ILY Monster 39

Sei suddenly closed his eyes then held the girl's wrist, stopping her from petting his hair. At that moment, Davi looked stunned, looking as though she just woke up from her warm fuzzy dream.

However, not giving her anymore chance to react, Sei abruptly rose.

And the next thing he did made her eyes widened. Sei lifted her without any warning and carried her like a princess.

Davi was shocked, but she sensed the sudden surge of coldness coming from him, she thought she might have had really overdid it this time. His sudden coldness made her thought he might not like the petting she just did. So while holding on to his neck, Davi leaned her head into his shoulder, looking as though the girl on cloud nine just now suddenly fell on the cold ground. For some reason, she suddenly felt sorry. When she wrote these steps on her note, Davi already expected them to not always work one hundred percent and he might even end up disliking some of them. She expected the possibilities, however, now that it actually happened, she didn't know it actually felt indescribably disheartening.

"I'm sorry," she uttered causing Sei to suddenly halt.

"Why are you saying sorry?" he asked with a voice frozen cold. Davi felt a shiver down her spine as her eyes were locked on his sexy Adam's apple.

"Be-because..." Davi's voice was sad and apologetic and nervous. Sei instantly felt her emotions so he breathed deep and he forced himself to suppress his inner darkness.

"B-because I kept petting your head... when you didn't like it." She continued, and as soon as she heard the reason why she's suddenly apologizing, Sei instantly loosen up and his terrifying aura instantly died down as he started walking again.

"You don't have to, I don't hate it." He responded, leaving Davi dumbfounded and mystified to the core. Then why did he suddenly felt really angry about something just now?

"Get the car," he ordered like an absolute dictator. And while Davi was busy brainstorming, Sei was thinking deep. He didn't expect that she actually misunderstood him just now. He even scared her and made her apologized for something that wasn't her fault at all. And thinking about those, his darkness almost burst out of its cage again as though he was getting really angry on a certain someone, to the point that if Davi wasn't on his arms at that moment, something unthinkable might already have had happened.

Until they finally entered inside a car. Upon sitting, Sei talked right away as though he was in rush.

"To the hospital."

"Eh?" Davi was surprised, "No need. I can take care of this on my own."

However, her protest didn't make the man budge this time. He was obviously anxious with her wounds so Davi could only agree with him in the end.

City Hospital.

Davi was on the disguised Zaki's back as they entered the hospital, leaving Sei and Ryou in the car waiting for their return. And after a while, she was treated right away like someone very special. And in no time, it finally ended.

She then hopped back to Mr. Chen's back and on their way back to the car, Zaki started talking to her.

"Young miss, can I ask you something?" he asked.

"How about we exchange questions? I'll answer yours and you'll answer mine."

Speechless with her sudden negotiation, Zaki could only chuckle. Not bad.

"Haha, how clever. Okay, as long as you won't ask about the forbidden."

"I won't."

"Then, I'll go first... what do you think about the young master? I mean right now, how do you feel about him?"
