

ILY Monster 255

Meanwhile at Gray Mansion...

The cuffed couple spent the day happily as ever. Davi made Sei experience a lot of things he never did before in his entire life. They went and plant flowers together, she taught him how to cook her favorite recipe, and then they both washed the dishes. Being such a painfully innocent novice, Sei was having a hard time doing the tasks at first but because of the handcuff that was keeping them stuck together as though they were a glued perfect sculptures moving as one, Davi was able to support him well, leading their teamwork to a great result. They also played video games as they cuddled all day, looking exactly like a newly-wed couple, inseparable and enveloped with nothing but overflowing pure and deep love.

Until the darkness was finally slowly swallowing the day. The couple were quietly cuddling in the sofa as they rest for the whole day activities they both did when Davi pulled herself away from Sei's embrace.

She looked at him shyly as she bit her lip.

Noticing the change in her expression, Sei spoke.

"What's wrong?" he asked and Davi shifted her gaze to the vase on the table before she buried her face in the nook of his neck.

"I... I'm... I need to pee." She hesitantly said and Sei just blinked before he held her shoulders.

"Okay, let's go." He replied as he immediately moved to stand. Davi was surprised because he seemed not to mind it at all.

In no time, they entered the toilet and they were now both standing near the toilet bowl. Davi's face was flushing red as she stared at the man before her.

Looking at her not moving, Sei's brows knitted a bit as he spoke.

"What's wrong? Do you need help? It's not good if you hold it in." He said with a concerned look.

Hearing his words, Davi's face went even redder. She was wondering why Sei wasn't embarrass at all in this situation.

"No. No. No. I don't need help. I just want you to turn your back and don't look at me." She protested and the man just looked at her with a questioning look as though he's saying the words 'why do I need to turn back?', making Davi even more flustered.

"Mm." He then uttered before he obediently turned his back.

Unable to hold it anymore, she finally put her hands on her waist. Thankfully, she was wearing a comfy short that could easily be pulled down.

However, the moment she started pulling her short and panty down as she bent her knees, due to their cuffed hands, Sei was also pulled over her.

Davi froze and she reflexively pulled her panty up in a blink of an eye.

Sei who was pulled to bent over her didn't see Davi's flash move. Her short was already on her feet so the moment Sei looked down, he saw her panty.

He immediately blushed a little but unlike her, there's no sign of embarrassment flashing across his eyes.

"D-d-dn't I tell you not to look?!" she stammered loudly and Sei was stunned. He looked at her cluelessly, however, the moment he noticed how red her face was, she finally realize that she's being embarrassed. He then put his other hand on the back of his neck as he spoke.

"But... I already saw it last night." He said and Davi felt like her face was about to blaze in flame. She never imagined this used to be so innocent husband of her to say these words one day.

"You... you really gone so shameless now, Sei!" she replied loudly as she covers her face. Alarmed with her words, Sei could only apologized.

"Okay, I'm sorry. I won't look. I won't look." He then said and the moment he turned his face away, Davi who just couldn't hold it anymore pulled down her panty and she finally sat on the toilet bowl scolding that someone who brought them into this embarrassing situation inside her brain.
