

ILY Monster 296

The next morning.

The curtains glowed yellow as the sun rose, enveloping the room with warm lights. It was a bright and lovely morning.

Among the three people sleeping soundly on the bed, Davi was the first to open her eyes. Her eyelids moved and shut again as the light piercing through the curtains cast shadows on her eyes. She didn't move for a while, then after a few seconds she again slowly opened her eyes.

Davi blinked as she stared at the ceiling when her brows creased a bit. She remembered that she slept with Little Shin last night so she was about to tilt her head and look at her son when she realized that there were two hands wrapped around her stomach coming from both sides. She immediately but carefully tilted her head towards her left and right sides and her eyes went wide. She was surprised to find out that she was actually in the middle of two adorable buns, one big and one small. Davi couldn't help but gasp. It's not only because of the surprise, but also because her heart instantly fluttered warmly as she realized that she was like a sandwich between two adorable fluffy buns.

In that instant, Davi felt a warm glow enveloping her. She turned her head towards Little Shin and she couldn't resist the urge to kiss his adorable cheek. Her son was just so cute. His thick beautiful lashes, red lips and his facial features were exactly akin to Sei's. He was definitely Sei's mini version and him sleeping so soundly like this makes her feel that she can watch over him for eternity.

For the second time, Davi kissed Little Shin's forehead before she slowly turned towards Sei. Davi somehow felt nervous but the instant her eyes laid on his gorgeous face, Davi couldn't help but feel her heart jumping like crazy. Back then, she always found him cute and adorable while he was soundly asleep like this even though he wore his mask. But now that there was no mask on his face anymore, Davi couldn't resist the urge to gently caress his face. He was really handsome. His flawless face and drop dead gorgeous appearance was simply beyond words to define that Davi was left out speechless.

However, now that Sei was sleeping so vulnerably like this, Davi couldn't help but imagine him in his chibi version and she felt her nose about to bleed. It was because she thought that the innocent and adorable Sei she knew five years ago was nowhere to be found. Despite that she was happy that he was actually still this cute when he was asleep like this.

Davi's heart was dancing with happiness as she savors every second of them being in this state. She felt like she was dreaming. Her two fluffy buns were right here beside her and she couldn't ask for more. She felt like her world that was once dark and gray now turned into rainbows, full of flowers and love.

For a long while, Davi never got tired alternately looking at her big and small buns with stars in her eyes. Until Sei finally opened his eyes.

Sei blinked and his eyes immediately fell onto the woman beside him. That instant, Davi turned her head towards him and their eyes met.

Davi was taken aback seeing that Sei was already awake. The good morning she was thinking about just now didn't come out of her mouth.

"Good morning." Sei was the first to greet with a warm smile. Seeing him greet her with a smile felt heavenly that Davi felt like she saw an angel when suddenly, Sei's lips reached her mouth. The kiss lasted for a few seconds but Davi was completely shocked with the sudden attack. Her eyes were wide when Sei let go of her lips.

The two of them stared at each other for a while when Sei kissed her again. Davi felt like Sei just sucked every bit of energy inside her that she couldn't even react. Until Sei finally let go of her lips again.

Davi's face was now so red like tomato and yet she still couldn't speak, while Sei on the other hand seemed not satisfied and hungry for more. He moved again to kiss when Davi heard little Shin's moan, causing her to instantly turn her back from him.

"M-mommy..." Little Shin uttered as he opened his eyes and Davi who was red like tomato forced herself to speak.

"M-mm. Mommy is here." She said as she held him while she was trying so hard to calm herself from Sei's overtures. Davi couldn't believe that the innocent sleeping Sei will suddenly turn shameless as soon as he opens his eyes without a second of transition.

Meanwhile, Sei who just realized that Little Shin was actually beside her, raised his hand and tugged his messy hair. Well, he was actually lost in thought as soon as he saw her. He just couldn't resist but kiss her even though he was still half asleep.

Sei rose and leaned on the headboard when Little Shin saw him.

The little guy also rose immediately and glared at his father.

"Dad, why are you sleeping in my bed?" He asked, looking grumpily .

"I won't let you monopolize her alone." Sei nonchalantly replied and Davi choked. She coughed multiple times and both the father and son instantly moved and looked at her worriedly.

"Davi, are you alright?!"

"Mom, are you alright?!"

The two spoke simultaneously , almost the same exact words and almost the same expressions and Davi could only cough again. She suddenly felt like these father and son were giving her heart attack.

"I-I'm fine." Davi said as she tried her best to calm down. The father and son also helped her sit up as their hands were now caressing her back.

Afterwards, they both suddenly jumped out of the bed as they spoke.

"I'll go get water."

"I'll go get water."

Again, the two spoke the same words at the same time, causing them both to pause and looked at each other. That instant, Davi couldn't help but cough again.

God... these two are killing me...
