

ILY Monster 398

Back in the courtyard, Davi and Sei were panting as they laid on the grass looking at the moon, shining above them like their faithful witness.

Their fingers were intertwined as they lay there with big smiles on their faces. Without needing to say a word, the two simply lay there, looking up at the vast night sky, eyes filled with wonder at the slim chances of them ever meeting each other in the vast world they lived in. Fate definitely played a part in bringing their soul together.

Their hearts were beating as one and they both felt like they were flying high above the clouds. They were just too happy that words weren't enough for them to describe how they felt.

Davi raised her hand and looked at the ring on her finger.

"Sei... it's beautiful." She said as she turned at Sei when the man lifted his hand and caressed her cheek, his eyes glistening like sparkling crystals as he spoke.

"Mm. But you are still the most beautiful." He said, as admiration was clearly written on his face.

Hearing his words, Davi smiled and then she rolled over him until she ended up on top of him. She too then lifted her hand and caressed the man's cheek gently.

"You really surprised me tonight, darling. When did you prepare all these? The fireflies too? I'm starting to think that my fiancé might have some superpowers and that you have somehow called the goddess of fireflies to serve you." She said. Her eyes were still filled with wonder. Seeing her reaction, Sei reached out his hand to pinch her cheek softly.

"Mm, I have got superpowers. I got them the day I met you." He replied when Davi suddenly bumped her forehead to his playfully.

"Sei... when did you learn to spout such cheesy nonsense?"

"Hmm? It's not nonsense. I can do anything as long as I have you. That's a fact."

"..."

"But with the fireflies, I started breeding them here five years ago in preparation for this night." Sei said and upon hearing that Sei had started preparing his proposal five years ago, Davi's eyes welled again and tears of joy fell from her eyes.

She pulled away a little and her tears also fell on Sei's face.

"Darling... I'm so touched. Who knew you were such a romantic, after all? I love you, I love you soooo, sooo much." She said and this time she was the one who kissed him. She couldn't contain her happiness anymore. She loved this man with all her heart and he loved her back. They had a wonderful and adorable son who was made out of that love. What more could a girl want?

The two then rolled over the grass as their kiss intensified. Davi's kiss was wild and deep as if she wanted to devour Sei at that very moment. Sei could feel that she was not retraining anything this time and she was the one in control. Her kisses this time were the wildest ever that Sei was starting to lose his mind.

However, when they finally broke the kiss, Sei held her shoulders to stop her. Both of them were panting from the long kiss, trying to catch their breath. Davi's gaze at Sei was so damn seductive. She looked like she was a hungry female fox.

"I'm afraid you might catch a cold if we stay out here for much longer." Sei forced himself to speak despite the overwhelming desire that was swallowing him whole, but, his voice was full of concern and worry as he said those words, so Davi immediately agreed with him.

He then stood up, helping Davi up after him.

Once she was on her feet, he immediately scooped her up into his arms and carried her like a princess as he walked towards the house. As they left, the fireflies were awakened once again and floated around them.

"Sei, I felt like we are in wonderland." She said and as soon as he heard him, he stopped and he spun around as he smiled, awakening more fireflies, before he again continued walking.

By the time they entered the living room, Davi was expecting Sei to bring her to their room, that special room where they spent their first night together. However, Sei instead walked towards the couch and gently put her down on it, surprising Davi.

Davi looked at him as she blinked and when she realized that he didn't seem to be planning on bringing her to the room, Davi spoke.

"Sei... can we go to our room tonight?" she said. Her eyes were twinkling with longing and desire that almost drove Sei mad. He knew what she wanted but he had his reasons for not going there.

Sei then rubbed the back of his neck, biting his lip.

"Uhm... we can't... for now..." As Sei started to explain, Davi suddenly yanked him to her and kissed him hard again. She was so seductive that Sei just wanted to let go of everything to finally have her again. However, in the middle of an intense kiss, Sei pushed Davi's shoulder to break away from her.

"Davi... I... I want to do everything properly this time around. So, can I ask you to please wait for our wedding night?"

Davi: "...?!"