

Ice-Cold Ceo, Crazy Love

Chapter 46

Chapter 46

Ben looked at them steadily.

Several girls went white because of fear.

“Sir, I’m sorry! We shouldn’t be gossiping during work hours.”

The others nodded desperately, their eyes full of panic.

They thought with fear, “Damn it, why did Ben suddenly come back?”

And he heard us gossiping!”

Ben was strict with the working atmosphere and they worried that they would be dismissed for their words. Oh no. It wasn’t easy for them to get hired by the Storm Group.

The girls almost burst into tears as they thought about it.

At this time, Ben asked indifferently, “You were talking about Susan?”

Yet no one dared to speak.

The assistant next to Ben couldn’t help but remind them, “Mr. Landor is asking you!” One of the secretaries said with trepidation, “It’s the girl who got full marks.”

“Everyone knows that the test given by the Programming Department is really hard and whoever gets full marks will definitely be prominent. And that’s why we praised her just now.” The other added.

Ben narrowed his eyes.

He agreed with that.

The test was not easy but Susan could get full marks. That meant she could be somebody. And she was his wife..

Ben got somewhat proud of Susan.

Chapter 46

Yet he got annoyed when he heard that there were many boys around her.

“There are a lot of men hanging around her?” Ben asked coldly

“Yes.” The secretaries trembled and said, “There are several people who want to make friends with Susan, but Susan turns her back on them.”

She turned her back to them?

Ben felt better.

0

However, a girl then continued, “Probably she’s seeing someone else.” “Yeah, I suppose it’s the guy she dines with every day. She only smiles to him but puts on a grim face to others.” The girls realized that Ben was interested and became somewhat talkative. Ben had been in a good mood before she was talkative.

Now he got upset again.

“The guy she dine with every day?” Ben asked depressedly.

“Yes. It seems to be a colleague of hers, called Jaron or something.”

“After all, they are in the same department.”

“It seems they got admitted on the same day. No wonder they are so close.” Ben couldn’t suppress his jealousy and irritation anymore.

He clenched his hands into fists, making strange noises.

“What’s that noise?” The secretaries looked around in surprise.

Ben passed them emotionlessly.

He really wanted to know what had happened these days.

To know what kind of man Susan had been with when he was busy working. Ben went back to the office and logged in to the Staff BBS.

It surprised Ben that Susan was so popular and she got so many fans.

TNN DO NO

Chapter 16

On the front page, there were three posts related to her.

Many things gave rise to the fact that Susan enjoyed widespread popularity. The first thing was that Roy got dismissed after Ben found out she slandered Susan.

And the second one was that people knew she would be a leader in the future since she got the full marks in the test. It was normal to be curious about her at the moment.

“Ah, I took a photo of her again. She rejected another person just now.”

“Susan is really cold.”

“She isn’t always indifferent. Look, this photo shows that she was smiling happily.” Ben got jealous when he saw Susan and Jaron dining together.

Susan was giving her bright smile as Jaron said to her.

He was wordless with rage.

Ben stared at Jaron.

“Is Susan treacherous?”

She likes such a young boy?” Ben wondered.

Ben put his hand on the keyboard expressionlessly.

Several seconds later, he had deleted all the post and smiled satisfyingly.

After a while, the secretary knocked on the door and came in.

“Mr. Landor.” The secretary looked at Ben, wishing to speak.

“What's wrong?” Ben asked.

The secretary wished to speak but stopped on a second thought.

Ben frowned, “Just say it.”

The secretary took a deep breath and plucked up the courage to ask, “Mr. Landor, did you delete the post just now? You can order others to do so if you are in need.”

Ben was wordless.

Ben wondered why the secretary would know about it.

Ben realized it after he saw his ID.

Last time, he deleted the post by hacking and no one knew that he did it.

Driven by anger, he actually used his working ID to delete the post.

Now almost everyone in the company knew that someone with the work number of 000 deleted several posts a few minutes ago. All the posts had something to do with Susan.

Without exception!

Ben stopped talking.

The secretary was trembling.

Previously, Ben stopped to ask about Susan, but now he deleted the posts about her. The secretary felt strange.

After a long time, Ben said faintly, "It's alright. It didn't hurt me."

"Alright?" The secretary was confused.

In a better mood, Ben waved his hand, "You may go."

The secretary left in a daze.

Ben was really happy to see the new posts.

"Unbelievable! Mr. Landor came to the Staff BBS for Susan."

"Something between Mr. Landor and Susan."

"Though I'm supposed to button up my mouth, | just w tts say Behl "gett hayes értish on Susan. He's ird." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

"By the way, Ben seemed to be married although | don't know his wife." "So Ben wanted us to focus more on work than on Susan?"

There was a heated discussion.

They finally concentrated on Ben and Susan.

And Jaron was forgotten.

Ben's face cracked into a smile

Now he got what he wanted.

"Sir, your lunch is ready. Would you like to have it right Ww TREO mM sectetany calkécewit the hotline and aSked respectfully. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Ben raised his eyebrows and suddenly said, "Y GUYS haverhy! lyngh. Ph@ve rhine in the canteen." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

He just remembered that Susan smiled brightly at Jaron when they dined together. So Ben changed his mind.

The secretary asked himself inside, "In the canteen?"

The secretary was in great surprise when hanging up.

He didn't know what was wrong with Ben.

He guessed Ben intended to lead an ordinary life.

There were many lunch choices in the Storm Group.

And Ben chose the one that Susan often went to.

Ben said to himself that he was there for the dishes instead of Susan.

Chapter 47

Chapter 47

In the canteen..

Susan and Jaron went to the canteen together as usual. Now Susan was fine with the public attention.

She got used to it as time passed.

"I got to hand it to you, Susan. You completed the project perfectly." Jaron couldn't help but compliment on Susan's performance, "The project was finished so well that Luke was happy as a lark."

"I don't think so." Susan was amused.

"It's true." Jaron said, "Luke had yelled with delight when he was alone in the office. You were occupied with work and got no idea about this."

Jaron was getting more theatrical and Susan just smiled silently.

They sat down at the table after getting their food.

Jaron asked Susan for advice on a problem he encountered that day.

Susan listened and shared her opinion seriously.

They were so immersed in their conversation.

And they didn't notice that Ben had come here.

"I got nervous. Look, do you think that's Mr. Landor?" A man said.

"Come on! Mr. Landor would never eat in the canteen.*.

"That's true."

The man strained his eyes to see if he was right. He felt nothing had changed. "I might be having hallucinations. I have to catch up on my sleep." The man said, a faraway look on his face. At this time, exclamation erupted.

"Holy shit, it's Mr. Landor."

"It's Ben"

"Oh no, I slacked off for some minutes in the morning. God bless me. Please! He didn't come here to question me or even fire me. You think too much! Ben has a tight schedule and he must be here to do something important." "Something important? Reshape the canteen?"

"Forget it. It doesn't make sense. Ben wouldn't do such things."

The employees were whispering together about Ben's showing up here.

Ben gave a satisfactory nod when he felt the eyes upon him.

Most of the staff had registered him and Susan might have seen him as well.

Ben swept around the canteen.

Soon he found Susan chatting with Jaron without noticing him.

For an instant, Ben was gripped with jealousy and anger.

Ben was complaining in his heart, "Why does she ignore me amid the turmoil at my presence? What are they talking about? And why are they sitting so close when Susan says something with gestures or handwriting on the table?" Ben's eyes were riveted on them, boiling with anger.

The secretary was not surprised at all when he found Ben gazed at Susan.

The secretary thought, "Mr. Landor does care for Susan. :

But he shouldn't be standing still here."

"Mr. Landor, would you mind me getting some food for you?" The secretary asked cautiously. Ben averted his gaze blankly. "Okay."

The secretary immediately rushed for Ben's meal.

Chapter 47

After a while, he returned, "Mr. Landor, where do you prefer to have a seat?"

Narrowing his eyes, Ben took a huge stride towards Susan and Jaron.

He sat next to them calmly.

He was waiting for Susan to notice him.

"The program will be better if you make such adjustments." Susan said to Jaron.

"Is that so? What if I..." Jaron replied.

They were having a nice talk and still ignored Ben.

Ben just sat there and waited.

The secretary secretly glanced up at Ben before he quickly lowered his head.

The secretary thought, "It's unbelievable.

Being stared by Ben, Susan is composed as usual."

Susan was so amazing."

And Ben was still waiting.

Now he was too impatient to wait for Susan to note him.

He threw down his tableware with a great sound.

He walked to Susan directly and patted on the table.

Startled, Susan turned around and saw Ben's impassive gaze at her.

Seized with panic, Susan looked at him in mild surprise.

Susan was curious about Ben's presence.

"Mr. Landor." Jaron looked at Ben with respect and greeted him after standing up.

Susan also stood up and stammered, "Mr. Landor..."

Ben felt a little uncomfortable when he found Susan was afraid of him..

She talked and laughed with Jaron while she got timid in front of him.

He got somewhat annoyed.

"Mr. Landor, what's up?" Jaron asked cautiously.

Ben heard Jaron's question.

He thought it was a good question for it could be a reason to explain why he was here.

Ben pursed his lips and said slowly, "What's your lunch?" Jaron was speechless.

So were others.

Selena was also dumbfounded.

Jaron answered amidst the silence, "Mr. Landor, I ate the sea cucumber with abalone sauce, mixed seafood, and a bowl of chicken soup."

Then it was silence again.

Jaron was confused. He imaged, "That's why Mr. Landor coming for?"

Ben noticed they would all be in embarrassed.

He said calmly, "I found there are not sufficient dishes in the canteen."

The secretary hurriedly added, "Sir, this is the canteen for employees. And there are more dishes in the canteen for managers."

Ben raised his eyebrows instantly, "All of our staff should be treated the same. From QPY onkthis oSnteen should &f the same dishes as the canteen for managers. We should act fairly to all men." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

"Got it!" The secretary hurriedly responded. "Wow!" The employees at the dinner cheered up.

"Thank you, Mr. Landor!" One of them shouted boldly.

Ben lifted his eyebrows, not meaning to be angry.

Others followed to express their gratitude.

Chapter 47

"In addition, excellent employees could order what to eat one day in advance, getting their (eats en air offide..) om department, two people are privileged and it is decided by your department director." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

"Wow." The crowd cheered again. When the cheers died down, Ben stared at Susan chilly, "Susan." "Yeah?" Susan was shocked.

Ben said with a serious face, "You are awarded with this privilege for your great performance. Here Sri tWolme 'Ro can enjoy the privilege in your department. Keep on working hard." The content is on Read the latest

chapter there!

Susan replied Ben's words with a confusing nod. "I'd like to talk to you. Come with me." Ben said directly to Susan. Susan followed him after hesitation.

There were heated discussions after they left.

Chapter 48

Chapter 48 "Gosh. So we can also enjoy the food from the canteen for the senior management level" "Mr. Landor's words worth a million!"

"Well, the food in our canteen is already really good. When I tell my friends that I can enjoy abalones there frequently, they just can't believe it, not to mention the canteen for the senior management level."

“In fact, we only serve our traditional food here. But in the canteen for the senior management level, there are delicacies from the world! Moreover, the chefs there are the best. It’s just superb...”

“That’s right! I’ve seen pictures of that canteen. They also serve the steak with the best quality! | can drool just by the pictures...” “Ahhh, we can also enjoy this kind of food in the future?”

“I’m going crazy! | want to kiss Mr. Landor.”

“Isn’t there a saying that Mr. Landor is a demanding man? But | wonder if he is extremely good, except for his face...”

“Those comments about Mr. Landor being demanding are just hearsay. Anyway, if | were to take the highest salary and the best benefits in the industry, | would never badmouth Mr. Landor.”

“That’s true. | don’t even know how the hearsay comes about.”

“You are all concerned about the canteen, and | am the only one who cares about Susan being called by Mr. Landor?” Someone tried changing the topic.

“Ah, | heard that they also serve truffle caviar in the that canteen! Can we really enjoy it?”

“Of course! We would probably run to the canteen in the future.”

“Hey, don’t you guys think that Mr. Landor seems to pay special attention to Susan?” The man continued insistently. “Ah, | can’t help but drool.”

Chapter 48

you!

The man said, “Forget it! Well, do you think there will be top—grade red wine too?”

For a while, the canteen was full of voices discussing food.

It was bustling.

Jaron did not join the discussion. He watched where Ben and Susan left.

He was a little worried.

“Why does Mr. Landor find Susan?” he wondered.

In the CEO's office.

The secretary left thoughtfully and closed the door tightly.

Susan lowered her head and was very cautious.

Ben was inexplicably angry when he saw her like this.

He said faintly. "Now you find me ugly, huh? You don't dare to look at me? But when you kissed me, you were very bold." "When... when | kissed him?" Susan was surprised.

Unexpectedly, she thought of the scene at their wedding.

She said with embarrassment, "Mr. Landor, you are not ugly."

Although Ben's appearance was flawed, Susan felt that he was much more pleasing to the eye than many handsome people. "Really?" Smile appeared on Ben's face, but his voice became colder; "You've been avoiding me recently?"

Susan pressed her lips together; "I just do not want to upset you."

"I'm not upset at all when meeting you," wondered Ben.

He almost blurted it out.

But he held back.

With a stern face, he said, "If so, why do you join the Storm Group?"

Susan trembled for a moment, and her lips were a little pale.

Ben regretted instantly

He obviously did not mean it this way, but his words just sound displeasing.

"| mean.. spoke Ben slowly.

1 got it Susan said softly, "Mr. Landor, | will resign as soon as possible." | won't cause you any trouble" Hen was speechless.

"Mr. Landor, is this enough for you?" Susan looked up at him.

Ben was a little flustered.

But it still seemed to be calm on his face.

"I didn't mean that. You enter the company by your ability, and I have no reason to force you to resign" said Ben calmly, "But Susan, you have been too popular on the Staff BBS lately"

Susan stunned for a moment. Then, combined with Ben's explanation in the canteen, she suddenly understood.

She pressed her lips together, "I got it! In the future, I will try to stay in the office and not go out. If I meet Mr. Landor from a distance, I will run away immediately. I will never let him encounter me."

Ben went to the canteen to inspect today, but he met her there. He was probably in a bad mood at that time.

He didn't want to see her, while it was hard to tell her, so he would just have dinner in the office in the future in the name of benefits.

In this way, there were less chances for Ben to meet her.

Ben was startled.

He thought there must be something wrong.

"Mr. Landor, if there is nothing else, I'll go back to work now." said Susan.

Ben's lips trembled, and he wanted to say something, but finally he didn't do so. +

19.09

Chapter 48

In the end, he simply responded, "Okay."

So, she really guessed what Ben meant.

Susan left with a clear idea.

Ben looked at her back as she left, and suddenly, he reached out and rubbed his head.

What the hell!

At this time, the secretary walked in cautiously.

"Mr. Landor, this is the meeting agenda for this afternoon. Please confirm it." The secretary showed a flowchart over.

Ben glanced at it and put it aside.

He looked at his secretary and suddenly asked, "I heard that you are very popular with girls."

When the secretary heard this, he coughed subconsciously and then said, "Just so so, I've just had seven or eight girlfriends before."

Seven or eight girlfriends?

Compared with his own experience, Ben felt that the secretary was definitely a master.

4

He could not help but feel interested, "Do you usually have a cold war with your girlfriend?"

"It is inevitable that there will be time like this" The secretary was not used to that when he suddenly had a discussion with the boss about his love problems, but he still gave an honest answer.

Ben became more interested, "Then, how do you manage it?" "The main reason is to be shameless," said the secretary decisively.

Ben was stunned.

The secretary said confidently, "A strongest woman is airald oi m pesteri mag. ar dieot matter Seen she is. Just go ahead shamelessly. After | used this

The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Chapter 48

trick, the cold war between us did not last more than a day."

Ben asked, "... Can this work?"

"It works." The secretary hurriedly said, "In addition to this, there is another way." Ben snapped, "Tell me!"

"Gifts. The secretary said, "All women prefer bags, lipsticks, and j wellery. These thingsean vaby price. The more you invest in them, the less resistance there is from women. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

“Really?” Ben showed a thoughtful look. He remembered in a daze that after he’d spent 7.5 million dollars on jewellery last time, Susan seemed to be quite happy. So, does give gifts really work?

Ben was much more approachable than he used to be. The secretary could not help but ask boldly, “Mr. Landor, did you have a quarrel with Mrs. Landor lately?”

“It is not actually a fight.” Ben was stunned for a moment and said. It should be said that it was Susan who was unilaterally avoiding her.

The secretary showed a meaningful expression, “Mr. Landor, the most important. thing in Kglatipnship With a womanis (3 learn to say sorry. The love relationship between you is always more important than your ego. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Allove relationship was more important than ego?

Ben subconsciously said, “It is not what you think.”

There is no relationship between him and Susan.

“Then what is it like?” asked the secretary.

Ben was dumbfounded.

He pressed his lips together.

Suddenly, he picked up a pen and threw it towards his secretary, “Get out. It’s time for work.” MMMM

Chapter 48

The secretary quickly slipped out. To be honest, Mr. Landor looks like he lost temper now, while the secretary was actually inexplicably not afraid at all?

Did he just cross the boundary?

The pen fell to the ground and made a crisp sound.

Ahint of daze flashed across Ben’s eyes.

He suddenly had no idea what he was doing now!

74% 10:10

He was the one who told Susan that he would never have anything to do with her. But when Susan was trying to avoid him, he began to ask for her attention again.

Was he crazy or mad?

Chapter 49

Chapter 49

Ben sat in his seat and memories flashed across his mind.

He recalled his childhood.

When he first met his biological mother.

She was tender and kind, just as what he thought about her.

He liked her and wanted to stay close to her.

He felt that he had found his happiness.

And then she set a fire.

In the burning flame, she grinned evilly. That scene was deeply imprinted on his mind. Not long after that, he adopted a cat.

The cat had white fur and azure eyes, looking like an angel.

He liked this cat very much and he could play with it all day long..

It was very cute and clingy. He was healed and somewhat felt happiness again.

Later, he had a serious illness.

#

Surprisingly, it was because someone knew he liked the cat so much and took the opportunity to put drugs in the fur of the cat. From then on, he never held the cat again.

From then on, he didn't indulge in love or care for people and pets any longer.

To him, the feeling of happiness was a terrible sign.

It meant that when this happiness passed, he would soon suffer a worse nightmare! Therefore, when he realized that he was falling into Susan, he chose to stay away from her and be indifferent. But that pretence did not last long.

Chapter 49

He could not help but protect her and cosset her.

Once he told himself that this was the most basic respect he gave to his wife.

But when he thought about it again, he never had such feeling about his last wife.

At first, he could still delude himself.

But now, it seemed that he couldn't continue to do so.

Ben stood in front of the huge floor-to-ceiling window, his eyes brimming with inexpressible emotions. Maybe he should try again.

"Susan, I accept my fate," wondered Ben.

"If I win, I will be reborn."

"If I lose, I will be doomed."

He picked up his phone and silently sent a message, "What can I do to make it up?"
The secretary replied quickly.

"Pestering and sending gifts are just making things up for that. The most important thing is to never make a woman angry!" Mr. Landor, I have a web link here for you. There are some random test questions. If you can score more than 80 points, you are graduated!"

Test questions?

Ben disdained.

He never scored below 100 points in any test.

It was a shame for him to get 80 points.

"Send it over." said Ben faintly.

Then, he received a web link.

He clicked on it.

Then, he started to check the first question.

Chapter 49

“Question One: If you want to buy a lipstick as a gift, which color should you choose?”
Then, there were three different colors of lipstick to pick from.

Ben stared at them for a long time.

The other two were too bright red, and he found the pinkish one better than the others.
Without hesitation, Ben chose the taboo Barbie pink.

Then, a huge grimace popped up on the webpage.

Ben was surprised.

“Did I get it wrong?” he was confused.

Well, it was just an accident.

He would never get it wrong in the next question.

Question Two: “How should you coax your girlfriend when she is angry?”

Option One: I have something to do. Get yourself settled down, we shall talk about it later.

Option Two: Coax? Funny. Women should obey me.

Option Three: Baby, I was wrong! Can I buy you a bag?

He couldn't get it wrong again.

Ben analysed this question very sensibly.

Option Two was clearly a wrong answer. He was not a nerd!

Option Three was too illogical. After all, the test did not mention whose fault it was.

In summary, the answer must be Option One!

After the quarrel, both should calm down and then distinguish right from wrong.

No problem!

174% 10:18

Chapter 49

Ben was full of confidence in choosing Option One.

Then... He saw a familiar face again.

Ben was speechless.

A set of test papers contained 100 questions that were randomly extracted from the database. It took Ben an hour and a half, and all his energy to finish it..

In the end, he finally got his result.

Ben stared at the bloody—red number blankly for a long time.

“30 points. Congratulations, you're a hopeless nerd.”

He just got 30 points!

The total score was 100 points!

He had never suffered such humiliation in his life.

“Mr. Landor, How is your score?” At this time, the secretary was curious and sent a message.

After Ben asked him about the emotional problems, he was not afraid of Ben anymore. He even sent a message actively!

Ben replied blankly, “I don't have time to do that yet.”

When he finished replying, he threw his phone aside.

He could not believe it. How could he get such a score on this test?

At night.

When Ben returned home, he was drowsy.

Working on those questions was a hundred times more tiring than discussing a project. To answer the test questions, he came home late.

Chapter 49

Coincidentally, Susan took the initiative to work overtime, so she went home late 100.
100.

They just bumped into each other at the entrance.

When Susan saw Ben, it was like a mouse saw a cat. She quickly lowered her head, "I'm sorry!"

That question reflexively appeared in Ben's mind.

"What should you do when your girlfriend says she's sorry?" The correct answer was...

Ben suddenly stepped forward and hugged Susan.

Susan was confused.

A trace of fear appeared on her face, and she stiffened. What was going on!

Ben was... hugging her?

Ben was also startled by his subconscious Gore beside gging, the correct answer included an affectionate kiss as well! The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Affectionate kiss...

Ben's heart was burning for a moment, but when he sensed the stiffness in her, he slowly let go of her. Susan looked at Ben in horror, "Mr. Landor?"

Ben was silent.

What should he do next?

There was no answer to this question.

"Emm." Ben calmly replied, and then walked away.

Susan looked a little flustered now, so he decided to walk away and let her settle down her emotion. @JMM MIN

Chapter 1

So, was he getting more and more considerate now?

At the gate.

IN

74% 10:10

Susan was dumbfounded the cold wind. What... What the hell was going on?

Susan thought that Ben must have gone crazy and he would get normal later.

But she never expected that this was just the beginning.

The next day.

When Susan arrived at the office, she saw a huge bouquet of flowers on her table.

“Susan!” Colleagues looked at her with gossipy faces, “Look, who sent the flowers?!”

“This is specially cultivated rosebush with the best quality. one jystn such o bguaueitive cost over 1$ob'dollars! Susan, it must be a rich man.” said Jaron excitedly. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

“It should be a wrong delivery.” Susan was completely dumbfounded.

“It's impossible. The deliveryman confirmed your Like with usbéfore p ttinagherbougue own.” replied the colleagues. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Susan was even more confused.

What... What happened?

She walked over and picked up the card on the bouquet. The gossipy crowd gathered around at once.

Then, everyone saw the high-profile name left on the card. “Ben Landor.”

Ben Landor???!!!

Was their boss Ben Landor?

Chapter 50

Chapter 50

“No... It's impossible.” After a while, someone said in a daze.

“Definitely not. It should be someone with the same name.” said another man decisively. “How is it possible for Mr. Landor to send flowers to Susan? As far as I know, he’s been married.” “That’s right. This is either someone with the same name, or it’s a mistake.”

Everyone was talking about it. Only Susan knew the truth.

This bouquet was probably from Ben.

But... Why?

She was a little flustered.

Everyone said that Ben was eccentric and unpredictable.

So, what was his purpose of sending flowers?

“I guess it’s the wrong one.” Susan gave a strained smile. She got the crowd off and then arranged the flowers into the vase in public.

The roses were quite blue and mysterious.

As she looked up from her table, she could see that clearly.

All morning, Susan was feeling uneasy.

For a moment, she wanted to call Ben and ask him about it.”

But she was afraid of disturbing him.

By now, she had all kinds of speculation in her mind. They were just getting on her nerves.

It wasn’t until the afternoon that she eventually calmed down.

No matter what Ben meant, her work came first.

She took a deep breath and focused on her work.

MMMM

Chapter 50

She believed, “Well, work will calm me down and make me forget about the troubles.”

Early the next morning, she calmly entered the office.

Then... She saw the bouquet again.

The colleagues looked at her in unison.

Susan trembled as she took the card.

The signature was still Ben Landor.

Early on the third day.

Another bouquet.

Susan numbly took the card.

The signature—Ben Landor.

Looking at Susan's expression, the colleagues didn't dare to say anything. Susan took a deep breath.

She understood what Ben tried to express.

She would give him an explanation.

At night.

Susan took a deep breath. It had been a few days before she knocked on Ben's study again. "Come in." Ben's voice was steady, and she couldn't hear any emotions. Susan walked in.

Ben raised his head and looked at her calmly, "What's wrong?"

Secretly, he was smiling.

His secretary was indeed good at coaxing women.

After listening to his secretary's suggestions and sending gifts for a few days, he saw that Susan actually took the initiative to find him.

MMMM Chapter 50

This time, Ben decided that as long as Susan spoke, he would definitely not stand on his dignity but immediately gave her an out.

Everything looked so fine.

"Flowers... You sent those flowers, right?" asked Susan softly.

“Yes.” Ben remained calm.

“Susan, if you jump into my arms excitedly, I won’t refuse.” Ben told himself.

3

Sure enough, it was Ben who sent the flowers.

Then there wouldn’t be any misunderstanding.

She took a deep breath and said slowly, “I got it. I’ll hand in my resignation tomorrow.

Ben’s expression stiffened, and he suspected that he had misheard.

He couldn’t help but ask, “Say it again. What are you going to do tomorrow?”

She pressed her lips together and said firmly, “I’ll hand in my resignation.”

Ben panicked slightly.

That was not the right step, was it?

When she knew that he was the one who sent the flowers, she was not to be moved but to resign immediately. How come?! Why?

Ben asked calmly, “What’s wrong with your work? Why do you suddenly want to quit?”

Susan looked at Ben with a complicated feelings, “Mr. Landor, this is obviously what you mean, isn’t it?” He frowned. “What?”

Susan lowered her head slightly. “You gave me the benefits of ordering food before, which actually implied that I should not leave the office even if it was time to have dinner. Now you send me flowers every day signed off with your name, which tells me that even if I’m in the office, you still mind about my existence. So,

74% 16:10 Chapter 30

I’ll leave the Storm Group and find another job. I’ll stay as far away from the Storm. Group as possible. Please don’t worry, Mr. Landor.”

Ben was confused.

So this was his meaning, huh?

“Since I’ve made it clear, I should go.” Susan turned around and wanted to leave.
“Wait!” Ben quickly stopped her.

“Any other instructions?” Susan lowered her head.

Looking at her like this, Ben was quite helpless.

After a while, he said, “I send you flowers. Why can’t it be that I just want to do so?”

“How is that possible?” said Susan softly, “Although we’re married, according to the promise made before, our marriage is confidential to the public. So, they only know that you are married, but they don’t know who your wife is. Under such circumstances, you suddenly send me flowers every day. Then what would others think about it?”

“Think what?” Ben didn’t realize the situation. Susan looked up at him, “They will believe that I am a mistress who destroys other people’s families.” Now, Ben was startled.

It took him a while to realize, “But you are my wife.”

“But we’ve agreed not to disclose it.” said Susan calmly, “Well, in other people’s opinion, I’m a mistress. At present, the colleagues in the on the Program including Qenarirhent are still friendly’s Chat such remarks have not been spread out yet. But if you keep sending flowers, there’s no way you can hide it. Once the public opinion ferments, how can I survive in the Storm Group? So, Mr. Landor, you are doing this way just to force me to leave. I understand what you mean.”

The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Ben was speechless.

He didn’t even realize his meaning behind it.

“If there’s no more question, I should leave.” said Susan softly.

MMMM

Chapter 50

Then, she turned around and left.

Ben looked at her back, frustrated.

He made a fool of himself.

74% 10:11

Looking blankly at his phone, Ben sent a message to his secretary, "Your bonus for this month is gone." The secretary was wondered why.

Ben quickly thought about it after he put the phone aside.

It was impossible to let Susan resign.

He must do something.

'Ben's eyes twitched slightly, and he already had a plan. "

The next day.

Susan came to work with her resignation.

Today, there were no flowers on the table.

Susan understood it.

Sure enough, Ben meant that. After she said she would resign, he would no longer be upset. Susan took the resignation letter and entered Luke's office.

Luke looked at the resignation letter which was a little surprising but still understandable. He looked at Susan with a complicated feelings, "You and Mr. Landor..."

Even if Luke didn't like gossiping, he had heard about Ben's big news.

For the first time, colleagues were just talked about it casually. Even some people thought the flowers were sent to the one with the same name.

But Ben didn't hide his gift secretly. As soon as people probed seriously, they would find out that the person who sent the flowers was Ben for sure.

But Ben was already married.

His power and prestige were clear to see here, so even if he was already married yet still seriKflaWets £6 other women! SMple wouldn't dare to gossip about him but all the public opinion was concentrated on Susan. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

"Actually, it's all speculation from oul CITI Sh oe office ryentioned s matter; so youean still stay here." Luke tried to stop her. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Susan was stunned for a moment, "Has it spread all over the other departments?"
Emmm...

Luke didn't dare to speak.