

ILY Monster 152

"A cold bath. Tell him to bath her himself." Hinari said with a mischievous smile carved in her face. Causing Zaki to immediately realize what exactly she wanted to happen.

"You also have such a savage way of thinking, huh... Well, that's a great idea, as expected with someone like you."

"Hm, hm... well, I found out that those two innocent virgins didn't even did it yet so, why not help them? They're cute together... and ahh... I just can't wait to be an aunt soon... I want to have cute little niece and nephews as soon as possible." She replied and the supposed to be seductive and annoying girl now switched into some old hag excitedly waiting for her long awaited grandchild to come.

Err... to think that we actually have the same thing in mind when it comes to this issue... what a coincidence...

"Well, so? Where can I drop you? Are you going to be fine now that someone is trying to abduct you?"

"Hmm? Are you actually worried about me?" the girl was starting to talk flirty again when the man immediately shot her a glance of warning. Causing her to squeeze herself on the car's door to have a wide distance from him.

"I'm behaving, I'm behaving... Please drop me at sky town, I'll go and spend the night with my cute little brother Haru for the mean time." She said and the driver immediately turned the car and headed towards sky town.

Moments later, the car finally stopped and Hinari immediately stepped out. However, the car was about to leave when the girl knocked on the car's window just beside Zaki.

Puzzled, Zaki slid the window down.

"What is it." He asked when the girl just lowered down her face as though she had something she wanted to whisper in his ears.

And the next second, Hinari's mouth was now close enough to Zaki's ear that he could feel her breath.

"Actually... I'm still not done with you." She whispered seductively and before Zaki could even move or react, the girl suddenly bit his earlobe for two long seconds before she leaped away from the car.

"Bye, bye Mister Normal." She said and she dashed away without turning back. Leaving Zaki speechless and dumbfounded for a while.

"S-sir... shall we go?" the driver asked but Zaki appeared as though he didn't hear him. Until a second later, he snapped and he instantly turned red.

T-that pervert... what did she just did? Is she seriously trying to mess with me...?

Zaki raised his hand and touched his earlobe that the girl just bit when his phone suddenly vibrated. He raised his phone and looked at it when as expected, Sei was the one calling him. That moment, Zaki breathed deep before he answered the call.

"Hel..."

"What took you so long?" Sei immediately asked and his voice was obviously oozing with impatience.

"Err... there's a small problem but I already asked her. She said that you should make her take a cold bath. She said that it's effective towards her." Zaki instantly replied and a short while of silence passed before Sei talked again.

"Mm. I got it. That's all?"

"Well, yeah. That's the only thing she knew that could make her feel better."

"I see." He said and before Zaki could say another word back, the call already ended. Causing him to just sigh.

"Let's go. Drive faster." Zaki then ordered the driver before he lazily leaned his head on the window. He closed his eyes and he held his earlobe once more while a smile of disbelief carved in his face.

I was actually kissed and get bitten on my earlobe, huh... That girl... this is the first time someone dared doing this to me... Zuzuki Hinari, huh...