

Infatuated with My Mysterious Husband Novel

Chapter 25

In the VIP room of Climax Space, after seeing off Mrs. Elisa, William picked up his mobile phone and took a look, and accidentally found the message sent by Valeria.

She asked him if there was a supermarket nearby. But how should he know if there was one. William asked Marcus and called Valeria.

However, no one answered the phone. He thought, "Why isn't she answering the phone? It is so strange."

He tried again, but this time the phone could not get through, indicating that it was off.

She turned off her phone less than half a minute later. How could it be so strange?

"Did this stupid woman's cell phone run out of power or did she have an accident?"

The latter possibility made William became worried immediately. He picked up his phone and made a call, "I need you to find out where Valeria is right now."

When Valeria regained consciousness, she found herself still in the car. Her hands and feet were tied, her eyes were blindfolded and something was gagged in her mouth.

Had she been kidnapped? What did these men kidnap her for? The ransom?

She was so scared that the driver was talking to the guy who was holding her mouth, "This little lady looks so beautiful."

"Yeah, she is exceedingly beautiful. It's too cruel to kill such a beautiful woman."

"Then what are you going to do? Keep her as your wife? Since we've taken other people's money, we should do as they say. Don't tell me you don't know this rule?"

"Of course I know. I mean we can play with her first before we kill her. She is such a beautiful woman and a rich young lady. She must be different from the women we have played before. Don't you want to have a try?"

"Of course. I'm just afraid that it will land us in trouble."

"What are you afraid of? Let's take her out of the city and find a deserted place to play with her for a few days. After that, we'll find a place to bury her. No one will know."

"That's a good idea. Let's do it!"

Hearing their unscrupulous conversation, Valeria felt a sense of hatred and fear. Who spent money to kill her?

Except for Julie and her daughter, she couldn't think of anyone else. Why were they so vicious?

What on earth were their hearts made of?

In addition to anger, she was desperate. Ronald had already said that he would not care about her, so he would never have known that they had taken her out into the wilderness to rape and kill her.

So she died for nothing? 1

Who could save her?

Suddenly, the handsome face of the gigolo appeared in her mind. Now she only hoped that he would call the police to find her when he found that she was no longer there.

"Is there any chance?"

They met each other only by chance. He took her in and lent her money. He was good enough for her.

And he did not know that she had been kidnapped. So she was gonna die this time?

Despair filled Valeria's heart. In her lifetime, she had never experienced such a thing, and she had never thought that such a terrible thing would happen to her.

What did she do wrong to deserve this?

Valeria was born in a good family, and her mother protected her very well. She had never known that there could be such wicked people in the world.

They took her boyfriend and her father, and now they even wanted her life. 1

They had gone too far!

She didn't quite understand what the gigolo said to her before, but now she finally understood. If she died, her enemies would be at large. They would move into her home and enjoy what was rightfully hers. 4

Whereas she could only die in the wilderness like this.

She hated them so much!

She couldn't die like this. She had to do something.

What should she do?

These two men were interested in her. They did not intend to kill her immediately. She still had a chance.
