

ILY Monster 62

Davi was dumbfounded for a moment as her eyes were glued with the man on the entrance. But as soon as she heard the sound of the phone indicating that the call has ended, she finally snapped awake.

She slowly put her cellphone down and she felt her ears suddenly heating up as the man started walking closer to her.

That moment, Davi's emotions were getting ahead of her. Sei's appearance was a bolt from the blue making her temporarily lost her brain's ability to process things. And while Sei was getting closer, time just seemed to slowed down and Davi could only watch him walking towards her with a blank mind.

Somehow, the peaceful yet melancholic atmosphere a moment ago went somewhat dramatic. The masked man in black was gazing at the girl on the couch as he slowly walked towards her, while the girl wearing a large white t-shirt just sat there as she waits for his approach. It was a scene that was perfect for a movie, as if they were two people secretly longing for each other.

However, the movie-like scenario didn't last long. Out of nowhere, a large face of a shameless someone suddenly popped in front of Davi, instantly destroying the emotional atmosphere as if he was the uncooperative third wheel who was more excited witnessing a couple's brawl than a romantic play.

He stood just in front of her before Sei could even get near.

"Hello young miss. I heard you said, you wanted to beat the young master, is that true?"

The first statement she heard from this soldier looking third wheel upon his return immediately made her stunned. What the hell is he talking about?

That moment, Davi suddenly felt like he wanted to beat this man instead. However, when she finally remembered the words she said that night, she gasped and her eyes reflexively roamed around as if she's looking for someone.

At that time the young man Yijin just stepped in the entrance when Davi's glare immediately caught him, causing him to felt a sudden chill.

Yijin instantly went pale and putting his palm together, he gestured the word sorry while his pretty face turned terribly apologetic before he retreated like a trembling little puppy.

After seeing the boy's regretful face, Davi could only sigh before she looked at the man looking like a hungry gossip guy in front of her.

"T-that was..." Davi couldn't continue talking because Sei casually pulled the guy away in front of her, as if he was some unnecessary little block on his way.

After that, he stood close to her as his gaze fell on her.

"Did I upset you?" he asked and he sounded as though he was trying to confirm it.

As soon as she heard him, Davi felt like her face turned impossibly hot. She was suddenly feeling embarrassed, however, she still nodded honestly.

Looking at her red face, Sei sat beside her and continued, "I will let you beat me, go ahead."

Hearing his statement, Davi's eyes slowly widened in disbelief.

"H-huh?" What did he just say?
