

ILY Monster 149

"Don't get too ahead of yourself pervert... it's just that..." He paused and glanced at her blankly before he continued. "It's just that... you obviously just woke up and haven't brushed your teeth yet. Just so you know, there're hardened saliva in your cheek." He said, causing Hinari to immediately blushed.

visit freewebnovel.com

That moment, Zaki's eyes widened a bit upon seeing her turning red. However, for some reason, he immediately shifted his gaze towards the window, speechless, acting as though he haven't seen a thing.

Hinari on the other hand immediately turned towards the car's window to look at her face. And the moment she realized that the man was actually lying about the hardened saliva in her face, she instantly turned her face towards him.

This man... this despicable man...

he actually got me...?

Hinari bit her lip hard. She couldn't accept that she was actually the one who fell to the man's trick in the end.

So you're saying you don't want to kiss someone who still haven't brushed her teeth huh... fine mister normal...

Hinari then narrowed her eyes as she looked at him. And when the man remained quiet, ignoring her like nothing happened, she slowly smiled mischievously. And the next second, she suddenly moved and yanked the man towards her.

And before the man could react, she suddenly kissed him.

Zaki's eyes instantly widened the moment her lips crashed into his. However, he managed to carefully pushed her shoulders to make a distance from her. But before the words 'what are you doing' came out of his mouth, the girl's arm suddenly slipped in his nape and pulled him towards her before she kissed him again. And this time, she delved deeper inside his mouth.

That moment, Zaki was stunned and he felt like his strength suddenly dissipated, as though he was just drugged.

Hinari on the other hand was feeling strange. The man she was kissing didn't move at all and yet she felt as though she didn't want the kiss to end yet. She only kissed him thinking that she could punish him. It was because Hinari was always the one teasing men to their limit and nobody could go against her, this normal looking man was the first to manage to land a blow to her to the point that she even blushed with embarrassment. That's why she kissed him, she wanted to at least turn him into crimson red tomato as well. However, she didn't expect that before she knew it, she ended up actually kissing him much longer and deeper than planned.

And by the time she finally stopped, she ended up being the one who blushed because of the absence of reaction in the man's face.

And before the girl could think about what she should do next, Hinari jolted with the man's voice.

"Stop the car." He said and the car immediately stopped. And before Hinari could react, the man hastily stepped out of the car and circled towards the other side. He opened the door near her as he spoke.

"Get out."

"Eh? Wait."

The man held her wrist and pulled her out of the car before he hastily get in. And then in a blink of an eye, the car left.

That moment, Hinari just blinked more than three times as she watched the car speeding away from her. She was left in the side of a vast highway away.

"Wait... what? What just happened? Hey!!! Damn you normal looking punk!! Don't leave me!!" she shouted as she tried chasing the car.

Meanwhile, Zaki was blazing red at the back seat when the driver talked.

"Sir, are you sure we will leave her?" he asked and Zaki just bit his lip and then messed his own hair hard.

"Ahhh! That girl really is... she's really messing up with me, damn it." Zaki complained as he tried calming himself down before he finally let go a deep sigh.

Relax... that little pervert is just playing around...

Heaving a deep sigh again, Zaki then finally regain his composure. He then looked at the window as he spoke.

"Of course we can't, I still have an important business with her. Go back." He said as he run his finger through his hair.