

ILY Monster 285

Davi's feelings were in chaos. The words Sei had uttered were like mystic powerful chants that lifted her curse all at once. She felt like she was dreaming, and she still could hardly believe it. She never once thought that everything could be solved like all were just simple matters. Sei made her curse disappear just like that and it's totally beyond belief.

Moreover, him, saying that he'll definitely cure her as soon as possible made her bewildered to the point that she never even realized what Sei was doing to her. She didn't even notice the desire in his eyes and how close their bodies were at the moment.

All she could feel was that there were sprouts that were starting to bloom within her desolated world. She could feel that things were about to change. Her mind started reminiscing what she used to be five years ago. Seeing herself, smiling and laughing in Sei's arms, loving him unconditionally.

That moment, all the missing fragments of her life started returning back to her. She looked at Sei and her heart began to recall just how much she loved this man back then. He was her world and she was willing to do anything for him.

She remembered just how cute and adorable this person was, making her feel so nostalgic as she looked at his eyes and his upper face covered with a mask.

Sei on the other hand, held her wrists and wants to remove her hands on his face so he could maneuver himself forward and kiss her but Davi wasn't willing to let go.

"Sei... I want to see your face." She said and Sei finally realized that he was still wearing the mask that served as their costume.

"I'm sorry, I forgot to remove it." He replied and he was about to raise his hands when Davi stopped him again.

"Let me." She said and Sei could only put down his hand.

Davi then let go of his face and held his mask. Truth be told, because she was always avoiding an eye contact with him since the first time they met near that huge fountain, Davi still couldn't picture his face in her mind well enough. It was because the Sei in her mind was still the Sei who was wearing that black mask.

Holding his mask, she started lifting it. Davi felt her heart fluttering like crazy. It was as if this was the first time she will be seeing his real face.

Slowly, she removed his mask and as expected, she felt her heart bursting out of control. This face that she was impermissible to see back then was truly beautiful. It was perfect and surreal that she thought that this kind of face could be something forbidden for a mere human to possess.

Davi pushed him away a little so she could admire his face. Afterwards, she raised her hand and pinched his cheek.

"So... this is the real Sei..." she uttered and Sei smiled. That instant, seeing the Sei without mask smiling, made Davi felt like she just witnessed a supernova blast. Making her mouth slowly hanged open.

Seeing her reaction, Sei was so happy. He could finally see that she's slowly going back to her real self now.

Thus, while the girl was still in daze, Sei who just couldn't wait anymore pulled her once again. However, before he could move his head, Davi's phone rang and she immediately snapped as she shifted her face towards her pocket.

She pulled away from him and answered the call without delay as if she was answering an emergency call, then Sei just heaved a sigh of disappointment as he put his hand on top of the car.

Moments went by and Sei was patiently leaning there again. Looking at her answering the call as an honorable soldier, Sei couldn't help but see the coolness she possessed even though she wasn't wearing a uniform right now. It was a sight that made Sei smile again. Even though he actually couldn't believe that his wife became a soldier, and even became a part of the notable elite special force.Google search

freewebnovel.com

After the call, Davi returned her gaze towards Sei.

"The commander is summoning me back to the camp." She said and Sei straightened his spine. He didn't say a word but Davi clearly remember what he said a moment ago. That he will cure her if she come back to them now. Truth be told, Davi didn't want to part with them anymore. Now that the chains in her heart was finally unlock, she doesn't want to listen to the demon inside her anymore and be stubborn. She doesn't want to stay a slave of her own apprehensions. All she wanted right now was to be with them again.

"I... I will be back right away." She continued when she realized that Sei's face turned gloomy as soon as she said that she was summoned. However, as soon as she uttered that she will comeback, Sei smiled again, causing Davi to fell in daze once again.

The man walked closer to her.

"I will let you go if you will kiss me." He said and Davi almost choked. She felt her face turned hot. Within those long five years, Davi never once thought about this kind of things. She was always busy and she didn't give herself even a single minute to reminisce the past and think about something like kisses. In other words, she felt like it was too sudden and she wasn't ready for it. And it was because she felt as though her experience has reset back to zero.

Five years were long and she was afraid that she might have forgotten how to even kiss.

"Can I kiss you when I'm back? I'm in a haste." She said, trying to buy herself some time to think about it when suddenly, Sei gently bumped his head onto hers.

"I'm sorry but I can't wait anymore." He uttered and the second, their lips finally touched each other's again. Causing the hibernating electricity in their nerves to be released once again.