

Infatuated with My Mysterious Husband Novel

Chapter 24

Julie did not finish her words, but she made a beheading gesture.

"Isn't it too dangerous?" Ashley knew that Julie meant to kill Valeria.

She wanted Valeria dead, but it was too risky to kill her. Valeria was not a nobody.

"If the police find out, will we be implicated?"

"This is a good opportunity for us. Your dad slapped her and threw her out. Isn't it reasonable for her to commit suicide?"

Julie's face was full of coldness and hatred.

"You're right. It is indeed a good opportunity. It's now or never. We have to act as soon as possible, but it's just the killer..."

"Don't worry, I'll arrange it!"

Valeria got out of Lake View Nest and took a taxi back to the Brown family to pack up her things. There was only her aunt at home, and Ronald had not returned.

When she saw Valeria coming back, her aunt came up to her with a smile and said, "Miss, you are back!"

"Mmm!" Valeria answered and hurried upstairs. The aunt followed her and said, "What do you want to eat for dinner? I'll prepare it."

"I'm not going to have dinner. I'm coming back to pack things up."

After seeing Valeria enter her room, the aunt turned and went downstairs to secretly make a phone call, "Miss Evans is back. She's packing up upstairs."

Valeria did not know this episode. She had packed up three large suitcases with clothes and daily necessities in her own room. The auntie came up to help her, "Ms brown, are you going on a business trip?"

"Mm." Valeria didn't want to say anything more. Being expelled from home by Ronald wasn't something to be proud of.

"I'll help you." The aunt carried the three suitcases out of the door. She didn't go back to the villa until she saw Valeria get on the taxi.

The taxi stopped at the downstairs of Lake View Nest. Valeria dragged the three suitcases into the elevator and then moved them into the apartment. She was so exhausted.

She sat on the sofa and panted for a while. Her stomach was growling.

She hadn't eaten anything from morning till now. No wonder her stomach was growling.

At first, Valeria wanted to order a takeout, but now she was in debt, so it was better to save some money.

So she put aside the idea. After all, if she had to live independently, she should learn how to cook. So she started with the simplest dishes— noodles.

Valeria decided to go to the supermarket to buy some ingredients, so she took her mobile phone with her when she went out of the apartment.

She was not familiar with the neighborhood of the apartment, so she sent a message to William, "Is there any place to buy food near your apartment?"

But there was no reply. He must be busy serving the rich woman and he didn't have time to read her text message, did he?

Valeria walked out of the elevator with her head shaking and went straight to the outside of the apartment. She walked along the road while searching the nearest supermarket with her mobile phone.

The nearest supermarket was three kilometers away from where she was. It would definitely take a long time to get there, so she had better call a car.

When she was contemplating, a car suddenly coming over. The driver of the car put down the window and warmly asked Valeria, "Take a taxi?"

Valeria was overjoyed, "Yes!"

She opened the door and got in the car. Suddenly, she found that there was actually a person sitting in the car. Amid the faint lights, she didn't notice the person in black in the the car at all.

Was it car-pooling?

While Valeria was thinking, the person sitting there suddenly reached out and covered her mouth. 🗨️

Shocked by this accident, Valeria struggled desperately.

But the man was very strong, and she couldn't break free at all.

The man covered her mouth with his hand on which was applied something with a strange smell, and Valeria felt that her consciousness was getting fainter and fainter. 🗨️

Soon, she lost consciousness!
