Chapter 10

Justin's POV

I can't believe that little brat thinks Alpha Harris is her mate. He is the most powerful alpha in the world, and he's basically a living legend. She's weak and pathetic. There's no way that they're mates. The moon goddess wouldn't do something that horrible to Harris, even though she did it to

1. I'm sure she's already realized the mistake she made in giving Katrina one mate, so she definitely wouldn't give Katrine another mate.

I refuse to share her with anyone else. She is mine and no one will take her away from me. Now that she is of age, she will become my Lund. I don't care who I have to fight to get her.

When I found out that we were mates, I panicked. I wasn't ready for a mate, I still had so much I wanted to do. I mean yeah, I could've done some of the stuff with her, but other stuff. Absolutely no.

She's probably one of those girls where it will take forever before they agree to sleep with you and she was way too young back then. I may be a jerk, but I'm not a rapist. I am, however, a guy and I still had needs to take care of.

Besides, there are a lot of females that wouldn't take too much convincing. Girls like Claire.

The only downside with Claire is that she is so annoying and she wears too much makeup. She thinks I'm going to mark her so she can become Luna, but she is so wrong. She wasn't born to be a Lund, and even if she was, she would suck at it.

All she cares about is her looks and how popular she is. I don't even think she could do simple math equations.

My pack needs someone like Katrina to be the Luna. She was born for this role, and she's kept the pack together for all these years

She's basically the only reason why this pack hasn't fallen apart, not that I would ever admit that to anyone

Ever since my mom died, this pack has gone downhill. The reason why everyone hates Katrina is because they think that it was her fault that their beloved Luna died.

It actually wasn't anyone's fault. Rogues were able to get past our borders without being caught, and they killed my mom before anyone could go and help her.

People blame Katrina because my mom was babysitting her. At the time, Katrina was only a few months old, so obviously there wasn't anything she could do, but that didn't stop anyone from blaming her

Even her parents turned away from her. The only person who has been there for her is her older brother, Leo

I grew up hating her because of what some pack members said about her. It wasn't until recently when I did the math and I realized that she was still a baby, and that she wasn't what led the rogues

My father made up some story about the rogues being after Katrina, but then my mom jumped in the way. I don't know why so many people believed his lie, because why would rogues be after a baby? That doesn't even make any sense.

The group of rogues that killed my mother were going around from pack to pack killing all the Lunas that they could so they could try to take over all of the packs in the area.

Anyways, I knew that if I had accepted Katrina as my mate, everyone in the pack would have turned against me. I had to do what I did to protect myself.

She was only 13 when I found out that we were mates. I was 18 at the time, and it would've been too much work to try and be with her. I was doing everybody a favor when I rejected her. I still can't believe that she thinks she has another mate.

The idea itself is laughable. You can only have one mate, and so she's stuck with me for the rest of her life.

Unfortunately, that also means that I'm stuck with her. I don't want to be with her, but I know that it's the best option for the pack. I'll just have to keep some girls on the side so I can still be kind of happy,

Look at me putting the pack's needs before my own. I'm an amazing alpha Alphas are at their strongest when they mate with their true mate with her by my side, I know that I can be the strongest alpha in the world, and take over alpha Harris's pack.

That's the only reason that she is alive right now she would've been dead a long time ago if I had a say in things.

I'm glad I didn't kill her though because I now have a way to take down Alpha Harris and his pack.

He won't even know what hit him.

I'm doing pack work when I hear my door being knocked on. A few seconds later, my dad walks through the door.

Honestly, I'm embarrassed to call him my dad. He is so weak, and he does not know how to run a pack. This is why no one takes this pack seriously.

'Yes tather?'

"I just wanted to remind you that you're supposed to be making friends with Alpha Harris, not enemies." I roll my eyes.

"Well that wouldn't be a problem if that little brat didn't put some spell on him to make him think that they're mates."

"What if they are actually mates?" I roll my eyes again. See what I mean about him being stupid?

"You know that's impossible," I say, making sure to speak slowly so he understands.

"What's going to happen when she leaves with Alpha Harris?" I growl at him.

"She is not going anywhere!"

"I thought you didn't want her as a mate?"

"I don't want her as a mate."

"Then why can't she leave? I thought you said she was holding us back?" I can't believe that I have put up with his stupidity for so long. It's a wonder that I'm not insane.

"Is there another reason why you're in here? You're wasting my time. My dad tries to growl at me, but I just give him an unimpressed look.

People think that I had to go train how to be a better alpha, but honestly, I just wanted to get away from the people in this pack so I purposely messed up. They are so annoying, and they whine all the time.

Also, too many girls think they are going to be Luna since I've slept with them

Every time I hear that, I want to rip my hair out. Why would I want them to be my mate? It was a one time thing, they need to get over it.

"Just make sure you don't screw this up. Justin, we ride this alliance."

"Yeah, yeah, whatever. You can leave now." My dad glares at me before leaving Oh well, at least he's gone.

A few minutes later, I feel a little hungry, so I decide to go and get some food.

Once I get downstairs, I see Claire flirting with my beta. She's such a slut. I feel bad for whoever her mate is.

As soon as she sees me, she struts over to me with a slight smirk on her face.

"Hey Justin," she purrs in a voice that she thinks is seductive. Honestly, I'm just not in the mood.

"Not now, Claire." She immediately starts pouting. Great, this is just what I need.

"But Justin," she says as she sticks out her bottom lip, "you look so tense, I could help you out and give you some company. You know I'm good company," she starts batting her fake eyelashes up at me and I cringe.

"Go away." I say getting annoyed, "I came down here to get some food, not to be sexually harassed."

She pouts some more for a few minutes, but once she realizes I'm not paying attention to her, she huffs before she goes to find her next prey.

Poor guy

Oh well. I need to focus all my energy on making sure that Katrina and Harris don't leave. I have to keep them here for as long as possible and I also have to figure out how to get Katrina to mate with me so I can be at my best.

Once everything is done, I will be the head Alpha, and people will look up to me.

Harris's POV

When I wake up the next morning, I expect to see my mate next to me, but when I don't, I start panicking, I get out of bed, and I'm about to run out of my room when I hear the shower on.

I relax slightly, and I get back into bed. I was worried that I was either dreaming, about finding my mate, or that she went back to that other Alpha named Justin or something.

A few minutes later, my mate steps out of the bathroom and she's only wearing a towel. Water droplets from her hair fall down to the exposed skin of neck and trail down until I can't see them because of that stupid towel. My wolf growls in approval as we watch our mate

At first, my mate doesn't realize that I'm awake, and that I'm staring at her. She grabs some of her new clothes, and she's about to drop the towel when she turns around, and our eyes lock

Her eyes instantly become huge, and her skin pales a little as she lets out a surprised squeak and chuckles a bit before I stand up and walk towards my mate. For every step I take towards her, she takes 2 steps back

This continues until she gets backed up into a corner. The sides of my mouth tug up into a smirk

and I put my hands on either side of her on the wall so she can't escape

She clutches the towel closer to her, and she looks up at me with an innocent gaze

I smile at her as I move a strand of hair away from her face. After that, I trail my index finger down her cheek, and down her neck.

Her breath hitches in her throat, and I smile a little press my lips against her soft cheeks, did!

follow the path I made with my finger.

Once I get around her collarbone, she starts panting. I kiss around her neck looking for the spot where she will bare my mark

I kiss the part where her shoulder and neck meet, and I'm rewarded with a soft moan. I grin and kiss that part of her neck again which causes her to moan again and intensify her arousal

When I look up at her face, her face is bright red, and she looks like she wants to be anywhere but

here

“Why do you look so embarrassed, sweetheart?” She just flushes even more and she starts looking at the ground

“There’s no reason to be embarrassed. I’m your mate,” I say proudly while pushing out my chest.

She lets out a soft giggle that’s music to my ears. I take a couple of steps back so she’s not cornered

יוצאורצווה

“I’ll let you change while I’m taking a shower”

Power to

After my shower, I pull on the pair of boxers that I brought with me into the bathroom, the sink and I see that I have a little stubble growing.

I wonder if Katrina likes facial hair? What if she hates it because it annoys her?

“She didn’t sound like she minded this morning..” Brandon says smugly. I smirk as I remember her reaction. My mate is so adorable.

I put some clothes on before following Katrina’s scent downstairs. When I go downstairs, I see that she is helping Susan make breakfast. I smile at how close they were already Katrina seems very shy, so I’m glad she’s opening up a little. She throws her head back and laughs. I hear something Susan says, and I smile. The sound of her laughter is beautiful. Other than her voice, that I’ve never heard. I would do anything to make sure that she is always happy with the Brandon. I hear his approval in my head

Brandon has also said that Haley, KATI

‘well, is opening up to him. She was literally turned into into a love sick pup, and it’s quite hilarious

Usually Brandon is serious, quiet, reserved, and it is always brooding. However, since we met our mate, he has not stopped talking about how lucky they are and how lucky we are to have them as our mate. I couldn’t agree more. Our mate has made me so much, and I couldn’t be happier

Susan and Katrina finally notice me standing and the door and simultaneously Susan sends me a wink, and Katrina gives me a sly smile

"So what are guys making?"

"Well, we have some pancakes, eggs, bacon, toast, sausage, fruits and a whole lot more. Can you please call everyone down here, alpha?" Susan says while winking at me towards the end of her statement. Katrina and I laugh at her before I remind everyone that breakfast is ready

The sound of footsteps rushing around the house makes it sound like there's a pack of wolves near. Oh wall! We are wolves

"If you say jokes like that, you will scare our mate away. From now on, stay away from telling jokes," Brandon says to me with an eye roll. Whatever, he just doesn't get my sense of humor,

"What sense of humor?" I'm about to reply when I notice that everyone is staring at me weirdly. I look around and see that everyone else is sitting at the table, and I'm still at the door.

"Are you ok, Harris? You've been standing in that spot for 5 minutes now, glaring at the wall." Alex asks me while raising an eyebrow at me

"Yeah, I'm fine. I just got into a small argument with my wolf," I say a little embarrassed before I quickly sit down next to Katrina.

"Real smooth, Alpha Harris, real smooth," Brandon sticks in my head

"Shut up you dumb wolf" I say before cutting off our connection,

Katrina looks over at me with concern in her eyes, but I just give her an assuring smile.

Once she sees that I'm fine, she relaxes and starts eating her food

After breakfast, I ask her if she would like to go talk to Leo now. She quickly agrees and runs up to our room to get some shoes and a jacket

Once we're ready, we start heading towards his cabin while holding hands. When I first took her hand in mine, she blushed and looked away

When we get to Leo's house, Katrina knocks on the door and Leo appears at the doorway less than 30 seconds later

"Hey sis! How are you?" Leo says she pulls Katrina into a hug. He catches my eye, and we nod at each other

"I'm good. There's something I want to ask you." Katrina says with a nervous smile

"Ok, go ahead, ask away little sister." She rolls her eyes playfully at his comment. Katrina glances at me so I start speaking

"I have to go back to my pack tomorrow, so Katrina is going to be lovely with me. I have heard that you are an excellent warrior, and I was wondering if you would like to come with us and join our pack"

"Really? I can join your pack?" I nod my head

"Will I have to go through a certain process to be accepted into your pack?"

"No, but you're going to have to go to training sessions to learn the techniques my pack uses in case of an emergency. As I said before, I have heard good things about your fighting skills, so I'm not worried. You could become a pack warrior if you would like." Kalrind grins at me, and I'm glad that doing something so simple has made her so happy

"I'd be honored to join your pack," he says with a smile

Katrina squeals with excitement, and she jumps on Leo. He laughs and spins her around

Next she jumps on me and thanks me for the millionth time.

I love having a mate.
