

ILY Monster 79

By the time Davi finally revert back to her usual cheery self, she raised her head and looked at him. And again, she was mesmerized by his seemingly illusionary enchanting eyes. It was just too beautiful that there was no cure for it.

"D-did you disguised your eyes as well?" she asked. But her question seemed to be unclear to him that he just looked at her innocently as if he doesn't have a clue.

Davi somehow felt her question was stupid. However, she still asked.

"I mean... are you using contact lens?" she asked again and this time, the man shook his head. That same moment, Davi gasped in disbelief. She once heard that grey eyes were among the rarest eyes color on earth. However, to her, Sei's smokey-silver eyes were still one of a kind that she couldn't even begin to describe how beautiful it was.

Gosh! How could anyone have such godly gorgeous eyes?

In the middle of her fascination, she finally noticed that he was staring somewhere. Davi then followed his line of sight and she saw the poor daffodil in her hand. It was pretty crumpled and bent.

"This... this is supposed to be for you but..." she said before she immediately hid it behind her as she smiled at him awkwardly. "I'll just buy you another one," she added, however, the man instantly reached out his hand.

Davi was surprised as she looked at him.

"I'll take it." He said and his beautiful eyes seemed gravely intent to have it that Davi couldn't do a thing but give him the crumpled flower in her hand.

As soon as he took it, Davi couldn't help but smile radiantly, as if the gloomy weather a while ago magically turned into a fine bright day the moment he appeared. At that point of time, Davi thought that this was actually the real perfect moment for her to give it to him. Even though her original purpose on giving it to him was actually different.

Upon receiving it, Sei then lifted the flower and he scrutinized it for a while before he gazed back at her.

"What's does this flower means?"

Sei's unexpected question somewhat stunned her. She didn't expect him to ask. Does this man really don't know or he's just trying to make me say it?

"Er..." Davi bit her lip as she looked at him and then at the flower in his hand. As what she learned from her late grandmother, the daffodil actually has few meanings, some of which were 'Regard', 'Unrequited love', 'You're the only one' and 'The sun is always shining when I'm with you'.

Wait, could it be that he was asking because he's just making sure which of those meaning is the one I'm trying to convey? How sly.

Thinking about that possibility made Davi struggled a bit. It was because, the original plan in giving him that flower was initially to confuse him. She wasn't supposed to tell him.

However, now that he actually asked, and because of the unexpected turn of events, Davi could only answer him.

Davi then stared at him and began to talk.
