Marik may be out of control (sounds like a six-year-old), so Rishid was released back to his life.

But the rest of the Ghouls scoundrels weren't so lucky.

Everyone was arrested by Nightcrawler World!

As for what to do with the captives, that's not what Yuei Vu has to worry about.

After harvesting Temple of the Kings, a puzzle card, Yuei Vu returned to the base with members of Nightcrawler World Oh, and the newly collected screwball players.

After this battle, the unprincipled Ghouls camp players all rebelled directly, followed Yuei Vu's footsteps, and slipped to the camp on the side of the Nightcrawler World.

And these traitors not only didn't feel anything wrong but they were also even excited. Many people also took screenshots and went to the forum to show off.

We have gotten on the same boat with Yuei Vu, and the next goal is to become brother-in-arms who can a pair of shorts! Are you envious?

Then there was a thread immediately below the forum expressing jealousy of the real-name system.

"Nani!? Can you go directly to Yuei Vu's camp from Ghouls?"

"I'm so envious! Can I still trigger this quest now? If I can, I'll join Ghouls right now and wait for the mutiny."

"Take me one! I'll betray with you!"

""

None knew whether these old brothers are hilarious or really ran to Ghouls with the purpose of betraying. If it was true, Marik may vomit blood

Oh wait, he has already vomited blood? That's fine.

Chapter 95: There Shouldn't Be Any Problems, Right?

What? "Marik Ishtar, who was sitting in the chair, looked surprised, "Even you, Rishid, lost to him?"

Rishid was Marik's number one confidant, and to Marik, he was similar to a shadow warrior. Rishid was his shadow, his spokesman, often responsible for externally playing the role of Marik when necessary.

Marik knew how good Rishid's dueling skills were. This big man was completely different from the other members of the Ghouls, and he was also the only person in Ghouls who has not been brainwashed and manipulated by Marik.

The other cannon fodder were beaten down by Yuei Vu one after another? It wouldn't bother Marik at all. But now even Rishid was taken down.

Is that Yuei Vu so powerful?

"I'm very sorry, Lord Marik."

Although Rishid didn't have time to return to Marik for the time being, with the power of the Millennium Rod, the two of them could communicate through their minds even if they were far apart.

"But if you played against that Yuei Vu directly, you would understand that he is not ordinary," Rishid said.

"This is a comment I rarely hear from you, Rishid." Marik said, "Is that kid really worth it?"

"I believe so." Rishid said, "My trap tactics are useless in front of him, and his duel skill is completely superior to me. I used all my moves, even summoned the holy beast that guards the temple, but it's totally useless. He dismissed all my moves lightly. No matter what traps I used to meet them, he never panicked from beginning to end, as if the entire duel was under his control. "

"He is that powerful?" Marik expressed doubts.

He began to sink into his own thoughts.

Actually, although Yuei Vu made him a little angry before, Marik actually didn't take him seriously. In Marik's view, these so-called Shadow Duelists were just scumbags. In front of him, the master of God cards, they were all rookies who could be killed as easily as he flipped his palm.

In his opinion, the real potential enemies of this Battle City were only Kaiba and Yugi.

He knew that his sister took Obelisk the Tormentor and handed it over to Kaiba Seto, which made Kaiba a big threat in Marik's eyes.

In addition, he was also interested in why the ancient stone slabs unearthed in Egypt were engraved with a priest who looked similar to Kaiba, which may explain why Kaiba can control the God card.

As for Yugi, Marik knew that the soul of the Pharaoh resided in Yugi, and that was the object of his revenge.

And now, Marik saw another potential threat.

"I see." Marik said lightly, "Okay, thank you Rishid. It seems that I have been underestimating him, and it doesn't make sense to continue to send some little guys to challenge. ."

Rishid's eyelids moved: "Lord Marik, are you planning to"

"That's not in a hurry, I'm not suitable to show up for the time being, our plan remains the same."

Marik hummed, "Originally this was a weapon prepared for the nameless Pharaoh, but that Yuei Vu is lucky, I'm going to let him enjoy this honor first."

"Are you going to use The Doll?"

"That's right." Marik's voice sank, "Soon, he will face the punishment of God."

When bringing such a large number of players back to his own club, Yuei Vu originally thought that it would take a long time for players and NPCs to get used to each other mainly referring to NPCs.

After all, not everyone can quickly get used to a group of screwballs who think out of the box, behave strangely, and sometimes said things that no one could understand.

But Yuei Vu soon found out that he was wrong, and they accepted each other quite quickly

Just like now,

A few NPCs and a few players were gathered around a round table, and there were people who formed in a circle behind them. It was very lively.

"Queen's Knight!" An NPC slapped the monster on the table, "ATK 1500!"

"Heh, weak!" A player who had just joined the club for less than 20 minutes also threw a card on the table, "My card is Warrior of Zera', with an ATK of 1600. I will press you!"

"Hahaha, it looks like this game is mine!" Another person laughed and threw three cards, "My card is Turtle Tiger', although the attack power is only 1000, I have three copies in my hand! Full House!"

"Nani!?! Have you drawn all three Turtle Tigers in your deck? Are you cheating?" Someone immediately objected.

"Hahaha, this is the bond between the duelist and the deck!" The player was incredibly proud, and stretched out his hand to grab the chips on the table, "I won this duel!"

"Hmph, hold on!" It was the NPC who played the card first, "I haven't played the remaining cards yet! What I have left are King's Knight', and Jack's Knight'!"

"The queen, the king, and the knight? It's actually the legendary Three Musketeers." The full-room player hummed, "But even that's useless!"

"Is this really the case?" The NPC who played the card first smiled proudly, "When the king, queen, and knight are all gathered at the same time, call this guy from my deck Royal Straight Slasher!"

The NPC suddenly slapped the monster named "Royal Straight Slasher" on the table.

The whole table couldn't help but take a deep breath and exclaimed, "Royal Straight Flush! You actually have such a rare card!"

"Hahaha!" The NPC took a table of chips with a smug smile, "Next round!"

""

What? You asked how did they play poker with dueling monster cards?

Who knows

Because Yuei Vu successfully repelled Ghouls, defeated the enemy generals, and frustrated his spirit, plus a large number of newcomers joined, President Kawasawa Gai announced a simple welcome ceremony as he was so happy today then it became what it was now.

A group of players and a group of NPCs played together happily, playing cards and drinking, and a few players played wrestling games in the ring with a muscular and shirtless NPC

Yuei Vu also unexpectedly discovered that the player named "Yuei Cannot Escape Fae" that he met before was actually there.

Unexpectedly, this guy who looked honest actually ran to hang out with Ghouls. (Of course, now he also betrayed it)

At this moment, Fae was happily drinking and playing wild ball boxing with a few players and friends, as well as Mr. Kuroda from Nightcrawler World and several other NPCs.

Simply put, the loser must take off a piece of clothing.

At this moment, a group of rough men was all drunk, and each one was cooler than the other.

Especially Yuei Cannot Escape Fae, he now had only one pair of big pants left on his body and then he lost again

Drunk and dizzy, Mr. Kuroda grinned, showing a simple and honest smile, pointing at Fae: "Youtake off! Then take off!"

"Oh, just take it off!"

Fae, without saying a word, immediately took off the pair of sunglasses on his nose.

Immediately, the latter showed a scheming smile: "You didn't expect this, did you? I still have this, and it should be counted as one!"

"Yeswith you!" Mr. Kuroda burped, "Youbrave! Very brave!"

Of course, it was impossible for players to get drunk in the game, but there would be a negative status. If they drink too much, they would continue to lose stamina.

If the stamina was exhausted, they would be forced to faint. Although the player was conscious, he could not continue to operate the game character.

Fae threw his glasses aside and patted his chest: "Don't talk about it! I'm super brave!" After a while, he didn't forget to add, "Of course, you are also very brave!"

Mr. Kuroda laughed happily and drank another cup of Lafite, which was suspected to be 1982.

However, before this grand and lively welcome ceremony was over, Yuei Vu quietly left the venue early.

Of course, it wasn't because he was afraid that after staying in this environment for a long time, he would become strange (such as bending or something). Yuei Vu still had confidence in himself.

It's just that he still has a game to play, so he had to collect more puzzle cards, and the time was limited.

These players and NPCs seem to have deep emotional exchanges quite quickly, so there shouldn't be any problems, right?

Maybe.

Chapter 96: Card Delivery?

The transparent Dark Magician Girl blinked her eyes with curiosity.

"Master, is that stick delicious?"

"This? It's delicious." Yuei Vu said, "You want it too?"

"I want to." The girl whispered, sticking out her tongue in embarrassment.

"Here, lick it."

Yuei Vu felt that if there was something like the Spirit Protection Association, he would definitely have to award himself a medal. There were not many masters who treated his spirits so generously and considerately.

Without saying a word, Yuei Vu immediately gave her a big and hard popsicle.

Not only one, but two!

One strawberry flavored, one chocolate flavored.

Yuei Vu said that after selling so many cards, he was now rich, and could even buy two popsicles in one go!

What? How could spirit eat popsicles?

Eh, Yuei Vu said that this was the privilege of his spirit. Not only can she eat my popsicles, but she can also sleep in my bed.

The materialized Dark Magician Girl turned her head with an expression like she found a new world: "Master, this is delicious!"

"Really? Eat more if it's delicious." Yuei Vu said, took out a napkin, and handed it to her.

The magician girl was completely unaware that her little mouth was covered with cream and strawberry jam, like a naive little loli.

Speaking of which, since she was a spirit, shouldn't she gain weight even if she eat ice cream?

Suddenly he felt so envious

As Yuei Vu walked away, he followed her and ate popsicles. Occasionally passers-by didn't realize it and thought it was a cosplaying girl. Someone may even be thinking that this costume didn't need more work, it's like the real Dark Magician Girl

....

The expression of Dark Magician Girl, who was happily eating the popsicle, changed slightly, and suddenly she seemed to be in a state of battle. The popsicle in her hand disappeared immediately, and the small staff appeared in her hand out of thin air. She suddenly appeared in front of her master, staring vigilantly ahead like a loyal bodyguard.

It's just that the corners of her mouth were still covered with some white viscous cream, and with that serious little expression, she looked a little funny

A man appeared in front of the road at some point. With a shiny bald head, a scrawny body, a backpack slung over his upper body, a Duel Disk on his hands, and thick dark circles under his eyes, people who didn't know may mistake him for a national treasure running around on the street.

The bald head tilted the corner of his mouth and smiled: "I finally found you. You must be very confused now, think you have never seen me? Now you must be racking your brains to think about who I am. .."

"Marik Ishtar." Yuei Vu didn't think about it.

The man was startled: "How did you know that?"

Yuei Vu glanced at the eye-catching golden eye mark on the forehead, only to feel too lazy to complain

Who can't recognize you with such big eyes painted on your forehead?

This was almost as shocking as President Kaiba said in the animation, "Did the Yugi have already guessed that I would summon the Blue-Eyes Ultimate Dragon?"

Everyone on earth knew that the president was going to summon Blue-Eyes Ultimate Dragon, only the president himself that this was the last trick in the box

"Yes, it's me." Marik, who was seen through, admitted generously, "This is a doll I manipulated. Although it seems that I have always underestimated you, I don't need to go out on my own to deal with you.

Just as he was talking, he noticed that Yuei Vu was staring straight at the Duel Disk in the puppet's hand

"Your Duel Disk looks quite new, just unpacked?" Yuei Vu said coldly.

These words seemed to evoke some bad memories of Marik, and he instantly became furious: "You will pay for your frivolous behavior!"

"Didn't I just grab a Duel Disk last time and you were so angry that you dropped the line?" Yuei Vu shook his head with a look of disappointment, "A Duel Disk is cheap, yet you feel distressed like this, it looks like your Ghouls don't have enough money.

It's no wonder that you didn't have any cards when I asked you before, as you were a bunch of poor for a long time. Fortunately, I wasn't fooled by you at that time"

Marik was so angry he almost laughed out loud.

Do you think the last time I was disconnected was because I was distressed by several fake cards and a broken Duel Disk?

I'm angry with a brazen person like you who doesn't play cards according to the routine!

Marik decided to change the subject and try to regain the initiative. The puppet's disgusting and eerie gaze moved to the Dark Magician Girl who was holding a small staff with a vigilant expression on her face.

"Hey, I didn't expect you to be a Duel Spirit master." He snorted and sneered, "Alright, after you are defeated, I will take the card that hosts the Duel Spirit. Don't worry, I will take good care of her."

It has to be said that compared with other villains in the animation who were wicked and cruel, this BOSS was trustworthy and principled, and he didn't even trash-talk.

Yuei Vu didn't answer him, but stared at his deck: "In that deck, is there a God card?"

"That's right!" Marik said this momentarily, and raised his voice, "In this deck resided the god of Netherworld, Osiris the Sky Dragon!"

Originally, he expected to see awe, fear, and fear of God on Yuei Vu's face that was the reaction that a normal duelist should have.

However, this stuff

"Really?" Yuei Vu's eyes lit up, "It's the real card, you didn't lie to me? Not a shoddy replica?"

Marik's mouth moved and he snorted: "Of course, it's the real card."

"Oh? Is that a face flash?" Yuei Vu continued to ask, "Gold letters? Silver fragments? Striking flashes? Does the card face have a holographic effect?"

Marik: ""

He suddenly had a strange delusion, as if he was manipulating this puppet to make a special trip to deliver Osiris the Sky Dragon to Domino, and the person in front of him was his customer, who was holding him to ask about the product details

I'm here to mess with your people, I'm not here to give you cards!?

When Lord Marik was angry, the consequences were serious!

"It's useless to talk too much." Marik held up the Duel Disk, "Just let you see the honor of the true God with your own eyes, and you will understand how ridiculous it is to dare to provoke God himself!

Come, accept my duel! "

"Wait a minute!" Yuei Vu raised his hand quickly, "Before the official fight, I still have something to do."

Marik was suspicious: "What? If you're trying to find an excuse to escape, then don't bother, you can't escape."

Yuei Vu rolled his eyes.

Heh, am I like the kind of person who pretends to go to the toilet and then sneaks away, leaving the opponent to hang out here to drink the northwest wind?

"Before that," Yuei Vu pulled out the deck, "I need to adjust the deck first."

Marik crossed his arms and snorted coldly, "As you like."

Marik said that he didn't care if all the 40 cards in the deck were changed.

It doesn't matter what card or tactics you use, God is absolutely invincible!

It must be mentioned that Marik still had the morality of a duelist. He actually did turn his head to the side and didn't even look at what Yuei Vu was going to do to adjust the deck.

A villain who was so disciplined and moral was rare these days

"Duel!" x2

Yuei Vu, LP 4000

Doll (Marik), LP 4000

The playing order was randomly determined by the Duel Disk of both sides. The probability of both sides was equal, and the effect was the same as that of a coin toss.

Marik: "I am the first to go, draw!

I summon Revival Jam', Defense Position! "

[Revival Jam, DEF 500]

The image of the card surface appeared, and a pool of mud-like monsters was projected on the field. The soft and sticky body collapsed into a large mass, and it looked a little disgusting.

However, you shouldn't be fooled by its look. This thing looked soft and non-threatening like, but in fact, it was very wretched. In the anime, Revival Jam would be immediately resurrected from the GY when it was destroyed by battle or effect.

"Hey, this monster is just the prelude to your next series of nightmares, don't blink." Marik sneered, "And then I activate Continuous Spell Card Jam Breeding Machine!"

The Spell Card was played, and a silver-white steel machine like a boiler appeared on the field. The exhaust pipes on both sides of the huge stove spurted white smoke after a sharp sound, and a fluffy little slime was launched from the center of the stove, sticking to the monster zone on the ground.

[Slime Token, ATK 500]

"Jam Breeding Machine is a Continuous Spell that special summons a Slime Token in attack position once per turn," Marik explained.

Yuei Vu was not surprised by this development: "Do you want to use this ability to quickly gather the three sacrifices to summon the god?"

"That's right." Marik hummed, "Now that there are two monsters, it will be enough to gather the sacrifices to summon the gods in the next turn. From now on, you will face the deepest nightmare of your life!"

Chapter 97: Fight Between Gods

"Get ready for your deepest nightmare! When you are defeated, your soul will also be sacrificed, wandering in eternal darkness!"

Marik followed by playing another card: "My turn is not over yet! Continuous Spell Card Card of Safe Return!

As long as this card is face-up on the field, whenever a monster is Special Summoned from the Graveyard, I can draw three cards!

Then set another card, and I end my turn! "

Marik seemed to have deliberately made a long series of speeches of unknown significance to cover up the fact that he has played the banned card again, but Yuei Vu said that it was useless, and his eyes were still completely attracted by the continuous spell

WDNMD, the referee, someone blatantly violated the rules!

The effect of the real-life Card of Safe Return was "When a monster is Special Summoned from your Graveyard, you can draw 1 card." However, even if its effect has been reduced to one-third, it was still a Thousands of Years Banned Card.

In the decks of later generations that were extremely dependent on the resources of the graveyard, it was common that a dozen monsters jumped out of the GY, this card could quickly empty the decks in one turn

The opponent has more than 30 cards in their hand to play with you, keeping five or ten cards in the deck to prevent the deck out. Under such a huge card difference resource, how could you win?

Yuel Vu said in his heart that if this thing in Marik's hand was not a fake, after today this card would belong to the Vu family!

Noticing Yuei Vu's strange gaze, Marik instantly froze again you, hey, you still have time to crave my cards when you play cards with me?

Not just the sky dragon, why do you seem to want every card?

I have never seen such a lowly duelist!

"Set a card, I end my turn!" Marik said angrily, raising the volume to remind, "It's your turn!"

Don't be so distracted, play!

Yuei Vu shrugged indifferently: "My turn."

This kid Marik was quite good at first glance, but just staring at his card and thinking about it, this guy had a hair-triggered temper, and he didn't have the tolerance that a leader should have.

No wonder Ghouls was disbanded

"Being able to defeat Pandora in the accomplishments of a Dark Magician master, is indeed enough to prove your level." Marik said coldly, "Let me see your ability to control a top magician, don't let me down."

Yuei Vu smiled mysteriously.

"Okay, then keep your eyes open. From my hand, Field Spell Fusion Gate! As long as this card remains face-up on the field, a Fusion Monster can be Special Summoned without using Polymerization!"

I fuse the Elemental HERO Sparkman and the Elemental HERO Clayman in the hand!

Fusion Summon! Elemental HERO Thunder Giant! "

The figures of the two heroes appeared one after another from the hand cards, turning into golden light and rushing into the pitch-black dimensional vortex in the sky. Thunder and lightning were released from it, strong light erupted, and the huge body in golden armor slowly descended from the black cloud, with throbbing currents all over his body.

[Elemental HERO Thunder Giant, Attack Power 2400]

Marik: "?"

What about the Dark Magician?

Yuei Vu smiled and said: How come you haven't seen it before? This was the latest skin of the Dark Magician, and it only required Krypton Gold VIP Member 3 or above!

That's right, this time Yuei Vu is playing a HERO deck. (This time it's really a pure HERO!)

Because he has already known that the opponent would use Egyptian God, which the current Dark Magician deck was not very easy to deal with.

The resistance of Egyptian Gods was too strong. Although the animation has never given a detailed text description, the effect can be roughly inferred from the actual performance in each duel.

The Egyptian Gods were basically not affected by the Trap effect (BISS was not counted).

They were only affected by the effects of DIVINE monsters or level 10 or higher monsters, but only for one turn.

Spell Cards, including Monster Reborn, was able to affect them for one turn. This was why they returned to the Graveyard at the End Phase if they were Special Summoned from there.

Moreover, they were unaffected by effects that would directly remove them from the side of the field of their controller. After all, the dignified Egyptian Gods were the apex of dueling monsters. If they could be simply solved by a Dark Hole, it would be too cheap

(Dark Hole (Spell Card) Destroy all monsters on the field.)

Theoretically speaking, Egyptian Gods needed three sacrifices. It should not be so easy to summon in this era. However, looking at the animations of Yu-Gi-Oh, no matter how harsh or complicated the summoning conditions of the villain's ace monsters were, it seemed that there has never been one who couldn't summon their ace before being beaten by the protagonist

Therefore, to be cautious, Yuei Vu decided to duel on the premise that "the other party can summon Osiris the Sky Dragon".

Compared to the Dark Magician deck which was almost powerless against the sky dragon, it was more suitable for this duel to use the HERO deck.

Marik hummed: "But Fusion monsters cannot attack during the turn it was summoned."

"I know, but such conditions do not bind the monster effect." Yuei Vu said, "Thunder Giant's effect is activated! Discard a card from my hand and destroy 1 monster on the field with original ATK less than the ATK of this card!"

He didn't summon the Thunder Giant casually. Yuei Vu, who has watched the animation, knew that Marik has a Continuous Trap called "Jam Defender", which could add a taunting effect to the Revival Jam, forcing the opponent to only attack the regenerating slime.

However, the effect of Thunder Giant should be able to destroy the tokens on the field, so Marik would not be able to gather the three sacrifices to summon the gods in the next turn.

"Thunder Giant!" Yuei Vu discarded a card into the graveyard, "Destroy the Slime Token!"

"Open the set card!" Marik acted quickly, "Continuous Trap Card Jam Defender! All the opponent's attacks will be borne by the Revival Jam!"

It was exactly as he expected!

"Useless!" Yuei Vu said, "This is not an attack, but the monster effect of the Thunder Giant! Destroy !!???"

With a dazed look, Yuei Vu saw the Revival Jam sway and flashed onto the trajectory of the lightning released by the Thunder Giant, and was blown to ashes by the lightning.

Immediately after the effect of regenerating slime was activated, the blasted fragments were quickly attracted to each other, condensed together, and reshaped into that soft and disgusting mass.

Marik drew three cards due to the effect of the "Card of Safe Return".

Yuei Vu: "???"

No, Wait a minute, why can you block even when I activate the monster effect?

You tell me this is not a BISS?

Then he carefully looked at the words on the trap card on Marik's field. It said, "all the opponent's attacks will be borne by the Revival Jam".

It seems a little different from the description on the actual card

In other words, effect destruction was also considered an "attack"?

I am so stupid

Yuei Vu even deeply doubted whether the person who printed this card would write such an ambiguous effect on purpose just for the sake of convenience.

But after such a toss, he vaguely remembered that there seemed to be a similar scene in the anime

Yugi: "I activate the Magic Cylinder to bounce back the attack of the Osiris the Sky Dragon, and the sky dragon will be destroyed!" (animation effect)

Marik: "Traps are useless to God!"

Yugi: "But what the Magic Cylinder reflects is God's own attack, and God's own power is effective!"

Marik: "Okay, then I use the effect of the Trap Card Jam Defender' to block the attack with the Revival Jam!"

Yugi: "WTF! The Magic Cylinder is a damaging effect, not an attack. Your slime can't block it!"

Marik: "Ha! But you just said that the Magic Cylinder is reflecting God's attack', so it's still an attack! Revival Jam, goes up to block it for me!"

Yugi: "."

Hmm So it seemed that being Yugi was not easy.

Thinking about it this way, Yugi vs Marik couldn't be called a duel at all. It's a fight between gods

Chapter 98: The Descending Of God!

Although there was a little unexpected situation, it didn't matter that Yuei Vu still had countermeasures.

"Set a card, I end my turn," he said.

"My turn, draw."

Marik's mouth twitched. At the same time, the Jam Breeding Machine on his field began to rumble again, and the exhaust pipe sputtered white steam as if something was about to come out.

"At this moment, the effect of the Jam Breeding Machine has activated again." Marik smiled, "I Special Summon a Slime Token Now the third sacrifice has appeared on my field."

"That's not necessarily! Open the set card, Dust Tornado!"

The gust of wind swept up the swirling leaves. The storm shook the boiler-like device, ripping apart the metal casing and shattering it on the spot.

Of course, the second token didn't come out in time.

"What a pity, Marik." Yuei Vu chuckled, "You already have the Osiris the Sky Dragon' in your hand, right?"

Marik snorted and did not speak, but his tone revealed everything.

Sure enough!

I just know that none of you shuffle cards!

Well, in fact, the deck in Marik's hand was shuffled by Yuei Vu. Before the match, the two sides exchanged and shuffled the deck strictly according to the rules of the competition. However, even so, this did not affect the sky dragon jumping into Marik's hand. It seemed that Marik, as a descendant of the Tomb Keepers, may also firmly believe in the Heart of the Cards

"Set a monster and two S/T cards. I end my turn."

Marik obviously didn't have a way to defeat the Thunder Giant with an attack power of 2400 for the time being.

In this way, Yuei Vu would definitely not give up this attacking opportunity.

"My turn, draw!" Yuei Vu glanced at the cards he had drawn, "Activate the Pot of Greed! Draw two more cards from the deck."

The first thing to solve must be that unsightly Jam Defender. As long as this thing was on the field, whether it was an attack or an effect target, it would be transferred to the regeneration slime and become meaningless.

Although it was troublesome, it was just a Continuous Trap after all, and it was not difficult to get rid of it.

"Quick-Play Spell Cosmic Cyclone!" Yuei Vu played the next card. "Pay 1000 LP to activate, and remove an S/T card on the field from the game! Remove Jam Defender!"

Through the anime, Yuei Vu has long figured out the combo of Marik. To put it simply, it relied on the continuous trap Jam Defender to let the Revival Jam block the attack, and then every time the slime was resurrected, he could draw cards by the effect of Card of Safe Return and used the continuous spell Jam Breeding Machine to collect the sacrifices

In short, all of them were combinations of Continuous Spell and Continuous Trap to infinitely increase the attack power of the sky dragon, and use the slime as the ultimate shield.

It was the common deck master strategy. The entire deck was built around a specific card in this case, Osiris the sky dragon, and it was all up to this monster to defeat the opponent.

However, this combo, which was highly dependent on Continuous Spells and Continuous Traps, also has a very significant flaw that is, being afraid of typhoons

Speaking of which, Marik, Rishid, and even his sister Isis had a little bit of that the deck construction of the Big Three of the Tomb Keepers was somewhat autistic.

This may also be related to the fact that their Tomb Keepers grew up underground and never saw the light of day. After all, the composition of the duelist's deck could reflect itself to a certain extent.

In this way, maybe since he was a child, when came in contact with the duel monster game, playing cards have always been an autistic civil war. No wonder the deck was such a nether deck

Then there's nothing to say about it. When Yuei Vu adjusted the deck, he directly filled all the typhoons he had!

He even stuffed this Cosmic Cyclone from the card pool.

[Yuei Vu, LP 4000LP 3000]

After paying 1000 LP, the pesky continuous trap finally disappeared, so that he could launch an attack.

"Summon the Elemental HERO Wildheart."

[Elemental HERO Wildheart, ATK 1500]

"Thunder Giant" Yuei Vu waved his hand, "Attack Slime Token!"

The big Elemental HERO took the order, the huge boot sole pushed forward invisibly, and his body accelerated to fly in front of the group of short slimes. He stretched out his hand, opened his palm, and a large amount of golden electric current burst out, splitting the token instantly.

Marik, LP 4000LP 2100

The doll's body took two steps back under the shock of the electric current, and the body was barely standing still with black smoke. Marik pouted: "Hey, there are two strokes."

"It's not over yet! Wildheart, attack the set monster!" Yuei Vu pointed to the set card in front of Marik.

The set card was flipped, and what popped out was a grinning tomato with a green leaf on its head.

[Mystic Tomato, DEF 1100]

I, Tomato, was an emotionless killer.

then it was cut in half by a savage Elemental HERO.

"The effect of the Mystic Tomato," Marik said, "When this card is destroyed by battle and sent to the GY: I can Special Summon 1 DARK monster with 1500 or less ATK from my Deck, in face-up Attack Position I Special Summon the second Mystic Tomato!"

[Mystic Tomato, ATK 1400]

A monster with a recruiting effect

Although the last-word monsters of Yu-Gi-Oh! have already been eliminated by the current environment, but now it seemed to be useful to collect the sacrifices.

"The Battle Phase is over, but my turn is not over yet." Yuei Vu raised two cards towards the vortex in the sky, "Using the effect of Fusion Gate', I fuse Elemental HERO Wildheart on the field and Elemental HERO Bladedge in the hand!

Fusion Summon! Elemental HERO Wildedge! "

The Wildheart and the Bladedge appeared separately, turning into two golden glows staggered and shooting into the dark vortex of the fusion gate in mid-air. A dazzling golden light erupted from the vortex of time and space, and the burly body of the new hero fell straight to the ground.

[Elemental HERO Wildedge, ATK 2600]

"I end my turn." Yuei Vu said.

In this way, Marik still has the undead Revival Jam and a Mystic Tomato left on the field, so he shouldn't be able to make a sky dragon in the next turn.

On Yuei Vu's side, he already had a plan. As long as it's his turn as long as he could reach that point, it would be his victory!

Of course, as a veteran who has played for many years, he also knows the truth of the ever-changing duel process. There would always be variables if the LP was not reduced to zero. So of course he won't be death-seeking and set up some strange flag

Don't you think that you can take a picture of the sky dragon to OTK me?

"My turn, draw!" Malek chose to directly open this round, "Activate Card of Sanctity! Each player draws until they have 6 cards in their hand!"

Yuei Vu even wanted to applaud him here.

Brother, do you actually bring a forbidden card too?

However, Marik currently had three cards in hand, while Yuei Vu was empty-handed, which meant Marik draws three cards and Yuei Vu draws six cards. This was a big profit for Yuei Vu.

In Yu-Gi-Oh, it was often said that a person's essence can be seen through a duel. So now it seemed that Marik's essence may be to bring goodness to people, as he doesn't forget to send cards to the other side to make friends

Yuei Vu suddenly realized that Marik was staring at him strangely, smiling extremely wretchedly. That smile even reminded Yuei Vu of Jae Jie could not escape, the version that removed the glasses and released the seal

"Your next sentence is, I only have two monsters that can be used as sacrifices this turn, so I can't make up the conditions for the summoning of God, right?"

Yuei Vu said my next sentence It's really not this.

Just looking at the hungry look on the puppet's face, the first sentence that came out of his heart was don't come here!

"Then let me show you now, how much my duel skill surpassed you!" Marik shouted, "Open set card! Summon Trap monster, Embodiment of Apophis!"

This time, Yuei Vu was a little surprised. Did Marik still bring his own subordinate's card?

[Embodiment of Apophis, ATK 1600]

"It's not over yet, I'll use Monster Reborn' again to resurrect the first Mystic Tomato' in the graveyard!"

[Mystic Tomato, ATK 1400]

Yuei Vu narrowed his eyes lightly.

In this way, Marik had four monsters on the field, which exceeded the number of sacrifices required to summon the gods. Maybe his purpose was to keep the "Revival Jam" that can be resurrected infinitely on the field as a wall?

"Now keep your eyes open," Marik manipulated the doll, and slowly and solemnly drew a card from his hand, "This is God!

I tribute two Mystic Tomato and Embodiment of Apophis. Let God descend!

Osiris the Sky Dragon! "

Chapter 99: Recreate A Classic Scene

"Come, God! Osiris the Sky Dragon!"

Marik's remote-controlled puppet put a card, whose color and style was completely different from other cards, onto the Duel Disk.

The Duel Disk actually seemed to sense the terrifying power contained in that card, and released a dazzling electric current! The throbbing blue lightning was quickly released centered on the card, and an invisible and astonishing force shot into the sky from the position of the Duel Disk and disappeared into the sky.

Dark clouds soon covered the venue, and the sky, which had just been clear for thousands of miles, was now obscured by heavy, lead-like clouds. The sun was firmly blocked out as if to make way for some supreme being to come.

Here again, Yuei Vu felt a similar feeling to the last time he faced the Obelisk the Tormentor.

He felt that his body became several times heavier, and his legs were a little numb unconsciously. Every breath became heavier and hotter, and even the operation of the brain seemed to slow down.

There was no doubt that the billowing clouds, the blue lightning, and the thunderous roaring thunder, all of which could never be three-dimensional images.

Is it possible to create a calamity-like phenomenon like that just by playing a card?

Even with the black technology of the Kaiba Corp, it was definitely impossible at this stage.

The spirit of the Dark Magician Girl appeared again, and with the blessing of her only magical power, she barely helped the master to resist the powerful sense of oppression.

Thick and dazzling lightning fell from outside the sky to the field behind the puppet, bringing a majestic and huge figure.

The red dragon that covered the sky and the sun appeared from the lightning, and its body circled in mid-air. It had golden majestic eyes and two mouths, but the top one closed.

That was Osiris, the god of the underworld.

It opened the mouth below it and let out a demonstration-like roar, and the sound was like a continuous explosion of thunder. The air was pulled to form a strong and transparent airflow, and the invisible waves shook the earth.

"Behold, this is God!" Marik said loudly, "Osiris' attack power is equal to the number of cards in the player's hand x 1000 points! My current hand has four cards, so Osiris' attack power "

[Osiris the Sky Dragon, ATK 4000]

Facing such a mighty power and such great momentum, Yuei Vu could not help but involuntarily remember a legend about the power of this ancient god, who had been called by various names with awe by generations of duelists

Heavenly Pit Dragon, Traitor Dragon, Anti-Bone Dragon, God of Betrayal.

Emmm, why did this great god leave behind such inexplicable names?

This can't be helped. In addition to being handsome, domineering, and bunker, Osiris the Sky Dragon left the deepest impression on Yu-Gi-Oh players that he was a pit for his masters.

In the beginning, in Marik's hands, it was the effect of the sky dragon that made Marik lose. In the final battle, the three Egyptian Gods gathered on the Yami Yugi's field, and it was the sky dragon that destroyed them all.

Even at the end, the last action before Yami Yugi lost the duel was to activate Monster Reborn to try to resurrect this Traitor Dragon (Sky Dragon: Master, listen to my explanation, this is really not my fault!)

Well, that's all a joke by netizens. In fact, if we talked about practicality, even if the ability of the animated sky dragon was put into the real card environment twenty years later, it would still be so unreasonable.

In addition to the resistance shared by the Egyptian Gods, the unique special ability of the sky dragon was that when the opponent summoned a monster, that monster would lose 2000 ATK/DEF, and if its ATK or DEF was reduced to 0 by this effect, it would be destroyed.

It's a nightmarishly powerful effect even for many meta decks twenty years from now.

"Sky Dragon, attack the Thunder Giant! Smash those unruly monsters!" Marik shouted, "Super Conductive Wave Thunder Cannon!"

The sky dragon opened its mouth.

Yuei Vu must admit that at that moment, he did have the illusion that his heartbeat stopped.

The golden energy beam sprayed from the sky dragon's open mouth, and at that moment he seemed to feel the vibration of space with his body. The mighty power of the gods rushed forward, as if it had penetrated the space, and rushed forward with an indomitable momentum.

Under this surging impact, the Thunder Giant had no room to fight back, and was instantly smashed to pieces, leaving no fragments left.

Yuei Vu, LP 3000 LP 1400

"In the presence of God, any resistance is powerless!" Marik laughed. "All you can do is kneel in front of God and fall into endless darkness under the attack of Osiris! I end my turn. Fight as hard as you can!"

However, to his surprise, in this situation, when Yuei Vu raised his head, he looked like laughing?

"Sure enough, I knew that you would give priority to destroying the Thunder Giant with the ability to destroy monsters." Yuei Vu chuckled, "Your action is exactly what I thought, Marik."

"What?" Marik frowned. "But so what? There is no way to defeat God!"

There is no way to defeat God?

Not necessarily. No matter how powerful the monster was, there was no monster that could not be solved in this game.

Think about how Yugi did when he confronted Marik's sky dragon in the original work.

Yugi: "I use Buster Blader' to attack Revival Jam!' It was destroyed by battle! Immediately after I use the Normal Spell card Brain Control' at the moment your Revival Jam is revived to snatch control of it"

Marik: "Wait a minute! The destroyed Revival Jam is now in the Graveyard. Brain Control can only target a monster on the field"

Yugi: "Shut up! I use Brain Control to snatch Revival Jam in your graveyard, and then Revival Jam is resurrected on my field! At this moment, the effect of the sky dragon is also triggered, and it will destroy the Revival Jam on my field!"

At this moment, according to the effect of Card of Safe Return', you must draw three cards from the deck!

Then the destroyed Revival Jam will be resurrected on my field again"

Marik: "Wait a minute. Revival Jam is my monster. After being destroyed, it will return to my graveyard. Even if it is to be resurrected, it will be on my field"

Yugi: "Shut up! Then Revival Jam is resurrected on my field, the effect of the sky dragon is triggered again. Revival Jam is destroyed and resurrected again, and then you have to draw three cards again!"

The end result of this infinite loop is that your deck will eventually be drawn out, and you have no cards to draw. I won! "

Marik: "@#%&*%" (expelled from the Battle City Tournament for being too aggressive)

Although the timeline changed, Yuei Vu said in his heart that "I'm here to restore a famous scene for you to see!"

"My turn, draw!" Yuei Vu ordered directly, "Attack with the Wildedge! The target of the attack is Revival Jam!"

The Wildedge flew forward and quickly drew his knife. The blade passed by, and Revival Jam with only 500 defensive power was easily cut into two pieces.

Of course, Revival Jam was immediately reborn in place.

"Hahaha, is your brain broken?" Marik laughed, "Revival Jam can't be defeated! And at the moment when Revival Jam is resurrected, due to the effect of the Card of Safe Return', I draw three more cards! The Sky Dragon's attack power has risen again!"

[Osiris the Sky Dragon, ATK 4000 ATK 7000]

"You're done for the next turn!" Marik declared.

"That's not necessarily true." Yuei Vu smiled, "Wildedge's special ability, as long as there are monsters on the opponent's field, this card can continue to attack all monsters on the opponent's field!

Keep fighting! Wildedge, attacking Revival Jam again! "

The Elemental HERO sprinted again, and the Revival Jam that had been split in half had just recovered. On the other hand, he saw a sharp blade slashing his head and covering his face. With one slash, he cut it into pieces again.

"But there's no point in doing that!" Malek obviously didn't think fast enough. "It doesn't matter how many times you attack, Revival Jam can't be defeated! And the moment it resurrects, it's a Card of Safe Return'. The effect is also activated, I can draw three more cards

! ! ? ? "

At this moment, even Marik realized that something was wrong.

He was shocked: "You bastard Could it be!?"

"That's right." Yuei Vu smiled, "As long as Revival Jam keeps reviving, Wildedge can keep attacking. And every time Revival Jam revives, you have to draw three cards again, so this battle has only one ending

Marik said with a gloomy face: "Until my deck have no cards to draw?"

Chapter 100: The Sky Dragon

"Wildedge attacks again!" Yuei Vu continued to order.

Once again, the Elemental HERO faithfully and tirelessly repeated the master's command, slashing the regenerated Jam into pieces. Then, of course, the Jam was reborn on its own again, triggering the effect of the "Card of Safe Return".

(Revival Jam: Who knows what I went through today)

Marik's puppet once again drew three cards from the deck he already had a bunch of them in his hand. There were nineteen cards in total, and people who didn't know the truth might think that this guy had a cheat and was playing cards with a deck of cards.

[Osiris the Sky Dragon, ATK 19000]

However, Marik, who was caught in this infinite loop and faced the crisis of deck out, did not panic. Seeing that his Jam was defeated again, he hummed and laughed while drawing cards in a hurry: "I now understand why Rishid lost to you.

It's really scary, your talent as a duelist that is. Maybe you are indeed a duelist at the same level as Muto Yugi and Kaiba Seto.

Fortunately, you are not a duelist chosen by God, otherwise, you might become a big threat. "

Yuei Vu narrowed his eyes slightly.

What? Could it be that in such a situation, Marik still has a way to reverse it?

Immediately afterward, I saw Marik's operation: "Open set card trap card, Graverobber! This card can obtain a spell card in the opponent's graveyard and activate it immediately!" (animation effect)

Nani!?

Yuei Vu was shocked on the spot isn't this a card of Jonouchi? Could it be that Jonouchi has fallen into his grip?

Well, actually, this card was not a rare card. It was not surprising that Marik, a pirated card dealer, has such a thing. But the problem is Aren't you the heir of the glorious tomb-keeper family? How dare you bring something like a "Graverobber"?

Could it be that he was robbing himself, trying to see if there was something good hidden in the tomb of the pharaoh?

What about your dignity and honor as a tomb keeper?

The trap effect has been activated, and a short, thief-looking Graverobber appeared on the field, holding a card dug out of Yuei Vu's graveyard in his hand.

Quick-play Spell, Cosmic Cyclone.

"I also pay 1000 LP, and the effect of the Cosmic Cyclone is activated!" Marik said solemnly, "Remove my own Card of Safe Return' from the game!"

Marik, LP 2100 LP 1100

A whirlwind rolled up Marik's own continuous spell card in place, made a few turns in the air, and then disappeared from the game as a golden light.

"The effect of the Card of Safe Return disappears, so I don't have to continue to draw cards when the Jam is resurrected again." Marik was even more proud, "Hahahaha, in this way, everything you did becomes useless. Not only it increased my hand cards, but it also increased the attack power of God!

Today, Osiris is completely invincible, and you are powerless! "

(Sky Dragon: Boss, I beg you to stop raising a flag, I'm a little panicky)

Yuei Vu: ""

Even this move was followed by Marik. To be honest, he didn't expect it a bit.

In the animation, Yugi obviously killed Marik by decking out! At that time, why didn't I see Marik printing a Mystical Space Typhoon on the spot and destroying his spell card?

Why did he suddenly change his career as soon as I got on it?

At this time, the sky dragon roared again, and the sound shook the heavens and the earth, and even the black clouds in the sky seemed to respond and released lightning and thunder like trembling.

To be honest, this sky dragon with an attack power of nearly 20,000, almost full resistance, and a powerful suppressing effect is still a bit scary. Everyone here should be counseled.

But it didn't matter.

Fortunately, Yuei Vu knew the effect of Sky Dragon and Marik's deck routines in advance. He had more than one plan for dealing with Sky Dragon.

"Set a card, I end my turn." Yuei Vu said.

The first task now was to survive till the next turn, then he still had a chance!

"Then it's my turn, draw!" Marik raised his voice and emphasized, "At this moment, Osiris' attack power has increased again."

The sky dragon roared up to the sky, and its attack power also increased.

[Osiris the Sky Dragon, ATK 19000 ATK 20000]

"You're screwed in this way!" Marik sneered, "The only thing that can save you now is the set card in the Spell Trap Zone, but the trap card can't affect the gods, and there is nothing to protect you from this turn.

Although I would like to say that with certainty, this situation is not absolute. After all, if you use a trap card that avoids combat damage, there is still hope that you will survive this turn. "

Yuei Vu raised his eyebrows.

Yo, I didn't expect that Marik's awareness of playing cards was good, he didn't ignore the Spell Trap Zone like 90% of the people in the anime?

It seems that it is better to be a little more cautious when mocking Marik's dueling skill in the future

"I activate a spell card from my hand, the Anti-Magic Arrows!"

Marik played a card, and thousands of arrows shot from all directions, instantly piercing the covering cards on the Yuei Vu field and pinning them to the ground.

"After the Anti-Magic Arrows is activated, both players cannot activate spell or trap effects until the end of the turn." Marik laughed proudly, "In this way, no matter what card you set, there is no way to save you!

This is the last blow! The attack of Osiris, Super Conductive Wave Thunder Cannon! "

[Osiris the Sky Dragon, ATK 20000 ATK 19000]

The Sky Dragon opened its mouth again. Unimaginable super energy is brewing in the huge dragon's mouth, the golden light turns into a spiral vortex, and the rolling sound made those who faced it feel the illusion of the end of the world

Even if Marik's Anti-Magic Arrows consumed one card in his hand, Osiris' attack power was still ridiculously high.

The Wildedge's ATK was only 2600, and even if Yuei Vu's LP was ten times higher, he would be smashed into slag after this attack.

but it didn't matter!

Kuriboh, save me!

"I discard Kuriboh to activate its effect!" Yuei Vu quickly threw a card into the graveyard, "Make the Battle Damage inflicted to my Life Points by 1 of the opponent's monsters 0!"

Rumbling

The Sky Dragon's strike that seemed to have the power to destroy the world easily crushed the Wildedge, but then immediately hit the Kuriboh that appeared in front of Yuei Vu and called out "kuri kuri".

The attack of the god of the underworld with an attack power of 19,000 turned invisible in front of the Kuriboh.

Yuei Vu watched the image of the Kuriboh in front of him gradually disappear.

What else could he say?

At this moment, thousands of words have been turned into one sentence

Kuriboh Forever!

"Have you survived for another turn with the effect of the miscellaneous fish monster?" Marik hummed softly, "Then I want to activate this Continuous Spell card Infinite Cards! As long as this card remains face-up on the field, there is no limit to the number of cards in players' hands.."

According to the rules of Yu-Gi-Oh, if any player had more than 6 cards in their hand at the end of their turn, they needed to discard their hands until there were 6 cards left.

However, with the effect of "Infinite Cards", that limitation was lifted.

[Osiris the Sky Dragon, ATK 19000 ATK 18000]

"Even if you rely on that kind of trash to survive, your remaining LP is still a candle in the wind in front of Osiris with an attack power of 18000! Enjoy your last turn and welcome your own end!" Marik waved, "I end my turn!"

Shouldn't it be worthy of being a boss-level villain? In one sentence, he successively scolded the Kuriboh as trash, and said that the number one forbidden word in Yu-Gi-Oh "candle in the wind". Just based on this sentence, Marik should almost go far

But there was one thing he said was not wrong, that is, this is the last round!

"Draw!"

At this moment, Yuei Vu activated his skill Draw of Fate! This skill could be triggered when the LP gap was very big or the situation on the field was extremely unfavorable.

Although the LPs of the two sides were close, the opponent's field has a god with an attack power of nearly 20,000, while Yuei Vu's side was empty. Thus the system has also judged it to be "extremely unfavorable", so he could legally cheat.

In this turn, let the pirated card boss see what a real printed card was!

Yuei Vu didn't use that card immediately after drawing the card, but drew another card in his hand: "Spell card Miracle Fusion! This card can Fusion Summon 1 "Elemental HERO" Fusion Monster from my Extra Deck, by banishing Fusion Materials mentioned on it from my field or my GY!"

"Fusion using monsters in the graveyard!?"

From the surprised expression on Marik's face, it could be seen that this involved his blind spot of knowledge.

"I banish Elemental HERO Wildedge and Elemental HERO Thunder Giant from my Graveyard!"

Marik was even more surprised: "Use two Fusion Monsters for fusion!?"

It's like a student who slept through the whole semester and got the exam questions for the final exam.

Yuei Vu showed a brand new fusion hero: "Fusion Summons

Elemental HERO The Shining! "

With the release of strong light like the sun, the two fusion heroes turned into beams and merged into the icon of Miracle Fusion, giving birth to a new power.

A white body emerged from the strong light, bathed in divine radiance, and behind it was a sun-like accessory that was dazzling.

[Elemental HERO The Shining, ATK 2600] (Fusion Condition: 1 "Elemental HERO" monster + 1 LIGHT monster)

Marik narrowed his eyes.

"Although I don't know what trick you're using, any monster is powerless in front of the Sky Dragon! The Sky Dragon's special ability is activated! Attack the monster summoned, and make its ATK drop by 2000 points!

Summon Thunder Bullet! "

The other mouth on the sky dragon's head slowly opened, and blue thunder brewed in the huge mouth.

The sphere roared out and slammed into The Shining who had just appeared on the stage. The brand-new hero was wounded before he could stand firm. He was covered in black smoke under the thunder of the gods, and his combat effectiveness was greatly reduced.

[Elemental HERO The Shining, ATK 2600 ATK 600]

"Hey, in this way, this monster is nothing more than a trash with an ATK of 600." Marik hummed, "It's nothing to be afraid of."

Yuei Vu ignored him: "The special effect of The Shining this card gains 300 ATK for each of my banished "Elemental HERO" monsters!"

Marik was startled, suddenly realized something, and looked up at the "Fusion Gate" above his head that had been activated from the beginning of the duel.

"The material that are fused using the Fusion Gate' will not be sent to the Graveyard, but will be directly banished"

"That's right, and monsters that are used as materials for Miracle Fusion' will also be banished."
Yuei Vu said.

In this way, the Elemental HEROes removed from the game in this duel were Sparkman, Clayman, Bladedge, Wildheart, Wildedge, and Thunder Giant, a total of six.

"It's not over yet! I fuse Elemental HERO Heat, and Elemental HERO Avian in my hand, using the effect of Fusion Gate!' Come on, Elemental HERO Great Tornado!"

[Elemental HERO Great Tornado, ATK 2800] (Fusion Condition: 1 "Elemental HERO" monster + 1 WIND monster)

"It's the same, no matter how many monsters you summon!" Marik waved, "Osiris, Summon Thunder Bullet!"

The second mouth of the sky dragon opened again, and another lightning sphere swept in, hitting the body of the giant tornado.

[Elemental HERO Great Tornado, ATK 2800 ATK 800]

Great Tornado also had the effect of halving the attack power of the opponent's monsters when summoned, but it obviously didn't apply to gods here.

However, due to the fusion, there were two more heroes removed, and The Shining's ATK was further strengthened.

[Elemental HERO The Shining, ATK 600 ATK 3000]

"You can summon a monster with this kind of attack power under the effect of the sky dragon, you are indeed very strong." Marik laughed, "But in front of God, any kind of struggle is powerless. !"

"Really?"

"What?"

"Then let me show it to you. I drew the most crucial card in my hand this turn to defeat Osiris, the god of the underworld."

Marik was stunned.

He said defeat Osiris?

Under such a situation?

Osiris with 18,000 attack power?

"Activate from the hand" Yuei Vu took out the key card that was added to the hand through the skill.

"Continuous Spell card The Force of Four!"
