

ILY Monster 471

After the steamy kiss the lovey dovey couple shared, Davi spoke.

"Darling, you said Zaki was waiting outside. I think you should go now. I'm afraid I might drag you to my room if you stay longer than this." She teased and Sei's finger caressed her cheek.

"I don't mind. We can have a quickie." He replied and Davi almost choked. This husband of hers really was so bold now and he was getting even bolder as time went by.

"Ahem, darling? You do want me to concentrate on this job you gave me, right?"

"Well... y-yes."

"Then, you should go now. I'm afraid I'll end up being exhausted if we go for it now and my work will get disrupted."

"O-okay, I understand."

Sei was obviously disappointed but he was more than willing this time. He stepped back and made distance between them as he looked like he was about to pout, causing Davi to smile widely.

"I won't be there to watch out for those two so you should watch them carefully, okay? Also, have Kaide took good photos."

"Hmm? Why Kaide? I can do it myself."

"Err... I think it's better if it's Kaide since you have little Shin to take care of..."

"That's right. Okay, I'll make sure to keep watching."

"Mm. I'll be waiting for some good news."

"Okay, I'll go ahead then."

"Mm. See you tomorrow, darling."

As soon as Davi kissed Sei's cheek, Sei smiled and he turned but after taking just three steps, Sei suddenly halted. Davi was about to ask if he forgot something when all of a sudden, Sei yanked her into his arms and kissed her hard again.

When their lips parted, Sei planted a soft kiss on her forehead before he spoke.

"See you tomorrow, my wife." He whispered and Davi could only smile.

"Mm. See you, I love you."

"I love you."

By the time the revitalized and blissful looking Sei entered the car, he was surprised as soon as he looked at Zaki. It was because Zaki seemed to be in a daze that he might not even noticed his arrival.

"He's been in that state for quite a while now boss. I don't know if he can hear us." Ryou said and Sei narrowed his eyes. He then moved closer to Zaki whose gaze was glued onto the flowers in his hands.

When there was no reaction from him, Sei slowly waved his hand in front of Zaki's face. Still, the man remained frozen, causing Sei to sigh. Who would have thought that this Zaki, who was always trolling people and always talking or laughing too much, was actually this quiet and serious when he was in love? Indeed, love can turn people upside down.

"Zaki," Sei called out and when there was still no response, Sei raised his hand again. But this time chibi Sei poked Zaki's cheek with his forefinger. Zaki seemed to finally snap out of it but Sei didn't stop poking him until Zaki's veins began to pop one after another.

"Oi!! That's enough! Will you stop now?!" Zaki finally burst. He couldn't catch Sei's hand because he was holding the flowers with the utmost care in this world.

"Ohh... so you're awake now. Good." Sei casually said before he looked at Ryou. "Okay, let's go."

"You are very nervous, right? Don't worry, your big brother is here to support you." Sei turned back to Zaki and he continued speaking.

"..."

"Why don't you talk while we are on our way there? You can relax that way."

"..."

"Or, you can practice with me. C'mon go ahead. Practice the words you will tell her. You did this for me before so don't be shy."

"..."

"C'mon, just think that you're an actor or something-"

"Sei..."

"Hmm? What is it? You need advice? You-"

"Please be quiet. When did Sei become so talkative? Are you really Sei?!"

Sei: "..."

Upon those words left Zaki's mouth, a short silence went by before Kir and Ryou broke it.

Kir: "Zaki, that's rude. You can't say that to your big brother, the boss."

Ryou: "Pffft!! You too, Zaki. You are so unusually silent lately. Are you really Zaki?!"
