Chapter 21

Chapter 21 Susan looked up at his strong back, and for a moment she wanted to burst out into tears.

Just now, she really thought that she was going to be taken away and be forced to transfuse her blood to Yana, as they had done so many times before.

Although she was in pain and despair, she was really used to it.

She was used to giving her blood over and over again, and to the fact that everyone was on Yana's side.

But this time.

Ben stood in front of her like an unconquerable peak.

He...

He protected her.

Ben turned around and said to Susan, "You tend to be smart, but how can you be so stupid now? A woman who was bullied like this cannot be my wife!"

Ben thought he was fierce but Susan looked at him with bright eyes, as if there were stars hidden behind. Being looked at by her like that, Ben felt like a hero.

And he suddenly felt a little awkward.

The way Susan looked at him seemed creepy.

He had to be fiercer, "From now on, never say you're my wife out there."

But Susan was still not afraid. She said softly, "Honey, don't be angry. I'll try my best in the future." Honey?

Looking at Susan, Ben was totally dumbfounded.

"This... This woman was crazy.

How could she say that in public?"

"Honey, are you all right? Your face is a little red." Susan held Ben's hand with concern. Ben shook off her hand and said fiercely, "Shut up and come with me."

He pulled Susan and was going to take her away.

Chapter 21

"Wait a minute." A cold voice sounded.

Timothy stopped in front of Ben and said coldly, "Mr. Landor, you can go. But Susan has to stay here." He felt uncomfortable to hear Susan call Ben honey.

Now, there was only one thought in his mind. He would never let Ben take Susan away! "How dare you stop me?" Ben looked at him with anger.

Hostility could be seen through Ben's eyes.

In the past, he would teach the Miller family a good lesson if they did such a thing.

But now, considering the fact that they were Susan's family, he tried his best to suppress his anger and all he wanted to do was take her away.

He had already conceded so much, and how could anyone be so stupid?

It was very frightening to see such a ferocious look on that scary face.

The Miller family didn't dare to say a word, but Timothy's expression remained unchanged. He said slowly but firmly, "I said that Susan can't leave."

Ben was so angry and laughed, "Why?"

Susan said coldly, "It was Susan who pushed Yana, which made her injured and begin to bleed. She is responsible for that. And she should give a blood transfusion to Yana."

Yana was touched as Timothy was still on her side even if he faced Ben. She stood up with the help of her parents, and then looked at Ben with tears in her eyes, "Mr. Landor, Susan pushed me, but I really don't blame her. But if she refuses to give me a blood transfusion, I will die. I just hope she can save my life."

Yana seemed to kneel down when she was talking. She stumbled as if she would fall again the next second.

Timothy rushed forward and held her. Then he stared at Susan with sharp eyes, "Susan, you pushed Yana and you just wanted to go away. Are you really that vicious? You are so disgusting!"

"Vicious.

Disgusting

Susan lowered her eyes.

In the past, everything Timothy said and did would affect her mood.

But now, she was surprised to find that she didn't feel sad to hear those words.

"Did you push her?" Ben glanced at Susan and asked.

Susan raised her head and said firmly, "I didn't. She fell down by herself

"What nonsense are you talking about!" Jane was angry. "Why would Yana fall down on purpose?" "Susan, you....." Yana seemed to be overwhelmed by shock.

Susan ignored the other people's reactions. Her eyes were fixed on Ben.

She was so absorbed that Timothy suddenly became

"Susan, do you think anyone would believe a lie like that? He couldn't help but speak coldly, that?"

Ben stared at Susan. He found that although she was standing upright, her body was trembling slightly. "She is afraid.

Of what?"

He narrowed his eyes and said word by word, "I believe you."

"You believe me?" Susan's tears almost ran down her face.

There was a tenderness in Ben's eyes that he hadn't noticed. He raised his hand, gently wiped away the tears from her face, and then said, "Those people don't matter to me. You are my wife. Do you want me to believe them rather than you?"

Susan couldn't help but burst into tears.

No one had ever protected her like that.

But Ben did.

No one had ever believed her.

But Ben did.

She was so scared just now.

She was afraid that if Ben believed those people, what would she do?

In that case, her life would completely be covered with darkness then.

Chapter 21

Ben was a little confused as Susan was crying. He was a little flustered, "Susan, I said I believe you!" He was obviously on her side, but why was she crying instead?

"Yeah, I know. I'm just too happy." Susan looked at him with tears in her eyes, just like some kind of cute pet.

Ben became awkward and thought..

"She cries whether she is happy or not.

Women are so strange."

Although he complained about her in his mind, he took out his handkerchief and carefully wiped her tears.

Ben was ugly, but his behavior was so gentle. From his eyes, people could find his adoration, as if he were looking at a precious treasure.

A hint of gloom flashed across Yana's eyes.

"What happened!

How could Ben, the so-called devil, behave like this?

Even if he didn't abuse Susan, how could he spoil her?"

Yana had a headache with her overwhelming sorrow.

She held Timothy's arm tightly and said in a weak voice, "Timothy, I..."

Before she could finish her words, she fell into his arms.

She was not pretending this time. She couldn't hold on any longer.

Yana was really sick. Once she bled, it was hard to stop the bleeding. Without a blood transfusion in time, she could even die.

The reason why Yana dared to take risks with her life was because she believed that Susan would definitely be forced to the hospital to transfuse her blood to her just as she had done many times before.

In the end, she would be safe and sound, and Susan would be completely weak by excessive blood transfusion.

This was the script she wanted.

But she never expected Ben to show up and protect Susan this time. 4/6

Susan knew Yana really needed a blood transfusion urgently.

But this time, she couldn't do that for her!

It was obvious that Yana did it on purpose. If Yana got what she wanted this time, she would treat her worse in the future. Susan pursed her lips and said slowly, "No."

She looked aggrieved and forbearing.

Ben was touched and patted her head gently, "The Landor family will always be your family." Ben regretted it a little as soon as he finished speaking.

But now, he was holding the weak woman in his arms.

He sighed and thought, "Forget it. Just let her be happy."

Deep in his subconscious, Ben still had a vague idea.

As long as Susan never asked for his love, and she was willing to stay, he could protect her for the rest of her life.

Chapter 22

Chapter 22

"Why did you get hurt again!"

"Quickly, move to the emergency room!"

The doctor's voice sounded anxious.

"Doctor, please, you must save my daughter!"

Jane said with tears in her eyes.

"I'll try my best, but you must find the blood in one day, or no one can save her." Yana was quite dizzy, so she could only hear the conversation vaguely. She knew clearly that she was in great danger this time.

Yana had the horror she had never felt before.

She held Timothy's hand and begged, "Timothy, ask dad to contact..."

"Yana, I know what you mean." Carl felt distressed for a moment. "Go to the emergency room at ease. Don't worry, Dad will contact the person who promised to give you a blood transfusion right now. I will definitely take her here within a day."

Just in case, he had already found someone suitable for Yana's blood type. However, the woman would not always come on time like Susan did before.

Not only did she offer a high price, but she only agreed to give Yana a routine blood transfusion. Now it was an accident, and nobody knew how much money the woman would want.

4 Yana was taken into the emergency room, with her face pale. Carl was so anxious that he immediately called the woman, telling her about the blood transfusion. However, she refused.

After all, the blood transfusion was very harmful to the body. If a routine blood transfusion was done once every six months, she could still try to recuperate. If she hurt herself because of the accidental transfusion, no one could help her.

Carl was pretty worried. "Don't you just want more money? Fine. Originally it was said that 15 thousand for a blood transfusion, but this time you can have 30 thousand dollars!"

"You still don't agree? Don't be too greedy." Carl suddenly raised his voice.

He was about to say something when Timothy took his mobile phone and said coldly, "Come here 1/5

150 thousand dollars?!

There was a moment of silence before she agreed.

it is 150 thousand dollars, Will we When he got her phone back, Carl was a little shocked, "Timothy, just give it to her? Now everyone is greedy. If we offer 150 thousand dollars this time, she will dare to ask for more next time!"

"I don't care about that. Right now, Tana's life was the most important thing." Timothy said in a calm tone. Carl sighed, still a little distressed, while Jane was quite satisfied with Timothy.

Although Ben was far more powerful than Timothy, he would not be so careful with Susan.

She had chosen a nice son-in-law.

After receiving the first aid, Yana was wheeled into the ward.

Her face was still pale. As soon as she saw Timothy, she couldn't help but ask, "Timothy, where is the person who will give me the transfusion?"

“She's already set off and will be here in a few hours.” Timothy comforted her in a low voice. She was already on her way?

Yana cheered up because she was hoped to survive.

But waiting was really torturous.

In the past, whenever the bled, there was Susan who could give her a blood transfusion. Therefore, she had rarely experienced this kind of weakness caused by blood lose

But now Susan refused to give her blood. No one else could be on site as quickly as possible.

Therefore, this time, it was the first time that Yana had experienced such a weak feeling.

One hour, two hours.

Yana's face was getting paler and paler, and she felt dizzier. There was a time when she felt like she was going to die. This feeling finally made Yana panic.

It turned out that losing blood was such a terrible thing.

Chapter 29

It turned out that she might really die!

It took four hours for the woman who would give the transfusion to arrive at the hospital.

And Yana had gone through several emergent times.

Fortunately, the doctor arranged a blood transfusion soon after the woman arrived.

The vitality returned to her body gradually.

Yana was out of danger, but her lips were still trembling.

She was so scared. She was really scared just now.

She was afraid that she wouldn't be able to wait for the transfusion, and she was afraid that she would die.

Seeing her situation, Timothy held her into his arms pitifully, saying gently, "Yana, don't be afraid. Don't be afraid. Everything is fine now."

Yana lay in Timothy Leen's arms and burst out crying.

Tears ran down, and a terrifying light flashed in her eyes.

Today, for the first time in her life, she experienced the feeling of dying.

It was all because of Susan.

If it weren't for Susan's insistence on refusing the blood transfusion, how could she have ended up like that?

And the reason why Susan had such confidence in refusing her was simply because she had Ben supporting her. Yana was so angry.

Why were Ben protecting Susan?

An inexplicable feeling flashed in her heart when she recalled the aggression Ben showed. Although Ben was little ugly, he was not the moody and ferocious guy as the rumor said.

If she had known this earlier, she shouldn't have let Susan marry him!

Although Timothy was good-looking, he was indeed inferior to Ben in terms of power. Nobody in Coraland dared to hurt Susan if Ben wanted to protect her.

But why?

She was better than Susan in all aspects. Why should she be inferior to Susan? Yana became desperate.

She didn't regret getting engaged to Timothy. After all, Timothy Leen, who had a bright future, was good-looking and loved her very much.

However, she would never be reconciled to the fact that Susan was so happy. Susan's arrogance was supported by Ben. Ben would no longer protect her and spoil her one day.

She wanted to see what Susan could be like then.

Yana's eyes flickered, and several ideas came through her mind.

"Susan, everything that I showed interest in would be mine at last." She thought.

If she could take Ben back...

Yana lowered her eyes so as to conceal her conspiracy.

At the Landor residence.

Seeing Susan come back with Ben, Charlie smiled, "Did you have a good time at your parents' home, Susan?" "Yeah, I'm very happy! Susan looked so cheerful.

Was that what he meant?

He couldn't help but take a deep breath, "Susan, | remember | have told you..."

"Because I'm Mrs. Landor, and you don't want me to embarrass you." Susan thoughtfully continued.

Ben was speechless again.

Susan had said everything he wanted to say. What else could he say next?

Ben looked at Susan.

Susan looked innocent.

After a long time, Ben said fiercely, "It's good that you know!"

Susan was not sad at all. She just looked at Ben gratefully. "Anyway, if it weren't you today, | would definitely have been forced to give a blood transfusion. Ben, | still want to say thank you."

Ben frowned and suddenly said in a horrible tone, "Ben?"

Susan was nervous, "Is there anything wrong with this title?"

But now she called him Ben again!

Why did he feel uncomfortable?

But he could never express his feelings.

It was obvious that he was angry. Susan was confused and she didn't know what had she done wrong.

Looking at the innocent look on her face. Ben snorted. "I have to deal with the business. Go and handle yours affairs." Then he turned on his laptop and started working.

Susan didn't dare to disturb him, so she just sat obediently near him.

She wanted to read a book at first, but at that moment, she was somehow a little uneasy and couldn't read anything at all Susan simply put the book aside, and then she looked at the ceiling in a daze.

Ben suddenly spoke after a long period of silence.

"Yana will be fine. Carl has contacted the blood donor. He offered 150 thousand dollars, so the donor agreed to rush to the hospital."

Huh? Susan came to her senses and looked at Ben in dismay. How did he know that she was thinking about that?

Although she knew that Yana did it on purpose, her disease was real. If she didn't get a timely blood. transfusion, she would really die.

Therefore, Susan was cruel when she said the words, but after all, she was her sister, and she still couldn't let her die. She didn't say what she was worried about. Unexpectedly, Ben took the initiative to tell her.

"Your mind could be read because of your looks." Ben mocked, "You're still worried about her after being treated so badly. You deserve to have been a blood transfusion tool for so many years."

After watching the scene of the Miller family and searching for the information, Ben had already figured out the situation. Yana needed to be transfused timely so as to treat her disease.

For so many years before. it must be Susan who gave the transfusion. Otherwise, Yana wouldn't have taken it for granted when she asked Susan for blood.

Therefore, the chicken soup that Susan drank was always added with medicine. After coming to the

Because she must keep eating these things in order to recover quickly after the transfusion at the Miller residence. She was already tired of those things.

Susan pursed her lips and kept silent.

Noticing her closed eyes, Ben regretted saying such harsh words.

But he was too awkward to apologize.

Ben Jooked at Susan's black hair in a daze.

She was really a troublesome creature, tender, kind, and very fragile.

Never mind. He should be more gentle.

Ben became kinder but he still sounded awkward.

He said, "Well, forget it. I will protect you. In the future, you will never be forced to give even a single drop of blood." Susan raised her head to look at him, her eyes sparkling, as if they were filled with all the stars and the moon.

She didn't say anything, just replying with a nod.

Ben suddenly felt so comfortable.

After that day, Ben who had been at odds and reluctant to go home, began to go home every day. Susan was also surprised to find that the meals at the Landor residence become much more abundant. Moreover, Ben began to enjoy cooking delicious food for her.

The dishes were so delicious that although she wanted to control her diet, she always ate a lot without realizing it. For just a week, Susan began to worry a little when she looked at herself in the mirror.

Was her face rounder?

She was still very thin now. But if it went on like that, she might become fat quickly.

She had to control her diet.

Susan made up her mind and ran into Charlic downstairs.

So, Yana sat next to Susan, and Timothy sat next to Yana.

“Susan, I was out of danger. Do you have anything to say?” Yana asked with a smile.

Susan sighed silently.

Couldn't Yana just let her enjoy a meal peacefully?

At that moment, Susan just wanted to get rid of them as soon as possible. She looked at Yana sincerely and said, “Congratulations.”

Yana was eyebrowed, “Your congratulation sounded hypocritical. You just want me to bleed to death. But fortunately, I survived.”

As Yana was speaking, she suddenly held Timothy's hand intimately and said, “Not only can I not die, but have to live for a long time. I will be together with Timothy forever.”

There was a hint of triumph in Yana's words.

Susan suddenly felt that it was very ridiculous. Now, Yana still wanted to use Timothy to irritate her. Unfortunately, Susan didn't like him now.

Looking at their intertwined hands, Susan said calmly, “I also hope that you two will grow old together. You must not be the scourge of others.”

The scourge?

Yana got angry. She kept saying in her heart several times that Susan was merely jealous. She was just jealous. In this way, Yana gradually calmed down.

Ben got angrier while Timothy just stared at him without any fear.

There seemed to be fighting.

Timothy was usually a silent person. Yana didn't know why he was so furious when he met Ben.

However, it was not good for her plan.

"I didn't come to Aroma Restaurant for the new banquet, so I begged Timothy to bring me here when I saw the invitation letter." Yana wanted to ease the tension.

While speaking, Yana showed her weakness. "I just want to see the banquet. If you don't want to see us, we'll leave now." Yana lowered her head, meek and obedient.

She had never failed for so many years to use such a scheme.

"Oh, then please leave." Ben said directly.

Yana jerked her head up with a confused look.

What?

What did she hear?

Did Ben really ask them to leave? That was not the process.

"This is Aroma Restaurant, not the Landor residence." Timothy said blankly, "I'm afraid you're not qualified enough to let us go." "Oh? Then I'll tell the organizer to see if I'm qualified enough to kick you out." Ben sneered, his voice mocking.

Ben looked at Susan in disgust. She was definitely not elegant, but he kept serving food for her.

The two looked quite suitable when the husband was serving while the wife was enjoying.

Timothy narrowed his eyes and started to serve food for Yana, as if he was having a competition against Ben. Looking at the meat in the bowl, Yana was silent.

She had just been discharged from the hospital and couldn't eat meat at all. Had Timothy forgotten. about that? Yana couldn't help but glance at Timothy.

Narrowing his eyes, Ben laughed and mocked. "Coincidence? | don't think so."

Since Aroma Restaurant was so big, why did Yana follow him when he just came out?

If he believed this was a coincidence, it would be an insult to his intelligence.

Yana's face flushed slightly, as if she was a little embarrassed. "You said it. I did follow you on purpose. While speaking, she even stuck her tongue out, looking cute.

Ben Landor was speechless.

This woman stuck her tongue out.

Was she three years old?

Yana didn't know that behind his poker face, Ben couldn't help but complain.

She continued to look at Ben shyly according to her plan. "Ben, my sister has always been careless. I don't think she pushes me on purpose before. Actually, I didn't stand steadily. Please don't blame my sister."

Yana showed her generosity.

Ben smiled horribly with his arms crossing in front of his chest. What exactly did Yana want to do?

Interesting. It was really interesting.

Yana continued softly. "I don't blame sister for pushing me. I'll just be careful next time. But you must be tired these days" While speaking. Yana shed an attractive sight towards Ben. "Oh? Tired?" Ben raised his eyebrows.

Yana said in a gentle voice, "I saw my sister keep asking you to serve her but you ate a little. It's really inconsiderate of my sister to do that."

“Oh? If Susan is not considerate, who could be regarded considerate?” Ben was still indifferent.

With a blush on her face. Yana whispered, “If I had recovered, I would never have asked Timothy to serve me food. Next time, when I’m better, I’ll cook for you personally and take good care of you when you come to my home. Will you come?”

After saying that. Yana plucked up the courage to look at Ben, acting like a young lady.

At this point, Ben finally understood what Yana was doing.

She was actually seducing him.

It was ridiculous.

Ben narrowed his eyes and was about to leave.

How could Ben leave so soon?

Yana was a little anxious. She couldn’t help but reach out to pull Ben, “Ben, please wait...”

Ben had never been a person who liked to hold back. But at that time he tried his best to hold back vicious words because Yana was Susan’s sister.

But Yana behaved out of line.

A hint of rage flashed across Ben’s eyes, and he waved his hand without hesitation. He exerted so much force that Yana was thrown out.

Yana didn’t expect that.

She looked at Ben surprisingly, “Ben?”

“Don’t call me Ben. It sounds disgusting.” With a poker face, Ben grabbed Yana’s chin and forced her to look at his face. “If you want to seduce me, prepare first. Don’t conduct your pretentious performance until you dare to see me in my face.”

Chapter 23

Ben’s face was still so horrible!

Apart from scars, there were a lot of blisters on his face.

Yana forced herself to give him a few glances and then couldn't help but look away.

Ben sneered and let go of Yana. He took out his handkerchief and carefully wiped his palm, as if he had just touched something dirty. Yana was a little flustered, but she still forced herself to calm down and said, "Ben, you might misunderstand me."

"Misunderstand?" It was hard for Ben to hide his disgust. He said coldly, "For the sake of Susan, I'll let you go for the first time. If there is a second time..."

Ben looked tyrannical.

Yana trembled for a moment, filled with endless panic. Ben was a tyrant who showed no mercy.

Why did she come here to seduce him?

Just as Yana turned pale, an angry voice rang out.

"Ben, what did you do to Yana?" Timothy rushed over as if he was crazy. He raised his fist and wanted to hit Ben on the face.

Ben frowned and turned sideways slightly. Timothy didn't have time to retreat, so he fell to the ground. "Ben, what's going on?" Susan walked over nervously.

Ben turned around and found that all the guests were in the hallway.

The owner of Aroma Restaurant wiped the sweat from his forehead and said somewhat hesitantly, "Mr. Lehigh, the dishes have been tasted, and I am about to take the guests to see the fresh ingredients." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

The owner of Aroma Restaurant regretted it so much then. If he had known earlier, he shouldn't have shown the guests some fresh ingredients here! Now that everyone saw what happened, if Ben was furious, how could Aroma Restaurant continue to operate?

"Yana." Timothy had already gotten up and rushed to Yana, holding her up and peering at her voice, "What did Ben do to you? Just tell me." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

At that moment, Yana was in a total mess.

Why did so many people suddenly come here? Everyone saw Ben and her stay together What should she do?

Yana didn't say anything. Timothy thought she was afraid so he held her hand and said calmly, (Yana, @ohit' be afraid. WNiths® any people here, even if Ben is powerful, he can't control everything! Just tell me what he did, and | help you." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

"| can't say." Yana said vaguely.

"You can't say? Did he threaten you?" Timothy looked at Ben aggressively.

Ben smiled and said, "I'm also curious about what | did to you. Yana, tell me about it." "... 1... Yana panicked. "Don't worry, Ben. | won't tell others about it. | swear."

While speaking, she even began to cry, as if she had suffered a great grievance.

Tough the crowd were afraid of Ben and dared not to discuss, they still looked at each other, showing meaningful glances. Yana was pitiful and weak.

While Ben was arrogant and domineering.

It was not strange for someone like him to do anything surprising. But the pretty Yana Miller looked so poor after being scared. $
