

ILY Monster 179

Zaki kissed the girl just to shut her up and nothing more, however, strangely, as he felt the warmth and softness of her lips, he almost completely forgot about his purpose in kissing her. But thanks to his trained self, he managed to stop before anything could stray further than what he planned. Well, for the sake of protecting Sei, Zaki was trained in all sort of things to be the perfect body guard as he is. His physical capabilities were considered flawless and superhuman, but what made him even more perfect was that, he also attained the unwavering mental toughness that could only be attained by few. He learned everything that was needed and most interesting of all, he was also trained on how to deal with women's so called powerful weapons. Zaki learned to keep his head clear and his senses wide open no matter what situation he's into.

Thus, that moment, as soon as their lips parted, he immediately turned his head towards the two old men without even looking at the girl's reaction.

"She asked for a kiss but I teased her and jokingly declined, I didn't know that she'll get too embarrassed that she ended up crying. I'm sorry, I didn't mean to make her cry." He shamelessly said while forcing a laugh and the two old men including his parent just looked at each other before they just smiled delightfully. However, that same moment a certain girl in his arms went amazingly pissed with the words he just said.

"You..."

she started, but before she could continue, the man hushed her. "Shhh... this is your fault, you left me without any choice." Zaki whispered as he continued caressing her back like a gentle boyfriend trying to ease his girlfriend's hurt feeling.

However, the next second, while Zaki was smiling, thinking that he finally found a way to tame her wild and unexpected behavior, the girl suddenly did something that was completely out of the blue again.

In a blink of an eye, the girl wrapped her hands around Zaki's neck and she violently kissed him. Causing Zaki's eyes to turned wide due to the shocking surprise.

I was because, completely way too far ahead from what he did, the girl kissed him like a real pro and before he even realized, the girl already managed to enter her tongue in his mouth. Her tongue was unbelievably hot that it caused Zaki's temperature to rose within a matter of seconds. However, that moment, due to the actions that were engraved within him, as if a red alert of danger just started making noise in his brain, Zaki reflexively raised his hands and slowly removed her hands around his neck before he immediately pulled away.

He didn't let go of her wrists and his eyes were still wide as he looked at her. However, what he did, pulling away in the middle of a deep kiss, made Hinari smiled mysteriously. Well, she actually kissed him hard not only because she wanted to embarrass him through showing him what real kiss is. Part of it was also because the moment their lips met, Hinari strangely felt the same thing she felt towards Mr. Normal when she kissed him.

Causing her to felt curious and puzzled. "Y-you... pervert, your old man and my family is watching, how could you be this shameless..."

the man finally spoke but just as what he did to her, Hinari didn't let him finish his statement. "Shhh... this is your fault, you left me without a choice." She softly said, repeating the exact words that the man just told her, before she just kissed him again to confirm whether what she felt towards Mr. normal and towards this man was really the same.

Meanwhile, the two old men watching both of their grandchild shamelessly kissing in front of them just looked at each other as they smiled a bit awkwardly but delightfully.

"My grandchild isn't usually that shameless, and he isn't a playboy at all, and he is actually a gentle man, and rest assured that he never treat any other girls like that at all. He's like that now surely because he likes your grandchild too much that he couldn't control himself." Old man Chen whispered in his friend's ear as he laughed softly.

"Yes of course, I know your grandchild is a good young man. And... actually, my grandchild isn't usually that shameless too. She's an innocent young lady and she is shy towards men. She's like that only because she might really really like your grandchild." Old man Zuzuki whispered back and the two just chuckled with extreme delight with the unexpectedly super quick development unfolding before their eyes.
