

ILY Monster 345

Some time ago, when Davi was looking around Sei's room, she actually sent Hinari a message that she needed Little Shin. Thus, upon receiving her message, Hinari somehow deduced what her badass best friend was trying to do so she immediately contacted Zaki. All this time, Zaki and Hinari has been exchanging messages so that Hinari could bring Little Shin in at the perfect moment.

Zaki, who was still a little bit miffed at Hinari, knew he had to cooperate with her in order to fulfill this mission. However, he wasn't going to satisfy her gossiping nature with all the juicy details of the operation. So, from the very beginning, he only gave her very brief descriptions of the situation inside the office.

When he and Davi entered the room, he sent Hinari a message. "Target acquired."

Hinari, who was sitting impatiently in the car, was eagerly awaiting Zaki's update.

'Buzz...'

She heard her phone vibrate and she immediately looked at the message but upon reading "Target acquired", Hinari's brow raised. H-huh? That's it?!

Hinari was a little bit disappointed at the lack of information from Zaki so she replied, "what is happening? How does Davi look? Is she jealous? Do you think she will run away like last time?"

However, after a few moments, she received another message. "Target on lockdown."

Huh? Can't this beauty give me more to work with here?! Ugh, he's doing this on purpose, right?!

Frustrated with Zaki's updates, Hinari almost want to go crazy when she receive one more message.

"Target's arms and legs have been shot! Target still standing."

Damn it Zaki! Can't you give me more details?!

Almost going berserk in the car, Hinari forced herself to calm down.

Easy, Hinari. I will just ask him face to face later.

When she finally relaxed, Hinari read the message again and she smiled mischievously and proudly.

Hehe... Looks like my Davi is following my instructions and taking action. I wonder what she's doing??

However, Hinari's relaxed mode lasted for mere seconds and she burst again. In the end, she could barely contain herself. She was so close to getting out of the car, going up to the office and plastering her ear on the door to eavesdrop on the situation.

"My beauty, tell me what my student, Davi, is doing. I need to know. You're torturing me, right now, you know." Hinari changed her method but Zaki still completely ignored her pleas, fully knowing the effect it would have on her.

At this point, Davi had sent her message to Hinari and Hinari quickly messaged Zaki so they could coordinate the finale of this operation.

"My beauty, our dear Davi has asked for a great finale. I am on my way up with Little Shin. We need to time this attack to perfection so I need to know when to let Little Shin in the room, okay?"

"Affirmative," was Zaki's short reply.

Hinari, at this point, was very excited as she could finally leave the car and be closer to the action.

Little Shin, who had just woken up, was rubbing his eyes, looking around in a daze, looking for someone in particular.

"Where's mommy?" he asked and Hinari cuddled the little man as she replied, "your mommy is with your daddy at the moment. I will take you to her now." Please visit freewebnovel.com

As Hinari was heading up with little Shin, she heard another buzz. "Target shot in heart. Ready to commence final attack in 3 minutes."

"Perfect. We are on our way." Hinari could barely contain her excitement. Here we go! I hope this works!

"Reinforcement enter!"

The door slowly opened and the moment little Shin saw his mom, he ran straight to her, calling out, "Mommy!" and Hinari was finally in the action!

"Ohh... I see. Mommy, you got tired from massaging daddy right?" The boy suddenly asked intently and before Davi could reply, Little Shin asked his mother to put him down.

As soon as Davi put him down, the little guy held her hand and lead her towards the couch. Little Shin made her sit on the couch like a gentleman. Everyone was looking at them, including Sei who was curious about what his son was about to do, even though he already had a hunch what he might be thinking.

Little Shin then climb on the couch and knelt behind his mother.

"I will massage you while we wait for daddy." The little guy sweetly said and Davi's lips suddenly once again curved up a little, causing Sei, Hinari and Zaki who were looking at them intently to widen their eyes in another surprise.

"S-s-she smiled, right? Right?!" Hinari whispered as she reflexively tugged Zaki's shirt hard that the man shook. She almost yelled but because of her fear that Sei might scold her for yelling inside his majestic office, Hinari could only vent her excitement to the man beside her.

"Did you see that? She smiled, right?" Hinari repeated. This time, she put one of her arms around Zaki's neck and pulled him until his ear was brushing against her cheek.

"My plan is successful, right?!" She continued, unable to restrain herself from shouting anymore, then she suddenly dragged Zaki out of the door.

As soon as the door closed, Hinari yelled like she just won a million dollar lottery while Zaki just looked at her ecstatic face as she leaned on the door.

When the girl finally quietened down, she dashed towards Zaki and looked at him with starts in her eye.

"So? So? What happened? I saw that the secretary seemed to be dead already so I'm sure the show is already over. Now, it's time for you to talk. Tell me Beauty, what happened inside? What did my Davi do to kill her like that? I actually thought this might be a long drawn battle but that woman seemed to have lost all her will to fight, right? Right? Now talk.. tell me, tell me."

As Hinari persistently asked Zaki to tell her about what happened inside, Zaki breathed in deep before he raised his hand and caught her face. His fingers slightly dug onto her cheek as he pulled her face closer to him.

"Didn't you say you hate me? I won't be a story teller to someone who hates me." He said and Hinari could only blink her eyes.

Hinari: "...???"

Meanwhile, Lin Jingyi's final resistance finally crumbled into ashes. She was like a warrior on the battlefield who just experienced a tragic and lamentable defeat. Finally, the bullet pierced through her persistent and delusional heart and she simply stood there like a lifeless vassal. She just looked like the world was over for her. Well, it is indeed over. The wife that she thought was long dead and the wife Sei was desperately waiting for incessantly all these years was actually alive all along and she was back.

That moment, when Lin Jingyi looked at Davi, goosebumps crawled on her entire being. For some reason, Davi suddenly turned into a formidable and unparalleled phoenix in her eyes. Lin Jingyi didn't know why but Davi instantly appeared terrifyingly much bigger than her as though Lin Jingyi suddenly turned into a chick compared to her.
