

I Regained My Memories and Became Rich After Getting Divorced - Chapter 15

However, Gu Ming was still cautious, fearing that Gu Dai would renege on her promise. So he took out his phone, opened the recording function, and said, "Your words now are just empty talk unless you say it again, and I have evidence."

"Of course, no problem." Seeing Gu Ming's actions, Gu Dai didn't feel angry.

She was also worried that Gu Ming would deny it in the end, and he had just provided her with the idea of recording.

So, in the next second, Gu Dai also took out her phone, opened the recording function, and said to Gu Ming, "I'll record it on my side as well. You don't mind, do you, Uncle?"

When Gu Ming saw Gu Dai turn on the recording function, he couldn't help but feel a bit annoyed. Subconsciously, he wanted to ask her if she didn't trust him.

However, he could only hold back and say, "I don't mind, of course I don't mind."

Gu Ming laughed and said self-deprecatingly, "That's good. It was just me being narrow-minded earlier, fearing that my niece would have double standards."

Gu Dai and Gu Ming repeated their bet and recorded the conversation. Both parties were very satisfied.

Especially Gu Ming, with a slight smirk, looked at Gu Dai with contempt, The inexperience in her means she doesn't know any better. She hasn't been involved in the company for three years, yet she still has such an arrogant tone. Just wait to give up the company!

Although Gu Ming was contemptuous, it was only for a moment. He quickly restrained his emotions and then spoke like a loving elder, "Alright, since there are no issues, uncle will go home."

Watching Gu Ming's figure leave the room, the color in Gu Dai's eyes turned slightly darker, and she murmured, "Going home? Is he going to his own home?"

Chu Min sent Gu Dai information about Gu Ming's activities in recent years last night. Gu Dai was shocked when she saw it.

Gu Dai didn't expect that the day after her accident, her uncle and his family moved into her villa.

Gu Ming's actions deepened Gu Dai's suspicion that his family might have been involved in her cruise ship accident.

Gu Dai clenched her fists, her fingertips turning white from the force.

Suddenly, the phone on the table rang, and someone was calling.

When she heard the tone, she relaxed, looked down, and was surprised to see that Su Ting was calling.

Su Ting...

Realizing this, Gu Dai was caught off-guard for a moment. A young boy's image appeared in her mind. She was surprised that Su Ting would call her.

Gu Dai answered the phone, and the voice on the other end immediately said, "Sister..."

Gu Dai was lost for a second when she heard the voice, because Su Ting's voice was no longer the way she remembered. It had lost the hoarseness of his voice-changing period and had become mellow, with a slow tone and a slightly heavy ending.

It was more thrilling to her ears than the sound of drums.

Gu Dai clearly felt her heart skipped a beat and she raised her hand in confusion to cover her heart. She was wondering if she is a hidden voice enthusiast.
