

Infatuated with My Mysterious Husband Novel

Chapter 27

When Valeria woke up, she was dizzy and muddleheaded. She tried to move, and her bones seemed to have fallen apart. She could not help but cry out in pain.

"You've woken up?" A familiar voice sounded.

She took a closer look and what she touched was the extremely handsome face of the gigolo.

She couldn't believe it when she saw him. She remembered that she was chased down the mountain in a panic. How could she see him?

"Is this a dream?" She raised her hand and murmured, "Is this a dream?"

"Yes, it's just a daydream!" The gigolo reached out and grabbed Valeria's hand, when she tries to rub her eyes.

The temperature of his fingertips came to Valeria's mind. She knew that she was not dreaming. She was really with the gigolo.

She looked at the extremely handsome and hateful face of the gigolo, "Did you save me?"

"I guess so!" William replied slowly.

He immediately asked someone to investigate Valeria's whereabouts when he realized that something was amiss. It had been two hours since he received the news.

His subordinate reported that Valeria got on a black car, which had already left the city. He drove out with his men immediately.

In the end, he found the car at the foot of a mountain a few hours away. He led his men up the mountain to find Valeria, who was injured and unconscious, but the two kidnappers were nowhere to be found.

"Thank you!" Valeria couldn't express her gratitude to him. These words came from the bottom of her heart.

But his look was still cold, "You're lucky. When you rolled down, you were blocked by the vines. Fortunately, you managed to save your life. However, you're covered with scars and may leave a scar on you. You have to be mentally prepared."

Being alive was the greatest news, so Valeria didn't care about the scar.

Now what she desperately wanted to know was the news about the two bad guys, "Did those two bad guys get caught? The two bad guys who kidnapped me!"

"No." The gigolo shook his head.

"They actually escaped?" Valeria was a little disappointed, "One of the bad guys' eyes was stabbed by me. He shouldn't be able to escape far away."

"The mountain forest is very large and it's not easy to search and hunt down them. Besides, they are habitual criminals and familiar with the terrain of this area. It would be difficult to capture them. What's more, the car they drive is a decked car, and we can't find their information through the license plate." 1

What he said made Valeria worried. The two bad guys had escaped, leaving no evidence. Did it mean that there was no way for her to find out who was behind it?

Seeing what she was thinking, he comforted her, "Don't worry. Justice is broad and wide. They won't be able to enjoy themselves for too long. Let's wait for you to recover."

Now that he said so, Valeria had no other way. She was aching all over and couldn't do anything. She could only take care of herself and recover from her injuries.

In B City, Ashley held the chicken soup prepared for Julie in her hand and pushed open the door of the ward.

Julie had just picked up the phone, and her face was full of joy. When she saw her daughter come in, she signaled her daughter to close the door.

She lowered her voice and made a gesture, "I just received the news that the little b*tch has already ..."

"Really?" Ashley's face was full of joy, "Mom, in this way, we will have no worries!"

"Yeah, we don't have to worry about it anymore!" Julie showed a look of relief and reminded Ashley again.

"I have already removed the thorn in your eyes. You have to learn to be smarter in the future. Your father likes obedient people. Don't go against him. Behave well"

"I see, I won't be as silly as Valeria!" Ashley's eyes were twinkling with joy.

Thinking of the fact that she could rightfully inherit the family fortune in the future, Ashley still felt that it was a bit unreal.

"Mom, are you sure it's done? There won't be any accident, right?"

As soon as she finished speaking, the door was pushed open and Ronald appeared in the hospital room, looking gloomy.
