

ILY Monster 280

Sei was thinking about the conversation between him and his son and he couldn't help but feel proud. His son performed beyond expectations

"Sei, were you the one who taught him that line?" Zaki, who was the designated driver asked and Sei glanced at him before replying back.

"I just told him to try his best and make her come with us." Sei answered and the man inside the car chuckled.

"Pfft! Hey, Sei. Don't you think your son is a natural born Casanova? Don't you realize that the pick up line of his and his choice of words were such a breath of fresh air? If he's not such a little child, anyone would think that he's trying to hit on her, asking her out for a romantic date or something." Zaki said as he laughs softly and as Sei contemplated about it, somehow, he felt like his son had indeed gone a bit overboard. He didn't expect him to call his mother 'lady' so naturally like that.

"..." Speechless, Sei's brows knitted a bit as he stared at his son.

Meanwhile, after talking with the adorably smart little child, the commander thought about approaching Sei when he received an emergency call, forcing him to leave, missing the opportunity to meet the most sought after man.

As soon as Little Shin and Davi were left alone, Little Shin faced his mother once again.

"Mommy, today is our school's family day. Here's the invitation." He said, looking at his mother with cute gazes as though imploring her to come.

Davi kneeled down. She took the invitation but instead of reading it, she embraced her son once again. She buried her face on his son's shoulder, holding him, inhaling his scents and afraid of letting him go.

Looking at the mother and son, Sei felt heaviness in his chest. He could see the guilt in her eyes. The guilt of leaving her dearest son for a long time.

Sei then stepped closer to them. He doesn't want her to feel like this anymore. He wanted to tell her that there's no reason for her to carry the heavy burden, although, he understands her. He knew it's never easy to relegate aside the negative emotions she has right now. Thus, he didn't utter a word. He just raised his hand and gently landed it on her head. As though telling her that everything is alright now.

Davi on the other hand felt the warm hand that caressed her head. She didn't raise her head but the familiar warmth of his hand, appeased her heart as though he was trying to share the pain she was experiencing, was more than enough for her.

"Mommy, are you alright?" Little Shin suddenly said. It was because he felt that his mother seemed to be depressed.

"I'm sorry. Can you let me hug you a bit longer?" She asked. Her voice was so soft that little Shin can't help but look at his dad.

Seeing his daddy encouraging him to comfort her, little Shin raised his little hand and gently caressed his mother's back.

"Mm. You can hug me as long as you want mom." The boy replied and Davi could only grip him tight as she could.

After that, the family of three were now boarded inside the Maybach Exelero. Davi continued to hold on her son even for an added minute. Leaving Sei unable to do any move on her at all. However, Sei didn't feel disheartened, because his main plan for this day haven't even started yet.

Time passed and before they knew it, the three finally arrived in school.

For the family day event, the school required the parents to wear a matching costume with their child so everyone was wearing all kinds of getup, colorful, funny and some even cosplayed some marvel characters. The event already started when the Chen family arrived. Their presence caused everyone around to gasp and the crowd fell into commotion.

"Oh my gosh? Who are they?"

"The only ones who haven't arrive yet was Little Shin and his parents so I think its them."

"Really? Have you seen Little Shin's parents before?"

"Nope, they never came to school before."

"But anyway, look at those costume. They look so cool and all three of them are mysteriously beautiful. God I want to see their faces."

"His parents looked young especially the girl. Even with those masks, I could already tell that they are damn good looking. They are the gorgeous and majestic Little Shin's parents after all."

The parents started murmuring, talking about the family who just arrived. The school wasn't informed about the arrival of Mr. Chen and they were even clueless about the kidnapping that happened yesterday. Moreover, they haven't even realized that their student, Chen Shinji, was actually the son of the infamous powerful tycoon, Chen Seiji.

Sei, Davi and Little Shin were wearing a matching black masks. It was the same design with Sei's mask five years ago. The two men were wearing a matching black and gray tailored suit while Davi was wearing an exquisite white dress. They exactly look like an elegant royal family attending a masquerade party and everyone gazes were locked up with them.
