Chapter 2281

Leaving Pearl River Regency, Ye Chen hurried to the vegetable market.

Time delayed quite a bit, if we don't hurry up and buy the food back, my wife won't be able to eat lunch when she comes home from work.

Although Jinling is an ancient city, but the modernization atmosphere is getting stronger and stronger, the old city's buildings destroyed, demolition, change, now has basically become a modern city kind of high-rise painting style.

Many of the traditional crafts and markets of the past have also been gradually replaced by a variety of high profile shops, as well as supermarket complexes.

Earlier, there were many shavers on the roadside who were so good at shaving that they could sit on the roadside and shave their heads for two or three dollars.

But now, that too has long disappeared.

In place of that, there are a variety of exquisite, high-end and atmospheric beauty and hairdressing centers, where the craftsmanship is not so good, and the hair is not even all grown up, Tony teachers, just to cut someone's hair, are one to two hundred dollars to start, and occasionally encounter unethical businessmen, will also fool customers to get a card, a haircut to be pitched a few thousand dollars, there are many.

In the past, there were a lot of roadside carts and donkey carts, which were used by farmers in the countryside to pick vegetables from the ground in the morning and then drive them to the city to sell them, which were fresh and cheap.

However, over the years, the animal-powered carts are not allowed to enter the city, and even the traditional vegetable markets are getting fewer and fewer, so that most people can only go to supermarkets to buy vegetables.

Supermarket vegetables, the quality is not good, the price is surprisingly expensive, just buy a cabbage are more than ten dollars.

This also made this ancient city, gradually lose that smoky atmosphere of traditional life.

In fact, Ye Chen usually disliked going to the supermarket to buy food, always feeling less interesting.

Therefore, he often went to a protected old residential area in the old city, where there was a very lively vegetable market.

The reason why he liked to go to that old residential area was not only because it was more grounded, there was another reason hidden in Ye Chen's heart that no one had told.

In the past, when he and his parents had just arrived in Jinling, his parents had especially liked the characteristics of the old city of Jinling.

There were many old buildings left over from the Ming and Qing dynasties and the Republic of China, an architectural style that was very different from the north, and his parents liked it very much.

Because of their love for traditional culture, his parents rented an old mansion in the old city, and after his father's renovation, the family lived very comfortably.

Later, when his parents were in an accident and Ye Chen entered an orphanage, he would still often sneak out with his buddies, Zhao Hao and Li Xiaofen, to take a look at the old city here.

At that time, Zhao Hao as well as Li Xiaofen and the others thought that Ye Chen was playful and wanted to sneak out to play.

But what they didn't know was that Ye Chen was actually just trying to miss his parents.

After his parents' accident back then, the mansion had been rented out for some more years one after another, changing tenants after another.

Then later, the mansion was bought by people who invested in real estate and waited for it to be demolished and increase in value.

Then, the mansion and the nearby old buildings were all classified as historical building reserves, and demolition and renovation were expressly forbidden, so the mansion was left vacant for a long time.

Later, the speculator was caught up in a lawsuit for alleged illegal fundraising in foreign countries, and the house was seized by the court.

There were rumors of an auction two or three years ago, but because that person was involved in a larger case, the case had also never been closed for the final trial in the past two years, so it had never entered the foreclosure process.

The vegetable market where Ye Chen went to buy vegetables wasn't far from this old house, so he planned to stop by and take another look.

On the passenger side of the Rolls Royce, an old man stepped down, this person was the Yanjing Du family's old housekeeper in Jinling.

Chapter 2282

After the old steward got off the car, he pulled open the door of the back seat with agile hands and said respectfully to the woman sitting in the car, "Second Miss, we have arrived."

The woman seated in the car was exactly Du Haiqing.

After she got off the plane, she first brought a pair of children with her, along with the old housekeeper, back to the Du family's old mansion, and after settling into her room and luggage, she hurriedly asked the old housekeeper to bring her to see the place where Ye Changya had lived before she passed away.

As for Su Zhifei and Su Zhiyu siblings, they each had their own plans.

Su Zhi Fei went to the orphanage to talk about donations, while Su Zhi Yu held her laptop and continued to look for Ye Chen's trace from the thousands of portraits.

Du Haiqing is also happy to be relaxed, after all, to come to the mansion where the love of his life, Ye Changya lived before his death, bringing a pair of children together, more or less inappropriate.

Although she knew that Ye Chang-^嬰 had been dead for many years, she could still feel a strong sense of tension when she came here.

It's like the years when she was young and in love with Ye Changba, every time she saw him, or was about to see him, her heartbeat accelerated and her breathing quickened uncontrollably.

With a wildly beating heart, Du Haiqing got down from the car and looked through the courtyard wall at the small Southern-style house.

The courtyard's stone walls were short, and there were many openwork shapes made of green bricks in the middle, allowing one to easily see inside the courtyard.

At this time, the courtyard was full of withered weeds and fallen leaves from trees, and the osmanthus tree in the courtyard had long since withered into dry wood due to no one taking care of it.

On the walls of the main body of the building, there were large pieces of withered and dead wall climbers.

At this time, the entire courtyard looked incomparably broken, but Du Haiqing could imagine that if the place was well maintained, when the spring and summer rainy season came, the courtyard would be lush and green, and with the grass and green trees in the courtyard, the scenery would be desirable.

Moreover, although the courtyard is not large, you can see that the architecture is very sophisticated.

Green bricks for the walls, green tiles for the roof, and green stones for the pavement.

The southern summers were humid, and if it had rained, moss must have grown on the bricks and stones.

Moss itself has a very natural old-fashioned feel to it, and to those who don't like it, it is dense, slippery and somewhat disgusting to the touch.

But for those who love ancient Eastern culture, it is a very poetic and Zen-like creature.

Whether it grows in the yard, on the fence, by the pond or in the bonsai, it has a different kind of exquisite and quiet atmosphere.

Therefore, moss has been quite popular among scholars and writers.

At this moment, this shabby little courtyard, in Du Haiqing's eyes, has been restored to the scene and charm of when Ye Changba lived.

In her mind, she even floated the situation when the young and handsome Ye Changya was playing with his children in this courtyard.

Fascinated, Du Haiqing felt that the coma is really in this courtyard, and the little boy with no face, that is his son, is circling around him non-stop.

The next thing you know, the old, closed door inside opened and out came a woman with a dignified and beautiful appearance, an outstanding figure, and an apron tied around her waist.

The woman smiled and greeted the father and son into the house to eat, a family of three qin and song scene, people do not envy.

Chapter 2283

Du Haiqing just in her mind, can't help but substitute herself as Ye Changba's wife, she instantly felt her eyes filled with the tears that gushed out.

She wanted to hold back her tears, but she didn't want to be unable to control them, so that large tears poured out of her eyes and slid over her face, which was almost wrinkle-free and not aged at all.

"Hey the entire capital, who doesn't know that the second miss of the Du family has loved Ye Changya for many years"

"It's just that who would know that when Ye Changba died nearly twenty years ago, Second Miss still had such deep feelings for him"

As the saying goes, "From ancient times there is a residual hatred for many lovers, and this hatred has no end.

In other words, people who are infatuated often leave behind only regrets, and these regrets will never end.

This is the case with Du Haiqing.

It is not possible for people who have never experienced bone-deep love to understand one person's obsession with another person.

Once you have an obsession, even if you are separated for ten or twenty years, even if you are separated by ten thousand miles, even if you are separated by the sea, even if you are separated by yin and yang.

This was the case with Du Haiqing.

She has long wanted to forget about Ye Changya, long wanted to get down to earth and live her life.

But, the heart of that obsession does not allow.

That obsession is like a weed that grows in the heart.

With this weed, no other plant can be planted.

At times, she felt that the weed had become barren, or even that it had been burned to ashes.

But I don't know when, suddenly a spring breeze came over her heart, this weed grew again.

The obsession is also like a thorn in the heart.

The first thing you need to do is to take a look at the product.

But then there's always this thorn that stings the heart inadvertently.

So, Du Haiqing had figured it out later.

This obsession had already gone deep into the bone marrow.

"Long Coma, since it's always been there, why do I need to deliberately forget you?"

"Since I have always loved you dearly, let you always grow in that place in your heart where only you belong."

"I used to feel guilt and guilt towards Su Shoudao whenever I thought of you, but now it's a relief, I can think of you openly and miss you openly from now on and never have to feel guilty towards anyone again"

At that thought, Du Haiqing was also much more relaxed.

She dried her tears and opened her mouth to ask the old housekeeper, "Uncle Wang, this mansion, who owns it now?"

The old housekeeper pointed at the seal affixed to the iron fence door next to him and said, "Back to Second Miss, this mansion, it has been seized by the court."

"Sequestered?" Du Haiqing frowned and hurriedly asked, "What's going on? Can you ask about it?"

The old housekeeper nodded and said, "I've been in Jinling for so many years, all departments have some connections, I'll make a phone call and ask."

Du Haiqing nodded his busy head and urged, "Then you call quickly, I want to figure it out as soon as possible, also help me ask if I can remove the seal and go in to see."

The old housekeeper quickly pulled out his cell phone and made a call.

After a series of inquiries, he hurriedly reported to Du Haiqing, "Second Miss, the owner of this mansion, because of the lawsuit involving illegal fundraising, all the industries under his name have been seized, but his case has been tried abroad for more than two years, and the verdict will be pronounced soon, after the verdict is pronounced, this mansion will naturally enter the judicial auction process."

Chapter 2284

When Du Haiqing heard this, he got excited and took off, "Help me pay attention, I want to shoot this mansion down!"

The old housekeeper nodded and said, "The mansion occupies a small area, and it can't be demolished in the future, so it's considered an inferior asset that can't be circulated, so it should be easy to shoot it when the time comes."

"Good." Du Haiqing said firmly, "No matter how much it costs, this mansion must be auctioned off!"

After saying that, she hurriedly asked, "Uncle Wang, did you say hello to the judicial side, can I go in first?"

"Yes yes." The old housekeeper was busy: "Just now on the phone, they just said that they are going to come over in the next two days to do an asset registration and evaluation, and have to collect materials and prepare for the next judicial auction, so we can first break the seals and locks to get in."

Du Haiqing said impatiently, "Then do something to get the locks off!"

The old housekeeper nodded and said at the driver and bodyguard beside him, "Little Liu, see if you can break the door open."

The bodyguard rushed forward and pulled off the seal first, then looked at the lock and laughed, "Butler Wang, the lock is almost rusty, so you can kick it open with one kick."

Du Haiqing busily said, "Don't kick it! I'm afraid you'll kick the door down and break it, so let's see if we can pick the lock."

The bodyguard took a closer look and spoke, "Second Miss, the lock cylinder inside has rusted to death, I'm afraid that even if you take the key, you won't be able to open it, so you'll have to destroy the lock."

Du Haiqing nodded and said, "Get rid of the lock, but try not to hurt the iron door, if you buy it later, I still want to keep it."

"Good." The bodyguard agreed in a busy manner, then pulled out a pitch-black dagger from his waist and pressed the sharp point of the dagger against the lock slot, then pried the lock tongue open with a strong push.

The door opened and the lock broke because it was too rusty, but the good news was that the door didn't receive any damage.

Du Haiqing couldn't restrain his excitement, stepped forward and pushed the door and walked in.

In the weed-covered courtyard, there was a swing made of iron frame and chains standing, but it was so old that it was rusted out of shape.

However, this courtyard, which in other people's eyes is broken in every way, is incomparably warm in Du Haiqing's eyes.

At this time, an electric car arrived at the front.

When Ye Chen was still some distance away from the entrance, he was surprised to see a Rolls Royce parked at the entrance.

He would often come to look at this old mansion, which had been sealed and unoccupied, so why would there be visitors today?

Surprised, he made his way to the gate and peered in.

In the courtyard, three people were turning their backs to him, including a woman, an old man, and a strong man.

Ye Chen was even more confused and thought, "Has this old mansion been sold? It shouldn't be, I've heard it's been in a sequestered state and hasn't even begun the process of going to judicial auction, so how come it's sold without a word?"

"But what the hell do these people do? Why did they ignore the court seal and just break in?"

Ye Chen was a little angry in his heart.

Because, after all, this was the old mansion that he and his parents had lived in.

If the owner of the house had come, he naturally wouldn't say anything.

But these people were not homeowners at a glance.

Not only had they torn the seal, they had also destroyed the door lock.

This kind of behavior, in his opinion, was indeed a bit excessive!

He then planned to open his mouth and ask for clarification, and if they had nothing to do with this mansion, let them out.

As he was thinking, Du Haiqing suddenly turned back at this time and looked at the entrance.

At this glance, it was just four eyes opposite to Ye Chen.

At this moment, Du Haiqing felt a sudden storm in her soul, shocking her to the point of dumbstruck

Chapter 2285

Ye Chen and his father, Ye Changya, were at least eight points similar in looks.

After all, father and son were a generation apart, there was a big difference in hairstyle and clothing, if Ye Chen changed into his father's look back then, the resemblance was afraid that it would be able to reach the point where he could fake it.

That's why, the moment Du Haiqing saw him, she was struck by lightning, as if it was a world away.

Her entire body was almost stunned there, and what was left inside, besides shock, was utterly overwhelmed.

She didn't even know if she was hallucinating because she was missing Ye Changba too much.

Otherwise, how could a man so similar to Ye Changba appear in front of her?

Moreover, when Ye Changba died, he was only in his early thirties.

And the time period that Du Haiqing had the most contact with Ye Changtao was before Ye Changtao got married, and from the time Ye Changtao got married until Ye Changtao died, there wasn't that much interaction between the two of them.

So Du Haiqing's most vivid memories of Ye Changtao were the years when he was twenty to twenty-five years old.

It happened to be about the same age as the current Ye Chen, and relatively more in line with it.

It was precisely because of this that she had that feeling that seemed like a world away, as if the once twenty-something year old Ye Changba had appeared in front of her again.

The tears caused the Ye Chen in her eyes to immediately become blurred, so she subconsciously hurriedly wiped away her tears and looked once again, Ye Chen was still there.

At this moment, Du Haiqing's heart began to be horrified.

She began to feel that this Ye Changba in front of her, or rather, the man who looked like Ye Changba, seemed to be real.

Ye Chen was also a bit startled.

Because he didn't quite understand why that woman in the courtyard was looking at him with such a strange look in her eyes.

He was even more confused as to why this woman couldn't help but burst into tears when she looked at him.

At this moment, he boarded the feeling that something wasn't quite right.

Or rather, this woman was eighty percent related to his father.

Du Haiqing had some illusory assumptions in his heart, but Ye Chen did not.

He calmly and realistically analyzed everything in front of him, his mind quickly calculating all the clues.

"First of all, the probability that this woman would come to the place where my parents lived before they were born is that she has some sort of relationship with my parents, which has the highest probability of being related to my father!"

"Secondly, this woman looked at me with such shock, such emotion, and even tears in her eyes that she probably thought of me as a father."

"So, who is this woman?"

While Ye Chen was confused, Du Haiqing looked at him, and in order to determine whether it was a dream or reality in front of him, he subconsciously shouted in a low voice, "Long Coma?"

As soon as the word "coma" was uttered, the old housekeeper also hurried back to look over.

Chapter 2286

Ye Chen felt his eyelids jump wildly, and without thinking, he immediately turned his head, twisted the throttle of the electric car, and quickly left.

When she saw Ye Chen disappear, she hurriedly took a step to chase after him, but by the time she chased after him, he had already disappeared.

After saying that, she hurriedly turned her head and asked the old housekeeper who followed her after, "Uncle Wang, did you see a young man just now who looks especially like a long coma?"

Although the old housekeeper only took a glance at Ye Chen, he still said with incomparable certainty, "Second Miss, I did see a young man riding an electric bicycle just now, and he does look like Mr. Ye!"

When Du Haiqing heard this, he was so excited that even his speech trembled and spoke, "Yes, yes, since you saw it too, Uncle Wang, that proves that I didn't look blind, nor, did I hallucinate in my head."

She said, not muttering, "How so? How can there be two people in this world who look so much alike? And that young man looks like he's in his mid-twenties. How can he look so much like Nagisa?"

The old housekeeper sighed lightly, "The world is so big, it's normal to occasionally have two people who look very similar, but have no actual relationship with each other."

Du Haiqing nodded, "Uncle Wang you're right, the world is so big and there are so many people, it's indeed normal to have two people who look very similar occasionally"

At this point, Du Haiqing couldn't hide his excitement as he got out, "But! But even if there really was someone who looked a lot like Nagisa, he shouldn't be here! Where are we? This is the former home of the coma. It would be too much of a coincidence to say that he has nothing to do with the coma, wouldn't it?"

When the old butler heard this, he also frowned.

He also admitted that what Du Haiqing said made sense.

It wasn't too bizarre for someone to look like Ye Changba, but if he appeared in front of Ye Changba's former residence, then it was too much of a coincidence! Even, coincidence to an almost bizarre degree!

At this point, a clue suddenly sprang up in his mind and he blurted out, "Second Miss I remember! Mr. Ye he seems to have a son!"

Du Haiqing nodded his head and said, "Right! Changba did have a son, but when that son of his was born, I was pregnant with Zhi Fei, plus Su Shoudao always had a big problem with Changba, so I was basically cut off from the Ye family at that time, so I didn't see his son."

Saying that, she murmured, "But after Nagisa and Sister Ann met with an accident and died, their son went missing, and I don't think we've ever heard of finding him"

The old butler said with some excitement, "That's right then! Back then, Mr. Ye and Miss An were the ones who had an accident in Jinling, and their son also disappeared, and that young man just now looked like Mr. Ye, so it seems that that young man, most likely, is Mr. Ye's son!"

Du Haiqing's tears broke down the embankment again, incomparably distressed, "If he really is the son of the coma, then the year the coma died, he should only be eight years old, if he hasn't returned to the Ye family for so many years, I don't know how these ten or twenty years came about"

The old housekeeper lamented, "I see he's riding a broken-down motorcycle, so I don't think life is going to be too good."

Du Haiqing nodded, looked at the old butler and pleaded, "Uncle Wang, help me think of a way, make sure to find him! I am, after all, considered his father's deceased, and if he's having a bad day, then I have to help him anyway!"

The old housekeeper pondered for a moment and said seriously, "Second Miss, with all due respect, if this child has been begging for a living at the bottom, then his ability, vision, and education should not be too strong"

"And I reckon he'll probably have a relatively hard time now, in all probability."

"If he finds out who you are, in case he wants to get rich overnight and rely on your relief for a long time, then he might probably fall back on you."

"There's a saying, it's easy to invite the gods, you must think carefully before you help him ah."

Du Haiqing sighed and said, "Don't worry about that, if I could find him, I wouldn't talk to him too much"

She said, "I am going to give him a sum of money, let's say I owed his father a debt back then, and just happen to pay off all the debts to him at once with interest, let's give him 50 million. As for what he will do in the future after he has the fifty million, it all depends on his own creation."

"Okay!" When the old housekeeper saw that she already had a relatively sound plan, she put her mind at ease and said, "Then I'll have someone ask around!"

Chapter 2287

Meanwhile, Ye Chen had already fled hundreds of meters on his bike.

In order not to be found by Du Haiqing, he didn't even buy any food and headed straight for Tomson's.

On the way, he made a phone call to Richard Chen, and as soon as he came up, he ordered, "Old Chen, someone went to the old house where my parents lived today, help me find out who it is!"

"Right!" Ye Chen said, "I saw a woman there, she looked at me and called my father's name, I want you to help me find out who she is and also find out if this person is a friend or foe and what kind of interaction she had with my father."

"Good!" Without hesitation, Richard Chen said, "I'm going to start investigating!"

Chen Zekai was busy saying, "Young Master, you say it!"

Ye Chen said, "Find out what the owner of the old mansion is doing now, when his case will be pronounced, when the mansion will be judicially auctioned, and then I will buy this old mansion!"

"Okay young master, I'll check it out!"

Afterwards, Ye Chen found a random supermarket near Thomson One, bought some food and prepared to go home, and as soon as he left the supermarket, a call came from Richard Chen.

"Young Master, both matters have been resolved!"

Ye Chen gave a hmmm and said, "Tell me separately!"

Chen Zekai busily said, "The one going to your parents' former residence today is the second miss of the Du family in Yanjing, Du Haiqing."

Chen Zekai said, "This Du Haiqing, is Su Shoudao's wife."

"What?" Ye Chen was surprised and asked, "Su Shou Dao's wife? Su Zhi Fei and Su Zhi Fish's own mother?"

"That's right." Richard Chen said, "It's Su Zhi Fei and Su Zhi Yu's mother, she came to Jinling this morning."

Ye Chen asked after her, "Then why did she come to my parents' former residence? She knew my father?"

Chen Zekai explained, "You may not know about this, but actually this Du Haiqing, has always liked your father, but your father didn't choose her back then."

Ye Chen was surprised, but also more or less embarrassed.

Ye Chen thought that the matter of Su Ruorui being Su Shou Dao's illegitimate daughter had just been exposed by the Japanese media last night, and Du Haiqing had come to Jinling today and visited his parents' former residence, which was indeed a bit too eager, right? If Su Shou Dao knew, he would be so angry that he would vomit blood.

Zekai Chen added, "Young Master, there is still the matter of the mansion, there has been news."

Ye Chen was busy saying, "Speak quickly!"

The case of the mansion's owner will be finalized in the next two days. The amount of money involved in his illegal fundraising is very large, and the capital chain has been broken, so he is unable to repay the debt. Shooting could start in a week!"

When Ye Chen heard this, he was delighted, and he was busy saying, "You help me report to the auction, I'll go to the auction then, and no matter what, I'll buy this mansion back!"

Richard Chen said, "Okay young master, I'll take care of this!"

Ye Chen hummed and said, "Let's start with this, you recently helped me keep an eye on that Du Haiqing, since she knows my father, it's very likely that she will deduce my identity, my identity can't be exposed yet, try not to let her find me."

Chapter 2288

"Good young master!"

He found that there seemed to be a strong and strange magnetic field between himself and the Su family.

Although he had been waiting for a chance to find the Su family to question the anti-Yeap alliance back then and make the Su family pay for the anti-Yeap alliance, but all this time, before he had even gone to settle the score with the Su family, he had had various interactions with the Su family one after another.

First, he accidentally saved the Su family's two descendants, Su Zhi Fei and Su Zhi Yu, in Japan, but when Ye Chen saved them, he didn't know that they were Su Shou Dao's sons and daughters .

Then in the hospital in Tokyo, he passed by Su Shoudao again, but at that time, Ye Chen didn't know that the man close to him was Su Shoudao either.

Otherwise, with Ye Chen's temper, even if he didn't screw Su Shou Dao on the spot, he would at least make him impotent first, then remember his face and slowly settle the score with him .

The next thing that Ye Chen didn't expect was that this time when he came back from Japan, he accidentally dropped the Su family's assassin, Su Ruorui, but what was even more fucking outrageous was that after saving her, Ye Chen found out that the girl was Su Shoudao's illegitimate daughter!

The whole thing up to this point, Ye Chen had saved one son, two daughters and three children from Su Shou Dao!

The point is that all three of these people are the children of a fucking vendetta!

One after another, because of coincidence and saving the children of his enemies, for Ye Chen, this kind of trick of fate made him simply powerless.

As a result, who would have thought that today, when he stopped by to take a look at the old mansion, he'd run into Su Shoudao's wife, Su Zhifei, and Su Zhiyu's mother, Du Haiqing!

What's more, To Haiqing seems to have loved her father for years.

Thinking of all this, Ye Chen already had a big head and couldn't help but exhale a cloudy breath, cursing, "What the fuck is all this shit!"

Thus, he vowed in his heart that when he confronted Su Shou Dao face to face in the future, he would not only have to make him pay for the Anti-Leaf Alliance, but he would also have to make him pay for having saved his three children!

At the same time, Du Haiqing was also trying to find Ye Chen.

However, she knew very little about Ye Chen's situation, so she didn't know how to proceed for a while.

Although the old housekeeper had been in Jinling for many years, because the Du Family was after all considered to be in a high position and acted in a low-key and cautious style, he was relatively restrained as the Du Family's representative in Jinling.

Although he also knew many local executives, he rarely paid attention to matters in the city, so he could only temporarily trust people, starting with Ye Chang-tao's car accident back then to find out more, first looking at the lists of orphans received by various orphanages and welfare institutions after the accident, as well as the local adoption records registered at the time, trying to find clues related to Ye Chen.

In terms of his connections in Jinling alone, although he was already quite well established, he was still far less than Chen Zekai.

As the spokesperson of the Ye family in Jinling, the most important task for Richard Chen was to establish a solid foundation in Jinling, so the laying of connections in Jinling had been very high-profile and direct, and had been developed in all directions, far ahead of that old housekeeper of the Du family.

Therefore, when the old housekeeper started investigating the clues related to Ye Chen, he had already gotten the news and then reported it to Ye Chen.

As soon as Ye Chen heard that they were going to start with the orphanage and the adoption records, he was mostly relieved.

Normally, there was nothing wrong with this direction.

But the key was that this line had already been cut off by Tang Sihai when his parents had just died.

Tang Sihai had cut off all his clues, even the welfare institution where he was living at that time was secretly operated by his people, so no matter how much the outside world investigated, they couldn't find out any results.

Chapter 2289

On the one hand, it was because she missed Ye Changya, and on the other hand, it was because when she saw Ye Chen just now, she felt that he looked too much like Ye Changya, so it brought back many memories of her youth.

When she returned to the Du family's mansion in Jinling, the maids had already prepared a sumptuous lunch.

Su Zhi Fei had also just returned from donating money to the orphanage, and as soon as she saw Du Haiqing return, she hurriedly asked her, "Mom, where did you go this morning?"

Du Haiqing recovered from her chaotic thoughts, but was still a little distracted and said, "Oh, and I didn't go anywhere, so I let Uncle Wang take me around."

At this time, a maid walked in and said respectfully, "Second Miss, the meal is ready."

Du Haiqing nodded and said to Su Zhi Fei, "Go call your sister out to eat, what is this girl doing? Lately, he's been locking himself in his room all day and night, and the first thing he does when he comes to Jinling is also locking himself up, oddly enough."

"Harm" Su Zhi Fei laughed and said, "Zhi Fish has always wanted to find the two of us, the benefactor ah, the young man who saved our lives in Japan."

Du Haiqing suddenly realized, busy asking, "Any clues?"

Su Zhi Fei shook his head and said with a helpless sigh, "Finding a needle in a haystack, how can it be so easy to find ah, still haven't figured out whether he is a Chinese or an overseas Chinese, also don't know whether he is in Japan or at home."

Du Haiqing earnestly said, "This man saved both of your lives, if not for him, you are afraid that you would have met with misfortune long ago, such a great kindness, indeed we should find a chance to repay it properly"

Saying that, she asked, "What clues do you really have about this Grace? There's no harm in saying it, and I'll help you guys think of something."

Su Zhi Fei spread out his palms and sighed lightly, "Hey, we don't really have any clues, we've just seen him once, and we probably know what he looks like, but other than that, there's no valuable clues."

Du Haiqing asked, "Then should we offer a reward to the public? Let's say that we want to find the person who saved our lives in the first place, re thank him in person, and if he himself sees it, let them contact us."

Su Zhi Fei said, "This method Zhi Fish has also considered, but she said the chances are not very good, she said that the benefactor should be a very distinguished person, he should not lack money, even if he sees the reward, he is afraid that he will not contact us."

Du Haiqing nodded his head in agreement and said, "That's right, if you really wanted money, you should have asked for it or left a contact method when you saved you guys, now it's really too hard to find him out from the vast sea of people just based on the memory of having seen him once."

Su Zhi Fei said helplessly, "I've also advised Zhi Fish, but she still doesn't want to give up."

Saying that, he threw his head back and said, "Mom, I'm going to call Zhiyu out for dinner."

"Well, go ahead."

Soon, Su Zhiyu, who was dressed in a homely pajama, walked out of the room without pleasure under Su Zhifei's urging.

When she came out, she was holding an iPad in her hand, and the fingers of her other hand were quickly sliding on it, constantly looking over the faces on it.

When she arrived at the restaurant, Su Zhiyu's attention was still focused on the iPad's screen, so Du Haiqing asked, "Zhiyu, I heard your brother say that you're looking for that grandfather, have you made any progress?"

Chapter 2290

Su Zhiyu said without lifting his head, "There's no progress, and we still haven't found him from the video."

Du Haiqing said seriously, "There are some things that depend on fate, if fate hasn't arrived, it's useless to look for him no matter how hard you try; if fate has arrived, if you don't look for him, he'll appear in front of you."

Su Zhiyu said without thinking, "I'm not willing to leave the initiative of things to fate, it's too unreliable, there are so many people in the world, except for the neighbors at your own doorstep, two people who have bumped into each other in a foreign country, the chance of meeting again by chance is almost zero, if I don't take the initiative to look for him, I'm afraid I won't be able to find him in this life."

Saying that, Su Zhiyu said again somewhat forlornly, "People's memory itself is not that good, nothing can be done without forgetting, a lot of things have to be repeatedly deepened to remember more clearly, it's like memorizing a textbook when you were a child"

"The first few days back from Japan, my grandfather's face was quite clear in my mind, but after all these days, his face has become more and more blurred, although I've been trying to deepen my impressions through constant recollection, but in reality it still doesn't work, I'm afraid that I'll forget what he looks like after a while."

At this point, Su Zhiyu raised his head, looked at Du Haiqing and Su Zhifei, and asked, "Have you two ever felt this way, that sometimes the more you want to remember what a person looks like, the easier it is to forget instead?"

Su Zhi Fei thought about it and said, "It's also divided into people, if you see them often, you can't forget how, it's this kind of only saw once, it really doesn't take long, the mind really can't think of the specific appearance, only a vague outline."

Du Haiqing also nodded her head and said, "Zhiyu was right just now, one's memory just has to keep deepening to be able to remember."

When she said this, what came to her mind was Ye Changya.

She had loved Ye Changba so much in her life, but in the nearly twenty years since Ye Changba had died, if it wasn't by going to look at the pictures of Ye Changba when he was young every day, Ye Changba would have gradually blurred in his mind.

Thinking of this, she sighed inside somewhat, and then whirled around to ask Su Zhiyu, "Zhiyu ah, can you describe to mom what that grandfather of yours looks like roughly?"

Su Zhiyu thought about it and said, "One word description is handsome; two words describe it as very handsome, three words describe it as very handsome, and if four words describe it, it's cool and handsome."

Du Haiqing couldn't help but laugh out loud, "Is it as exaggerated as you say?"

Su Zhiyu seriously said, "Mom, I'm really not exaggerating at all, he's just handsome, not only handsome, he's also a cool mess!"

Saying that, Su Zhiyu held his chin and said with a flowery face, "At that time, that Iga shinobi brought a bunch of ninja to set up a battle to kill him, but he ended up killing them all in three or two hits, Iga shinobi was scared to death at that time, and shivered and asked him who he was, guess what he said?"

Du Haiqing shook his head and asked, "What did he say?"

Su Zhiyu stood up, imitating the then Ye Chen, and said with a cold face, "He said, 'I'm your father and want your life!'"

Du Haiqing laughed and said, "This person is quite arrogant."

"More than arrogant!" Su Zhiyu seriously said, "It's simply arrogant! I've never seen such an arrogant person in my entire life! Completely ignoring those murderous Japanese ninjas, killing them is like chopping melons and chopping vegetables, it's so awesome!"

Saying that, she continued with some annoyance, "The point is, this guy and my brother and I also do not have a good face, I asked him to borrow a cell phone to call my father, this guy even said what personal items, not to lend, stinky!"

Du Haiqing laughed, "People must be defending you, they don't want you to know his phone number and then track down his identity."

"Right!" Su Zhiyu said in exasperation, "I think so! He's so smart, he doesn't leave a clue! Before I left, I said goodbye to him and he told me that I wouldn't see him again, and I'm still angry when I think about it! It's so humiliating! That's why I must find him and ask him face to face, weren't you bull-headed enough to say you'd never see him again? How does it feel inside to see Miss Ben again?"
