

Read Novel Loving You In Secret Chapter 1671

Loving You In Secret Chapter 1671-Since Vernon was the head of the family, Alana did not dare to argue with him. She turned back and continued to pass on her wisdom to Avery.

“All a man cares about is his ego. Just let him marry whoever he wants. Otherwise, he’ll just get a mistress or two after you’re married to him. The one thing in this world that you shouldn’t count on is a man’s feelings for you.

“Even if he decides to marry Vicky today, what’s not to say he won’t divorce her tomorrow? So you see, it’s not about Vicky. As a matter of fact, it could be any other woman.

Plus, you’re pregnant with his kid, so you shouldn’t worry too much. There’ll be plenty of opportunities for you to see him once the baby is born.”

‘Mom’s right. Tyler will eventually be mine as long as I have the baby. I can use the baby to get closer to him!’ thought Avery, feeling much better after listening to Alana.

“Thanks, Mom. I know what to do now,” she said.

Alana was relieved to see her daughter feeling better.

“Avery, don’t forget. Even if you don’t have the baby, we still have something to hold over his head.”

“Really? What is it?”

“Remember the three projects he gave us last time? Well, they’re enough to cause huge damage to the Hart family. I won’t be surprised if his family decides to cut ties with him!”

Only then did Avery know what her mother was talking about. A second later, she smiled evilly.

After the Yeagers left, everyone's attention shifted to Vicky and Tyler.

Valencia instinctively frowned when she saw Vicky.

"Tyler, what's the meaning of this? Why did you bring her here?" she asked.

Tyler interlocked his fingers with Vicky's, and their two identical rings glinted brightly under the light.

"It's exactly as you think," replied Tyler.

Orion's face changed. "Tyler, you..."

Tyler cut in before he could finish his sentence, "The wedding date has been chosen, and it'll be held at the end of next month. You and Mom are more than welcome to come, but I won't force you if you don't want to come."

He spoke resolutely, leaving no room for negotiation. He only came to inform them and not to ask for their opinions, so Valencia and Orion had to swallow their words.

After that, he added lightly, "It's getting late. We'll be going home now."

He did not wait for any response as he pulled Vicky out of the place.

It was slightly chilly that night. The two of them walked along the empty street.

Tyler was the first to break the silence between them. "Don't you have anything you want to say?"

Vicky frowned and turned to look at him, his handsome profile cloaked in darkness. She opened her mouth, wanting to say something, but she closed it again as she did not know where to begin. There were just too many questions running through her mind.

Tyler must have guessed what she was thinking about as he said, "I have no right to ask her to get rid of the baby if she insists on keeping it." 4

Vicky knew that. Babies would never be guilty of anything. Besides, that kid could not be strictly called an illegitimate child.

During that period, they were not really together, so she had no right to request anything of Tyler. To be more accurate, she was actually the mistress in that case.

However, she could not help but feel resentful whenever she thought of her own baby.

Loving You In Secret Chapter 1672-Vicky did not even feel a little bit of joy at the prospect of their wedding.

"So what's going on with the wedding?" she asked.

"It's been arranged as we speak," answered Tyler impassively. "It'll be held at the end of next month."

Vicky frowned. "But I haven't..."

She was going to say that she had not agreed to anything when Tyler cut her off. "I've already decided, so I'm not going to cancel the wedding."

He looked down at her frowning face.

"You don't look like you're happy," he commented.

Vicky was indeed not happy. Everything felt like a dream to her. She did not understand why Tyler would suddenly want to marry her.

"Is it because you have some concerns?" Tyler asked gently. "You can tell me if you have."

Vicky did not know what to say.

“If you’re worried about the baby, don’t be. I promise you I’ll never let it come between us,” he added. 3

Tyler pulled her into his embrace and kissed her forehead.

“You can go over the wedding details with the wedding planner and choose whichever destination you want for the honeymoon. You can also invite all of your friends. By the way, do you want to do a livestream for the wedding ceremony?”

“No.” Vicky’s focus was not on the wedding. She leaned against his chest and asked quietly, “Can you forgive someone who has lied to you?”

“It depends on who that person is.”

Vicky looked up, and their eyes met. His eyes were as mysterious as the night sky.

“I can forgive that person if she were you,” he added.

Vicky’s heart thumped wildly.

“You should spend your time planning for the wedding instead of thinking about other stuff.” Tyler rested his cheek against hers. “I’ll ask Adam to bring you the information tomorrow, and you can go over the details with your friends if you want.”

Vicky said nothing more. 1

The next day, Aurora asked Vicky out the moment she woke up. She could not wait to find out about what happened last night.

“Vicky, are you really getting married? Have you chosen the date for the wedding?! Tyler didn’t try to delay the whole thing by sweet-talking you, did he?” asked Aurora the moment she saw Vicky in the coffee house.

Aurora then realized Vicky looked like she had a lot of things going through her mind. She waved her hand in front of her face.

“What’s the matter, Vicky? Why do you look so out of it?”

Vicky snapped back to the present. “It’s nothing.”

Aurora took a closer look at Vicky’s face. Frowning, she said, “Vicky, you don’t look too happy. Could it be…”

Suddenly, her face changed. “Is Tyler just playing with you? Like, he doesn’t really want to marry you at all?”

Vicky smiled bitterly. “No. I won’t be surprised if he just wants to play with me, but what really surprised me is… He seems like he really wants to marry me. He even decided on the wedding date already.”

“Isn’t that a good thing? It means he’s serious about you.”

Vicky shook her head. “But something feels off about the whole thing.”

“Could you be more specific?”

“Don’t you think it’s weird he would want to suddenly marry me when we haven’t been together for that long?”

Aurora finally understood what Vicky’s concern was. She looked at her and said, “But you guys do know each other for a long time already. He might’ve lost his memory, but I’m sure he didn’t lose his love for you. No matter how much you pretend that you don't know him, your feelings toward him aren't the same as the feelings you would have toward a new guy, right?"

Loving You In Secret Chapter 1673-Vicky said nothing.

Seeing this, Aurora could not help but tease her, "Vicky, don't tell me you're getting cold feet?"

Vicky took a sip of her coffee. "I've already been married once. Why would I get cold feet?"

"Well, you didn't have a wedding then. Not to mention, thousands of people will be attending the wedding this time, so it must feel different. By the way..." Avery looked at her. "Are you going to invite reporters or hold a livestream on the day of the wedding?"

Vicky shook her head. "I haven't thought about all that."

"What does Tyler think?"

"He left the decision to me."

Aurora was relieved to hear that. She nodded and said, "It's good he doesn't deliberately try to hide your existence. This way, you can salvage your reputation a little."

Seeing Vicky still unhappy, Aurora added, "Come on, Vicky. Cheer up a little! Tyler will be upset if he sees you like this.

You know how he treats you when he's upset, right?"

Suddenly, she thought of something, so she asked hesitantly, "Vicky, is there a possibility he regained some of his memory? I mean, that could explain why he'd want to marry you all of a sudden."

This was not the first time Aurora had brought up that possibility with Vicky. Because of that, Vicky paid very close attention to any signs that might point toward Tyler having regained some of his memories. This one time, she even got Tyler drunk on purpose.

However, Tyler was very hard to read. He was very astute, so it was difficult for Vicky to test him.

After thinking about it, Vicky replied, "There is...a possibility."

Aurora frowned. "Vicky, have you ever thought about coming clean with Tyler?"

"I have. But I don't know where to begin telling him everything."

Aurora knew that was the crux of the problem for Vicky.

"If Tyler has regained his memory but didn't say anything about it, he probably thought it wasn't worth hashing out the past. But I suggest you come clean with him if you're bothered by the matter. This is going to affect your relationship forever."

Vicky nodded. "You're right. I'll find time to talk to him about it."

She thought it was best to start the marriage with a clean slate.

Vicky planned to have a good talk with Tyler before the wedding. However, she could not find the opportunity to do so until a few days before the wedding since she only had a month to plan for the wedding.

Tyler was also busier than usual lately. He would often go out early in the morning and come home late at night.

Vicky tried to wait for him to come home, but lately, she had been feeling more tired than usual and would often be asleep by the time Tyler came home. He would be gone by the time she woke up the next day.

Vicky was also very busy. She not only had to plan for the wedding, but her work at the studio was piling up as well.

They had not seen each other much from the day Tyler brought up the wedding. Vicky thought, given the attitude his family held toward her, the Harts would stop the wedding from happening at all costs.

However, reality proved her wrong. There was no news, not even a single phone call, from either Valencia or Orion.

Since the wedding day was nearing, Vicky thought she could not procrastinate any longer, so she decided to call Tyler.

“Hey, Vicky. What’s up?” asked Tyler.

“Are you free now? There’s something I’d like to talk to you about.”

Tyler was a little surprised by that. “Is it important?”

“Yes. Very.”

“Did something happen?”

Vicky stared at the walls blankly. She did not know where to begin.

“Vicky? Are you still here?” asked Tyler when she did not say anything.

Vicky’s hands tightened around her phone. “Actually, it’s not true that we never saw each other in the four years we’ve been married...”

Tyler fell silent. He suddenly understood something.

Loving You In Secret Chapter 1674-Is that all you wanted to tell me?” asked Tyler.

“There’s more...”

However, before she could say anything else, she heard Tyler's secretary saying, "Mister Tyler, everyone's waiting for you in the meeting room. You may go now."

"Okay. I got it."

After that, there was the sound of papers rustling.

"Are you going to a meeting?"

"Yeah."

"Then when's a good time to call you back?"

"Vicky," said Tyler suddenly.

"Yes?"

"I know what you wanted to say."

"You knew?" she asked in shock.

"I have a sense of what's going on, sort of."

Vicky heard the sound of the door opening.

"This matter isn't really that serious to me, so just focus on the wedding planning. We can talk about this after the wedding."

Tyler sounded so calm that Vicky did not know how to react. "I have to go to the meeting now. Talk to you later," he said in a rush.

He then hung up the phone without waiting for Vicky's response.

As time passed, the news of Tyler and Vicky getting married spread like wildfire.

Avery got to know the wedding date from Old Mister Hart. Even though she felt comforted by her mother's words, she could not help but fly into a jealous rage at the thought of Tyler getting married to Vicky.

In fact, she would not be so angry if Tyler was getting married to someone else other than Vicky! No woman had ever made Avery feel such a threat. Thus, she wished very badly that the wedding would not go on. She decided to do a paternity test for the baby in her womb days before the wedding.

"Maybe the reason Tyler doesn't want to marry me is because he's not sure whether the baby is his. He'll surely care about the baby once the DNA test confirms he's the father!"

Avery felt a little better after thinking that way.

However, she became shell-shocked when she got the result —the baby was not Tyler's!

"No! Impossible! This can't be!" Avery kept shaking her head. She could not accept the truth at all.

Alana, who had come with her daughter to get the result, had a foreboding feeling when she saw how pale and shocked Avery was.

"Avery, what's the matter? Have you gotten the result?"

Avery looked dazedly at Alana with trembling eyes.

"Impossible. The baby has to be Tyler's..." she kept on muttering.

Alana's face changed when she heard that. "Does that mean the baby's father is Lincoln?"

Avery did not even think of the possibility that the baby's father might be Lincoln, so she did not test for it. In her heart, it was either Tyler or someone else other than Lincoln.

“Mom! Tyler will never marry me now!” Avery looked at her mother in wide-eyed horror. “What should I do now? The baby isn’t Tyler’s...”

Loving You In Secret Chapter 1675-Alana quickly looked around to see whether anyone was around. She sighed with relief when she saw no one was around.

“Calm down, Avery. The only people who know about this are you, me, and the doctor, right?” she asked.

Avery immediately knew where her mother was going with this. “Mom, are you saying...”

“You just need to change the test result, and everything will be alright.”

Since Tyler was the head of the family, Alana hoped her daughter would get to marry him instead of Lincoln. After all,

Lincoln was just an adopted son who did not win against Tyler even when he had the help of Valencia and Orion. This meant he was incompetent and unworthy of Avery.

Avery’s eyes turned red. “But the truth will come out if Tyler or Old Mister Hart asks for a retest.”

“If Tyler says the baby is his, no one will say otherwise.”

“What do you mean?”

“As long as Tyler says the baby is his, then...” Alana smiled lightly. “Then the baby is his.”

“I still don’t get what you’re trying to say.”

“Both Tyler and his grandfather have their own medical team, so they can’t be bought off. Consequently, it’ll be impossible to hide the fact that the baby isn't Tyler's."

"Mom, just what are you trying to say?"

"What I'm trying to say is... It doesn't matter whether the baby is Tyler's, as long as you make him accept the baby as his."

Avery looked at her mother as if she was crazy. "How the hell am I going to do that?"

A man might be willing to forgive cheating, but he would never accept another man's kid as his own-especially if the man in question was someone prominent and powerful like Tyler.

Alana smiled faintly. "Don't forget we hold the power to end the Hart family right now. We just need to tamper with the projects, and they'll be finished!"

She knew it was a lose-lose scenario. The Yeagers would suffer some losses as well, but the Hart would suffer the most.

"Tyler has just become the head of the family, so if something like this happens to the family's fortune, he'll be ousted from his position. Not only will he lose everything he has, but his family will hate him as well. Do you think he'd risk for something like that to happen?"

All men were born to have an inner drive to reach the top. Tyler was no different. In fact, it could be said he was more ambitious than the average man. He had been working nonstop over the years to attain power as the head of the family, so it was clear that the position was very important to him.

The more someone sacrificed to get something, the harder it would be for that person to give it up. Avery had seen how hard Tyler worked all those years, so she knew it would be nearly impossible for him to give up what he had.

Alana looked at her daughter. "Since the worst-case scenario has happened, the only way for you to get yourself out of this is to force him to accept the baby as his and ultimately marry you."

If given a choice, Avery would not want to have a falling out with Tyler either, but she was very disappointed in him for choosing Vicky over the baby.

She had lost her last bargaining chip when the DNA test showed the baby was not Tyler's, so the only way for her to get him was to do as her mother told her.

"But Tyler's going to hate me for doing this!" whined Avery. It was not enough for her to get him; she wanted him to love her as well. The one thing she most could not stand in the world was for Tyler to hate her.

Alana glanced at her. "He's only going to hate you for a while. You can use your hypnotic control skills to make him think the kid is his. He'll surely love you then."

Avery's eyes lit up. "You're right! Why didn't I think of that? Okay, let's do that, then! But the most important thing now is to stop the wedding first!"

Loving You In Secret Chapter 1676-However, reality proved very different from what Avery and Alana had hoped for.

Tyler refused to go along with their plans. He even went as far as threatening to cut ties with them.

"Sorry, but I'm not going to raise any kid that isn't mine," he said ruthlessly. "And I'll never marry a woman who cheated on me while we're engaged."

Avery could not believe her ears. "But you told me you believed me and that you forgave me!"

Tyler looked at Avery indifferently. "Don't tell me you really think I'll be that forgiving? Or that I like being cheated on and raising another man's kid?" He sneered.

"Tyler, is it because you think I'm...dirty now? I can explain. I didn't mean to—"

"I wouldn't want to marry you even if all those things didn't happen. Guess I forgot to tell you that I've never liked you," interjected Tyler, i

"Then why did you agree to the engagement?!" asked Avery hysterically.

Tyler raised an eyebrow. "Because you asked me to, and I thought I'd go along with the plan until I don't have to."

Avery looked dazedly at him. At that moment, she strongly experienced just how cruel Tyler could be.

"So was it all pretend? The thoughtfulness and gentleness you've shown me?" she asked.

"Gentleness? I don't remember ever being gentle with you."

Avery gaped like a goldfish. She wanted to say something, but even her thoughts failed. It was as if there was a rock stuck in her throat.

'Tyler is right. He's never been gentle with me.'

Avery looked like she was about to cry. "Just...what was I to you in all the four years we've been together?"

"Without you and your family's support, it might've taken me longer to be the head of my family," answered Tyler ruthlessly.

He was not shy about burning bridges at all!

Staring at Tyler's cold face, Avery finally realized something. She pointed at him and asked, "It was you who set me up to sleep with Lincoln, wasn't it?"

She had always felt something was off about this matter. After all, why would Lincoln suddenly appear in her room when he was supposed to be sleeping with Vicky that night?

Avery could not figure out why the sudden change occurred, so in the end, she blamed Lincoln for everything.

She thought it might be because Lincoln lusted after her or did not want her to marry Tyler, so he changed his mind at the last minute.

Avery glared at Tyler. "And the video that played at our wedding ceremony! That was you too, wasn't it?! You ruined our wedding because you didn't want to marry me!"

"Yes," said Tyler simply.

At that point, there was no need to hide the truth.

Hatred began to fill Avery's eyes. She was clenching her fists so hard that some of her nails broke, and even her gums were bleeding from all the teeth gnashing.

She looked into Tyler's eyes. "Tyler Hart, mark my words- you're going to regret this for the rest of your life! I'm going to make you pay for humiliating me like this!"

Loving You In Secret Chapter 1677-Avery never expected Tyler to be that heartless. It was as if his mask was finally off, his true colors revealed.

Avery knew part of the reason Tyler chose her was because of her family's fortune, but she did not care. Her family's fortune was just as much as her as her beauty. She also knew there was a chance Tyler might dump her after he rose to the position of head of the Hart family, but she told herself he was a loyal man.

After all, he loved Vicky very deeply before he lost his memories, so he would surely be moved by how Avery tirelessly sacrificed everything for him in the four years they had been together. This would make him want to be with her forever, right?

At that moment, Avery realized just how wrong she was. She vowed to herself that she would ruin his life if it was the last thing she did. All her love for him had morphed into pure, unadulterated hate.

She would make him pay even if it cost her everything!

Alana and Avery left Tyler's office in a huff.

"That Tyler is exactly like his grandfather!" said Alana angrily. "They're both ungrateful b*stards! Tyler wouldn't be where he is right now if it weren't for our family's support! He thinks he can kick us away just because we have no more use to him? Well, he can dream on!"

Alana and Avery would not have been so angry if Tyler had been nicer in explaining or even come up with an excuse for his decision. However, he was obviously too lazy to at least do that, so how could they not hate him?

Avery gritted her teeth until they chattered. "I'm going to make him pay for playing with my feelings for four years, even if it means I'll ruin my life in the process!"

Before Avery came here, she had mentally prepared herself for the worst. After all, she knew what he could be like after being with him for so many years. Not to mention, it would be completely understandable for a man to turn down raising a baby that was not his.

She knew the negotiation outcome might not turn out the way she wanted. As much as she could not accept it, she still knew that there was no other way than to grit her teeth and laid out her terms and conditions to him.

However, she was not really that worried because she still had an ace up her sleeve-her ability to use hypnotic control.

She could force him to agree to raise the baby and figure out the rest later.

What pissed her off, however...was his attitude.

"I must teach him a lesson!" snarled Avery with a scary glint in her eyes. "So that he'll know what's the outcome for messing with the Yeagers! I'm going to make him beg me for forgiveness."

She started to imagine Tyler crawling back on his knees to her to beg for forgiveness, and she could not help but feel pleased with herself.

Alana nodded. "Yes, he needs to be taught a lesson and taken down from his pedestal. Otherwise, he'll never concede!"

After they got home, they started to exaggerate how Tyler mistreated them to Vernon. They did not tell him the baby Avery was carrying was not Tyler. Instead, they told Vernon Tyler did not want to accept or take responsibility for the baby.

Vernon was incensed, of course. However, he was not that surprised as he had predicted something like this would happen one day.

“I knew long ago that Tyler wouldn’t be that easy to control,” said Vernon coldly. “All these years, we’ve put him on a pedestal so high that he thought he could get to where he is without us. It’s a good thing we still have an ace up our sleeves. He can’t blame us for ruining his life when he’s the one who forced us to do that.”

In their discussion, the three of them concluded that they must do everything they could to stop his wedding from happening. They wanted him to feel so tortured that he would not be able to sleep or eat.

Various media companies came out with an expose article about the huge problem plaguing the projects handled by the Yeagers and the Harts. Since both of the families were the best among the best, a problem like that would cause a rippling domino effect through the global industries. Many businesses would have to close down or face bankruptcy.

Loving You In Secret Chapter 1678-It was one day before the wedding when Vicky heard about the news.

Wedding planning was really a tedious chore. There were a lot of things she had to take charge of, causing her to be so busy that she did not even get a break.

She immediately called Tyler when she saw the news, but the phone kept ringing. Only when it was about to go to voicemail did he finally answer.

“Vicky.”

“Tyler, I saw the news! Has the Yeagers started targeting Hart Corporation?” she asked worriedly.

Vicky knew this day would come after Avery and Tyler had a fallout, but she did not expect it to come so soon.

“There’s nothing to worry about. They only pulled out on some of the projects,” said Tyler calmly.

But the news reported that all the projects they pulled out of are the most important ones for Hart Corporation. There would be a chain reaction that would ultimately culminate in your family fortunes being depleted.”

“I know what I’m doing,” said Tyler passively as though he had everything under control.

Vicky gradually calmed down as well. She knew very clearly what Tyler was capable of and told herself he must have prepared for this from the moment he called off the wedding with Avery. Thus, she told herself she was worrying for nothing.

“Okay. Sorry for bothering you. You may carry on now,” she said.

Their wedding was happening the next day, but Tyler had to work today as they would be going on their honeymoon-of which the destination Vicky chose herself-straight after the wedding. He had to finish his work before that.

Vicky was about to hang up the phone when Tyler suddenly called out her name.

“Vicky.”

“Yes? Anything else?” she asked softly.

“Don’t forget to miss me.”

Vicky's heart skipped a beat. "You too."

It was tradition that the bride and groom could not see each other the night before the wedding, so Tyler would not be going home that night.

They decided to forgo some of the noisier traditions since they had been married before, and Tyler preferred quietness.

Vicky declined to invite the reporters or do a livestream for the wedding ceremony. She decided to keep it small and low –

key by inviting only friends and families. 2

She hung up the phone after chatting for a while more.

"If I didn't know any better, I would've thought you guys have just started dating," teased Aurora good-naturedly. "You two couldn't even go one day without seeing each other."

Vicky started blushing.

"So what did he say about the Yeagers pulling out of the projects?" asked Aurora.

"He told me not to worry, saying he knows what he's doing."

Aurora nodded absent-mindedly. "Yeah, I'm sure he can handle it with his capabilities."

She was more interested in the wedding tomorrow.

"So the bridesmaids would be me, Cece, Jennifer, and Ava... By the way, how reliable is Ava?"

Loving You In Secret Chapter 1679-Ava and Cece were quite close with each other, but Aurora did not know that. She was worried that Ava would be undependable and flaky like Noah.

“Don’t worry. I go way back with Ava, and she’s always been quite dependable in our friendship,” said Vicky, i Aurora was relieved to hear that.

The next day, Vicky got into the car with her bridal party watching her after she put on her wedding dress and makeup.

For some reason, her right eyelid had been twitching ever since she left the house.

Aurora sensed something was off with Vicky. “Vicky, what’s the matter? You don’t look so well. Are you feeling sick?” she asked.

“I don’t know why, but I keep feeling like I can’t breathe,” replied Vicky with a frown.

“Is it because you’re too nervous?”

Vicky shook her head. “No.”

Aurora cracked open the window. “Maybe it’s because it feels a little stuffy here. Is this better?”

She did not roll down the window all the way down to prevent Vicky’s makeup from getting messed up by the wind.

Vicky did feel her breathing got a little easier after that, but that strange feeling she had before remained.

“I keep having the feeling something bad is going to happen today,” said Vicky worriedly.

“Are you worried that Avery is going to show up and try to ruin your wedding? Don’t worry. I’ve already told Noah beforehand that under no circumstances could he let her come to the wedding,” comforted Aurora.

Vicky nodded and said nothing more.

40 minutes later, their car stopped in front of a church.

After she got down of the car, Aurora pulled aside one of the staff there and asked, "Is Tyler here yet?"

'Vicky would be a laughingstock of the whole city if Tyler decides to leave her at the altar.' she thought. 'Maybe she's worried Tyler will get cold feet. That's why she's been feeling anxious.'

The staff was a little surprised by her question. "Mister Tyler has been here since early morning."

Aurora sighed with relief. Only then did she open the car door for Vicky.

"Out you get, Vicky. Tyler's here already."

At that moment, Cece, Jennifer, and Ava-who took the other car to go there-had also arrived.

"Wow! This place is beautiful! The decorations made it seem like it came straight out of a fairy tale!" exclaimed Ava with awe when she saw the venue.

"Of course. Vicky and Mister Tyler personally chose all the decorations here," said Cece proudly. "They went through every little detail together."

Jennifer nodded. "I heard Vicky wanted to have one of those weddings where everything's planned out for you, but Tyler said no 'cause he wanted her to choose everything herself."

"Wow, he's so thoughtful! Looks like he really places a lot of importance on this wedding," said Ava dreamily.

Most of the prominent families in the city would leave the wedding planning to their assistants. They would not have personally done what Vicky did. After all, wedding planning could get quite tiring. Why go to all that trouble when one could have a ready-made wedding?

Aurora looked at her watch. "It's almost time for the ceremony, so let's head inside."

Vicky did not really have any family or relatives, so most of her guests were friends. At that moment, her friends were milling around her to help her with all the preparations.

She called Tyler when she was nearing the hall.

"Are you here yet?"

"Yeah."

Vicky felt better when she heard Tyler's voice. She was so worried something horrible would happen like him leaving her at the altar. Only when she got the affirmative from him did she feel more at ease.

Loving You In Secret Chapter 1680-"Okay, then. See you later.

After Vicky ended the call, she waited with her friends until it was time to go into the hall.

Cece's eyes never left her watch. When the clock struck the time Vicky was supposed to go in, Cece said hurriedly, "It's time! It's time! Vicky, you have to go in now."

Ava and Jennifer slowly opened the double door.

However, Aurora's phone suddenly rang at that moment. She took out her phone and was stunned to see Noah's name flashing on the screen.

Vicky entered the door slowly while Aurora answered her phone.

"Is that crazy b*tch here?" Aurora's first thought was Avery had come to crash the wedding. "Vicky's already walking into the hall, so you have to stop Avery no matter what! She can kick up a fuss and humiliate herself however she wants after the wedding.-

“Vicky’s already walking in?” repeated Noah in a panic. “Are you sure?”

“Yeah. What’s the matter? Did you fail to stop Avery from coming in? Don’t worry, I’ve already put up a stopgap measure in advance, so she won’t be able to barge into the hall.”

“It’s not that!” Noah was so filled with panic that his words were starting to run over each other. “Tell Vicky to go back outside the hall right now!”

Aurora did not even have the chance to answer when Cece’s phone rang too.

“Why is Harvey calling me? Don’t tell me he’s thinking of stealing Vicky away!” said Cece in shock when she saw the caller ID. Even so, she answered the phone. “Yes, Harvey?”

“Under no circumstances should you let Vicky into the hall! Stop her now!” he said gravely.

Hearing this, she thought her suspicion had been confirmed. He really was trying to ruin the wedding!

‘ But Vicky already went in,” said Cece softly.

Suddenly, Aurora’s phone dropped to the ground with a loud thud. Cece turned to look at her to see what was going on.

Aurora-pale in the face-was looking ahead in obvious dread.

“Aurora, are you okay?” asked Cece.

Aurora continued to look dazedly in front of her as though she did not hear what Cece said.

Everyone turned to look where Aurora was looking, and their expressions fell.

At that moment, the church hall was filled with dead silence.

Everyone looked shocked when they saw Vicky-dressed in a wedding dress-walking into the hall.

Soon, the guests began to whisper among themselves.

“Hey, isn’t this the woman who was involved in a scandal with Tyler a few months ago?”

“What’s going on? What is she doing here?”

“Don’t tell me she’s here to stop the wedding.”

“No. That’s impossible. She should know better than that. Tyler was only playing with her. He never intended to marry her at all.”

All the guests’ gazes landed on Vicky like sharp daggers.

However, Vicky kept her eyes fixed on the two figures standing in front of the stage.

Then, as if sensing someone was staring at them, the two figures turned in unison to look back at her.

Aria was dressed in a luxurious and dreamy wedding dress. She raised her eyebrow with surprise when she saw Vicky.

“Miss Vicky, are you getting married here too?” she asked.

Vicky did not look at her. Instead, she looked at the man standing beside Aria in the hopes of finding the answers to all the questions running through her mind from the man’s eyes.