Chapter 2301

"What?!"

Su Zhiyu heard that Grandpa told him to stop looking for it and asked, "Grandpa, why?"

Du Zhenhua said vaguely, "It won't do you any good to continue looking for him, so you might as well just let it go."

Su Zhiyu frowned tightly and said very insistently, "Grandfather, what I'm looking for is my brother and I's savior, who saved both of our lives! So no matter what, I'll definitely look for him, even if I can't find him, I won't give up!"

Du Zhenhua was a little anxious and said seriously, "It's not a matter of whether you find him or not! This is a matter of your own future!"

Su Zhiyu wondered, "My future safety? What does that have to do with my future security?"

Du Zhenhua said seriously, "Master Lai said that you and his destiny clash, and his destiny is far harder and higher than yours, so it's okay if you don't find him, but once you do, it's like a moth to a flame, and in the end, you're the one who gets hurt, ah!"

Su Zhiyu immediately retorted, "Grandfather, I don't mean anything against your old man, but I feel that what that Master Lai said is pure nonsense!"

Saying that, she continued without hesitation, "Grandfather En saved my life, if it's true that I'm a moth and he's a fire, as that Master Lai said, then why was I not only not burned to death, but saved by him? I see that this Master Lai is just believing what he says!"

Du Zhenhua sighed and said, "Hey! How can you change such a thing as fate by force of argument? It's true that he saved you, but that was before! What Master Lai has calculated for you is the future!"

Su Zhiyu retorted without hesitation, "I don't care what future or not, I only know that he saved my life, I want to find him and thank him in person, it's as simple as that, it doesn't matter even if my life and his really run against each other, at the worst I'll just give him back this life."

Du Zhenhua gave a rare and stern reprimand, "Know Fish! Don't you talk nonsense here! What Master Lai says is not joking, you must listen!"

Su Zhiyu shook his head and said firmly, "These are pseudo-scientific feudal superstitions, I won't listen!"

Du Haiqing, who was right on the side, said, "Zhi fish, I Ching Bagua is the supreme wisdom of the ancestors, it is by no means some feudal superstition, and Master Lai is the most famous Feng Shui physiognomist in the world today, you must have a sense of respect!"

Saying that, Du Haiqing also said very seriously, "In my opinion, you shouldn't continue to look for it either, so stop here!"

Su Zhiyu was anxious and said with red eyes, "Mom. Why do you believe in these things? You're at least a graduate of a prestigious university, you should believe in science!"

Du Haiqing said very seriously, "Knowing Fish, how do you know that I Ching Bagua is not science?"

Su Zhiyu blurted out, "It's all a bunch of feudal and superstitious ideas, what science can be said? If there is a real basis for this, why don't you just tell me where I can find Eunuch? But tell me about clashing destinies and moths to the flame, I don't want to believe such things!"

Du Haiqing said seriously, "The I Ching and Eight Trigrams is a set of philosophy, or even science, that the ancients came up with after years and years of observation, study, induction, and conclusion, using the world and the stars and the sea as reference!"

"Have you ever wondered how the Mayans were able to accurately project every solar eclipse of the 21st century over three thousand years ago?"

Chapter 2301

"What's more, the calendar they measured is almost identical to the legislation measured by modern science, with errors as small as a mere day's difference every five thousand years, do you think this is also feudal superstition?"

Su Zhiyu didn't know how to refute it at once, so he could only forcefully say, "There's no actual basis for such a thing, and I'm definitely not going to believe it anyway!"

Du Haiqing sighed at this time, and said in a still serious tone: "When our generation was young, there was still a more objective perception of Eastern and Western culture, never blindly thinking that the West is better, or the East is better, but using objective vision, using dialectical vision to look at the problem, but in your generation of post-90s and even post-00s children, Western culture began to occupy! A complete upshot."

"The fact that you believe in science and the Internet, but you don't believe in the essence of what the ancestors have left behind over thousands of years and are gradually branding this set of things left behind by the ancestors into the category of old feudal superstitions, is itself a manifestation of ignorance!"

Su Zhiyu asked rhetorically, somewhat unconvinced, "According to the ancestors, is there a so-called destiny for everything? Is it also true that what I eat and where I go today has already been predetermined in my destiny?"

Du Haiqing earnestly said, "You think that everything in the world has no destiny, that everything is up to me, but have you ever thought about it, from a small piece of gravel to the entire universe, all of it is continuously running with its own set of laws, and the more you look at it macroscopically, the more unchangeable its destiny is!"

Su Zhiyu immediately asked, "Mom, tell me, what is the fate of a piece of gravel? It may remain in the desert and become one of thousands of gravels, or it may sink into a river, or be carried by a river into the sea, or it may be made into a piece of glass, or mixed into a piece of concrete by a human being, or does destiny plan the fate of every piece of gravel?"

Du Haiqing shook his head and spoke, "As I said earlier, destinies should be viewed from a macro perspective, never from a micro perspective."

"When you use a microscopic perspective, you will feel that the grains are insignificant and worthless, while there are many grains in the world and it is impossible for destiny to plan a different fate for each of them."

"But do you know how many stars, like the sun, there are in the universe?"

Su Zhiyu looked bewildered.

Du Haiqing said seriously, "Zhiyu, when you look at it with a microscopic view, you always feel that gravel is too small and worthless, but when you look at it with a macroscopic view, you will find that even though the entire Earth, in the entire universe, is just like gravel, even less than a gravel."

Saying that, Du Haiqing continued, "Don't you young people like to talk about science? Then I can tell you that there are about two trillion galaxies in the observable range of the universe and the range of educated guesses, and listen carefully, it's two trillion!"

"And in every galaxy, there are at least hundreds of billions, if not trillions more stars, and the sun is but one of the hundreds of billions of stars in the galaxy, and in the entire galaxy, the sun is so ordinary that in the entire universe, the sun is worse than a piece of grit on Earth."

"The stars in the universe that are like the sun add up to much more than the grit on Earth, but you think that there is too much grit, so a small piece of grit doesn't deserve to have a destiny, so let me ask you, a star that is a hundred times bigger than Earth is just a piece of cosmic grit in the universe, so does it deserve to have a destiny?"

Du Haiqing's words caused Su Zhiyu to be struck by lightning, her entire body unable to say half a word.

She had never comprehended the entire world from such a perspective, and just by trying to think about the entire macrocosm in her mind, she could immediately feel her own smallness and ignorance.

If the sun was just grains of sand in the universe, then I am afraid that the earth would only be a speck of cosmic dust.

If human beings were so small that they needed to live in the dust of the universe, then what were they?

How much does the so-called science that mankind can glimpse into in this speck of cosmic dust represent everything on earth?

Chapter 2303

Seeing that Su Zhiyu had stopped speaking to refute, Du Haiqing sighed lightly and said in an extremely serious voice, "Zhiyu, you must know that all the stars in over two trillion galaxies have their own set of laws of operation, not to mention the lives of just a few billion people."

Saying that, she folded her hands and said with devotion, "I used to go to the temple to burn incense and worship the Buddha, and both of you and your father thought I was a feudal superstition, but it has long been said in the Buddha's teachings that one sand one world!"

"Even if it's just a piece of gravel, its interior is infinite!"

"In comparison, a galaxy is just a grain of sand in the universe, but it contains another world of incomparable vastness."

"The I Ching is the truth that tells people that everything in the universe, from the smallest dust to the largest stars, everything has its own laws, you can not understand, but you can not blaspheme, understand?"

Su Zhiyu hurriedly nodded and whispered good-naturedly, "Mom, I understand, I'm sorry, I was really too shallow before, I don't know the I Ching Bagua or the Destiny of Destiny."

Du Haiqing smiled slightly and said, "Everything in the world has laws, if you find its laws, you can see its past, present and future."

"As if the ancients learned the laws behind the heavens and thus began to gradually master the ability to predict the weather .

"It's as if astronomers today have the laws of the sun and moon, so they can accurately predict every solar and lunar eclipse going forward, even thousands and thousands of years ago;"

"The essence of the I Ching is in summarizing the laws between the world and mankind."

"Once this law is mastered, one is able to see the past, present and future of a thing or a person."

"Since Master Lai advised you to stop looking for it, then you should be honest and obedient and not continue to look for it, you and your brother are my life, the last time something happened to you in Japan, I almost had a heart attack, so in the future, I cannot accept any more accidents happening to you."

Su Zhiyu subconsciously asked, "Mom do you think Master Lai will miscalculate?"

Saying that, she hurriedly explained, "I'm not doubting the I Ching gossip, I just think that this kind of thing is like doing math problems, the slightest error, the result will be a big deviation, as the saying goes, the slightest error, the difference is a thousand miles."

Du Haiqing shook his head and said seriously, "The Earth is rotating around the sun, it takes a year to make a turn, but never any deviation, while the solar system is rotating around the center of the entire galaxy, it takes 2.5 billion years to make a turn, and still no deviation occurs, that's the rigor of the law!"

"The laws of the I Ching are as precise as astronomy, and Master Lai is the most profound master and none other in the world today who has studied the eight trigrams of the I Ching, so there can be no mistakes!"

"If he says you're a moth to a flame, then you need to stay as far away from the fire as you can! If you don't listen and insist on finding him, then I'll have your father send you out of the country right now!"

Said Du Haiqing, "Harvard Business School starts in August anyway, and there's still half a year left, so if you don't listen, go over there early."

"Don't, Mom!" Su Zhiyu hurriedly blurted out, "You now let me go to the United States alone, I go there school is not in session, dormitories can not live, life is unfamiliar, it is not convenient to do anything."

Du Haiqing seriously: "Nothing inconvenient, your father has already bought a villa near Harvard University last year, you can live there after you go over, there are housekeepers and maids, there are life assistants, you will be very convenient to go there, it is not possible, I can also accompany you."

Su Zhiyu heard this and quickly begged, "Mom, I don't want to go to America yet then I'll listen to you, can't I stop looking?"

As she said this, Su Zhiyu was filled with resentment deep inside

"In my heart, naturally, I'm ten thousand times more reluctant to give up looking for a savior."

Chapter 2304

"But Mom is making it so absolute now, and from what I know of her, she's usually very soft, but once she makes a decision, it's basically impossible for her to mediate."

"So, if I still keep on looking for my grandfather, mother will, as she says, send me to America."

"When the time comes, it will be even more impossible for me to find my grandfather in the United States and miles away from home."

"So I'll have to lie to steady my mother before sneaking off to continue my search for my grace."

Du Haiqing didn't know what was in her daughter's heart at this time, and was relieved to hear that she was indeed willing to give up the search.

The reason why you are called by this name is because you want to know what is right and what is wrong, the stakes of your sister's case, mom has just told you very clearly, so for the safety of her life, you must remember, absolutely can't secretly help her find people, understand? "

As soon as Su Zhi Fei heard this, he immediately stated, "Mom don't worry, I'm a person who has always had some respect for our traditional Chinese culture, since the master has said so, I will definitely not give Zhi Fei any help!"

What Su Zhi Fei said was sincere.

Nowadays, some young people, because they had accepted the impact of Western culture, were slamming the traditional culture of Huaxia.

Among them, the one that was attacked the most was traditional Chinese medicine.

When Su Zhi Fei was at the age of cynicism, he was more or less prejudiced against TCM, always feeling that TCM lacked scientific basis and clinical trials.

But when he was nineteen years old, he once had a low fever that lasted for more than a month, and he did all the tests he could in the hospital, and tried all the antibiotics, but it was ineffective.

Finally, in desperation, he went with his family to visit a famous doctor, who diagnosed him and said that he was invaded by dampness, and gave him acupuncture and a decoction on the spot.

Since then, Su Zhi Fei understood that everything that can exist forever, must have its reason.

Chinese medicine, along with the Chinese civilization, has been developing for five thousand years, and the wisdom contained in it is something that he, as a brat, can deny?

Therefore, he had gained a little more respect for traditional culture since then.

It was naturally the same for the I Ching Bagua.

When Su Zhiyu heard this, she was even more desperate.

She knew that if even her brother couldn't help her, then she was really going to lose all her help, in this situation, did she have a chance to find her grandfather?

Ever since she was rescued in Japan to this day, she would think of Ye Chen countless times every day, remembering all the details of her rescue at the time.

It could be said that Ye Chen was already deep in the marrow for her.

Therefore, even if it was truly a moth to a flame, she was unwilling to stop deep inside.

At this time, Du Haiqing looked at Su Zhiyu and said in a tone that could not be refuted, "Zhiyu, Mom wants to stay in Jinling for a while, in the meantime, you will stay with me in Jinling, you don't need to go anywhere!"

Chapter 2305

Du Haiqing did want to live in Jinling for a small period of time.

Not only because she missed the coma of Ye, but also because she really liked this warm and humid old riverside city.

In addition, she also misses the old mansion that was once rented by Ye Chang-纓.

She wanted to stay in Jinling, buy that mansion and then renovate it properly again.

If there's nothing special in the future, she's even willing to settle in Jinling.

Du Haiqing had married Su Shoudao back then because she saw the man she loved marry another woman and completely lost confidence and expectations in her relationship.

But after the marriage, she and Su Shou Dao only had affection and no love.

With the exposure of Su Shou Dao's betrayal of her, her affection for Su Shou Dao has almost disappeared.

So, but she has not divorced Su Shoudao yet, but she has made a decision in her heart that she will not force herself for the sake of others.

From this moment onwards, she wanted to live according to her own ideas more than anything else.

Settling in Jinling was the first step.

When Su Zhiyu heard that her mother wanted her to stay in Jinling, she naturally had ten thousand reluctance.

She secretly thought, "Whether it's the Su family or the Du family, the main sphere of influence is in Yanjing, and I only have the chance to mobilize more resources to help me find my benefactor."

"But if I stay in Jinling with my mother, I won't have any resources to mobilize!"

"Besides, with mother so vehemently opposed to my finding Grace, I'll be right under her nose from now on, so I'll have even less chance of finding him."

Thinking of this, Su Zhiyu was extremely depressed, so she didn't immediately respond to her mother's words.

When Du Haiqing saw all the hesitation and reluctance in her expression, he couldn't help but frown and asked, "What? Mom looks like you're not going to say yes?"

Su Zhiyu hurriedly said, "No ah mom, I actually quite want to stay in Jinling to accompany you, but to be honest, I'm afraid that I won't get used to my Jinling life after a long time"

Du Haiqing nodded his head and asked, "Tell me, where are you uncomfortable?"

Su Zhiyu snapped his fingers and said, "You see, Yanjing's winter is always dry, and Jinling is humid"

Du Haiqing immediately said, "It doesn't matter, then immediately have someone install the best central dehumidification system in your room, then let's compare the weather conditions in Yanjing in real time, how much is the air humidity in Yanjing, make sure the air humidity in your room is how much is the air humidity in your room, if the air humidity in Yanjing is 10, then let your room remain 10 as well, absolutely not one percentage point difference! "

Su Zhiyu had a big headache and hurriedly added, "It's not just the humidity of the air ah, but also the lifestyle ah, I'm not too used to the food here".

With a wave of her hand, Du Haiqing spoke up, "No matter, mom will transfer a chef from Yanjing to you, when you're at home, don't you quite like the food cooked by the home chef? It's just as well that your father has run away to Australia now, and the chef is idle at home, I'll have him come over tomorrow, oh no, today, so you can have a familiar meal tomorrow morning."

Su Zhiyu said awkwardly, "That mom I can stay here with you, but my brother still has to go back ah, you called the chef to Jinling, what will my brother do when he goes back ah?"

Before Du Haiqing could speak, Su Zhi Fei immediately stated his position very firmly, "Nothing! I'm fine! I'll just eat out every day, I'm a bachelor anyway, it's easy to solve, one person is full, the whole family is not hungry!"

Said Su Zhi Fei, "Oh right, I won't leave Jinling for the time being, Miss Gu's concert is about to start, I want to stay in Jinling to make some preparations for the concert, I'll leave after it's over."

Chapter 2306

Su Zhiyu didn't think that this brother of hers, it was really neat to fall on his sword at this point!

She glared at Su Zhi Fei with an exasperated glare and said to Du Haiqing, "Mom, I didn't bring enough clothes this time, and the groceries and stuff I usually use for myself, it would be okay if I stayed in Jinling for three to five days, but if I stayed for a long time, it would be troublesome."

Du Haiqing said without a care in the world, "This is simple, a few aunts at home happen to be free, I'll ask them to pack all your personal items and bring them over together."

Said Du Haiqing and said: "If you still have any dissatisfaction with the place, can talk to mom, mom all help you to solve, if you think the layout and decoration of the room is not satisfied does not matter, mom can home your room decoration and furniture all dismantled airlift over, and then give you the original restoration, you have any other questions? If you have any other problems together, just mention them, and Mom will solve them all for you."

Su Zhiyu was really at her wit's end.

Unexpectedly, mom was so determined and didn't give herself any chance at all.

So, she could only incomparably nod her head in aggravation and said helplessly, "Alright mom, I know, I don't have any other problems, let's do everything as you say."

Du Haiqing put her mind at ease, smiled slightly, and said, "You ah, just don't keep thinking about going to look for that grandfather every day, stay well with mom in Jinling, and when you start school, if mom has nothing to do, she will go to the United States for you as a chaperone, when you finish mba, when our mother and father will come back."

Su Zhiyu knew that Mom was defending herself at every turn to prevent herself from having the opportunity to sneak around and continue her search for her benefactor.

So, she had no choice but to nod her head and said, "Okay, I'll listen to you."

Du Haiqing was finally relieved.

She thought to herself, "As long as I keep Zhiyu in Jinling and keep an eye on her at the same time, she shouldn't meet up with the man who is at odds with her destiny and can make her moth to the flame!"

"In that case, after these few months and after she goes to the United States to study, there will be even less hope of finding that person!"

"Maybe after a while, she'll fade the whole thing out on her own."

However, Du Haiqing had underestimated Su Zhiyu's determination.

Moreover, although Su Zhiyu's personality was very different from Du Haiqing's, she had the same persistence and stubbornness in her bones as Du Haiqing did.

Du Haiqing was in love with Ye Changba for many years, and although Ye Changba repeatedly rejected her, she never gave up, and it was useless to persuade anyone.

Su Zhiyu is determined to find Ye Chen, and even though everyone is in her way, she still insists inside.

Du Haiqing never dreamed that what Su Zhiyu has been looking for is the young man riding a motorbike that she met today in front of Ye Changba's former residence.

That young man is now living in a Tomson, a straight line distance from them, but only three or five kilometers away.

She was even more unaware that she had thought that by leaving Su Zhiyu in Jinling, she was allowing Su Zhiyu to avoid the fate of the moths to the flame.

But the truth was quite the opposite!

This decision of hers biased Su Zhiyu to stay around this fire

Chapter 2307

When Su Zhiyu temporarily hid her inner impulses and decided to stay in Jinling, Xiao Weiwei was still busy in the Shangmei Etiquette Company.

At this time, it was already evening, and Xiao Weiwei had officially taken over the Shangmei Etiquette Company this afternoon.

In order not to disappoint Ye Chen, she immediately spent the afternoon carefully taking stock of all the accounts of the Still Beauty Etiquette Company since its establishment.

First, she made a list of all the etiquette ladies who had been screwed by the Shangmei Etiquette Company, then she assessed their losses based on the records of the activities they had participated in, and then calculated the total amount of money to be compensated.

She then contacted all the etiquette ladies who worked together, and had worked together, and asked them to return to the company for a meeting, and also asked people to help her find all the etiquette ladies who had left the company and had been forced by her former boss Liu Zonghui to go to the KTV to accompany the drinks.

By dinner time, the entire still beautiful etiquette company, has been surrounded by the etiquette lady.

The company is currently working with more than a hundred people.

The company's main goal is to provide the best possible service to its customers.

The majority of these people are between 18 and 25 years old, and few are over 25 years old. I can't say that everyone is beautiful, but most of them are still relatively good-looking.

Moreover, the height of these etiquette ladies was at least one meter six five or more, and each had a well-proportioned body, and their overall external conditions were relatively high compared to most professions.

Nearly three hundred young and beautiful girls, together were simply like three hundred oversized sparrows, chattering non-stop.

They had all been informed that the Shangmei Etiquette Company had changed hands, allowing them to come over and settle all their accounts, but none of them understood why Liu Zonghui, who made this company so profitable, would suddenly transfer the company.

In addition, they were also curious to know how the company let themselves come back to settle the accounts, in the end.

Especially those who have left the company for a period of time, their hearts are even more surprised, they also do not dare to expect, the company can still make up for the money owed to them before.

Seeing so many people here, Xiao Weiwei was also a little nervous.

Although she had never run a company, she had more or less seen some of the world at first in the Xiao Group, and was still stronger than these girls present overall.

Thus, she calmed her mind and said to the microphone, "Everyone, please be quiet, we are about to have a meeting now."

Only then did everyone gradually quiet down, and one by one, they stared at Xiao Weiwei, waiting for what she had to say.

Xiao Weiwei cleared her throat and said seriously, "First of all, I would like to announce to all of you that all the shares of Shangmei Etiquette Company have now been transferred to my name, what I have in my hand are copies of the various confirmation documents from the industrial and commercial department to complete the changes, you can circulate them, and you can also go to the industrial and commercial website to check the Etiquette Company's current industrial and commercial registration information and take a look! Has the shareholder above changed from Liu Zonghui to Xiao Weiwei."

A few girls sitting in the front row of the conference room immediately took those photocopied documents and circulated them, and many of them also directly took out their mobile phones and checked the business registration information first.

From this look, everyone immediately understood that Xiao Weiwei had become the owner of Shangmei Etiquette Company!

Those who didn't know Xiao Weiwei began to wonder what the girl's origin was that she could be the new owner of Shang Mei Etiquette Company.

Those girls who had worked with Xiao Weiwei were even more confused.

They didn't understand why Liu Zonghui, who was a cannibal, would transfer the company to Xiao Weiwei.

Chapter 2308

Xiao Weiwei saw that everyone had already received the message, so she continued, "I called everyone here today, there are a few things I want to announce to you."

"The first thing is that Liu Zonghui and Chen Xiaofei, have returned some of the money they have screwed everyone over for so long!"

There was an uproar over that!

One girl blurted out, "What?! Liu Zong Hui and Chen Xiaofei returned the money! Seriously? These two Chowpies will even return the money! How is that possible?!"

Xiao Weiwei said seriously, "This is indeed true, the two of them have been sent by my brother-in-law to the KTV to make money to atone for their sins because of their evil deeds and evil deeds, Chen Xiaofei is going to work as an escort and Liu Zonghui is going to work as a tortoise, the two of them are working at Ma Zhongliang's field, and they are expected to start working tonight, if you have someone you know working there, you can Call and ask."

Immediately there were several Miss Manners, panicking and pulling out their phones, some choosing to send text messages while others simply chose to call.

Soon, a girl exclaimed, "Mom! The two bastards, Liu Zonghui and Chen Xiaofei, actually went to work at the KTV! That's too much hate relief!"

"Yeah, yeah, one of my sisters told me that too, sure it was them!"

A girl who knew Xiao Weiwei hurriedly asked, "Weiwei, what is your brother-in-law's story? How is it that you have so much power that you can even fix Liu Zonghui?"

"My brother-in-law," Xiao Weiwei intoned, with an involuntary, somewhat adoring tone of voice, "My brother-in-law is a Gestapo!"

All the girls present had more or less been bullied and squeezed by Liu Zonghui.

It could be said that they had already hated him to the bone.

Therefore, after hearing this news, they all cheered and applauded for a while.

Xiao Weiwei waited until everyone's applause finally stopped before speaking, "The second matter is the distribution of this money."

"Liu Zonghui and Chen Xiaofei returned a total of around 4 million, except for 500,000 that will be kept as the company's subsequent operating capital, the remaining 3.5 million will be returned to everyone here."

The crowd was stunned with surprise upon hearing this!

They really didn't expect that the first thing Xiao Weiwei would do when she took over the company was to return the huge sum of 3.5 million to them.

Xiao Weiwei continued at this time: "The specific refund ratio, I have calculated, this money is of course not enough to make up for all the losses of each and every one of you, but more or less can still bring some compensation to you, I will make the list of compensation and the corresponding amount of money public later, if everyone has no problem, after signing to confirm, our finance will immediately give the Everyone pay."

After saying that, Xiao Weiwei added, "Truth be told, we have already raised 3.5 million cash from our bank account this afternoon."

Xiao Weiwei then gave a wink to the finance who was not far away, and right after that, the finance went to the next office to call over a few strong and athletic men.

Each of these strong men held a large suitcase in their hands, and then they spread the suitcase out on the conference table at the podium, revealing bundles and bundles of red banknotes inside.

Nearly 300 girls immediately let out excited shouts, and some even tugged at their voices and shouted, "Long live Xiao Weiwei!"

Immediately afterwards, thunderous applause resounded on the scene once again.

At this moment, Xiao Weiwei had already won the favor and support of these girls on the scene, and had successfully taken her first step in taking over the Shangmei Etiquette Company!

Chapter 2309

Surrounded by thunderous applause and shouts of approval, Xiao Weiwei was also a little uncomfortable, she settled her mind and continued, "The third thing, is that next we will continue to operate our Shangmei Etiquette Company with a new model, and the specific idea of operation is this"

The nearly three hundred girls in the audience were now eagerly awaiting what she was going to say next.

Xiao Weiwei said seriously, "First of all, Shangmei Etiquette Company will still be the same as before, dedicated to providing etiquette services for major enterprises and institutions as well as individual households in Jinling, we are all girls and have almost the same experiences, so we are all considered sisters, if the sisters want to continue in this industry, I hope to have the option of continuing to work with Shangmei;"

"Secondly, I hereby solemnly promise to the sisters that if they choose to continue to work with Jean-Marie, Jean-Marie will never squeeze the sisters' labor and the fruits of their labor accordingly, as she did before!"

"We will then take an open and transparent pure share model to work with our sisters!"

"The specific terms of the partnership are that the company is responsible for co-ordinating the work for the sisters, as well as openly and transparently splitting commissions with the sisters, with the company taking only 20 of each event attended as operating capital, and the remaining 80 being split between the individuals!"

One by one the girls in the audience cheered with excitement when they heard that the individual would get an 80 commission share!

There is no other company in the industry that gives such a large percentage of the commission share!

Normal cooperation mode, generally five to five, like Liu Zonghui this kind of person, usually only give Miss Manners a share of 20 to 30, not only less, will also coerce Miss Manners to sign the sale deed, once the sale deed signed, Miss Manners can only get about 10 at most.

In comparison, this split percentage given by Xiao Weiwei was simply the industry's conscience!

In fact, Xiao Weiwei's own heart also felt that the split ratio was simply too high, so high that after the company deducted the operating costs, financial costs, and human costs of the support line, the remaining profit margin was so thin that even 5 might not be guaranteed.

However, she also felt that she couldn't disappoint Ye Chen's expectations of herself.

If she also became someone like Liu Zonghui and bent on squeezing her employees, then Ye Chen would definitely be disappointed in herself.

That was why she had made such a bold decision.

At the same time, she also had a belief in her heart that supported her.

"As long as I do a good job and make a reputation, then there will be more and more Miss Etiquette under the Shangmei Company, and more and more activities that I will undertake, and although the profit margin is reduced quite a bit, once I make the whole cake bigger, then the company's profits will still be very, very substantial."

"To make the most direct analogy, if we do ten million a year, the profit margin is 20. then the profit is two million, but if we can do one hundred million a year, even if the profit margin is only five, the net profit is still as much as five million!"

"So, I must not be blind and must look beyond the horizon! It's going to take a bigger pay cut to attract these girls to work with me wholeheartedly, and to attract more other girls to join Somerset!"

"My first goal is to make Somerset the largest etiquette company in all of Jinling!"

"I'm going to do my best and work hard to achieve this goal and impress my brother-in-law!"

At this point, those girls offstage had been completely absorbed by Xiao Weiwei's words!

The company was transparent, the split was high, and Xiao Weiwei was willing to take the money Liu Zonghui ate and compensate everyone for it, which made everyone trust her very much.

Therefore, almost every girl had made a decision deep inside.

At this time, Xiao Weiwei continued, "The company currently has half a million operating funds on its books, and I have ordered three thirteen-seat commercial vehicles, which are specifically used to make free shuttles for the company's employees."

Saying that, she was somewhat ashamed, "However, because of the limited funds at the moment, most of them have been taken out to compensate the sisters, so we can only buy three cars at the moment"

"If we have a larger number of employees next, three cars may not be enough to meet the needs of many people even if we keep going back and forth."

Chapter 2310

"In that case, when we start working, some of our employees may not have access to shuttle service for a while."

"Our shuttle will initially give priority to employees who are farther away, earlier in the day, or later in the day who just need the service."

"But I'll make a promise to my sisters that we'll be adding more shuttles in the future, when the company makes money!"

"Ultimately, we're going to start a fleet of our own, and we're going to make sure that in the future, come rain or shine, we're going to make sure that every event and every sister we have is picked up and transported!"

At that point, thunderous applause once again rang out from the stage!

Many of the girls were already red-eyed with excitement!

They choose to be Miss Manners because they don't really have too good a means of survival.

Moreover, their family conditions are not too good.

Every day, they have to get up early in the morning, come and go in the rain to earn so little hard-earned money, not to mention that they will be bullied wherever they go.

They are bullied by their bosses in the company; when they go out to receive activities, they are also bullied by the Party A. In short, almost no one ever respects them.

In short, almost no one had ever respected them, let alone thought about them.

However, Xiao Weiwei's words touched their hearts deeply and made them feel warm, loved and cared for for the first time!

So, immediately someone stood up and said excitedly, "Sister Vivian, I'll be working with you from now on!"

"Yes Vivienne, I'll follow you in the future!"

"I graduated from high school and started working as a Miss Manners to help my family pay off their debts, I've been doing it for six years, I've had everything bitter and sour, but I've never tasted a bit of sweetness, what Vivian just said made me feel sweet from the bottom of my heart, so count me in too!"

"Right! No company has ever treated us as human beings, and now that Vivienne treats us as sisters, what hesitation do we have? I'm in!"

With these heartfelt statements, everyone on the scene was set ablaze!

One by one, they are all scrambling to make a statement and a firm choice to join!

Vivian Siu could not hide her excitement either. So let's get some interest from the sisters now, and raise your hand if you're interested in, say, continuing to work at Somerset Etiquette!"

In an instant, the stage swished and swished, and three or four hundred hands were raised!

The reason there were so many hands was because there were quite a few girls holding their hands up high in excitement because they were so excited!

Xiao Weiwei took a glance and noticed that there was hardly a single person who did not raise their hands, and every one of them raised their hands high in the air with full excitement and anticipation on their faces.

On their faces, there was no hesitation, no struggle, no half-heartedness, but excitement and devotion.

I could see that each of them, from the bottom of their hearts, wished to join this brand-new still beauty etiquette company!
