

Loving You In Secret by Debbie Meza

- Chapter 299 – 300

Chapter 299

The two men leered at Vicky with devilish smiles on their faces.

“Don’t worry, babe. With that look of yours, you’re going to be the most popular girl if you ever end up in a Forever Night. You’re not going to be treated badly.”

“Maybe William and I can even go and support you!”

“Hahaha! Remember to give us a discount when you see us.”

Vicky tried to stay calm, yet her trembling voice betrayed her true emotion. “Where... Where are you selling me to?”

She could only try to gather useful information from the two men since she was in an unfamiliar place. Escaping was impossible.

The two men were not afraid she could escape and were nice enough to explain to her, “Have you heard of Forever Night in Lovian?”

Forever Night, the casino in Molivia, and the cabaret show in Torpis were the three largest money-squandering establishments in the world. One could buy anything at those places so long as proper funds were present.

They were so famous that even Vicky heard about them before.

“You... Are you guys seriously going to

It did not take a genius to know what kind of job the woman would be doing once they were sold to that kind of place.

She looked at the two men. “Sir, I didn’t come alone to Lovian, so...please let me go. If my friend knows I’m missing, he’ll surely tell the police. And...”

She paused and tried to look calm and natural.

“My friend is quite a powerful man in Lovian. If he finds out about you two, I’m afraid he’s not going to let you go so easily.”

It was easy to tell Vicky was said made sense and were more convincing.

The two men exchanged looks with each other. However, they

“Wow! We didn’t know

“Tsk, tsk, tsk! I bet we can sell you at a higher price because of that.”

“Hahaha! We really

After they discussed it excitingly, they looked at Vicky.

“Hey babe, thank you for telling us that. It’s quite the headache if your family is powerful enough to find us, but...”

The other man laughed while caressing his chin. “We can just pack up and leave after we sell you; no one is going to find us afterward. Plus, you don’t really think anyone can go and leave as they like in Forever Night, do you?”

He lowered his voice and whispered ominously, “To be honest, there is a princess in Forever Night too, and she’s a real princess. A very noble one, at that. But the boss of Forever Night refuses to let her go, so the princess is still there, and no one can save her.”

The other man added, "The boss of Forever Night is also a very powerful man..." He peeked at Vicky and shook his head regretfully. "Unless you're the daughter of the president...you're treated the same once you are in there."

After looking at the time, the man said to his partner.

Chapter 300

"Hey, Steve. It's getting late. We should send her away now. We don't want her friend to come looking for her...and we certainly don't want to lose our jackpot."

"I've already contacted the person in charge of Forever Night. Let's send her there now," Steve said. "Stuff her mouth up and cover her eyes. Also, sedate her again in case she runs away."

"Alright," William responded.

10 minutes later, Vicky lost her consciousness again.

"My, my. Look at how beautiful she is."

"You're right. It's been a long time since we've had such a high-quality one... I wonder where Steve and William got her from."

"Although she's not a virgin, she's still an A-class material because of that face. There's an auction coming up the day after tomorrow. I bet she'll fetch a good price."

"The day after tomorrow? Isn't it a bit rushed?"

"There's the thing you don't understand. Those rich people actually she's too well-mannered. What's it called again? The lust to conquer."

"That's right-the lust to conquer."

While the two ladies were talking to each other, Vicky slowly woke up. Through her blurry vision, she saw two fashionably dressed middle-aged women, seemingly in their forties or fifties years old. They looked very smart.

The two women smiled even

"Hey, she's awake. Geez, her eyes

"I heard Steve and William saying dollars was the right choice."

Lydia and Jane circled around Vicky to scrutinize her.

Glancing around, Vicky noticed she was no longer in the old and dark warehouse. Instead, she was laying in a clean and lavish room. The rope that tied her limbs was gone, too.

She sat up from the bed and looked at the two women before calmly saying, "I was abducted and brought here. If you let me go, I can give a million and five hundred thousand dollars to both of you."

The two women were first stunned after hearing that before they burst into laughter.

Jane covered her mouth and giggled. "This girl isn't just pretty, but she's very smart, too... Those rich people are getting more and more demanding with the girls. They don't want just a pretty face anymore; they want one with wits as well. Those smart girls are very popular here."

Lydia nodded in satisfaction. "Those girls who got sent here either burst into screams or tried to run away once they woke up. How stupid of them. They just don't get what kind of place this is. It's not somewhere they can just run away from."

Vicky was becoming more desperate as she listened along. Those two women did not even blink for one second when she offered to give them such an amount.

Vicky said softly, "What do I need to do to get out of here?"

The two women looked at her before one of them, Lydia, said, "This is Forever Night. We've spent a million and two hundred thousand dollars on you. Among the others, you're the more expensive type. Normally, girls like you..."

She paused and smiled. "Are either disfigured or grew old. Otherwise...basically, you have no chance of leaving."

Jane said, "Oh, there is one way..."

She looked into Vicky's eyes. "Get wheeled out as a dead body."

"Don't be so negative, missy. Girls like you can live a good life, too! If you only think about how to run away...then the only people you can play with are the guards and the gangsters. They're not going to be nice to you like we are."