

ILY Monster 159

Davi was standing near the entrance waiting for Sei when the disguised Zaki suddenly popped behind her.

"Yo little Miss, do you remember everything that you did to the boss last night?" he suddenly asked with a mischievous grin flashing across his face.

Flustered with his sudden question, Davi could only uttered the word, "H-huh?"

"Ehhh? Don't tell me you forgot you actually taught him how to French ki---"

Not letting him to finish his words, Davi suddenly tugged his shirt as she asked him. "I... I did?! What happened?" she asked.

"Err... somehow... actually, you..." before Zaki could finish his words, he immediately leaped away from her the moment he heard Sei's footstep coming closer.

"You better ask your husband young Miss, bye bye." He said and he ran straight towards the car and hid himself inside.

Davi then turned and Sei was already behind her.

"What is he trying to tell you?" he asked curiously, causing Davi to scratch her neck as she answered.

"Well... Uhm, Sei... last night, did I... did I taught you the F-french ki-kiss?" she shyly asked when Sei just fell silence for a while.

"Mm. You did." He replied calmly while Davi just gasped in disbelief.

"Why? You don't remember it?" he continued, causing Davi to just nod as her face just turned red again.

"I... I can't remember what happened." She said when suddenly, Sei stepped closer to her.

"Want me to show you what I learned from you last night?" he asked causing Davi to just looked at him with widened eyes.

W-what did he just said? T-this adorable bun really is getting bolder...

Flustered with his words, Davi reacted late, and before she could say a word, the man suddenly held her nape with his one hand and his other hand on her waist.

And the next second, Sei's lips landed unto hers as he started kissing her.

That moment, Davi instantly felt a numbing sensation. His warm and gentle lips slowly crashing into hers just made her world seemed to fell into a halt.

Her eyes were still wide opened but when she saw Sei's eyes were closed, as if she's being pulled by something, she slowly closed her eyes. And the next second, before she knew it, Sei's tongue already delved softly into her mouth.

It was a slow and gentle kiss, and she didn't know if it was a French kiss or not. All she knew was that it was a heart comforting kiss that made the brewing heavy feeling in her heart to simply evaporate.

And without any care in the world, the two just stood there kissing passionately for a while before they finally departed.

Sei and Zaki were quietly sitting in a private jet when Zaki started to talk.

"Hey... we just left, stop looking like you wanna go back already." He said mischievously when Sei just shifted his gaze on the window.

His lack of response just made Zaki sighed deeply before he talked again.

"Anyway, how about your revenge with that man?" he asked but when Sei still didn't respond, he just continued talking.

"I saw the news a while ago, he said he was eyeing for a partnership with your Red Empire Corporation. Your biological father is still such a fool Sei. He's already voluntarily started digging his own grave." He said and Sei finally opened his mouth.

"Right now, don't get distracted by that piece of dust. His time will come." Sei calmly said but his eyes were already flashing an extreme hate. A kind of hate that seemed to be greater than hell. A kind of hatred that seemed to be carved deep within his bones.

Looking at him, Zaki didn't said a word anymore. It was because, Zaki knew everything about what Sei's own father did to him. And he still remembered the story that Sei's mother had told him that day.
