

ILY Monster 348

"Ryou, wait for us here okay? Don't follow us. We don't need a body guard since my Davi is now way more badass than you. Got it?" Hinari who just climbed out of the car said and Ryou immediately replied.

"You know I can't do that, Miss Hinari. Even if the boss' wife can now save herself, I still need to be there to keep watch. After all, you, who knows nothing about fighting, are with her." He replied and Hinari raised her brow.

"Are you telling me you're afraid I might drag Davi down?" Hinari asked and when Ryou didn't answer, she puffed her cheeks as she narrowed her eyes while glaring at him.

T-this little... be thankful I am being restricted these days or else I would totally make you regret underestimating the power of a weak looking woman!

"Don't you worry Little brother Ryou, I will ask my dear Zaki to teach me martial arts soon as well. So you better improve your fighting skills, because in the near future, you will be the first man I will beat to pulp when the time comes. Oh well, there is still plenty of time for you to prepare so you better start doing so now. So be good and stay here, don't follow us unless... you're a gossip boy who loves following pretty girls around." Hinari continued with a little bit of sarcasm and a mischievous tone before she closed the car's door, leaving Ryou speechless for a long while before he shook his head. This girl... who the hell is your little brother?! And what, me, a gossip?! Tsk! No wonder Zaki keeps losing his cool whenever he's with her... that woman is a real headache...

Hinari lead Davi into a corner and she immediately started to question her upon ordering some drinks. She was so damn excited to hear how Davi executed her legendary face slapping that sucked Lin Jingyi's spirit away and she even managed to achieve it in less than an hour.

Since Davi could see just how eager her best friend was, she could only start spilling the details to her. And as expected, Hinari looked exactly like a die-hard reader of a certain novel who was squealing over the great performance of her favorite female lead. Her face was obviously delighted and the way she looked at Davi kept turning into something like great admiration.

Every now and again, Hinari would sigh with regret at not being at the scene and then she would clap her hands delightedly when Davi described the reaction of the other woman as the face slapping was handed out to her.

Time went by and when Hinari was finally satisfied, she calmed down. Well, aside from her plan in monopolizing Davi for an hour to have her long awaited girly chat with her, Hinari also brought Davi into a bar for the sake of her other plan; operation punishment.

However, something unforeseen happened. Just as Hinari was about to begin to implement her plan, Davi suddenly dozed off, making Hinari speechless and surprised to the core. Err... what?!

"D-davi? Hey!" Hinari reached out her hand and held Davi's shoulder. She gently shook her and when Davi's head suddenly fell on the table, Hinari's eyes could only widen in disbelief.

Wait... something's wrong here. Isn't Davi a badass soldier now? How could she...

Hinari stared at the bottle of alcohol she gave her and she was shocked to find out that the bottle wasn't even half empty yet but Davi was already knocked down?! Are you serious?

Completely surprised at the unexpected turn of event, Hinari could only face palm herself. She never expected that this new badass Davi was still the same Davi who was weak when it came to alcohol consumption. She even seemed like she got worse! Don't tell me she had not even had a drop of alcohol in the last five years! For real?! Why didn't you tell me?! What am I going to do now?! I'm sure your husband will really feed me to the crocodiles now... I'm so dead...

Hinari was in a slight panic as she looked around. She wanted to cry but no tears came out of her eyes. Hinari actually planned to make Davi drunk a little before intending to instruct her about the punishment but she never expected Davi to actually lose consciousness at this moment. Forcing Hinari to give up her plan as she immediately helped Davi up so they could go back immediately. Well, she could not afford to anger that ice king after all. She must return Davi to Little Shin as soon as possible before the ice king find out that his beloved wife was knocked down in the bar.

However, as soon as the two stepped out of the bar and were walking towards the black car parked not too far from them, three men suddenly stood up before them. Hinari was dragging the 90% unconscious Davi with all her strength as Davi's hand was wrapped around Hinari's shoulder while Hinari's hand was on Davi's waist.

Upon seeing the men who dared to stop them, Hinari raised her faced and glared at them.

"Get out of my way." She coldly said but the men simply smirked. In one glance, Hinari realized these filthy pigs were up to no good. They even looked like they were so drunk. Their eyes were red and their gazes were damn disgusting.

Hinari immediately felt the danger. She wanted to activate her skill at that moment to find some way to escape but with Davi like this, her trick would not be a good option.

"I said get out of our way. Do you know who we are? This woman here is the wife of a tycoon, don't you even dare to mess with her." Hinari started threatening them but the men simply laughed and one of them even reached out his hand and held Hinari's face, causinh Hinari to shiver in disgust.

"If this woman is the wife of a tycoon then won't messing with her be more fun?" the man said as they laughed and Hinari's knees began to weaken the moment one of them snatched Davi away from her.

"No! Don't you dare touch her with your filthy hands, you idiot! I'm telling you, you will regret it if you do. You will experience torture worse than you can ever imagine that you will be begging for the mercy of death! You hear me? That woman is the wife of that Chen Seiji you understand?!" Hinari yelled at the top of her throat. However, the men laughed even louder as soon as they heard her.

"Oh, the wife of the country's most powerful man, huh. Really? You think we're idiots to believe you?" One of them scoffed before another man held Hinari's face again.

"Oh well, if that woman is the wife of the great tycoon, Chen Seiji, then I'm his little brother, the second to him, Chen Zaki." He said with a devilish laugh and Hinari gritted her teeth.

"How dare you! Damn you! Don't you even joke about being my Zaki, you ugly pig! You can't even compare yourself with his toenails you lowly piece of shit!" Hinari yelled again when the man slapped her.

"Whatever, now let's just taste this so called Chen Seiji's woman." One of them said and when he held Davi's face, Hinari who hadn't even recovered yet from the slap she received, went berserk again.

"No!! Let go of her! Don't touch her!! I will kill you if you touch her!! Let go of her you filthy asshole!!" Hinari screamed and tears began to fall from her eyes. But the man simply smiled at her before he turned his gaze to Davi who's eyes were still shut closed.

"Ohh... this one really looks so delicious. F*ck! She's a real goddess! I can't wait to taste her!" The man said with a disgusting voice and Hinari continued screaming as she struggled wildly by the hands of two men holding her.

"No!! Davi!!! Wake up please!! Kill that asshole! Don't let that filthy pig touch you!!! Davi!!!" she screamed nonstop but no one seemed to be listening to her. Until the man holding Davi finally moved. He held Davi's nape and he was about to kiss her when...

Out of nowhere, the man felt a cold hand suddenly clasped his neck.
