

ILY Monster 435

Like a car that screeched to a halt, Sei immediately froze in place and let Davi catch him. He slowly faced her like a robot raising a white flag.

Seeing her chibi Sei acting all cute and cuddly with his oh so priceless expressions, Davi almost forgot about her plan and just felt like squeezing him tight. Gladly, she persevered and she forced herself to act mad.

She crossed her arms as she stood before him and the man immediately looked like he had already admitted his complete surrender.

"My wife, I'm sorry. I won't run away again," he said as he lowered his gaze. When Davi was about to speak, the man suddenly knelt down.

"It fell again. I'll fix it," he continued and he started folding up Davi's pants. Well, a while ago, the conservative Sei looked so gloomy when Davi wore her sexy beach wear. He wasn't pleased with Davi's outfit that he hastily ordered Kaide to fetch some full length pants for his wife. He asked her to change and wear the pants Kaide brought saying that Davi's soft and long legs, her beautiful curves and white skin were only for him to see. Of course, Davi didn't mind since their job for today was to stalk Zaki and Hinari so she agreed to her dearest's wishes. After all, she didn't want her hubby's mood to stay all gloomy like he was a sad puppy.

Thus, the situation they were in now.

"This is why I told you that the short shorts was fine. This will just keep falling down." Davi complained but Sei just raised his face and smiled at her.

"It's fine, my wife. I'm enjoying folding it up so don't worry," he said and Davi pressed her lips together to stop herself from smiling.Google search freewebovel.com

"But that won't do! We won't catch up to them if we keep stopping because of this." Davi still complained as she looked towards Zaki and Hinari moving further away from them. But as she said those words, suddenly, Sei turned around and crouched before her.

"Then I'll carry you. Hop on my back, my wife."

Looking at Sei's back, Davi finally smiled and she jumped on his back without any hesitation. How could she reject such a royal piggy back ride from her king?

And so, just like that, Davi forgot about the tickling punishment and she enjoyed the ride as they both happily chased their target.

Meanwhile, a certain guard not far from them was murmuring to himself.

"Ahh... why are we here again? Are we here to guard or to eat excessive dog food! They're torturing my single heart! Ahh! I want to go home now..!"

"I shouldn't have come! Why did I come anyway? His special armies are already here. Kir and Ryou are also here! What do they need me for? Huh? Dear self, shall we go home?"

"I better sneak away, I can't watch this anymore or I'll die!"

"I would've been fine if it was only the boss and his wife but Zaki too? This is lethal."

Kaide continued uttering to himself as he moved away from his spot when someone cleared his throat, causing him to halt.

"Big bro, where do you think you're going? Shall I send a signal to the big boss that you're trying to sneak away?" Yujin was the one who spoke. The twins suddenly appeared wearing a pair of white beach wear and Kaide was startled.

"You little brats! Who's leaving? I am just trying to go to the other spot and watch some sexy single girls out there! Those two are no fun. They chased all the women away."

"Big bro, stop complaining and do your job."

"Shut up, you loyal brats. I will retire as Sei's follower soon. I will never find my own girl if this continues! This pretty man shall go and search the world and find his princess!"

"Ohh... is that so? Yijin, did you record that?" Yujin turned towards his brother and the quiet young man simply nodded.

"Okay, let's give it to the big boss later. Ahh, I can finally take over your position big bro. Let's go Yijin, big bro Kir is sending us a signal."

"H-huh?! Wait! Damn brats, get back here!"
