

Loving You In Secret by Debbie Meza Online Free - Chapter 791

It was the photo taken from the front camera, so their faces were close to the camera.

Tyler had a reluctant frown on his face while Vicky smiled brightly with her arms around his.

The second photo was her kissing the man on the cheek, and the third photo was her in Tyler's arms. In the fourth photo, she was seen in a garden with Tyler, and the fifth one was of her and Tyler underneath a Ferris wheel.

The photos after that were all of Vicky. Some were taken by herself, but most were taken by someone else when she was playing the piano.

Some were taken from the front, the side while others were taken from the back.

As Vicky flipped to the last page, Vicky froze and dropped the album.

The woman in the photo had her back facing the camera as she played the piano.

It was a familiar photo as she had once seen it in Tyler's study.

She once thought that the photo was of Tyler's first love, and when she first saw Gloria, she mistakenly thought that it was Gloria in the photo.

Never had she imagined that it was actually a photo of herself.

Since that was the last photo, Vicky picked up the album and placed it back.

There were not many items inside the bookshelf. Apart from the photo album, there were the wallet, rings, and pen she saw before.

In the end, she spotted a document file made with leather.

She opened it and found a medical report with her name written on it.

She glanced at the date and saw that it was dated on her last birthday when she ran into a car accident.

The medical report described her condition at the time, and as she went through the pages, she found a consent form for surgery that was signed by Tyler.

As her husband, it seemed normal that he would be required to sign a consent form for surgeries that she had to go through. However, she was told that Tyler had not shown up once throughout her time in the hospital and that he was not even aware of the accident.

Regardless of what she had been told, the consent form was signed on the day of her accident.

She continued reading the report and saw records of the treatment she received every day since the surgery.

Vicky recalled that she was in a coma for over a month since the accident, and she noticed that the last record was marked on the twentieth day after her accident.

‘If I woke up on the twentieth day, what happened to the remaining ten days that I don’t seem to remember?’ she thought as she reached the end of the report.

She searched the bookshelf again but could not find anything valuable, so she left the room after putting everything back in place.

At 10 that night, the bedroom door opened when Vicky stepped out of the bathroom.

Vicky did not know what time Tyler returned home the night before and was shocked that Tyler returned home early.

The thought that Tyler had captured Alex caused her heart to sink.

He glanced at her and walked into the bathroom.

Sometime later, he stepped out and walked straight toward Vicky.

Since she was in her fertile period, she instinctively knew what he wanted.

As expected, he pressed his body against hers as soon as he approached her.

Loving You In Secret by Debbie Meza Online Free - Chapter 792

After some time, Vicky leaned in Tyler's arms weakly.

She had not shown Tyler any care lately and would either ignore him or act distant, so it was rare for her to behave so obediently.

Confused, Tyler stared at the blush on her face and asked, "Why are you so obedient today?"

"..." Vicky mocked how Tyler seemed confused by her obedience inwardly and said, "Will how I behave change anything?"

"No," he said without hesitation.

"So why would I make things difficult for myself?"

Tyler did not speak for a long time after that and Vicky turned around to go to sleep, only to be pulled backward.

Tyler planted another kiss on her lips and said, "I suppose you're right. Let's do it again, then."

Vicky did not resist and her obedience seemed to please him, so he even bathed her afterward.

It had been so long since he bathed her.

The night was quiet and peaceful, but Vicky could not seem to fall asleep.

Though she did not move, Tyler sensed that she was awake and asked, "Are you not sleepy?"

"I probably slept too much in the afternoon."

Tyler was never a talkative man, so he simply hummed in response and enjoyed the rare silence.

Suddenly, Vicky broke the silence. "How is Gloria doing?"

The look in Tyler's eyes darkened. "She is still undergoing treatment."

"Is her condition that severe?"

"It's hard to treat depression."

After a moment of silence, Vicky asked casually, "Why didn't you visit me in the hospital when I was in a car accident a year ago?"

Tyler lowered his gaze to her and asked, "Why are you asking about that all of a sudden?"

"Gloria has depression, and you go to the hospital every single day. I was in life-threatening danger after the car accident, yet you hadn't once gone to the hospital to see me..." Vicky only said so to not raise his suspicion, but she realized how bitter she sounded.

Tyler was slightly taken by surprise at first, but his lips soon curled into a smile. "Jealous?"

"No." Vicky turned her face away. "I just want to know why you didn't visit me when I was about to die."

"I didn't know."

She stared at him and said, "The hospital must've called you when I was in an accident, right? Did you really not know?"

"I was on a business trip at the time," he said.

"You were having dinner with Sheila, weren't you? How were you on a business trip?"

"Who told you that Sheila and I were in Stoneford City at the time?"

Vicky was instantly rendered speechless as the news had not mentioned that the two were seen in Stoneford City.

None of that mattered, however, because Tyler lied.

She stared at his face and was instantly overwhelmed by the urge to ask him why he lied. She desperately wanted to ask if he was responsible for her amnesia and the accident, but in the end, she held back the urge and lowered her head quietly.

Chapter 793

Vicky rarely acted so calmly toward him, so Tyler was not as forceful as he usually was and planted a kiss on her cheek as he explained,
“Nothing is going on between me and Gloria.”

“I know that you got the wrong person back then, and now...” Vicky forced a smile. “She helped you out when you were drugged, and since you can’t marry her, it only makes sense that you should take care of her at the very least.”

Though Selene was responsible for drugging Tyler, Vicky was partially responsible as well. Had she not gone to Gloria to help Alex or agree to Gloria’s terms, Tyler would have never walked into the trap.

Vicky would be overwhelmed by disgust whenever she thought back to it to the point that she no longer wished to be touched by Tyler. However, the more she resisted, the more forceful Tyler would become.

In the end, Vicky came to realize that Tyler forced himself on her to conquer, not to satisfy his need.

Whenever she gave up on resisting, he was more than capable of being gentle with her.

Just as she was absorbed in her thoughts, his voice rose by her ear.
“We didn’t.”

Vicky had yet to snap out of it and asked, “What?”

He stared at her, his eyes as dark as the night sky outside the window.
“Nothing happened between me and her.”

Vicky jolted. “What did you just say?”

“Nothing happened between me and her,” Tyler repeated.

It took Vicky some time to process the information and she muttered,
“Nothing...happened that day? But then, why didn’t you...”

She was confused as to why he did not tell her the truth and lied to her instead.

He nibbled on her ear and mumbled, "It's your punishment."

It was the punishment for Vicky's attempt to run and push him toward another woman.

His breath caressed her skin, and she instinctively moved away from him. "Why are you telling me now, then?"

He silently stared at her lower abdomen and said, "A bad mood isn't good for a pregnant woman."

Vicky froze.

There was no telling if she could get pregnant, yet he was already starting to consider her pregnant.

"Tyler Hart, I'm not pregnant yet!" she gritted out.

"I know," he said expressionlessly. "But a good mood will promote the chance of getting pregnant."

"..." Vicky wanted to correct such nonsense, but she noticed how his eyes darkened.

After being married to Tyler for years, she knew exactly what that look meant.

"Tyler, you—mph!" All her words were swallowed by his lips.

Just as Tyler was about to deepen the kiss, his phone on the nightstand started vibrating.

Vicky took the opportunity to push him away. "You're getting a call, Tyler."

It was past midnight, so no one would call Tyler if it was not urgent.

Tyler wanted to ignore it, but the phone would not stop vibrating, so he could only let go of Vicky to reach for his phone.

When he saw the number displayed on the screen, his expression darkened. After a few moments of silence, he answered the call.

“Mister Hart...” greeted the doctor who treated Gloria gingerly. “You haven’t come to the hospital today and...Miss Shaw won’t let us treat her. It’s already past midnight, and she hasn’t even eaten anything...”

Loving You In Secret by Debbie Meza Online Free - Chapter 794

Since Gloria was under Tyler’s protection, the doctor dared not to sedate Gloria as he did with other patients.

Three doctors had gone to see Gloria in a row, but since Gloria had refused to cooperate no matter what, even the doctors were at their wit’s end.

Selene, who had been staying by Gloria’s side, was also tired of Gloria’s madness and ran away.

Fearing for Gloria’s health and safety, the doctor was left with the only option to call Tyler.

Tyler fell into silence for a long while, to the point that the doctor thought Tyler had ended the call.

The doctor glanced at the phone and noticed that the call was still connected, and just as he was about to ask the question again, Tyler finally responded.

“Alright,” he said.

“Mister Hart, does that mean you are—”

“I’ll be right over.”

The doctor sighed a breath of relief.

After the call, Tyler turned to look at Vicky who laid in bed with her eyes closed.

He studied her for a few moments and said, “Vicky, I need to go out for a while.”

Exhausted, Vicky kept her eyes closed and muttered, “Remember to turn off the lights on your way out.”

“Sure.”

Soon, she felt the other side of the bed lifting as Tyler got out of bed to get dressed.

A few minutes later, Tyler came back and said, “Vicky, I’m leaving.”

“Sure,” she mumbled as though she was about to drift off to sleep.

Tyler lowered his head to kiss her on the forehead and turned off the lights on his way out of the room.

As soon as the door was shut, Vicky’s eyes opened abruptly.

...

In the hospital, Tyler heard the sound of something shattering as soon as he reached the outside of the door.

Baam!

He then heard the doctor attempting to calm Gloria.

“Miss Shaw, you need to eat something. You’ll collapse if you refuse to eat anything.”

“I’m just missing a meal or two. It’s not like I’m going to die because of that,” Gloria said coldly. “Have I lost the right to refuse eating now?”

“Miss Shaw, it’s bad for your health...”

“It’s my health and my body. Even if something goes wrong, it’s none of your business.”

“But, Mister Hart said—”

Gloria sneered at the mention of Tyler’s name. “He is no one to me, so what rights does he have to make the decisions about my life?”

The doctor was at a loss for words.

Just then, the door was pushed open, and Tyler strode in. He glanced at the shattered glass on the floor and asked, “What’s going on?”

The doctor was relieved to see Tyler and said, “Mister Hart, Miss Shaw won’t eat her food or cooperate with treatment.”

“Clean the floor and bring food in again,” Tyler said.

“Sure thing. I’ll get right at it.” The doctor and nurses immediately cleaned the floor and darted out of the room.

10 minutes later, another set of dinner was sent in again, but Gloria threw the tray on the ground as soon as the tray touched the table.

The food had gone to waste more times than the doctor could count, and the doctor could not help but shoot a look at Gloria, thinking, ‘This lady looks gentle, when really, she has a horrible temper.’

Loving You In Secret by Debbie Meza Online Free -
Chapter 795

'She has to be really daring if she is throwing a tantrum at Tyler Hart...'
The doctor thought before asking, "Mister Hart, should we bring another set of dinner?"

"It's fine. You may go," Tyler said.

After the doctor was gone, Gloria asked coldly, "What brought you here in the middle of the night, Mister Hart?"

"The doctor called me and said that you won't eat or cooperate with treatment."

"So, you abandoned my cousin, who's afraid of the dark, at home and came running?" Gloria mocked. "If you don't want to come here, why make yourself do it? You've been ignoring me for the past few days, haven't you?"

Everyone, including Selene, thought that Tyler was with Gloria every day, but he had only dropped by occasionally, spending no more than a few minutes with her every time.

Recently, he had not been seen anywhere in the hospital for the past three days.

He lowered his gaze and stared at her emotionlessly. "If you know that I don't want to be here, you should just cooperate with treatment."

Gloria flinched as she did not expect Tyler to admit to it right away.

She narrowed her eyes bitterly and shouted sharply, "This is my body. Whether or not I cooperate with treatment is none of your business!"

"Very well. This is the last time I come to the hospital or get involved in your affair," he said before turning to leave.

Seeing how he turned to leave without hesitation, Gloria's eyes widened.

She knew that Tyler was a man of his word and would not take a promise lightly.

Just as he was about to reach the door, Gloria cast all her pride aside and wrapped her arms around Tyler from behind.

“Don’t go, Tyler!”

Tyler had not expected her to be so bold and thus tensed.

He was going to shove her away when the door opened, and Vicky walked in.

Vicky was surprised by the sight and froze.

The same man who had been in bed with her was entangled with another woman in the middle of the night.

She clenched her fists and turned to leave, while Tyler snapped out of it and shoved Gloria aside to grab Vicky by the wrist.

“Where are you going?” he asked.

Vicky thought that the first few words out of his mouth would be an explanation, but she realized she had overestimated herself.

Without bothering to look at him, she pulled her arm away, but he simply tightened his grip.

Hearing about something and seeing it happen was different.

Hours ago, Tyler was explaining how there was nothing between him and Gloria, and she could not help but feel happy about it.

However, at this moment, she felt ridiculed.

Since she could not shake him off, she raised her other arm and slapped Tyler in the face.

Snap!

The crisp sound echoed in the room, and Gloria widened her eyes in shock.

She had always thought that Vicky remained submissive and lowly in the relationship with Tyler.

Before Gloria suspected Vicky of impersonating her, she had a few meals with Vicky and Tyler.

Vicky served Tyler enthusiastically at the table and even took the initiative to hold Tyler's hand every single time.

Gloria looked down on Vicky because of that as she always thought a woman was supposed to be prideful. However, after witnessing Vicky slap Tyler in the face multiple times, she realized that she was wrong after all.

Gloria turned to look at Tyler and noticed that he was merely scowling without a hint of anger in his expression.

Loving You In Secret by Debbie Meza Online Free - Chapter 796

Noting Tyler's lack of response, Gloria spoke up with a sneer, "Vicky, you've finally had a taste of what it's like to be betrayed and have something of yours stolen from you."

Vicky turned to look at Gloria.

It had been some time since she last saw Gloria; she noticed that Gloria had lost weight and looked as pale as a ghost.

At the moment, Gloria was glaring daggers at Vicky with resentment in her eyes, giving her a completely different persona than her usual appearance.

Gloria chuckled darkly. "Vicky, this is karma."

Vicky clenched her fists and felt a lump in her throat.

'Maybe Gloria is right,' she thought. 'Maybe I deserve this.'

Gloria walked toward Vicky with absolute composure as though she had not done anything wrong. "Vicky, to tell you the truth, Tyler thinks he owes me because he had the wrong person back then. He said that he'd grant me a wish and now, I want him to—"

"Gloria," Tyler interrupted her.

Gloria's lashes fluttered, and she turned to look at Tyler.

"Why? Are you afraid that I'm going to tell Vicky the truth? She's going to know sooner or later!" Gloria smiled sarcastically. "Vicky, why do you think Tyler married you and refused to divorce you? Did you think that he loves you too much to let you go? If that's what you think, you can't be more wrong! His true intention is—"

"Gloria," Tyler interrupted her sternly. "That's enough!"

Gloria shot him a half-smile. "Tyler, if you don't want to say it, I don't mind being the villain here. I can say what you can't. If you want to stop me, why don't you tell her yourself?"

The look in Tyler's eyes darkened.

Vicky did not know what they were referring to and remained standing quietly.

Gloria did not say anything else after that, and after some time, Tyler broke the silence. "Vicky, go home."

Vicky stared at Tyler, who kept his eyes trained on Gloria.

Vicky narrowed her eyes, and after a long pause, she turned and walked out of the room.

'True intention? Does Gloria know why Tyler married me?' Vicky thought.

The elevator stopped on the first floor, and Vicky walked out with her head bowed. Absorbed in her thoughts, she ran straight into someone.

"Sorry," she blurted out.

"Vicky?"

Her voice and the person's voice rose at the same time.

Vicky looked up and found herself looking at a devilishly handsome face.

She was unsurprised. "Harvey, are you here to see Gloria?"

Harvey nodded with a resigned smile. "Selene called me saying that Gloria is in a bad state and wouldn't eat. She's caught up at work, so she told me to come here and check on Gloria."

It was past midnight, and calling someone at such a time was rude.

Loving You In Secret by Debbie Meza Online Free - Chapter 797

Nonetheless, Vicky was not surprised that Selene did such a thing.

Harvey looked at Vicky. "It's late, Vicky. Why are you here?"

Vicky fell into silence for a few moments before saying, "I'm here to see Gloria as well."

Harvey instantly came to realize what happened. "Is Tyler here as well?"

Vicky's expression darkened, and she nodded.

"Are you leaving with him, or...?" he asked.

Vicky forced a smile. "He's probably not going to leave, so I'm going home on my own."

She knew there was no telling if he would return home.

Harvey did not comment on it and simply suggested, "Since Tyler is with Gloria, I won't go up. Let me send you home."

Vicky was tired from traveling to the hospital in the middle of the night, so she did not refuse his offer. "Thank you."

After getting into the car, Vicky leaned back and closed her eyes.

She did not say anything, but anyone could tell that she was exhausted and depressed.

"Don't worry about Alex." Harvey assumed that she was worried about Alex and said, "Even if Tyler caught him, he won't hurt Alex for now."

He was certain that Alex would not be harmed because Tyler still needed Alex to cause trouble for Vicky when it was necessary.

"I know." Vicky could tell that Tyler did not want to kill Alex despite his disgust for Alex.

Harvey glanced at the gloomy look on her face and asked, "Vicky, what happened?"

‘What happened?’ she thought. ‘It feels like something has happened, but I’m not sure.’

Vicky was at a loss for words, so she turned to look at Harvey. “Do you know why Tyler married me?”

He lifted an eyebrow. “Why are you asking that all of a sudden?”

He did not know much about the relationship between Vicky and Tyler, and Gloria—who knew more than most people—had not been willing to share.

Vicky looked outside the window and said, “Gloria said that Tyler married me with an agenda in mind.”

Harvey frowned at the mention of Gloria’s name. “Vicky, Gloria isn’t in the best state right now, so some of the things she says...should be taken with a grain of salt.”

“But Tyler didn’t deny it either.”

Tyler had not denied the accusation and even sent Vicky out of the room, which made it seem like he was guilty.

“Vicky, I don’t know what happened between you and Tyler before, and I don’t have the right to make any comment, but from what I’ve found so far, if he has an ulterior motive, it’s you. As for Gloria...” He paused. “If Tyler wants her, he would’ve dated her a few years ago.”

“You don’t know that for sure,” Vicky said. “The grass is always greener on the other side. Gloria was the woman Tyler was initially looking for back then, so she has a special place in his heart. He treats her differently.”

Sheila would have never dared to ask Tyler to divorce Vicky.

Harvey's expression darkened as he contemplated whether he should tell Vicky the truth.

Meanwhile, Vicky spoke again.

Loving You In Secret by Debbie Meza Online Free - Chapter 798

"I thought things through, and I can understand how she feels. It doesn't matter if Tyler and I were in love because I did take her place. I can tell myself that they might not get together even if Tyler found the right person, but that's just one of the many possibilities. What if they could've spent their lives together if it wasn't for me? I saw them holding each other today, and I can't even bring myself to blame them because I'm the one who tore them apart. Gloria is just doing what I did in the past. Tyler, on the other hand, puts up with whatever she does because he owes her...and also because she was the one he fell in love with at first sight."

Vicky knew that Tyler only tolerated Gloria to the point that he was willing to forgive Selene because Gloria was technically his first love.

"Vicky," Harvey said in a low voice. "There is more than what meets the eyes, and Tyler isn't as compassionate as you think he is. He is using Gloria."

"Even if he bears ulterior motives, he'll never stand idly by if something happens to Gloria, right?" Vicky said.

Harvey fell into silence.

There was no denying that Tyler would use Gloria to further his agenda without hesitation, but he would never leave Gloria to rot if something happened to her either.

It could be because Gloria was still useful to him, or that he had a soft spot in his heart for her since he ran into her on his birthday years ago. Considering Tyler's character, he should have treated Gloria the same way he did with Sheila, and that was likely the reason why Tyler never told everyone the truth about who he saw in the garden.

Harvey knew that if Tyler found out that Gloria was not the one he searched for back then, and that he had not been mistaken, he would show Gloria no mercy.

Since Harvey did not respond, Vicky decided to end the topic. "I'm sorry for saying all these things to you."

Vicky had been troubled by all these emotions and only wanted to speak to someone.

Harvey shot Vicky a conflicted look. "Vicky, actually..."

Just then, his phone rang.

It was a phone call about a work matter that was rather urgent, and it lasted for a long time.

By the time the call ended, Harvey turned around to find Vicky deeply asleep.

Tyler had not returned home that night, not that it surprised Vicky.

The next day, Vicky headed back to the hospital after breakfast and found Gloria's room empty.

She froze and immediately asked a doctor nearby, "Doctor, where's Miss Gloria Shaw who stayed in this room?"

"She was discharged this morning," the doctor said.

"She got discharged before she recovers?"

“I’m not sure about that.”

Amid Vicky’s confusion, Selene stepped inside with breakfast for Gloria.

“Gloria, I bought you...” Selene paused when she saw Vicky. The look in her eyes darkened. “Vicky, what are you doing here?” She scanned the room and paled. “Where’s Gloria? What did you do to Gloria?”

Vicky glanced at her. “What can I possibly do to her?”

“Why would she go missing if you haven’t done anything?!”

“I was about to ask you the same thing. Why didn’t you know that your best friend was missing?”

“Why you—”

Loving You In Secret by Debbie Meza Online Free - Chapter 799

Vicky ignored Selene and turned to the doctor. “Doctor, did someone come and bring Gloria out of the hospital?”

The doctor shook his head. “I’m sorry, but my shift has just started, so I don’t know what happened to Miss Shaw.”

After a long thoughtful moment, Vicky took out her phone to call Harvey.

“Harvey, did you get Gloria discharged?”

“No.” After finding out that Tyler was with Gloria, Harvey sent Vicky home and went home without stepping foot into the hospital. “What happened?” he asked.

“Gloria is missing.”

An hour later, Harvey appeared at the hospital as well and sent his men looking for Gloria.

According to the surveillance footage, Gloria left on her own, yet she had not answered any of her calls.

Selene had the spare keys to Gloria's apartment and went over to find all of Gloria's belongings gone.

Vicky, Harvey, and Selene went around searching for Gloria, but she was nowhere to be found, which Selene did not seem surprised by.

"Maybe Gloria went off to be alone like she did four years ago. When she was diagnosed with depression four years ago, she ran overseas," Selene said.

Harvey fell into silence and Vicky asked, "Is something wrong?"

He turned to look at her. "What did you three talk about last night?"

"I told you everything. After that, Tyler asked me to leave, so I don't know what those two talked about."

"Tyler?" Harvey lifted an eyebrow. "Looks like they didn't reach an agreement."

"What is that supposed to mean?"

Harvey stared at the screen that showed Gloria leaving the hospital to get in a taxi.

"You said that Gloria wanted you two to get a divorce, right? Tyler probably didn't want that, yet Gloria insisted that he does... Clearly, she didn't get what she wanted."

Vicky realized that Harvey was trying to say that Gloria went missing on purpose.

Vicky glanced at Selene who did not seem worried and understood that this was not the first time Gloria disappeared.

“Since Gloria wants to be alone, let’s leave her be. She’ll come back when she feels better,” Harvey said.

“Yeah,” Selene agreed. “Let’s leave her alone.”

Lately, Selene started to lose her patience in facing Gloria’s madness.

Gloria was a great person when she was sane, but even Selene had a hard time dealing with her when Gloria became mentally ill.

Since the two people who cared most about Gloria showed no intention of searching for Gloria, Vicky did not argue.

At eight that night, Tyler returned home, and Vicky looked up from her book to stare at him. “Let’s talk, Tyler.”

Tyler did not seem surprised and took one glance at her. “I haven’t eaten anything.”

She scowled.

“Make me something,” said Tyler while removing his jacket.

Loving You In Secret by Debbie Meza Online Free - Chapter 800

Half an hour later, Vicky brought supper to the dining room where Tyler was waiting after he changed his clothes.

She set the food on the table and sat on a chair across from Tyler.

Tyler picked up a spoon elegantly. Marveled by how majestic his every move was, she made a mental note to herself that this might be the reason why all women threw themselves at him.

She stared at him and said, "Do you know that Gloria is missing?"

He paused and looked up at Vicky. "Missing?"

"Have you not gone to see her today?"

"No," he said. "My schedule is packed today, so I didn't have time for that."

She observed his expression. "Is that why you stayed in the hospital with her all night yesterday?"

He narrowed his eyes and stared into her eyes. "No. I returned to the office from the hospital last night."

Vicky had seen the surveillance footage of the hospital and knew that Tyler left the hospital half an hour after Vicky left. Still, she had to ask about it as it would be odd for a wife to not ask any questions when her husband did not return home.

"So, do you know where Gloria is?"

"I don't."

"Are you not going to search for her?"

He lifted his gaze. "Why should I?"

"She is missing."

"Was she kidnapped?"

Vicky kept her eyes trained on him. "You don't seem worried."

"If she was kidnapped, someone would've called and informed me."

Vicky instantly knew that Tyler was referring to Selene.

“Even if she was kidnapped, there’s no point in acting before I’m informed,” he continued calmly. “Also...if she wants to be alone, why would I bother her?”

“Are you so certain she only left to be alone?” she asked.

“Is that not the case?”

Vicky looked into his eyes. “She tried to tell me something last night, and you stopped her. Today, she went missing. Isn’t that strange?”

He met her eyes. “Are you trying to say that I took Gloria away?”

“That’s possible.”

“What do you think she was going to tell you?”

“The Shaws went through bankruptcy, so you didn’t marry me for their fortune. Since what I did disgust you, you didn’t marry me for love either. That leaves only one possible reason for you to marry me... Revenge.”

Tyler’s lips curled into a smile. “Since you’ve already guessed it, why would I bother taking her away?”

Vicky froze.

Indeed, judging from Gloria’s tone the night before, it was not hard for anyone to guess what she was about to say.

Vicky knew that Gloria wanted to tell her that Tyler married her for revenge, and Vicky did not feel offended by it

Since she was told before that Tyler was forced to marry her, she found it reasonable that there was no love in her marriage.

Tyler had been seen with countless women throughout the years and allowed those women to bully Vicky as revenge, and that matched with what Vicky knew about Tyler's personality.

"If that's the case, why stop her from saying it? Why get me out of the room?"

"Did you want to get into a fight with her?" he questioned. "Or did you want to argue with a woman who has depression?"

Vicky was instantly at a loss for words.
