

ILY Monster 343

By the time their lips parted to breath in air, Davi's face was flushed red down to her neck. She didn't expect that Sei would kiss her intensely even when his secretary and his brother were still in the same room, watching.

While Davi was still trying to stabilize her breathing, Sei moved his face closer again but gladly, Davi caught his face before their lips collided once more.

"S-sei..." Davi uttered and the man gazed at her.

"Your lips are like a drug. I think I'm already addicted." He replied with a sexy voice and Davi could only fall speechless and before she could manage to react, Sei was already kissing her again. His kisses were a bit rough this time, as if he was a starving beast that finally found some food to devour.Google search

He was still aware that other people can see us right? Wait, why am I still surprised by this man's shamelessness? He has definitely taken the crown of the most shameless man I know now!

Getting lost in Sei's irresistible kisses, Davi couldn't do a thing but kiss him back. She couldn't stop this man after all when he was like this, and actually, it's just impossible for her to resist him at all.

The second time their lips parted, Davi bumped her forehead onto Sei's to prevent him from kissing her again.

"Uhm Sei... Miss Lin is still here." Davi said as she breathed heavily and Sei's expression showed a sense of displeasure. Why is he making an expression that seemed to say that he wasn't satisfied at all? Wasn't I was supposed to be the one you should satisfy this time?

"It's alright. My secretaries are well trained. They're not the type to meddle with their boss' personal affairs." Sei then replied. His voice was gentle but Davi could still feel the majestic firmness in his tone. His voice was still soft but the quiet room made his voice loud enough for Lin Jingyi, who was still standing there like a lifeless street post, to hear.

Hearing Sei's words, Davi could only cough. T-that's not really the problem here okay? Don't you feel embarrassed at all? Your own little brother is here too, you know?!

"I... I'm already very satisfied with your congratulatory kisses. So, you can continue working now." Davi said as she was still blushing hard. She moved to get off Sei but the man didn't let go of her. He instead gripped her waist and moved his face closer to her ear.

"We will be continuing this when we get home, right?" Sei suddenly asked and Davi jolted with his seductive warm breath. He softened his voice that it was almost a whisper but Lin Jingyi who was close enough had sharp senses so of course she could still hear him.

"Right?" Sei repeated when Davi remained speechless. The way he gripped her seemed like he was telling her that he wouldn't let her go if she didn't agree. Thus, raising her white flag, Davi could only surrender to his king's wishes.

"O-okay. Let go now." She then agreed and a warm smile carved onto Sei's gorgeous face before he let go of Davi right away.

As soon as Davi stood up, she turned towards Lin Jingyi. She was expecting that the woman might react violently or throw some deadly glares at her but to her surprise, the woman seemed to already lose her fighting spirit. She stood there like the living dead and her complexion was absolutely wretched, as though she just witnessed the end of the world right before her eyes.

Err... was that too much for her to handle?

Somehow, Davi couldn't help but look at Lin Jingyi with a faint pity in her eyes. However, she didn't plan to go easy on her, so that feeling was only fleeting. Even if she crumbled down before her, she wouldn't show any mercy. Not to anyone who dared try stealing her love ones away. She wouldn't care even if people will call her 'angel of no mercy' because nothing is more important to her than her beloved husband and son. And besides, this was also for her own good and she was not even done yet.

"Uhm... sorry for the interruption, Miss Lin. You may now continue your report." Davi then said and Lin Jingyi could only look at her like a robot.

Sei on the other hand, immediately returned to his working zone and his hands tapped on his laptop at what seemed like an inhuman speed. His godly skills were showing again.

"Lin Jingyi, continue." Sei stated while his gaze was focused onto his computer and the woman who was like a broken machine could only swallow her own saliva.

She forced herself to continue but she was a complete mess. She stopped, restarted, stuttered and could barely get a full sentence out. After speaking few words, Sei raised his head and threw a deadly glare towards Lin Jingyi, causing her to bow her head. Sei just couldn't tolerate her actions anymore. After all, he trained his secretaries to function well and to never be affected by anything that was happening in front of them when they were doing their job. He trained them to withstand even the highest level of pressure so what was going on here? Was this secretary thrown off because she saw her boss kissing his wife? When did this Lin Jingyi become so incompetent?

"Secretary Lin!" Sei coldly spoke. His voice was now nothing like how he talked to Davi. He was like a ruthless ruler who was about to punish his misbehaving subordinate, causing Lin Jingyi to immediately jolt in fear.

"I'm... I'm very sorry Mr. Chen, I... I'm not actually feeling well right now this is why I..." Lin Jingyi quickly reasoned out desperately trying to redeem herself, however, she paused and clenched her fists tight. Well, she knew that her boss would never be convinced with this kind of excuses. After all, all the secretaries knew that they were banned to go and report to him if they're not in their best condition.

Thus, the already doomed Lin Jingyi could only prepare herself for the worse when suddenly, an adorable voice rang inside the room, causing everyone to turn towards the door.

"Mommy!"
