

ILY Monster 234

By the time Davi finally finished wrapping the gifts, they both gave them to Zaki.

"Rest assure that your gift will reach your best friend." Zaki said with a smile and Davi smiled back.

"Mm. Thank you so much Mr. Chen. Also best regards to your fiancée." She replied and the man could only nod.

Hours later, Sei and Zaki along with Kir came out of the study room. The two men followed Zaki to send him off. They walked towards the entrance and Davi who was with the old man joined them.

"Hey, hey, you don't need to send me off, it's not like I'm leaving for a long time." Zaki complained but no one seemed to be listening to him until all of them stopped beside the car.

"Bye bye, Mr. Chen, please come back home safely." Davi was the one who spoke and upon hearing her words, Zaki smiled.

"Thanks Miss, I'll come back soon. Also, young miss, please take care of that husband of yours, don't let him step outside the mansion until I return." Zaki replied and Davi's eyes slowly went wide.

"Why? Is it dangerous for him to go out?" Davi exclaimed and Zaki nodded. Davi gasped with worry and Zaki was about to talk again when Sei's sharp glares clamped his mouth. Sei's cold aura blazed as he glared at Zaki as though telling him the words 'how dare you make my wife worry'.

"Er... well, as long as he won't go out, he'll be fine so you don't need to worry." Zaki said with a forced smile when suddenly, Davi walked closer to him.

"Don't worry Mr. Chen, I will never let him go out." She said and a great determination flashed across her eyes. Something that somehow made Zaki amused again.

"Good girl, good girl. That's the spirit. I will leave him in your hands then." Zaki happily replied and the next second, the girl sidled towards him to whisper something so Zaki moved to his ears closer to her.

"Mr. Chen, can I borrow your, I mean, that handcuff you used to him?" She whispered and Zaki's eyes widened. Excitement and mischiefs glittered across Zaki's eyes and he couldn't help but smile widely.

"You want to use it to him?" he whispered back and Davi nodded.

"Just in case he will not listen to me." Davi replied and a mischievous smile curbed on Zaki's face.

"Come, follow me. I have something to give you." Zaki said and Davi hastily followed him towards a certain room in the basement.

On the other hand, the two men who were left behind just stood there watching their disappearing silhouette. Kir was about to speak but he swallowed his words. Well, it was because, dark clouds suddenly gathered around the man beside him and his aura instantly turned cold like breeze of the Antarctic.

Meanwhile, inside a certain storage room, chibi Davi and chibi Zaki were squatting on the floor while looking at a certain old and ancient looking chest in between them.

Zaki opened it and it was filled with different kind of chains and cuffs. And for some reason, Davi's eyes sparkled the moment she saw them.

"Can I get one?" she asked excitedly and Zaki looked at her mischievously.

"Little miss, I brought you here for a reason, okay? All these, you can use them all if you want." Zaki said and Davi wowed.

"Really?!" She exclaimed and Zaki replied with an absolute "Of course!"

"But, I can't bear using these chains to him." Davi said as she put her hand on her chin, thinking which would she chose.

"You don't need to be too nice to him though. His safety is more important." Zaki uttered and Davi looked at him, agreeing with his words.

"You're right. Then, I'll pick this one." She said with a smile and Zaki nodded with approval.

"Not bad." He said and the two had a high five before they left the storage room with a satisfied look in their eyes.
